As One Body?

Jack W. Nehmer

Dear Friends,

In this last week, God gave me a vision of a convulsing body that would not (and could not) respond to the head. Father God has given to each healthy functioning body five senses to help function in a balanced, internal manner to come to maturity in its operation. God showed me that because of the vainglory of many people, the Body of Christ has not been able to accept and receive the ministry of the apostle, prophet, evangelist, pastor and teacher as God has designed to function together and in harmony. Because of this fact, the body (church) has been existing and functioning actively but not with the blessing of unity and perception of the five senses (hearing-apostle, sight-prophet, touch-evangelist, smell-pastor, and taste-teacher) working in unity. The convulsing body that I saw was the church that is BUSY with it's activities but not working together for the purpose of the head (Jesus Christ) and guided (not controlled) by his "five-fold" gifts to bring to mature function of the body.

The eyes of the body are to see for direction, danger, relating to the colorful and visual. The ears of the body are for hearing and listening to the audible for direction, danger, giving balance to the body to stand. The mouth is the instrument for speaking and receiving taste, chewing difficult things such as MEAT to nourish the body. The hands are for touch and feeling to relate and draw to the body from the external world. The nose is for smell for green pastures or bodies of water and even smelling uncleanness in the body or danger from outside.

Each of can see how much we need these instruments for the edification and development of our body, but the nose, eyes, ears, mouth, and hands are nothing in themselves if it weren't for the senses (gifts) that make them useful for the body. They are part of the head, but NOT the head. Then, we recognize that everything must go through and be directed and organized by the head or mind to interact effectively with the rest of the body for edification. We also recognize the interaction of these members (in their perspective gifts) one with another. The sense of smell works interactively with the taste when it comes to feeding and nurturing the body. The ears interact with the eyes when there is hearing or seeing danger and in turn interact with the mouth to communicate that danger. The hands interacting with the ears, eyes, nose and mouth to bring into the body a foreign object that it may be received and digested. The wastes are past from the body and the object is made part of the body (just as new member brought in to the family). ETC, ETC, ETC.

May God fill us with the knowledge of His will with all spiritual wisdom and understanding that we may be pleasing to Him bearing good fruit in every good work directed by Him.

In love with and in service to Jesus Christ our Lord, Life, and Love;

First Nations to Europe

Richard Twiss

Wiconi International Report on the First Nations Cultural Ministry Team to Switzerland, France, & Germany May 25 - June 12, 2000
by Richard Twiss

We saw in part the fulfillment of what I, and many others, have been saying for the past few years, that, no other people group is so uniquely positioned for world evangelism, as First Nations people are today. I led a wonderful, fun-loving, and spiritual team of 10 First Nations pastors, evangelists and believers recently across the Atlantic to proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ in Switzerland, France, and Germany. In addition to Art Begays team last year, this was one of the few evangelistic outreaches from the North American Church to Europe where a group of Native people has taken advantage of the remarkable European fascination with Native culture. Various team members were invited who not only have a deep love for Jesus and were spiritually mature, but also were gifted in the areas of traditional Native dance, drumming, and singing, who had beautiful dance regalia.

The team gave 25 ministry presentation in just nineteen days, in 13 cities in three countries. We danced, drummed and shared Christ at the World Expo and the International Children's Festival in Hannover, Germany; in numerous public grade and high schools; a wide range of churches; a school for physically and mentally challenged children; a large public park on Lake Geneva, in Lausanne, Switzerland; village community centers; and a large Ethiopian/Filipino International Church in Frankfurt, Germany. Both believers and non-believers alike were touched by the presence of the Lord during our ministry times.

Several nationally respected Swiss church leaders witnessed our team in action. Here is what Pastor Guy Chautems, former pastor of the Reformed Church at the Cathedral of Lausanne for many years had to say about our team.

"Yesterday some people from my parish and I had the joy to attend a meeting with a group of North America Indians who came with the richness of their culture to help bring us the message of the Gospel. It was a large crowd and immediately we were conquered by the discovery of their dance and song traditions that we have heard about since our childhood.

We received in a refreshing and new way, truths that we already knew but that had not so much impact in our lives. I think that in our post-modern society our Native friends have a great future in front of them as far as the sharing of the Gospel is concerned. To those who pretend that the rehabilitation of these Indian traditions and cultures have nothing to do with the Christian faith we would like to remind them of the vision of John in the Book of Revelation who saw that in the end of times the nations of the whole world will bring their richness to the Lord of the Universe. Among these treasures are certainly the cultural richness. So our friends have given us a taste of the coming Kingdom. Thank you for offering us through your skills something that deeply belongs to your life."

Whenever not forbidden or discouraged by institutional or government policy, an invitation was given for people to come forward and give their lives to Christ. Team members, Pastor Robert Soto and Jonathon Maracle, estimated that more than 120 people came forward to accept Jesus as savior during the various outreach meetings in Switzerland alone. Many more came after the meetings "officially" ended to talk and pray with team members.

On a beautiful and hot Sunday afternoon in the park on Lake Geneva, thousands of people were enjoying the sunshine with friends and family. Knowing there would be lots of people, we decided to take the gospel to the lake.

I asked team members to dress in regalia, then we set up the drum and did a dance presentation right in the middle of a large grassy area. In a matter of minutes more than 350 gathered around us. At the conclusion Ed LaRose gave an evangelism message and at the invitation, team member, Jonathon Maracle counted 46 children who came forward to pray and accepted Jesus as savior. Swiss pastors and leaders were present to help follow-up.

On another occasion Jean Pierre Besse arranged for us to share our ministry at a refugee outreach at the Scripture Union League Bible Camp in Lausanne. More than 200 refugee people from various African, Central and South American, Middle East and Asian countries attended. We drummed, danced, and shared our testimonies. It was a very powerful time of ministry and at the conclusion Ed spoke a challenging message and invitation and 41 people came forward to pray for the first time to accept Jesus as Lord and savior. Jonathan spoke with one man what was a Palestinian who had been living in Kuwait but fled when Iraq invaded there and had fled to Switzerland. Now he was wonderfully saved as were others from Central America and Africa.

"Many children and teenagers were touched and even turned out to Jesus and God the Creator. My conviction is that God can use the testimony of the Amerindians in Europe (and probably elsewhere) in a very specific way, especially to reach and touch people with New Age and ecologist tendencies. Such people have both admiration and a wrong vision about Indians. They imagine they are in the same philosophy than themselves and they could be very surprised and impressed to see that they can be true disciples of Christ, fully committed to the Kingdom of God without denying their cultural values. Such a demonstration would be able to lead many people back to the Lord in Europe."

Jean Pierre Besse: Pastor of the Reformed Church, Elder in an evangelical Church, Best-selling Christian writer, President of Cebes International, Agent at the Scripture Union League

The amazing positive response to the cultural presentations was even more than members expected. Team member, Ed LaRose from the Pomo Nation said, "The past sixteen years I have carried a wooden cross and preached Jesus in 36 countries of the world, and as a native man have always well received. However, as I watched our team share the Lord thru our various cultural expressions, I think the people were shocked to see Native people in full regalia, proclaiming Jesus Christ as Lord and King. He said, " I think it is a wonderful way for the Gospel to be proclaimed to the nations."

Josquin & Nathania Boschung are the ones who invited us to Switzerland and organized our schedule while there. Here's what they had to say about our team.

"We had the great joy to invite and host a group of Native Americans for ten days. We met Richard Twiss, the leader of the team, at the World Christian Gathering in Rapid City, S. Dakota, in 1998. The Lord had been speaking to us for nine years and we were finally able to invite a team to our country. Richard shared with us the desire of the First Nations Christians to go to the nations of the world with the message of the Good News. We felt this was really the will of God and we invited team.

We saw our people touched in a way we had not seen for a long time. The interest the people here have for the First Nations opened doors that would have been closed otherwise. Their way of sharing the Good News doesn't only touch the intellect of the people but their hearts in a very deep way. They showed a friendship reflecting the Kingdom of God on Earth. For those who have doubts about the authenticity of their ministry we would like to say that all they said was glorifying Jesus as the only Way, the only Hope for mankind.

The fruits of the Holy Spirit were visible not only on the stage but in their every day life. Though they were coming from different denominations, they had a mutual respect and no criticism. We would like to say that they can come back and that the pastors here recognized in them a gift from God for our white occidental post-Christian society. They are complementary to the work of the Christians here to touch our people and we hope that the way they saw God touching lives through them will encourage them. The Gospel is definitely not the white man's religion!"

Several Americans living in Lausanne, Switzerland came to the meetings. Here are the observations of two ladies married to Swiss men.

"As an American living in Switzerland, I was privileged, in every sense of the word, to witness firsthand the interaction between this charismatic group of Native American believers with the Swiss people. I was deeply moved, as were many others in the meetings judging from the teary eyes and sobs, to listen to each of them give their personal testimonies of faith. What a natural, down-to-earth, group of people. We want to thank you profoundly for touching our lives." Susan Brack, Switzerland

"The Native ministry teams message of forgiveness, reconciliation, acceptance of oneself and of others cultures spoke to my heart. This message was very well received by both adults and children. Many children who would normally hesitate to go ask for prayer were eager to step forward. The beat of the drum and the native singing brought people together to worship. During their ministry trip here, there was a strong sense that God wants to use the First Nations People in a unique and powerful way in building a holy temple all over the world. What a beautiful testimony to see this team dedicated to bring healing to their people and to the nations!" Judy Badoux, Switzerland

We had the opportunity to interact with numerous pastors and church leaders after our ministry times. Without exception, they were almost lavish with their appreciation of how we presented Christ and how their lives were touched.

"On behalf of the people of the Valleeacute de Joux, I wish to thank you for coming to us, on Ascension Day 2000, at the Casino du Brassus, in Switzerland, to share with us your amazing Indian culture.

I would like to begin by thanking you for the quality of your dances. They were a festival of joy, color and happiness. The magnificent costumes, the flawless gestures, and the emotion conveyed through your dances are a tribute to Our Lord Creator. Your festival of sounds unmistakably shows the depth of your gratitude for the life God has given you, and to the beauty with which He has surrounded you. To praise The Lord through dances and music is to acknowledge that we are body and soul. What you do with traditional Indian music instruments is clearly in touch with the praising of God, and it is beautiful and enlightening to the body and to the soul. It is therefore appropriate to thank God for all that we are. Psalm 139 speaks on this subject, and to the beauty of the body that God created for us.

Your songs were a pleasure to my ears. Without question, your music and words took us on a journey to the depth of your faith in God. Psalm 150 urges us to make use of each and every available instrument to praise The Lord.

As for your testimonies, they were unequivocal. No one can doubt your faith. You clearly demonstrated the authenticity of your interaction with Jesus Christ and your will to fully adore Him, to minister for Him, and to serve Him is pure and genuine."

Alain Wirth Pasteur en la Paroisse de l'Abbaye Eglise Evanglique Reformee, Suisse

Team member, Robert Soto shared these reflections of how God touched his heart, as well as his 15-year-old daughter, Rachel, during our time together.

"Many things have gone through my mind since our return from Europe. I keep seeing the faces of all the people we touched with the Gospel and with a word of encouragement. I keep thinking of the way the Lord took a simple thing like our Cultural gifts and used them to his honor and glory. I just want to say thank you for inviting Rachel and I. Even Rachel, who does not like speaking in front of people, accepted an invitation to speak at a youth group and share what God did in Europe through all our efforts. When I asked her how it went she said, "It went well. I could not stop. I kept on thinking of more thing to say. I think I went to long." Once again, thank you for the opportunity to use the cultural gifts God has given us." Pastor Robert Soto, Lipan Apache Gerald & Anthea Fink arranged our housing during our stay in Hannover, Germany. They attended several of the meetings and made these observations about our team.

"Robert's hoop dance at the opening ceremony at Jam-City, with Dan starting the "wrong" song, "Jesus heal this land," was strongly supported that evening. The hoop dance was a beautiful symbol for eternal life. A victory in the unseen world was won that evening and fortresses were torn down, especially through Richard's short gospel message at the end of the performance: "Jesus is the only who can heal this land, the only who can save."

Native people, in the eyes of many in Germany, are thought of to live spiritually in a paradise situation. You left the natural religion of your people and started to follow the only way for all people, Jesus. This was against all those in Germany who think one should not evangelize people and should leave them with their inherited religion or even seek spiritual resources not with Jesus but in the religions of the world. Natives have a definite ministry here in Europe among especially so-called "name-Christian", those who seek a false unity among all the world religions.

Jonathan's song titled "Fly", gave a picture to myself and others I talked to about what it means to be bold and not be frightened, nor be intimidated by the fear of man. The eagle as a model given us, the only animal not fleeing the storm but facing it right on and flying into the eye of it to, then to be taken by the forces that would crush him to rise up and fly above the storms. We are like eagles and called to face the difficulties of life head on. A very timely message for the body of Christ here in Germany.

Children at pre-school and kindergarten were blessed when Robert performed there and shared the gospel and what Jesus had done in his life. We have heard that children shared what they had seen and heard with their sometimes not believing parents. Worship in these Christian kindergartens has been enriched by Jonathan's music, and now they are playing his music CD there since he left." Gerald & Anthea Fink

Each team member commented on how honored they were to be used by God in such a spiritually impacting way. Also we were absolutely amazed by the depth of respect and notoriety Native people have throughout Europe. We were like Hollywood celebrities. On a personal note this was a very special team for me to be a part of. It was a beautiful picture of brotherly love and respect. The level of humility, willingness to serve with joy when exhausted or uninspired, and spiritual maturity of every member was a reward in and of itself.

Rachel Soto, a 15-year-old jingle and fancy shawl dancer, experienced new freedom as a Christian. She said, "I found out it's okay to show you're a Christian and an Indian, instead of being Christian at church and church activities and Indian the rest of the time. I was honored to minister dressed in my regalia, and amazed to see how eager people were to hear what we had to say. I was especially blessed to lead those two young girls to Christ, and getting to anoint the teens at the camp in Switzerland with oil and prayer."

Already plans are being discussed to have another team return to Switzerland, this time for city-wide outreaches in several of the major cities as well as Bible teaching and leadership training for the churches. We have also been asked to pray about a team to Poland for large evangelistic meetings as well as returning to Germany.

In September several us Native leaders, at the invitation of city church leaders, will be traveling to Johannesburg, South Africa, to help facilitate city-wide reconciliation gatherings between the black and white pastors of the region. Also in September a large delegation of nearly 100 folks will travel to Israel with Lynda Prince, Honorary Grand Chief, Carrier/Sekani to share Christ across the land and have been invited back by the President of the Israeli Knesset to drum before the government of Israel. In October I am leading a team of Native believers to Mexico to conduct leadership training for Indian pastors and workers, speak at various evangelistic rallies, and lead the March for Jesus where I will speak in Oaxaca. Other First Nations leaders are answering the call to go into all the world with great favor and blessing.

This is our appointed time as First Nations believers to boldly step out in faith and possess the promises of God for us regarding His purposes for the nations. Please continue in prayer for covenant partnerships to be developed between Native and non-Native believers for true partnerships to be formed in fulfilling this amazing opportunity to world mission.

Please pray too for peace and Christ-honoring humility to be demonstrated as the controversy about the use of First Nations Cultural expressions escalates to a national level with position papers on the subject being published and distributed by several Native denominational groups. God has a plan and purpose in it all. I think we must now enter a new level of maintaining brotherly love and become more focused in our efforts at unity by following the Biblical mandate to, "strive to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace."

Also continue to pray for team members who have experienced spiritual resistance and the challenges of ministry back at home. The team members were;

Pastor Dan & Cyndi LaPlante, Lakota from Cheyenne River Reservation, Eagle Butte, S. Dakota
Jonathan Maracle, Mohawk, Tyendinega Territory, Ontario, Canada
Pastor Robert & daughter Rachel Soto, Lipan Apache, McAllan, Texas
Leonard "Wyndigo" Simcoe, Ojibway, Victoria, B.C. & Alex Shane
Ed LaRose, Pomo, Sacramento, California
Jodi Scott, Cherokee, Atlanta, Georgia
Richard Twiss, Lakota, Vancouver, Washington

Peace and blessings to you in Jesus name!

You've Got One Shot: Fire! -- Calling Forth My Judges
by Joanne Gavlick

November 9, 2000

With the "presidential election recount" taking place in my home state of Florida, comes a deep sense in my spirit a prophetic sign to all nations, especially to Body of Christ, to redeem THE TIME OF ALL TIMES of U.S. presidential elections. More specifically, I have been hearing for the past week, "Make it count." I was kindly reminded by Holy Spirit of my dream of approximately 4-5 months ago, of which I was in the Revolutionary War, in "firing" position. I had ONE BULLET only. The voice of the Lord spoke, "You've got one shot: Fire!" At the time, I knew "in part" the interpretation. The Lord was speaking to me personally and the ministry He had set before me; that there was to be NO COMPROMISE in my walk with Him and within the ministry. I knew it was a warning from the LORD OF HOSTS to LAY LOW, maintain PURITY OF HEART, and MAKE IT COUNT -- a most narrow road, indeed.

Yesterday, a friend of mine heard the numbers 12 and 21 for the number of attorneys that were sent from Washington, DC to Florida, when in fact they numbered about 100. I believe these numbers were "heard" most profoundly. We know 12 symbolically represents government and governmental authority. However, when I heard "21" I was reminded of the book of Daniel, chapters 9 and 10. We all know the story of Daniel's fasting, prayer and supplications (including intercessory repentance of the nation's sins) while seeking the Lord on behalf of the nation of Israel while in captivity to Cyrus, King of Persia. Three weeks later, Gabriel comes to Daniel with an "understanding," and explains to him in ch. 10:12-14:

"Do not be afraid, Daniel, for from the first day that you set your heart on understanding this and on humbling yourself before your God, your words were heard, and I have come in response to your words. But the prince of the kingdom of Persia was withstanding me for 21 days; then behold, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me, for I had been left there with the kings of Persia. Now I have come to give you an understanding of what will happen to your people in the latter days, for the vision pertains to the days yet future."

What are you saying, O LORD OF HOSTS?

"The days yet future are most critical, indeed, for the presidency's security of the United States of America hangs in the balance. Yes, the days yet future are also a sign to My people, for I am calling forth the Judges to an understanding of My decree in the land. My prophets are being called to a HIGHER LEVEL of understanding My ways, and a HIGHER SEAT in the land. Yes, in the midst of such chaos I am calling forth My Judges to help govern the nation and land, a loose confederation in need of My understanding of redeeming THE TIME OF ALL TIMES and establishing My government. A decree goes forth this day to My Judges, My Agents for justice and deliverance to ACT DECISIVELY to free this nation from all oppression of the princes of darkness at work this very hour, for the heavenly war over this nation is not over.

Just as My servant Daniel mourned in sackcloth and ashes, and fasted for His people and nation, so I call My Judges to gather and mourn, and give your attention to Me. Decree My covenant over the peoples and land. Confess the sins and iniquities of yourselves and your fathers, and ask for forgiveness. Bid My ear to listen and take action, and I will give you the understanding if you give heed. So take your governmental seats of authority, My Judges, and DO NOT COMPROMISE. STAY PURE IN ME. LAY LOW . . . MAKE IT COUNT. . . .

YOU'VE GOT ONE SHOT: FIRE!"

Two Battles Same Sword

Bob Neumann

"He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches....."

I share this with whomever will "listen" for several weeks I have listened to THE MOST HOLY SPIRIT say "WHEN HE COMES IT WILL BE WITH A SWORD". it was a simple unemotional statement. nothing to "feel good" about. nothing to "build up" or "expound on". a simple fact based on THE WORD.

Matthew 10:34 34 Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword. present theology and sentiments might try to argue the meaning of this quote of THE KING. only if you stay in context the image is crystal clear.

Matthew 10:32-42

- 32 Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven.
- 33 But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.
- 34 Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword.
- 35 For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.
- 36 And a man's foes shall be they of his own household.
- 37 He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me: and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me.
- 38 And he that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me.
- 39 He that findeth his life shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it.
- 40 He that receiveth you receiveth me, and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.
- 41 He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righteous man's reward.
- 42 And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward. (KJV)

in these ten short verses may be the sum of all the APOSTOLIC/PROPHETIC moves that many have been speaking of for years. it also is a clear statement of exactly who the true disciples/believers are. it also points out where the opposition originates and how it will appear and manifest. at first glance it is a "gospel" of division and confrontation. that is because THE GOSPEL OF KING JESUS is....divisive and confronts everything that Paul speaks of to the Church in Corrinth.2 Corinthians 10:5-6

- 5 Casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ;
- 6 And having in a readiness to revenge all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled. (KJV)

there is also a clear aspect of THE GOSPEL OF THE KING that speaks explicitly about vengeance and recompense. the problem is the issue of FULL GOSPEL...or SELECTIVE GOSPEL. EVERY WORD...or only those that are "profitable" to self-centered religion and people intent of what "is right in their own eyes". this situation applies today as it did in the time of Joshua and the Judges....because there is "no king" in their land or their lives. in Matthew 10 KING JESUS said we must be found "worthy" of HIM. proven "worthy" at the cost of conflict and hostility in our "house" and "family".

HE COMES WITH A SWORD.....with power, authority, and purpose based on HIS WILL and not human whims. to "weigh" all in HIS RIGHTEOUS SCALES with TRUE WEIGHTS. HE COMES to all SERVANTS, both GOOD and WICKED, and will demand HIS TALENTS and the PROFITS EARNED. THE JUST JUDGE, THE RIGHTEOUS KING warned us clearly...Luke 18:7-8

- 7 And shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them?
- 8 I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth? (KJV)

"when the Son of man cometh" must be a clear reality that we must be prepared for. yet few seem aware that HIS

COMING is at HAND...and I have been told HE COMES WITH A SWORD. HE COMES as HE PROMISED. it is not something to "feel good about". being confronted by THE LAMB OF GOD with SWORD READY is an image that should produce fear and trembling, a major source of contemplation and reflection. the actions HE HIMSELF SPOKE CLEARLY to John must take place.....Revelation 2:12-18

- 12 And to the angel of the church in Pergamos write; These things saith he which hath the sharp sword with two edges;
- 13 I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where Satan's seat is: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.
- 14 But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balac to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication.
- 15 So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate.
- 16 Repent; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.
- 17 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it.

"where Satan's Seat is".....where the doctrines of Balaam and the Nicolaitans thrive....the time to repent seems to be over and "HE COMES WITH A SWORD".

what I did not understand is what THE MOST HOLY SPIRIT meant by what followed "WHEN HE COMES IT WILL BE WITH A SWORD".

"TWO BATTLES SAME SWORD".
today I was given an answer....and the "urge" to share it.....with those who will hear....

Isaiah 51:17-23

- 17 Awake, awake, stand up, O Jerusalem, which hast drunk at the hand of the LORD the cup of his fury; thou hast drunken the dregs of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.
- 18 There is none to guide her among all the sons whom she hath brought forth; neither is there any that taketh her by the hand of all the sons that she hath brought up.
- 19 These two things are come unto thee; who shall be sorry for thee? desolation, and destruction, and the famine, and the sword: by whom shall I comfort thee?
- 20 Thy sons have fainted, they lie at the head of all the streets, as a wild bull in a net: they are full of the fury of the LORD, the rebuke of thy God.
- 21 Therefore hear now this, thou afflicted, and drunken, but not with wine:
- 22 Thus saith thy Lord the LORD, and thy God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I have taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, even the dregs of the cup of my fury; thou shalt no more drink it again:
- 23 But I will put it into the hand of them that afflict thee; which have said to thy soul, Bow down, that we may go over: and thou hast laid thy body as the ground, and as the street, to them that went over. (KJV)

I have no interpretation or teaching to give. those who "hear" will understand as THE LORD gives HIS INSTRUCTIONS. may we all be found obedient and faithful.

Two Curses In South Africa

Ron Wood

This is my report of a dream the Lord gave to me while in Johannesburg, South Africa. I was with a team of men and women, both black and white ministers, led by Joseph Garlington. This was the second week of a tour of meetings, the last week of February. My wife and I did a workshop on Married and in the Ministry Together; I did another on From Calling to Commissioning, and I gave away 1,500 of my books to 300 mostly Zulu pastors, and I spoke at All-Africa Bible College near Durban. The pastor's conference was the largest annual training session for black pastors in that nation, according to one pastor. This was my first trip to South Africa with the Reconciliation Team. I knew virtually nothing about the nation's history prior to my visit there, except I had rejoiced at the fall of apartheid. That was the setting. Here is the dream.

I was standing outside an iron gate talking through the bars to a missionary inside. He was a white European, probably Baptist or maybe Dutch Reformed. The fenced mission compound was large, enclosing a lake and hills. The missionary was lamenting the failure of the church to thrive as it should. As he spoke, I was looking over his shoulder at a stone structure behind him. It looked like it had been there a long time. It had columns on the front entrance, and strange symbols over the door. As I looked more closely, I recognised the symbols. They were associated with Baal worship or Freemasonry. I said to myself, "There's idolatry in the church and he doesn't even know it!" As I had that thought, the dream changed. I was now standing before a large auditorium of believers and was about to tell them about my discovery. Suddenly, I was picked up bodily by an invisible force and flung across the auditorium in an attempt to stop me from speaking. I cried out, "Jesus help me!" And then I woke up.

Later that morning, as I made a presentation to the pastors, I mentioned this dream. Afterwards, Jackson Xhosa, a pastor and a leader in the prayer movement, brought a woman to me who works with Intercessors For Africa (IFA) and with SALT. Her name was Denise Woods. She asked me if I knew the significance of my dream. I said "No." She went on to tell me that IFA had just held a gathering of intercessors, pastors, and nationally recognised leaders to discuss the problem of Freemasonry in the church. She said the Dutch Reformed church introduced Freemasonry into South Africa. She said that South Africa was founded by Cecil Rhodes, a 33rd degree Mason. Rhodes founded DeBeers, which still controls marketing of all diamonds in the whole world. He also set up gold mining companies, and those companies now still control mineral rights in many nations of Africa. Masonic influence was present in many of these enterprises.

It was interesting to me that Freemasonry, idolatry, and the conspiracy to control the wealth seemed to be interconnected. In my experience, anyone who is involved in Freemasonry channels their support in other directions, not into the church. It is a stronghold in many churches. I know in America about 25% of all Baptist pastors are Masons. Idolatry is alive and well!

While in Africa, I had three dreams in a row on three successive mornings. But this first dream seemed to carry the clearest signal of God's concern for the purity of His house.

I Want To See Your Glory

Bill Burns

August 2, 2000

Early this morning I was awakened in the presence of the Lord, and my spirit cried out, "Lord, show me Your glory." This has been an ongoing prayer of mine. Like Moses, I want to see the glory of My God.

I was surprised by the voice of the Lord as He asked me some questions. He said, "Which aspect of My glory do you want to see? Do you want to see the glory of My creative power by which the world was formed? Or, do you want to see the glory of My breath as man became a living being? Or, would you prefer to see the glory that I dwelt in before I took on flesh and walked among men? Or, would you rather experience the glory of the only begotten of the Father full of grace and truth when the word was manifest in flesh? Or, would you like to view anew the glory of the cross by which mankind was set free from death, hell and the grave? Or, would you rather witness the glory of the resurrection in that day when My bride is caught up to be with Me to live in the glory of My eternal kingdom?"

At this point I was a little overwhelmed by these questions, but I decided in my boldness to answer Him. "Well, Lord, I want to see all of these manifestations of Your glory." The glorious One knew what my answer would be, and once more He asked a question, "Would you like to see the manifestation of the glory that I am most pleased with--that which I delight in?"

Wow, I thought, He is going to show me some hidden mystery, something wonderful to behold, and I wondered what would this glory be, that which the Lord Himself delights in! I said, "Yes, Lord. That's it, Lord! That's the glory I want to see." Suddenly I was caught up in the spirit, high above the earth where I could see various places of illumination upon the earth. I asked, "What are those lights, Lord?" And, He said, "Those lights are coming from My glorious churches. Those are places where two or three are gathered in My name, and they worship Me in spirit and in truth. Some are home fellowships; some are small churches; some are even large churches."

He then said, "Come with Me, and I will show you why I delight in this glory that produces an inheritance of riches which enables Me to demonstrate My power in the earth." (Ephesians 1:18-19). He said, "I delight in blessing My people. Come and learn the secret power of this glory." The Lord then took me in spirit to one of these places of illumination. It was a small church of about 40 people. These people must have surely loved the Lord, for they were worshipping Him and lifting Him up and giving Him adoration. They praised Him with passion. They prayed with fervency and preached His word with love and authority.

He then said, "Do you see the glory cloud of light that they are producing? Have you noticed that it has grown as they continued together in their pursuit of Me through praise, worship, preaching and prayer?" I said, "Yes, Lord. I can see why You delight in this glory that is produced by Your people, but I wanted to see YOUR glory."

Once again the Master spoke, but only one word, "Watch." The King of Glory went to the place where the glory was gathering, and as I watched, He stepped into the cloud of glory, and He wrapped Himself up in it as if it were a garment. He said, "This is My inheritance of glory in the saints, and so you see, it is My glory. Now it will become My manifest power toward those who have believed according to the working of My mighty power. You see, son, they have given Me something to work with in their midst. Faith works through love, and the demonstration of their love has produced glory. When this occurs, I adorn Myself with their glory and their faith allows My power to function in their lives."

Again He said, "Watch!" The people were gathering to pray for some who were sick. As they prayed, I could sense that this glory of theirs that the Lord was now clothed in had quickened their faith. When they had prayed they anointed the people with oil. At this point the Lord moved beside each one as they were anointed, and He touched them, and the glory which He wore became a flow of His power, and healing virtue came forth.

"Now you know why this is the glory that most pleases Me, for I delight to touch My people. This is the glory that is revealed through My people."

Romans 8:18-19, "For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us. For the earnest expectation of the creation eagerly waits for the revealing of the sons of God."

I had just witnessed the Master's joy as He walked among His own. His delight was to touch and return that which they had produced by faith and love. He then said, "One more question I will ask you. Do you now understand that which Isaiah said, 'I saw the Lord sitting on a throne, high and lifted up, and the train of His robe (glory) filled the temple and the whole earth is full of His glory.'"

"Yes, Lord, I understand. Your people are the temple which Your glory fills and the whole earth is full of Your people who give You an inheritance of glory, and You manifest in their glory. Thank You, Lord, for showing me Your glory."

Ephesians 5:27, "That He might present her to Himself a glorious church, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing, but that she should be holy and without blemish."

"Lord, may the eyes of our understanding be enlightened that we might know that the glory that You receive from us calls you to demonstrate the greatness of Your power to us that You might receive the riches of Your inheritance from Your people. Amen."

To Generation X

Bill Burns:

July 30, 2000:

It will be by My Spirit, says the Lord, for it is indeed the time and the season of the restoration of all things, and why would it surprise you that in the restoration that I should not raise up many sons and daughters to bring forth the glory of the kingdom? Today, I call you sons and daughters of My glory, for it shall be through your generation that the world witnesses the end, but in the end, the power and manifestation of a holy God shall come forth through the hearts and minds of young people who have no other cry in their hearts but to serve. In the very center of your spirit there is bursting forth a power that you knew not before; there is a releasing of the water, the spiritual water, the latter rain, that is to flow forth out of your innermost being. It shall come with a great anointing, says the Lord, for I shall now bring you forth. Is it not written that the whole earth travails and groans awaiting the manifestation of My sons? From the depth of your hearts, I shall draw forth living water that shall go forth into the desert places, into the dry places. Every place the water goes, life shall spring forth.

Words from the Lord to Marsha Burns:

July 31, 2000:

I speak to you today about the twilight zone. For I see the hearts of many and discern your thoughts as you see those around you who seem to be living in the full light of day, growing and gaining strength, living in peace and joy. Yet you yourself seem to be declining and slipping into the shadows. And the more you see others flourishing and moving ahead, seeming to frolic in the rivers of living water and enjoying My blessings, the more you feel yourself retreating into the twilight zone. But, I say to you, I am no respecter of persons, I do not value one above another. Neither do those around you exist in My kingdom without challenges. I tell you that this is a seduction, which will try to remove you from this place of difficulty and discontentment to a place of satisfaction. But, this is a function of your flesh and not My Spirit. For where you are now is necessary preparation for what is ahead of you, and if you indeed escape this crucible which is designed to refine and purify you, it will be as though you jumped from the frying pan into the fire, which is seven times hotter. Be content, therefore, with such things as you have, and let this work of purification be done. And, I say, rise up out of that place of walking in the flesh and walk in the Spirit. For, it is in the Spirit that you also will live in the light.

August 1, 2000:

Watch! Be alert and sensitive, for you are My vessels that I pour into and out of, and I am going to begin to flow through you in ways that are beyond what you have experienced before. But, I also tell you not to despise the day of small beginnings. Some of the outpourings will be nothing more than a word of encouragement to a dejected soul. For, I say to you, there is a fresh outpouring of My Spirit that will first fill you and then out of your innermost being will flow rivers of living water, and not one drop will be wasted. Open your hearts to receive all that I am pouring out, and be ready to give full expression to My nature and will. This outpouring will become a continuous flow, a stream of life that will bring cleansing and refreshing to those who are touched by it.

August 2, 2000:

I invite you to come into the holy place. Let your prayers ascend before Me like a sweet fragrance. For, surely I hear and answer prayer. Come before Me with a pure heart and clean hands and pour yourself out before Me. Let your heart melt like wax in My presence. I am waiting for you to put every burden on the altar. You know that what you have been trying to achieve but have been unable to accomplish, I am able. And, I will do it, if you will give it to Me. But, you keep taking it upon yourself to do instead of depositing it with Me. You must leave this responsibility to Me and trust Me. But, I will not do it in your time or by your method, for My ways are higher than your ways and My thought are higher than your thoughts. Come, My child; I'm waiting for you.

August 3, 2000:

There is a great shifting going on, for I am releasing you from situations and circumstances that have been the bane of your existence for some time. I am removing the thorn in your flesh. I have allowed it until now for the purifying of your heart, for you have had a propensity to elevate yourself and walk in pride. But now I see your desire to walk in humility before Me, and I am removing the stones of stumbling, the rocks of offense and the hindrances that have kept you from fulfilling My purposes in your life. I am reminding you of My covenant with you. Didn't I say it would cost you everything? It has cost your flesh, and yet your suffering has drawn you closer to Me and taught you obedience. Go forth now in renewed strength and hope, for the best is yet to come.

2 Chronicles 7:14-15 "If My people who are called by My name will humble themselves, and pray and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and heal their land. Now My eyes will be open and My ears attentive to prayer made in this place."

August 5, 2000:

I issue a watchword today--priorities. Many have been tempted to choose to focus your attention on temporary things instead of the eternal. Some have chosen to invest your time and energy on that which has no lasting value. But, I say to you that you are trying to build on My foundation with wood, hay and stubble, and all of this will burn. Stop where you are and consider what is truly important in My kingdom. Awaken from the stupor of flesh indulgence and shake off the defilement. Re-establish your priorities, and come into order in My kingdom, for I tell you, assuredly there is no satisfaction or reward apart from My kingdom.

1 Corinthians 3:10 -15, "According to the grace of God which was given to me, as a wise master builder I have laid the foundation, and another builds on it. But let each one take heed how he builds on it. For no other foundation can anyone lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ. Now if anyone builds on this foundation with gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, straw, each one's work will become clear; for the Day will declare it, because it will be revealed by fire; and the fire will test each one's work, of what sort it is. If anyone's work which he has built on it endures, he will receive a reward. If anyone's work is burned, he will suffer loss; but he himself will be saved, yet so as through fire."

Safe Passage To Gilgal

Sandy Warner

1/4/00

Hi Loved Ones,

At the turn of the century as I watched millennium celebrations all over the world, I saw several things that truly gripped my heart. For the first time in mankind's history, the world witnessed a most incredible 24 hour period:

1. In cities all over the world, seas of faces joined massive gatherings.
2. Whether in public events or watching TV, the masses gathered to celebrate.
3. With so much potential for evil and tragedy, the gatherings were peaceful and joyous.
4. Within a 24 hour period, there has never been such a massive display of unity in all of the world's history.
5. The world has never been so populated, 6 billion souls.

Behind the scenes, how did this incredible event take place? The simple answer is two fold; warnings were advertised and people responded. The celebration was certain to happen. The calendar needed no advertisement, as everyone knew of the turnover. But to make it peaceful, and thus joyous, it had to be coupled with warnings. The world warned of Y2K. The prophets warned of coming judgments. The warnings crossed world wide barriers of language and religion and it was enough to get the masses attention. As a result, one by one, people from all walks to life, joined in purpose and turned their focus towards fixing potential problems.

One of the effort became prayer. Never in history has there been so much prayer over the turnover of one day on the calendar. People started praying and preparing over a year ahead of time. No one had to tell people to pray. They prayed because suddenly their very existence became threatened. People voluntarily talked to God about Y2K and the turn of millennium.

In another effort, businesses, industries and governments all over the world turned their efforts towards fixing the problem. This took massive money, man hours, planning and follow through to fix the problem.

In another effort, people made plans. Most people asked themselves, "What I am going to do for New Year's?" Plans for celebrations began to emerge. Whether prayer gatherings, public gatherings or TV gatherings, people chose to participate in the celebration. Once again, it took massive money, man hours, planning and follow through to be able to witness these special events.

I would like to thank all those who had the courage to give warnings. Without the warnings, their advertisement and the belief in such, the celebrations could have become world wide tragedy on a massive level. I would like to thank all who played their part, from prayer to planning to implementing. Within a short 24 hour period, world-wide history witnessed an unprecedented miracle.

As I watched city after city pass over in peace I could see the fulfillment of the prophetic scriptures in Joshua 3 & 4. To save space, these are excerpts of the story from The Living Bible. Bracketed sidebars are my comments:

"Early the next morning Joshua and all the people of Israel left Acacia and arrived that evening at the banks of the Jordan River, where they camped for a few days before crossing." [We were camping, waiting on the banks of the Jordan for a few years, waiting upon the Lord to occupy our promises, our inheritances.]

"On the third day officers went through the camp giving these instructions: "When you see the priests carrying the Ark of God, follow them. You have never before been where we are going now, so they will guide you."
[Historically, we are now in the 3rd day. We are going to experience new things and events that history has never recorded before. If you do a Bible study on the 3rd day, you will see almost every place that 3 days is recorded is a prophetic Word from the Lord about the parable of coming 3rd day events.]

"Then Joshua told the people to purify themselves. "For tomorrow," he said, "the Lord will do a great miracle." In the morning Joshua ordered the priests, "Take up the Ark and lead us across the river!" And so they started out."
[The prophets gave warning, calling for repentance and holiness. They went before the masses, obeying His command to move forward and stand against the floods.]

"Then Joshua summoned all the people and told them, "Come and listen to what the Lord your God has said. Today you are going to know for sure that the living God is among you and that he will, without fail, drive out the Canaanites, Hittites, Hivites, Perizzites, Girgashites, Amorites, and Jebusites-all the people who now live in the land you will soon occupy. Think of it! The Ark of God, who is Lord of the whole earth, will lead you across the river!"
[When we inherit our promises, we will do so by warfare, overcoming and driving out God's enemies.]

"When the priests who are carrying the Ark touch the water with their feet, the river will stop flowing as though held back by a dam, and will pile up as though against an invisible wall!" Now it was the harvest season and the Jordan was overflowing all its banks; but as the people set out to cross the river and as the feet of the priests who were carrying the Ark touched the water at the river's edge, suddenly, far up the river at the city of Adam, near Zarethan, the water began piling up as though against a dam! And the water below that point flowed on to the Dead Sea until the riverbed was empty. Then all the people crossed at a spot where the river was close to the city of Jericho, and the priests who were carrying the Ark stood on dry ground in the middle of the Jordan and waited as all the people passed by." [Now in the season, we have never been so close to the Great Harvest as we are now, neither have we been so vulnerable to enemy floods. For a brief time in history, intercession has stood in the gap, causing the demonic floods to roll back even as far as Adam, giving us a brief glimpse that what Adam lost will become manifest.]

"Meanwhile, the people had hurried across the riverbed, and when everyone was over, the people watched the priests carry the Ark up out of the riverbed. "Come up from the riverbed," the Lord now told him to command them. So Joshua issued the order. And as soon as the priests came out, the water poured down again as usual and overflowed the banks of the river as before! This miracle occurred on the 25th of March. That day the entire nation crossed the Jordan River and camped in Gilgal at the eastern edge of the city of Jericho.

[Gilgal will now be our home for a while. At Gilgal, we will experience: 1) The circumcision of the flesh of the spiritual children, as bought and paid for by Christ Jesus. (Josh 5:7 & Col 2: 11-15) 2) Abiding until all recover from this. (Joshua 5:8)

3) The rolling away of the shame and guilt caused by generational & personal sins "and the rolling away of the reproach and condemnation from our enemies. (Josh 5:9)

4) Finishing the last of the old bread. Old prophecies of God's future promises will have become old bread. God's children will have become manifest to the world, and will be walking in signs and wonders as He rains His Spirit upon all flesh. (Josh 5:12, Joel 2:28, Rom 8:18,19)

5) New promises, new food in a new land will be gathered and eaten.

6) Preparations for war - moving out to encircle Jericho, and the returning to Gilgal each day. (Josh 6:11)

7) The first conquest in warfare as the walls of Jericho fall and a return to Gilgal.

7) Gilgal is the headquarters for war (Josh 9:3, 10:6, 10:15, 14:6) until the move to Shiloh (Josh 18:1)

When I first heard of the Y2K bug and the potential "meltdown" of society, I understood that it was an act of mercy from the Lord. This so shook the world that for those who believed the warnings, whether righteous or unrighteous, they prepared for coming hard times. I knew that no matter what the outcome of Y2K, God had mercifully prepared the people. For you see, those who did not follow the priests and cross over the Jordan, they are still on the other side. The flood waters will rise once again. They must now pass through the floods to find the promised land.

I write this letter as a memorial stone, to be passed down to the children of promise. One day they will hear the story of how so many people in so many lands, gathered together to celebrate a day in passing, with joy & peace and without tragedy. As I watched the multitude of faces gathered in so many cities, I wept. I said, "Lord You LOVE all those people." I became jealous for God, that one day these same multitudes will unite and celebrate Jesus. (Isaiah 11:9)

Lovingly,

Sandy

Two Governments

Becky McLendon

"The Spirit of resistance to government is so valuable on certain occasions that I wish it to be always kept alive. It will often be exercised when wrong, but better so than not to be exercised at all." -Thomas Jefferson -

"When the government fears the people, you have liberty. When the people fear the government, you have tyranny." - Thomas Jefferson -

"There are a thousand hacking at the branches of evil to one who is striking at the root." - Henry David Thoreau -

"If a Nation expects to be ignorant and free, it expects what never was and never can be." - Thomas Jefferson -

"and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you" I Peter 3:15

Since the onset of time , big government has been trying to legislate God out of the picture., so we can see where "big government" originates. Satan himself, the ruler of principalities in the heavenlies, is the big government that executed a "coup de e'tat" against the government of God. When Adam and Eve fell for the big lie of the serpent, that government was set in force here on earth. Man served this earthly government, while all along another government existed. The government of God is everywhere, but man chooses to ignore it.

At the turn of the last century, and after two world wars, the world turned to MATERIALISM.. "getting stuff" and "being successful" Peace and security were the words of the age. And what does the scripture say about "when they say peace and security (safety)?" Humanism, narcissism, hedonism...all the evil isms came from the love of money...the root of all evil. It is amazing what people now days worship. SELF, BEAUTY, RICHES, CHILDREN, POSSESSIONS, SPORTS, WORSHIP (YES WORSHIP) RELIGION, DENOMINATION, POSITION, "LEADERSHIP ROLES", the list continues, ad nauseum.

In 1962, we legislated God out of the public arena. We have seen the decline of education in spite of the "Quality Schools" hodge podge of buzz words. The lofty Goals 2000 is slouching toward Babylon now at an alarming rate. Communism is alive and well and being courted openly by our government and what are we doing? "Eat and sleep and rise again to eat and sleep, while partying all the way to hell."

There comes upon the scene even as I write, two governments that will become apparent. The Lord had spoken last month " IN ONE DAY THEY WILL EITHER BE CONFOUNDED OR CONFIRMED.:" Two governments approach this earth...One is the New World Order. NOVUM ORDUS SECULORUM, with the promise of Wilhelm Hegel, the esteemed "builder" of a NEW religion, ORDER OUT OF CHAOS, accomplished by taking Truth, (thesis) introducing ANTI TRUTH (antithesis) and culminating in COMPROMISE(SYNTHESIS)..The origin of this philosophy is NOT with Hegel, contrary to the "Master Builders" boasts. It originated in Eden when the beguiling serpent asked "Hath God REALLY said?" Followers of this government, the antichrist system will, in ONE DAY be confounded.

The other government approaching on the horizon is the Government of God (which has always existed since before time) It will soon be seen by all. Within this government will be a people, a company, a remnant bright shining as the sun, transformed by the glory of God. IN ONE DAY this people will be confirmed.

There is a line drawn between governments. A divine "CHOOSE YOU THIS DAY WHOM YOU WILL SERVE" echoes through the land. If you are in CHRIST, SAY SO. Do NOT let the Government of this age silence you.

If you have received Christ your Inheritance, it is time to speak. Go straight to the root of evil.....and lay the axe to it. "IF I BE LIFTED UP I WILL DRAW ALL MEN TO ME" Amen

Two Israels?

Ephraim Frank

Dear Messianic Israelite,

This week a friend of mine handed me a little book called, "Exploding the Israel Deception", written by a Jewish believer in the Messiah. The book is only about 125 pages long and can be read in a couple of hours. The cover illustration is that of a black-gloved finger pressing a red button, with a sign above it: "Destroy Global Delusions". Throughout the book the author refers to his revelation insight and scripture interpretation as "an atomic bomb" that will, if you choose to believe him, demolish many of the church's famed end-time doctrines. The author's premise is that "Jesus Christ" is the true Israel, and that natural Israel "of the flesh" has little to do with the end-time prophetic Word, unless they come to faith and join the true Israel, i.e. the church, which is made up of both Jew and Gentile. In other words, there is a "spiritual Israel" and a "natural Israel." He then proceeds to "sink the great Titanic delusion" by explaining that those who apply end-time doctrines, especially those of the book of Revelation, to natural Israel will go down with the ship and die in the icy waters of deception, ultimately ending up in the lake of fire (my paraphrase).

The question is, will the icy water put out the fire, or will the fire boil the frozen water? Personally, I do not believe truth needs to be backed up by threats. However, many times, in our zeal to convince others of what we believe to be the truth, we feel compelled to use these kinds of tactics. This approach, though, does not minister life to the Body. Instead, it pushes the proverbial red buttons which turn people off and makes for a great deal of strife and contention.

However, let not my opening paragraph lead anyone to believe that I am opposed to this book. A re-examination of our end-time doctrines and beliefs is always useful and even necessary. Time always makes us re-evaluate cherished notions anyway. I do take my hat off to this author for daring to challenge some "holy cows", or should I say "holy bulls".

For the purpose of his examination the writer deals with five events which are interpreted to be (past or future) fulfillments of scriptural predictions: (1) The rebirth of the State of Israel in 1948; (2) The rebuilding of the third Temple in Jerusalem; (3) The seven year Great Tribulation; (4) The Antichrist and (5) Armageddon. I do agree with the writer about "not being carried away by every wind of doctrine". Unfortunately there are many religious organizations that are built on the sandy ground of end-time doctrines, and not upon the Rock and the Elohim of Israel. I'm not going to try and support, or refute, the understanding on these issues proposed in the book. Nor am I trying to convince you one way or the other. You can buy the book, or borrow from someone and decide for yourself.

I do, however, want to address one issue: Are there two Israels? If there are two Israels in the scriptures, it would only stand to reason that there may be also two Avrahams, two Yitzhaks and two Ya'acovs. In other letters we have explored the concept of the "Greek mind" and compared it to Hebraic thought. The former is always dividing and pigeonholing everything, but the latter keeps things integrated. When it comes to scripture interpretation we will find, as our minds are renewed, that our understanding of the text will also change. Thus, the case in point: Are there two Israels, or has the Hellenistic thinking created two? If God has two Israels then he also has two brides. Is this a scripturally sound idea? If it is, then we would need two bridegrooms.

Let me offer a simple “Hebraic thought”; a seed is comprised of three parts- a hard outer shell, a middle soft fleshy part, and an embryo. Although “three partite”, yet it is one seed. The tabernacle, which God revealed to Moses for the purpose of helping us understand what we ourselves look like, had also three parts; an outer court area, a holy place and a holy of holies. All three of these are important in understanding the one dwelling place of the Spirit. If any one part is missing the whole structure becomes dysfunctional. So it is with Israel, there are not two Israels. There is a body and a soul of Israel, which has been labeled the ‘natural’ Ya’acov, but let us not forget, the third part, the spirit - Yisrael. Under no circumstances are we to dissect the spirit out of the body and put it into a formaldehyde jar, labeling it the ‘church’. You may be able to preserve it for a long time, but it will certainly be devoid of life.

YHWH promised Avraham multitudes of seed (with all three parts), but only one of them would be the promised one, Yitzhak (see Rom. 9:7-9), from whom would originate a chosen nation – Ya’acov (Rom. 9:11). The covenant that YHWH made with the forefathers He also made with their descendents, regardless of distances of time and location. We must keep in mind that YHWH’s plan and timing may be hidden from us. We may only see through a glass darkly, nevertheless, a part of the covenant that the Elohim of Israel has made with the house of Ya’acov or two Houses, (Joseph and Judah) is that He would dwell in them. Now through the redemptive work of the kinsman redeemer, Yeshua, YHWH has called out a first fruit of Israel’s race to be His dwelling place. The fact that the Spirit has taken up residence in the tabernacle of Ya’acov, or the House of Ya’acov, does not mean that the outer court and holy place have ceased to exist. If you are one of those possessing His Spirit within you, the next time you stand in front of the mirror, ask yourself if it is an elusion of a physical body, which is neither male nor female, Jew nor Greek, black or white, which you are staring at.

I would encourage those of you who are only “spiritual” not to disconnect the Spirit of the Messiah from its earthly dwelling or house. It was ordained when YHWH swore by Himself to Avraham, Yitzhak and Ya’acov that we, their heirs according to the promise, would stand as a testimony of His life within us. We do not have to separate Israel into two different entities in order to understand end-time doctrines. All it takes is just to know that Abba has a harvesting-principle of first-fruit, after which all the rest will follow. The Israel of today is like a two-sided coin; one side is a Ya’acov-Yisrael that is yet to come to the knowledge of YHWH’s redemptive plan, whereas the other, by His Grace, has and is experiencing the reality of that finished work. Let us not be in too big of a hurry to put the dots and tittles on the Word of God. Rather, let us keep an open heart to the Spirit’s instructions as we continue in our relationship with Abba and His Son, the Word of Life.

Shabbat Shalom,

Shevet Achim

"The Spirit of the Lord says watch what I'm going to do in the political arena. You're going to have favor from the White House. You're going to have favor from the highest office. You know why? Because God says they've been a puppet on a string and they've been a puppet in the hands of the powers of darkness. But no longer! For God says next year you will see a change in the political powers and suddenly Florida will be invaded with righteousness. Atlanta, GA shall be flooded with righteousness, Houston, TX shall be flooded with righteousness, Austin, TX shall be flooded with righteousness, Colorado shall be flooded with righteousness. But God says Tampa watch me now. Watch what I'm going to do, I will shake the senate, I will shake the senate because of what I'm going to do in this state and in this city. I'm going to shake it so that you have favor, favor, favor says the Lord. Hallelujah. How many of you want the favor of the Lord? You said revival must take place in the church, but the Spirit of the Lord says I'm not going to do it any longer in the church. I'm going to do it within your schools and in your colleges. What's going to happen says the Spirit of the Lord is I'm going to take the ones that are marked with anger and those are the ones that I have marked as the evangelist of the colleges and evangelist of the schools. I'm going to go to the kindergarten schools. I'm going to the children, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 year olds and I'm going to fill them with the Spirit right there in child care. I'm going to fill them with my Spirit. And it is going to break forth in the schools and God says they're going to run into this house and run into that house because I'm going to change the political arena. Prayer and praise will suddenly be re-instated and God says they will not pray like they used to pray. The dead old prayer to the dead old god is over says the Lord. They are going to pray to the Jesus that was risen from the dead. I'm going to bring my force and I'm going to raise them up in this end time says the Lord on 5th November 2000 at Church In The Now in Conyers, GA (the Sunday before the election)

"....this week there is going to be a political upheaval, this week there is going to be a political upheaval, says the Lord. And many are going to say 'Oh God is this your day of resurrection power?'. God says get ready because what is going to happen this week is going to cause an upheaval in the cities that expect one thing and I'm going to bring righteousness into these cities of the United States of America. I'm going to bring prayer in to the colleges and I'm going to bring prayer into the hearts of the people. There's going to be an upheaval and God says it shall take place in January of next year. You will feel it because of what's going to happen next week and there will be joy in the house of the Lord. Hallelujah, Hallelujah. Give him a shout of praise."

Two Mountains

Doug Fortune

Zechariah is having a vision, a prophetic experience as it were. Keep this in mind as you read Zech. 4:2-10. In this vision Zechariah sees a Golden Lampstand "...and its seven Lamps on it, and there are seven (branches) pipes to each of the seven lamps..."(verse 2). To me this sounds a lot like the seven Golden Lampstands that John saw in his vision on Patmos that Rev. 1:20 says "...the seven Lampstands are the seven churches...". Zechariah's vision obviously has implication for the rebuilding after 70 years of Babylonian captivity, but since it is prophetic revelation, I believe it holds more than just that one application. I believe that Zechariah is seeing a prophetic picture of a glorious Church emanating His Light with a continuous supply of oil from the two olive trees, a glorious church manifesting the Kingdom of God, the Kingdom of Light. Then in verse six, the angel tells Zechariah how this is going to come about, "...not by might, nor by power, but by My spirit of whom the oil is a symbol". Now suddenly verse seven says, "...who are you O great MOUNTAIN of human obstacles?... and he shall bring forth the finishing Capstone of the new temple with loud shoutings of the people crying, Grace, grace to it!". OK, did someone turn the TV. channel while we weren't looking, or what?. How did we get from a Lampstand to a mountain and a temple? Well, once we understand that the Lampstand is a picture of the Church, and we know that we, the church are His temple, the picture gets very clear. Zechariah first sees the finished, completed, glorious Church/ Temple/ Lampstand; then he sees the current unfinished Temple with no Capstone; and what stands between the two is a MOUNTAIN of obstacles. Do you ever feel that way when you look at the Church, or even your own life? You know God's ultimate purpose and yet there seems to be an insurmountable mountain of obstacles between where you are now, and your ultimate destiny.

May I suggest to you that the ultimate destiny of your life or the Church will not be facilitated "...by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit saith the Lord of hosts..."; it will happen by "...grace, grace!...". He who began a good work in you will be faithful to COMPLETE IT! All too often our focus is on the mountain of obstacles in the natural realm and even resistance in the spiritual realm. From an earthly human viewpoint the mountain looks insurmountable. There is another viewpoint available to us however. Am I suggesting that we live in denial and pretend that mountain doesn't exist? Is that what Zechariah does with his mountain of obstacles? NO, he makes a declaration of the PURPOSE of God and his POSITION in that purpose. PURPOSE is declared verbally as we read in Zechariah 4:8-9, "... the word of the Lord came to me SAYING, The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundations of this house; his hands shall also FINISH IT!...". POSITION is declared in verse 7, "... who are you, O great mountain? Before Zerubbabel you shall become a plain, a mere molehill!...". He doesn't deny the mountains existence, in fact he calls it a GREAT mountain, rather, he states his POSITION. And what is his POSITION? His viewpoint is from the mountain we read of in Dan. 2:35 and 44; "... and the Stone that smote the image became a great MOUNTAIN and filled the WHOLE EARTH... the God of heaven shall set up a Kingdom which shall never be destroyed...". Remember the Stone or Rock that Jesus said He would build His church upon, the Rock of the REVEALation of Jesus Christ? THIS is the mountain that WE are in that is filling the whole earth and from THIS mountain that mountain of obstacles looks very insignificant! From THIS mountain we can declare our purpose and position in the Kingdom and proclaim to the mountain of obstacles, "... you shall become a plain, a mere molehill!".

My friend, once you are engrafted and assume your position in the PURPOSE of God, that Great MOUNTAIN that is filling the whole earth, there is NOTHING that can prevent your destiny, even the mountain of apparent obstacles will begin to facilitate the manifestation of your destiny! There are two mountains we have discussed here, and you have the CHOICE as to which mountain you will focus upon. Will you focus on the natural realm and that which seeks to limit your destiny or will you focus upon that Great Mountain of the REVEALation of the glory of Christ that is filling the earth? A few years ago the Lord told me concerning the things He was showing me that I was to 'shout it from the mountaintops!' THIS Great Mountain is the Mountain from which I proclaim the PURPOSE of God!

Two Rainbows

Bill Burns

January 2, 2000:

This morning as Marsha and I drove to church, the Lord showed us a sign. As we looked into the eastern sky we saw two rainbows in the form of vertical pillars—one on either side of the sun. When God gives us rainbows in this manner, they have always been signs which confirm the Lord's covenant promises. The number two in this sign is significant. January 2 in the year 2000 is a reminder of the word of the Lord to us in 1999 that speaks of unity with the Master.

On October 28, 1999, the Lord gave me a word about Jachin and Boaz (two pillars). The Lord said, "I am calling My pillars forth." These are represented by the two rainbows on either side of the sun. The pillars are necessary to the building of the temple in these last days that will hold up the Capstone (Jesus) with shouts of truth and grace.

The two pillars (rainbows) represent the two witnesses who stand by the Lord of the whole earth. They are likened to the two witnesses of Revelation 11:3-4, and they are likened to the two olive trees of Zechariah 4:11-14 that produce the golden oil that drips into the receptacles (hands of the Lord) of the golden pipes that light the lampstand (Jesus filled with the seven spirits of God).

This sign is God's promise to fulfill His prophetic word concerning the pillars, two witnesses (man and woman), the two anointed ones who stand beside the Lord to do His will.

Now hear the word of the Lord: It will be given unto My two witnesses the golden oil anointing which will become the prophetic fire of My words in their mouth which will destroy the works of the adversary. Is it not written that My name is called the "Sun of Righteousness?" (Malachi 4:2) Those who now position themselves next to Me will receive the fullness of My Spirit, and they shall go forth and trample the works of the wicked one under their feet. This shall become known as the year of the Lord's redeemed. (Isaiah 63:4) "The day of vengeance is in My heart, and the year of My redeemed has come."

The golden oil anointing which I am now pouring forth upon My servants will break the yokes of bondages that the wicked one has used to bring people into bondage. Your words shall become My sword in your mouths, My people.

Isaiah 59:20 -21 "The Redeemer will come to Zion, And to those who turn from transgression in Jacob," Says the LORD. "As for Me," says the LORD, "this is My covenant with them: My Spirit who is upon you, and My words which I have put in your mouth, shall not depart from your mouth, nor from the mouth of your descendants, nor from the mouth of your descendants' descendants," says the LORD, "from this time and forevermore."

Words from the Lord to Marsha Burns:

January 3, 2000:

I had a short vision of a man walking down a road backwards. The Lord said, many of you are trying to go forward while looking back at your past failures. You are trying to move ahead and yet are filled with regret for might have been or could have been. You cannot proceed with precision of purpose and clarity of vision until you turn around and leave those things behind that belong in the past. You can do nothing to change what was. But, you can move ahead by divine direction if you will look to Me and seek My guidance and direction. Haven't I said that if you will ask for wisdom that I will give it liberally? Then, ask and it will be given; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you.

January 4, 2000:

Children, stop fussing with one another. Be done with self-focus, self-interest, and self-promotion. Haven't I already called you to a place of unity and peace among the brethren? You cannot fulfill this commission as long as you are still comparing yourselves among yourselves and measuring yourselves by yourselves. Be done with small thinking and short-sightedness. Rise up from that place of self-service to become a servant of the King. Those who desire to become the greatest must first become a servant to all. 1 Corinthians 3:1-3, "And I, brethren, could not speak to you as to spiritual people but as to carnal, as to babes in Christ. I fed you with milk and not with solid food; for until now you were not able to receive it, and even now you are still not able; for you are still carnal. For where there are envy, strife, and divisions among you, are you not carnal and behaving like mere men?"

January 7, 2000:

I speak to those whose circumstances look dark and bleak. The enemy is attacking you with breakdowns and difficult situations in an effort to immobilize you with fear, discouragement and hopelessness. The devil's greatest weapon against My people is the threat of financial ruin. Your greatest temptation is to run and hide to escape your trouble. But, I have not left you, nor have I forsaken you. I have brought you through times more difficult than these. Refuse to allow the spirit of fear a place of torment in your heart. Rise up and face this fear with courage and boldness. Ask, and I will give you wisdom in dealing with every situation. "Be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might!"

January 8, 2000:

Haven't you asked to be brought higher, to know Me more intimately, to have greater revelation of My kingdom? Then, why are you so surprised at the current testing? You have been carrying excess baggage that you cannot bring into this higher place. You have attitudes and concepts that need to be refined and purged before you come higher. I am refining you in the furnace of affliction. Yield yourself to this purging, for this time of chastening and correction will bring you to a place of purity that you have not known. Trust Me.

Two Sources of Wisdom

Mike Forest

The Word of God makes it clear that the wisdom of man is foolishness unto God. On the other hand, Jesus Christ is the wisdom of God, and He has been made unto us wisdom. The Holy Spirit is called "the Spirit of wisdom". The powers of darkness also have a wisdom that they can impart unto man. This is clearly seen by the knowledge that is imparted to those who operate in the occult.

The question that we should ask ourselves is "whose wisdom are we walking in", the wisdom of God, the wisdom of man, or the wisdom that proceeds from the powers of darkness? Jesus said that if you want to know the source from which a man is operating, then we need to be fruit inspectors. One of the best ways to check out the fruit of a person is to listen to what is coming out of their mouths. Jesus makes this abundantly clear from the following scriptures: "Either make the tree good, and his fruit good: or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: for the tree is known by his fruit. O generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil speak good things? For out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. A good man out of the good treasure of the heart brings forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth evil things." (Matt.12:33-35).

In light of the above scriptures, it is a contradiction for a born again man or woman to speak words of death, because the child of God has been given a new heart or spirit that is the dwelling place of the Holy Spirit. If the tree is known by it's fruit, how can we claim to be children of God, when we praise God in one breath, and gossip about our neighbor in the next?

"Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him show out of a good conversation his works with meekness of wisdom. But if you have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth. This wisdom descends not from above, but is earthly, sensual, devilish. For where envying and strife is; there is confusion and every evil work. But the wisdom from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy." (James3:13-17). From these passages of scripture we can clearly see that there is a wisdom that proceeds from the world, the flesh, and the devil that produces the fruit of strife and envy, which results in confusion and every evil work. There is another wisdom that proceeds from God that produces good fruit.

We know that the enemy is behind all of the division and strife that we see in the church today, but this is no excuse for a child of God to walk in these things. Even though the church at Corinth excelled in the spiritual gifts, the apostle Paul had to rebuke this church as being carnal (of the flesh). "For you are yet carnal: for whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and divisions, are you not carnal, and walk as men?" (1Cor.3:3). Much of the strife and division that is evident in the church today is a result of Christians walking in the flesh. Galatians 5 deals with the works of the flesh and the fruit of the Spirit. The apostle says that if we would walk in the Spirit, that we would not fulfill the lusts of the flesh. One of the essential elements in walking in the Spirit is walking the love walk. Jesus gave us two great commandments to obey. The Lord said that if we would obey these commandments then we would fulfill the law. These two commandments are to love God with our whole spirit, soul, and body, and to love our neighbor as

Walking after the flesh is essentially to sin against the law of love. All forms of contention, strife, and backbiting in the church of the Lord Jesus Christ are sins of the flesh and result in broken fellowship between the saints of God. Most sincere Christians wouldn't think of participating in the works of the flesh such as fornication and adultery, yet many of these same Christians will get in strife and contention with their brother or sister in the Lord, and not think anything of it. It is very informative to look at the works of the flesh in Galatians 5 and observe how many of them are a result of walking in the wisdom that is earthly, sensual, and devilish. Envy, murders, wrath, and strife are all mentioned as works of the flesh. Most of us know the meaning of these things, but here are some works of the flesh that I looked up the meaning in the Strong's concordance. This will help to shed some light on the subject at hand.

(Variance)- A quarrel, wrangling, contention, debate, strife. (Emulations)- heat, (which could mean hot headed), zeal (in a bad sense). jealousy, malice, envy, indignation. (Seditious)- Disunion, dissension, division.

All of the division and strife that we see in the Body of Christ today is demonically inspired and affects those Christians that are walking after the flesh. "From whence come wars and fightings among you? Come they not hence, even of your lusts, that war in your members?" (James 4:1).

"This I say then, walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lusts of the flesh." (Galatians 5:16). Walking in the Spirit is walking the love walk. It is allowing Jesus (who is love) to love through us. "For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." (Galatians 5:14).

"If we say that we have fellowship with Him and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth: But if we walk in the light, as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the Blood of Jesus cleanses us from all sin." (1John 1:6).

The wisdom that proceeds from above is that wisdom that Christ imparts to us by giving us Himself. It is the wisdom that is pure, peaceable, gentle, easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits.

In His Love,
Mike

Two Sides of Rest

Ching Co

February 10,2000

Beloved Children of God,

THE IMPORTANCE OF REST:

These past days, the Lord has been reminding me about the importance of rest to us. That failing to understand and observe this in our lives will be detrimental to our well-being. However, due to various pressures that God's people are facing in these days, many of us have overlooked this resulting to great harm and confusion overtaking us.

Even Jesus Himself rested often during His ministry and He also encouraged His disciples to rest. In Mark 6:30-32 we will find this story. " The apostles gathered around Jesus and reported to him all they had done and taught. Then, because so many people were coming and going that they did not even have a chance to eat, he said to them. " Come with me by yourselves to a quiet place and get some rest. So they went away by themselves in a boat to a solitary place."

WHAT IS THE REST OF GOD

Understanding and experiencing God's rest are two different things. Many of us try to rest and do various activities which we construed as resting, but at times we still come out not rested. Our physical body maybe resting, but our mind and spirit are fretting.

True rest in God does not depend on outward circumstances. It is being able to enter into the inner sanctuary of the most High despites the battles and problems that we faced and finding refreshment in Him. This will not be automatic, it will need an abundance of God's grace and also discipline from our part. We must learn to shut out all other voices shouting for our attention during these times.

The coming days will be turbulent days. The day of the Lord will be an exciting time to be living in. It will be full of activities both from God and from the enemy. It is important that God's people learn to access this special provision of the Father. Unless we learn how to rest in God, we will not stand with Him when that day comes.

PERSONAL TESTIMONY

I don't normally like to share personal testimony in public post, but somehow the Lord has impressed upon my heart to share about these particular events for it will help make understanding about God's rest easier to those to whom this message is intended.

Last 1997, what I thought was an ordinary sore in my tongue turned out to be cancerous. In God's perfect timing, we discovered and removed it before it can spread further. The doctor cut away a portion of my tongue and after two weeks of recuperation. He send me to another city to undergo radiation treatment. God has given us a prophetic word in that area before this happened so when all this was happening to me, I was very strong spiritually. The peace of God was much evident and even the joy of the Lord. Many times I will be surprised at the laughter that comes out from within me in the midst of the pain.

So I really felt very strong throughout this whole period. Towards the middle of the radiation treatment, all the physical symptoms began to appear. Destruction of the taste buds, nausea, no saliva, difficulty of swallowing, gasping for breath, pain. And all these began to take it's toll on me physically. But I remained strong and high spirited during the whole ordeal. Daily I was confessing to myself, "I can do this. I can take it. I am a child of God. He is with me." However as the days progress the more difficult the physical discomfort becomes.

One day it finally dawn on me that something is very wrong. So instead of the usual positive confession coming out from my mouth- I found myself crying out to God. " Lord, I cannot do it anymore. Unless you come and take over." Then the most amazing realization dawn upon me which comes through a vision.

God showed me that in the past weeks of my ordeal. I was holding on tightly to God. But at this last stage, I let go of my hand and instead of me holding on to God, I found that He is holding my hands. He carried me in His arms. Finally, I have understood what resting in God meant. Not only did I understand it, but I was experiencing it for the first time in the midst of the worst physical circumstances. A well known preacher once described this as resting faith.

For the rest of the treatment time, I entered it from another arena. I was no longer trying but I was totally resting in Him. The Father carried me through day by day and it was the most glorious time of rest that I've ever had. I was not doing anything but He was doing everything for me.

Finally, I was able to understand fully and appreciate better the meaning of these words spoken by our predecesors:

Like Job I cry out to God and mean it from my heart "Naked I came from my mother's womb, and naked I will depart. The Lord gave and the Lord has taken away; may the name of the Lord be praised. Though he slay me, yet will I hope in him.....indeed, this will turn out for my deliverance. . . ." Job 1:21, 13:15-16

Like Shadrach, Meshack and Abednego I was able to speak these words back unto the face of my tormentor who was trying to cause me to doubt Father's love for me and to distrust His promises -" O Nebuchadnezzar, we do not need to defend ourselves before you in this matter. If we are thrown into the blazing furnace, the God we serve is able to save us from it, and he will rescue us from your hand, O king. But even if he does not, we want you to know, O king, that we will not serve your gods or worship the image of gold you have set up." Daniel 3:16-18

Like Habakkuk my heart shouts these words "Though the fig tree does not bud and there are no grapes on the vines, though the olive crop fails and the fields produce no food, though there are no sheep in the pen and no cattle in the stalls, yet I will rejoice in the Lord, I will be joyful in God my Savior. The Sovereign Lord is my strength; he makes my feet like the feet of a deer, he enables me to go on the heights." Habakkuk 3:17-19

The days and months of my recovery were the most painful moments physically but my spirit was getting stronger day by day. The more I let go, the more rested I become inwardly. I don't have the word to fully explain what was taking place inside of me. But it was real and something beautiful was happening inside my soul. In the midst of my desolation. My soul was resting and it was being refreshed by the Father Himself. Oh what a glorious time that has been.

GOD'S MESSAGE

My people, do not be distracted by the many things taking place in your midst. I am God and I am who I say I am. No one can stand before me. You are my child, and I love you beyond words. Come and give everything to me. Give me your pain and I'll turn it into joy. Give me your dryness and it will be turned into a river. Give me your failures and I will turn it into gold. Give me your fear and I will replace it with my strength. Give me your weary body and I will refresh your soul. Come and do not hold back anymore. I longed to remove the yoke that is upon your shoulder. I desire to take the burden from you. Come and take your rest in me.

MY PRAYER

Father, draw us near by your Spirit. Remove all hindrances that is preventing us from experiencing the fullness of your rest. We come to you now and we enter your rest once more. Thank you for being such a wonderful Father to us.

ROMANS 8: 28 -35,37-38

And we know that in all things God works for the good of those who love him, who have been called according to his purpose. For those God foreknew he also predestined to be conformed to the likeness of his Son, that he might be the firstborn among many brothers. And those he predestined, he also called; those he called, he also justified; those he justified; he also glorified.

What then, shall we say in response to this? If God is for us, who can be against us? He who did not spare his own Son, but give him up for us all - how will he not also, along with him, graciously give us all things? Who will bring a charge against those whom God has chosen? It is God who justifies.

Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall trouble or hardship or persecution or famine or nakedness or danger or sword? No, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him who loved us. For I am convinced that neither death nor life, neither angels nor demons, neither the present nor the future, nor any powers, neither height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

BLESSED BE THE NAME OF THE LORD. CHILDREN OF THE MOST HIGH. COME AND LET US ENTER INTO THE REST OF THE FATHER FOR HE IS THERE WAITING FOR US WITH OPEN ARMS.

In His service,
Sis Ching Co

trumpet call apostolic / prophetic bulletin

Look at the Christ in ALL, and all the Christ that is IN YOU will have covenant with the Christ in ALL!

From: Jan <jkharper@juno.com>

Hello, Doug!

As always, the arrival of the Trumpet Call Bulletin was greatly anticipated and appreciated. I usually intend to drop you a note after the receipt of each bulletin to let you know that what you are hearing and understanding is bringing a great deal of confirmation to what I am learning. So, this time, I am just TAKING a moment to send you some encouragement.

Just this past Saturday, I spent some time with my friend and mentor talking about things in the Word and the Spirit. He brought up 2Thessalonians 2. This is one of those passages which the church usually does not look at in the spirit. There may indeed be a literal manifestation of the occurrences which is referred to here, but these things will (and are) occurring in the spiritual realm and we must be able to recognize what we are seeing.

2:3 says, "Don't let anyone deceive you in any way, for that day will not come until the rebellion occurs and the man of lawlessness is revealed, the man doomed to destruction. He will oppose and will exalt himself over everything that is called God or is worshipped, so that he sets himself up in God's temple, proclaiming to be God."

God, of course is the only just and righteous judge. As Jesus, our Intercessor and 'lawyer' represents us to the Father, He perpetually declares our innocence. Satan, as our accuser and prosecutor perpetually declares our guilt. We have the choice to make whether to align ourselves with what Jesus and His ultimate sacrifice say that we (and others) are, or with what satan says about us and others.

Discernment is given by the Holy Spirit, but we cannot judge righteously unless we know what Jesus and the Father are saying about the situation we have been given discernment in. If Jesus is saying that we (or another person) is innocent, why on earth would we disagree? Because, as you said, we are walking according to our soulish nature, and our flesh is seeking to be acknowledged and soothed.

I believe that in these last days, God is bringing us full circle back to what He intended in the beginning, to walk with Him in the Garden. You see, God looked at the Garden and all that He had created (man included) and pronounced it to be good. Adam was in full agreement with Him, and until he decided that there was something better to be had, man enjoyed full fellowship with God and the blessings that accompany it. Adam made a decision on his own, allowing the carnal nature its first opportunity to arise, because he wanted to be like God. He chose to forsake his agreement with all that God had said and proclaimed to be good to satisfy his self nature. He became a renegade and a deserter of God's perfect plan. That sounds like apostasy, doesn't it?

So, in these last days, the same rebellion and lawlessness is again being revealed. Carnal man is doomed to destruction. Our self nature will oppose God's vision both for ourselves and others, because we believe we have the 'right' to judge. Our spirit man will seek to receive God's vision concerning our ourselves and for others.

To try and make my point, the manifestation of 'imperfection' that you are observing (we are seeing it, too) is because the secret power of lawlessness has already been at work, but it is now being revealed at the proper time. As in the beginning, God is again separating light and darkness, soul and spirit.

But, hallelujah!! The promise is that when the man of lawlessness is revealed, then the Day of the Lord will come. Christ will come in His "many-membered, perfect Man" after this revelation!!! The man of lawlessness will be destroyed by the breath of His mouth (the Word), and by the splendor of his coming.

I agree with you heartily that we must not walk according to what we perceive in the natural realm. I believe that we need to rethink our ideas about intercession, just as we have had to rethink spiritual warfare. I believe that true intercession is doing what our great Intercessor, Jesus, does for us--in faith we must believe and proclaim that we are innocent because of Jesus' perfect sacrifice. If we are already made perfect, then our brothers and sisters are made perfect also. We must sit in the heavenly realm with Jesus our brother and with God our Father and proclaim their innocence and receive in their behalf what they are as yet incapable of receiving for themselves. We must oftentimes go a step beyond that, and proclaim what God says. Discernment can come from the Holy Spirit, but it always comes with a Provision.

Even in the worst situations of carnal attitudes and fleshly 'stuff' that we will see, it is crucial to speak His Word--whether logos or rhema to that situation, because it is that Word that will destroy the 'man of lawlessness'.

I can confront, but it can only be done in the spirit, and then, only if I am 'dead'. To walk in 'the Garden' with Him will cost me all of my rights and opinions and judgements, so that I can understand and receive what He proclaims as good--namely, Christ in me, and Christ in them.

Well, I hope that this hasn't rambled too much. Keep going, Doug! We are getting there. Thank you for your consistency to share the revelations that you've been given. We are coming up higher!

Blessings to you--
Jan

MAN OF SIN
Doug Fortune

The 'man of sin' is being revealed... that which has mixed allegiances, that which is aligned with Babylon, that which claims a form of godliness but denies the authority thereof. For I am bringing shaking, judgment, separation, rooting up and tearing down that I may BUILD. I am laying open the hearts of men, exposing that which is allied with Babylon, exposing the 'man of sin', that I may bring forth the 'perfect man'. Do not be dismayed as the apostasy is unfolding before you, for it is according to My purpose. It is appointed that judgment be in My house that Christ may 'appear'... are YOU not My 'house', My 'temple'? Many confuse a spiritual temple and a literal temple, but they are one in the same. Yes, there is a heavenly temple, the pattern of which I revealed in detail to My servant... but was it not a shadow of that which was to come, and are YOU not that which was to come? Are YOU not the Jerusalem from above?... are YOU not the holy city, the Bride adorned for her Bridegroom?... are YOU not the pillars in the house of God? Can you not see that that which is of spiritual substance far supersedes the limitations of that which is of natural substance? Have I not said, first the natural and then the spiritual?... and that the natural is to be a sign to point to the spiritual?

Many look for a 'man of sin' sitting in a temple made with hands... look to My true 'temple', you will find him there for the wheat and the tares grow side by side. But know that I shall, in prophetic proclamation, slay him with the breath of My lips and bring forth that holy 'thing', that many-membered NEW CREATION, even a 'nation' born in a day. For I am calling forth a 'HOLY NATION', a royal priesthood to show forth My glory in the surrounding darkness. Indeed, the whole earth IS filled with My glory, but because of the iniquity of mens' hearts (the man of sin), the rulers of the darkness of this world have largely obscured the revealing of My glory... but know that as I slay the 'man of sin' and bring forth the appearing of Christ in this 'HOLY NATION', My glory SHALL manifest for ALL to see. For some, this manifestation of My glory will bring judgment and destruction for in truth their heart has been allied with Babylon, though their lips have given service to Me. To others, this manifestation of My glory shall draw them to My Kingdom as they surrender themselves to Me.

Do not be dismayed at the tremendous shaking that I shall cause, it is for the purpose of separation that the 'man of sin' be revealed that Christ may 'appear'. Lift up your eyes!, for your redemption draweth nigh, even the redemption of your body as mortality puts on immortality and death is swallowed up of Life.

End Time Prophetic Vision

To The Churches

Judy Curmi

Listen very carefully to what my voice is saying to the churches. Time is running out. Time is almost up. Judgement hangs as a cleaver to be dropped. While its shadow can be seen from a distance, still everyone parties and proclaims that the good times will continue to roll.

Is your house in order yet? Are you prepared for the hoards that will stream to the churches any church? Do you have answers ready? Can you tell them from MY WORD what will happen next? Do you have large quantities of oil ready to hand out for their lamps?

Do you know what my modern day prophets are saying? Are your church members prophesying or having dreams and visions? In the book of Joel I promised my body that I would pour out my Spirit on ALL flesh at the time of the End. THAT TIME IS NOW.

Joel 2:28-32 And it shall come to pass afterward that I will pour out my Spirit on all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions;

And also upon the servants and upon the handmaidens in those days will I pour out my Spirit.

And I will show wonders in the heavens and on the earth, blood and fire and pillars of smoke. The sun shall be turned into darkness and the moon into blood, before the great and terrible day of the Lord comes.

And it shall come to pass that whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be delivered; for in Mount Zion and in Jerusalem shall be deliverance, as the Lord has said to the remnant whom the Lord has called.

Learn from the season and prepare quickly. Be like an ant or a beaver and keep your nose to the grindstone. Study my Word heavily. Be diligent in your prayer life, so that you know and recognize my voice. Leave your baubles behind and buy true gold, refined in the fire*, NOT gold or silver coins or bullion.

YOUR GOLD WILL BE WORTH NOTHING.

YOUR SILVER WILL BE WORTH NOTHING.

YOUR DIAMONDS WILL BE WORTH NOTHING.

CAN YOU EAT THEM?

Where will you buy food if there is drought or flood or transportation fails?

How bad will things have to get before you finally repent and start to SEEK ME, or will you be one of those who digs in your heels and shakes your fist at me?

One thing is for certain: You will not be able to remain neutral and you will not be able to continue sitting on the fence!

Prepare the way for my return. Tell as many people as you can. Proclaim it from the rooftops. Proclaim it upon the mountains and in the valleys. Tell all who will listen. Leave no one out. Some will mock you. Others will be grateful. I offer grace and mercy to all, but not all will take it.

Have both spiritual food and physical food in your larder to give away. I MAY COME TO YOU IN DISGUISE AND ASK YOU FOR SOME. Will you say "Yes" or will you turn me down? Will you help me or will you turn me away?

Be aware of your priorities and get them in order NOW, this very day!

If you do, you will find victory in the midst of the world's defeat. I will be able to use you as a lamp set on a hill, and I will send many to you for help. (A lampstand is not the light, but holds up the light so it can be seen, even from a far distance.)

Take counsel from my Word. Take counsel from my lips directly. Don't be caught unaware and naked like the world. Be prudent. Be so very wise. PUT ME FIRST, ABOVE ALL ELSE. DO IT NOW!

Love, Jesus

PS. My prophets heard my voice and moved on it. Will you do the same, O faithless generation?

*Rev. 3:14-22 And to the angel of the church in Laodicea write: These things says the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creation of God.

I know your works that you are neither cold nor hot; it is better to be either cold or hot. So then because you are lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue you out of my mouth.

You say, I am rich and my wealth has increased and I need nothing; and you do not know that you are miserable and a wanderer and poor and blind and naked.

I advise you to buy of me gold refined in the fire, that you may become rich; and white raiment that you may be clothed, so that the shame of your nakedness may not be seen; and anoint your eyes with salve that you may see.

I rebuke and chastise all those whom I love; be zealous therefore and repent.

Behold I stand at the door and knock; if any man hear my voice and open the door, I will come into him and sup with him, and him with me. To him who overcomes I will grant to sit with me on my throne, even as I also overcame and have sat down with my Father on his throne.

He who has ears, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.

Two Visions

Kathie Walters

Wales and the White Horse

Wales

Last week I was in Wales.(mid Feb). While I was there the Lord gave me a dream for Wales - before I share it I want to back up three years (briefly of course)... I visited N. Wales three years ago, doing a little ministry and visiting friends. When I arrived, I really enjoyed the natural beauty of Wales and started to pray for the nation. Within the first three days a great heaviness would come on my back - once so strong that I nearly fell over. (I was just cleaning my teeth at the time!)

I asked the Lord what it was and He told me this, "The religious spirit of heaviness and false responsibility came upon Wales during the last part of Evan Roberts ministry," so I proceeded to check that out. Evan Roberts was used mightily in the word of knowledge and with the word of knowledge and prophetic insight and his obedience to the Spirit, the Holy Spirit would move and take over the meetings - hence revival. Most of us have been used in the word of knowledge or in giving a prophetic word to someone or maybe a church or group. Our responsibility is to offer the word (having made no personal judgments about the person or situation) and then it is between the person, or group - and God. Evan Roberts toward the end began to take upon himself the responsibility of how people responded to the word. If they didn't respond how he thought they should - he would leave the meeting, or stop the meeting etc., etc. At the end he gave a few words which were "off" and upset some people who had helped and supported him for a long time. All this as an explanation of how the religious false burden and false responsibility spirit works. (good warning for us more prophetic and vocal types - don't you think?) Anyway, back to the dream I had last week for Wales. I saw a bird, a brown/grey dove, very attractive, circling high in the sky - it represented the move of God in Wales. Then in its chest, there appeared to be a weight, a heaviness, and the weight began to bring it down... it came down and down and finally it touched the earth. I saw it scrape the earth with its chest and in the dream I thought it was surely going to die. All of a sudden the weight seemed to fall off and it slowly began to rise again, circling up and up. I woke up singing an old song "I will put on the garment of praise, I will put on the garment of praise, the spirit of heaviness is gone from me. I will put on the garment of praise." I believe the 1,000,000,000 hours of prayer finally broke that stronghold and Wales is on the rise in the spirit... PRAISE JESUS. Then I had this word, "Wales - I will restore the song of the Spirit and the Joy of the Lord. You have prayed and wept and now is the time to praise and dance, for praise will make you lighter and lighter and you will shake off the ashes and the spirit of mourning - the song will be released from Wales and cover the whole earth again (don't try and do it though - it will happen) and your fine preachers will once again be known for their eloquence, but the eloquence will be of the Spirit and will bring release and not condemnation - do not take the religious spirit back - keep it out. Close down the mines of stale religion and open up the gates of praise." God is going to restore to Wales the Seer anointing which Evan Roberts operated in. If you don't understand the difference between the Seer anointing and straight prophet anointing, you may Email me. Basically with the seer type anointing the Holy Spirit moves on your senses a great deal - touch, taste, sight, hearing, smell, etc. I believe the dream I had about Wales last week (12 Feb) coincided with a vision I had about the white horse which I am posting as separately as it concerns not Wales only.

Be blessed and encouraged brothers and sisters of Wales. "....all the promises of God are in Him (Jesus) are Yes and Amen. He is not a "yes" and "no" God but a God of yes, and yes again! Kathie Walters

WHITE HORSE VISION - GET READY - \O/

Last year many hundreds of people all around the world had the same vision, around the same time, it was very exciting! The vision was of Jesus seated upon a big white horse. The horse was behind some very big gates and the gates were closed. The horse was stomping its feet and kicking up gold dust from the ground. Some of the gold dust was coming through a crack in the gates. I also saw this vision last year. Last week in Scotland, at Catherine Brown's conference in Edinburgh, while worshipping in the meeting on Wednesday (9th Feb) I suddenly got beside myself as I saw another vision of Jesus on that white horse. BUT THIS TIME HE CAME RIGHT THROUGH THE GATES - when I saw it I didn't know what to do with myself apart from jumping up and down and screaming... I'm sure many other people had this vision as so many had the first one... The move of God and visitation of the King is near - imminent. I would just say this "Make sure you are in the right place, doing the right thing, in the right way, at the right time. Then you will be all lined up to flow with HIM - it's going to awesome. The Lord showed me something else too - when a king visits another king, he brings many wonderful presents as a token of his respect and love.

In this visitation the King is bringing many presents to the Body - not that we are to get distracted by gifts- but nevertheless, they are on their way... Use them wisely and unselfishly, and most of all enjoy THE PRESENCE OF THIS WONDERFUL KING JESUS." - I'm wired - can you tell? :)

30 Minute Vision

Jon Cressey

On Thursday 29th December at 7.10 p.m. I had a vision which lasted about 30 minutes.

I was looking and saw a white satin/silk tablecloth with very fine golden embroidery on the edges. The design was simple and delicate. [The tablecloth with the fine gold embroidery speaks to me of a tapestry and interweaving of many in the Body to form One beautiful 'garment' of covering. The interweaving was delicate and spoke to me of intricacy and craftsmanship of our Father's hand. This is a work of His majesty. The coming together in such a way speaks of a new level of unity in the Body. The white of the tablecloth speaks to me of the redemptive acts of the saints.]

Next I looked and I saw a very light, cream fluffy desert on a pretty silver bowl, with it were other fine deserts. [The first thing my eye seemed to be drawn to at the table was the dessert. I thought of how dessert is the last part of the meal and not the first. All of the desserts were 'fine'. I think this is a prophetic picture of the Lord saving the best for last, i.e. the end time apostolic anointing for the Church is surely la creme de la creme :)]

I saw some men handling some silver invitations with black writing on them but I could not read what was written.

There was something in the air that seemed to be saying, "It is a true celebration that is to come". [The silver on the invitations speaks further of the redemptive gift of Jesus Christ. It seems a natural parallel to draw of the Wedding Supper and the Lamb, yet I do not believe the banquet I was shown was the final Wedding Supper banquet, rather it is a precursor to it. This is confirmed by the word that I next hear in the vision "It is a true celebration that is to come". Also, it seems that the vision may be comfortably divided into two parts. The first part is a reference to the Wedding Feast of the Lamb that is to come (i.e. up to "It is a true celebration that is to come"). Whilst the rest of the vision speaks of a visitation of Grace prior to that.]

Next, I was standing outside at the entrance to the marquee. It was extremely big. The tent was a sort of wide pale green and white stripe. People outside asked if there was room. "There's plenty of room inside" was the response. [The size of the marquee is indicative of the enormous outpouring that is to come.]

I was then inside again looking at the tables. The finest silver cutlery, and many pieces. In the center were silver and glass vases with deep red flowers. Every 4 or 5 feet were black candlesticks with 5 white candles on with small golden leaves at the bottom. [I was taken once more into the tent and my eyes were drawn to the silverware and the beautiful vases with red flowers. The vases were clear glass and perhaps this speaks of the purity of the vessels whom the Lord will pour out His end time anointing? Also, the transparency of the vases is a prophetic foretelling of those through whom Christ shall live in and through. The red flowers remind us of the purifying and all-atoning victorious Blood of Jesus Christ. The flowers also speak of the aroma of Holiness that will accompany this visitation. It is a thing of great beauty. It is through His blood that we may come to His table and drink with Him and share precious fellowship. The black candlesticks speak of the presence of God (black is often in/judgement etc. but in this case, I believe the black is indicative of a weighty visitation of the Glory of God). The white candles speak of Jesus as the Light of the World and point to His saving grace and the number 5 confirms this (since five is the number of grace). This seems to point to an experiential revelation of God's grace for the Church and to the world. The outpouring of this end-time Grace, is one that will lead to healing of and for the nations (and this is echoed in the symbolic use of golden leaves on the candlesticks, which Revelation speaks of as healing for the nations).]

In the left corner a string quartet was playing quietly in the background. [The string quartet signifies that this move of God will have a most anointed sound to it, and in this visitation many will experience a rest and refreshing in the Lord that will be uniquely joyous to behold.]

A big man with a dicky bow was going around chuckling to himself and moving things and then putting them back to exactly the same spot. [The vision spoke of such intimacy and pointed towards a deeper level of fellowship with Jesus, and it spoke of a new level of unity brought about by those who will truly walk with servant hearts. I felt that the butler type folks were actually believers who had entered into such a level of agape love that they were serving others in tenderness and out of the compassion of Jesus Christ, with no thought of self. Truly this is the outworking of putting others first.]

A man standing outside then asks out of interest, not rudeness, "Is it going to be long?" The man at the entrance says, "No, it's ready, I'm just waiting" and he doesn't finish the sentence off but just smiles and looks inside.

The scene changed to the meal. As people take their seats some of them are apprehensive about the cutlery, but as the food is served in the candlelight the waiters whisper discreetly which knife, fork or spoon to use. They seem extremely friendly and really enjoy serving. [The meal scene is interesting! Those who take their seats are apprehensive and a little nervous about what to expect, but they are treated with such kindness, goodness and compassion by those whom they are served by. I think this points to a people who will truly begin to emulate their Master and to seek to serve others, motivated out of deep agape love. The 'waiters' in the vision really enjoyed serving! What a wonderful word to the Church! I get a sense that those who are taking their seats are the new wineskin that we hear talked about so much these days. These are folks who do not have established ministries and who are simply devoted to the Lord and that these are folks whom the Lord is calling out of obscurity. The nervousness over the cutlery may point to nervousness about entering into the new thing of God, but I sensed no opposition to this only a humility and yielding to it. I think that the waiters may also be established and mature voices in the Church who will take up a posture of servant hood to the Bride as part of the apostolic release for the end of the age, which will involve the release of a new generation of leaders by an increasingly anointed 'older' generation of leaders (we are not talking a Saul/David thing in the vision, but the most wonderful growing and learning together; with patriarchal/matriarchal mentoring and encouraging through wisdom and experience). It may be that some of the waiters were angels and that the saints will begin to work more co-operatively with the host of heaven?]

I look and in the far end of the room I see a large group rise to their feet as someone approaches their table. They all sit down again with the guest. After a while he moves again and again, a small group rise to their feet. [The Lord then approaches groups that are both large and small. This may be considered as confirmation of the above 'theory' i.e. the new wineskin is going to involve both the large established Spirit breathed Churches, and also the new/fresh/tiny yet faith fired passionate folks who are sold out for the Lord (this may just be individuals here and there). The other thing to consider is that this outpouring of Grace is for the corporate Body of Christ (i.e. the large groups) and also for the individual (the small group).]

Then, I saw Him. It was the Lord. I saw His face in the candlelight.

He sat at the table opposite where I was standing – about 5 feet away. The group rose and he brushed aside the etiquette and told them to be seated. Then He talked with each one as if they were the only one. He leaned forward and looked into their eyes, grinned as they talked. He looked very happy to be with them. [The Lord met with His people, brushing aside 'etiquette' and this reminds us that the Lord will do things His way and that the old ways may not necessarily be the same as His new way, but as we fellowship with Him we are One. Perhaps this is also a caution to the Body not to become bogged down in religious thinking. Jesus looked into each person's eyes, each person was intimately in relationship with Him, and therefore it was not the differences that were apparent, but the similarities i.e. they each saw a reflection of Jesus in the others. I also believe the vision firmly established the headship and the lordship of Jesus Christ.]

The thing finished there.

With thanks to Catherine Brown for help with the interpretation and application of this vision

3rd Apostles-Gathering

Paul Jablonowski

This e-mail is a report in response to some of your inquiries regarding the recent apostles-gathering in Oklahoma City which I attended from September 26th-28th 2000. Thank you so much for your prayers and support concerning my involvement with this apostles-gathering. A special thanks to Linda Marshall, Kyoko Sears and Fred Halbritter for your letters of affirmation and prayer support in this matter.

Today is the Day of Atonement (at-one-ment with God) which is the most HOLY day of the Jewish year. A time of fasting and prayer and reflection. I find it a great time to give a report on this gathering because trying to describe what happened here is about as hard as trying to describe "HOLY." This gathering really was a holy set-apart time that I will remember and cherish for years to come. We truly live in a transitional period between the age of grace and the soon coming millennial reign of Y'shua (Jesus) the Messiah. This "third day" is dawning upon us right on schedule as the scriptures have promised.

I feel that the most important thing that is being established as God gathers His apostles are TRUE covenant relationships. God dwells in covenant relationships, not in worldly partnerships with the mentality of "you scratch my back and I'll scratch yours." Many of the current church relationships are "professional" and oriented more around common "vision" rather than true covenantal relationship. Covenant relationship says, "I am willing to die for you and your family." When tribulation hits the fan, the only thing that is going to matter are these "mutual respect and death to self" relationships... true family and true warrior covenants established by God.

The televangelist Jim Bakker incident during the 1980's exposed much of the church's lack of covenant relationship. When Mr. Bakker needed his "friends" and "partners" the most, he was abandoned and turned against like an enemy. We showed the world that "When the going gets tough, the selfish get going," and this attitude brought shame on the name of God, but I trust that we have learned from it. Only God can establish covenant relationships which are like stones in the temple being set in order according to HIS good pleasure and purposes, not man's good intentions, plans and ideas. May God continue to set His people in their proper place in the body with true covenantal relationships.

At the gathering, we practiced the basics of the faith, like repentance, washing feet, praying for one another and taking communion whenever led (the bread and wine were made available throughout the meetings on each of the tables - about 8 seats per table). The anointing of the Lord was very powerful on all of this as it led us to get to know one another so true relationships could be established.

The formal meetings (starting at 2:00pm and 7:00pm each day) were rather short and to the point. There were no special speakers or teachings planned or given. The goal was to wait upon the Lord, bless Him, and seek His glory. The words that were given were not preplanned and usually less than five minutes per person. The worship in song was very powerful often with spontaneous accapello songs rising from whomever the Spirit moved. There was one point of very intense silence where I felt like there was much warfare going on in the heavenlies, and one brother testified of hearing thunder during this silent period. Incidentally, the warfare in Israel that is currently taking place over the "sovereignty of the temple mount" broke out on the final day of this gathering when the shofar was blown. God has promised that He will show forth His sovereignty to all mankind from this very piece of land in the middle east during the millennial reign of Christ.

The shofar (ram's horn) is a very powerful spiritual weapon when used as the Spirit directs, and the shofar was sounded on the last day of the gathering in accordance with The Feast of Trumpets (Lev. 23:24). Our SHOUTS of praise and adoration to the King opened the gates of heaven and His glory fell in the form of a sword. Three different brothers saw similar visions of the heavens being opened and light breaking through as a sword while we worshiped. After two of these visions were shared, three of the elders grasped hands together in a circle to reach for this sword together and all of the other apostles also gathered around them reaching together heavenward for God's sword. Several men testified that they actually felt the weight of His glory (Kabod in Hebrew) pressing down on their hands and arms as we reached up. May God give us His grace to use this sword only as His Spirit directs.

The final message that I believe the Lord had for us at this gathering concerns the purity of doctrine with which God is restoring to His bride before His soon return. There were four brothers who came to the meetings with some serious false doctrines, one of which was polygamy (having more than one wife). The elders addressed these men personally on two occasions and then asked them to leave because they did not repent of holding doctrines of men and demons. This was done in a very orderly and civil manner. I personally noticed when these four men arrived at the gathering because they sounded a brass bugle in the parking lot of the hotel upon their arrival and their departure. This in itself is a message because God did not order the sounding of brass bugles, but rather ram's horns (shofars) or silver trumpets. In this new day in which God is bringing us into, He is not allowing man to "toot his own horn" anymore. It is a serious time, and one of REST in which God will not strive with man any longer. In spite of what the current church looks like, there really is ONE DOCTRINE, ONE FAITH and ONE LORD. May God continue to bring us into this unity of faith and doctrine.

I pray that this report will give you fuel for further intercession, because this work of God to gather His apostles has really only just begun. Please continue to pray for this endeavor as the Spirit leads, and if I can answer any other questions, don't hesitate to ask. I look forward to seeing you all this Sunday at the Feast of Tabernacles celebration as we rehearse together this feast until the day that it will be fully fulfilled at the coming of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To HIM be the glory. Grace and Peace, paul j.

Three Areas

Jim Rinker

Three specific areas the Lord is dealing with in many of us currently.

1. You're all I want, You're all I ever needed
2. Pressing us to obtain the golden oil
3. Childhood to sonship

First, that prayer You're all I want, You're all I have ever needed that we have all prayed is being tested right now to see if it stands. The kingdom walk is now being required. This may explain the isolation many of us are experiencing at this time. (John 6)

Second, the golden oil which has been divinely worked into us has only one avenue of escape, that is to be PRESSED out of us. So the pressure we are experiencing is so the golden oil can flow out of us in this hour.

Third, the Lord is looking to take His children into sonship. Sons are TRUSTWORTHY and FAITHFUL. It's not what we POSSESS that impresses the father but rather what we can entrusted with. I once heard a man say "men are known on earth for what they say but men are known in heaven for what they don't say". This third encompasses the first two. Many are being tried and tested to find if they are TRUSTWORTHY and FAITHFUL and are being pressed so that those things which have been entrusted to them may flow out of them.

Lord Jesus, I pray for those who are going through this refining fire of testing right now. I pray that you would be our strength were we are weak Lord. I pray that we would glory in our weaknesses and our tribulations Lord that we may be made conformable to Your death that we may know the power of Your resurrection. Lord I pray as Jesus prayed for Peter that we may be strengthened as we are being allowed to be sifted by the enemy. We do not rebuke the sifting Lord but our hearts are open and willing to be purified for Your sake that You would return to receive the increase on Your investment that You have invested in seed for in us Lord and that You may have a beautiful spotless bride. We declare that it's all about You Jesus, it's all about You.

IRELAND AND NORTHERN IRELAND

HEALING, WHOLENESS, AND HAPPINESS

In this troubled corner of the world, God will work perhaps one of His greatest miracles!

The masterful, yet evil diversion of the devil that has kept this region smoldering in hatred, bitterness, and resentment will finally be exposed, and mercy drops will fall.

The battle for men's souls can and will be won!

LAUGHING TOGETHER AGAIN

Like long lost brothers who have been supernaturally reunited, Ireland and Northern Ireland will laugh together again. It will not be a nervous or artificial or phony laugh. Instead, brothers will share laughter from deep down inside. It will be laughter of release from centuries of tension and strife.

Even the soil, the physical ground, will sigh a sigh of relief - such will be the deliverance over this people. The awful physical, emotional, and spiritual wound will finally be healed by the supernatural hand of God.

The history of tribal violence with its lust for bloodshed and its insatiable hunger for death will come to an end. This ancient demon will rear its ugly head no more.

The Son of righteousness will arise with healing in His wings. God will exercise His great jealousy over this region and will ransom it for the kingdom of God.

Get ready, for it will happen suddenly!

RAIN FOR A DRY PEOPLE

Ireland will experience an unpredictable chain of events - half meteorological and half supernatural - that will suddenly awaken this land.

Like torrential showers, God's Spirit will rain down upon this spiritually dry people. Revival will break out in the countryside and in the cities - among the rich and the poor, as well as with Catholics and Protestants.

Churches will overflow with converts, and people will literally run to churches to experience repentance and salvation. Many ministers will be overwhelmed and will flee, hoping to escape this wonderful, yet terrible revival.

God will not be limited, and He will shake the established religious order of this land. It will be everything the people had hoped for and everything they had feared.

Names and titles, denominations and organizations will take a back seat to this wonderful - yet seemingly out-of-control - revival. Even Ireland's government officials will publicly acknowledge this incredible manifestation of the Holy Spirit. It will be undeniable.

A drastic increase in physical rainfall over this region will signify an increased outpouring of God's Spirit.

This will be a healing rainfall and a cleansing downpour upon the people. God will cleanse the land both physically and spiritually as physical rains and spiritual rains fan from the heavens simultaneously.

Streams and rivers will deepen and widen, overflowing their banks, as their waters announce this unprecedented visitation from God.

God says to Ireland, "Look up, for your redemption draws nigh."

SUPERNATURAL PEACE

God's promise for Ireland is that all things will become new. She will have a fresh start like that of springtime.

God will stamp newness and freshness all over Ireland and Northern Ireland. Such will be the magnificent release of His love to them. Love, forgiveness, healing, and reconciliation will flow in this land.

Ireland will have one people, one government, one economy, one currency, one goal, one future. All will become as it was meant to be.

The devil will go down in defeat, and mighty angels will be flying back and forth over Ireland and Northern Ireland, crying, "Peace, peace, peace!"

And there will be peace; supernatural peace, permanent peace - the peace that surpasses all human understanding. Somehow - supernaturally, sovereignly, mysteriously, and suddenly - all the internal feuding will end.

The unprecedented ceasing of old hostilities will announce the arrival of the Prince of Peace. None other than the Prince of Life, Jesus Christ Himself, will arrive to visit this formerly troubled land, bringing lasting peace where there has been no peace.

AN ARMY OF YOUNG EVANGELISTS

Consequently, a massive revival among Ireland's very young people will take place. This sudden outbreak of Holy Spirit revival fire will cover the land even affecting Scotland.

A second target group, slightly older than the first, the 20-30 year old group, will also see a tremendous move of God. Married couples will flood into churches in huge numbers as God redeems their hearts. They will cease from their pursuit of material things and run hard after spiritual things. Many missionaries will emerge from this move of God. With their original destiny in God realized, many converts - single and married - will join the army of evangelists that God will raise up.

They will take the gospel to many lands.

Ireland! Put on the garments of praise!

Dominique Francois

Paris, France

Feb. 15th, 2000.

Although I have been a born again Christian for 30 years and in this prophetic renewal for many, I have never ever received a vision and a word like the one God seized me with for Ireland this morning.

As I was listening to the song "O, consuming fire", I saw the map of Europe circled by a high and thick wall, like a fortified city. Coming from the sea, I saw the stem of a big ship - (ice-breaker-type thing) only much bigger, knocking this wall down and making a breakthrough in Europe through Ireland.

I said : "God, are you going to bring a revival or a renewal to Ireland?" He answered : "No. Revival or renewal are not adequate words for what I am about to do in this country. It is going to be an outburst, an explosion, an invasion of my Spirit in the land of Ireland. All they have known for decades is civil war, terrorism, bombs, bullets, explosions, slaughters which were the works of the enemy because satan knows what an exceptional destiny I have for the Irish people, but now I come, I come with might and power, I come with glory and splendour, I come with a divine explosion."

Then the Lord led me to listen to the first song of "REVIVAL IN BELFAST" (Hosanna Music) and the sobs of the Father's heart for Ireland seized me with violence. The lyrics say :

"PUT ON THE GARMENTS OF PRAISE

FOR THE SPIRIT OF HEAVINESS

LET THE OIL OF GLADNESS FLOW DOWN

FROM YOUR THRONE."

Ireland, REJOICE! The Lord of glory is coming to you in an unprecedented explosion of his manifest presence and all of Europe will be impacted and in awe of what the God has done for you.

"When the Lord brought back the captive ones of Zion, we were like those who dream. Then our mouth was filled with laughter and our tongue with joyful shouting. Then they said among the nations, the Lord has done great things for them, the Lord has done great things for us, we are glad." (PS. 126).

May this word stir up your hearts, renew your courage and hope and enlarge your vision. We cannot fathom what God is about to do.

In his wonderful love,

Ms Dominique Francois

Trumpets Over Ireland

Chad Taylor

1/5/2000

For I saw four angels over you O Ireland with a trumpet in each of their hands.

For I say to you today that I have sent My angels to you for such a time as this. They come with a commissioning, a sending in their sound. In their trumpets.

"For if the trumpet makes an uncertain sound, who will prepare for battle?" (1st Cor. 14:8).

For in this sound is a sound of war, a sound to the battle. They have postured themselves over your borders for such a time as this says the Lord.

"Proclaim this among the nations, prepare for war! Wake up the mighty men, let all the men of war draw near, let them come up." (Joel 3:9)

I am stirring the ranks within you O Ireland to fight the good fight, to lay hold of eternal life for which you have been called. Again you will be called "The salt of the earth..." My passion and My desire will be preserved in you. Like Joseph sold by his brothers, I will preserve My desire in you. I am taking the stick of Joseph and the stick of Ephraim and I will make them one in this hour says the Lord.

You will hear the beat of My heart in this year 2000. You will march to a different drummer, no longer will you march to the rhythm of fear. But I will make you as bold as lions. I will make you the light of the whole earth. You will march to the sound of My heart says the Lord. Like John you will lay your head on the Master's breast. You will know My heart for a generation in the wilderness.

For in each of the angel's hand is a trumpet. One trumpet is inscribed the word, REPENTANCE.

I will cause the fruit of repentance to spring up amongst you. Brother that has stood against brother shall embrace as they did so long ago. You will see a harvest of reconciliation in this year 2000 says the Lord. The ancient high places will be cast down, and the desolation of many generations restored. I will do this and more says the Lord.

In another angel's hand the trumpet read RIGHTEOUSNESS.

I will show you the right and good way in this coming season. I will remove the works of the law that have held My people captive and I will show them the righteousness that is by Me. By My stripes I will set you free! I will remove the hand written ordinances that have kept you, and I will nail them to My cross of righteousness says the Lord. I will show you what it means to walk with Me says the Lord.

The third trumpet was inscribed REVIVAL.

I will sweep up your youth with the winds of an awakening. I will blow upon the dry bones of your youth and they will live. They will march into the land as My army. They will tear down the altars that their fathers built and they will establish My covenant in the land once again. A Gideon generation is upon you O Ireland. They will be as bold as lions and they will spare not, they will break out on your right hand and on your left. You will see them from afar and witness the fire of their devotion in the midnight hour. The night shall be as the noon day round about them says the Lord.

The last trumpet read, RESTORATION.

I will give back what the locust have devoured. I will give you beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning. My countenance will shine upon you, your health shall spring forth speedily. You will say to the prisoner, "RESTORE!" You will say to the widow, "RESTORE!" You will say to the orphan, "RESTORE!" You will be a repairer of the breach says the Lord.

I am blowing on the ashes of your destiny. From them shall come victory. I am breathing on the hearts of apathy. From them shall come victory. I am speaking to the hearts of your children, from them shall come revival. In this year 2000 you will see the visions and the dreams come to pass. That which you counted as loss shall be restored. That which you have forgotten shall be brought to remembrance. I will hasten it to come to pass says the Lord.

Ode to My Daughter Ireland !

In you is My destiny, The children on their beds will sing, "Now we can see! Now we can see!" For the right hand of the Lord has delivered me! The right hand of the Lord has led us through the sea!"

The widow and the orphan will dance, For the Lord has led them by His hand! They will dance and surely be glad, For they have crossed the Jordan To possess the land!

Through the wilderness they have come, The Rock that followed them was My Son! The world will see what I have done! O My daughter Ireland Come! O My daughter Ireland Come! The Spirit and the Bride say Come! The heart of the Father says Come!

Lamentations 2:19...

Three New Beginnings

Mary (Koons) Wattenford

Tonight while in prayer under one of the "sweetest anointings" I've ever experienced, the Lord showed me 3 horizontal wavy lines - that somewhat resembled a rather elongated "S." He asked me if I know what they represented, which I didn't. He then completed what they were. From the three lines - he made "THREE" elongated number "8's." He told me that these represented the following:

A series of three "New Beginnings." The first elongated eight - represents His Chosen being given "clean eyes..." These are the ones that have "gone through the FIRE and been proven..." Their eyes will see through the natural - into the spiritual. Their eyes will see and view everything.....THROUGH AND WITH "THE EYES OF FAITH."

The second elongated eight was more rounded at the top than the other two. He told me that the "rounded" part represents "believers," while the extended bottom of the eight represented the "unbelievers," who have taken the "longer route." The Lord also said that these are the ones who will be thrown into "total confusion," by what has happened to those who "eyes have been cleaned..." and now KNOW that somehow they have "missed" something very important. These unbelievers will WANT what the believers have! Many of them, after they have recovered from their initial "shock," of what God has done, will begin to ask questions, and begin to genuinely seek the Lord.

The last eight - represents "REVIVAL" on a worldwide, massive scale, as a result of the first two "8's..."

These "New Beginnings..." will usher in all those things that His Chosen have been proclaiming and expounding on for many, many months - some even years. There being "three" number eights represents the unity of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit in this being accomplished. I was told that the FIRST "new beginning..." will happen SUDDENLY..... and for some - without warning. But as the hunger within us as been growing to see this move of God, He has prepared "fertile ground" for this to occur.

Later while meditating on this - I received the impression that each one of these three "New Beginnings," would have a time span of approximately one year.

And the Lord is saying:

There will come a time will you will see through the EYES OF THE SPIRIT - instead of the EYES OF THE FLESH. Eyes - that will see "farther," "look deeper," and "not be flawed by human reasonings or logic." These are the eyes of "MY EAGLES..." Can not an eagle spot prey from a great height as he soars? The prey that My own will seek is the lost, the hurting, the broken and the fallen.

Don't expect this to take a good deal of time for each step will consecutively follow the other... and all will be accomplished at My good pleasure. Don't expect this to be a case where "all" will understand why I have used some and not others. For the ones who MANY EXPECT to be placed in positions of authority at this time, will find they were VERY wrong. Far too many of My children look to "men," of "assumed" stature, rather than realizing that I - and I alone am to be glorified!

I choose the humble, the lowly the meek to be My "fishers of men..." For a "man of stature" considers himself as too "important" to enter into the water by the boat I have provided to get to the other side. These "attempt" to "walk on water," by their own power - and when the storm arises they flounder and sink! My own know to WAIT until I say to them, as I said unto Peter, "COME!" then keeping their eyes on Me, they DO step out of the boat and "walk on water..." and great signs and wonders will follow them as they take "those first steps IN FAITH!"

When I come into My Temple such will be the desire of those who I have called to join me. They will fall at My feet in awe and adoration of My Majesty, revere My Holy Name, and place nothing and no one above it! THIS IS THE HERITAGE OF MY TRUE SAINTS.... that they will share in My inheritance and be "ONE" with Me, even as I and the Father are "ONE!" How beloved are the feet of those who PREACH the Gospel of "MY GOOD NEWS!" and are NOT deterred by "the adoration of man," or "teach the doctrines of demons and men!" Who YEARN AND SEEK FOR the "PURITY" of My Word to come forth in their own lives! Who desire to walk in My holiness, to bring forth My righteousness in their lives! These are the "blessed ones....." the ones who heritage is ASSURED IN MY KINGDOM!

BLESSED ARE YOU WHO MOURN - FOR YOU SHALL BE COMFORTED! Be comforted My children, for your "DAYS OF MOURNING" are at an end! Throw off the grave clothes you have enshrouded yourself in - and PUT ON THE ROBES OF RIGHTEOUSNESS I HAVE GIVEN YOU, YOUR BRIDAL ATTIRE FOR THE FEAST - SING AND DANCE and "SHOUT FOR JOY!" For YOUR KING is coming into HIS TEMPLE and YOU WILL SEE HIS GLORY.... and HIS MIGHTY HAND moving to "right those wrong" situations in your lives!

For blessed YOU ARE - "OH YOU BLESSED OF MY FATHER!"

For Grace And Mercy Starla

PRAYING WITH THE LORD TODAY--FOR GRACE AND MERCY --- Intercessions with Starla

From: Rabbitale@aol.com

November 7th

(I awoke early this morning to the movement of a strong wind outdoors.)

This morning I am really feeling moved to pray for an outpouring of GRACE upon men and women. I am feeling it for the nation in general. It is an intercessory cry for mercy. The following Scriptural phrase is come to me: "For the Grace of God has been made apparent to all people." I don't know where it is from...the call to prayer is that the grace of God will be made apparent to all.

I am also sensing a need to pray for grace in families. For children to understand grace. And, too, for grace to replace shame: to uproot it, supplant it in the lives of individuals.

This is a general call but very strong. I have felt it for maybe 20 or more minutes now, but it has not let up .I want to go into the Word and look up the verses about grace....

There needs to be a grace awakening within the Body of Christ. We have not yet tapped the depths of grace. We know so little about applying grace. We understand so little of its power, its ways. I am crying now. I want to know this!

Early this morning, before 6 a.m., when I first awoke, I was thinking on the Personality of God that He could do such awesome things in the hearts of hard men and women. I had a flash vision of the nature of humankind (unregenerate) and with it came a horrible smell of something rotting. I wondered that God would even find something to restore in us. I began to marvel at such GRACE that could restore us!... Who is this Divine Person, that He could do such a thing? Surely the power does not lie in the value or properties of the thing restored!...

I am weeping now. Weeping because our hearts have been so hard that we have declared the hardest hearts reprobate and unrenowable. We have not prayed for those hard cases with believing hearts and the Lord is displeased with us! It is not for their sins that their hearts are unrenowable—it has been for the hardness of our own hearts, for the dimness of our own eyes, for the limitations of our own minds. ...

I'm in travail now.... The Lord would have us pray now for grace to pray for those hardened judges and magistrates and persons in places of authority as if their hearts were baby-soft and easily permeable to the matchless graces of Jesus Christ!!

And I say, Yes, Lord! Yes, you may have Your way with them and with us. I confess, Lord, that I, that we, YOUR BODY, have not taken seriously our work to pray for them. We have not prayed for the unregenerate masses that line our streets, flank our neighborhoods, wait in line with us at the local grocers. I have prayed for Africa, I have prayed for Asia, but have I prayed for America?

...We have not yet begun to release the grace of Christ! There are unreleased vials, aqueducts full, of the grace of Christ which have yet to be delivered, but I see these as on the conveyer belt of time. They are passing us by, unused, because they remain yet stoppered, unopened by the Church of God! ...Seasons and eras when the grace of Christ would have changed the course of history had they been released. I am weeping now as I write.

UNLEASH! UNSTOP! THE WALLS OF GRACE, THE DAM OF GRACE—LET IT FLOW!

I feel the Lord's tender mercy and His Hand upon me. I will, Starla, I will. You have but to ask. Ask and it shall be given you. (There is no describing the way this marvelous promise hits me.) A series of continuous cries has gone out from me like a human shofar.

AS IN THE DAYS OF NOAH...

The Lord wants to do something for us IN GRACE as he did in the days of the Flood. He is asking me to release the FOUNTAINS OF THE DEEP and the STOREHOUSES OF HEAVEN. Singing in the Spirit, the sound of a shofar—clear and high. I am turned to the North, the East, the South, and the West. I hear in the ears of my spirit the crash of the walls as in the walls of Jericho, the walls of the DAM OF SALVATION! So tiny, so small, so seemingly useless to the whole of this great plan—why am I allowed to witness this?

It is a symbol (I am yet weeping!) of the whole way of God's grace to all of mankind. That we should experience any of all that He ALONE has done, is itself great, disproportionate GRACE!!!

I just got down on my knees and had to sing, "How Great That Thou Art!" at the top of my lungs.

WOW! I am so humbled, but so, so grateful. LORD GOD, Almighty Creator, create in my heart place for the bigness of Your love! Make me an instrument of Your grace to this languishing planet. Consume me with this new baptism of GRACE and set Your Body aflame with the Truth of it! Purge from us the forms and doctrines and personal opinions/dogmas that war against it. Make us new wineskins for I sense so much that in answer to our prayers You have released something magnificent onto this earth. Give us wineskins that will hold the wine! For Jesus' sake! AMEN.

Four Questions

Steve Holmes

From time to time, I receive things from the Lord that are very hard and He wants them passed along now. At this time I submit a few questions that I have been asked directly by Him:

1.) In October 1998, I was show a dream in which I was an intern, fresh out of medical school. I had just entered the hospital emergency ward to find a woman lying on a gurney who had failed in an attempted to give herself an abortion. The child was still alive, attached by the umbilical chord, but being ignored by its mother and everyone else. While looking at the saddest face I have ever seen, I could "hear" this little dying infant asking two questions: Why isn't someone trying to help me? Why doesn't someone love me? The first thought that went through my mind was that someone should put this poor child out of its misery. Then the horror of my own numbness hit me and I ran to find help. A nurse stopped me and angrily said, "what you saw is none of your business, that is her right! If you intend to work in the medical profession, shut up and don't interfere again or I'll see to it that you never finish your internship." She picked up this dying infant and put it down behind the woman where nobody would be able to watch it die. I was immediately awakened by the Lord and He asked me, "Who is going to answer for the shed blood of 35 million innocent children in your nation?" I fear the death count now probably exceeds 40 million.

I spent years arguing with THE ALMIGHTY ONE trying to convince Him that the United States of America isn't referred to directly in His word. He had repeatedly told me that Revelation chapter 18 directly addresses this nation. I read it again and again, and finally I used Verse 24 as my final argument. "Lord, we have never had wholesale killing of saints and prophets in this nation! Revelation 18 cannot possibly be about the United States." His answer was to the point: "Oh no? Check your abortion clinics."

2) October 30, 2000 I was called into prayer and was asked the following question: "Why is it in your nation that you spend more time in the two weeks preceding Halloween teaching your children to worship Satan than you spend in an entire year teaching them to worship me? That is not enough time to prepare them to spend eternity in my presence."

3) In broken hearted desperation, I told the Lord a few hours before my 12 year old niece died that I was available to him to be used any way he wanted. "You can use me to heal her, minister to her, even to raise her from the dead if you want." He said this: "I've already given you the power to raise the dead. What I want to know is this: Will you submit it to ME?" We buried her 5 days later.

4) I recently asked the Lord, "who is the prophet to the United States?" He said, "Jeremiah." He also let me know that Jeremiah isn't the only one. His word is filled with judgements against this rebellious nation, penned by many. Yes, he is also raising up prophets at this time also, but they better line up with His word! His word is spiritually discerned, and without His illumination, we will have nothing but more useless opinions and conjecture, or if you will, doctrines of demons and traditions of men. We must have full restoration of the five fold ministry, and that is going to happen, GOD'S WAY, and in GOD'S TIME. Unfortunately, most will not hear them: The end will not come until there be a great falling away.

For The Children

Catherine Brown

WORD FOR THE CHILDREN AND YOUNG PEOPLE OF SCOTLAND AND THE NATIONS OF THE EARTH

Dear Steve This is the second word that I felt quickened to share with you. It was given during a time of fasting in November of 1999, and I recorded the vision and prayer time/prophecy on audio tape. It was specifically for the children and young people of Scotland, but it is also very relevant to young people world-wide. We are planning a nation-wide tour of Scotland from 7-13 April 2000, where we believe the Holy Spirit will pour out His Presence and Power through the ministry of our young people, who are being joined by a team of praying youngsters from Australia. The Tour is called "Take the Land" and children and young people will lead all of the meetings.

TAKE THE LAND VISION, PROPHECY, PRAYER 7.11.99

THE VISION

I was shown a huge mountain with many levels on it, and I saw that lots of children and young people were gathering around its base. The gathering was quickly expanding and there appeared to be no access point for the children to move from the base onto the higher levels of the mountain. I sensed a growing restlessness among the young people, who looked at the mountain with such intense desire to climb into the higher purposes of God.

On the mountain itself stood many adults, all of whom were busily engaged in speaking to each other, but were totally oblivious to the huge number of children that were appearing at the base of the mountain. While the adults were busy with each other, some of the children fixed their eyes on the top of the mountain and began to climb. The cliff face was extremely sheer and dangerous, but they set their faces like flint and looked towards Jesus. Their hands were torn on the rock face as they sought clefts, but in tenderness, I saw the Lord illumine the places in the rock where they could place their feet and hands. The Lord was with His children. The adults had become a stumbling block to the little ones on the mountain, and I felt the Father's wrath at the condition of the mountain, which represented His Church.

A SHAKING ON THE MOUNTAIN AND TREMORS ON THE EARTH

The Father sent a shaking on the mountain and in tremors on the earth, and the angels were released and began circuiting the mountain. The young people were hidden in the Glory, assisted by the angelic host. Just as Moses was hidden in the rock, so were these children and young people who had been holding on for dear life to the cliff face. As the Glory of God passed by, their faces were transformed with the radiance of Christ.

In the shaking some of the adults were taken off the mountain, and these represented adults who would not acknowledge the place children and young people have within the army of God. The Spirit impinged those adults who remained on the mountain and they fell to their faces, in deep repentance for their part in holding back the little ones. The Spirit worked a deep and mighty work of repentance and restoration and I heard Him speak:

PROPHECY

"I will return the hearts of the fathers to the children and the hearts of the children to the Father, and on this mountain I will bring a shaking and I will remove every obstacle from the footpaths of My children. See, I will create a Way, a clear way for My children to climb, to walk into the higher purposes that I have for them.

For I am raising up my Enoch's, from amongst the smallest and the weakest I am preparing My Joshua's to take the land, My Joshua's to take the land, and they shall break forth clad in the mighty array of My Holiness, and they shall be clad experientially in My Righteousness, and they shall gird themselves around with the purity of My Truth, and they shall carry aloft shields of faith that are no longer withheld from them, for they shall be uplifted by the prayers of the saints and they shall raise heavenward the Sword of the Spirit as the anointing is released among them.

A MIGHTY ARMY

And they shall march forth a mighty army, and their war cry shall echo throughout heaven and earth as they are released into their destiny. And I shall shake this mountain, says the Lord, and release faith to My children and the immovable misconceptions of your mind will melt away, they will melt away as My Glory is released; they will melt away as the adults come in humility before Me. Yes, I will bring restoration, says the Lord, to this land where broken relationships have severed divine connections that I have prepared since eternity.

But see I am sending those from outwith your nation, I will use those within your nation and I am sending you envoys from the nations of the earth who will stand with you in this day and you will gird yourself up with My Truth and you will release a mighty army in this land.

THE CHILDREN WILL CARRY THE ANOINTING

The children shall carry the anointing, the children will carry the anointing and that which is immovable shall be shaken, that which is not of Me will be removed. This is a new day; this is a new day. My Enoch's and My Joshua's shall take the land and they will know an intimacy with Me and they shall know a holiness that has hidden from My people for many decades, a holiness and a purity but they shall not be alone, for without the undergirding of your faith, without your release, they are held in prisons, they are held and bound, their hands are bound by the false boundaries My Church has placed upon them. I will tolerate this for no longer. No longer, says the Lord, will My children be held captive, it is time for My children to be released into their kingdom destinies and to march forward and to take this land for My Name." Amen

A TOOL TO BRING DOWN THE WALLS

This word was given, I believe, primarily as a tool to bring down the walls of division between the generations and to bring restoration, release, forgiveness and wholeness to the whole Body.

I have a personal mandate for repentance towards the younger generation from the older and the Lord has spoken to me of being a bridge between the younger and the older generations. While there is a place for the older generation to repent to the younger generation for not releasing them, for being condescending, for rejecting and ignoring them etc. there is, of course, a place for the younger generation to respond and to repent to the older generation for their part in walking in rebellion and for not wanting to accept the mantle of their forefathers.

My heart aches to see the dividing walls come down between the generations, for repentance, reconciliation and restoration - for it is the WHOLE Church, to the WHOLE world, with the WHOLE gospel! We need their youth and vitality and their zeal and energy and passion; they need our wisdom and experience and our faith and our discernment. They need spiritual mothers and fathers who will come alongside them and bless them and release them, nurture them, and pray for impartation and anointing and they need our counsel. With these things in mind, this was my prayer that followed the prophecy, it is with all of my heart that I pray other adults will join me in praying for the dividing walls to come down.

PRAYER OF REPENTANCE

". . . I realise afresh our sin, as I realise once more my own part in all this - not only with my own children, but also with the children of Scotland. I bless you Father, that you will not be confined by our human misconceptions. I bless you Lord, for the season of Grace that has been upon the church. I bless you for your patience Lord, with a hard-hearted people who pay lip service to children. Thank you for the revelation that is coming, indeed, that is upon your Church in this nation - that children hold equal status in Your Kingdom. And I thank you Lord, that you are going to make that a reality to so many more.

I thank you that we are in strategic times and that things are changing and that you have prepared apostles, prophets, teachers, evangelists, miracle workers, administrators. There are awesome seeds of the five-fold ministry that you have already planted deep within the hearts of many, many children and young people, and I thank you Lord, that children as young as 3 and 4 are going to be used again in this revival and they are going to speak forth your anointed Truth and we are going to see children and young people move in this revival under a mighty, mighty anointing. They will go forth with the Great Commission and they shall preach the Kingdom of God, they shall have prophetic revelation and they will be imparted with a power to cast out demons, in Your name Lord, they will be empowered to heal the sick, they will be empowered to raise the dead, for they have equal status in your Kingdom.

(Deep travail) Oh Lord Jesus, forgive us. Forgive us for our complacency and apathy and our downright denial of the rights of the children. Forgive us for sectioning them off, forgive us for babysitting them. Forgive us for denying their validity as children of the Most High, for there is no junior version of your Holy Spirit. Forgive us for the shackles we have placed upon them, and forgive us for doubting you Father.

Forgive us for the sin of denying Jesus in them. Forgive us for the sin of withholding the fullness of Your Spirit from them through our disbelief. Spirit of God we ask that you come with a mighty axe and slay the monster of disbelief in your people. We give you permission to come Holy Spirit and to winnow and to cleanse us of our misconceptions. And we choose to walk in the Truth, and to stand with our young people and to release them Lord into your higher purpose, to the Great Commission and to the callings you have placed before them. Thank you for your Grace and your Mercy Lord that covers our inadequacies. We accept forgiveness and we want to be used to release this army of young people. For you have ordained your praise on the lips of children and infants because of the enemy and in order to silence the foe and the avenger, and we break the silence over our young people, we break the spirit of death over our young people and we release and impart your Life.

We release them to be mighty vessels of your reconciliation and your restoration. To be the five-fold ministry of revival and we receive, in faith, Lord that you are calling out our young people for your great glory, Lord Jesus.

Come Holy Spirit, come. Come, Holy Spirit, come. Fall upon your people; fall upon your children. Lord they have been humbled and you are promising to exalt them, for that is what you say in your Word (Humble yourself before the Lord and He will lift you up Jas 4:10)

Exalt them Lord, as we exalt Your Name to the highest place, for you are truly the King of Kings and the Lord of Lord, and we declare Your Glory over our nations and we speak release to our young people this day in the name and the authority of Jesus Christ, they shall move forward with a new revelation of the Blood of Calvary, yes, Lord, the Blood of Calvary. We release them Lord, to you in Jesus mighty name - THE SONS AND THE DAUGHTERS OF SCOTLAND - COME FORTH, ARISE A MIGHTY ARMY! COME FORTH, ARISE A MIGHTY ARMY. In the name of Jesus. Amen.

A Message to the Five Wise Virgins

Becky McLendon

This is a message I received following a most powerful dream concerning my being LEFT on a pier while the ship I had been waiting for pulled away ..leaving me in darkness. Why? Because I was so busy trying to get everyone else "ready" for the ship by PACKING their baggage and trying to juggle my own baggage I missed the boat when it arrived. After calling frantically to the captain of the ship, I realized HE WAS NOT LOOKING BACK.

Anyway here is what I feel the Lord is saying to the 5 WISE virgins.

"I am speaking to you as to the five wise virgins. Once you were with your sisters, all slumbering, but I awakened your spirit and you rose up to prepare your lamps and be ready for me. You have faithfully tried to muster up the others to get ready, but they lie upon their couches of comfort. And this was rightly so that you began to muster, stir and exhort them. But I am saying to you that a warning blast has been sounded and, LO the Bridegroom cometh. The time draws nigh when the foolish virgins will not be able to continue depending on your trying to keep them mustered up and ready.

"I say to you hear the warning. Soon you will no longer be able to spend your energy and time keeping them in a state of readiness. They have grown lazy and content to lie on couches of comfort and slumber while you intercede for them, study for them, exhort them, encourage them, and feed them from My word. I say to you the time comes when you will cease TRYING to pack their bags, and cease TRYING to pack your OWN bags. For I say BE NOT WEIGHTED DOWN with any encumbrance, carry not their burdens for them to this place. Carry not even those things that burden you about yourself. UNLOAD THE BAGGAGE, walk in compassion YES , walk in mercy YES, walk in love, YES, but WALK UNATTACHED...FREE of emotional ties, physical ties, commitments that are NOT MY PLAN FOR YOU. Your commitment is to DROP EVERYTHING and love Me in this hour, and be about doing My bidding.

For soon, I say soon, you will hear the call, 'Behold the Bridegroom': You must BE there and properly dressed in My righteousness when that call goes forth OR be left behind, consigned to outer darkness. This is a time for PERSONAL preparation. PERSONAL communication with Me. PERSONAL obedience to what I have spoken to you PERSONALLY. This is a time of My dealing with YOU PERSONALLY, and your responding to me PERSONALLY. For, though you are a body, I call INDIVIDUALS unto Me. Only YOU can become My Bride. Others cannot do it for you. Your pastor cannot do it for you, in the end. The prophets cannot do it for you. They can only GUIDE you, and that is only second to My Spirit. Your MEAT is to do MY will. You are to hear and do every word that proceeds from the mouth of the Father.

You have an anointing. Walk in it. Be not dis - MANTLE - d by the varied attempts of the enemy to strip you, take you down, and put you away so that your light cannot shine. Hold fast to what I have given you. Be not dis - TRACK - ted, thrown off My path for you, by those who do not understand your relationship with Me, and will do anything to pull you out of that personal relationship with Me. Jealousy, offense, competition, strife, and ambition are to be NO part of your walk with ME. Backbiting, gossip, idle talk, coarse jesting, careless deeds are to be no part of your walk with Me.

Your every breath; your every deed, your every action is to confess JESUS IS LORD. You will no longer say "I". YOU are not KING...I AM!!!! Remember, I say I AM and there is no other God before Me.

Put these things in remembrance, and be ready when I appear at My coming!!! For LO the Bridegroom cometh."

AMEN and AMEN.

Nine Months Of Testing

Chuck Pierce

October 19, 2000

The Lord would say to us. This is a time, nine months of testing will now be upon My prophets saith the Lord. And, I say do not despise this testing. For this testing will produce an enlargement.

And, I say to you this 9 months of testing will not only create enlargement. But, it will bring to birth that which I want to present to this world for the future. So, I say the 9 months of testing is now beginning. But, birth will come.

And, as birth comes mid July to the end of July, I say you will begin to be sent forth as the reformers of lands saith the Lord.

I say to you the water level is now rising. I say get ready for you are about to be thrust in over your head. But, I would say to you I'm going to send you to lands.

And, as I send you to these lands you will prophesy into the agricultural systems all over this earth saith the Lord. Not only will you prophesy to agricultural states but, I say you will now prophesy into medical reforms. For I say the prophets will be consulted over how to bring about medical breakthrough.

I say to you I am shifting you this day and reforming you. For lands will change and, the medical environment of this world will change. I say also I am beginning to create a synergistic wave that is about to hit you, knock you upward and lift you up and, bring you into new places saith the Lord. Some of you even now I'm going to start putting within your heart nations. And, those nations will begin to open up. I say the prophetic release is about to create a missionary sending force that will change nations. And, I would also say to you this reform that is coming is about to create one new man. For it has been my heart from the beginning to have one new man. So, I say you will prophesy into my Jewish covenant people. And, it will begin to blend them and realign them. And, the wall that has been up between Jews and Gentiles, My prophets are about to tear down saith the Lord. And, I would say to you this is the day of restoring My tabernacle.

But, not only will it come through praise, worship and prayer; but, I say now the prophets will wear a new warfare mantle. And, as they war restoration will overtake the earth saith the Lord." ---

This word had a powerful impact on those gathered at the conference. I hope that it blesses you as well.

A Word to True WorshipersJulie Baxter

This I say to the people who call themselves by my name. Do not do as your fathers in the faith have done. Do not even imitate your brothers and sisters in the faith. Your part is to do as I have told you, to obey me, not to camp at some other tribe's doorstep emulating what I have given them to do. Your part is to obey my word, all, my word, and not to choose the part that satisfies your flesh the most.

For yea I say unto you, to be alone with me truly will satisfy your flesh. You shudder at this and say "oh no, Lord, I only want to be with you." But, beloved, you do not see clearly. I see that if you take the time to be only with me there is nothing else that will draw you. Your homes will remain a poor testimony with work undone. Your employers will have grounds to mock your faith for your poor testimony. The needy in your community will remain unfed, unclothed, and unvisited. Yea, that which you seek is the same as Peter sought, and I rebuked him.

You may ask, "Then how can I have time worship you? There is so much to be done?" I say unto you, do all things in moderation, lean not unto your own understanding, allow me to direct your paths, for the footsteps of a righteous man are ordered of the Lord.

You say, "But, Lord, others are finding great strengths in worship." Yea, I know. I am leading them. I will also lead them from worship to getting their hands dirty in my service. Sometimes it takes long periods in my presence to get people ready to obey all I have given them to do.

I want my testament, both the old and new covenant, to be your gospel. Many say they are full-gospel people, but are not. Do not do as they have done, choosing only the part you like or camping in one area when I anoint it. No, I say unto you, the people who make up my Bride care about what I care about. I care most deeply about the souls I died to save. I know I am a wonderful counselor, everlasting Father, prince of peace, and a mighty God. It is not for me that I ask you to worship me. It is not so that I may hear how wonderful I am. It is because I inhabit the praises of my people, for my people are my dwelling place. It is because I have commanded you, my chosen generation, my royal priest hood, and my holy nation, to show forth my praises to your generations.

How can you show forth my praises if you accomplish nothing praiseworthy to the unbeliever? They already think Christians are useless. Do not prove them so by disobeying my commandments, to do what you think and feel is right.

Yea, I say the answer to your question is that which no other generation has fully grasped. You are a peculiar people who can both worship and praise me while you are tending my sheep. It is a mature Bride who can take care of the effects of the household of her Master, while she is fully loving and praising Him. I have called you to maturity. I have not called you to imbalance, or to neglect the whole counsel of your God.

Go your way, singing the songs of the Bride and the Groom, songs of praise, thanksgiving, deliverance and victory. Have your heart always set on listening for my voice, listening carefully to what I will tell you to do. I will have you choose the better part as well. That which distinguished Mary from Martha was not what she did, it was who she was at that moment, a listener.

I hear you, and I want you to be listening to me. Listen and obey, for your obedience to all my requests are the mark that you care more for me than yourself. The worship I want is from your singing heart as you do what I tell you to do, loving me with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your strength, and with all your mind; and your neighbor as yourself.

A 'Five Fold' Church

Robert Holmes

The Davidic church met five different ways

There has been a lot of discussion as to whether the Lord is going to leave the church (destroy her or abandon her) and move out onto the streets. Some say God is going to divide and conquer. Others use the analogy of Babylon and say we are headed for captivity (others still say we are about to come out of captivity!).

Some propose cell church as the only viable model, another book I read tells me to stop putting chairs in rows as it stops the Holy Spirit moving... Some in the house church movement rail against the established church, those in the church building rail against the conference goers, those outside the church rail against the house churchers and many remain isolated. A friends of mine even recently coined the phrase 'internet Christian' to collectively describe the group of people whose only church is online.

As I considered this topic, prayed and talked over it with friends, it seemed a revelation came to me. I believe God is doing a new thing in the earth. Yes He is bringing new wine that demands a new wine skin. But... I also feel that some are rushing to extreme conclusions about what God is doing.

I read a book recently saying that God's new wine skin was 'a new way to meet'. This book proposed putting the seats in a triangle instead of lines, not using overheads or song sheets and many other such 'strategies' to break up the 'way we meet'. I think the author missed the point about new wine skins. God is not looking for a new format, he is creating a new paradigm. He can, and in fact will, bless almost anything that is focused toward Him.

As I have said many times these last few months, "It is not the method, not the mode, not the manifestation nor even the miracle God is after - it is the motivation. When the motivation is right, He will be present to bless"

Diversity allowed

Whilst talking with a friend in the USA this year it dropped into my spirit so clearly. He presented a seven fold model for the ways people met with God in the Bible - not one form over another, but several ways to meet with God. As he spoke I believe the Lord gave me a revelation on it - five ways to meet. God is not necessarily going to use one 'form' over another but will encourage all forms and types and ways of meeting.

I would liken it, in a parabolic way, to communication. I hear God directly for myself, but I also hear him through nature speaking, through my spouse, through my friends, the preached word, a prophecy given me and through reading the word. I do not limit hearing God down to 'directly' and nor do I solely rely upon reading the word.

If I restrict 'church' or fellowship down to one form - say street meetings over all other forms - then I cut myself off from the fullness and richness of God found in fellowship. What is coming, I believe, is the restoration of David's tabernacle. What does that mean? It means meeting God the way David met with God.

Approaching the topic

I believe Scripture contains seven or eight (perhaps more) ways of fellowship or 'church'. I believe we need to partake of all of them to come into the new things God is birthing. Let me condense them down to just five:

1. Meeting direct: one on one with God
2. Meeting in the family: just your relatives
3. Meeting in the cave: smaller 'cell' groups
4. Meeting on the run: mobile and flexible
5. Meeting in the temple: in a building

David was described as a man after God's own heart. We find in him a microcosm of patterns contained in the rest of Scripture, and thus also in the very heart of God. David found fellowship with God in the full richness of diversity. Let's look at them one at a time.

Meeting direct

David spent many hours, many lonely hours tending sheep on the back side of the desert. "I am like a desert owl, like an owl among the ruins. I lie awake; I have become like a bird alone on a roof" (Psalm 102:6,7). David knew what it was to be alone with God. He was out there when Samuel called for him to be anointed as king in his father's house.

Jesus said "My sheep hear My voice" and he meant that we all have direct access to the throne of God. We are adopted children and our Father desires personal relationship. You might also look to Adam in the cool of the evening, Moses seeing God face to face or Enoch walking with God as examples of this.

We are all called to have fellowship with God directly, for ourselves. We are called into intimacy with him in isolation, by taking a retreat, by removing ourselves to the mountainside to pray or by coming away with him in the privacy of the prayer closet.

Meeting in the family

David knew what it was to worship and have fellowship with God in the midst of his home. In the intimacy of his household he would meet with God. David knew God saw him in the context of his family, God made promises to him about his family and God had sweet fellowship with David in the midst of his family, "Who am I, O Sovereign LORD, and what is my family, that you have brought me this far? And as if this were not enough in your sight, O Sovereign LORD, you have also spoken about the future of the house of your servant" (2 Sam 7:18:19).

The life of the early explorers and fathers of Israel was transient. Much of their life was spent in tents - the meeting place and abode of the family. In many respects the life found in the home reflects the life we take out into the world. In a bad sense we find the heart of the people raging against God in the tents (Deut 1:27) and God heard them! "Rejoice, Zebulun, in your going out, and you, Issachar, in your tents" (Deut 33:18). You might also look to Noah's family in the flood, Abraham's family in the wilderness or God bringing the family of Joseph back together as examples of this.

God desires that we have fellowship with him in the context of a family. He desires family worship times, family meals, family fellowship and discussion. He desires to set the widow and the orphan in families (Psalm 68:6). I would have to say that meeting in the family is predicated by meeting God one on one - or having first a personal relationship with God.

Meeting in the cave

David spent quite a bit of his time in caves, holes and towers with his men. The cave provides an intimate time of fellowship beyond the extended family but not as large, structured or formal as the tabernacle or temple. He met with his men in Adullam "David left Gath and escaped to the cave of Adullam. When his brothers and his father's household heard about it, they went down to him there. All those who were in distress or in debt or discontented gathered around him" (1 Sam 22:1,2).

This gives us a good principle, the cave or larger cell meeting is based firstly upon the gathering of the family. We might look to the gatherings of the clans in the wilderness, or of the city wide house meetings in Nehemiah's time or indeed of the New Testament practice of meeting from house to house.

Jesus held meetings in the house of the Pharisee (Luke 14:1), a tax collector, Simon's house (Luke 7:44), the house of a disciple's mother and in his home in Capernaum (Mark 2:1-3). Jesus believed in house meeting too folks! And very often they were the households or family homes of those he was close to.

Meeting on the run

David was often on the move. He was often in the midst of his band of men, marching toward war, coming home from exploits, running from Saul or taking them to a new home. It was out on the road, out in the street that David came to understand the concept of tabernacle. He set up the temporary sanctuary - a tabernacle - upon Mount Zion and established it as a place of worship. "He chose the tribe of Judah, Mount Zion, which he loved. He built his sanctuary like the heights, like the earth that he established forever. He chose David..." (Psalm 78:68-70).

Meeting in a mobile tabernacle was something started by Moses, and copied in Shiloh, Ramah and Bethel. Having a temporary place or worship was something copied also in the New Testament. It was necessary to meet in the underground bakery houses, the jails, the portico and other places out in the market place. One might include in this context, the offering of sacrifice on the high places, "Solomon showed his love for the LORD by walking according to the statutes of his father David, except that he offered sacrifices and burned incense on the high places" (1 Kings 3:3).

God is calling us to have fellowship out on the streets, in the pubs and clubs, in the jails and dens and out in the marketplaces having face to face with the world. On the run, on the plane, in the bus or car we are to worship him and find fellowship.

Meeting in the temple

David had in his heart a blue print. He had a God given desire to see God's house built. We know that Solomon was finally the one to start the work, so in a literal sense David never did get to have his temple, but God expressed his desire in a blue print very clearly. It was to be a house of grandeur, splendour and majesty. It was to reflect the King of kings. Solomon covered the entire inside with Gold (1 Kings 6:21).

God asked Isaiah, "Heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool. Where is the house you will build for me? Where will my resting place be?" (Isa 66:1) and he gave a vision to Ezekiel of the mighty temple of God.

Of course we know that in the New Testament God desired and planned to make his dwelling place in the heart of men (John 14:23). We are the living stones of the temple that God is making (1 Pet 2:5). Jesus went to temple (John 10:23) and we find the new Christians meeting in the temple of Solomon still (Acts 5:12 and 22:17). Going to a building is a valid expression of worship and fellowship with God and should not be discounted.

Conclusion

We err in choosing one form of meeting over another. We err, railing against meeting in buildings, or proposing only street meetings. God has shown in Scripture a wide diversity of form and place and indeed I think he desires we partake of the full breadth of meetings. David knew God in private, in his home, in the cave, in the tabernacle and in the temple. We also should know God one on one, in our families, in house meetings, in street meetings and yes even in buildings.

Awake and Prepare

Carylann Hartley

Awake all you who would slumber or sleep. Now is the time for action. It is a time of preparation. There is much to be done before the harvest and the harvest must come before I return for you, My Bride.

How can you go work in My fields when you are still in your night clothes, as some are. You have been letting others do the work of studying My Word and praying, expecting the, to tell you all you need to know. Yes, I will give the pastors and leaders words to teach you and their prayers for you touch My heart, but MY heart desires for you to come to Me and to pray and study My Word so you can know Me personally.

Until you really know Me you are not able to work in My fields fully, to bring in the harvest. Unless you learn more of Me and My ways and desires you will only be able to do part of what I'm calling you to do. I have a work for each of you whether young or old but you will not understand what it is or how to do it without the preparation I am doing in each of you. The time is short and the harvest is ripe. Let Me show you what field I want you to work in and how. Learn to listen and hear My voice even when it is just a whisper, then call on the Holy Spirit to help you to carry out the directions I will give to you. Not all are willing to go work. Some are content to just stay close to Me. I desire you to stay close to Me and to eat from the Banquet Table I put before you but I also desire that you work in the Harvest. Learn to know when it is time to do each one. If you do not go out to work someone else will try to do your work and it puts a burden on them that I do not desire. "My yoke is easy and My burden is light." (Matt.11:30)

I will not ask you to do anything I have not prepared you for. Give Me your fears and your frustrations. Put your trust in Me, not in yourself, for I am able to do much more in your life than you can even imagine. Yield yourself totally to Me. Let Me teach you. Let Me guide you. I will show you what your part of the harvest is. Not all have the same work. Some will be asked to work in areas throughout the world while others will be asked to only go as far as their neighborhood and family. Do not think that one is greater than the other or that your part is not important. For it is just as important to go next door as it is to go to another country or around the world. If you do not listen closely to Me you will not know what field I have called you to work in. Some of you are trying to work in fields I have not called you to. Others are trying to work in fields that I have called you to but these fields are not completely ripe yet. Not all the fields are ripe for the harvest yet. Others are not wanting to work at all. There will more than one field that I will ask many of you to work in. Do this only as I direct, not when or where you think you need to be or in ways other than how I will show you. Continue to water the fields until I tell you to stop. Then I will send My wind across these fields to dry them out so they can be harvested. My wind is already starting to blow on many of these.

When the time of harvest is right and you have prepared by spending time in My presence and My Word then you will have the strength and power to bring in the harvest. Then it will not be a chore but pleasant, fulfilling, enjoyable work. Come, come and learn from Me. I have much to teach you and the time is short. Study My Word and let the Holy Spirit teach you. Sit at My feet, pray and meditate but above all learn to know My voice. Listen, listen closely for there will be many voices trying to speak to you telling you to do this or that or to go here or there. Do not listen to them or obey them but rather turn from them to Me. I will speak and guide you with a still small voice in your heart. Listen, listen closely. I will direct your path as much as you allow Me too. Watch, watch for the signs to go into the harvest field. I will tell you what these signs will be and tell you when the time is right to water, to stop watering and let My wind blow, and then to go and harvest. Prepare now while there is time. Prepare that you not be caught sleeping.

End Time Prophetic Vision

A Burning Bush

Bobby Conner

In a prophetic experience, I was carried high into the heavens. Looking back down I could see the earth. A strong beacon of light was pulsating.

I asked, "Lord, what is this light?" And I was shown that the light was shining forth from Texas.

Then the Lord said, "If the Church will pray, I will speak again through a burning "Bush"!"

Could it be that the Lord desires George W. Bush to be elected President of the United States? Could it be that God will use him to replace much of what has been removed from our nation?

Bobby Conner

From George W. Bush when asked about his religious faith:

"Actually, the seeds of my decision had been planted the year before, by the Reverend Billy Graham. He visited my family for a summer weekend in Maine. I saw him preach at the small summer church, St. Ann's by the Sea. We all had lunch on the patio overlooking the ocean.

One evening my dad asked Billy to answer questions from a big group of family gathered for the weekend. He sat by the fire and talked. And what he said sparked a change in my heart.

I don't remember the exact words. It was more the power of his example. The Lord was so clearly reflected in his gentle and loving demeanor. The next day we walked and talked at Walker's Point, and I knew I was in the presence of a great man. He was like a magnet; I felt drawn to seek something different. He didn't lecture or admonish; he shared warmth and concern. Billy Graham didn't make you feel guilty; he made you feel loved.

Over the course of that weekend, Reverend Graham planted a mustard seed in my soul, a seed that grew over the next year. He led me to the path, and I began walking.

It was the beginning of a change in my life. I had always been a "religious" person, had regularly attended church, even taught Sunday School and served as an altar boy. But that weekend my faith took on a new meaning. It was the beginning of a new walk where I would commit my heart to Jesus Christ.

I was humbled to learn that God sent His Son to die for a sinner like me. I was comforted to know that through the Son, I could find God's amazing grace, a grace that crosses every border, every barrier and is open to everyone. Through the love of Christ's life, I could understand the life-changing powers of faith.

When I returned to Midland, I began reading the Bible regularly. Don Evans talked me into joining him and another friend, Don Jones, at a men's community Bible study. The group had first assembled the year before, in spring of 1984, at the beginning of the downturn in the energy industry. Midland was hurting. A lot of people were looking for comfort and strength and direction.

A couple of men started the Bible study as a support group, and it grew. By the time I began attending, in the fall of 1985, almost 120 men would gather. We met in small discussion groups of ten or twelve then joined the larger group for full meetings. Don Jones picked me up every week for the meetings. I remember looking forward to them.

My interest in reading the Bible grew stronger and stronger, and the words became clearer and more meaningful. We studied Acts, the story of the Apostles building the Christian Church, and next year, the Gospel of Luke.

The preparation for each meeting took several hours, reading the Scripture passages and thinking through responses to discussion questions. I took it seriously, with my usual touch of humor....

Laura and I were active members of the First Methodist Church of Midland, and we participated in many family programs, including James Dobson's Focus on the Family series on raising children. As I studied and learned, Scripture took on greater meaning, and gained confidence and understanding in my faith.

I read the Bible regularly. Don Evans gave me the "one-year" Bible, a Bible divided into 365 daily readings, each one including a section from the New Testament, the Old Testament, Psalms, and Proverbs. I read through that Bible every other year. During the years in between, I pick different chapters to study at different times.

I have also learned the power of prayer. I pray for guidance. I do not pray for earthly things, but for heavenly things, for wisdom and patience and understanding.

My faith gives me focus and perspective. It teaches humility. But I also recognize that faith can be misinterpreted in the political process. Faith is an important part of my life. I believe it is important to live my faith, not flaunt it.

America is a great country because of our religious freedoms. It is important for any leader to respect the faith of others. That point was driven home when Laura and I visited Israel in 1998.

We had traveled to Rome to spend Thanksgiving with our daughter, who was attending a school program there, and spent three days in Israel on the way home. It was an incredible experience.

I remember waking up at the Jerusalem Hilton and opening the curtains and seeing the Old City before us, the Jerusalem stone glowing gold. We visited the Western Wall and the Church of the Holy Sepulcher. And we went to the Sea of Galilee and stood atop the hill where Jesus delivered the Sermon on the Mount.

It was an overwhelming feeling to stand in the spot where the most famous speech in the history of the world was delivered, the spot where Jesus outlined the character and conduct of a believer and gave his disciples and the world the beatitudes, the golden rule, and the Lord's Prayer.

Our delegation included four gentile governors-one Methodist, two Catholics, and a Mormon, and several Jewish-American friends. Someone suggested we read Scripture. I chose to read "Amazing Grace," my favorite hymn. Later that night we all gathered at a restaurant in Tel Aviv for dinner before we boarded our middle-of-night flight back to America. We talked about the wonderful experiences and thanked the guides and government officials who had introduced us to their country.

And toward the end of the meal, one of our friends rose to share a story, to tell us how he, a gentile, and his friend, a Jew, had (unbeknownst to the rest of us) walked down to the Sea of Galilee, joined hands underwater, and prayed together, on bended knee. Then out of his mouth came a hymn he had known as a child, a hymn he hadn't thought about in years. He got every word right: "Now is the time approaching, by prophets long foretold, when all shall dwell together, One Shepherd and one fold. Now Jew and gentile, meeting, from many a distant shore, around an altar kneeling, one common Lord adore. Faith changes lives. I know, because faith has changed mine."

"I could not be governor if I did not believe in a divine plan that supersedes all human plans. Politics is a fickle business. Polls change. Today's friend is tomorrow's adversary. People lavish praise and attention. Many times it is genuine; sometimes it is not. Yet I build my life on a foundation that will not shift.

My faith frees me. Frees me to put the problem of the moment in proper perspective. Frees me to make decisions that others might not like. Frees me to try to do the right thing, even though it may not poll well...

The death penalty is a difficult issue for supporters as well as its opponents. I have a reverence for life; my faith teaches that life is a gift from our Creator. In a perfect world, life is given by God and only taken by God. I hope that someday our society will respect life, the full spectrum of life, from the unborn to the elderly. I hope someday unborn children will be protected by law and welcomed in life. I support the death penalty because I believe if administered swiftly and justly, capital punishment is a deterrent against future violence and will save other innocent lives.

Some advocates of life will challenge why I oppose abortion yet support the death penalty. To me, it's the difference between innocence and guilt.

Today, two weeks after Jeb's inauguration, in my church in downtown Austin, Pastor Mark Craig, was telling me that my re-election was the first Governor to win back-to-back, four-year terms in the history of the State of Texas. It was a beginning, not an end....

Pastor Craig said that America is starved for honest leaders. He talked of the need for honesty in government. He warned that leaders who cheat on their wives will cheat their country, will cheat their colleagues, will cheat themselves.

People are starved for faithfulness. He told the story of Moses, asked by God to lead his people to a land of milk and honey. Moses had a lot of reasons to shirk the task. As the Pastor told it, Moses' basic reaction was, "Sorry, God, I'm busy. I've got a family. I've got sheep to tend. I've got a life. "Who am I that I should go to Pharaoh, and bring the sons of Israel out of Egypt? The people won't believe me, he protested. I'm not a very good speaker. Oh, my Lord, send, I pray, some other person," Moses pleaded. But God did not, and Moses ultimately did His bidding, leading his people through forty years of wilderness and wandering, relying on God for strength and direction and inspiration.

"People are starved for leadership," Pastor Craig said, "starved for leaders who have ethical and moral courage." "It is not enough to have an ethical compass to know right from wrong," he argued. "America needs leaders who have the moral courage to do what is right for the right reason.

It's not always easy or convenient for leaders to step forward," he acknowledged. "Remember, even Moses had doubts." "He was talking to you," my mother later said. The pastor was, of course, talking to all of us, challenging each one of us to make the most of our lives, to assume the mantle of leadership and responsibility wherever we find it. He was calling on us to use whatever power we have, in business, in politics, in our communities, and in our families, to do good for the right reason. And his sermon spoke directly to my heart and my life....

There was no magic moment of decision. After talking with my family during the Christmas holidays, then hearing this rousing sermon, to make most of every moment, during my inaugural church service, I gradually felt more comfortable with the prospect of a presidential campaign. My family would love me; my faith would sustain me, no matter what.

"During the more than half century of my life, we have seen an unprecedented decay in our American culture, a decay that has eroded the foundations of our collective values and moral standards of conduct.

Our sense of personal responsibility has declined dramatically, just as the role and responsibility of the federal government have increased. The changing culture blurred the sharp contrast between right and wrong and created a new standard of conduct: 'If it feels good, do it.' and 'If you've got a problem, blame somebody else.' "Individuals are not responsible for their actions," the new culture has said.

"We are all victims of forces beyond our control." We have gone from a culture of sacrifice and saving to a culture obsessed with grabbing all the gusto. We went from accepting responsibility to assigning blame. As government did more and more, individuals were required to do less, and less.

The new culture said: if people were poor, the government should feed them. If someone had no house, the government should provide one. If criminals are not responsible for their acts, then the answers are not prisons, but social programs.... "For our culture to change, it must change one heart, one soul, and one conscience at a time.

Government can spend money, but it cannot put hope in our hearts or a sense of purpose in our lives." ... "But government should welcome the active involvement of people who are following a religious imperative to love their neighbors through after-school programs, child care, drug treatment, maternity group homes, and a range of other services. Supporting these men and women - the soldiers in the armies of compassion - is the next bold step of welfare reform, because I know that changing hearts will change our entire society."

"During the opening months of my presidential campaign, I have traveled our country and my heart has been warmed. My experiences have reinvigorated my faith in the greatness of Americans. They have reminded me that societies are renewed from the bottom up, not the top down.

Everywhere I go, I see people of love and faith, taking time to help a neighbor in need... These people and thousands like them are the heart and soul and greatness of America. And I want to do my part.

I am running for President because I believe America must seize this moment, America must lead. We must give our prosperity a greater purpose, a purpose of peace and freedom and hope. We are a great nation of good and loving people. And together, we have a charge to keep."

Abiding Under His Shadow

Hollie L. Moody

Recently, the Lord showed me two visions.

In the first vision, I saw a person. I couldn't tell if this person was a man or a woman. I felt this person represented numerous people. I could see inside of this person. A flame was burning brightly within this person in the location of their heart. Gradually, the brightly burning flame began to die down until it was only a small, glowing ember.

As the flame within this person became smaller and smaller, and then became only an ember, I sensed the confusion and worry within this person about why the flame had become an ember.

I then saw the Lord come to this person. The Lord seemed to hover over this person, and overshadow them. The person was now in dimness, and this dimness appeared to distress this person. As the Lord hovered over this person, He spread His arms out over the person, and gently began to blow upon the ember. The Lord did this very carefully and very gently, until the ember began to grow into a flame once again. During this process, the person continued to appear extremely distressed and confused.

In the second vision, I saw a group of people marching forward with keys in their right hands.

As I sought the Lord as to what this could possibly mean, I felt His Spirit telling me that many of His children are in a place spiritually right now where they feel that spiritually their flame has gone out, or is going out. They have tried everything they can think of to get this ember back into a burning flame, but it remains an ember.

As the Lord overshadows them to breathe life back into the ember, the people mistake the presence and the shadow of the Lord for a time of darkness and distress in their life.

The following verses came to my mind as I saw the Lord hovering over this person

Psalm 91:1--"He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty."

Psalm 17:8--"...hide me under the shadow of they wings."

I wasn't sure at first how the second vision related to the first vision, but I sensed that it did. When I pondered upon this second vision (of the people marching forward with keys in their right hands), the following verse came to my mind ~

Revelations 1:18--"I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death."

I feel what the Lord would say to His children is that this time that some feel is a time of darkness in their life, a time of the flame having been extinguished, is really a time when we are being hid in Him and being overshadowed by Him. He placed the flame within us to begin with. He is jealous of that flame, and will zealously watch and hover over it and blow new life back into that ember until it once again becomes a brightly burning flame.

We have the keys to accomplish this ~~ prayer is one of these keys. We have the power with these keys to bind anything that rises against us, to bind the strongman and overpower him.

We will find the strength to do this as we dwell in the secret place of the Most High; and abide under the shadow of His wings.

If the fire within you appears to have burned out, and you feel you are in a dark place, be encouraged. The Lord is hovering over you, overshadowing you and breathing new life back into you. You will arise once again with keys of promise and deliverance in your hand. You will march forward once again to overcome all adversity and adversaries. The flame will ignite within you once again !

In Him,

Abraham's Revelation

Bill Burns

May 19, 2000:

When the Lord, our God, was ready to initiate a covenant that would establish His rule in the earth, He looked for a man to make covenant with. The man that God found was Abram, whose name He changed to Abraham. In Genesis chapter 12 the Lord spoke to Abraham and told him to leave his father's house, and Abraham departed as the Lord had spoken to him. By faith, Abraham obeyed God, and it was accounted to him as righteousness and, therefore, the covenant process continued.

The covenant with Abraham is the first of the theocratic covenants which pertain to God's rule (through covenant) over a chosen people. Because God's covenant with Abraham would become the model of the subsequent theocratic covenants (which required blood sacrifice), the Lord revealed His master plan by identifying the three covenants by which He would redeem and bless mankind. The covenant process with Abraham was progressive even as this present covenant of grace that we live in is (Hebrews 10:36). Progression is contingent upon man's obedience to the covenant conditions or laws.

When we follow the Genesis account of God's interaction with Abraham, we find that the Lord continued to speak of covenant promises, but Abraham did not receive the promises until later (as a result of his obedience).

God did not confirm the covenant with Abraham (by blood) until after Abraham saw Christ's Day (Calvary) and had revelation of the blood of atonement which the cross would yield. This truth was revealed by Jesus Himself in John 8:56 "Your father Abraham rejoiced to see My day, and he saw it and was glad."

It is my opinion that Abraham saw Christ's Day through Melchizedek who was a king and a priest of God Most High. Melchizedek was a type of Christ as seen in the communion elements as he brought bread and wine to Abraham. This revelation of the blood and body of Christ brought Abraham's covenant (with the blessings) into the New Covenant. This great mystery is revealed by the Apostle Paul in Galatians 3:14-29.

Melchizedek blessed Abraham, and Abraham gave him a tithe of all (Genesis 14:19-20). It was after Abraham broke bread and drank wine and gave of his sustenance that God ratified the covenant with the shedding of blood (sacrifices). Genesis 15:1 tells us after these things (meeting with Melchizedek) that he spoke to Abraham these marvelous words. Genesis 15:1, "After these things the word of the LORD came to Abram in a vision, saying, 'Do not be afraid, Abram. I am your shield, your exceedingly great reward.'"

Abraham then asked a question of God: Genesis 15:8, "And he said, 'Lord GOD, how shall I know that I will inherit it?'" We find the answer in Genesis 15:9-14, "So He said to him, 'Bring Me a three-year-old heifer, a three-year-old female goat, a three-year-old ram, a turtledove, and a young pigeon.' Then he brought all these to Him and cut them in two, down the middle, and placed each piece opposite the other; but he did not cut the birds in two. And when the vultures came down on the carcasses, Abram drove them away. Now when the sun was going down, a deep sleep fell upon Abram; and behold, horror and great darkness fell upon him. Then He said to Abram: 'Know certainly that your descendants will be strangers in a land that is not theirs, and will serve them, and they will afflict them four hundred years. And also the nation whom they serve I will judge; afterward they shall come out with great possessions.'" In this passage of scripture God reveals three covenants through which He would establish divine rule over His people, those who would choose to live in covenant with Him according to covenant law.

Genesis 15:9 tells us that the heifer, goat and ram were to be three years of age. The number three points to three covenants in three ages or dispensations. The covenant with Abraham (faith), with Moses (the law) and the Christ (grace). The greatest of these would be the third (the ram), which is symbolic of Christ. Abraham saw this on the day of his final test of obedience. The story is recorded in Genesis 22. The fourth verse tells us that it was on the third day that he saw Calvary (in the land of Moriah), and it was there on Calvary that God provided a ram caught in the thicket by its horns.

The three-year-old heifer was symbolic of God's covenant with Abraham, a covenant based on obedience (Genesis 17:1-2) as a result of faith which would produce works of obedience. This covenant would be carried into the New Covenant of grace and was, therefore, foreshadowed by the law as the ashes of a red (blood) heifer. (Numbers 19:2-10). Thus, the second covenant, which would pass away pointed to the blood of everlasting atonement.

The second covenant (the law) is symbolized by the female goat. This foreshadows the removal of the goats from the sheep (sons of the Ram) in the final covenant. The goats will be removed from the covenant promise even as the law (second covenant) was removed and replaced by a better covenant. (Matthew 25:31-34 and Hebrews 7:22; 8:13; 9:13)

The ram represents the covenant that we are presently a part of, the New Covenant of grace. Grace came because of the shed blood of the Lamb of God. Let us look into heaven's glory and see this Lamb: Revelation 5:6, "And I looked, and behold, in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, stood a Lamb as though it had been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent out into all the earth."

The seven horns represent the fullness of Christ's authority and the seven eyes the fullness of the Spirit which Jesus had without measure.

At this point we must examine Abraham's actions when he offered the five-fold sacrifice before God. Genesis 15, verse 10 tells us that the heifer, goat and ram were cut in two. The word "covenant" means to cut (an agreement). So again, we see that three covenants were cut (made), and God ratified the covenants by walking through the blood as a burning torch and smoking oven (Genesis 15:17). This represents God's promise of the coming of the third covenant of grace in which He would baptize His covenant people with the Holy Spirit and fire (torch), and His glory (smoking furnace) would rest upon them as the anointing.

Abraham must have known this because he did not cut the birds in two. The turtle dove and pigeon represent the progression of the third covenant as it moves into the third day. In the likeness of the Ram (Lamb) with the fullness of the Spirit, represented by the turtle dove (the Holy Spirit) and will become the carrier pigeon--carrying the good news of the gospel unto all the world, and then the end shall come. It will also be in the third day of the third covenant that the five-fold ministry (Ephesians 4:11) will be raised up under the power of the covenant promise. Ephesians 4:12-13, "For the equipping of the saints for the work of ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ, till we all come to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to a perfect man, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ."

It may also be possible that these five symbols (heifer, goat, ram, turtle dove, and pigeon) represent the five-fold ministry. I will let you determine which symbol represents which ministry office. I will, however, prophesy to you about the last two symbols. Evangelism is about to become prophetic. The one carrying the message is going to be accompanied by the Spirit, for these two were not divided. Hidden sins will be revealed, and many will come to Jesus. A new wave of healing power will come forth through the evangelist and will testify to the greatness of our God.

This was Abraham's revelation, and now ours. So now I must warn you that we must do like Abraham did. Genesis 15:11, "And when the vultures came down on the carcasses, Abram drove them away." Satan always comes to steal revelation because revelation unlocks the mysteries of God and, therefore, releases the great power of God. We now find ourselves at the end of the age when great darkness covers the land. Genesis 15:12, "Now when the sun was going down, a deep sleep fell upon Abram; and behold, horror and great darkness fell upon him." We find ourselves in the midnight hour when darkness is upon the people. Therefore, our glorious God will become a flaming torch and a smoking oven of His glory--the cloud by day and the fire by night--and He shall lead His covenant sons of glory into the final victory! Even so, come Lord Jesus! Amen.

The Scepter
Bill Burns:

May 14, 2000:

I saw Jesus in a vision in all of His glory. He came and took me first of all to the stables in the heavenly places and showed me His horses. The day is soon coming when I will mount My horse and come back for My people. The day is soon coming when I, the Warrior Chief, will lead the great and glorious army such as Joel prophesied. Never again will there be a people such as these are in the whole existence of the earth. Never again shall there be an army of the Lord like unto the one that I am about to reveal in the earth!

Then, He took me to a porch where I could look over it to see that the spirit of the world is invading My house. I see the carnality in My house. I see a spirit of fantasy leading My people astray and leading them to the wide path. They are moving from the narrow path. (I could see multitudes on the wide path.) But He says, I do have a remnant, and I walk among them: I walk among the candlesticks. I reach out and touch My people.

Then, He took me to the throne and He sat down and picked up a scepter and extended it to me. He then reached over the balconies of heaven and extended it to the church. He said that even as in the days of Esther when the king extended his scepter to his bride, I am extending the scepter of My power to all of those who have been faithful, all of those who have walked with me, all of those who have kept to the narrow path. I extend to you the scepter, and the scepter of this power will have the same purpose and intent that it had on Haman, for I am about to destroy your enemy--the enemy that has dogged you and trailed you, that enemy that has persecuted you, the enemy that has lied to you, the enemy that has held you back, held you down and suppressed you. He has brought infirmity to you and bondage to you. That enemy is represented in Haman, but I am about to hang him on the gallows because I am extending My scepter to My people, and they will no longer be bound up in those things they have struggled with over the years. It must happen because I am calling My church without spot or wrinkle. In and of your own strength, you cannot become perfect before Me. You cannot come to the place of whiteness. You cannot come to the place of holiness, but all things are possible with God.

Today, I extend My scepter to My chosen, My beloved, to My faithful. You shall begin to walk out of the bondages that have pursued you. The shackles will begin to break, the anointing shall increase to such an extent that it will break the bonds that you find yourselves dealing with. It will break asunder the iron gates, the handcuffs that Satan has put on many of My people. It will even break the bands that have wrapped around your minds and caused you to think carnally and walk in the world.

He said, break the curse of condemnation off of My people so that they might take what I am giving them. Many are bound under the power of condemnation. Many are still walking in a place of unworthiness and guilt, and when I hand them the scepter, they will say, "Oh, Lord, not me; I am unworthy." I remind you today that it is by My blood that you are worthy.

Again, He says, walk not in the world, for these are perilous times...dangerous times. Be separated unto Me, and you will walk in this power, this authority that I give to you.

There are coming tremendous blessings upon the faithful. I am going to overtake you with My blessings. I am going to pour out blessings that you will not be able to contain. I am going to bring the blessings of those things you need to fulfill the commission that I am about to give to you in such a dimension that you will stand before me with your mouths open and only be able to declare the glory of God. It will be in such a dimension of power, provision, wealth, righteousness and anointing for this glorious people that I speak to today, and not only these in this house, but around the world. For those who can believe it and receive it, the blessings of the kingdom of God are about to overtake you even as the judgment itself comes upon the world.

Words from the Lord to Marsha Burns:

May 14, 2000:

I had such a witness in my spirit about God beginning to pour out blessings, and the Lord says: Haven't I said that you are to come out from among them and be separate; touch not the unclean thing? It is a narrow path, and I have called you to be separated to Myself. The flow of the blessings into your life will be directly proportionate to how much you have separated yourself to Me. Some of you have joined yourselves to the world. Some of you have become unequally yoked together with unbelievers. You will miss out on some of the blessings because you have not heeded My voice; you have not done what I said to do. When the blessings flow, be warned that you will not receive all that you could have. Those who have been yoked with unbelievers, you must fast and pray and do what you can do to bring them in, or you will miss out.

May 15, 2000:

I speak to you today of purpose. My purposes have been established on the earth, and you have opportunity daily to either come in line with My purposes and be part of My plan or to refuse and do your own thing. Those of you who choose to go your own way and do what is right in your own eyes will ultimately come to destruction. And, you are so clever at justifying your disobedience. But, I say to you, it all comes down to unbelief. If you truly believed My word, you would do My will. And those who have chosen their own way have been fit with spiritual blinders and cannot see clearly because of the veil over their hearts, and they are deceived. Rise up, My people, into the fullness of My will and purposes. Yield to My leading. Trust and obey.

May 16, 2000:

Rise up. I say, RISE UP! I have wonderful things to show you and glorious things to share with you, but you cannot discern My ways or hear My voice when you are focused on the petty issues of life. Refuse to allow the issues that have robbed your peace to take dominion over you. I say to you, forgive those who have trespassed against you, and release those who have offended you. You cannot be at peace with Me until you rise up out of division, strife and contention. Stop striving, and release these issues to Me. Haven't I spoken to you to be at peace with all men, as much as is possible with you? You cannot establish peace by continuing to strive in division. Relinquish these issues and set your heart on Me.

John 14:27 "Peace I leave with you, My peace I give to you; not as the world gives do I give to you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid."

May 17, 2000:

I say to you, that the harvest is ripe. The seeds that you have sown have grown up and your harvest is nearly ready. Some of you have sown seeds of love, joy, peace, longsuffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control. And, I tell you truly, that you will reap the fruit in gladness and humility. But also be aware that some of you have sown seeds of uncleanness, lewdness, idolatry, sorcery, hatred, contentions, jealousies, outbursts of wrath, selfish ambitions, dissensions, heresies, envy, hatred and folly. You also will reap, but you will reap in sadness. And, I say some of you will blame Me for this sadness when it was you yourself who planted the seeds. Stop where you are and learn a lesson in sowing and reaping, for soon this cycle will begin again, for as long as the earth remains there will be seedtime and harvest.

Galatians 6:7-10, "Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, that he will also reap. For he who sows to his flesh will of the flesh reap corruption, but he who sows to the Spirit will of the Spirit reap everlasting life. And let us not grow weary while doing good, for in due season we shall reap if we do not lose heart. Therefore, as we have opportunity, let us do good to all, especially to those who are of the household of faith."

Do you know it? I am sending forth greater revelation of the depth of My Word. I am opening your hearts to hear, receive and know the mysteries of My kingdom. If you will only seek My face with a hunger and desire to know, you shall be filled and satisfied. I say to you whose understanding has been unfruitful, break up the fallow ground of your heart. Plow up the ground of stodgy, religious dogma which keeps you from fresh revelation. Let me rain down My glory upon you and give life to a dry, thirsty land.

Hosea 10:12, "Sow for yourselves righteousness; Reap in mercy; Break up your fallow ground, For it is time to seek the LORD, Till He comes and rains righteousness on you."

May 20, 2000:

I bring you a watchword today--dissipation! Watch! For the enemy would bring circumstances, situations, and conditions that would cause you to spread yourself too thin so that you have many things to do, and yet no time to do any of them well. I bring you another word--discernment. If you will yield your will and your time to Me, I will give you the discernment to recognize and separate what I have called you to do from that which will cause you to be scattered and ineffective. I bring you yet a third word--focus. I would have you to bring your priorities into sharp focus as you bring every thought captive to the obedience of Christ. I say to you, come to attention!

Absolute Victory Of Christ

Glenn Jackson

To all handmaidens and bondservants of the Lord Jesus Christ:

"And when they had set a day for him, they came to him at his lodging in large numbers; and he was explaining to them by solemnly testifying about the Kingdom of God, and trying to persuade them concerning Jesus, from both the Law of Moses and from the Prophets, from morning until evening"....
Acts 28:23 (Nasb)

If we truly desire to continue the work of the apostles and prophets we MUST testify to what they testified. To a great degree the church has "forgotten" the resurrection, the authority (ascension), and the "absolute" victory of the Lord Jesus over the "law of sin and death".

Many in the church do not dare testify - by their words and actions - that Jesus Christ ALONE is King - or in other words that Jesus is Lord and that Satan is a "vanquished" foe (the "Defeated One") - for fear of what "flesh and blood" may think of them! But it is certain that to truly preach the "Gospel of the Kingdom", we must declare in "all" our words and actions that Jesus is Lord of lords and King of kings!

In this last hour the Father desires to reveal- in the earth - the "absolute manifestation" of His Son's victory at the Cross (through the Glorious Church ["remnant"]) - and the soon coming "exile" of Satan. When the "masses" finally (and clearly) discover the fate and eternal destiny of the Evil One they will break their "allegiance" to him immediately and turn and begin to serve the one True God from a heart "wholly given".

It will be the Glorious Church that brings this revelation forth in the earth with a "clarity" heretofore unseen - and thus the "evangelistic" anointing - having entered into the "Third Day" - shall accomplish more in a short time frame than has been accomplished in the previous two thousand years of the "church age".

If we are not of "one mind" (one heart - in one accord) with the Father in this matter of TRULY "seeking first the Kingdom" - and ALL that that entails - and, if we do not give our "full" attention to what He desires to accomplish through the work of the Kingdom in this most critical and glorious hour - we will SURELY be found walking FAR BELOW His best for us - and thus we shall be found to be "unfit vessels" - "vessels" which are unable (powerless) to "impart" the "fulness" of His glorious and "tender" love and Provision (the Christ - the Anointed One and His Anointing (the Holy Spirit) to ALL those who cross our path.

The Father is looking for a people who will place themselves in the position wherein they are "continually" in TOTAL AGREEMENT with His Word - in order that His will might be done on earth (perfectly and fully)- as it "ALREADY IS DONE" in Heaven.

If Christians view, as their greatest responsibility on earth, the saving of people's souls ALONE (the "new birth" without walking in the "fulness" of all that our precious inheritance in Christ includes) THEN they have failed to realize the deepest heart desire of the Father.

The greatest responsibility - even greater than the responsibility of "saving souls" (which will simply be the spontaneous fruit born by the Church as each individual child of God diligently abides in the "secret place of His presence") - is to bring this present age to a close and bring in the Kingdom of our God! Our greatest task is to bring about the final destruction of Jesus' arch-enemy Satan and ALL of the forces of death and darkness!

Prayer is not to pray for "ourselves", but to do damage to the "schemes" of the Evil One! SURELY we, as handmaidens and bondservants of the Lord, (and in light of the lateness of the hour) have come to - and abide in - the place of having already found our "all-sufficiency" in Christ!) Saving souls is not merely to "save" people, but also to harm Satan - who has held them in bondage.

We must not in any way "demean" the work of evangelism, for the saving of men and women is a glorious task which we should never despise - but in the work of bringing "salvation" (soteria) to all those who cross our path let us NEVER lose sight of the Kingdom!

We will indeed be found effective in our service to the Father if we ALWAYS keep in view the full establishment of the kingdom of God - and the eternal destiny of Satan!

Related Scriptures: (Matthew 28:18)(Luke 10:19)(Matthew 6)(Mark 16:15-18)(Colossians 2:15)(Revelation 20:10)

THIS "TIME FRAME" WE HAVE ENTERED INTO "IS" THE "FULLNESS OF TIME" AND IT "IS" THE BEGINNING OF THE "THIRD DAY" As I have mentioned frequently before, I am no longer able to think of "anything" or "anyone" apart from "spiritual environments" - and the perfect establishing of them in the lives of all those with whom I have to. One thing has become abundantly clear to my heart: This "time frame" we have entered into IS the "fullness of time" concerning the Father's plan for the establishment of the "Glorious Church" - and it IS the beginning of the Third Day - and ALL that that includes. Of course, this previous statement means more to those in the Church who are in tune with the Holy Spirit, but it will not be long before (it is already happening in some places) the Glorious Church begins to "wake up" those in the "sleeping church" and also begins to impact both Israel - and the rest of the nations to a very great degree.

Access To The Almighty

http://www.BobbyConner.Org/Access_to_Almighty.htm

I was given an extremely strong prophetic experience. I was caught up into the throne room of heaven. The Lord called me very near His lips and spoke a very loud word, the word was so loud that I could not comprehend clearly what was said. I said "O Lord, I am so sorry, but I could not understand what was said." He said, "That is alright. This word does not need to be heard in heaven, it must be heard on earth." Suddenly I was back on earth. I could hear the word coming down from heaven's throne room, the word rolled across the earth like thunder across the sky. The word is ACCESS! Yes! Each of us have access to Almighty God.

Any one of us can get as close to the Lord as we are willing to get. Nothing except our lack of commitment is keeping us from HIM. Any of us can draw closer to the Lord. The way is wide open.

Hebrews 10:19-20 "Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus, By a new and living way, which he hath consecrated for us, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh;

THIS NEW AND LIVING WAY WAS OPENED FOR US AT CALVARY

Matthew 27:50-51 Jesus, when he had cried again with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost. And, behold, the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent;

No longer is there a veil keeping us from the Most Holy Place, the way is open, the Spirit of the Lord is calling out inviting each of us to come. Because of the finished work of Christ each of us can boldly come before the throne.

Heb 4:16 Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

There is now an open invitation from the Spirit of God. The invitation is "Come Up HIGHER! (SEE REV. 4:1-2).

We are in a time of the releasing of revelation on a new level. Now is the time to seek the Lord with all your heart - you will find HIM.

Accurate Warfare!

Doug Fortune

'We wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places.' (Eph.6:12)

Ah yes, one of our favorite scriptures concerning spiritual warfare... some of us revel in the visual imagery of hand to hand combat with principalities, powers, rulers of darkness... nothing like a good shouting at demonic forces to stir things up, huh? Or are we isolating this passage when we think in those terms though?... let's consider the context of the previous verses.

In chapter four of Ephesians we read of the five-fold ministry bringing forth the 'perfect man', the fullness of the stature of Christ and then for the next two chapters we read of Kingdom lifestyle, instructions on how to live... 'put on the NEW MAN, in the LIKENESS of God...' (Eph.4:24) 'Therefore be IMITATORS of God...' (Eph.5:1) Ephesians chapter six then speaks of the 'full armor' of God... well, what is this ARMOR of God? Romans 13:12 says it is '...armor of LIGHT...', it is laying aside deeds of darkness, it is to '...put on the Lord Jesus Christ...', it is Kingdom LIFESTYLE in the LIKENESS or character of God. Clothed with this ARMOR of Light, our LIFESTYLE, then we are to STAND firm! What, no jumping and ranting at powers of darkness?

Consider the first words of Ephesians 6:12, the Greek words are 'eimi pale'; pale means to wrestle or throw, eime is first person singular present indicative used only when emphatic meaning I AM, I exist... yes, the same words Jesus spoke in John 8:58, words that stirred up warfare when He said, '... before Abraham was born, I AM...', In other words, by the very fact that I AM, that I exist, my very presence in the situation is WARFARE! I was always taught that spiritual warfare was praying certain words in a certain way at a certain time... accurate warfare really has little to do with that, and more to do with who I AM, who I am IN CHRIST that is. It's like this, I have young children and let's say they are squabbling with each other... when DAD walks into the room, suddenly the atmosphere changes... it has to do with authority.

Ephesians 1:20 tells us that Christ is seated at the right hand of the Father, FAR ABOVE principalities and powers. Then in Eph. 2:16 it says, '...and He raised us up together with Him and made us sit down together- giving us joint seating with Him- in the heavenly sphere by virtue of our being IN Christ Jesus...'. I AM seated right now IN CHRIST at the right hand of the Father, FAR ABOVE principalities and powers and rulers!

Let's also consider that evil must have an entrance into the earth and this is found through the iniquity and sin of man. You see, a principality is really a demonic spirit that operates through a 'principle' that MAN gives authority to, '...whatever YOU bind (that is, declare to be legally binding) on the earth shall be bound in heaven...' (Mt.16:19). The way you defeat a principality is by establishing via your LIFESTYLE, your very presence, a higher 'principle'. Principalities, powers, demonic forces only have authority in the realm of the SOUL (or the natural realm), and only as man gives them entrance by operating in those 'principles' of darkness. We defeat them as we live from the realm of the SPIRIT, a higher realm of authority... we are literally bringing the Kingdom of heaven (the spiritual realm) to bear upon the Kingdom of this world. This happens NOT by shouting at a demon, but rather by walking as the manifestation of Christ in the earth... warfare automatically erupts as we walk into the situation by reason of our very presence, or actually the presence of Christ IN US. THEN we can shout at that demonic force! We must understand and always be aware that we are a constant threat to the kingdom of darkness... we are a DANGEROUS people. Many of us do not walk in the realization of this and we operate from the realm of our SOUL, getting offended or angry at people, feeling that we have rights, living a life of SELF, always having to get our way thinking we know best. ALL this is of the realm of the SOUL, and then we wonder why we are harassed by demonic forces or have little impact against them.

For example, I can see the principality of 'pride', even the stronghold of 'religious pride' ruling over the city I live in... if I have the attitude that ours is the 'best' church in town, more doctrinally balanced, more equipped to minister than the rest, how effective is my warfare against the principality of pride? It is totally ineffective because I am submitting to and operating from his realm of authority... 'pride' has found place in me and by my sin I am giving him authority. Pride on the inside (the kingdom within) cannot defeat pride on the outside (the kingdom of the world).

The most dangerous person to the kingdom of darkness is not necessarily the one who has studied demonology, spiritual mapping, warfare tactics, etc. (mind you, I'm not saying that there is no place for these things)... it is the one who can say with Paul, '...I am crucified with Christ, nevertheless I live...!' It's the one who has died to the self-life, in whom the enemy has no 'place'. You see, you cannot hurt the one who is 'dead' in Christ, there is no deterring them... they're not out to protect their opinions, rights, reputation... go ahead, even try to kill them, they're already dead! You get the idea.

If by my words here, I can activate in even one other person the realization of the absolute power and authority of those who are 'dead' in Christ (forsaking the SOUL life and living from the SPIRIT) and that person begins to LIVE in this realization (bringing the Kingdom of heaven to bear upon their world), THEN I have waged an accurate warfare. Then is the Kingdom of God advanced in the earth, then the kingdom of darkness suffers violence. Then that person will activate this realization in someone else... and they in someone else. '...For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.' (Hab.2:14) This is accurate warfare... this is advancing the Kingdom. Let's not fight as one beating at the air, let us wage an effective warfare!

A Covenant With Death

April 6, 2000

The American Colonies began with a document called the Mayflower Compact. It was an agreement between Christian settlers and God when they came to the New World. In this document, which was a binding covenant, the settlers promised to live for God and honor Him alone. Even during the American Revolution several centuries later, American patriots would yell in battle as they fought the English, "We will have no king but King Jesus!"

Despite attempts at historical revisionism to say otherwise, The United States of America was founded upon a covenant with God. A covenant is a mutual agreement where two or more parties make agreements that will benefit each other. There is a mutual submission sworn to each other for a greater cause.

Consider this sober warning from Deuteronomy 4:31 "He will not forsake you nor destroy you, nor forget the covenant of your fathers which He swore to them." God promises to not forget the covenant our forefathers made with him. And He is honoring our covenant. He promises in his Word, Psalms 9:17 "The wicked shall be turned into hell, And all the nations that forget God."

Does it surprise you that even news commentators are wondering why this nation seems to be going "to hell in a handbasket?" It is because we have forsaken and forgotten God. The economy is great - so is the abortion, suicide, and murder rate.

America has entered into a new covenant, a covenant with death. We are now the most bloodthirsty, murderous generation to ever live. We do not value the life of the old, the young, or the unborn. We kill millions of unborn babies for the sins of their parents, the old, and the feeble. Suicide is the number 3 killer of people between ages 15 and 24. Death rules in America!

Heed God's warning to the nation that makes a covenant with death. Isaiah 28:15 "Because you have said, 'We have made a covenant with death, And with hell we are in agreement. When the overflowing scourge passes through, It will not come to us, For we have made lies our refuge, And under falsehood we have hidden ourselves.'" These people were mocking God by declaring that Death, the last of God's enemies to be destroyed, was their friend and protector.

God's reply to those who covenant with death is in Isaiah 28:18. "Your covenant with death will be annulled, And your agreement with Hell will not stand; When the overflowing scourge passes through, Then you will be trampled down by it."

The Lord decreed that our covenant with death is self-consuming. We sacrifice our kids on the altars of pleasure and prosperity and have created a generation of fatherless kids often filled with rage, arrogance, and a hunger for attention. "East and drink, for tomorrow we die" is the mocking refrain.

And the killings continue as the bonds of our national covenant with Death grow stronger as the blood of the innocent flows. More will die until we acknowledge that we have sinned and dishonored the covenant our forefathers. We have all but removed God from our national life. Perhaps we need to re-mint our coins to read: In Death We Trust. Or we can plead the blood already shed at the Cross and ask that our Death covenant be annulled by the stripes of Christ. Only He can heal this nation that is surly bleeding to a premature death.

A Chosen Generation

Scott Hofstee

As the enemy stands poised to devour the chosen seed of My beloved one, I the Lord prepare, in the heavenly realms, an unveiling of My glory. An unveiling of My kingdom, for all to see. Many, in this season, have sought an alternative route past the veil and into My presence and yet I have told you that death is the doorway to life. Death to self, death to mindsets, death to vanity and self promotion. I call forth to My ministers of fire to step forth through the veil of the mind and the physical realm and draw towards Me. I await you in the place of My presence. It is not your works of righteousness that has brought you to this place but My election of you as a chosen generation. I tell you all. I AM about to bring a visitation of a magnitude never witnessed. Many will scoff at it and say, "God doesn't work that way." I tell you this day, I work in ways that are far above you all. You have sought to formulize Me, to contain Me. I tell you, I won't be conformed to your image of Me, you will be conformed to My image. I come now in power and might, with violence and force. The sheer weight of My glory will absolutely render the plans and schemes of My enemy useless and of no effect on My people.

To the religious lovers of traditions, institutions and doctrines more than Me, I say to you, contain Me if you can. Try to hold Me back now with your idolatrous love for form and control, program and theology. You do not know Me, therefore, when I come, you will weep over the fact that you have worshipped other gods and have loved yourselves more than My truth and righteousness. Even so, many will be saved by fire, for the enemy of your souls has bound you, deceived you into thinking your sacrifices of self righteousness could ever please Me. How could it? Only My beloved Son pleases Me. Only He can give you the garments required for you to see Me as I AM. Beloved ones of the Most High God, where will you turn? What will you say when I shake you free of the world and call you forth as a despised and rejected one, as My Son was? I must show you your nakedness and vanity in order for you to see your desperate need for Me. But know that I AM quick to restore and I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy.

To the remnant seed, I say to you this day, My reward is with Me. A visitation is upon you. Even though you have heard that it is coming, it will surpass your expectations. It will exceed your understandings of Me. You will recognize My signature because love will be its distinguishing characteristic. My love, not your love. My love will expose, confront and attack but it will also restore, cleanse and nurture. It will heal the injuries that the enemy of your souls, has heaped upon you for generations. It will cut off the fraudulent fools posing as My servants and free the beloved people of My choosing. It will attack the evil schemes being planned and implemented, at this very moment, against My given ones. It will be a complete paradox to many. They will say, "How could God use such a mess for His glory?" I say to you this day, what seems like a mess is the beginning of My order. I will not build upon foundations of men and their supposed enlightenment. I will build upon that which is eternal, immovable and unshakeable. The learned intellectuals of this time, do not impress Me. Those who have appointed themselves to places I have not established, will see the bankruptcy of their souls as I reveal My kingdom in My chosen generation. Chosen and appointed by Me, not men who judge with their eyes, but Me, who sees the heart, Me, who was and is and is to come. It is I establishing in this hour. It is not revival that is coming, it is My kingdom that comes, My will being done, in earth as it is in heaven. It is soon and every eye shall behold it, for I bring forth a testimony of My Son and My love for Him and My love for you. Prepare by yielding to My Spirit and allowing Him to expose to you the darkness that you all have and allowing Him to bring you into the glorious light. Remember those whom I love, I discipline. Love My discipline and I shall disciple you and conform you into My image and it will be a sign for all times.

A New Emphasis on Church Leadership

Mark Kaphaem

Recently the Lord has been speaking to me comparing church structure to the human body. The main point the Lord was making to me was the new emphasis He had for those who would be leaders in His body. The part of the body that represented these leaders was the feet.

The feet are submitted to the Head.

These leaders will take their orders from and be submitted to the Head of the body. The head of the body is Christ. They will not try to raise themselves up to the head ship of the body. They know their place, they are the feet. Feet take orders from the head and go and do what they are told.

The feet lead the way and take the body with them.

When the feet are given a order from the head they begin to move. They do not tell the rest of the body to move. They lead the way and the carry the body with them. They will blindly trust the head that it knows where it is going and move where they are told.

The feet will work together to move the body.

These new leaders will not just take off on their own causing the body to be off balance and stumble. They will work in unison leading the body in the same direction. This is how you will know them. They will not seek their own.

Christ, the Head of the Body.

Jesus is the Head of the body. It is time to come under submission to the Head. A body can not be in unity unless it is of one mind. That mind is to be the Mind of Christ. If you are providing leadership to the body just because it is your job to do so, STOP. If you are providing leadership to the body because you are submitted to the head ship of Christ and to do otherwise would be to disobey Him, GO.

(As I pray about this I feel there are many who feel trapped in positions of the body because of expectations and circumstances. Can a hand be a eye, or a leg be a mouth?)

Be what you are and trust the Lord to take care of the circumstances. Trust Him and you can once again feel His joy as you fill the role in the body that you were created for.

May the Lord give you grace and courage as you seek Him,

Mark Kaphaem

A Call to Maturity

Mark Wattenford

(Be not as Sheep Without a Shepherd)

Through a series of events, visions and the words of other prophetic people, God has moved some of us into the following understanding.

We have seen many of late that have been coming “out of the woodwork.” These individuals have a call on their lives or have flat out been “Chosen of God” having come out from their many caves wherein they have lived - or out from under the control of false or misguided shepherds. These have and are now still coming forth.

We see clearly now they are out from under the control of the “hireling” shepherds, but they are still as sheep without a shepherd. While in gathering I prayed to the Lord and said, “Dear Lord, I see the Holy Spirit in these, I see their giftings working... why do I not perceive your presence?” The Lord replied that His presence will come when things are put in order. This is why He is sending His chosen Apostles and Prophets. The Lord showed me that there was a rampant attempt in these meetings to “exercise the gifts within each; in an attempt to acquire or gain the presence of the Lord.” When what is necessary - IS that things come into order that the Lord might be the head and THEN their gifts would manifest in God’s intended way and by and through His compassion these would come forth.

The Lord revealed to me quite clearly that these gifted individuals had escaped the rule of false shepherds, but because of the abuse they had endured under them, they were cautious and even fearful to come under anything that resembled “leadership.” The Lord is bringing to His house order, structure and leadership, but many, if not most, are not willing to have this because all they have known is the abuse of those SELF-proclaimed leaders of their past. But the Lord's word was that those whom He is calling, those Apostles and Prophets have such a deep heart of compassion and the heart of God that it IS NOT, and WILL NOT be a burdensome thing as we have seen in past abuses. Unless His people come into this structure, the building of HIS TEMPLE through and by His Apostles and Prophets, with Evangelists, Pastors and Teachers... we shall NOT come into the maturity needed to go into the fields which are even now ripened for Harvest. He showed me how, without a shepherd, each one of us have fallen back on the only thing we have known... old forms of Pentecostalism and so forth. He desires and is calling us OUT of that and into the structure that is coming forth through the Apostles and Prophets. Many fear this as another control thing rising up, but it is not so... as God is imparting the wisdom and the structure He wants for His house and it is NOT a thing from which man will build a kingdom for himself. It is coming forth from the true hearts of - Apostles and Prophets who do not have even the heart to proclaim themselves as such - and even “shirk such titles and try to avoid the name tags,” but whose hearts are set in anguish and grief at what they see in this present state of God’s people; wandering - in each his own way, doing the best they can. It is the heart of these God is raising up, NOT TO CONTROL, but to bring love, forgiveness, tenderness and instruction into the way God wishes for His temple to be built and how, we as HIS living stones, are to be rightly fit together with each other.

The word of the Lord is this: “Drop now your seeking after Me as though you were prophets of Baal, wherein you try harder to achieve My presence even unto the slashing of your own spirits as if to bring Me forth.” Rest now, and seek the house I build and the counsel of those I send, for I send to you in this time the Apostles and Prophets I have chosen to build My temple and My house that it may stand strong and with integrity before the world. Rebel not, ... for there is nothing to rebel against... you rebel at the old images of the taskmasters who were over you in the past. You rebel over those who proclaimed authority over you, who wounded you, but I am come to build My temple and My house and not to abuse My sheep, but to bind up their wounds in love and to bring them into their place and position as I have chosen them to work and to reap the fields in this time. I shall NOT be the head of that which has no form. I shall not be the head of that which is NOT a body. Come into that which I am raising up. Come into the revelation of the structure and of the temple as I AM is proclaiming through My Apostles and Prophets, where there is peace and healing and gentle pasture. For it is true that unless you do, you shall remain as a sheep without a shepherd and shall wander in frustration looking for the coming of My presence and it shall not come upon you - until you are come into what I build; for there shall be no head of that which has no structure and I AM THE HEAD. It is not a thing to fear, for My true Apostles and Prophets are servants to My sheep and NOT taskmasters. They bring with them and in them the power I give to them to heal up your many wounds. Fear not the Apostles and Prophets I send, only remove yourselves from those who proclaim ALOUD that they are apostles and prophets, for as they proclaim aloud and have some go before them heralding them as such - THEY ARE NOT - for the proclamation of themselves is not My heart. Whom I have set as apostles and prophets are of a humble heart and spirit and whose hearts cry out for the health of My sheep and these have a burden for the lost. Lay down your excesses and come before My presence and give place to the voice of My chosen ones who are set forth to build My temple and My house. Seek for them, ask of Me where and who they are, and be of an honest heart- not seeking your own glory or trying to recapture glories of the past - and I shall bring you under the covering that is of Me. I am the head, but I am the head of a body that is set in order. I am not come to be Head of a “dismembered” thing. My presence shall fill the Body when it is come into the order that I have set forth and will be established through the revelations I bring forth through My Apostles and Prophets." Be not as scattered sheep, but come now into My fold and take your place in the temple I build and am building.”

With all My love, even unto death, gave I myself unto you and for your sake: Jesus Christ footnote: These Apostles and Prophets will have the fruits of the Spirit. They will NOT be controlling, abusive or be of a mind to “whip the sheep”... this has been the way of the church, but God is building a living temple where those who are set in this office will be as you have never seen before... with a loving compassionate, tender heart - exemplifying the love and compassion of Christ - that will shine through them to His sheep.

A Call To Holy Passion

David Smithers

Matthew 21 describes perhaps one of the most impressive praise services ever witnessed. As Jesus made His triumphal entry into Jerusalem, He was greeted by a multitude of joyful praisers. With great enthusiasm they waved palm branches and shouted "Hosanna in the highest. Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord!" Yet where were these enthusiastic praisers only one week later as Jesus agonized in the garden or as He hung on the cross? With few exceptions, they all went the way of their forefathers described in Isaiah 29:13, "Therefore the Lord said: 'Inasmuch as these people draw near with their mouths and honor Me with their lips, but have removed their hearts far from Me.'"

In Christ's darkest hour, He was not quite so attractive to these once ardent praisers. There are many praisers but few loving worshipers. It seems that in many ways the followers of Jesus haven't changed very much since that day He rode into Jerusalem on a humble little donkey. On any given Sunday you can find a multitude who are willing to rejoice in the name of Christ, and rightly so. Yet, where are the ones who live to worship Jesus, for HIS SAKE ALONE! Not because He is a means to obtain our wants and desires, but because, "He is altogether lovely." (Song of Solomon 5:16). Jesus is not a means to an end, He is the beginning and the END. (Col. 1:15-18, Rev. 21:6).

Many of these once fervent followers saw Christ as a means to political advantage and power. I'm afraid many of the followers of Jesus in our own day of sin and uncertainty are pursuing Him for the same reasons. Some of the Church is even being encouraged to seek revival for the sole purpose of establishing national security and prosperity. Imagine, seeking revival more for "OLD GLORY" than for HIS GLORY! In recent years we have also seen believers being instructed to lift up praises to Christ as a means to bring about the manifestations of healing and spiritual gifts. What father would not be grieved by his children using flattering words only for the purpose of gaining some sweet advantage? I'm sure many of those who are adhering to such teachings are quite sincere. However, we must be discerning and not forgetful of the Apostle's warnings about seeking selfish gain. As the bride of Christ we must be cautious of anything that smacks of manipulation and usury in our relationship with Him. Please do not misunderstand me, I'm quite aware that the Father longs and delights to bless us. He rejoices to meet our every need, but these are the by-product and not the prime product of our devotion to Jesus Christ. Jesus must be the highest object of all our desires and affections. Now let's consider some examples from the scripture of those who loved Jesus for His sake.

The Alabaster Box

We find our first example in Luke 7:36-38. "Then one of the Pharisees asked Him to eat with him. And He went to the Pharisee's house, and sat down to eat. And behold, a woman in the city who was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at the table in the Pharisee's house, brought an alabaster flask of fragrant oil, and stood at His feet behind Him weeping; and she began to wash His feet with her tears, and wiped them with the hair of her head; and she kissed His feet and anointed them with the fragrant oil." This woman did not come to receive a blessing, she came to be a blessing. There is no manipulation here. This is true devotion and passion for Jesus. She came risking rebuke and ridicule just so she could pour out her heart of burning love on Jesus. The flame of her love consumed and destroyed the fear of man. She could only see the feet of her Savior. She had eyes only for HIM. Though she had only come to give, she left with the sweet fragrance of her own sacrifice upon her.

In Luke 7:44-46 we see the difference between the Pharisees mere admiration, and true extravagant love. "Then He turned to the woman and said to Simon, 'Do you see this woman? I entered your house; you gave Me no water for My feet, but she has washed My feet with her tears and wiped them with the hair of her head. You gave Me no kiss, but this woman has not ceased to kiss My feet since the time I came in. You did not anoint My head with oil, but this woman has anointed My feet with fragrant oil.'" Many will invite Christ into the home of their hearts and yet deprive Him of the common courtesies of a little oil, water and a kiss of greeting. The true lovers of Jesus are not content with just casual greetings and conversation. They long to live with Jesus in a realm of continual love and holy passion.

Providing For The Lamb

Luke 8:2 & 3 reads, "And certain women who had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities - Mary called Magdalene, out of whom had come seven demons, and Joanna the wife of Chuza, Herod's steward and Susanna, and many others who provided for Him from their substance." What a rarity these precious women were in the life of Christ. While so many came only to take and receive, very few came back to bless and provide for Jesus from their own substance. Such lovers are still far too rare within the Church.

They Made Him A Supper

John 12:1-3 reminds us that the heart of Jesus is hungry for our love and affection. "Then, six days before the Passover, Jesus came to Bethany, where Lazarus was who had been dead. There they made Him a supper; and Martha served, but Lazarus was one of those who sat at the table with Him. Then Mary took a pound of very costly oil and spikenard, anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped His feet with her hair. And the house was filled with the fragrance of the oil." Here we find another band of true lovers of Jesus. They are not clinging to Him for what they can receive. They are delighting just to be with Him, just to behold Him and sit with Him. Multitudes come to eat of "the bread of life" but very few return to prepare a meal for Jesus. Many claim to have a true relationship with Christ, but true relationship is both receiving and giving. It's receiving His love and mercy and then in return pouring out our love on Him for His pleasure. This is the true Church, each member serving with their own distinct and individual gifts, all for the pleasure and benefit of Jesus!

Drawing Near to The Heart of Jesus

John 13:21-26 illustrates for us how the ministry of a prophet was designed to operate. The Scripture reads, "When Jesus had said these things, He was troubled in spirit, and testified and said, 'Most assuredly I say to you, one of you will betray Me.' Then the disciples looked at one another, perplexed about whom He spoke. Now there was leaning on Jesus' bosom one of His disciples, whom Jesus loved. Simon Peter therefore motioned to him to ask who it was of whom He spoke. Then, leaning back on Jesus' breast, he said to Him, 'Lord, who is it?' Jesus answered, 'It is he to whom I shall give a piece of bread when I dipped it.' And having dipped the bread, He gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon." Here we see John operating as a true prophet, revealing the secrets of Jesus' heart. Not because he sought a position or ministry office, but simply because he delighted to be close to JESUS. John, "the disciple whom Jesus loved" desired only to rest his head on Jesus' breast and as a result he heard the secret heart beat of God. Peter recognized that John was much closer to the heart of Jesus than he was. Therefore, he seeks out John for insight and counsel about the will of God. Is this not a picture of the purest form of prophetic ministry? The SECRET of the Lord is with those who love and fear Him.

They Followed the Man, Not the Miracles!

John 19:25 & 26 reveals the stark contrast between unconditional love for Christ and a mere utilitarian religion. "Now there stood by the cross of Jesus, His mother, and His mother's sister, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene. When Jesus therefore saw His mother, and the disciple whom He loved standing by, . . ." Look at Jesus now, He's dying on the cross. He appears to have nothing more to offer anyone. He is not healing the sick with the touch of His hands, they're now pierced and fastened by nails. He is not teaching the profound and eternal truths of the Kingdom. His throat is dry and parched and He can barely even speak. The feet that once miraculously walked on the water are now nailed firmly to the cross. The multitude of admirers and praisers have all forsaken Him. Yet some of the true lovers of Jesus can still be found. They did not truly understand that He would be resurrected, yet they are still there. They were there not for what they could gain, but for what they could give. They were there for Jesus sake. We speak much of God's unconditional LOVE for us, but what kind of love are we to have for Christ?

Are we not called to be the bride of Jesus, to cleave to Him alone, forsaking all other lovers, for better or for worse, in sickness and health! Where are the ones who love Jesus with an unconditional LOVE?

The Reward of Holy Passion

What is the reward of such an undying passion for Jesus? The answer is found in John 20:11-23. It is to see the object of all our desires- to see Jesus. The lovers of Jesus were the very first to see Him in resurrection power. Jesus reveals Himself to such ones in a very special way. The generation that strips itself of every impure motivation and loves Christ for His sake, will usher in a mighty visitation from heaven! Such ones will see the risen and glorious JESUS! I challenge you NOW to examine yourself with the help of the Holy Spirit. Are you a true lover of Jesus or only one of His admirers. A sure way to discover where we are spiritually, is by looking at our prayer life. Do our prayers consistently revolve around NOTHING but ourselves and our needs? Certainly prayer involves petitions for our personal needs, yet true prayer is so much more. True prayer is an intimate time of adoring Jesus. It's being totally preoccupied and fascinated with the Savior. True prayer is both the casting of our cares upon God and then waiting to receive His cares, His burdens and His broken heart. True prayer has in it something that reaches out to touch Jesus, just to be with Him. True prayer delights the heart of Jesus. If there is one thing that undermines the strength and beauty of the Church in our day, it is our lovelessness. Many, many have grown cold and forsaken their passion for Christ. The Church at large has forgotten and forsaken the heart of Jesus. We have sinfully neglected the fact that Jesus suffers hurt and pain over our disregard for His feelings and desires. Jesus Christ is truly Holy and the exalted King of Kings, yet He still longs to be loved by His bride, not only for what He can give, but for Himself ALONE!

Let us humble ourselves in repentance that we might find grace to respond to the heart cry of the Bridegroom. ". . . Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away! O my dove, in the clefts of the rock, in the secret places of the cliff, let me see your face, let me hear your voice; for your voice is sweet, and your face is lovely." (Song of Solomon 2:13 & 14).

A Prophetic Call To Revolution

Cindy Jacobs

For I would say to you, My children there is a page turning in the heavenlies, and at the top of this page I have one word, and it's "revolution." And I am getting ready to write a new page of history among the believers of this nation.

RADICAL NEW SOUND

For there is a radical sound that I have issued--there is a sound that has come from heaven, and it even now has come to earth. And the Lord says, these are going to be days where I am going to trouble the enemy through you. These are going to be different days than you have ever known, and I am going to require sacrifice of you that you cannot imagine. I am going to require a sacrifice of your children, says the Lord. And the Lord says, I'm going to shake everything that can be shaken.

THE ACLU

For there are powers in this nation, such as the ACLU, who have thought that they have ruled, and they have controlled this nation. But God says, I the Judge of Heaven am going to dethrone. I'm going to dethrone the ACLU, and I'm going to move in Congress. I'm going to move in a way that you cannot imagine, that you have only longed to see. For I would say to you, my children, you are going to come out of the wilderness. And I have found a Caleb generation, says the Lord, who say we are well able to take the mountain, we are well able to take those strongholds that have been built in the nearly 40 years in this nation, since prayer has been taken out of school.

CHURCHES AS COMMAND POSTS FOR REVOLUTION

There are churches that will be command posts for revolution, and to these command posts I would say, I am going to bring a revolution. Look and see; I am calling radical revolutionaries to the church.

There is a sound going forth from heaven, says the Lord. I am calling from the north and the south and the east and the west. They're going to move, they're going to change universities to come to these command posts. They're going to change jobs. I'm going to bring the 18, 19, 20, 21 year olds, and they're going to mentor the generation under them. And then the high schoolers are going to mentor the generations under them.

YOUTH FULL OF HOLY PASSION

And I would say, these youth are going to put the adults to shame. Because they re going to be full of holy passion, a fiery passion for the Lord. So the Lord says, get ready for I have said many things over the church, and I have made many promises. With some of you, hope deferred has made the heart grow sick. But I have found the way for the church and for this youth, says the Lord. And the Lord says, there is going to be a day when there are as many youth as adults in these command post churches, for I am going to move--I would not pass you by.

And the Lord says I'm going to put the gift of evangelism in the youth of these churches. I'm going to cause them to bring souls, and souls and souls. They're going to invade the high school campuses. They're going to invade the universities of their cities.

And the Lord says, I am calling for an invasion from these churches, from my command posts. And the Lord says get ready, get ready, get ready, for it begins today.

A Crowing Of The Cock

Bill Burns:

December 23, 1999:

Over and over this morning I hear these words, "A crowing of the cock." My question was, "What meaneth this, Lord?" This is His answer:

"Listen, My children, and hear the crowing of the cock. Once again it shall be as it was in Peter's day. Again, it shall be that some of those who call Me by My name shall deny Me. I am coming soon for My people, but is it not written that before that Day comes a falling away comes first (2 Thessalonians 2:3)? Those who deny Me shall then follow the man of sin who comes."

1 Timothy 4:1-2, "Now the Spirit expressly says that in latter times some will depart from the faith, giving heed to deceiving spirits and doctrines of demons, speaking lies in hypocrisy, having their own conscience seared with a hot iron."

"Is not the crowing of the cock like unto sounding the alarm? Is it not a wake-up call? For, a new Day comes. To those of you who hearken to this call and turn to Me once again it shall be unto you as it was unto Peter who wept bitterly and repented."

Malachi 4:1-2 "For behold, the day is coming, burning like an oven, and all the proud, yes, all who do wickedly will be stubble. And the day which is coming shall burn them up," Says the LORD of hosts, "That will leave them neither root nor branch. But to you who fear My name The Sun of Righteousness shall arise With healing in His wings; and you shall go out and grow fat like stall-fed calves."

"The warnings have been made clear by the voice of My prophets. The alarm has gone forth. The cock has crowed, but many have not listened and repented of their wicked ways. These are indeed perilous times, and the spirit of lawlessness prevails throughout the land. Have you not heard the warning given by My apostle, Paul?"

2 Timothy 3:1-5, "But know this, that in the last days perilous times will come: For men will be lovers of themselves, lovers of money, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, unloving, unforgiving, slanderers, without self-control, brutal, despisers of good, traitors, headstrong, haughty, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God, having a form of godliness but denying its power. And from such people turn away!

"Awaken now, and return to Me or surely I will spew you out of My mouth (Rev. 3:16), and you shall not be found in Me when judgment comes to your land."

Again, I hear the Master's voice: "The crowing of the cock has prophetic significance. Study to show yourself approved, and My Spirit will reveal the announcement made by this sifting which came to Peter." And so I have studied, and this is what I found. The crowing of the cock (rooster) brought conviction to Peter as he remembered the words of Jesus.

Matthew 26:33-35, Peter answered and said to Him, "Even if all are made to stumble because of You, I will never be made to stumble." Jesus said to him, "Assuredly, I say to you that this night, before the rooster crows, you will deny Me three times." Peter said to Him, "Even if I have to die with You, I will not deny You!" And so said all the disciples.

Peter did not have the indwelling power of the Holy Spirit and could not resist Satan's sifting by his own strength. The Lord allowed this sifting to break Peter's self-sufficiency and to prepare him to receive the Holy Spirit.

Luke 22:31-34 And the Lord said, "Simon, Simon! Indeed, Satan has asked for you, that he may sift you as wheat. "But I have prayed for you, that your faith should not fail; and when you have returned to Me, strengthen your brethren." But he said to Him, "Lord, I am ready to go with You, both to prison and to death." Then He said, "I tell you, Peter, the rooster shall not crow this day before you will deny three times that you know Me."

Peter denied the Lord three times before the rooster crowed twice. Evidently, the first crowing of the rooster did not awaken Peter. Selah. Not until he looked to Jesus did he remember (Luke 23:61). When we study John 18:15-27 we find three symbols that identify how Christ's prayer (Luke 22:32) would be answered for Peter and also for us.

The symbols are the courtyard, the door into the courtyard, and the fire in the courtyard.

1. The courtyard is where Jesus was first tried. The Passover Lamb was first taken into the courtyard and examined (put on trial). Later Pilate would confirm that the Lamb was without spot (blame) when he said, "I find no fault in Him." (John 19:4) This symbol, prophetically represents the shedding of the blood of Jesus, our Passover Lamb. It points to the cross and the atoning blood of Jesus by which Peter and all who received Jesus as their sacrifice would be saved.

John 1:12-13, "But as many as received Him, to them He gave the right to become children of God, to those who believe in His name: who were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God."

2. The door into the courtyard is Jesus, through Whom we enter into the Kingdom of God. John 10:9 "I am the door. If anyone enters by Me, he will be saved, and will go in and out and find pasture." The pasture we find is within the Kingdom. It represents nourishment (provision) for body, soul and spirit as provided by the Father's grace. Romans 5:1-2, "Therefore, having been justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom also we have access by faith into this grace in which we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God." Through the door we enter into the inner court into fellowship with the Father and Son.

3. The fire in the courtyard where Peter warmed himself represents the fire of the Holy Spirit which would be given on the Day of Pentecost. Peter comforted himself by the natural fire, but when the Comforter came, Peter found himself consumed with the supernatural fire of the Holy Spirit. Peter now had supernatural power to resist the devil's siftings. Romans 8:13, "For if you live according to the flesh you will die; but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live."

Found within the scriptures is this parable of the crowing of the cock. Why then did the Lord use a crowing rooster as a prophetic symbol? Why does a rooster crow? He crows to announce the rising of the sun over a new day. If the Master is once again using this story to awaken us, then a new day is being announced. This new Day is surely the Day of the Lord which is soon to come. The dawning of a new day is before us. Within this story we have received a warning that has come to us by the Spirit. The first crowing identifies the judgment that comes to the church (1 Peter 4:17). The second alarm announces the judgment of the world. If we do not listen to the first warnings, we will not escape the Day of His wrath.

May each of us enter into the blood of the covenant as symbolized by the courtyard. May we be found actively participating in fellowship with Jesus and the Father in His Kingdom. And, may we be found in the communion of the Holy Spirit and by His power in us may we be overcomers as we put to death the deeds of the flesh so we won't be found denying Jesus the Christ.

Matthew 10:32 "Therefore whoever confesses Me before men, him I will also confess before My Father who is in heaven. But whoever denies Me before men, him I will also deny before My Father who is in heaven."

A Charge to Keep

George W. Bush

Excerpt from "A Charge To Keep" by George W. Bush:

Actually, the seeds of my decision had been planted the year before, by the Reverend Billy Graham. He visited my family for a summer weekend in Maine. I saw him preach at the small summer church, St. Ann's by the Sea. We all had lunch on the patio overlooking the ocean. One evening my dad asked Billy to answer questions from a big group of family gathered for the weekend. He sat by the fire and talked. And what he said sparked a change in my heart. I don't remember the exact words. It was more the power of his example. The Lord was so clearly reflected in his gentle and loving demeanor.

The next day we walked and talked at Walker's Point, and I knew I was in the presence of a great man. He was like a magnet; I felt drawn to seek something different. He didn't lecture or admonish; he shared warmth and concern. Billy Graham didn't make you feel guilty; he made you feel loved.

Over the course of that weekend, Reverend Graham planted a mustard seed in my soul, a seed that grew over the next year. He led me to the path, and I began walking. And it was the beginning of a change in my life. I had always been a religious person, had regularly attended church, even taught Sunday school and served as an altar boy. But that weekend my faith took on a new meaning. It was the beginning of a new walk where I would recommit my heart to Jesus Christ.

I was humbled to learn that God sent His Son to die for a sinner like me. I was comforted to know that through the Son, I could find God's amazing grace, a grace that crosses every border, every barrier and is open to everyone. Through the love of Christ's life, I could understand the life-changing powers of faith.

When I returned to Midland, I began reading the Bible regularly. Don Evans talked me into joining him and another friend, Don Jones, at a men's community Bible study. The group had first assembled the year before, in spring of 1984, at the beginning of the downturn in the energy industry.

Midland was hurting. A lot of people were looking for comfort and strength and direction. A couple of men started the Bible study as a support group, and it grew. By the time I began attending, in the fall of 1985, almost 120 men would gather. We met in small discussion groups of ten or twelve, then joined the larger group for full meetings.

Don Jones picked me up every week for the meetings. I remember looking forward to them. My interest in reading the Bible grew stronger and stronger, and the words became clearer and more meaningful.

We studied Acts, the story of the Apostles building the Christian Church, and next year, the Gospel of Luke. The preparation for each meeting took several hours, reading the Scripture passages and thinking through responses to discussion questions. I took it seriously, with my usual touch of humor. .

Laura and I were active members of the First Methodist Church of Midland, and we participated in many family programs, including James Dobson's Focus on the Family series on raising children. As I studied and learned, Scripture took on greater meaning, and gained confidence and understanding in my faith. I read the Bible regularly. Don Evans gave me the one-year Bible, a Bible divided into 365 daily readings, each one including a section from the New Testament, the Old Testament, Psalms, and Proverbs. I read through that Bible every other year. During the years in between, I pick different chapters to study at different times.

I have also learned the power of prayer. I pray for guidance. I do not pray for earthly things, but for heavenly things, for wisdom and patience and understanding. My faith gives me focus and perspective. It teaches humility. But I also recognize that faith can be misinterpreted in the political process. Faith is an important part of my life. I believe it is important to live my faith, not flaunt it.

America is a great country because of our religious freedoms. It is important for any leader to respect the faith of others. That point was driven home when Laura and I visited Israel in 1998. We had traveled to Rome to spend

Thanksgiving with our daughter, who was attending a school program there, and spent three days in Israel on the way home. It was an incredible experience. I remember waking up at the Jerusalem Hilton and opening the curtains and seeing the Old City before us, the Jerusalem stone glowing gold.

We visited the Western Wall and the Church of the Holy Sepulcher. And we went to the Sea of Galilee and stood atop the hill where Jesus delivered the Sermon on the Mount. It was an overwhelming feeling to stand in the spot where the most famous speech in the history of the world was delivered, the spot where Jesus outlined the character and conduct of a believer and gave his disciples and the world the beatitudes, the golden rule, and the Lord's Prayer.

Our delegation included four gentile governors-one Methodist, two Catholics, and a Mormon, and several Jewish-American friends. Someone suggested we read Scripture. I chose to read Amazing Grace, my favorite hymn. Later that night we all gathered at a restaurant in Tel Aviv for dinner before we boarded our middle-of-night flight back to America.

We talked about the wonderful experiences and thanked the guides and government officials who had introduced us to their country. And toward the end of the meal, one of our friends rose to share a story, to tell us how he, a gentile, and his friend, a Jew, had (unbeknownst to the rest of us) walked down to the Sea of Galilee, joined hands underwater, and prayed together, on bended knee. Then out of his mouth came a hymn he had known as a child, a hymn he hadn't thought about in years. He got every word right:

Now is the time approaching, by prophets long foretold, When all shall dwell together, One Shepherd and one fold. Now Jew and Gentile, meeting, from many a distant shore, Around an altar kneeling, one common Lord adore.

Faith changes lives. I know, because faith has changed mine.

I could not be governor if I did not believe in a divine plan that supersedes all human plans. Politics is a fickle business. Polls change. Today's friend is tomorrow's adversary. People lavish praise and attention.

Many times it is genuine; sometimes it is not. Yet I build my life on a foundation that will not shift. My faith frees me. Frees me to put the problem of the moment in proper perspective. Frees me to make decisions that others might not like. Frees me to try to do the right thing, even though it may not poll well... The death penalty is a difficult issue for supporters as well as its opponents. I have a reverence for life; my faith teaches that life is a gift from our Creator.

In a perfect world, life is given by God and only taken by God. I hope someday our society will respect life, the full spectrum of life, from the unborn to the elderly. I hope someday unborn children will be protected by law and welcomed in life. I support the death penalty because I believe, if administered swiftly and justly, capital punishment is a deterrent against future violence and will save other innocent lives.

Some advocates of life will challenge why I oppose abortion yet support the death penalty; to me, it's the difference between innocence and guilt.

Today, two weeks after Jeb's inauguration, in the church in downtown Austin, the pastor Mark Craig was telling me that my reelection as the first Governor to win back-to-back four- year terms in the history of the state of Texas was a beginning, not an end. . . . People are starved for faithfulness. He talked of the need for honesty in government; he warned that leaders who cheat on their wives will cheat their country, will cheat their colleagues, will cheat themselves. The minister said that America is starved for honest leaders. He told the story of Moses, asked by God to lead his people to a land of milk and honey. Moses had a lot of reasons to shirk the task. As the pastor told it, Moses' basic reaction was, Sorry, God, I'm busy. I've got a family. I've got sheep to tend. I've got a life. Who am I that I should go to Pharaoh, and bring the sons of Israel out of Egypt? The people won't believe me, he protested. I'm not a very good speaker. Oh, my Lord, send, I pray, some other person, Moses pleaded. But God did not, and Moses ultimately did his bidding, leading his people through forty years of wilderness and wandering, relying on God for strength and direction and inspiration. People are starved for leadership, Pastor Craig said, starved for leaders who have ethical and moral courage.

It is not enough to have an ethical compass to know right from wrong, he argued. America needs leaders who have the moral courage to do what is right for the right reason. It's not always easy or convenient for leaders to step forward, he acknowledged; remember, even Moses had doubts.

He was talking to you, my mother later said. The pastor was, of course, talking to all of us, challenging each one of us to make the most of our lives, to assume the mantle of leadership and responsibility wherever we find it. He was calling on us to use whatever power we have, in business, in politics, in our communities, and in our families, to do good for the right reason. And the sermon spoke directly to my heart and my life. . . .

There was no magic moment of decision. After talking with my family during the Christmas holidays, then hearing the rousing sermon to make most of every moment during my inaugural church service, I gradually felt more comfortable with the prospect of a presidential campaign. My family would love me, my faith would sustain me, no matter what. During the more than half century of my life, we have seen an unprecedented decay in our American culture, a decay that has eroded the foundations of our collective values and moral standards of conduct. Our sense of personal responsibility has declined dramatically, just as the role and responsibility of the federal government have increased.

The changing culture blurred the sharp contrast between right and wrong and created a new standard of conduct: If it feels good, do it and If you've got a problem, blame somebody else. Individuals are not responsible for their actions, the new culture said, we are all victims of forces beyond our control. We went from a culture of sacrifice and saving to a culture obsessed with grabbing all the gusto. We went from accepting responsibility to assigning blame.

As government did more and more, individuals were required to do less and less. The new culture said if people were poor, the government should feed them. If someone had no house, the government should provide one. If criminals are not responsible for their acts, then the answers are not prisons, but social programs. . . .

For our culture to change, it must change one heart, one soul, and one conscience at a time. Government can spend money, but it cannot put hope in our hearts or a sense of purpose in our lives. . . .

But government should welcome the active involvement of people who are following a religious imperative to love their neighbors through after-school programs, child care, drug treatment, maternity group homes, and a range of other services. Supporting these men and women--the soldiers in the armies of compassion--is the next bold step of welfare reform, because I know that changing hearts will change our entire society.

During the opening months of my presidential campaign, I have traveled our country and my heart has been warmed. My experiences have reinvigorated my faith in the greatness of Americans. They have reminded me that societies are renewed from the bottom up, not the top down. Everywhere I go, I see people of love and faith, taking time to help a neighbor in need. . . These people and thousands like them are the heart and soul and greatness of America.

And I want to do my part. I am running for President because I believe America must seize this moment, America must lead. We must give our prosperity a greater purpose, a purpose of peace and freedom and hope. We are a great nation of good and loving people. And together, we have a charge to keep.

God is good and His mercy endures forever...

Addicted to the Glory

Chad Taylor

I will never forget the first time I stepped out of my grandfather's house after being saved and taking the love that had just exploded in my heart to the streets. From house to house I went, knocking on ever door with the same line, "Do you want to talk about Jesus?!" Then finally going back to the same neighborhood where I, just days before, was dealing drugs and peddling stolen jewelry for cocaine. Dozens of kids, drug dealers, and junkies gathered around to hear this strange sound, "Jesus loves you man..." I will never forget watching these people bow down on the concrete in broad day light and ask Jesus in their hearts even as I did hours before. Sobbing and crying out to the Lord right there on the streets. Grown men and women smitten by a Power that transcended all despair and sin piercing heart and soul. The manifest presence of the Lord that could cause skeptics to be transformed into saints. Prostitutes into princesses. Rebels into righteous radicals. I was becoming addicted to the glory of God.

I witnessed this in the first few days of my salvation experience with Jesus. I became hooked to the passion and power of the Lord as waitresses bowed at the end of the table and accepted Him as Lord and Master. As hardened criminals sat at the foot of the cell bed and wept like babies and repented from their sins. Like a junkie sticks a needle into his vein for that jolt, that rush, I became a junkie for the demonstration of Jesus' love and power as it came into contact with a stranger and sinner. I was hooked. I was addicted.

Jesus was not just a systematic theology, He was a living and breathing Person, anxious to share His love to the world! He was not lethargic and full of ritual and repetition. He was excited and spontaneous in His expression of the Father's love. I found myself quickly following His lead. I remember in the excitement of it all jumping from my Christian friend's car, running toward a guy walking down the street, yelling and waving, "Jesus loves you man! Jesus really loves you!" Later that night the same guy told the church that he was on his way to kill another man who was messing with his girlfriend! That impulsive encounter literally saved a life! I was addicted. Forever hooked on the power of God when darkness and light collide. When a broken hardened heart accepts Jesus' love.

Once after spending most of the night from street corner to street corner preaching in downtown Seattle, we started making are way back home. When we hit 1st Ave. and Pioneer Square we stopped the car and got out for a moment to pray and ask God's blessing on our evening. It was around 4 in the morning. My friend David began softly singing Amazing Grace. As we reached the chorus suddenly a dozen or more street people crawled from the bushes and came from the shadows to lock hand in hand and sing the song, "...how sweet the sound that saved a wretch like me...I once was blind but now I see...." We were stunned as this misfit choir awoke to His glory and came to lift their voices and praise Him at 4 in the morning downtown Seattle! With only the angels and Heaven to witness this divine assembly. We were addicted to the awesome glory of the Lord.

I believe that is what Paul meant when he exclaimed, "Woe is me if I preach not the gospel!" Those are the words of an addict. Someone overcome with a Thing, a Person, a Power that flows through mere human hands to open blind eyes and raise dead bodies. Paul was addicted to the glory of God. "This one thing I do" Paul said, "I forget the things that are behind me and reach forward to what lies ahead of me. I strive for the upward call in Christ Jesus..." Paul was addicted to the glory of God. An addict can never have enough. He always needs more. As his tolerance level rises he is forced to feed his habit an increased amount of that substance. It is no wonder then that Paul exhorted, "But we all, with unveiled face, beholding as in a mirror the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same image from glory to glory..." (2nd Cor. 3:18). One taste was not enough, one encounter with a crippled person was not enough, one confrontation in the synagogue did not satisfy his craving, he had to have more! Paul was an addict. Forever hooked on the glory and power of His Master Jesus Christ. God give us an army of them!

If your relationship and devotion to the Lord has become predictable and boring, I dare you then to find a stranger anywhere and share the Love that the Lord has so abundantly shed abroad in your heart! Give away what has been freely given to you and you too will find yourself hooked on this glory that can in seconds turn a derelict into a disciple. A pimp into a preacher, a beggar into a prophet. Break out of the conformed walls of your religion and begin to shout from the housetops what Jesus has whispered in your hearts! Let the whole world know what He has done for you! And in that very moment you will become an addict of his glory as so many already are!

You too will shout with a voice of triumph and the sound of singing will be heard in the streets of your city or town! A river of revival will flow from your heart and wash away the needles and beer cans that litter our streets and neighborhoods. Only then will we see the harvest that our hearts have longed for. Only then will we witness the power and glory of God shake the land as in days of old. God give us an army of addicts, addicted to your glory, that cannot sleep or rest until they have seen your power and passion shake this nation. Let the fire of your desire burn in their veins until they have fully satisfied that craving for more of You. Meet them Lord, meet them on the hi-ways and bi-ways and show them your glory...

Bryan Hupperts

God is speaking to his backslidden people in Hosea 2:14-15. "Therefore, behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and speak tenderly to her. And I will give her vineyards, and the Valley of Achor for a door of hope: and she shall sing there, as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt."

The Valley of Achor was the first place in the Promised Land where God's judgement fell on his covenant people. A soldier named Achan had stolen wealth from the doomed city of Jericho and, as a result of his sin, the army of Israel suffered her first defeat at a place called Ai. Achan and his family were judged and summarily stoned to death and the place was named the Valley of Achor (a play on his name) as a sober warning to the people of Israel of the fate of sinners.

The Valley of Achor was a somber place and it became a proverb for a place of sorrow and trouble. It is using this dark metaphor that God is speaking to the backslidders of his people. He was promising to take them back into the desert where he first betrothed them and became their God - as if they had never known him - and bring them again into the Promised Land. He was telling them that if they would repent and come to him, he would wipe the slate clean and make all things new.

The Lord promised to speak tenderly to his wayward people, the way a man speaks tenderly to a woman he is pursuing for marriage. It involved being loving and familiar again. God's heart was towards his people in this passage and he was telling them that even that which caused trouble and sorrow will become a door of hope, a place of blessing and fruitfulness (speaking of the vineyards), and a place where they can sing His praises again. It would be as if they had gotten saved all over again.

Many times, because we don't understand how seriously important it is to walk in the ways of God, we can find ourselves snared in sin and circumstance and only then realize that God's ways are best. Walking with Him can keep us on the path of life and protect us from falling hard on the broad way that leads to destruction. It is when we have come to this realization that we have to make the decision to return to our first love with utter abandon, or abandon Him all together.

There is a cry from the heart of God to those who once knew him, who feasted at his table, and worshipped at his altars, to come home. His promise in this verse is that even that which has caused us trouble and pain can become a source of hope and a place of restoration, that the Valley of Achor can become a doorway of Hope.

Like in the story of the prodigal son, the Father is standing at the gate of his Kingdom watching intently for his wayward ones to come home. In an instant, he will run to you with outstretched arms, throw a royal robe across your shoulders, shod your feet with the good news of his grace, and place his signet ring on your finger so that you might again conduct family business in authority. There is a place of grace and honor waiting for you.

If you've wandered far from God, His grace is reaching out to you even now to restore your life and make all things new. He will transform your sorrow to sweetness, your trouble to hope, your mourning to dancing.

Come home.

A Door Of Hope

Hosea 2:14,15 "Therefore I am now going to allure her; I will lead her into the desert and speak tenderly to her. There I will give her back her vineyards, and will make the Valley of Achor a door of hope. There she will sing as in the days of her youth, as in the day she came up out of Egypt."

Many are experiencing 'desert' experiences in this time and as I read the above the Lord began to speak about the way HE is leading His children at this time.

Many are fighting against the plans of the enemy that have brought them to this place, but the Lord says in most cases that is not the truth, HE has brought them to this place.

I believe that My Lord is saying that He has led many into the desert, away from all the distractions in their lives, in order that He might SPEAK TENDERLY to them - this is the place to listen for His voice.

Not only will He speak tenderly, but in this place He will begin to rebuild productivity and fruitfulness in the lives of His children.

As a result of all that the Lord will do, what appears to many to be the Valley of Achor (Trouble), will become to them A DOOR OF HOPE.

I believe He would have us look differently at our circumstances right now and view them through His eyes - as we do we will Hear Him speaking tenderly to us

Receive increased productivity and fruitfulness in our lives

See again the future and the hope that are His promise

Be refreshed and restored

Come forth praising Him in the fresh joy of our salvation.

Let us begin to embrace His dealings in our lives, knowing that they will bring forth righteous fruit and restoration.

Shalom,

A Daughter Of Zion

Mark Wattenford

I see you in the spirit right now again and standing on a road. I hear the word of the Lord and of angels conversing about you saying "She is coming forth," she will enter the fullness, she is of those Chosen... and the number of the harvest shall be great.

The Father is with her and the Father's love is upon her. She shall not be stopped though there have been strong forces come against her. The children shall be freed and healed. The Nations shall come forth. The Glory and the Light of God shall shine greatly upon this vessel and this daughter. Shall she not be a stumbling block for them that think themselves righteous? She seeks a name, and she is to me a flower, she is to me the "Morning Glory." Many shall be added to her house and her own children shall stand with her, and I have appointed portions to her children. She has gone where others have feared and where the shepherds have said NOT TO GO, but she went in where there were giants and the Father is pleased in her. She shall NOT be destroyed.

Behold, the increase in gifts I am about to give her and bestow upon her for she has been faithful. Behold the jealousy of the leavened priests!... Behold, she shall speak to chains and they shall fall away... chains that could not be broken by my "leavened priests". The songs of heaven have entered her heart. She shall rise up in praise and worship into the presence of the Lord and the Father. That Wave, That Glory, That Harvest and those hidden things in heart are from the Father. Child, it is TIME... it is the restoration of my wounded, it is the gathering in of my harvest, it is the culmination of all things and shall bring forth my Bride and my wedding.

Yes! you are beautiful in my sight! I have brought you into a family, the family of mine own. I have hedged you in to keep you sheltered from the north, the east and the south, but I have opened that gates of the western wall and you shall enter into those things there and you shall see the rains, the showers and the outpours from where I am placing you and it is already in your spirit that you can hear the rains and the thunders of my spirit coming. The dead shall rise, the lamb shall walk, the blind shall see, the oppressed shall be set free, and as I brought my people out of Egypt there were none among them that were weak or infirm.

My daughter, though the enemy has tried to resist and discourage and stop you... I have formed you and I have brought you forth for purpose. What I purpose to do shall not fall away. The lightnings may strike near you, but they shall not strike you. The thunders will roar and will be to them around you a painful thing, but not to you. You shall pass through wreckage but you shall not be harmed. Your garments shall not be torn or dirtied nor shall there be a smell of smoke upon them. My Holy presence is come upon you to bring you forth into the fullness of my purposes.

My child, all your tears I have kept in Heaven, in jars... I have lost none of them...they are before Me as precious, "Vials of Life." Everything you knew shall be changed and everything you thought shall be increased and everything you had will be added to. The enemy has tossed you back and forth in his anger of you, but I AM your covering and your fortress and your stronghold. I AM HE that covers you under my wings. You shall rest among the eagles, and you shall be an eagle among them.

You shall take up the sickle and reap in the fields, but it SHALL NOT be work, for the sickle I place in your hand is of My Spirit and shall reap of the fields as My Power and Spirit is in it, and it is not a sickle made by man, but it is a sickle made of My Spirit and shall reap where the sickle of men have not cut down. The sickles of men have not served to reap the harvest and cut the stocks of grain but rather they have "torn up" as they have been wielded by those who would carry them. They have done damage to My fields with these sickles they have fashioned by their own hands. I have made a strong bond between Myself and you and now with those I have purposed to work with you also. The enemy shall not come against what I do in this day and he shall not destroy or damage in all My Holy Mountain.

An Eagle's Profile

by Bill Burns

January 21, 2000:

I recently had the opportunity to observe two magnificent bald eagles. This occurred on separate days and in different places, but within the same week. I had a knowing that the Lord was going to show me something about the eagle as a prophetic symbol that I had not seen before.

Today, the Master spoke, "Behold the eagle's weapons, for this shall be the year of the eagle." For some time now the Holy Spirit has been speaking about the restoration of the apostolic/prophetic ministry, which I believe is represented in what He has shown me.

The weapons of the eagle: First, the wings and tail of the eagle represent the power and guidance of the Holy Spirit. This is how we get above the things of the earth and enter the heavenly realm of the kingdom in which we are seated with Jesus. It is only from this height that the prey (enemy) is seen. (Note: the prey shall be spoken of as the enemy in this narrative.)

Then, we have the head of the eagle which represents the rule of Christ in His church. The two eyes represent apostolic and prophetic vision. Prophetic vision is the ability to see events which are to come. Apostolic vision is the ability to see the Master's divine direction for His church.

The beak represents the apostle. The apostle speaks forth with apostolic power. It will be the cry of the apostle in these last days that shall set all things in their proper order. The razor sharp beak of the eagle is also a great weapon that has the ability to strike a death blow to the enemy.

The eagle has four talons on each leg. The back talon enables the three front talons to seize the prey. The back talon represents the ministry of the prophet who enables the front three talons (the pastor, teacher and evangelist) to prophetically grip the prey (identify, expose and bind).

To fully grasp the prophetic purposes of God in these last days, the prophet, pastor, teacher and evangelist must all hear the voice of the apostle which will establish direction and bring true unity through the mind of Christ.

He who has ears to hear let him hear what the Spirit says to the church: "Can you hear the cry of the eagle calling you to come up higher? Come up here where I can equip you with these mighty weapons of the eagle. The eagle is a prophetic sign of My power which will destroy the works of the enemy. Not only is this the year of My redeemed, but it will also be the year of the enemy's punishment, for it is written that I came to destroy the works of the devil."

This is the scripture the Lord then led me to:

Jeremiah 48:40-44

For thus says the LORD: "Behold, one shall fly like an eagle, And spread his wings over Moab/ Kerioth is taken, And the strongholds are surprised; The mighty men's hearts in Moab on that day shall be Like the heart of a woman in birth pangs. And Moab shall be destroyed as a people, Because he exalted himself against the LORD. Fear and the pit and the snare shall be upon you, O inhabitant of Moab," says the LORD. "He who flees from the fear shall fall into the pit, And he who gets out of the pit shall be caught in the snare. For upon Moab, upon it I will bring The year of their punishment," says the LORD.

The first fulfilling of this word referred to a Babylonian invasion. However, Jeremiah 48:47 tells us of a last day's judgment of Moab in which some of the captives of Moab will be brought back (recovered). Moab represents the enemy of Israel (God's people). The Moabites are the enemy of God's purposes in His church. Balak, the ruler of the Moabites, hired Balaam to curse God's people.

Now, to bring this revelation into our understanding for these end times we must read:

Jude 1:11

"Woe to them! For they have gone in the way of Cain, have run greedily in the error of Balaam for profit, and perished in the rebellion of Korah."

Revelation 2:14

"But I have a few things against you, because you have there those who hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balak to put a stumbling block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed to idols, and to commit sexual immorality."

Balaam then represents the modern day hirelings and false prophets who are greedy for personal gain (position, notoriety, prestige, money). These self-proclaimed prophets are a stumbling block to the Body of Christ. They are the Moabites that are in opposition to God's purposes who have quenched the Spirit and brought God's people into bondage. Included in this group are the accusers of the brethren. They are those who are using their position to tear down the Body of Christ through accusation.

But, the Lord will now bring forth His apostles and bring the weapons of the eagle into a position of completeness and great power. This, then, will be the one that shall fly like an eagle and spread its wings over Moab. Many who have been in captivity to Balaam will be released, for the false prophets will be exposed by God's eagles.

The Body of Christ will be united by apostolic power and will destroy the works of darkness that now hold the church in bondage.

Words from the Lord to Marsha Burns:

January 17, 2000:

Come out of the world, My people, and do not touch what is unclean. You cannot drink of the cup of demons and of the cup of the Lord. I speak to those who have slipped back into old ways and gone back to old patterns of living and thinking. I remind you that you have been washed by the blood and sanctified. I have called you out to become a citizen in My kingdom. I say to you, awaken out of your slumber. Refuse to be allured by the world or to give in to the works of the flesh. Don't you remember what it was like to be clean and to stand in purity before Me? Yet, you have gone back to wallowing in the mire.

1 Corinthians 10:21-23,

"You cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons; you cannot partake of the Lord's table and of the table of demons. Or do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? Are we stronger than He? All things are lawful for me, but not all things are helpful; all things are lawful for me, but not all things edify."

January 18, 2000:

Those of you who are in the valley of decision are in a time of separation and preparation. It is time for My bride to make herself ready. You are My church, My called-out ones, and the separation process continues as I divide the precious from the vile. My word, which is sharper than any two-edged sword, will divide soul and spirit and bring truth and opportunity for repentance. Thus, I will dissect and distinguish that which is holy from what is unholy. Nothing, I said NO thing, that is unclean shall be able to abide in My kingdom.

Hebrews 4:12-13,

"For the word of God is living and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the division of soul and spirit, and of joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. And there is no creature hidden from His sight, but all things are naked and open to the eyes of Him to whom we must give account."

January 19, 2000:

Rise up, saints of God. Let your praise be heard to the end of the earth. Let your voices be heard on high. Let the cry of your hearts be heard. No more silent suffering. No more acquiescence in quiet anguish. How long will you submit to the torment that the enemy has released against you? How long will you be led by the seductions designed to bring you to destruction? Will you continue to be led as a lamb to slaughter? I say to you, rise up; put your foot down and say to the enemy of your soul, "Thus far, and no more!" Most assuredly, the Ancient of Days has been seated in His royal court in order to make a judgment in favor of the saints of the Most High. Bring your petitions before Him and let your case be heard. For, He is the Righteous Judge, and He will judge righteously on your behalf.

January 21, 2000:

Proverbs 18:19,

"A brother offended is harder to win than a strong city, And contentions are like the bars of a castle."

Many of you, My people, have built a fortress around yourself because you have become offended. You build high walls to keep those out who have hurt you. But, I say to you, those walls also keep Me out. You have isolated yourself so that even your relationship with Me is but a memory, for you have hardened your heart with anger, contention and defensiveness. Tear down this stronghold and break down the barriers that have come between you and Me. You have violated your own conscience through unforgiveness and bitterness. I say to you, rise up out of this fortress of self-pity and release yourself from this prison. Forgive those who have sinned against you so that you can be restored.

A Famine Of The Word

Katie Jordan

January 5, 2000

Thus Saith the Lord;

Do you remember that My Word says when they are crying "peace and security, peace and security" the end will come?

Oh the arrogance of man! ! How sad it is! ! In your nation WISDOM & TRUTH have literally died in the streets and cannot be found. Most who pray simply pray selfishly but not intelligently. WISDOM IS A PRECIOUS JEWEL THAT IS LITTLE IN DEMAND.

Your government has deliberately murdered TRUTH for their own benefit, for when a people are totally ignorant of TRUTH they are more manageable with lies. Much of My own Church has simply yielded to the government and freely accepts her lies, for this is easier than fighting. THE FIGHT HAS GONE OUT OF MY PEOPLE. They no longer desire WISDOM and they no longer chase after TRUTH. Complacency is strangling My people. I repeat, COMPLACENCY IS STRANGLING MY PEOPLE.

THERE IS A FAMINE OF THE WORD IN YOUR ONCE CHRISTIAN NATION. Oh yes, many of you will try to refute that statement but LISTEN and HEAR what I said. THERE IS A FAMINE OF THE WORD IN YOUR NATION. It is true there are many words being spoken but a true dearth of THE WORD OR MY WORD. I do not speak of outside the Church but inside the Church. Many of My pastors and evangelists who once taught My Word have given up the good fight and will now teach what is acceptable to those with itching ears.

Beloved, I beseech you to think seriously about what I am saying. You who teach must adhere to THE TRUTH OF MY WORD. You who listen are also responsible for what you listen to. Again and again I tell you that you need DISCERNMENT. You will not be deceived if you truly desire TRUTH.

The glorious indwelling presence of MY HOLY SPIRIT must be loudly and clearly proclaimed, or it will remain a mystery. THE FULLNESS OF MY SPIRIT IS BESTOWED AS A GIFT AND IS RECEIVED IN DUE PROPORTION TO THE FAITH OF THE BELIEVER. HOW MUCH OF MY SPIRIT DO YOU HAVE? HOW FULL AND STRONG IS YOUR FAITH?

A Series of Reports from Africa

AFRICA: Everything Just Exploded!

Greetings Prayer Warriors, We left Zanzibar today by boat. It was so beautiful. As the sun was shining on the blue green Indian Ocean, it looked as though the glory of God was everywhere.

A CHANGED TEAM This has been a great team -- unity, love and a heart for God. They have all been used mightily by God and all have been greatly touched and changed. Some may not even know how much for several weeks. Their countenance is quite different. I am very proud to have ministered with each of them.

THE DAR YOUTH CONFERENCE We arrived back in Dar es Salaam and Bishop Mbepera asked us to come by and speak at the youth conference. We walked in the church to a crowd of about six or seven hundred excited young people. Their energy and enthusiasm was just what this tired group of missionaries needed.

Each member shared a message from their heart to this massive group of young people. Many of them fought back tears as they talked about how God had touched their hearts through the African people. God seems to so manifest Himself among these Africans. It truly is, I believe, some kind of altar of praise.

RISING UP TO YOUR VISION When they were finished, I shared a short message on rising up to your vision. I told these youth God had a mighty destiny for each of them and it would require a heart of true worship (John 4:23). When I asked them to draw me a picture of worship, I got several puzzled looks. They had never thought about that. I then talked to them about Abraham climbing the mountain, rising up to his vision and destiny. In Gen. 22:5 Abraham said, "I will go up to the mountain and worship." True worship is not just praise and singing -- it is laying down what you hold dearest. To Abraham it was Isaac; God wanted him to lay down Isaac and thus declare his obedience and loyalty to God. Before we can have our vision we must make God the priority of our life. If not, our vision can become our god.

CALL FOR TOTAL COMMITMENT I was moving along in the message when the Lord told me to change to a salvation message. I started sharing about how their vision was to take the true gospel, know God and make disciples. It was almost before I knew it, I was preaching hard to them about surrender and total commitment to the Lord. In the back of my mind I thought, "Lord, are you sure they need a gospel message? These youth are dedicated and hungry." I heard the Lord say, "Yes, but few are telling them what My gospel is."

I then had everyone bow their heads. "If you have never given your life to Jesus completely without reservation and you desire to surrender completely to him today, then raise your hand." About 20 hands shot up, and I told them to stand and come to the altar. I don't know if I can tell you what happened after this. I asked several of the team for their take. All I can tell you is there were 20, then 30, then 40 -- then the altar started filling up, and they started weeping and crying. I led them in a prayer.

EVERYTHING JUST EXPLODED! Then I called for the others who wanted in on what God was doing to come forward to be touched by His glory! Almost all of the six or seven hundred came forward. I called the team forward and they began to pray on the stage. Then it was like last year in Arusha -- the bottom fell open! His presence, power, glory, repentance -- everything just exploded into the room. Some were stunned -- they had never felt God so powerfully. Many were just falling under the power of God. We prayed for some but it was almost no use. The atmosphere was more charged than electricity; it was overwhelming to watch. I looked toward the stage and pastors were stunned as they saw God sovereignly move on these young people. Our time to speak was to be a 30-minute message, but God had taken over. It was the most powerful release since we have been here. The team was shocked and I could even see that we had entered that realm where we were all having a hard time grasping what God was doing.

A MIGHTY, MIGHTY INCREASE I was glad, but almost felt sorry for the team as we put them on the plane. God had given them quite a send off. Saints, we are seeing a mighty, mighty increase in His glory. It is His glory and power in some new level. It is something I have never read about or seen before. I just don't want it to stop. It is changing God's people and the spiritual atmosphere and temperature.

Two of the team have stayed with me in Africa. They have felt God leading them to stay longer. I don't know what God has for us, but we sense He is only getting started. I will do a conference Saturday at 2:00 for pastors and a service that night, then preach twice Sunday -- and then rest for several days. We must stay in His perfect will. We have no strength otherwise.

I wish I could explain what has happened and what God is doing, but I am torn because it is so incredible and hard to put into words. I don't want to hype this. However, I don't want to downplay it either. I always ask the Holy Spirit to give me just what to write. I promise you -- it is not easy. Actually the real problem is we have become so used to the mediocre, casual Christianity that when God starts moving, it seems unusual or impossible. I promise you, it is not!

AFRICA: A Stronger Wave of Glory

Greetings Saints,

PLAYING IN THE RAIN One of our team members got a word that God was going to do something during the praise and worship time at the Sinza church in Dar es Salaam. Sunday started off with the usual wonderful spirit of worship, but quickly there seemed to be a growing intensity. Several began to weep and at several times, spontaneous prayer would break out. They were weeping and crying out to God in awe and wonder. Then you could feel the presence of God move into the church. It was like an altar call --we all just abandoned ourselves unto the Lord and worshiped like children playing in the rain. No worry, no agenda, just the enjoyment of worshipping God.

Then the Lord began to give me a prophetic word for this church. This is something I do not lean toward, but it was very strong -- and as I prayed, you could feel the glory increasing in the room. It was a warning not to miss this hour of visitation, this opportunity for Africa. They have lost their saltiness, they have become like the world and God has come to restore it. They must not miss this hour of decision. I told them that Jesus has literally come to Africa. When He comes it is always a time of decision. Jesus always forced people to accept Him or reject Him. He has come to separate those who are hard after him from those who have selfish motives.

ALL THE MESSAGES HAVE CHANGED God has so amazed me during the messages this year. Almost all the messages have been changed as I stand at the podium. Sometimes I start with one message and end up in another direction. God has so taken over the preaching. I find myself wishing I could take notes as He comes up with some great stuff.

Sunday I started on Ezekiel 9 (although I never really got there), and the Lord took me to Romans 8, and then to Gen. 3:5. It was about the lies of Satan. The enemy has told us it is okay to do as we want. He told Adam and Eve they could be like God, know good and evil and be like God. I read Malachi 3:14: when we disobey we are saying it is not fruitful to serve God and in a sense, saying God does not exist. (You could almost hear the gasp from the people -- now they were hanging on every word.) The Lord took me to Isaiah 29:16. I said, "We have told God He did not make us, the clay has told the potter you did not make me." I told them Satan has even told us we can be saved and do as we want. We can be like God -- we can do as we please (the same lie He told Adam and Eve). It has even weakened the gospel because we think we are saved as long as we pray and attend church. The Lord led me back to Romans. Paul told us Jesus not only paid for our sins, He provided a way to be free from sin. Why would God provide a way for us to be free from Sin and then say it is okay to live in sin? We are heaping sin upon sin when we depend on our own strength (Isaiah 30:1). God clearly has not called us to do our own thing. Much of Christianity is in real trouble because we have eaten the fruit of deception (Hosea 10:13). We think we can do religious things and God will bless us.

WHAT HUNGER REALLY LOOKS LIKE It just keeps flowing and flowing and it is no longer me -- the Lord has taken over the message. The anointing is so strong people do not move. Their expressions go unchanged for long periods of time. I wish everyone could see what hunger for God really looks like. No wonder He is moving in their land. I hear the song in my ear from the Winds of Worship/South Africa CD, "He is moving in the land, He is moving in the land."

Later, the pastor's mother (who is almost 80) came to me and said, "It is not by chance you shared from Malachi. After the Old Testament prophets, God next sent John the Baptist to prepare the people for what Jesus was preparing to do." She told me God had shown her that He had sent me to Africa to prepare the church for what God was fixing to do. Her word reminded me that the Lord had earlier told me two things: Tell My people 1. Have no other Gods before me 2. To follow Me is to make disciples; all that do, will walk in my constantly increasing glory until I come for My Church.

EXPLOSIONS OF HIS GLORY This year the door to the kingdom has really been open for souls. We had another 20 or so accept Jesus as Lord and Savior Sunday. They were on their knees weeping before I could even pray with them. First 5, then several more. Then we wait, and slowly the Holy Spirit draws them home. It is amazing as we watch God move and touch hearts. Then the altar call for the glory; it is only a time to pray with these people, because the glory has been here since the worship started.

The altar is now filled as many stream forward. They hurry so they don't miss what God is doing. Now the first two rows are weeping and God stops me! "Have these people take three steps back and call My intercessors forward." I can hear God's possessive tone for the intercessors. I do as instructed and the intensity increases dramatically.

There have been few times where God just explodes into a room, now it is happening before our eyes! I look at the two team members to see what they are doing! They look at me with wonder and amazement! What are we witnessing? What is God doing? He is changing His church! We move around carefully and pray. Then, it doesn't seem possible, but a STRONGER wave of glory comes in and people begin falling. The people erupted in cries, weeping, wailing, travail. When God moves in like this, I just go and sit down or stand to the side and wait. These explosions of glory (forgive me, that is all I can call it) are so supernatural, you can feel the holiness and fear of the Lord strongly in the room.

The pastor has his head in his hands. No one is watching. We are all caught up in His presence. It is glorious!

Africa, Arise!

Blessings Prayer Partners, We are in Dar es Salaam. It is Thursday and a day of rest. We will leave in the morning for Kibaha. Please be praying for this two day conference of area coastal pastors.

WHY SUCH INTENSITY? Last night we ministered at Galiliaya Church in Dar es Salaam. It was one of those last minute additions to an already busy schedule, but I still felt the Lord wanted us to go. Our whole team preached. The subject was prayer and I followed up with aligning ourselves with God for His purposes. During the sharing time, one of the intercessors had shared about the powerful meetings we had at Kerege and Mpinga. Those meetings were so intense it was hard to handle. Why? One key reason was that we prayed and found God's plan and then committed to doing it His way. This means that obedience is more important than the goal or achievement.

CHANGED IN THE FLAME That evening we talked about what has happened and how we were changed. We all agreed something has happened. We talked about how this move of His glory has been going on for over a year now and has continued to increase. Now there has been some kind of increase. We feel like we are walking in a flame -- that's the only way I know how to describe it. In fact, when I was sitting next to one of the team members, she told me I felt hot to the touch. I told her my skin feels hot.

When I got to the podium, I could feel the same rumbling in my spirit -- like an eruption was coming in this service. Even before I stood to speak, I could feel the glory and the fire. It seems wherever we go, the glory is already there.

OBEDIENCE NO MATTER WHAT THE PRICE Tonight you could feel the Presence strongly in the church. I told these people that God was calling forth those who would walk in victory. To do that, we must walk only in the footsteps of Jesus. These are the days of empowerment, because God is sending a move of His Spirit that is changing His church to love and obey no matter what the price. In His perfect will and direction is His power to overcome ourselves. I told them that Jesus defeated the devil. Now we must defeat our flesh -- and coupled with Jesus' victory over the devil will result in victory in building his kingdom.

Then I gave the altar call. I had been impressed to tell them, "Don't come forward for prayer unless you are serious. If you are not willing to lay your life down -- I mean to literally die for the gospel -- don't come down to this altar call." (How would that play in your church? Sounds militant, but it is what normal Christianity is all about.)

CONSUMING POWER OF GOD They came up slowly. One by one at first. When they arrived at the altar, I would lay hands on them and the power of God would consume them so fast they would gasp. Some trembled and fell as they walked to the altar. Several tried to catch those falling, the power was so strong now. Many were on the floor holding their faces, chests, stomachs. The glory was changing them. Before several minutes went by, most all of the church was on the floor wailing, weeping, crying, "Asante, Yesu" -- thank you, Jesus.

HIS CONSTANTLY INCREASING PRESENCE We left and went to eat with the two team members and Ralph Mrope. One of the intercessors asked, "Something has happened to us. What is it?" The others agreed. After a lengthy discussion, we realized God has made some changes in us. The glory has increased, the anointing has increased. We are walking in a new, deeper level, more powerful, more intense. I must tell you it is hard to handle, but it is like I am constantly in prayer with Him.

I know that His name Yahweh means "constantly increasing manifestation of His presence." Our God desires to constantly increase His presence on us. Still, we realize something has happened. He has turned up the power and now signs and wonders are coming forth. More healings are happening at the meetings now. I keep telling the Lord this is His show so do what You want, I am ready. Go as high as You want and as far as You want -- there are those of us who will pay the price. The world must see and feel and be changed by His glory.

Psalms 31:19 in the NIV says, "How great is your goodness which you have stored up for those who fear you, which you bestow in the sight of men on those who take refuge in you."

That goodness is the same goodness that God passed before Moses when he asked to see God's glory. For those who will totally depend on or fear the Lord, He will place His glory on them so others may see it.

AFRICA, ARISE! Oh dear saints, the world needs to see a church that has God's glory on it. We must be sold out to do God's plans, God's way. It will not be about us but about Jesus in us. That church will be the overcomers who will prevail against the gates of hell.

Africa is arising to be those overcomers. I now realize Africa is not a continent -- it is a PEOPLE with a supernatural heart for God that will proclaim and take His glory to the nations. Africa, arise in America, England, France, South America -- all over the world. Africa, arise! Africans -- Levites of God's heart -- arise. I say to you arise, shine -- for the glory of the Lord has risen upon you.

AFRICA:

It Is Raining All Over the World Now!

Steve Grey

Blessings of His Name to All, Those of you who have been on the mission field know that the mental strain and adjustment of being so far from family and friends is difficult -- actually impossible, without His grace. We here in Tanzania always look forward to getting e-mails of encouragement from you who pray, and enjoy what God is doing.

HE SPOKE IT CLEARLY

I just had a interesting thing happen. I was reading e-mails, and God made me stop and start to write this message. He spoke clearly and repeated it. "IT IS RAINING ALL OVER THE WORLD NOW!" I could see in the Spirit the rain of His presence -- not just in Africa -- but everywhere. Yes, it is heavier here now, but it is raining everywhere and the end-time harvest rain has begun.

HARD WORDS, BUT TRUE.

We all can come out of our comfortable place and get into His rain. He wants you to know wherever you are it is raining! Come into the cleansing, wonderful rain of His presence! How do you do this? You let Jesus reign in your life to the maximum. You get tired of no power, no joy, no victory and you decide to let Jesus radically reign in your life. You forget about doing the possible and prepare to do the impossible under His direction and empowerment.

Listen, even Christians who live in the comfortable lifestyles we enjoy have become too much like the world. In 2 Cor. 6:16-17 we are commanded to hate the world we live in and too many of us like it a little too much. If we love the world we hate God. Hard words but true.

ALL HE REALLY NEEDED

I must tell you a story. Recently we were in Kerege, and as often happens a man without shoes (a Christian brother, I believe) came up to me and told me how bad off he was. He wanted help, he needed a job, he could not take care of his wife and he was asking us to help with money or whatever we could. We would love to help all of these people, but we were sent here to preach the gospel and make disciples. Our funds are limited and we do what we can. We agreed to pray and do for this man whatever God told us to do.

After two days of church services where God so powerfully touched these people, this man found himself on the floor of the church experiencing God's glory. The next day he came back to see me. He walked up with the radiance of God on his face and with tears in his eyes he said, "I need nothing else from you, you have done quite enough for me, God has touched me with His glory."

In that moment I realized "he got it." Our problems, life, wants, desires mean nothing compared to the surpassing greatness of knowing Christ Jesus (Phil 3:7-10). He had stood in God's glory and considered it all he really needed.

STAYING CLOSE TO HIS HEART

I must tell you, this is my prayer for the world -- and why God has allowed this ministry to walk in such power! We only want Him and to stand in His glory! Where we go from here -- America, England, or even stay in Africa -- no longer matters. As long as His presence goes with us!

Now God has shown me that for years I have left Africa with a heavy heart. I was leaving the warmth of the fire of His heart to go back to the cold world of captivity. Yes, I have learned to some extent to stay separate and keep myself close to His heart. However, with the closeness I experience to His heart I also must share the burdens of His heart. Many of His children are too far from His heart and only know the worship of lips. They have their minds set on the things of the flesh and not the Spirit. This has caused them to come out of His rain, and so He had stopped it. But now!

Now! It is raining everywhere again -- can you feel it? The glorious rain of His presence. America, France, England, South America -- it is raining everywhere! We can all come into the rain of His presence if we will truly let Him reign in our heart!

Praise Him, IT IS RAINING ALL OVER THE WORLD NOW!

A Father's Love

June 03, 2000

My earthly father died several years ago, and I still grieve for him. Even though my father passed away in March, it is in June and around Christmas that I seem to miss him the most. Christmas I can understand and I think June because it is the month we celebrate Father's Day. My father taught me how to float and swim, fish and camp, love and laugh! He was a wonderful man - and even though he has been gone now for many years, I still often "hear his voice" counseling me in my thoughts - and "visit and laugh with him" in my dreams.

Earlier this morning the Lord gave me a Word, and it was so "eloquent" in its simplicity and "tender" with His love that I was greatly blessed and comforted by it. Afterwards He told me to call it "A Father's Love." Then, as I was preparing to eat lunch I was told that this word was for "ALL of His Children...." Whether you know the Lord or not, He KNOWS YOU - and LOVES YOU! It is "A FATHER'S HEART" to remind us of those times when we were children and did something - or said something - that years later is still fondly remembered. Our Father in Heaven wants us ALL to know that whether or not our "earthly father" is in our lives - we DO have a Heavenly Father who will pick us up and cradle us when we hurt, wipe away all of our tears, surround us with His love and compassion, bring us comfort, and keep us safe when the "storms of life" thunder around us! He will not give us a "stone," when we ask for Bread..... Nor will He pry or ask unwanted questions which we might not want to answer, but He allows us the liberty to go "our own way." yet still loves us enough that when we return home to him He welcomes us with open arms and a celebration party! What an INCREDIBLE example of a Father - is OUR GOD! What a "great love" He shows us everyday by allowing the sun to shine and the rain to fall - the seasons to change - and the heavens to shine forth with His radiance and grandeur! I pray that you are blessed by "A FATHER'S LOVE," for this word wasn't JUST for me - but for HIS CREATION - which He loves with an eternal, everlasting L-O-V-E!

A Father's Love

Do you remember when you were a little girl My daughter? You would go sit in the Presbyterian Church by your house during the long, hot afternoons that summer. You didn't touch anything, never bothered anyone or even saw anyone else during those days - you didn't even know WHY you came---but I AM was there...My Presence permeated the air around you - wooing you - calling out to you to "COME!"

I always come at the point of one's DEEPEST NEED. There is no valley too low - or mountain top too high - where one can call upon MY NAME - and I AM IS NOT TO BE FOUND! I meet you - when you cry out with everything within you: "LORD - IF YOU ARE THERE - COME!" Are you hurt this day My Children? Then- call, out to Me...am I NOT the Great Physician - the restorer of the breach, the healer of the sick and diseased! Do I not "break the bondages and chains" by which you are tied and bound to the enemy of your souls? I am a Savior that CARES - CARES DEEPLY FOR HIS CHILDREN - whether they know Me or not! A savior that cares ONLY for those who KNOW HIM - would not be MUCH of a savior - would He? A savior that would ONLY SEEK to make Himself known to those who are already acquainted with Him - would not reach out to the lost, the hurting, the forlorn and forsaken!

I was alone - the most forsaken of men, I KNOW WHAT IT MEANS when your friends are nowhere to be found - when you have just suffered great personal loss! I was wounded, and bruised for YOUR TRANSGRESSIONS - yet, do I bring these to your remembrance when you ask for "My Forgiveness?" I AM THE REDEEMER GOD..... and I "redeem" ALL who call out to Me. If you seek Me with ALL YOUR HEART - I will "COME UNTO YOU....and SUP WITH YOU....and CLAIM YOU AS MY OWN!" And NO ONE can take you out of My Hand! I will never, no NEVER LEAVE YOU OR FORSAKE YOU. Though I was forsaken by all - I AM

FAITHFUL AND TRUE, and I do not return into the enemy's hands one of My Own!

If you are BOUND THIS DAY - this ask Me to "LOOSE YOU!" Ask me to "REMOVE THOSE GRAVE CLOTHES" in which you are bound. Look for Me and I WILL BE FOUND. Call to Me and I WILL ANSWER. Forsake Me if you must- but I WILL NOT FORSAKE YOU.....for it is MY nature to be faithful - EVEN UNTO DEATH!

I remember you My Daughter, so small, feet dangling from the pew.... just "listening" not even knowing what you were listening for. It was cool in the church against the heat of the sun outside. I drew you UNTO MYSELF - though you did not realize it then. I "called out to you," to "ENTER IN" and you came. In those long ago summer days, I reached down and comforted your heart and put my seal upon your forehead. I chose YOU My daughter - you did not choose Me! But there were others of "this flock" that had to be raised up before I could call you back unto Myself...before I would "reveal" Myself to you, before I would "sup" with you. In My timing - I called you out - I called you forth, to study, meditate, pray - seek My Face! You were taught by Me, not man.... just as you were called by Me and not man. If a man calls you to work for him - then he will expect a just labor for what he gives you in return....yet - I require no "labor," only that you REST IN ME..... If a man says to you - "Come, and I WILL TEACH you of our God..." and yet he does not have wisdom or spiritual insight into My person - and refutes by "human logic" the veracity of My Word - what will you have learned? If someone speaks to you of My grace - but then turns and expects you to "walk their path of rules and regulations," what good is My grace? If someone speaks a Word to you and says it is from Me, but you feel not My Love or My Spirit witnessing within you that it IS from Me - what use are "his words?"

I give Words of LIFE! Not words of death... When those who are in troubled waters ask for Me to "Come and calm the rough seas," will I not come and do so? Still, many have not - because they ASK NOT. In their earthy wisdom they seek to find a "solution" for themselves.

Wherever I walked - someone was touched and affected by My Presence, whether for good or bad - depended on their OWN heart condition. Whoever I touched was healed if their faith was in the Healer - and not by what they saw with their own physical eyes. Whoever I spoke too - was challenged by My Words to "look for the Kingdom of God" from God's perspective - not man's! Whatever I called forth - came to pass. Whenever I spoke forth "LIGHT!" - darkness had to leave. For I AM IN TRUTH A SAVIOR; A REDEEMER GOD and I came to show MY GREAT LOVE FOR ALL OF MY CREATION!

I AM LOVE....and I LOVE YOU. I gave My life for YOU - so that YOU could live also! What parent would not offer up himself for his child? What parent will not teach and train a most beloved child the "right way to go?" Abide in Me - and I will abide in you. If I call you forth to do great and mighty works in My Name, will I not be there with you - DOING THOSE WORKS? If I prepare a feast to celebrate your Homecoming - will you not come singing and dancing and rejoicing that I have done so? My love knows no territorial boundaries, no cultural differences, no racial preferences. My love does not recognize a "color barrier," nor a "frequent flyer plan." I AM no respecter of persons! My love is perfect - complete and eternal. When you come to Me and open the door of your heart - then I will come in and make my "home" with you so that we may be together always! How can you KNOW this in true? - that My Love is as this? THIS IS TRUTH..... I AM LOVE....THEREFORE - I GAVE!

For God so greatly loved and dearly prized the world that He [even] gave up His ONLY begotten (unique) Son so that whoever believes in Him shall not perish - but have eternal life!

A Father's Quest

D. W. Tuggy

On this Father's Day, June 18, 2000, a quest or search is going on in the heart & ministry of one father. This father's search is in the natural, but of a spiritual nature. This spiritual father has been instructed by the Lord to find & bring together all he can find who are also spiritual fathers in the same sense as he.

Much has been observed, & properly so, about the effects today on the families of the "missing father". The father may be absent because of death, divorce, separation, or other activities, such as work or recreation. In other families, the father, who is not absent or dis-interested, finds his influence ignored, ridiculed, or otherwise deemed barely necessary, other than to provide for the family's physical needs.

In the politically correct world of the mass media it is cool to dis-respect & otherwise minimize the need for a father's true leadership & example. Mothers, who are also of course greatly needed & an essential part of God's plan, are often portrayed as all that is necessary for a family's proper growth & success - but supposedly even they can be absent most of the time without harm.

Of course, both are needed & both clearly modeled in God's Word. Not only are fathers needed in the home, but also spiritual fathers are essential in the church. Many today are taking note of the "feminization" of the church, which has been going on in various forms for many years.

God's answer, given forth in His Word, to develop balanced families, first spiritually & then as a result also in the natural, is becoming talked about increasingly as many are hearing Him about the next step in the restoration of the Church to its New Testament glory & power.

God's plan, or order for the Church, has always been to have spiritual fathers to watch over the inception, growth, & spiritual progression of each new body of believers. Many have served faithfully, & at great cost to do this throughout the ages as pastors, shepherds to their flocks.

In the past century God has brought back into much of His Church what has been mostly ignored, although never totally lost for many hundreds of years. The gifts of the Spirit have resulted in a number of things - great blessings & growth together with great controversy. (Remember, Christ said He came to bring a sword, not peace upon the earth.) (Matt. 10:34 & following).

Of course here He was talking about the temporary division caused by those who follow Him now, in this time. His eventual result & of course great desire is for peace & harmony when evil is destroyed for all time. (Rev. 21)

Part of the excuse of those resisting His work comes from the imperfections of those He chooses to use. (Hasn't it always been so?) There is always a reason to be found to resist & reject God's will, work, & ways if your heart is hardened against new changes wrought by the Master Potter.

There is a saying, unfortunately too often true, that the greatest opponents of the next revival or move of God are the leaders (& participants) of the last one. Of course, this is not always true, & of course in God's purpose, each new work He does is meant also to be preparation for the next. Herein is perhaps the greatest test though of whether one has begun to trust in principles or truths learned instead of keeping his heart on God alone.

If one begins to feel that he now understands how God works (& therefore must work), he then starts to become a legend in his own mind & will oppose anything new which does not fit into his personal box of "how God must work" (because He has done so in the past).

The next move of God, which has already started, is to bring forth those who are qualified by Him to oversee the local fathers (pastors & elders) of His Body. In the New Testament times these were called apostles. Today, the term "apostle" is often used in a different or lesser way. Here, I am speaking of the term in the New Testament sense.

Those whom God called to be apostles, who also were chosen & appointed by Him, have certain qualifications which can be observed from the New Testament & verified by those who hold this same office today.

First, they were eyewitnesses to the resurrected Christ - the first 11 as He appeared to them, teaching them after His resurrection & the others, including Paul - to whom He showed Himself personally, in a supernatural way.

Also they not only had working in their lives (& were able to instruct about & impart as led by the Holy Spirit), all the spiritual gifts listed in I Cor. 12, but also were able to, & did function in all the offices listed in Ephesians 4.

The fruit of their ministries also bore witness to the validity of their calling & appointment by God.

Many are called to this office, but not many (yet) have been willing to undergo the rigorous training by the Holy Spirit to enable them to release their own ideas, natural abilities & fleshly desires to receive all of this enabling from the heart of the Father.

What can we do, who desire a greater release of the purity, power & glory of the early Church upon the church today? Several things come to mind:

- 1) Read & study for yourself the work of Paul & the other apostles in the New Testament. See for yourself if the things I have said above about apostles are true.
- 2) Pray that God would continue & increase this great work of bringing forth fully qualified "spiritual fathers", called & appointed by Him to be apostles, into His church today.
- 3) Pray for mercy, true understanding, & revelation from God for those who are opposing this last great move of His Spirit to bring forth a pure, holy, & triumphant bride for His Son's wedding
- 4) If this calling rings a resonant bell in your heart, consider the fact that God is not limited by us - if we are willing to respond to His call & preparation.
- 5) Go to this website;
<http://www.apostles-gathering.com/apostles-gather-index.html>

& read about God's amazing plan, bringing His apostles to meet together for fellowship & instruction - pray for, & support it as though the life of the church depends upon it, because in a real sense it does. This apostle has been instructed by the Lord to find all the fellow apostles possible - in any part of the world. This quest is ongoing. At their last meeting 21 were present from all over the world. We do live in exciting times - in many ways!

Although I have nothing to do with the ministry mentioned above, God has borne witness to my heart, as a result of over 30 years experience with another apostolic ministry that He is truly at work here. If you have further questions that I can answer, I will gladly do so as time allows.

Yours in Christ,
David Tuggy

A Glimpse of the Army

Patty Blaisdell

What will the modern day army of God look like as we march into our Promised Land of the harvest of souls into the kingdom of God? What characteristics will we exhibit? The Holy Spirit gave me a video preview at a conference at TACF on 5-14-99.

The vision

In a very real vision where I was a participant, I saw the army of God marching through the cities of the earth. Jesus was at the head of the army robed in purple on a white horse. Behind him were people carrying purple banners. Behind them were trumpeters followed by a large band of worshippers. Then came the rest of the army. They consisted of every age, social status, and nationality. As they passed through the city there was much noise. It was the noise of a multitude rejoicing and shouting. There was deliverance and joy. It was not all orderly or contained but people were flowing together and constantly moving forward. Although the army was made up of individuals, they moved as one in a living, vibrant unit. As they moved forward through narrow streets like a parade, they pulled many others into the procession. People were swept into the flow much like being swept into a river as it floods. As people were swept in, they quickly went through the ranks and were at the forefront of the army.

As the army marched the cities of the earth were conquered for the Lord. There was an opposing army. The enemy army inflicted some casualties but there was so much fighting among their own that there was great carnage in their ranks. The image and words of "blood up to the horses bridle" came to me.

I saw banners of love flying down the center of the Lord's procession. Those bringing up the rear were waving white banners. As the army marched, I saw waves of God's presence pass over the army in increasing strength (one right after the other) and frequency. The last wave was way over my head and as it passed I felt as if I was drowning in the presence of the Lord.

The meaning

I believe the Lord was giving us a snapshot of what He desires us to be and become in the days ahead. We are to be Joshuas and Calebs with a difference. Joshua and Caleb were only two Old Testament representatives or foreshadows of an entire group of people—the church or army of God. They went to claim a land promised to their forefathers. Our Promised Land cannot be mapped out because it is a spiritual land. It was promised to our forefathers, the disciples, and to us. Jesus won the title deed to this land and gave it to us. He said, "All authority in heaven and earth has been given to me. Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age." Matt.28:18-19

I believe in this vision, the Lord emphasized some keys to becoming those warriors that will conquer the hearts of the lost.

Jesus was the head of the army. He led, we followed. He must be the head of the church and of our lives again. If we go only where He goes, we will be successful. He was robed in purple, which speaks of royalty. He is king and will govern our lives as one. He rides a white horse of purity and justice. The people behind him carrying purple have perhaps discovered that they are a chosen people and a royal priesthood. The trumpeters are those proclaiming the word of the Lord and preparing the way for others to follow the Lord. The worshippers follow. I believe a wave of worship will soon come upon the church. There will be large gatherings at times where worship will go up before God 24 hours a day. (Since I had this vision I have heard of people who have it in their heart to hold large 24-hour worship sessions around the world.) The army is made up of all people. None will be left out as the church learns to embrace all people and drop racism, social standings, and age gaps. There was much noise and joy. The army will be in celebration and victory. We have been silent behind the stained glass long enough. There is no containing people truly touched by God. The army will be in unity and full of life and people will be drawn to join the ranks. I saw that new Christians will grow quickly and many will be in the forefront of what God is doing in the earth. We can already see this happening. There will be battles, but as the devils get angry at what God is doing in the earth, they will become a divided house and hinder themselves.

The main standard, or banner, or sign of this army will be love. The banners of love were central, but flew over all the ranks. And at the end were the white banners. I believe the church will come into a deeper level of purity as she is healed and cleansed by her bridegroom. I believe as the darkness of the world grows, so will the light become brighter. God will cover us in his presence until we are drowned (or die to self) in His arms.

So, this last days army is characterized by :

Øknowing who God, Jesus, and the Holy Spirit are Øknowing who they are

Øtrumpeting the word of God throughout the earth

Øworship

Øacceptance of others that are different

Øjoy

Øforward motion

Øliveliness

Øunity

Ørapid multiplication and growth

Ølove

Øpurity

Eventually , when the earthly Promised Land is taken and all the harvest is gathered into His storehouse, we will be totally engulfed in Him and rise to meet Him in the air. Then we will enter the real, heavenly Promised Land. Revelations 19 gives an awesome description of the warrior King Christ. And look who is following Him. “The armies of heaven were following him, riding on white horses and dressed in fine linen, white and clean.” Vs. 14

If you have enlisted in this army and endure to the end, you will be in the heavenly army. Let’s remember as we march on in the army of God that we are only temporarily passing through as aliens on our way to a much better Promised Land.

By faith Abraham, when called to go to a place he would later receive as an inheritance, obeyed and went, even though he did not know where he was going. By faith he made his home in the promised land like a stranger in a foreign country; he lived in tents, as did Isaac and Jacob, who were heirs with him of the same promise. For he was looking forward to the city with foundations, whose architect and builder is God. Heb 11:8-10

Apostles and Prophets Gathering

Evening of September 29, 2000 to evening of October 2, 2000

For three nights and three days until afternoon of October 2

Ezra 3:6 From the first day of the seventh month they began to offer burnt offerings to the LORD. But the foundation of the temple of the LORD was not yet laid.

Ezra 3:10 And when the builders laid the foundation of the temple of the LORD, the priests in their vestments came forward with trumpets, and the Levites, the sons of Asaph, with cymbals, to praise the LORD, according to the directions of David king of Israel;

Ezra 3:11 and they sang responsively, praising and giving thanks to the LORD, "For he is good, for his steadfast love endures for ever toward Israel." And all the people shouted with a great shout, when they praised the LORD, because the foundation of the house of the LORD was laid.

Ephesians 2:19-22 So then you are no longer strangers and sojourners, but you are fellow citizens with the saints and members of the household of God, built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Christ Jesus himself being the cornerstone, in whom the whole structure is joined together and grows into a holy temple in the Lord; in whom you also are built into it for a dwelling place of God in the Spirit.

This is a time of intense fellowship, sharing, relationship building and a time to conduct business amongst true apostles and prophets of the Lord Jesus Christ. We do not claim nor aspire to be the only grouping or gathering of apostles, however, we do recognize that as we seriously come together to see our part of the foundation mended, that others will be inspired to mend their sections and soon, the whole foundation will be joined together. The Lord's apostles and prophets must be built together before the rest of the Lord's Holy Temple, which we all are, will be built together to perfection. There will be no "certifying" of any apostles or prophets nor any course for aspirants but "your gift will make a way for you," and those in attendance will be recognized by the gift and revelation that each possesses.

We outline some of the main goals to be accomplished as apostles and prophets of the Lord Jesus Christ come together.

To "know those who labor amongst you." To share one with another for mutual edification. To answer unresolved questions or help with any problems or deep concerns. To come to a mutual love, respect and support one for another. To allow the Father to knit hearts together in Love. To allow the Holy Spirit of Truth to bring about some basic doctrinal unity. "That you all speak the same thing." "Continue in the apostles' doctrine." To discover what that is. To discover a means of working and cooperating together so that only Jesus Christ receives all the glory, honor, and power and only His Beloved Body, His Bride, His Church is being built. To come to a mutual submission and accountability one to another as peers in this very serious ministry. To discover means of broadening our connection and interconnection with true apostles and prophets across the country and around the world so that the foundation stones may be more quickly and fitly joined together in love and submission one to another. That there be a true co-laboring together in the One Temple of God.

This gathering is under the sole headship of Jesus Christ operating through the Holy Spirit in each of those in attendance. This gathering comes under no other name than the name of Jesus Christ and is not affiliated with any worldly or religious organization. Each brother will have the freedom and opportunity to speak and act as the Holy Spirit directs. Though we are not the only apostles and prophets or only grouping thereof, we proceed as the counsel of apostles and elders in Jerusalem did, with each offering their convictions, but the Holy Spirit of Truth being the convictor of hearts to bring all to one accord in the Lord.

We do not want to miss anything that the Lord has to impart to us at this time. Therefore, we are asking that as you pray in preparation for this gathering, that you would do the following:

ATTENDANCE: Let us know of your intention or commitment to come to this gathering. Please provide the following even if you are not able to physically attend at this time -- we seek your participation as much as possible.

CONTACT INFORMATION: If you are an apostle or prophet or know of apostle(s) or prophet(s) please forward to us complete contact information.

BIOGRAPHY: Please provide a written autobiography in which you recount your calling and what you have done with your calling or where you stand in your calling.

QUESTIONS: Please provide a list of questions, topics or concerns which you feel should be addressed within a gathering of apostles and prophets. For example, we already have some, that are more than suggestions, but actual questions to be presented to you: What are our basic responsibilities as apostles and prophets? What are our responsibilities and relationship one to another in these ministries? How in practical terms will the Church come to order in any town and especially in any city? What are the fundamental or "apostles'" doctrines which should be taught? In other words, what is the Gospel that should be preached and the basic doctrine that should be taught to believers everywhere? What things would most help you progress in your calling? TOPICS: Please tell us anything in particular you have to share -- general summary, you need not give the whole exposition. If you have or would prepare a written text of any message you feel you should share with this gathering of apostles and prophets please do so and get that to us as soon as possible, so it can be made available to all (This will expedite our mutual edification).

MATERIALS: If you have any written materials you can share with the others -- or audio or video tapes, please let us know the availability of those. Also, if you have electronic, digital (computer) format of the materials, please make that available or available to us to duplicate for the others. Please include any web site URL.

BEFORE the gathering: 1) We will supply you with list(s) of questions and topics submitted so you can be praying for divine answers 2) biographies and manuscripts you supply we be prepared for distribution to participants.

DURING the gathering there will be introductions, prayer, delivery of messages as the Holy Spirit directs, and "round table" discussions to hammer out tough issues.

AFTER the gathering we will make available to all participants a compendium of the proceedings (allowing each to strike or edit any of their own submissions), and will expect this to be freely reproducible "as long as there is no change to the text nor any charge made for the same." We will pursue avenues of co-laboring according to developments during the gathering. Respond to the following - preferably by email as an initial contact:

A Vision of a Great Earthquake

Robert Burgess

On the evening of Jan 27th 2000, I dreamt that My wife Deborah, and I were in a large auditorium of some sort; where a large meeting was soon to be held. There were many people all around us making preparations for these upcoming services, the weather was warm and the doors were standing open. Some of the people were busy sweeping, others doing little touch-up painting, and others doing various kinds of arranging things (Moving the Piano, arranging the chairs.. PA equipment was being unloaded and tested, etc.). I recognized no one, nor were we known by any of them. In fact, no one paid any attention to us at all, it seemed kind of strange that they wouldn't ask us who we were, and where we were from etc.. , but I just thought "It's because they don't have much time for small talk right now."

I remember thinking that this place did not look anything like a Church Building, but rather, more like a hockey stadium, or a place where athletic events might be held.. I was an oblong shaped building, about 75 feet across and about four hundred feet or more in length, and the peak of the ceiling appeared about 50 feet high. It looked somewhat unfinished, at least for a "Church;" The walls looked almost like the inside of a "Pole Barn" of some kind, there were big wooden beams spaced about 20 feet apart all along the outside walls. I don't remember seeing it from the outside to be able to describe it that way, because as far as I can remember the vision started with us inside.. There were no walls or partitions on the inside at all, just one big room. It had several (6 or 7) "I" beams holding the roof up with one major "I" beam in the center of the whole thing. The floor appeared to be one giant slab of concrete. We were just standing there watching these as they hurriedly prepared for the services which were to begin soon. They seemed to be deeply concerned about the "Chairs," as there didn't appear to be nearly enough to accommodate the kind of crowd that could potentially fill the place (there was only one rack of them, possibly 50-60 chairs in all). All at once, I felt something down inside of me begin to tremble uncontrollably, I said loudly "We had better get ready, there's going to be an Earthquake!!" At this, everyone stopped what they were doing and silently looked directly at me, as if I would say or do something else.. I just stared back in silence.. After a few moments, they turned to look at each other, and then because there was no trembling or any sign of the predicted "Quake" they returned to what they had been doing (Shaking their heads, slightly). But my wife believed me, and said "What shall we do?" I said "We will stay right here, and ride it out." After a few more minutes passed, I again felt the trembling from within me and said again (Not as loudly this time); "There is going to be an earthquake!" At this, one or two of them glanced sideways at me, then at one another and continued working (with little smirks, or almost grimaces on their faces). Again Sister Deborah asked me; "Bob, if there's going to be an earthquake, shouldn't we leave this place?" I said; "No, we're safer in here than anywhere else." So we stayed around in spite of the little smiles and tongue-in-cheek reception we now felt coming from those preparing for the service.. But as I looked around the building for a safe place to be when the quake hit, my eyes were drawn to the center column which was much larger than the other "I" beams.. It seemed to have beams running out of it about halfway up reaching near the tops of the other beams and connecting the whole building's superstructure. I took her by the hand and led her over to it, and we stood together there.

The next moment I again felt the trembling from within, and said; "There's going to be an earthquake," and almost before I could get the words out of my mouth the whole building raised up about 20 feet or more just like a giant elevator "going up." You could feel the blood running down to your feet, it was so real.. My wife began to scream and cry, and I just held my arms firmly around her against the huge center beam and said; "Don't worry honey, we'll be all right, it's much safer for us here, than anywhere else." The little group of workers broke into a panic, and began to run around like chickens with their heads cut off, some running for the open doors, and others seeking to get under something strong. At this point the walls seem to become transparent, and I could see the mayhem taking place outside.. The ground was heaving up and down like an ocean in a storm, while the building stood firm, only going up and down "Solidly" like a great ship in a troubled sea. I heard a great crashing sound, and looked at where the chairs were stacked, and they were now scattered out on the floor, some of them seemed to be balanced uprightly almost seeming to dance across the great cement slab. I remember people on the outside trying to get in through the several open doors but because of the great shaking going on, only a few managed to jump in as the "Ship" went up and down gracefully. I looked again at those who had been working so hard in preparation, and as they saw where we stood that we were safe there, they began to run to the same giant pillar and got in as close as they could and held on.

End of Dream Robert Burgess

The Interpretation:

The "Meeting"

There is, in this very hour, "Something afoot" in the Spirit of God; we can sense with all five senses of our Spiritual discernment within us that there is some kind of a great move of the Spirit, and a coming together of God's people near at hand. God never does anything but that He first "Warns His servant's the Prophets (See Amos 3:7); I feel much like the early pioneers of the "Latter Rain Revival" must have felt just prior to the Spirit falling upon the faithful in ones North Battleford Saskatchewan, in February of 1948. There was an expectancy of something great, yet inscrutable, for nothing like it had ever happened before; they were going where they had never been. We are not given all the details, but through dreams, visions, and Revelations of the Spirit, the picture begins to unfold of another "Great Shaking" such as we experienced in the 80's, only this time, I cannot help but to believe that the results will be dramatically different.

The Building

I realized immediately that the "Building" had the exact dimensions as "Noah's Ark;" The Ark of course, is always shown as a type of the Salvation of the Church (i.e. The Body of Christ). The fact that it appeared to be a place where "Sporting Events" would be held, shows to a degree, the spirit behind so many of the meetings which are held there. An exercise of the flesh is put on display, while the crowds cheer loudly for their favorite players and teams. I don't mean to be critical of anything or anyone; but this is what the Lord shows me about our condition, and I may not like it any better than someone else; but the Truth is the Truth.

No Walls of Partition

The fact that there were no walls in a building that size must surely point to the fact first of all, that Christ is not divided, and that secondly, we are all in the "Same Boat" as it were. We cannot but identify with the Body of Christ, no matter whether it is doing right or wrong; We are not divorced from the Church, although we may spend most of our time suffering without the Camp, the Church is the Lord's corporate "House" and we love her regardless of her faults.

No Recognition - We were Strangers

Reflecting on the fact that none of these people who were so busy at work preparing for this meeting really knew us, or had any interest in becoming acquainted with us, seems to lend itself to the fact that the Church in general, has no discernment of the Apostles and Prophets which are sent to Her in this hour, nor do they really have any desire to acquaint themselves with them.

Fifty or Sixty Chairs

The next item for consideration is that there were not nearly enough "Chairs" or seats to accommodate the kind of crowd that could potentially fill this place. I remember calculating in my mind that there was only from 50 to 60 chairs in the rack. Now Fifty is the number of the Anointing (Pentecost) and Sixty is the number of the Holy Place (or, Pentecostal Realm); I believe these numbers are worthy of our attention.. "Seats, or Seating," may also speak to us of "Offices, Ministries, or Positions" within the Lord's Body. I believe sincerely that the Lord is still interested in doing some very powerful things in the realm of the true "Pentecostal Anointing." Like it or not, we have not fully received all the Lord has for us in the experience of the "Latter Rain;" in fact, even the "Former Rain" has not effected us as fully as it should. The Church is still deeply divided over issues which should have been resolved long ago, had we all come into "Unity of the Faith," and to the full maturity of the "Many-membered Christ."

The Beams

There were these big beams, seven I believe and the main beam was much larger than the others; possibly 3 times the size; If we are correct in our interpretation there are six (the number of Man) other pillars in the Church but none so Strong and unshakable as the central Pillar, which of course is Christ.

The Three "Warnings"

I cannot precisely identify each of the warnings the Church has received over the last few years, but it could be that the Warnings she received in the latter 1980s were the first of something that was to prepare them for this time. They seemed interested at the beginning, but because I had nothing further to report from the Lord, they quickly lost interest and turned back to what they had been doing all along. Perhaps some of the warnings that came later in the early 1990s concerning some of the excesses of the "Toronto Blessing" movement for example, could also fit in here as the "Second Warning."

Confusion and Fear, within and without

When the earthquake hit, there was a terrible period of confusion and fear upon all the people in the building until they looked to where we stood, clinging to the Center Beam (Christ); and finally realized that it was the only safe place to be. A few tried to exit the premises and were successful, only to immediately discover their mistake, and then tried desperately to get back in. The people on the outside were doing everything possible to enter in, but because of all the "Ups and Downs" that were taking place, they were all but completely frustrated in their attempts. This tells me that in this particular "Shaking" there may not be such a great ingathering of Souls as we would like to see; it could very well be a "Last great test of faith" for many within the Church, to purify them, and cause them to cling unreservedly to Christ for once and for all. I am not sure as yet how this "Shaking" will transpire, or be manifested; but I believe it will have the effect of purging, and then drawing the Body of Christ, first to repentance, and then, into one mind, and one accord and one place, as nothing else we have witnessed in recent years.. I am reminded of the Scripture in Isaiah:

"The sinners in Zion are afraid; fearfulness hath surprised the hypocrites. Who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire (Our God is a consuming Fire)? who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings (His Fiery Baptism)? He that walketh righteously, and speaketh uprightly; he that despiseth the gain of oppressions, that shaketh his hands from holding of bribes, that stoppeth his ears from hearing of blood, and shutteth his eyes from seeing evil; He shall dwell on high (in Heavenly Places, or Spiritual Abodes): his place of defence shall be the munitions of rocks (Christ, the foundation; and all the Lively Stones of His House): bread (The Living Word) shall be given him; his waters (the Mighty Rivers of the Holy Spirit within) shall be sure (Isa 33:14-16)."

A Golden Eagle

July 13, 2000:

Many recognize that the eagle is symbolic of the prophetic. The eagle has tremendous vision and can soar to lofty heights. The eagle also has amazing speed as he dives to take his prey, and his weapons are very effective.

The Lord has used the eagle to bring forth several prophetic words through me in the last two years. Each time that I have observed the activity of eagles, the Lord has spoken to me to reveal different aspects of what the present work of the Holy Spirit is.

Sunday, as Marsha and I were driving home from church, a very unusual event occurred. We had just crossed a bridge which is located at a curve in the highway. The highway descends to the bridge and then ascends. Because of these conditions I always slow down. So, I had slowed down, crossed the bridge, and was just beginning to accelerate as we moved upwards. It was at this point that a young golden eagle appeared out of nowhere and completely filled the vision which we had through the windshield of our car.

The eagle was so close that it seemed as though his tail feathers touched the windshield as we passed under him. I know that this was a young eagle because he was not quite as large as the adult eagles that I have previously seen. Also the feathers of this eagle were a brilliant golden color, a lighter gold than the feathers of the adults.

"And, the Spirit of the Lord brings this message forth...on the wings of eagles. My golden ones are about to arise. You have crossed over the bridge of troubled waters. Behold, the old things are behind you, the new will now spring forth. Now the time of acceleration which I spoke of will come forth. With this acceleration will come greater vision. I will completely fill your vision (the eyes of your understanding) with My purposes. You will begin to see more clearly than you ever have before because I will come closer to you, and your total focus will be upon Me. The distractions of the past occurred because you viewed Me from afar. But now, I will fill your vision, and you shall feel the wind of My Spirit and the touch of My hands.

This is a new day and on this, the third day of My power, I will come to you and raise you up as on wings of eagles that you may live in My sight, and you shall perceive My presence as you never have before. My people, you are turning a corner, and new direction will come forth.

Now, consider what the sign of the young eagle means, for does it not have a two-fold meaning? First, I will renew some of My old eagles and make them young again. Those who have remained faithful to Me will be renewed. Now I will lead you out of the caves where I have placed you, and you shall soar to new heights with greater vision and strength than you have ever had.

Secondly, I will also bring some young eagles forth at this time. They are those who have forsaken the world and do not desire religion; they desire only Me. Thus, the old and the new shall be brought out of My treasure house, and My golden ones will be sent to the nations to prepare the way of the Lord. His coming forth is established as the morning, and He is coming like the latter and former rain to His people."

A note of encouragement is found in this message, especially to you old eagles who carry about the weariness of many battles in your bodies. When an eagle reaches the age of 50 (approximately), his beak begins to freeze shut, and he can no longer eat. Some give up and die, but some find a cave or cleft in the rock where water is present. The old eagle goes into the cave and beats his beak on a rock until it is broken off. The eagle drinks water for 40 days until it grows a new beak. The eagle then pulls its old feathers out and an oil sack grows and is filled with oil (over the heart). The eagle then breaks the oil sack with the new beak and spreads the oil over his body. Beautiful new golden feathers grow in, and the eagle is renewed. The eagle's body is also strengthened through this process. The regenerated eagle is then able to fly higher than it ever could before and see better than it could before. Oh yes, and the beak also works, for words must yet be spoken and the prey must be taken. Happy hunting!

Words from the Lord to Marsha Burns:

July 10, 2000:

I speak a word to your spirit, "wormwood." For, many of you have allowed seeds of bitterness to be planted in your hearts, they have taken root, grown and are now producing fruit. The bitter, toxic substance produced in your soul has tainted the inside of your earthen vessel, so that everything that I pour into you comes out contaminated by the condition of your soul. The remedy for your condition is that you come to Calvary to be washed in the blood of the Lamb. You need to receive forgiveness, but if you won't forgive, neither will you be forgiven. I ask you, do you want to be forgiven? Then, you must release those who have hurt you and caused you to feel rejected and outcast. You must release the past and press on, forgetting those things that are behind. For, surely I will bring healing to your soul if you will uproot your wormwood and cast it away from you.

July 11, 2000:

Behold, I am doing a mighty work in the hearts of people everywhere, for I am exposing and bringing to light the deeds of darkness. I am revealing those things which have been hidden. I am disclosing that which has been cloaked in secrecy. For, I am indeed unveiling hypocrisy in the church. And, at the same time, I will vindicate My servants who have been falsely accused, for I will openly separate truth from error, fact from fantasy, and I will cause those of upright heart to stand as witnesses against deception and unjust motives. I say to you, judgment has come to those who have touched My anointed and harmed My prophets.

July 12, 2000:

I say to you, come into the light, for many are still walking in darkness, and the deeds of darkness are like a thick fog which keeps you from seeing clearly. The darkness of deception is like wearing blinders. But, I have called you, My people, out of darkness into the bright light of day. Walk in the light; walk in the Spirit, for the deeds of the flesh are dark. Put off the old man with his deeds, and put on the new man. Be renewed in knowledge according to the image of Christ. Walk in newness of life.

Romans 13:12-14, "The night is far spent, the day is at hand. Therefore let us cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armor of light. Let us walk properly, as in the day, not in revelry and drunkenness, not in lewdness and lust, not in strife and envy. But put on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no provision for the flesh, to fulfill its lusts."

July 14, 2000:

It is written that this is the condemnation, that the light has come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. And I say to many of you this day that condemnation has come because you are walking with Me, and others have been convicted of their sin in your presence and by your words. Because they loved darkness rather than light, they have cursed you by the words of their mouth with a curse of condemnation. Have I not said that there is therefore now no condemnation to those who are in Christ Jesus who do not walk according to the flesh but according to the Spirit? So, I say to you, arise! Shake the dust of rejection and condemnation off. Allow the enemy no place of torment in your soul, for he is a liar and the father of lies. Walk in the light and in truth, for you are vindicated in My sight this very hour.

July 15, 2000:

I speak to those who are doing your utmost to promote yourselves and your ministries and to be seen by men. Haven't I said that if I be lifted up I will draw all men to Myself? Yet, I see jealousy and competition among My people, which is a grief. I say to you, stop and examine your motives. Look to see what is really in your heart. Are you truly lifting Me up and promoting My kingdom? Or, are you set on making your name known among men? I am calling you to come back to your First Love and to die to selfish ambitions and self-promotion.

Apostles Gathering in September

Cary Goodwin

This was originally intended for those from the first Gathering in Anaheim. The Lord has impressed me to add to the letter and get it out to all as a News Letter.

Every time the Lord begins to move in a new way He has Gathered His Apostles. When He started His Earthly in the flesh ministry He Gathered His Apostles first. They did not know they were His Apostles until the day that He named them to be Apostles. When the Lord ascended on high He commanded His Apostles to Gather and wait. The Apostles speculated about what was to happen but they were only told to wait for the promise of the Father. They had no idea what was about to happen.

Now in this the end times of this dispensation He has commanded that His Apostles be Gathered. Not in Confusion and chaos but in Order to restore God's Order and Ways.

When the Lord delivered the Command to me to Gather His Apostles, (Sept. 96) it was done very formally. It was very clear. First He Called my name repeatedly until I responded to Him Audibly. Then He said, "Gather together my Apostles" When I asked for clarity, He said, "Gather Together my Apostles from around the World into one time and place as has not been done since the days of Pentecost". Brethren this was a clear command with no need of interpretation. I say that because there are some who think that the Lord is not capable of speaking clearly and everything He does and says must be interpreted by them.

ON the third day still seeking the Lord for more understanding He said "I have given you the wisdom and understanding to discern who is and who is not an Apostle unto me". Then He said, "Gather My Apostles". This statement from the Lord shows clearly that I am to discern who are and who are not Apostles of His in the fulfilling of this command. The Lord has brought six Apostles alongside me who act as Elders to help with these discernments. I will tell you that it is the Will of the Lord for the entire Body of Christ to have the wisdom and understanding to discern who His Apostles are. (Revelation Chapter 2 vs. 2)

Many times we tend to think that whatever the Lord speaks is prophecy. He made it very clear to me that this was not a prophecy but rather a direct Command. If I told you that this did not happen I would be considered a liar and a coward by the Lord, who will hold me accountable for this command He issued to me. For the full understanding of what the Lord has told me concerning this Gathering of His Apostles go to. <http://apostles-gathering.com/Overview.html>

The Gathering in Anaheim was necessary and important. And I really believe an important part of the Birthing Process by the Lord. However we saw the condition of the Churches and the chaos that is in the Body of Christ. There were many who showed up claiming to be Apostles who were not Apostles. They assumed the discernment process was not necessary. We saw men who were not Apostles presuming to lead the Apostles of Jesus Christ.

There were also some great men of God there. They were not self serving and continually competing for the microphone. We saw some men there that were operating in the spirit of Satan to disrupt and to destroy. It was all there. And I expected Satan to do everything He could to stop the work.. What I didn't expect is that so many who called themselves Apostles were not able to recognize the devices of the Enemy and rejoice that we are on the right path shown to us by the Lord. There were some evils that tried many times after the meeting to corrupt this work that the Lord has called forth. I did have to come against them like it was the Devil himself. Again many did not understand this. This is not a children's Sunday school. You cannot accept every evil in the name of the Love of the Lord and expect God to Bless You.

The Lord is Calling His Church to Order and right doctrine. The True Apostles of Jesus Christ will be expected to uphold His Order, ways and doctrine. False Apostles will have no regard for the Truth in any Order or doctrine and the ways will be their own ways. These order and ways will be pleasing to all who hear their doctrine and will have the appearance of righteousness.

When you say doctrines of men and devils, you are quite literally describing men carrying the doctrines of devils. Don't expect it to come any other way. We saw examples of this at the first Gathering. We saw examples of this at the Second Gathering. I expect it will rear its head continually. But we must be faithful watchmen of the Lord Jesus Christ.

One of the Most discouraging parts of this work the Lord has called me to, is to see the complacency and lack of wisdom exhibited in the Body of Christ and in Apostles.

I live today literally by the Grace and the Mercy of the Lord God Almighty in Christ Jesus. If He had not snatched me from the jaws of Hell and healed me, I would not be here today but rather in Hell for the past twenty three years. I owe him everything and the salvation that He has given to me is more precious than anything in this earth and the sum of it all. Many of you have the same testimony and yet we cannot do anything for the Lord unless there is something in it for us personally. This is a true shame and I can tell you many times in my ministry I have felt sorry for the Lord my God for this very reason.

Over and over again while ministering the Gospel in Asia I watched as no one could lift a finger unless it somehow increased their career, reputation or finances. I have watched over and over again how the systems of men called churches have actually hindered the Love of God from going forth in the earth. I visited many churches where they were only wanting to give the appearance of righteousness. Yes these are strong indictments but the Lord knows this is true.

Many have come to this command presuming that they know why the Lord has called for this Gathering. Usually it is because they think they are to lead the Apostles. This is the Lord's Gathering by His Command and it is for His Purposes in Calling His Church to Order in Order to Pour out His Spirit for His Glory for the final move of God in the Earth. He is not going to Pour out His Glory on the systems, order and ways of men. He is not going to pour out His Glory on total chaos and insanity. He is not going to pour out His Glory on false Apostles and false doctrine. He is certainly not going to pour out His Glory on Spiritual Pride and Arrogance.

The Lord has talked to me consistently about Calling His Church to Order since 1987. Sometimes what I see looks like total chaos and insanity in light of the Word of God and no man has a fix for it. Only the Spirit and the Glory of God can fix it and raise us up as His Bride without spot or wrinkle. But He needs the remnant of His People to be willing to accept His Structure His Order His Ways. The Lord our God needs the remnant of His People to get serious with Him and receive His Wisdom and His Ways.

I have kept this work pure before men and God. It has not been about money. It has not been about pleasing men and women. It has been about walking it out one step at a time keeping it pure from the doctrines of men and devils. I have had to tell many that their doctrine was wrong rather than let it corrupt this work of the Lord. I have had to tell many who say that they are Apostles that I didn't believe they were. And many times when you do that you find out what spirit they are really from. It has not been easy. It is not like any other ministry you have ever seen. This is not the ways of a popular ministry. But to be a popular ministry in the eyes of men you have to tell them what they want to hear and give them something they want. There are many doing just that on the subject of Apostles. This is Kingdom business. People, it is not a game and was not intended by God to please men but to fulfill God's Will in the Earth.

If you think that the work is not of God or is impure because Satan has risen up in men to try to discredit and to destroy this work then you need better understanding. Many thought that I should have stopped everything the Lord was trying to do in Anaheim and spend the rest of the time casting out devils. There were times in the Lord's ministry where He stopped and cast out devils and there were times when He walked on past them. With the Pharisees He spoke the truth against their lies and accusations then walked on past them doing the will of the Father. When He stopped to cast out devils it was to release the children of His Father who were bound by Satan. Satan would have been very pleased if we had spent the time casting out demons rather than doing the work the Lord had revealed and desired.

There is no dishonor in not being an Apostle. There are many doctrines out there that are totally wrong and are used for measuring ones calling. Some discern their own spiritual level and call themselves Apostles. This is a completely wrong approach. Understand that when the Glory of the Lord is on His Church according to the Lord's will for His Church, even small children will raise the dead. It is the Will of God for EVERY ONE of His people to MINISTER THE LOVE OF GOD TO THE WORLD. It is not however His will for women and children to lead His people (read Isaiah Chapter 3 vs. 12, this subject should not bring any division in the Body of Christ). We tend to think of ministry in light of what we have seen rather than how it was intended by the Lord from the beginning.

A few days after the Lord gave me this Command, He told me that that there would be many false ministries rising up to bring confusion and blur the issue. He let me know that He was not the Author of Confusion. In the past four years I have seen it happen just the way He told me it would be. I wrote about this early on in this work.

I have seen at least two others recently calling for a meeting of Apostles at the same time as this Gathering is Scheduled to be. One speaks of Foundation but a foundation of False Apostles and Prophets is no Foundation at all. Some have a problem with the Lord giving me this command. Adding to the chaos and confusion is not the will of God. Again I say this is serious business and carries with it great consequences. In the last four years I have learned just how serious this is.

In the Second Gathering in Atlanta there were people speaking to me about the Glory of God coming down in that meeting. I didn't feel like it was going to happen then. I knew that the Gathering was the right timing of the Lord. But I didn't have any idea going into it what the Lord was going to do.

I had no idea that the Lord was going to birth this spiritual child in our midst but He surely did. <http://www.apostles-gathering.com/vol10.html> I can only thank God that the ground had been prepared for the Lord God to Birth what He wanted and intended for us. This could not have happened in Anaheim.

I am fully expecting anything and everything from the Lord in this next Gathering of His Apostles. I do believe that the Man Child of Rev. 12 has been birthed in the midst of His Apostles. And that He is about to pour out the former and latter rain very soon. Again I say, He must have a people who are willing to do things after His Order and ways.

If you are truly an Apostle of the Lord Jesus Christ and want to attend as an Apostle then please get your testimony into us as soon as possible. I would like us to get all the discernment process out of the way before the Gathering so we can seek the face of God in the Gathering. We need your testimony of your walk with the Lord and why you say you are an Apostle. Include your phone number. Write Apostle Testimony in the Subject Line.

If you are planning to attend just to criticize and murmur against everything because you are not in charge or to control please don't come. You will be out of Order and It will only hinder and grieve the Holy Spirit. If you think that you are God's ultimate judge over the Body of Christ and it must have your permission then you will only be bringing pride and arrogance to the Gathering. Again, this will only grieve the Holy Spirit. Come seeking the face of God and the Glory of God to be Poured out on His People.

When I write about the discernment process I always get letters accusing me of judging the Apostles. I want to make it clear that we are not judging or approving of anyone. We simply need to know if the Lord has called you to be an Apostle or not. Any man who can't answer the question "Why do you say you are an Apostle?", should stop calling himself an Apostle. If you are not an Apostle and just want to be a part of what the Lord is doing here you are more than welcome. There were a hundred and twenty in the upper room and only twelve were Apostles. Just remember this is not to be Church as Usual but Kingdom business in action. When God brought the children of Israel out of Egypt there were many who murmured and speculated about what God should do. They murmured against the one God chose for the job. This did not please the Lord and it is no different today. We all need to walk in the Fear of God. Either we care for the things of the Lord or we don't. I want to stir up your faith knowing that there are truly some exciting times ahead for those who are not lukewarm. If you can understand what the Lord is doing here I am asking you to get behind it with all you can. There is so much that needs to be taken care of including the location for the next Gathering. Pray for the Lord's Will to be accomplished.

I have written much about this work and the Command from the Lord. The book "Gather My Apostles" and the newsletters are on my web site and it is free to all. Please read it if you need to make a judgment. Please read it for better understanding. Feel free to let me know your disapproval if you feel it is necessary. But I don't have time to write individual essays or to get into debates and rebates. The Lord told me two years ago not to get into debates. For me there is nothing to debate I have heard the voice of the Lord concerning this Command and He has confirmed and reaffirmed more times than I can count.

The third Gathering is scheduled for September 25-28 2000. This is the fourth anniversary of the date the Command was given. And it is the end of the 6000 years. One of the greatest revelations you can get is to realize what time it is and how privileged we are to be in this generation. I will get the word out as soon as I have confirmation on the Location.

I love you all and I am excited about what the Lord is doing and is about to do. I look forward to seeing some of you I haven't seen for a while.

God Bless you with the Riches of His Glory in Christ Jesus the Lord.

Love,

Cary Goodwin

A Holy Mandate

Yolanda Ballard

My children, I have called you out from among the heathen to do a deep work in your hearts so that in turn you can go back in amongst them and be a blessing unto them. Yes, I have called you out to draw you back in that you may be lights among the darkness, that you may be the purifier, the salt that they need that their lives may be refined. For without you, the called out ones, they have no one to lead them to the path of holiness that they may know My Son.

My Son died for all who will call upon His name in humble repentance of their wicked ways. Yes, they need the grace of their Savior to draw them in. They cannot do it on their own. they cannot repent or even see the Light without the grace and mercy which I pour out lavishly. So, be ready at all times for you never know when there is one around you who is searching and seeking with all their heart to know the Truth, the One True God.

Be ready at all times to pour out My love and grace upon those around you. For I am calling you to humble yourselves, and to repent of your own wicked ways of having your own agendas, of not seeking My ace wholeheartedly as to how you should spend your time. For it is not your own time. It was purchased with the price of the blood of My own Son. And I did not lead you out that you might live a life of vanity of empty nothingness. I have given you a purpose and a plan and you need to seek Me to fulfill your destiny. You are not out on your own. I have a purpose to fulfill in you. So line up and stand in rank and march to fulfill your destiny.

And march right into the enemy's territory and tear down the strongholds by your praises and your shouts and keep all the pieces of your armor securely fastened. Keep your eyes on Me and worship Me and move across the land with My anointing, My power and My glory. And be as one Body as Me and My Father are one. And stand in the gap sensitive to the wooing of My Spirit to draw unto Me in wholehearted intercession.

For I have not called the feeble but the mighty warriors to do My bidding in the land. And we win! The battle has already been won at Calvary. So march out and possess what is already yours, says your God.

A "Holy" War?

October 22, 2000

Psa 91:7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; [but] it shall not come nigh thee.

Have I not said I would come to you in the early hours of the morning My Child - when you sought My face? Truly I AM a GOD that "KEEPS!" His word. My WORD is the same yesterday, today and forever!

You question My leading, but I say unto you I "HAVE!" gone before you and prepared a way for you. Though the world erupts in turmoil, keep your heart and your mind STAYED ON ME! I prepare those who you will meet along the way - and tell them of your coming; for you come not in your name - but IN MY NAME! I AM that I AM is sending you. I AM that I AM is bringing you forth.

Truly the enemy is roaming about seeking "WHOM" he may devour, but if you keep your eyes on ME, you have nothing to fear. FEAR NOT! I SAY.... FEAR NOT! For I will bring you through all of the struggles, all of the trials, all of the tests that lie ahead. Though a thousand may fall at your side and ten thousand at your right hand - NONE will come nigh thee! Bring your focus unto MY PERFECTED WORK.... Bring your mind and your thoughts in line with MY WORD and you will move ahead on the "prepared path" quickly. Bend your will.... subject YOUR WILL to MY WILL! Lean not upon your own understanding in this day - for I AM is doing a "new thing!" A wonder to all who will STOP! gazing upon world events but LOOK at what I AM is doing in the midst of them. For though many have fallen and will fall - they are not lost to Me. Are not even the hairs upon your head numbered? Do I not know when a sparrow falls? Those who have fallen are not lost.... Nor forgotten by your God. Their families grieve but those who have been "lost to them" ARE with Me in paradise. If those who grieve will look unto Me - I will surround them and comfort and walk with them THROUGH the "Valley of the Shadow of Death." I will apply the Balm of Gilead to their hearts---I will uphold them and sustain them - bring them the OIL OF GLADNESS to replace what the enemy has taken from them. He is defeated - but they SHALL ARISE VICTORIOUS!

They ask and wonder - "HOW could GOD allow this to happen?" So many questions, so many fears, so many looking at the problem, instead of looking to "THE SOLUTION!" Where sin reigns, death reigns. Loss happens when the enemy has found a foothold and entered in. Those who commit such atrocities have "sin" residing within them, and love not their enemies.... But seek to bring death and destruction in the name of a "cause," for reasons they, themselves, do not even understand. But "sin" brought forth Ishmael! Unbelief was at the "root" of his conception. Yet, I "blessed" him and made of him a great nation - a great people, but a people who today claim to know ME, yet deny who I AM! How can ANY understand ME unless they are willing to come before Me and sup with me, REST in My Presence? How can they DENY MY SON-SHIP, but acknowledge that the power of MY NAME is such that they refuse to allow MY TRUE WORD entrance within their borders? How?? Because deep within themselves they RECOGNIZE that I AM that I AM, but they - as the Pharisees, would have to turn from their own self-righteousness and become humble before me. They are a people whose greatness has been lost by their own willful disobedience to "MY ways..." The enemy has so blinded my latter-day Ishmael's that they have "holy wars," and claim it is of ME! There will be wars, and rumors of war - but does it say that "I" have initiated them? NO! For I said: THOSE WHO PICK UP THE SWORD - WILL DIE BY THE SWORD... My ways are gentle and humble. I say unto you that "BLESSED ARE THE PEACEMAKERS! For "THEY" shall be called the "SONS OF GOD!" WOE!! WOE!! Unto those who "pick up their swords..." and claim it is of ME! Woe!! Woe!! To those who blindly follow the promptings of others and refuse to acknowledge the conscious that I AM PLACED WITHIN THEM that speaks of "doing good" and NOT "doing evil!"

Follow your heart - listen to your conscious! Don't be blinded by others into thinking that the war you call for - is holy unto the LIVING "HOLY" GOD! Sin begets sin...violence begets violence! Let he would breaks the peace KNOW that I watch over "MY CHOSEN PEOPLE" - the apples of My Eye and he who would "touch or harm" my little ones will answer to "THE GOD OF ABRAHAM, ISSAC AND JACOB!" Truly many have hearts blackened with malice and envy, greed and covet what their neighbor has. Truly, many call forth "FIRE FROM HEAVEN" but the "FIRE" they bring forth is a fire of rhetoric that besmirches the GOD - they "SAY" they serve! NONE who do such things have "ANY!" part of ME... nor do I recognize them, nor do I overlook their evil deeds. They follow one who was full of pride in "his" accomplishments, "full of deceit and malice" towards those who refused to follow him. He sought to build an empire - with himself at its "head." BUT I AM THE HEAD! Nimrod would build a tower - a tower that reached to the very heavens. He failed - for he failed to take into account that "I AM" the "GOD OF THE HEAVENS..." and so will others fail who presume to "REACH UNTO THE HEAVENS" and build their own "towers!" I AM YOUR HIGH TOWER... none other. You can ONLY come to the Father - "THROUGH ME!" There is NO OTHER NAME that will save... there is NO OTHER WAY to "REACH" into the Heavens!

Bring before ME "fruits" of repentance! Show ME that you are willing to forgo the enemies lies - and turn from your wicked ways. Fast and cry out to ME - and I WILL HEAR YOU! I will "reach down" from the Heavens and touch you - and fill you with MYSELF...and THEN! Will you understand that the god that you served was NOT the GOD OF THE HEAVENS, YOUR CREATOR, but the god of this world.

Apostles In Danger!

August 10, 2000

Note: Although this article is addressed to modern day apostles, it has a vital message for every potential reader. That is particularly true of the first section. I could not adequately have covered the subject in fewer pages. If, after reading several paragraphs, you find yourself confused, antagonized, or bored, just hit the delete button. But, please, do give it a try.

The principal reason I'm writing this item is for its spiritual applications. However, those will become apparent only if I first deal with secular aspects.

In order to set the stage, I'll refer to a remarkable book by Elaine N. Aron, Ph.D. A clinical psychologist, Aron spent several years researching her topic and interviewing hundreds of people. Although the matter she addresses represents about 20 % of our population—some 50 million people—it has been strangely overlooked by society in general and even in the field of psychology. This oversight has caused a great deal of misunderstanding and no little amount of pain.

Although I'm happy to have found this volume at last, I just wish I could have read it years ago. I finally caught on to some of it through the "school of hard knocks," but there should be an easier way. Had I understood the message of this book, my life would have been richer and more successful.

For the 20% of people the book primarily deals with, this is a must read. For the other 80%, it is a should read.

TWO GROUPS

When I state the name of the book, I predict it will have a negative effect on virtually every one of you—even those being dealt with in the study. The title is The Highly Sensitive Person, or for short, H.S.P. The author refers to the two major groups in our society as "warrior-kings" and "royal advisors." More about that as we go along, but I will more often speak of the "WKs" and the "HSPs."

To put the matter bluntly, WKs always have pretty much owned the world, and they've usually considered HSPs badly flawed. Unfortunately, the HSPs have bought into that concept, even seeing themselves as damaged goods. This book is designed to correct an improper understanding of human nature. Let's begin by describing the basic makeup of each group.

WARRIOR KINGS

Among the WKs we are most apt to find the test pilots, company CEOs, professional military men, ambulance drivers, sales managers, committee chairmen, many politicians, and professional athletes.

Warrior-kings tend to be bold, aggressive, frequently insensitive, self-confident, risk-taking, confrontational, often not well organized, prone to make quick decisions, and they work well in the spotlight.

Often unable to understand the sensitivity of HSPs, WKs tend to see them as timid, shy, weak, or that greatest sin of all, unsociable.

HSPs

Writers, historians, counselors, philosophers, teachers, scholars, judges, artists, theologians, therapists, researchers, and inventors represent the HSP group. HSPs usually are creative, insightful, passionate, caring, cautious, inward, reflective, attentive to details, visionary, wise, highly conscientious, non-confrontational, serious, and able to concentrate deeply.

Because WKs tend to dominate society, HSPs find themselves marginalized. Aron put it this way:

“Although a culture’s newborns will show a broad range of inherited temperaments, only a narrow band of these, a certain type, will be the ideal. The ideal personality is embodied in [Margaret] Mead’s words, in ‘every thread of the social fabric—in the care of the young child, the games the children play, the songs the people sing, the political organization, the religious observance, the art and the philosophy.’ Other traits are ignored, discouraged, or if all else fails, ridiculed.

“What is the ideal of our culture? Movies, advertisements, the design of public spaces, all tell us we should be as tough as the Terminator, as stoic as Clint Eastwood, as outgoing as Goldie Hawn. We should be pleasantly stimulated by bright lights, noise, a gang of cheerful fellows hanging out in a bar. If we are feeling overwhelmed and sensitive, we can always take a painkiller.”

Since I am very much an HSP, I confess to probably being biased on some of the things I say. I do believe, however, that due to their basic natures, HSPs understand WKs a whole lot better than WKs understand HSPs.

(The book The Highly Sensitive Person has some New Age overtones, but a well-informed Christian easily can sort them out.)

ROYAL ADVISORS AND WARRIOR-KINGS

Aron points out that society’s needs should be met through a proper relation between these two classes.

“For better and worse, the world is increasingly under the control of aggressive cultures—those that like to look outward, to expand, to compete and win. This is because, when cultures come in contact the more aggressive ones naturally tend to take over.

“The most long-lasting, happy Indo-European cultures have always used two classes to govern themselves—the warrior-kings balanced by their royal or priestly advisors. And Indo-European cultures have done well for themselves. Half of the world speaks an Indo-European language, which means they cannot help but think in an Indo-European way. Expansion, freedom, and fame are good. Those are the values of the warrior-kings.

“For aggressive societies to survive, however, they always need that priest-judge-advisor class as well. This class balances the kings and warriors (as the Supreme Court balances the president and his armed forces). It is a more thoughtful group, often acting to check the impulses of the warrior-kings . . . They have the foresight, for example, to look out for the well-being of those common folks on whom the society depends, those who grow the food and raise the children. They warn against hasty wars and bad use of the land.

“What we [HSPs] bring to any of these roles is a tendency to think about all the possible effects of an idea. Often we have to make ourselves unpopular by stopping the majority from rushing ahead. Thus, to perform our role well, we have to feel very good about ourselves. We have to ignore all the messages from the warriors that we are not as good as they are. The warriors have their bold style, which has its value. But we too, have our style and our own important contribution to make.”

HOW IT PLAYS OUT

Now that I've read this book, an entirely new worldview has emerged. Just last night I read the August 14 issue of Newsweek dealing with Bobby Kennedy's heretofore-unknown role in the Cuban Missile Crisis. Suddenly I saw just how important the topic at hand really is. One fascinating part of the article dealt with Bobby's family image. A lone HSP amidst a father/male sibling crew of strong WKs, Bobby was referred to as "the runt." He "lacked the jaunty, glowing air of a young Kennedy." Jacqueline Kennedy—herself no doubt an HSP—observed that Bobby was the Kennedy "least like his father." She saw his inner sensitivity and his innate, though often well-concealed, sense of decency. A few weeks ago I read a book about the life of Joe Kennedy Sr. That was a man who could give any WK in the world a bad name.

Newsweek opens formerly hidden files to reveal the key position the "runt" played in the Cuban Missile Crisis. Perhaps there never will be a better example of how royal advisors are needed as a balancing factor.

Even today few people comprehend that we were within hours of entering into a war that would have annihilated 60 million Americans. High stakes. Top White House officials had been handed envelopes to be opened in case of attack. Inside were directions to landing sites from which helicopters would supposedly whisk them to a mountain cave in Virginia. At least a couple of the men bought backpacks and simple supplies for their wives and children, hoping that somehow they could run off into the woods and survive.

In the first hours of the crisis, a military strike against Cuba seemed nearly inevitable. To his advisers arrayed around the long table in the Cabinet Room on the evening of Oct. 16, the president flatly declared, "We're going to take out those missiles."

Newsweek divided those who had to make the fateful decision into the "hawks" and the "doves." They could just as well be referred to as the warrior-kings and the royal advisors, or HSPs. The most bellicose WK was Air Force chief of staff, Gen. Curtis LeMay, who wanted his bombers to take off immediately. HSP Defense Secretary Robert McNamara is described as "the clearest mind that evening, the one that did the most to help the group weigh the consequences of precipitous reaction." Bobby is seen as having played the pivotal role.

Had their been no HSPs in the decision-making group, tens of millions of Americans would have died along with more millions of Russians. And many of you reading this would never have been born.

ADDITIONAL ASPECTS

One might easily assume that all WKs are extroverts and all HSPs are introverts, but such is not the case. For instance, about 30% of HSPs are extroverted. I have a son who is six foot two and broad shouldered. Just to glance at him you might not suspect how gentle he is with children, or how kind to the elderly. But in a group involved with music, he usually manages to get his hands on the microphone. He's an extroverted HSP.

My little old gray-haired grandmother, on the other hand, was an introverted WK. She came across to the public as rather quiet and timid. The truth was that she so heavily dominated her children that all of them suffered lifelong psychological damage.

I know of one family that had six children, three boys and three girls. All six were strong WKs. The three men totally dominated their wives, and all three women totally dominated their husbands.

Anything as pervasive as what we're considering has to affect marriages. The book author believes that there are as many males as female babies born sensitive, but men are not supposed to possess the trait and women are. Both genders pay a high price for that confusion.

The author also wonders if society needs more WKs because they die off more readily!

We never could have won the Gulf War without our warrior-kings. They bear the brunt of the battle, and you can bet that most of the pilots who paved the way by devastating Iraqi defenses were WKs. On the other hand, consider the course of that war without the electronic wonders provided by the HSPs. It would have been a long, ugly, bloody conflict, with a large number of both Iraqi and American casualties.

WKs thrive on large noisy crowds, and often compete with each other for the spotlight. HSPs, on the other hand, can handle just so much commotion and they become overloaded. They then seek peace and quiet. At a party an HSP is likely to seek out another HSP, so that the two of them can draw aside and talk about matters of substance. HSPs prefer discussing ideas rather than other people.

Many HSPs can force themselves into a WK mode, even to being the life of the party. But it comes at too much cost in nervous energy. For a reason I won't take time to explain, in Business College I became a temporary WK. As a result I was editor of the newspaper, editor of the yearbook, president of my fraternity, and runner up for king. (I believe I would have been elected king had I also been involved in sports—a mandatory attribute.) Anyway, I learned that in many ways being a WK has its benefits!

The last few years have produced a sad record of high school killings. As a result of what you've read here, do you see a tie in? In nearly every case the killer or killers were uptight, nerdy HSPs. And usually what drove them over the brink was constant harassment by the school's top WKs, the athletic jocks.

Committees often have to wrestle with weighty problems that affect the entire organization. Due to their insights, HSPs may well be the committee members with the ideal solution. Unfortunately, they seldom speak up, and someone more aggressive will carry the day.

Want to be on a game show? Be a WK. I tried out in Hollywood for a couple of game shows, one of them quite cerebral. There were three barriers potential contestants had to hurdle. The first one was a general knowledge test that sent the majority of the would-be-contestants back home. I had no trouble with that challenge. The second barrier was a much more difficult test of knowledge. That narrowed the seekers down to a rather small group, and I was still involved. I feared the final barrier, and rightly so. Those in charge prodded us to see who would emote more strongly in front of the cameras. (Like scream, "Big money!") They could see I would hang on to my dignity, and so I got cut.

Most readers would probably guess that virtually all actors are WKs, but such is not always the case. In fact, many of our top actors and actresses are HSPs. HSPs may find acting a wonderful outlet, as it permits them to emote as someone else. As is the case with many HSPs, high school was a tough period for me. However, my best memories have to do with my acting experience. I had the lead in everything I tried out for, and won the school's annual "Oscar." I also played lead in a highly successful civic theater production. I could really let loose on stage, because after all I was someone else. After I became a minister, preaching was much more difficult, as it was just Don Hawley in the pulpit.

This week I watched a TV biography on the great comedian Tim Conway. Due to what I've learned, I wasn't surprised to find that he is by nature extremely shy and private—a true HSP. I suspect that Jimmy Stewart is just as shy as he presents himself in the movies. Of course, Bette Midler is another matter! No hidden HSP there, I bet.

As you can see, this matter of basic nature is rather complex, and there are infinite variations.

THE SPIRITUAL IMPLICATIONS

I've gone on at length because I felt that would be necessary if we're to translate these insights into the realm of the spiritual.

This WK/HSP thing got started early. I rather suspect that Cain was a WK, and Abel an HSP. I'm certain that Esau was a WK, and Jacob an HSP.

During his early years in Egypt Moses seems to have been a strong WK; it even led him to murder. God needed a warrior-king to take on the greatest challenge in the Old Testament, leading a rebellious and stiff-necked people through the desert. However, it was only after 40 years of mellowing that God dared turn him loose on his assignment. In fact, by the time God contacted Moses at the burning bush, the latter thought he was an HSP!

PROPHETS AND SEERS

The spiritual gift of prophecy is the only one that has existed continuously from the beginning until now. How it is manifested depends on the basic nature of the one receiving the gift. If the person is a WK, he or she will be a prophet. If, on the other hand, the gifted one is an HSP, then he or she will be a seer. It's important for the church to understand the difference. Jim Goll has described the prophet thus:

1. Often uses plurality of eldership or seasoned, gifted individuals (men and women) with the "laying on of hands" to minister.
2. Will utilize giftings of tongues and interpretations of tongues.
3. Spontaneous, faster flow with inspiration being the tone.
4. Often "hears" and repeats as spoken to.
5. Steps out to prophesy according to his portion of faith.
6. The prophetic presbytery is a common approach.

Goll describes the seer this way:

1. Tends to be more single in ministry versus the plurality of a team.
2. Emphasizes visions and the revelatory gifts versus the audible, speaking gifts.
3. Often operates at a slower pace due to describing pictures in their own words.
4. Is dependent upon the angelic and the manifested presence of God.
5. These prophetic vessels appear to have limitations until they sense the anointing
6. Often gets information ahead of time and tells it later.

Unless the church recognizes these two aspects of the prophetic gift there sometimes will be confusion.

THE OLD TESTAMENT KINGS AND THE PROPHETS OR SEERS

Most of the Old Testament kings were WKs. The exceptions would have been when an HSP gained the crown by succession, and usually that didn't work out well. The king was the leading administrator of the nation. He had his counselors, but the final responsibility was his. Heaven's plan was that the ruler would look to God for guidance, but too often the monarch followed his own inclinations. The prophet played an important role as well, but his calling differed from that of the king. The prophet didn't have a suite of rooms in the palace, nor did he share the delicacies of the king's banquet table. Instead he lived a decidedly simple life amidst modest surroundings. Sometimes he even could be found living in a cave.

The king and the prophet didn't hang out together. The latter was not a member of any advisory council that met on a regular basis. It seems that the two met only occasionally for one of two reasons:

1. A godly king, or one that found himself in dire trouble, would seek out the prophet to see if he had a word from God.
2. God would send his prophet to seek out the king with a special message from the throne.

The prophet seemed to live a rather isolated life “outside the camp.” I don’t recall that any of them ever qualified for being a “party animal.” On the contrary they were seen as rather stern and negative, somewhat loners. Instead of wearing a perpetual “happy face,” it seemed as if they most often had a message of doom and gloom. And they did. The nation of Israel was so adamant in following the wrong path that a merciful God had little choice but to send messages of condemnation calling for repentance.

Too often, instead of bringing repentance, such utterances merely made the people angry.

They tell the prophets, “Shut up! We don’t want any more of your reports.” They say, “Don’t tell us the truth. Tell us nice things. Tell us lies. Forget all this gloom. We have heard more than enough about your ‘Holy One of Israel.’ We are tired of listening to what he has to say.” Is. 30:10.

God had to speak strongly to get the attention of the people before they brought destruction on themselves. However, he always held out a message of hope as well.

The Old Testament prophets had a difficult assignment. This was not a job description one would likely seek out, and God personally called his prophets to service. The false prophets, of course, seemed to have an easier time of it, and no doubt many sought for such a position.

SAUL AND SAMUEL

I would say that Elijah was a prophet, while Samuel was a Seer—in fact, he was called just that. We can learn much by noting the latter’s interaction with King Saul.

It was never God’s intention that his people have a human king, as he himself was quite capable of leading them. However, they kept begging until God granted their request. It is interesting to note that even then God selected for them the very best man in the nation to lead out. He sent Samuel the Seer to anoint Saul for the task.

Saul was handsome and taller than any other of the men of Israel, and also filled with the Spirit. He was so humble that when it came time for him to be introduced he was found hiding among the baggage. For the first two years, Saul was a strong, godly leader. With an ill-equipped army he led Israel to victory over every nation that had plundered them.

Yet, shortly after his amazing victories, Saul lost his anointing and was stripped of his kingdom. Eventually he became possessed by an evil spirit, and sought direction from a witch. He ended his days as a raging madman. We must consider what brought about this frightening shift.

The pivotal point came when once again an overwhelming Philistine army threatened Israel. There was no human way they could prevail. A week earlier Samuel had warned Saul to wait for him at Gilgal before going into battle. The prophet had said he would arrive after seven days to make the proper sacrifices to the Lord.

The king didn’t have God’s directions for battle, but when Samuel didn’t show as quickly as Saul liked, he panicked. He ordered the priest Abijah to make the sacrifices without Samuel. When Samuel arrived, I’m sure within the prescribed time limits; Saul accused Samuel—actually God—of delay. But God is never late, and from that time on King Saul’s path was only downward.

God had set up an arrangement between king and seer. When the king chose to ignore this divine plan, he self-destructed.

NEW TESTAMENT APOSTLES AND PROPHET/SEERS

The Old Testament kings are gone and will never return. God’s plan for church governance in New Testament times is to be under the leadership of apostles and prophets, or seers.

We are his house, built on the foundation of the apostles and the prophets. And the cornerstone is Christ Jesus himself. We who believe are carefully joined together, becoming a holy temple for the Lord. Eph. 2:20, 21.

I won't take time here to enlarge, but in my new book THE FINAL TEST—For the Final Generation, I deal with proper church governance in the chapter titled "Apostles and Prophets Today?" (My book can be obtained by phoning 1-800-247-6553.)

Except for Jesus, no one in the NT had a greater ministry than Paul of Tarsus. He was a warrior-king among warrior-kings, demonstrating almost unbelievable courage and dedication. The fledgling church could never have prospered without such a strong WK in the vanguard. Such a powerful personage, however, might be expected to look askance at HSPs.

When Paul and Barnabas teamed up in ministry they took with them the young John Mark. I have to believe that Mark was an HSP, and not tough enough to suit Paul. The contention between Barnabas and Paul concerning Mark became so heated that they separated. Later, perhaps as he mellowed, Paul was reconciled with Mark.

THE TWELVE

I used to have a slight problem with what seemed to be Christ's favoritism shown toward Peter, James, and John. Now I believe I understand. Jesus had the greatest mission ever known, and only a little over three years to complete it. He needed some strong warrior-kings to be his point men, to lead out. That called for men like the outspoken Peter and the "sons of thunder."

However, in spite of their high profile, these men weren't the only ones to contribute. Christ didn't error by selecting dead wood. In the kingdom we will find that an HSP like Thomas also had a significant role to play. It seems all but certain that he was the one who introduced Christianity to the great nation of India. We each are called to play a part, and in heaven there will be reward enough for all.

OUR OWN AGE

Today the Body of Christ is not going to move ahead according to God's plan without the leadership of the apostles. However, the role of the prophet or seer must not be overlooked or slighted, as they also are part of God's plan. As God blesses, it is easy for strong apostles to become self-confident, trusting too much in their own strength. Without the balance God has ordained, apostles have a tendency to self-destruct. Some apostles also are strongly prophetic. When such is the case, there's a temptation for the apostle to rely on his own prophetic gifting instead of seeking it in another person. Perhaps it is fair to ask an apostle with heavy leadership responsibilities, "Who is the prophet or seer through whom God brings input into your ministry?"

We also need to remember that God has placed in the Body the gift of wisdom. That is for a purpose, and the apostle should know who in his congregation has that particular gift. I think it quite likely that the elders in the small home churches of the first century were chosen for their mature wisdom. No apostle is good enough, or wise enough, to carry the entire load by himself.

ADDITIONAL ASPECTS

Some apostles fall into the trap of "gift projection." This error assumes that anyone who is sufficiently dedicated could, and should, move in the gifting of the apostle. This is a dangerous mistake. We each have our spiritual gifts, and they vary widely. Gift projection can cause certain members to feel as if they're not serving God as they should be.

Most of those involved in the current move of the Holy Spirit enjoy an exuberant worship service. Eventually, however, HSPs feel the need for time out, to seek a quieter venue. Since WKs could go on all night, they need to be careful they don't misjudge the HSPs as lacking in devotion.

The Holy Spirit engenders a close family relationship, and WKs are great huggers. For some HSPs hugging is a bit difficult, and so they may appear to be less caring.

A close knit church family needs to seek out HSPs with special talents or gifting. A WK with a good voice, or even a modest one, will not be overlooked. Soon after joining a congregation he may contact leaders of the music department and announce, "I sing solos. Now when do I sing?" On the other hand, an HSP with a beautiful singing voice may never get to share his gifting unless "discovered."

The life of Jesus was, of course, always in perfect balance. He was a highly sensitive Warrior King. We need to seek this same balance in our own individual lives. As we do, we greatly enhance the ministry of the Kingdom.

A Word For Kenya

Mark Acuna

While in Kenya this month, the Holy Spirit gave me a word for the nation and for His people in the land. This word was delivered first in the town of Kimilili and later in Kitale. I submit this word to the believers in Kenya and to all who pray for that beautiful land.

The Spirit of the Lord revealed 5 things He was about to do in the cities and towns of Kenya:

1. The God of Judgements is about to visit you.

The Lord is setting His plumb line among His people (Isa. 28:17). The Lord is about to visit Kenya and righteousness goes before Him and prepares the way for His steps (Psalm 85:13). The Lord is dividing the sheep and the goats. He will foil the signs of false prophets and make fools of diviners, but He will carry out the words of His servants and the predictions of His messengers (Isa. 44:24-26). The righteous will rejoice in the judgements of the Lord, but the wicked of the land will be put to shame. Judgement is coming first to the household of God, because soon great trial is to come upon the nation. The Lord says, "Be ready."

2. The Lord is Pronouncing Blessing upon His church.

What God has blessed, will be blessed (Numbers 23:8 & 20). The Lord is granting favor to His people (Psalm 5:12). Those who laugh at you today, will be coming to you in humility to ask you to show them the way to knowing the Heavenly Father. The Lord will touch even the hardest hearts and this will be a sign to His Church.

3. The Arrogance of Man will be brought down.

The pride of God's people will be humbled. There will be no room in the house of God for anyone to share His glory. The Lord alone will be exalted (Isa.2:17-18). Now is the time to humble ourselves before the Lord.

4. The Lord will Teach His Church to do Battle.

His troops will be willing on the day of battle (Psalm 110:3). He is even now teaching your hands how to war. Don't look to the familiar ways of doing things. Learn how to touch the throne of God in worship and prayer until His scepter is extended to grant you His authority.

5. The Lord is about to Open the Heavens over Kenya.

Already the mercy drops are being felt. The Lord will command the heavens to open and righteousness to rain down (Isa. 45:8). The Lord is giving His Church the favor of Joseph of the Bible. The Church will speak the word of God and the granaries of heaven will be opened to feed the people. They will be fed the bread of heaven that sustains the weary. The Lord hears the cries of the people. He will remove the heavy yoke from around your neck. He will respond in mercy to the cries of the poor, the sick, the oppressed, and the bound.

Lam. 3:37 "Who can speak and have it happen if the Lord has not decreed it?"

A Kingdom of Priests / Two Eagles

A Kingdom of Priests
Luz Cintron

EXODUS 19:6(a) 6 And ye shall be unto me a kingdom of priests, and an holy nation.

Almost every one of us heard that scripture at one time or another. I have heard it many times and it touched me. But to understand exactly what it means and expects from us believers... that is another story.

Ok, what is a priest, anyway? Going to the Webster Dictionary I find this definition: priest: one authorized to perform the sacred rites of a religion esp. as a mediatory agent between humans and God.

If our God has chosen us to be for Him and unto Him a kingdom of priests... What does it really translate to be for us? What are the "sacred rites" that we are expected to perform before Him? We don't think much about priests, do we? It is something seen in history and in the catholic church, but, what does it mean for us?

In the epistle of Hebrews we read that Christ is our High Priest, one we can identify wholly with, since He himself endured our troubles and temptations and can understands exactly how we feel. Then the office of Priest points to the ministry of Jesus.

AARON HIGH PRIEST OF THE WILDERNESS

It was in the wilderness that the office of the high priest was defined, established and inaugurated. I am convinced that our heavenly Father loves to teach. Everything throughout the old testament is weaved with types and symbols that announced Christ, reveals God's heart, present His eternal plan and purpose for us. Like hidden notes of love everywhere to remind us just how close He keeps us to His heart.

In every major story in the Bible, an aspect of His character is revealed unto us, or a trait of Christ's character. Like pieces of a puzzle waiting to be connected to show us the beauty hidden in them. Each story carries a piece of the "big picture", almost hidden, until it becomes connected to the rest. The Bible is, to the one who studies it, like a big wonderful and indescribable jigsaw puzzle, always bringing us new and old revelations of who He Is, to bless our hearts and establish us in His ways.

Our God has called us to be unto Him a kingdom of Priests. Since Aaron was the first high priest to be ordained by God, let's take a look to see what can be found about the priesthood through him. His life as high priest in the wilderness points to Jesus our High Priest in the Heavens, always before God interceding on our behalf, ministering His blood, His life.

THE PRIESTHOOD THROUGH THE GARMENTS

There was some years ago a book called "Dressed For Success" in which more or less, it was stated that if you would dress for the position you would like to obtain you would end up achieving it, or at least, you would have more chances at it. Well, to make this a practical advice, other things would have to come into play. I can't help but wonder while reading Exodus chapter 28, how "new or original" that concept of dressed for success was. It is fair to say that it was a popular book among executives in the big corporations of that time and their "wannabes".

For us believers Exodus 28 should serve us in our spiritual life as a guideline to become more what we are call to be. But what is it really? What does it mean to be a priest, to minister unto the Lord as one? What was he dressed for? Lets find out how the dress code for the office of the priest was defined. I think that each garment was designed with the purpose to reveal something, to teach us something about the priest's office, duties, or role. Each garment points to a different aspect of Jesus function as a High Priest on our behalf, and also points to whom we are called to become in Him, through Him and with Him.

First of all, the Lord told Moses to separate Aaron and his sons from among the rest of the people. Ok, that is like the separation that happens between the believer and this world. If we are to be a nation of priests, and so it means that everybody gets to be a priest, where is the congregation we are called to serve? Could it be that the Lord raises to Himself, a whole nation made of priests, that is to mediate between Him and the lost souls of this world? Is that all? Are there no other function to fulfil? What about the horizontal aspect of that ministry? Is it required of us? What exactly would that be?

John, the apostle who lived the longest, the one who had the more time to ponder and go deep into the words of our Lord writes:

"By this we know we love, because He laid down His life for us. And we also ought to lay down our lives for the brethren..."

1 John 3:16

Aaron was separated from the midst of the people, consecrated, dedicated to spend his life for the congregation. He was to abide in his life by the rules given Him, from lifestyle to dressing, to where they were to eat and how to do it. He was to live his life according to the revelation given to Moses and abide to it through all his life. Christ was the one who never spoke of Himself but that which He heard the Father speak, and did only what He saw the Father do.

It is no coincidence that the apostle John is the one who speaks more deeply of love. He was the one who heard the Lord's heartbeat. Sometimes the deeper you get to know something the more simple it gets to you. I enjoy the epistles of John because to me, at that point in his life he was able to summarize everything, clearly and in very simple terms. He also received a revelation of this priestly role in the life of believers:

REVELATION 1:6 6 And hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; to him [be] glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

REVELATION 20:6 6 Blessed and holy [is] he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

So the Lord showed John He has called to Himself a Nation of Priests (and Kings) until the end of times. Do we really understand and walk according to the purpose to which we were saved for? Or are we hardly aware of what it is? Do you live priestly? Do you live to do intercession? mediation? Is it something more?

In Exodus we see that the first thing done unto Aaron and his sons after being separated is their cleansing. And they are not taken and washed in private. Those who were selected from the whole congregation, to be separated to be priests, were taken to the door of the tabernacle and washed before the congregation.

That to me speaks of the love of truth. We tend to think of those in office as more spiritual, as less carnal, more strong than the rest of us. Somehow untouched by the kinds of temptation and doubts that the rest of us endure. The more spiritual insight we see in someone, the more we expect that any moment wings may sprout and they be taken up flying or something. We want to be like them because somehow we think they are not like us and they have more "pull" than us for things like praying and believing. This kind of thought takes us to leave in their hands what is also our responsibility, to pray, intercede and minister before the Lord with all kinds of prayer and supplications as the Spirit may leads us. Prayer becomes a way of life.

We are all called to be priests to the Most High, and that is not opposed to the fellowship of the saints. The fellowship of faith, but also of suffering, of prayers, of trials and temptation; united as the members of the body are to each other, we are united in Christ our High priest in becoming priests after Him. Aaron priesthood also pointed to Christ's own, as Christ points us to the Father as He lives to make intercession and to minister his life. In the same way we are called to live in such manner on behalf of the body of believers and also on behalf of those souls destined for salvation that are yet to come into His Kingdom.

The Lord instructs Moses to take them (Aaron & Sons) right to the door of the Tabernacle and wash them. And I tell you, in a time where there was no TV or radio or nothing like that, I bet there was not a soul that missed watching that. And since everybody was walking and living in the same wilderness I bet you they too needed a good bath with scrubbing and everything. And there was Moses, and Aaron and Aaron's sons.... doing something that showed the people how much alike they were to each other and also how God calls and selects each one of us.

They have seen the weavers and the crafters preparing all those colourful and shiny outfits, made in blue and with threads of gold. I bet you that among the Hebrews no one had more costly or luxurious garments than Aaron's. I am sure everybody at one point or other saw some of them. There they were, those elected to be dressed differently, live differently, every day from now on. They too needed a bath, and even though everybody gets their chance at the tub at their convenience, these got theirs in plain view. God doesn't want the appearance of consecration, holiness, He wants it to be true so He starts saying this is the raw material, just bring it to Me and watch what I will do with it. The first thing done to Aaron was to show the congregation how much they were alike and how "unspecial" he was.

The more we accept our weaknesses, the more glory we give to God. There was no shame in being cleansed before the congregation. It was showing them the need of spiritual cleansing that we all have, and confessing that the selection came out of God's mercy and not because they deserved it or it was due unto them somehow. Now, how many of us would allow the Lord to cleanse us at the door of the tabernacle? How many of us would endure our pride to be uncovered and our flesh exposed and cleansed before the congregation of believers, before the world? How many would submit unto it with a heart of faith in the spirit to give glory unto Him? It was not chastisement, they were cleansed because they were chosen, as we have been chosen to serve God in the same office, as priests of The Most High. And we are not to be cleansed by Him in the same manner? In this we show respect to Him and give Him glory by not pretending to be who we are not.

After being cleansed they were dressed in beauty and glory. Now, that part we all like, don't we? Well, wait to see what garments they were clothed with. They had an ephod. OK, what is an ephod?

1) ephod 1a) priestly garment, shoulder-cape or mantle, outer garment 1a1) worn by an ordinary priest and made of white stuff 1a2) worn by the high priest -- more costly, woven of gold, blue, purple, scarlet, and linen threads provided with shoulder-pieces and a breast piece of like material, ornamented with gems and gold

Sound designer material to me and more than that, beautiful indeed. None of us dress with materials like that, or do we? That is the way Jesus, our High priest dresses, and isn't it said that we sit with Him in heavenly places?

So the ephod was kind of a cape, but very laboured, woven with gold, blue, purple, scarlet. It had something going on at the shoulders that kept the cape united. What was it?

7 It shall have the two shoulderpieces thereof joined at the two edges thereof; and [so] it shall be joined together.

You see, the Lord instructed Moses to take two onyx stones and engrave in each one the names of the tribes, six on one and six on the other one.

Look , here it is:

EXODUS 28:9 9 And thou shalt take two onyx stones, and grave on them the names of the children of Israel:

EXODUS 28:10 10 Six of their names on one stone, and [the other] six names of the rest on the other stone, according to their birth.

EXODUS 28:11 11 With the work of an engraver in stone, [like] the engravings of a signet, shalt thou engrave the two stones with the names of the children of Israel: thou shalt make them to be set in ouches of gold.

EXODUS 28:12 12 And thou shalt put the two stones upon the shoulders of the ephod [for] stones of memorial unto the children of Israel: and Aaron shall bear their names before the LORD upon his two shoulders for a memorial.

EXODUS 28:13 13 And thou shalt make ouches [of] gold;

So God asks them to take two stones, engrave them and put them on the shoulder of the cape (ephod). Aaron was called to carry the children of Israel upon his shoulders before the Lord, and the two engraved stones were to remind him that he was carrying them before the Lord every single day of his life.

Two stones on his shoulder, representative as they were, they were stones. I am sure that there must have been times in which those little stones made him think of bigger ones, and may have seemed to him as heavy as a mountain. But they were small, engraved with the names of those he was to represent and to carry before the Lord. Get rid of them, and the ephod would fall apart, it was what kept the ephod together. They kept Aaron covered with the ephod so to speak. Food for thought.

Do we carry the infirmities of those around us like Aaron carried the engraved stones? Are we not a kingdom of priests unto the Most High? Did not Jesus carry our infirmities upon His shoulders all the way to Golgotha? Like a stone of pain and sorrow upon His shoulder He carried them in the cross unto death before His Father, our sins and transgression, our iniquities and infirmities. Every time the Father would look at Aaron He would see what Jesus volunteered to do. That was exactly what He wanted His children to look for, He wanted us to learn to live it. Didn't He said we where to be a kingdom of priests unto Him?

But let's not stop there look at this. He repeats the same lesson over and over. There was a breastplate to be worn called the breastplate of judgement:

EXODUS 28:15 15 And thou shalt make the breastplate of judgment with cunning work; after the work of the ephod thou shalt make it; [of] gold, [of] blue, and [of] purple, and [of] scarlet, and [of] fine twined linen, shalt thou make it.

EXODUS 28:17 17 And thou shalt set in it settings of stones, [even] four rows of stones: [the first] row [shall be] a sardius, a topaz, and a carbuncle: [this shall be] the first row.

EXODUS 28:19 19 And the third row a ligure, an agate, and an amethyst.

EXODUS 28:20 20 And the fourth row a beryl, and an onyx, and a jasper: they shall be set in gold in their inclosings.

EXODUS 28:21 21 And the stones shall be with the names of the children of Israel, twelve, according to their names, [like] the engravings of a signet; every one with his name shall they be according to the twelve tribes.

So He placed the congregation upon Aaron shoulders, but also upon His heart. Upon his heart they were represented as jewels, one precious stone for each tribe. That is what the children of Israel were unto the Lord, his precious jewels. Upon the breastplate so as to remind Aaron how precious to His heart these children were so he would learn to love as God loves them. Upon the breastplate, for Aaron to remind the Lord how precious they were to Him when he would enter to minister unto the Lord in times of need as prescribed by the law.

Our Heavenly Father, the One we know to be slow to anger and abundant in mercy, He wanted to be reminded by the High Priest so constantly of these things that it is called a continual memorial:

EXODUS 28:29 29 And Aaron shall bear the names of the children of Israel in the breastplate of judgment upon his heart, when he goeth in unto the holy [place], for a memorial before the LORD continually.

I think this may be a very practical advice for those of us who lack patience or longsuffering, let's do all we can to remind ourselves of the good points, the good things we know about those that test our patience most. Let's pray before the Lord that He puts His heart in us to help us love them since we lose it so often. And if all else fails, let's remember Christ's blood is upon them and His heart longs for them passionately.

Here was Aaron dressed in such an impressive way. The same Aaron who threw the gold into the fire and ... there: a golden calf "came to be" (?). The same one that was washed at the tabernacle door in the presence of the congregation. The one dressed in blue, gold, purple, linen, carrying upon his shoulders and his breast the children of Israel. Those who knew him more intimately, those who were acquainted with his weaknesses, would be reminded that it has been God 's doing to separate this man from their midst unto Him. That he was made holy unto the Lord. Every time they would look at him and his sons, their garments would remind them of Aaron's calling and separation.

I think this is practical advice unto the us against murmuring and complaint. Don't we know how to find failures against those called to shepherd us? Don't we have reasons to feel they have failed us here and there? Well, allow the Lord to remind you of what they are carrying upon their shoulder and their hearts before the Lord continually. For it is Christ's very own blood for judgement and justice and it will be required of them, (for we are the fruit of Christ's blood upon this earth) and they are fighting their flesh just like us but under greater pressure. For they will be held accountable for it before the Lord. They have to die to themselves, be washed (before the congregation) just like anyone else but, with less privacy. We will endure one judgement, they will endure two, at the door of the tabernacle it will be made public every thought, every word, because we serve a God who sees all, knows all, hears all... " If the thought of public judgment makes you faint there is a way to find boldness for that day and it is in 1 John 4:17

"Love has been perfected among us in this: that we may have boldness in the day of judgment; because as He is, so are we in this world." 1 John 4:17

But going back to the High Priest of the wilderness:

EXODUS 28:30 30 And thou shalt put in the breastplate of judgment the Urim and the Thummim; and they shall be upon Aaron's heart, when he goeth in before the LORD: and Aaron shall bear the judgment of the children of Israel upon his heart before the LORD continually.

Not much was said about these Urim and Thummim, except that they were stones, they were carried upon Aaron's breast, they were put upon the breastplate of judgment, they were worn constantly. We know that these stones were used to cast lots to find God's will. And here is the "funny" part that speaks to me; the name given to those stones ...

Urim = "lights?" Thummim = "perfection"

There were times in my life in which I didn't have a clue about God's will for me. Those were the times in which I needed light and perfection the most. I don't want to imply I know all there is to know about His will for me. It is when our soul gets troubled, when our flesh wars against the spirit and confusion takes hold that we need: light and perfection the most. The way to know God's will is through light and perfection.

To me it speaks of the love of truth. That I love truth so much I don't fear to come unto the light to receive perfection. The more we fear the light the more we need it. But we don't speak of it much, do we? Oh we love the Lord and we love Him passionately but: How difficult is to allow Him to wash us at the tabernacle door? The measure of difficulty is the measure of our pride, no matter how many excuses we may make about it. For these people the wilderness became like a one room house. What was talked in one tent was heard in the other and their priests were washed at the door of their tabernacle. They were left with little space to retrieve to. They couldn't "play" to love, they were made to love truth. And these two stones Aaron carried upon his heart were indicative of the place we should give light and perfection in our lives.

Do we love truth? Do we speak truth unto each other, specially when we are in conflict, when we feel offended? Do we speak truth in love? Do we receive truth in love? Especially when we feel singled out? When we are defensive? When we feel "judged"? Do we love truth so much, and trust Jesus enough to receive it in meekness, with love? DO WE REALLY LOVE JESUS?

The way it is... there is no room to retrieve to. He said He was what?

Jesus said to him: "I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through Me". John 14:6

If we do not learn to love Him, what He is to us, which is Truth we will not find the Way and we may end up losing our Life, one way or the other.

He also said:

"And you shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." John 8:32

When we want to look at truth the less, that is exactly when we need it the most. Truth shall set us free no matter how many excuses we may weave around it or try to avoid it. Truth is Christ and to love and receive it, to love and give it, that is the Way to Life in Christ.

Don't you know that when you speak truth in love to your brother it is Christ you are ministering unto him? That when you learn to receive it from your brother lovingly it is Christ that you receive? You know you love the Lord when you are able to receive your brother's truth in meekness, humbleness of heart and love it. Know that in doing so you receive Christ. You know you love the Lord when in times of test and trials you can speak to your brother truth in love with humbleness and meekness of heart, and in doing so, you minister the Lord to him.

DO WE LOVE TRUTH?

Are we willing to love the Urim and Thummim upon Christ's heart? To be open to its use in our lives? Do we love and trust God's will for us no matter what? He is the Truth.... Nobody comes to the Father but through Him.

Since the sacrifice of Christ was made, there remains no more need of sacrifices. What remains as a priestly duty to be carried is this enduring, serving of each other before the Lord and unto the Lord continually. In this, the world will know that we are His disciples (John 13:35), in the love that we have for each other, as a nation of Kings and Priests ministering the Truth of Christ. What remains is Christ. We minister Christ to each other and to the world. The one able to receive Him, let him receive Christ.

Shalom!

Two Eagles-One Word
Luz Cintron

June 12, 2000. While on a prayer meeting at church I had this vision and a word from the Lord:

The Vision:

Two eagles were shown to me. The first one had a white head, his eyes were yellow, bright yellow and so his beak. He was looking downward very intensely, all around.

Then He showed me a second eagle, and it was all black, his feathers were dark black, shinny and soft as silk. His eyes were all black, His eyes shone with light of their own but as one who reflects it. His eyes were like shinning jewels, they look alive and shone like water when the sun hits it, but I still could see they were black, they were soft and smooth. There was something very regal about this one as he moved looking around even though everything was dark nothing was hidden to his sight, He could see all, and even though he was black I still could see the shine of his silky feathers as black as pitch darkness itself. I couldn't see what he was looking at through that darkness, but I could see he was able to see and was doing so as intensely as the white one in the daylight.

Both eagles were awesome. Both have their beaks bright yellow, same beak same size. They were beautiful.

The interpretation:

The two eagles are representative of aspects of the prophetic that the Lord is to release. The first one, the one with the yellow eyes and the white head who look intensely at all around downward may be the one who weighs the things that are in open view and interprets the signs, times and seasons. He is in the light of the day so as to say for things that are in plain view.

The other one, the black one, I don't think there are black eagles, but this one was an eagle and a very black one. He represents another aspect, which is the one who deals with things that are hidden, in darkness. The Lord will start to reveal the things that are hidden in the hearts of men, he will uncover also the deeds of darkness. With strong determination He will bring all things to the light, even as He covers Himself with darkness as with light. He is Lord and He will reveal Himself as Lord. The Lord is to invade the kingdom of darkness from its very core, where it feels more fortified, impenetrable and secure. His eyes will pierce the cover of their darkness with darkness itself and leave them nowhere to run. He is fearsome to behold. He is the One Who rules in the midst of His enemies with a rod of iron.

The Word:

Then the Lord spoke and said about this nation (USA) it is a wilderness laid waste, wasted, polluted and dry. He said He is about to open fountains in the wilderness for life and for healing. He is the rock of Horeb from which the Israelites drank in the desert. He is the rock that gives forth living water to all whom may want to drink. He is the Rock and the Living Waters. He is The Rock and also the cleft on the rock, all we need to do is hide in Him and He will cover us with His hands while his glory passes by.

Unto those believers that have secular jobs that suffer the roughness of the wilderness of Sin, He says He is the rock of Horeb within you, as He releases the living waters it will not be a trickle but a gushing forth with strength that will not only flood you, but flowing from deep within you it will overflow into the lives of those around you.

Drink of Him and be strengthened for Amalek is at the door, but drink, so you too can be fortified to win over him in battle. For everywhere there are believers there will follow the manifestation of His presence with signs and wonders. Those are the fountains of the wilderness and that is HIM. He will change the wilderness into a lovely garden with the revelation of His presence.

Come Lord Jesus, our Love, our Friend. We need you. Come quickly !

A Letter To The Beloved

Angel Howard

A letter to the beloved of God from His Servants the prophets;

Dear beloved,

There are things we would like you, our brothers and sisters in the body of Christ to know about our call that may not be known.

We not only speak the Words the Father gives us but we must also love you with HIS LOVE, we must see you as He sees you.

When the Lord has shown me how He sees you through His eyes - I love you more dearly and tenderly than words can say. For I see the great love the Father has for you, His hopes and desires for you.

There is an anguish that goes on with in those who of us who have a prophetic call, I desire to help you understand.

Being called to be a mouthpiece for God has a cost - a price tag on it. It means having to live with rejection. We have to guard ourselves from permitting any arrogance or self-righteous attitudes from developing. These are just forms of Self-protection to guard against this pain that we will get. If we protect ourselves, then we're not trusting God. It's a constant place of humility before God that we must walk in.

Those of us who have been (and are being) tempered of the Lord for this call, can not comprehend why anyone would so eagerly desire this gift. We say amongst ourselves "if they only knew the cost they would not want it."

We can be found often in our quiet prayer times simply crying on his lap or at His feet, attempting to accept and become grounded in this peace that HE will never leave nor forsake me. As long as I am pleasing, and blessing HIM I am content.

It means, "are you willing to follow me regardless of how many friends and family forsake you?" It is a bittersweet thing. Bitter in that the flesh and emotions are constantly being torn. This is why we end up on our face before God. Sweet because of the awesome intimacy with the Lord. The times we are Most intimate with Jesus are when we cry his tears for you - his beloved.

There are many of us (if not all) who have cried out like the prophet Jeremiah did; Jerm20: 9 But if I say, "I will not mention him or speak any more in his name," his word is in my heart like a fire, a fire shut up in my bones. I am weary of holding it in; indeed, I cannot.

Just like that - like a fire pinned up burning inside till we can hold it no longer and we MUST speak forth the words. We battle with; "oh this is just my thinking" or "maybe I'm over reacting," or others judging our words because they judge us.

Sure we are received if our messages confirm you and are pleasant, but if they are words that sting with conviction quickly the defenses go up and all sorts of rationale and self-protective devices come up. You then seem to Judge us to be too emotional or to be speaking from our woodenness. Our brokenness before the Lord we have been known to share with you, so clearly seeing our own faults and shortcomings. These things you we entrusted to you - they seem to get twisted around and used against us as reason for you not receiving the Word of the Lord. This gives a false permission to cast aside any uncomfortable words we may have.

I'm a seer and see the demonic forces that plague your life. You may not be aware of them but I see the games they play on you and the protective devices they have set up to keep you away from knowing the depth of the Love of the FATHER. These are the very things I cry over.

It doesn't matter how gentle and loving I may give the words - you choose not to listen. Have you hardened your hearts?

This then causes me to intercede more, with great groanings. We question; Why Lord do you have me here? Why Lord do you show me these things? I am shown these things so that I may pray. We have learned to NEVER SPEAK A WORD quickly but to carry it in intercession the burden of the Lord weighs upon our hearts. This is what we mean when we say the word has to first be worked/birthed through us. Just like a woman in labor we often travail for you.

I have heard it said that you think I have NO understanding of the gift of mercy.

mer·cy (mûrs) n., pl. mer·cies. 1. Compassionate treatment, especially of those under one's power; clemency. 2. A disposition to be kind and forgiving: a heart full of mercy. 3. Something for which to be thankful; a blessing: It was a mercy that no one was hurt. 4. Alleviation of distress; relief: Distributing food among the homeless was an act of mercy.

This is a lie, how can we NOT Have mercy? We learn to stand in the gap - we cry out on your behalf. How can someone think we have No idea of mercy when that is exactly what I appeal to the Father for on your behalf?

How many judgments and failures have been avoided because the prophet of the Lord interceded for you?

So, how can you my sister/brother so quickly cut me off and tear my heart from my chest? I have always stood here for you, anytime you've had need I was ready to war for you. Ready to hold your hand and stand beside you? How can you now justify turning your back on me, shunning me. How can you honestly say it is because I do not know mercy?

We carry burdens for you that you may never know about. We attempt to help you see, but too often you refuse to heed advice, thinking it is our own imaginations. We are often restrained by Holy Spirit not to speak or to let you know. This is not only for you, but a lesson for us that we must learn. So when we seem aloof and almost distancing ourselves from you, it may be because the Lord has been sharing His burden for you with us. We sometimes have to put distance, to keep ourselves from being disobedient in being quiet. You see I care for you too much, and if you ask me to many things I may say more than I should. My orders are to intercede and to help pray things through. To be quietly in the background doing the spiritual undercover work.

What we do is not really seen by you. Our work and gift is manifested in intercession. This is how we are trained, how we learn to hear His voice. How to walk in obedience.

One of the most difficult things to hear from the Lord is when He says; "NO LONGER INTERCEDE" - judgment is to come.' This may come as a startle, but the lifting of the burden often comes as grace. To know a judgement is coming and that someone will fall or someone will be hurt, how this tears at my emotions. Each time I think of it, I run to the Lord and ask; "Lord? Can I not pray for mercy?" only to hear the reply; "No, it is done" decisions are made.' All that is left to pray now is that the judgement will be received so that repentance and restoration may come. When the Father says "NO", I can not pray a thing! I can not even mention your name before him. This can be so hard, for He had brought us together, knitting our hearts, and putting His love for you in my heart. When I am told "NO" I am left having to make sure that any emotional ties are cut so that my heart no longer cries out for you.

You don't know oh beloved of God - how much we, the prophets amongst you - love and cry out for you - - you have No idea!

We can not carry a burden for you for any amount of time without the LOVE of the Father for you, becoming part of the very fabric of our being. Therefore, when you suddenly sever or cut off from us, it is not only our grief we feel but also the grief of the father. If indeed it were the Lord saying to cut - He would have already prepared us. For He was the one to lay you upon my heart and with Him did I share his heart. Knowing His voice, and what is about to happen has been part of our training.

I have been shown many things about you my dear brethren that I am not released to speak. I can not tell you part, or any until the Lord says to. For if I do, then I taunt you and make you dependent upon me. Almost as a lure to keep you coming back to me. To fill my own self-gratification. This is a form of manipulation, which is an abomination to my LORD. I can do no more, and no less then what I am told.

I must guard my heart at all times, constantly saying "Search me Oh Lord, if there be any vile thing in me."

I live with the realization that I may not be received and possibly even cast aside, so I admit I struggle with trusting and loving. Even in this, I can not help the Fathers love pulling on my heart for you, his beloved. So, here I go again,...

A Love Letter to the Bride

Becky Mclendon

I have been studying considerably THE BRIDE of Christ for several years now, mainly because I want to know WHO She is. In 1994 the Lord had me write down this love letter to the bride and it gives somewhat a picture of who she is and how she gets there:

"Where is My bride? Bring her forth that I might rejoice over her and wed her."

"Yes! Look to the times, My people, for I have sent out My call! Hear ye My voice? Hear ye My call?"

"The things of the world are dimming. Yes, I say the earthly cares are being swallowed up in darkness. Look UP, My children, for My light pierces the heavens! HAVE YOUR ATTENTION FIXED ON ME, for My light, My glory goeth forth for you to behold and take hold.

"Yes, My children, I am shaking! I am sifting. I am stripping. For ye shall be in readiness to be adorned in the festal wedding attire. LO! It is prepared. Yea! I say it is prepared.

"As Esther fasted and purified herself, so shall ye be fasted and purified.

"Oh My bride! I yearn for thee. The chamber is ready. The feast is laid. Waitest thou outside the chamber with oil in your lamp? Or do you slumber with empty lamp?"

"Oh, bride. Oh bride. Do not stand aloof! Do not shrink back. My heart breaks with love at the sight of you. Yes! You! Do ye not know that through My Son I see you as perfect (spiritually mature) As beautiful? Look not to your imperfections. As My light shines on you and through you, these imperfections will fall off quickly, for you will yield them up to me. You won't want your imperfections anymore once you have beheld Me in My glory.

"Ours is a love song, My beloved. Do you not hear Me singing over you in the night? Hearken to it. My song pours over you continually. Soften your heart to it. There is no song like My song. It is the song that refreshes, restores, heals, and makes you whole. There is no song like My song, for it is the result of your worship of ME. I leap toward you, with arms open wide, and I smile from ear to ear because of you. Come toward me and worship me IN SPIRIT AND IN TRUTH.

"Would you shrink back from Me? Would you fear such as this? The wedding is not for the fearful. It is for the betrothed, have I not betrothed you? Are ye counted as My bride? Many are called, but few are chosen.

"I say YES you are! Stretch your faith this day. Stretch your faith toward Me. I leap toward you My beloved.

"I see you coming. Yes! There are dark clouds all around, My bride. Yes!

You walk hesitantly as through a dense fog, but LO! The fog dissipates as you approach Me. Yea, it dissipates, opening a path for you. Yea, just as the path opened for My children as they crossed the Red Sea, and the River Jordan, yea, the path opens. The fog dissipates.

"Walk straight ahead. Yea, there are rocks. There are obstacles, but keep coming, My bride. You are on the straight and the narrow path. It is not followed by many, for it is laden with trials and tribulations and suffering. It is called the Way of Suffering. It is the path that I walked.

"You are only inches away from My outstretched hand. Tarry not on the path. Remember I am a light unto your path...I AM the Way...the path.

"Yea, I see you. I see you. Soon you will see Me fully. Keep coming ahead. DO NOT look behind you. Keep coming ahead. Only moments. Only seconds until we can wed. The trumpet is about to sound 'BEHOLD THE BRIDEGROOM.

"Does your spirit say with MY Spirit...even so...quickly come? "

Amen

BE BLESSED THIS DAY...Becky (Way)

All Or None

Becky McLendon

This was a word the Lord gave me back in November 1999. It is for NOW. Becky

The Lord woke me up this morning with the words "ALL OR NONE"...He said, "You will have ALL of Me or NONE of Me...ALL of My Word or NONE of it!!!!...You cannot have PART of Me or choose what you will have...It is ALL OR NONE.

"Inheriting heaven is one thing. Inheriting the Kingdom and Christ is the ultimate thing. Many are called, but few are chosen. All who are called by my Name will "go to heaven," but the BRIDE will wind up IN ME. Going to heaven and being the bride are NOT the same.

"My people have been confessing 'who they are in Christ' for years, standing on the promises of God and all that. I say to you 'By my word you have been made whole...NOW, GO! and SIN NO MORE....DO NOT TRANSGRESS MY WORD ANY MORE!!!'

"I am finished with this monster that man has called "church", the man - made Babylonian System. I am about to raise up MY church. I have allowed the tares to grow right alongside the wheat, but now there is coming a great harvest of a dual nature. The tares are becoming evident and being bundled for burning, and the wheat is being gathered together for the storehouse...The WHOLE TITHE IS COMING INTO THE STOREHOUSE. Many are called but few are chosen. I have shown you the shepherd pointing out the sheep for the tithe as they pass under his staff. Every 10th Sheep is set apart for the tithe! The whole tithe is the completed ingathering of the Bride. All go into the sheepfold, but the tithe goes into the storehouse. All who have accepted Messiah go to heaven, but few are chosen to be WED to Messiah. The CHOSEN have taken ALL of Me.

"Do you desire to be My bride, My chosen, the royal priesthood? Then take me ...ALL OF ME, or you will have NONE of me. You will have ALL OF ME or NONE OF ME. "

Love in Christ..

Becky

It's a NOW sort of thing.
Becky McLendon

Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, This people say, The time is not come, the time that the LORD'S house should be built. Then came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying, Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your cieled houses, and this house lie waste? Now therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts; Consider your ways. Ye have sown much, and bring in little; ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and he that earneth wages earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Consider your ways. Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the LORD. Ye looked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, I did blow upon it. Why? saith the LORD of hosts. Because of mine house that is waste, and ye run every man unto his own house. Therefore the heaven over you is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit. And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the new wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and upon all the labour of the hands. (Haggai 1:1 - 11)

This passage of scripture has said much to me for 20 years. At first when I read it my "reaction" was "Well, that can't be for NOW." I was content with where I was, a newly saved Christian, very active in "Church work" and feeling very good about it. Over the years this passage of scripture has peeled away layer after religious layer, and again it is speaking volumes to my spirit.

Go back to my initial statement: WELL, THAT CAN'T BE FOR NOW. Does it sound familiar? We are living in the "last" of the "last" days. The Lord is rapidly unveiling our eyes that we can behold Him. He is presenting Himself to His people as a NOW God who brings a NOW Kingdom. The true essence of IMMANUEL is revealed to us this day. Immanuel means: God is WITH us, IN us, BESIDE us ..ALL AROUND us. God is NEAR us NOW.

To the chief Musician for the sons of Korah, A Song upon Alamoth. God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea; Though the waters thereof roar and be troubled, though the mountains shake with the swelling thereof. Selah. There is a river, the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacles of the most High. God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved: God shall help her, and that right early. (Psalms 46: 1 - 5)

This is the picture of Immanuel. This is the secret place of the Most High God of Psalms 91. The problem with "this people" whom Haggai addressed was basic. They heard the scripture, read it and knew it, but relegated its significance for a time that was not YET. Always in the future. There is something wrong with that thinking. And the Lord addresses it. "You dwell in your ceiled houses, and this house lie waste". Relegating the "end things" always to the FUTURE and not NOW is a symptom of Laodicea. For to receive the END THINGS NOW would disturb and totally take down one's current theological "house"--their COMFORT ZONE.

As long as we relegate the true revelation, the unveiling, of Christ to His church, to the future "out there", we can continue to be "at ease in Zion". If we are heading up Mt. Zion as His holy remnant, we canNOT be at "ease", saying, "We are rich, fat, and lack nothing." He will spew us out of His mouth with that kind of thinking.

If we are truly destined for Zion, we are going to have every shred of our "personal theology" blasted by the fire proceeding from His mouth. If we are truly the remnant who will STAND with Him "in that Day" then that is what we do NOW. STAND with Him. The day of sitting on "past revelations" that we had is over. He is confirming those revelations and giving MORE. He calls us out of a time warp into His timelessness.

The Lord says" I AM UP HERE...LOOK UP to the NOW Kingdom, for I come to YOU personally, one individual at a time as I build MY HOUSE. The HOUSE who will stand with Me on Mt. Zion. I start with individuals and when the 'Mystery of God' is complete. when it is all put together, My 'Last Trump' will sound saying, 'The Kingdoms of this earth have now become the Kingdoms of the Lord, and you shall be changed in the twinkling of an eye.'

He says to us this day. "You are my TABERNACLES, come forth out of your "ceiled houses" ..the comfort zone and be OPENED to Me. My tabernacle has no roof over his/her head, nor any bed of comfort to recline on. As My own Son walked so shall you walk ON THIS EARTH, NOW, as part of My Kingdom. For what do I say, but this, it is ON EARTH AS IT IS IN HEAVEN. You have spoken OFT of 'Kingdom Living'. Is it not time to START? Open to Me, My beloved and I shall open to You!" Amen.

Becky, A Wayfarer Appropriate what has been imparted to you.
Becky McLendon

The Lord spoke to me this morning...saying, "Appropriate what has been imparted to you." It is the "computer chip" illustration...and it is a key to the statement "when the perfect is come".(1 Cor.13:10) That perfection (the MATURITY, FULLNESS, COMPLETION (teleios) has been imparted to us. God is saying now to take exclusive possession of it. It is like a powerful computer program. one has to ACCESS IT to be able to tap into all its possibilities. This is where people trip up...by saying the "perfect" teleios is for a later time, the "Inheritance" is for a later time. the Kingdom is for a later time. As long as it is "later" nothing needs to be done: no accountability for the light given. In plain English God has said: "Lay hold of what I have given you." For as you lay hold of what He has given you, the "program" starts working in you! You become "perfected" in that which you appropriate. If you have a powerful computer sitting in front of you with limitless capabilities to accomplish things, would you just sit there and wait till a later time to access the resources available? Or would you turn the thing on, read the manual and BEGIN TO ACCESS IT?

Many Christians are seen sitting around quoting what "brother so and so " said about what God said. And they live lives void of the power of God. They never turn the computer on. They never ACCESS what God has imparted. They admire the computer and recite its capabilities but have NEVER used them.

"Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth." (2 Timothy 3:7)

But God has spoken, "I have imparted to you all wisdom, all knowledge and all power to do the job that I have given you to do. I have imparted to you the Divine nature. I have imparted to you My love (agape) The mustard seed of My Kingdom is PLANTED in your heart. It is programmed to be what I said it is. My word is written on your heart and it will not return to Me void. If I say to you to APPROPRIATE, ACCESS, LAY HOLD OF WHAT I HAVE IMPARTED, GRANTED, GIVEN, AND CONVEYED TO YOU, then why are you saying 'OH THAT IS FOR LATER!'?"

"Have I not said that My Kingdom is AT HAND? Then receive your Inheritance, appropriate it! Look to ME now and LAY HOLD of Me. Appropriate what has been planted in your spirit. And how do you "do this?" By FAITH. By seeking ME with all you have and asking Me to SHOW you what I have given you."

Dare to pray earnestly today for that which has been imparted to you. Prepare to undergo a serious character change. Prepare to undergo a serious attitude adjustment, as God cleans out the "glitches" so that the program will function to its maximum potential.

Remember our song is a LOVE Song:

"It's all about You, Jesus. All this is for You, For Your Glory and Your fame. It's not about me, And trying to do things my way. You alone are Lord, and I surrender To Your name."

Amen Becky

Allurement into the Wilderness

Becky McLendon

Allurement into the Wilderness: Journey out of Prostitution into Perfection

Becky McLendon

Hosea 2:14 - 17

"Therefore, behold, I will allure her and bring her into the wilderness and, speak comfortably unto her.

Hosea had married a prostitute at God's instruction, to show the nature of the "bride" he would be taking, His bride has whored after things of this world and after vain religion. He is calling his "whoring bride" into the wilderness, leading her by the wooing of the Holy Spirit, to speak "comfortably unto her." Speaking comfortably indicates a pleading, to repent and turn back to God.

Matthew Henry says in his commentary on Hos. 2:14 that "those whom God has mercy in store for, He first brings them into a wilderness...SOLITUDE AND RETIREMENT . . .that they may more freely converse with Him, being out of the clamour of the world" (and the Babylonish religious system that bases all on human tradition and doctrines of man leaving out the truth of the scripture.)

And I will give her vineyards from thence, and the Valley of Achor for a door of hope: and she shall sing there, as in the days of her youth , and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt.

It is in this wilderness that the Bride moves from prostitution to perfection. It is interesting to note that the Valley of Achor is where Achan was stoned to death for harboring a Babylonish Garment and treasures of Babylon in his tent. We are in the wilderness NOT because we are so holy that we can't "mix" with everyone. We are in the wilderness where the Babylonish garments we have smuggled and hidden in our tents are EXPOSED and dealt with by the merciful Father. Wilderness experiences are NOT for our punishment, but for our proving.

Jesus, whom we are to imitate was led into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil. We too face these temptations. Attitudes and hidden iniquity are dealt with in the wilderness. Pride of life, lust, adultery (which by the way includes even entertaining the idea of "having" someone else's spouse)..the SECRETS OF THE HEART are dealt with in the wilderness. We are taken by His spirit to be tried in all areas to PROVE that we are His. His mercy takes us there because WE ARE NOT PURE as his Bride!!! Just as Jesus returned from the wilderness "in the POWER of the Holy Spirit and there went out a fame of him through the region round about." (Luke 4:14)

And it shall be at that day, saith the Lord That thou shalt call me Ishi (my husband) and shalt call me no more Baali (my lord) For I shall take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth and they shall no more be remembered by their name.

A marriage takes place in the wilderness. As our Lord deals directly with our heart and confronts us with His truth, we "cough up" the Babylonish junk we have hidden in our hearts. the idols of organized religion and man made doctrines and pride and adulterous thoughts do not mean anything to us any more. We give it up. We cease giving Him lip service. We become His betrothed once and for all..

"Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness leaning upon her beloved? . . Set me as a seal upon thine heart, as a seal upon thine arm for love is strong as death., jealousy is cruel as the grave...the coals thereof are coals of fire, which hath a most vehement flame." Song 8:5,6)

The bride emerges from the wilderness in the Power of the Holy Spirit. She is on the arm of her Bridegroom, marked by coals of FIRE...a most "vehement flame" She emerges from this wilderness experience with the FIRE OF HEAVEN in her eyes. And it shall be FAMED across the land when she emerges.

"Oh My people, embrace the wilderness, when I draw you. For I want to purge you of your prostitution and bring you to perfection. For you cannot be with me with out it. Welcome the dry place, for I will commune with you there, and you will bloom as a rose in the desert. And you will emerge with Me on My arm as My adornment. My beautiful one in white linen. You will be known as Mine. Be comforted in this My people, and yield to the wilderness, for without the wilderness, there can be no wedding." Amen

Almonds And Olives

Ephraim Frank

Dear Messianic Israelite,

This past week, as we waded through mourning and loss, following the tragic death of two beloved sisters in the Lord, we were reminded of YHVH's ever - present comforting love and grace. We met with the two remaining daughter/sisters of the deceased, and so strong was the anointing on both of them, that they were able to comfort their would-be comforters. We passed on the condolences and messages of love that some of you had sent. Our friends commented that it was as though each of the many prayers said on their behalf, were hands lifting them up. The bereaved husband came from Ireland to the funeral in Alfe Menashe, and shared at a memorial service, which followed, what was on his heart. He testified how through it all God had given him His perspective, already at the place of the accident and all the way to the grave. He is experiencing a very deep and real sense of his wife, son and mother-in-law's peace and joy in the Father's loving presence; a peace and a joy that the rest of us only have the hope for in the future.

Thus, our sorrow and grief have been mingled with joy and excitement, a condition so typical of the "mixed" (Babel, if you will) human condition here on earth. By the same token, we must also return to the work that each of us has been given, while we remain on this side of God's eternal plan and that is, to be a part of the manifestation and restoration of the Kingdom of God to this nation. It was for this task that Messiah came, as was foretold by the angel Gabriel: "He (Yeshua) will be great, and will be called the Son of the Highest; and YHVH Elohim will give Him the throne of His father David. And He will reign over the house of Ya'acov forever, and of His kingdom there will be no end" (Luke 1:32-33). Yeshua has gone out to the nations looking for the lost sheep of the House of Israel, those who are called for His namesake and are destined to be a part of the fallen Succah of David. (ref. Acts 15:14-16). We, being that remnant, must pay close attention to the word of YHVH through His holy prophets from of old, as it is written that "the heavens must retain Him (the Messiah) until the restoration of all things spoken through the mouth of [these] holy prophets " (Acts 3:21).

This last quote from the book of Acts was made very real to us, as we traveled several times in the past weeks into the heartland, to the Mounts of Blessing and Curse and to Elon Moreh. The hills of Samaria are covered by thousands of olive trees, among which is found the sporadic almond tree. The white and pink blossoms of the slender almond trees, juxtaposed with the somber silvery green of the olive trees and their gnarled trunks, form a delightful sight at this time of year. The delicate and graceful "shkey'diya" standing among the olive trees is much like a young bride surrounded by a crowd of stately sages.

The word for almond in Hebrew is "sha'ked", the root verb of which is "to diligently watch". This is well illustrated in Jer. 1:11-12 which reads: "Moreover the word of YHVH came to me, saying, 'Yirmiyahu [Jeremiah], what do you see?' And I said, 'I see a branch of an almond tree'. Then YHVH said to me, 'you have seen well, for I am watching [persistently and with diligence] over My word to perform it'". The olive tree, on the other hand, is the known symbol of the House of Ya'acov (ref. Jer. 11:16).

This relationship of olive and almond can also be seen in the Menorah, as the cups that hold the olive oil are shaped in the form of the flower of the almond tree. Thus, when lit, the pressed oil in the basin of the "flower" lights up the Holy Place. The olive oil for the Menorah came from the first fruit of the tree, and some say that only the first drop of oil from each of those olives could be used for that lamp.

The almond tree is the first to demonstrate the budding of life at the end of winter, even before springtime. At the same time, its blossoms are the sign for the husbandman to prune the olive trees, and at that time of year the branches are seen lying on the ground around the olive tree, ready to be gathered and burned. It is worth noting that the branches that get pruned are the ones in the interior of the tree, those hidden from sunlight; those that are sapping the tree of its life-giving energy; and while producing little fruit they also prevent the tree from breathing. The branches that are left will then bear larger and juicier olives. Added to the beautiful sight of the olive trees and the flowering almond trees are the carpets of violet and yellow flowers, interspersed with the red (poppy-like) anemones.

Yesterday, as we were driving along the upper ridge of Mount Eval (Mount of Curse), we looked across to the upper slopes of the Mount of Blessing and saw what looked like a huge building under construction in the shape of a domed Mosque. Upon inquiring about it, we found out that the Palestinians are building another casino. Although it is forbidden for Moslems to gamble, the one in Jericho is bringing in much revenue from the crowds of Israelis, who are supplied with free limousine transportation taking them to the cisterns (that hold no water) that they are seeking for. We have heard that many have lost all their possessions, including their marriages, to this place. Could this be another terrorist ploy to destroy from inside His returning remnant?

Our heart is grieved over the many things that are taking place in the land of our inheritance, but yet YHVH will remain faithful to watch (almond = sha'ked - to be diligent) over His word and promises to Israel, the olive tree. We find that our hearts are experiencing the same sort of feelings that Yeshua had, as He wept over Jerusalem, or like those of Rav Shaul recorded in Rom. 9:2-4: "I have great sorrow and continual grief in my heart. For I could wish that I myself were accursed from Messiah for my brethren, my countrymen according to the flesh... who are Israelites". We also grieve over how little interest the House of Joseph/Ephraim is demonstrating for the land and for our Jewish brothers who are holding down, with their lives, what little real estate is left.

King David erected a tent, as a temporary covering until the construction of the Temple, and brought into it the Ark of the Covenant. On that day he composed a prayer, excerpts of which I would like to quote, with the remnant of the seed of Israel in mind: "Oh, give thanks to YHVH, Call upon His name; Make known His deeds among the peoples! Sing to Him, sing psalms to Him; Talk of all His wondrous works! O seed of Israel His servant, you children of Ya'acov, His chosen ones! He is YHVH our Elohim; His judgments are in all the earth... Remember His covenant forever, the word that He commanded, for a thousand generations; The covenant which He made with Avraham, and His oath to Yitzhak, and confirmed it to Ya'acov for a statute, to Israel for an everlasting covenant, saying, 'To you I will give the land of Canaan as the allotment of your inheritance,'" (1 Chr. 16:8-9; 13-18).

We, in this generation, are still far from the thousandth generation of our forefathers' seed. Can we, therefore, not pay heed to David's word, exhorting us to remember the land? The greater son of David (Yeshua) is not interested in uniting Church and Synagogue; this is not what He is diligent in performing. Ezekiel tells us that He is interested in uniting two trees, two houses, two kingdoms, two nations and a people, with their land (Ez. 37). The Messiah came to restore the government of His Father to Israel, His firstborn nation. He will perform it and bring it to pass, but He will also prune the olive tree of Israel. "You will say then, 'branches were broken off that I might be grafted in. Well said, because of unbelief they were broken off, and you stand by faith. Do not be haughty, but fear, for if YHVH did not spare the natural branches, He may not spare you either. Therefore consider the goodness and severity of YHVH" (Rom. 11:19-22).

Please pray and ask what you might do to help in restoring the relationship between the two houses, you can be like those almond trees amongst the olive trees on the hills of Samaria, or even a hidden Queen Esther, the relative of Mortecai the Jew, "for such a time as this" and for your inheritance's sake!

Shabbat Shalom and a Purim Sa'me'ach (Joyful Feast of Purim).

A Letter To My Child

Steve E.J. Saphu

After along time of standing in Faith, and believing for certain things to come to pass. God encouraged me today, 13-10-2000 10:30hrs in the morning.

He told me to write this down and send it trough out the world, because there are a lot of people who are hurt by other Christians and left a side, no one to talk with, than only ME, GOD said. This is hurting me the most, write down an encouraging word of ME. And it became a letter from the Father to His Child.

Dear Child.

By the teaching of certainty that I give, and the uncertain attitude or carriage in the manner of acting of MY Leaders. Also MY sheep's became uncertain, about how I work, how I speak, how I guide or how I care for you and provide you. But you have to know, if you doing something wrong in MY Eyes, than I will come into you're live, and show you and tell you that you are wrong. If this is not happening or is not happening MY Way.

Stop searching for confirmation and recognition that you are in the right way, because you are my Child.

I'M still the same, when I don't like what you are doing or it's not happening according to MY WILL, than I'm still the same and change this what you are doing wrong. I don't need the human race; I choose to use the human race. Don't ever get into you're mind to decide certain things for ME.

"I'M GOD, I CREATED YOU, I KNOW BETTER THAN ANYBODY ELSE, HOW IT HAS TO BE DONE OR HOW IT WILL BE DONE!"

It is a whole world of difference "to know MY WILL" or "to Walk in MY WILL". MY WILL is also been known to the evil men, but of you I expect that you walk in MY WILL en act like it, because here is where the evil failed.

Didn't I tell you? "That MY MERCY/GRACE is you enough", MY GRACE is MY SON JESUS CHRIST who I have giving' you. Through HIM everything is possible en can be possible or will happing, when you BELIEVE in and through HIM, than everything will come to pass. Never forget, MINE WILL BE DONE!! FOR EVER! In which circumstance you are in, MY WILL BE DONE, on that moment. To show you that I made the heavens and earth and everything what's on it or in it or

I GUIDE LIVE, THROUGH ME IS THE VERY EXISTENCE OF ALL LIVE.

Without ME nothing can live, and without ME knowing nothing can leave this live.

"EVERYTHING, EVERYTHING TURNS AROUND ME! GOD THE FATHER/SON/HOLY SPIRIT".

Nothing, nothing else than you, turns around your problem, no one else but you. It is not MY problem, because problems are also turning around ME.

IF I DIDN'T GIVE MY PERMISSION FOR IT, THAN YOU HAD NO PROBLEMS, but on the contrary you have them, because you need to know and you need to be full of ME.

"EVERYTHING TURNS AROUND ME, WITHOUT MY PERMISSION NOTHING CAN EXIST."
Subject yourself to ME and your problems can't exist no longer.

Problems are not coming from me; problems exist through your disobedience towards ME.
Believe in ME and stay close to ME and everything, I say everything has to yield to ME.

I wish you all MY blessings, and loving blessings through Christ Jesus.

With many Loves

America at Risk?

Vince Aquilino

11/11/2000

While America has been distracted by the grid-locked election process, conditions in Israel have continued to deteriorate. The fighting is continuing, the killing is continuing, and the situation continues to be grave for Israel.

It is my personal belief, based on what I see as a watchman, that there are two possible scenarios that are most probable at this point in time (unless the circumstances change):

1) The Arab's will use this time of uncertainty in America to move militarily against Israel -- the long-awaited Ezekiel 38 invasion of Israel - an invasion that includes the use of nuclear weapons and which also includes, in my opinion, God's judgement on the United States of America.

We know that for certain biblical prophecies to be fulfilled, that the United States must fade as a world power so that Europe may rise as the seat of anti-Christ power in the revived roman empire.

2) An incredibly wise and charismatic man will enter stage-left onto the stage of world affairs with a solution to the intractable peace process in the Middle East. This would be "the man of peace", the anti-Christ, although that will not be verified until he exalts himself above all that is called holy and declares himself to be god. The latter requires that the temple (or at least a "wilderness" tabernacle - a tent) be erected on the Temple Mount so the Jews can once again begin sacrifice). It is likely that the anti-Christ's solution will involve access by all major religions to the temple mount.

Both events will occur, but the order is not yet clear.

However, I believe that scenario #1 is in the lead right now....especially considering what insiders are saying regarding the situation in Israel. In this first report, we hear from an unnamed high-ranking Israeli military source (a Bible-believing Jewish man) via a retired, born-again Air Force colonel, a born-again Christian.

According to this Israeli source, the Arab world sees the shattered U.S. election process as an opportunity and are drawing closer to attacking Israel. It should be noted that it was during the Watergate distraction in 1973 when the Arabs last attacked Israel. Ezekiel 38 bears that out as it appears that America makes only a diplomatic protest declaring, in essence, what are you doing? Have you come to take a spoil?

In the midst of everything else that is going on, Arafat is expected to declare an independent Palestinian state in the middle of next week, according to Taisir Kubahar, the deputy head of the PLO's Palestine National Council. He made the comment in an interview published today in a Jordanian newspaper. The council will announce the decision when it meets on November 15 in the Gaza Strip, he said. Yasser Arafat had earlier said that such a state will either be established when the council meets in mid-November, or in January at the latest. The PLO council decided to postpone the expected September 13 statehood declaration after many nations said they would not recognize such a state if declared outside of the Oslo accord framework.

Israeli analysts said that if the report is true, it would signal that Arafat apparently believes that the new Palestinian uprising has bought him sufficient support to unilaterally declare such a state. Israel has said it will take its own unilateral actions in response to any explosive Palestinian declaration which comes outside of the Oslo framework.

It is clear to this author, that Arafat wants to provoke an Israel response as the final move to galvanize world-wide opinion against Israel and justify a military response.

The unnamed high-ranking Israeli military source said that Israel is expecting an Arab attack soon (while America is still in turmoil over the election), and he said there is no doubt in the Israeli intelligence community that this war will be nuclear at some point, ""probably by the third day.""

He also said (without explanation) that America will suffer greatly and Jews and Christians will both be in danger of persecution of a significant depth that will cause American Jews to literally "run for their lives" with Christians following in their footsteps.

If there is a nuclear hit on America as result of the Ezekiel 38th invasion, will it be the Jews that will be blamed? And when the Christians move to help the Jews, it will then be the Christians who are then persecuted.

If you think this is far fetched, think again:

"Then you shall say to them, 'Because your fathers have forsaken Me,' says the LORD; 'they have walked after other gods and have served them and worshiped them, and have forsaken Me and not kept My law. 'And you have done worse than your fathers, for behold, each one walks according to the imagination of his own evil heart, so that no one listens to Me.

'Therefore I will cast you out of this land into a land that you do not know, neither you nor your fathers; and there you shall serve other gods day and night, where I will not show you favor.' "Therefore behold, the days are coming," says the LORD, "that it shall no more be said, 'The LORD lives who brought up the children of Israel from the land of Egypt,' "but, 'The LORD lives who brought up the children of Israel from the land of the north and from all the lands where He had driven them.' For I will bring them back in to their land which I gave to their fathers. "Behold, I will send for many fishermen," says the LORD, "and they shall fish them; and afterward I will send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain and every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks. (Jer, 16:11-16)

Over a million Jews have fled the land of the North (Russia - Moscow is exactly due north of Jerusalem) to Israel already and under Putin, the persecution of Jews is once again rearing it's ugly head. But God says that it not just from the north that he will recall the children of Israel, but "from all the lands where He had driven them.' For I will bring them back into their land which I gave to their fathers."

America has a huge Jewish population and they will someday, perhaps sooner than we think, be leaving America for Jerusalem. When this occurs, will you turn them in and risk the Genesis 12:3 curse of God, or will you give your life for them. Choose this day Whom you will serve.

This High-ranking Jewish source also indicated, and this is hard to believe, that the reason Barak has been so restrained with retaliation operations against the PLO is because NATO has threatened to bomb Israel if Israel moves any stronger against the Palestinians!!!! However, he said he doesn't think Israel can hold back much longer. One would say that this could not be, but in Zechariah is clear that "the whole world" is against Israel.

"Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of drunkenness to all the surrounding peoples, when they lay siege against Judah and Jerusalem. "And it shall happen in that day that I will make Jerusalem a very heavy stone for all peoples; all who would heave it away will surely be cut in pieces, though all nations of the earth are gathered against it. (Zech 12:2-3)

Today, Muslim foreign ministers approved a draft resolution calling on the 56-member Islamic Conference Organization to sever all ties with Israel for what they said were war crimes against Palestinians.

Delegates said the draft would be presented to leaders of the 56-member Organization of the Islamic Conference (OIC) at a three-day summit starting in Qatar Sunday.

Also Palestinian leader Yasser after meeting with President Clinton, took his demand for a 2,000-strong U.N. force to protect Palestinian civilians to the Security Council on Friday. The U.N. has already condemned Israel and has recognized the PLO which is why Arafat wants their involvement - to legitimize his claims to Jerusalem as the PLO capital.

It does appear as the entire world is turning against Israel just as Zechariah predicted.

This high-ranking Jewish source stressed that he could only share this from the best of intelligence and information that he has from reliable sources. He said he believes deeply in God and said twice that if he did not know that God was in control, he could not sleep at night.

>From Jerusalem, we also have this report from David Dolan, a Jerusalem-based author and journalist, wrote on November 9th that "Israeli and Palestinian leaders are closely following the stunning electoral stalemate in the United States. Israeli leaders are particularly concerned that the knife-edge result might have negative repercussions for the turbulent region (see the personal note below). In light of the political stand-off, Israel's main newspapers report today that PM Ehud Barak - due to visit the White House on Sunday - may drop plans to ask President Clinton to come up with new "bridging proposals" to re-start Israeli-Palestinian peace talks. They said Barak assumes that the lame-duck Clinton might now be too busy dealing with the expected domestic political fallout to give much attention to the convoluted Mideast crisis. Also, the probable narrow election of George Bush to the presidency will render Democratic Party decisions virtually irrelevant. Yasser Arafat is visiting Washington today where he will meet with Clinton and other US officials.

I believe it is fairly evident today that the world's most powerful nation and Israel's closest ally, the United States of America, is entering a period of political uncertainty, and therefore instability, which will certainly weaken the country. This has enormous implications for Israel, and indeed for the entire world. Astonishingly, the new president will probably enter the White House with fewer overall nationwide votes than those garnered by his opponent. Depending on the outcome of the undecided Washington State race, the Senate will either be split right down the middle or have a mere one-vote Republican majority. The House of Representatives will just barely be in the Republican column. The presidential loser and his supporters, seemingly Al Gore, will feel extremely cheated, and legal challenges to the razor-thin outcome could go on for some time. This is a recipe for bitterness, mistrust and for unprecedented political stalemate. It is not only the new government's credibility that will be called into question. Public confidence has already been further eroded in America's competitive electronic media, which prematurely called the race in George Bush's favor.

The new president's desire and ability to weigh in heavily on the Arab-Israeli conflict will probably be relatively limited, to say the least. This should swing mediation efforts in the direction of Europe and the United Nations, which is exactly what Israel fears and the Palestinians want. Both Mideast antagonists perceive that the US is far more supportive of Israel than either the EU or the UN. Any political weakness in America is therefore dreaded in Israel, and welcomed by the Palestinians. Yasser Arafat may be making yet another pilgrimage to the White House today, but he will surely be inwardly rejoicing that he is now dealing with a lame-duck leader who will be a mere private citizen (if not on his way to jail) in two months time, to be followed in office by a relatively weak president.

I am not surprised by the dramatic US election stalemate. Indeed in Tuesday's headlines, I included an Israeli analyst's broadcast warning that such a draw could be the outcome of the vote. He worried that this result could "preoccupy the world's only superpower for months, thus tempting Israel's many enemies to go on the offensive."

He might have been recalling that the last time Israel's Arab neighbors felt bold enough to launch a military attack was right in the middle of the Watergate crisis in 1973, when President Nixon was busy fending off growing demands for his resignation.

There is a reason why I included the Israeli analyst's warning in Tuesday's headlines . When I heard it, something stirred in my spirit. Taking the matter up in prayer, I felt the Lord was showing me that a political stalemate was indeed going to be the outcome of the US election, although I was not sure it would be a narrow Gore Electoral College victory and a Bush popular vote plurality, as the analyst assumed. As I wrote in my end-time novel, The End of Days, I have long believed that for certain biblical prophecies to be fulfilled, the United States must fade politically, at least to some degree, and the European Union and the UN must rise in power and influence. Israelis must also learn that their "guardian angel" is not America, but the Sovereign Lord of the Universe. As the Israeli analyst warned, any perceived US weakness will surely embolden Saddam and other Mideast tyrants, and that is obviously not good news for us here. Yet our hope does not ultimately lie in a strong America, but in the fact that He who watches over Israel neither slumbers nor sleeps.

DAVID DOLAN is a Jerusalem-based author and journalist. He has written the monthly Israel News Digest for CHRISTIAN FRIENDS OF ISRAEL since 1986. His two books, ISRAEL AT THE CROSSROADS and THE END OF DAYS may be ordered by phoning 888-890-6938 in the USA.

At the end of the email from the retired Air Force colonel, he pondered if the events warned about occurred before the inauguration of a new President, if Clinton would declare martial law by one of the Executive Orders he has put in place, thus suspending the Constitution, and resulting in no new President of the United States.

This is an intriguing possibility. Years ago, and I no longer have the source or the prophecy, it was prophesied that Bill Clinton would be the last President of the United States.

As I pondered and prayed on this information, I also recalled the prophecies given through Jonathan Hansen. This man is a Prophet to the nations. He goes into a nation and prophesies to the president or leader specific things. Then when they come to pass, he has an opening to go into the country and preach the Gospel. His prophecies are specific and 100% accurate. In 1995, he received a series of visions and words for the United States. He has recently been released to share them. I will try to find out more for you, but in summary, he said that between 1998 and 2008, the events in the Book of Revelation will essentially be played out, that it is too late for America and judgement has been pronounced, that it will start with the crazy weather (which it has). Some of the specifics -- Mount Ranier in Washington State will explode, there will be a major earthquake on the West coast, the stock market will collapse, there will be rioting in the streets and in the midst of the turmoil the "Bear" Russia) will launch on the United States.

The good news, if you will, was that if you are truly God's child (in action, not in word), God will give you an angel and you will be protected during the severe judgements on the United States.

As to the timing, it could be very soon, or if God gives us grace, perhaps we still have a little time, perhaps a few years, to bring in the harvest.

Have you worked out your salvation in fear in trembling, or are you lukewarm and about to be spewed out of the mouth of the Lord.

"It is now the hour to awake from sleep, for our salvation is closer than when we first accepted the faith." (Rom 13:11)

Purify yourselves daily by the reading of the Word. Jesus is returning for a Holy and Spotless Church. ``Today is the day of salvation for many who are perishing; their tomorrow shall not see my return in glory to judge the living and the dead. Today is the day of their salvation." Don't delay. Time is short. You have no guarantee that you will even see tomorrow. If you die without receiving Jesus as your Lord and Savior, your eternal destiny is fixed.

As we see the signs of His return drawing close, what manner of holy life should we be living? Remember that Jesus is returning for a Holy and Spotless Bride. Whether His return is today or 10 years from now is irrelevant since eternity is only a heart beat away for any of us. So choose this day whom you will serve, ask the Holy Spirit to search you to see if there be any iniquity in you, and then call upon Jesus your Deliverer. He is faithful for forgive our sins and cleanse us from all unfaithfulness.

"Watch and pray, therefore, that you would be counted worthy to escape the judgment that is coming upon the earth and be able to stand before the Son of Man" (Luke 21:36).

Maranatha and Blessings on you all as we all wait for the return of our precious Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

As My Glory Falls

Mark Wattenford

As My Glory falls, My Church will rise up
As My Glory falls, My People will reach out
As My Glory falls, My Army will move out!
For I AM is not a man that I should lie
And I WILL bring you into the land of milk and honey,
The LAND OF PLENTY! For you are My Chosen vessels in this day and hour. MY INHERITANCE!

Watch and see how My Chosen ones will array themselves
By and through the unity and power of My Spirit!
Row upon row, precept upon precept.
Not one jot or tittle of My Word will pass away, I say unto you – “NO!” For My Word stands forever unchanging and unchangeable, and My countenance is upon those who have come before Me seeking My truth.

And the sea will give up her dead – for NONE will escape My righteous judgement. Neither will I AM loose ANY – not even the least of them. For I have covered and sanctified you to Myself. Watch and be vigilant therefore, for the Son of Man comes at a time you think not. Be not caught unawares of the times and seasons in which you live!
Come BOLDLY before Me and state your petitions – intercede for your brethren. Lie down your burdens and REJOICE! For great is your reward in Heaven AND on this earth.

Arise – “I SAY ARISE!” And let the glory – the reflected glory of My continence shine through you, shine brighter than the midday sun, sharpened by the two-edged sword of My Word and be strengthened In your inner man by the Holy Spirit within you. Leave off quarreling and bitterness. For the fruit of My Spirit is peace and joy. Leave off animosity and strife – and do not grieve the Holy Spirit within you – who has sealed you – and keeps you until the day the PERFECT COMES.

A Miracle in the Streets

Fire in the Land

Chad Taylor

A Miracle in the Streets

Chad Taylor

WE WITNESSED A MIRACLE THAT DAY

On Monday July 24th, 2000 we witnessed a miracle. The day was overcast and cold as we set up the sound equipment under the gazebo in Mt. View Park behind the Community Center. Nearly 2 weeks had met us with rain and clouds. We prayed. 2000 amps of speakers and wires were being prepared to amplify the name of Jesus in an area considered by most as "the ghetto." From noon to 3 P.M. intercessors and helpers arrived, a handful of radicals and reckless, daring to forfeit Saturday leisure to "launch out into the deep... and become fishers of men..."

THE CLOUDS ROLL AWAY

Sometime around 2:30 or 3:00 P.M. the clouds began to roll away, leaving a hole in the sky somewhere above our heads! As the sun began to warm our skin we shouted and praised God the keeper of the Heavens and the Master of the weather! The storm had been silenced. By three o'clock the Christian clown in her make up and Jesus stickers had arrived. Typhoon Teddy, a 12 foot blown up teddy bear that was filled with balloons invited kids to jump inside as the generator pumped her up. The commercial barbecue began to fill the air with the smell of coals and food. We started with 500 hundred hotdogs at 3:00 P.M., at the end of the evening we had passed out over 1500 hundred hamburgers and hotdogs! We had watched a miracle transpire. God's great love for the children. God's passion for the lost. We were only really spectators as the Lord poured out His abundance and grace upon an area the world deemed unfit. "Where sin abounds, grace does much more abound..."

SOUND OF PRAISE IN THE STREETS

At 3:30 the first band had arrived and began to jam. I.T.P. "Increase The Peace." A young rap band that rhymed and reasoned about the love of Jesus street style! See, you cannot expect the streets to understand your message unless you speak their language. Unless you are willing to look at them eye to eye and "become all things to all men to save some" you will never see them saved and set free. You will never see them "translated from the darkness into the Kingdom of His dear Son..." For 45 minutes the rap and rhyme echoed through the park. Urban style worship with bass! The kids from the neighborhood loved it! They moved and danced to the beat, some even lifted up their hands and for the first time worshiped Jesus! In their own way, to their own sound. By 4:00 P.M. the band "Techno Worship" were ready to play. Four hip-hop worship leaders with a message for the hour. "God love you just the way you are!" Radical but true. Five bands were lined up to play until 10:00 P.M. For the next eight hours the line at the barbecue never stopped. They were hungry...

THE LITTLE CHILDREN WORSHIP GOD

As one band left the stage to give way to another, we would gather the children in the park to the front stage. Typhoon Teddy took a break, the puppets at the puppet stage directed traffic, and the face painters decorating their little faces with Jesus' love paused. Only the hotdogs and hamburgers continued moving! A mass of little faces looked up expectantly, hungry. We shared how Jesus died, a drama team demonstrated this statement more clearly. We asked the children to lift up their hands and wave to God. A sea of hands moved back and forth worshipping the Creator. Then we asked how many wanted to know Jesus and know Him in their hearts. Dozens, if not every one raised their hands. We had lost count hours ago. Time after time in those eight hours the children invited Jesus into their hearts and lives. Children groomed to be gang members and prison inmates had their courses altered and their lives changed forever. Atleast five hundred kids and parents walked through that park July 24th. More drove by and watched and listened from a distance. Intrigued and curious at the sound of praise and worship not confined by walls and insulation. For many, it was their first time...

THE CHURCH IS CHANGING

From coast to coast this year, we have witnessed a phenomena. Churches breaking out of the barriers and perimeters of religious tradition and formality. Churches literally taking their sound system and congregation to the streets! In San Jose the entire church moved into their parking lot for the weekend! Passing out thousands of free hotdogs to the community and impacting even more souls! In Frederick Maryland just a few days ago we participated with another church as they took the worship team to the mall parking lot! Bringing in a flat bed truck as their stage! Inviting local authorities and groups to set up shop. The state patrol, the fire trucks, the medics with their ambulance. Crisis Pregnancy Center had a table to give out critical information to the housing project community. Again a clown riding a unicycle told the children how much Jesus loves them! Hot dogs and hamburgers were in abundance as the sound of worship and joy resounded in the hi-ways and bi-ways of Maryland. The face of Christianity and what the world interprets as Church is changing. From a formal unapproachable entity and institution, to a radical love filled living organism called The Body of Christ! Exuding the love and passion of Jesus! Not only in words but in extreme demonstrations of that love. This is what will change the world, this is what will usher in harvest and revival. Nothing less and nothing more.

THE STREETS WILL BE THE PLACE OF THE NEXT MOVE OF GOD

In Acts 5:15 they "brought the sick out into the streets and laid them on beds and couches, that atleast the shadow of Peter passing by might fall on some of them..." Why didn't they lay them in the temple gate as the lame man that was healed before sat? Or at the pool of Bethesda hoping for the angel to stir the water? BECAUSE THEY KNEW AT THAT TIME WHERE THE GLORY WAS BEING REVEALED! IN THE STREETS! IN THE OPEN AIR AND DIRT! THERE WAS WHERE THE GLORY OF GOD WAS BEING REVEALED UNPRECEDENTED AND WITH POWER! THAT EVEN THE SHADOW OF ONE CHRISTIAN PASSING BY MIGHT FALL ON THEM AND THEY WOULD BE HEALED! THE NEXT MOVE OF GOD WILL BE SEEN IN THE SAME WAY! DEMONSTRATED IN THE OPEN AIR AND PUBLICLY. FOR EVERY EYE TO WITNESS AND EVERY HEART TO PONDER.

The next great move of God will be seen in the streets. Harvest is not experienced in test tubes and sheltered places. Harvest is only experienced in the open air with the hot sun and the cool evening breeze. Harvest is not something confined and measured and grown in air conditioned buildings. But rather with sweat and effort bringing for an abundance. Harvest is outside. Harvest is where the people are. And church, harvest is upon us...Harvest is most surely upon us...

Fire in the Land

"For, behold, the Lord will come with fire, and with His chariots like a whirlwind..." (Is.66:15).

As the fires burn across the landscape in the natural, so will I burn with revival in the spirit says the Lord. As the smoke fills the skies in the natural, so will the bushels that hide the flame of the gospel will burn. The sky will be filled with its smoke. For in this hour the forest fires of revival will burn with unrelenting intensity across this nation. America will be on fire says the Lord. I will create a thousand times a thousand Torontos, a thousand times a thousand Brownsvilles. I will burn in the hearts of My people in this hour says the Lord, and the gates of hell will not prevail.

From the corn fields of Indiana I will burn. In the Great Lakes region you will see a pillar of fire by night, and the smoke of its burning by day. In the panhandle the fire will spread, millions will be touched by its brightness. In the Pacific Northwest the fires will grow in intensity. They will burn like no fire has ever burned. From these places a vanguard of revivalist will spring forth. From Montana to Minnesota, from Washington to Wisconsin. The fires will burn. Unknowns and those with no name or heritage but Me will begin to march across the land with a great torch of revival in their hands. Revivalists will march across the land and cross seas. Even as the fires light up the night skies in the natural so shall they light up the heavenlies in the spiritual. My people will be brands plucked from the fire and they will blaze.

Meetings and gatherings will burn for weeks and months. Some will continue to blaze for years as human hearts and souls feed the flame. Millions will be transformed. Millions will shine in this hour says the Lord. Millions will rise to blaze the trail of revival throughout the nations. Churches will be transformed into training centers and schools of revival and reformation. Producing a generation of revivalists and fire starters. Your children and grandchildren will burn with a light that illuminates even the generation yet to come. The fires of revival will light the midnight skies. The darkest places will feel the intensity of its heat. In the streets the fire will blaze. In the streets the fire will blaze.

Institutions and prisons will be torches in My hand in this hour says the Lord. Those cities that have prisons and institutions in their borders will catch the flames leaping from the cells and asylums. The lost and the insane will now do wonders among you says the Lord. They will do wonders among you. A special anointing for the deaf and dumb will be poured out, and those that have never spoken a word will suddenly utter the glory and revelation of the Most High. From the throne room they will speak and prophesy. From the third heaven they will utter their speech.

Yes, the fires will burn. This winter you will feel the heat of it and as the new year dawns upon you the flame will begin to spread. Everything that comes into its contact will burn says the Lord. The sparks of these revivals will be blown by the Wind into the four corners of the earth. From America a great fire will be seen. From America a great revival will shake not only the earth but the heavens as well. From America a great move of the Lord never recorded before will occur. Like a fire it will burn. Like a fire it will purge. Only the trees planted by the Lord will stand. Only the trees planted by the Lord will stand.

Reservations will come from the fire as fine gold. Those outside the gates of the city will shine. Restitution on the reservation says the Lord. Restitution on the reservation. I will restore what they have lost with souls. I will give them treasures out of darkness, I will restore to them a generation. I will give them back their children. I will give back their land. The gates will be open and the King of glory will come in.

Prepare your homes, prepare your cities. For the fire of the Lord is coming. The fire of the Lord is coming. It will burn, it will purge. And from it a generation shall emerge. A generation of revivalists and fire starters. Every nation will see. Every city shall feel its heat. Fire in the Land says the Lord! Fire in the land! Now will the army begin to stand. They will blaze revival throughout the land. For in My hand is the winnowing fan. Fire in the Land! Fire in the land! In the flames My children will stand! Fire in the Land! Fire in the Land!

America - You Have Been Judged

Mary Koons

PREFACE: I do not like "sensationalism" in any form, be it from the broadcast media, or in a prophetic utterance. Nevertheless, what I was shown last weekend, and what Mark was given on the same day - connect - however; I didn't realize that until TODAY. These "symbols" and the "word" ALSO, I believe, are interrelated to "OFF WITH THEIR HEADS!" which was posted earlier this morning. Therefore, since the Lord has told me to post this also - I am doing so; I do so with the prayer that the "judgment" that is herein described can and WILL be averted, and not in anyway to "sensationalize" what is presented below. I pray that we all realize the "seriousness" of this word and the correlating symbols the Lord has given... and not be caught unawares by the "extreme gravity" of what I feel Mark and I have been shown. It is for that reason - and that reason ONLY - that I believe the Lord is allowing us to share any of this.

Mary (Koons) Wattenford

AMERICA! You have been judged and found wanting! by Mark and Mary (Koons) Wattenford

A week ago I decided to "act upon" the pull I had been feeling in the Spirit to go back to the summit of Mount Spokane... I was half-way there, when suddenly the Holy Spirit began to point out the following "three" things to me in QUICK SUCCESSION... First I saw three horses grazing in a field to my right... on the fence that enclosed them was a sign that read, "FOR SALE."

I rounded a curve and noticed another road sign about Mt. Spokane. The sign read: "The entrance to the mountain is closed." Above the sign were two bright red flags.

I turned around and on the opposite side of the road just a short distance away from where I had seen the "three horses" grazing away contentedly in "blissful unawareness" of their being "FOR SALE," the Holy Spirit prompted me to look at a large, white barn. On the side of this barn was a HUGE American flag.... And written above it were the words, "IN GOD WE TRUST."

I had been pondering all of these "three" signs... and feel this is what I was shown:

First of all, the "entrance to mountain sign" the Holy Spirit showed me represented: - "the entrance to Mt. Zion IS NOW closed...." The red flags represent "danger" in trying to "enter or open" what the Lord has now declared "closed or shut." I was given a STRONG impression that this is as when "GOD SHUT THE DOOR TO THE ARK."

I feel that I was shown that the "FOR SALE" by the "three horses" represents those who would "SELL" their anointing - those who "count numbers" if you will... for they really have "NO PART" in Mt. Zion... being much more interested in their own purposes, plans and agendas. The "FOR SALE" sign was seen "immediately BEFORE" the "mountain closed sign," indicative of this happening - first, which, I don't think any can argue IS the current state of affairs in America Christendom.

The American Flag is ALSO symbolic of what "many" have put their trust in... this was in "sharp contrast" to the words that were written ABOVE the flag: "IN GOD WE TRUST."

"IN GOD WE TRUST" is ALSO indicative of our "currency.." but our currency too is an "illusion" since our currency is NOT, and has NOT been for a long time - backed by a "GOLD STANDARD..."

Those who have been depending on "their church, their agendas... and/or their financial prowess," ... and thinking that protects them - rather than TRULY TRUSTING IN GOD are in for a very rude awakening.

Mark received the following word on the same day that I left to go to Mt. Spokane: The "symbols" that I saw on that trip correlate EXACTLY to this word.

Blow the Trumpet!! Send your wind and your rain. The young will come to you O God in the millions.

The warriors in the Spirit are "now" taking their place and the enemy will be routed like never before and the Light of the Son will shine into many previously dark places. There SHALL BE "ONE" voice raised up over the whole Earth. A "voice" of exaltation, proclaiming the "COMING OF THE LORD" and "HIS SALVATION!" The Gospel of the Kingdom will be preached in "great power" as NEVER been seen, not even in the first century. The "latter rains" will cover the Earth.

Two angels stood before and one of them said:

"We have come to tell you to proclaim that the apostles of God and the prophets of God, "shall" be established THIS MONTH. This is a SURE word. They shall put the Body of Christ in order and prepare His Bride. The mantle of Christ will be upon them and the House of God "shall be" rebuilt."

Heaven and Earth is the Lords! Behold, the first rays of the morning are rising upon the righteous. Brightness shall rise upon the chosen Ones of God in the midst of "great darkness." The Waters of God shall rise up from beneath, the waters of God shall rise up from within, and the waters of God shall pour out from Heaven.

"In this time," sayeth the Lord, "I will loose the seals of revelation and the mysteries of the times and seasons SHALL BE KNOWN. What has been locked up by the Father - will become widely known. I will shake the entire Earth."

"Behold!" sayeth the Lord - "look upon those that I have gathered and called up into My Presence and given them My signet ring. These I have called up before Me to commission - to send throughout the Earth. I say unto you, My Prophets will speak and their mouths shall be as a "consuming fire!" The latter rains are falling...yet still a little while, but soon there will be no dam that shall hold it back. You who pray and intercede, be encouraged, you are about to see the reward of your diligence. I am placing beneath the feet of My chosen vessels a sure rock of foundation and you SHALL NOT BE MOVED! You, who are My chosen, are about to go before Kings and governments and you "WILL" proclaim MY TRUTH! I AM is restoring My House and with each of My "peculiar treasures" will each living stone be set into its proper place... NOTHING will stand in the way of My going forth.

Hear My Word - you who oppress; turn from your oppressions and repent before I "strike" you suddenly. If you do not repent, you will suffer a great deal and will be utterly destroyed without hope, For I will come upon you without remedy. Suddenly! Will I strike with a mighty blow and break the bones of those who oppress.

Listen! You who have trampled underfoot the Grace of the Living God! you will not stand against My fierce anger!

Look! And see how I put My servants in order, each one knowing his proper place, his proper duty.

Look! See how each one knows what their God expects of them!

"Behold," sayeth the Lord, "LOOK upon the beauty of My bride as she is prepared. See how she is made beautiful, well and whole... see on her countenance the face of her Father, who art in Heaven. See, as she is arrayed in fine garments, smell the perfume of Heaven that surrounds her. And Look, she shall be brought forth in the Earth and shall stand in My Name and in My Authority shall I bring her forth."

"The morning dawns. My Spirit is sent throughout the earth to proclaim the Gospel and the END of the Age. I shall cover the Earth with knowledge as the Oceans cover the Earth. All that know Me shall walk in the light and glory of MY PRESENCE."

"Look! As I shall shake the Earth and the ground as a sign; watch as I cause the winds to blow more violently than "EVER" before. See the fires that I will kindle on the Earth. See the mountains that I will shake and wake up! These signs I give you now - beforehand - ALL DECLARING MY SOON RETURN! And in the depths of the sea there will be a "shifting" and the oceans will rise up."

I then saw the Lord standing before an American Flag. The American Flag was on a flag pole and He looked up at it and I saw all the righteousness American "use" to stand for and I saw how "every" Godly thing that she had used in the past to honor her Creator GOD - dissolve before me. I saw the Lord "review" it all in "minute detail." He was angry with America and I understood that he was considering cursing America in the same way He had "cursed the fig tree that had not produced fruit in season." I watched him "consider" and take into account "His righteous ones" that were still within this country; and then, He looked up and judged 1/3 of America; and 1/3 of it was "burned up."

Then the Holy Spirit within me said, "NOW, release judgment upon a third," and I did so.

The Lord then said, "DO NOT mourn over that which shall be judged... DO NOT weep over that which I shall burn up. One third will I destroy. One third will I burn and turn into ashes. You shall walk over the ashes of My judgment, My son, but judgment shall NOT come "nigh thee." Not one hair of your head shall be touched. You will not even smell the smoke of her burning. I shall place her in a bed of burning and by her arrogance and oppression she will be in great anguish. She will not have comfort who does "evil" in MY NAME! Her prophets will cry out to me for water to bring forth to stop the fires, that I - Myself, have kindled! But, I tell you now, I WILL NOT GRANT ANY, not even a drop. She stands now as though she is "most secure" among the nations. I will tear into shreds the red, white and blue garments from her. The nations will see her nakedness and that she has been "judged" by a righteous God... that she is "not" clean! Her prophets will seek to save her. They shall strive to save her and there shall not be found by them - a remedy for her. My servants will I send to bind her up with the chains she used to control others. With her "own chains" shall America be bound and with her own evil devices will she be caught and placed upon an unmade bed of anguish; THEN, will I turn upon her prophets. "I will gather them and I will destroy them," sayeth the Lord. "As with the prophets of Baal will I gather her prophets and will I pour out their blood upon the ground for all to see. Do not bother to bury them," sayeth the Lord, "Let the birds of the air eat their diseased flesh."

Then I looked upon the "unmade bed of anguish" and America had become very old and feeble, as if in a day - and she pleaded with me saying, "Where are My prophets who may comfort me?" And I replied, "They will not come to you as the Lord has destroyed them." She answered, "Can you not find even ONE who might come to me with a little water?" I said, "If there be any left, they will NOT come to you for fear of their very lives and the Lord will NOT grant them water to bring to you." Her anguish increased as I spoke those words, and I saw the spirit of death come upon her, and I saw her portion in Hades with the prophets that had gone on before her. Those who loved her were fearful of her end and of the God who hath judged her.

I asked the Lord again, "who" this woman was and He said, "She is the false Bride, the arrogant woman who has brought forth judgment to one third of your nation." Then the Lord showed me more and said, "Look now, she has daughters that are the same as her. She has no husband, but has brought forth daughters that they might learn her unclean ways as well. She thought she would rule the world by her power and withy her daughters considered herself to be "Queen of the Earth." Now shall I NOT ALSO destroy her daughters in the same way?"

Then was I taken up and saw the Kingdoms of the world and the daughters of her and that they ruled other nations by their influence and I saw every nation in the world examined to see if "her daughters" were within them. Some nations were utterly destroyed while others having only been influenced a little, were spared. Those who were spared were those who had refused to drink of her ways. The "Queen of the Earth," was cast into hell with her prophets and her daughters were cast in after her and hell was sealed up. For she had "oppressed" others in the Name of the Lord! She was young, but was made "old" in a day - a day of anguish. She, with her prophets, brought forth her own desires and by secret devices gave herself power to rule. Does not the Lord see? Shall not the Lord judge?

Rejoice! Oh, SONS OF GOD! Rejoice O Earth, for the manifested Sons are come! Sing O EARTH for the day of your waiting is over, the Dawn of Redemption is breaking forth upon you. All those who call upon the Name of the Lord - "shall be saved!" Before you have finished praying shall your answer come. Praises shall ring forth from the Earth. The dead shall rise from their graves and will walk among the sons of men.

"Heaven and Earth are mine, " sayeth the Lord, "They are given unto Me. Lift up your eyes for your redemption is come! That which is corruptible shall be changed into the incorruptible. I say unto you TRULY - THIS GENERATION - shall not pass away before the end of the age shall come and My Kingdom shall be upon the Earth and as Kings and Priests shall be those who have believed "IN ME!" Behold the works I do now... shall they not come upon you SUDDENLY?

A Message From God

Tracy Shepard

Dear Friends:

God gave me an important message to share today. So important, in fact, that I already wrote it once and the devil locked up my computer so I lost it and now have to write it again.

This is a very serious message and I feel compelled to tell you that this message needs to be shared with everyone in our sphere of influence and beyond.

It will help many of you understand what is going on in the spirit world so that you know how to pray and discern.

Here it is. I will make it brief and simple. For the scripture references, you can read the Book of John, paying careful attention to Chapters 7, 8, and 9.

People have asked "Why does satan go around destroying people when he knows he is already a defeated foe?"

Here is what God told me. Satan IS a defeated foe, we know and believe that. But.....HE (Satan) doesn't believe it! He just thinks that God is blowing hot air and in the end that God will just say, "Oh, well, it's okay what you were doing, I forgive you." Satan is so arrogant that he thinks he will never have to pay for his sins. That is grossly untrue.

Many religions think that by confessing your sins, and going out, and then doing your own thing again, that God will forgive you and have no accountability for what you have done. Well, those of you who are scripturally literate all know the story of the vine and the branches. Those branches that bore no fruit will be thrown in to the fire.

God is not kidding. Too many people are taking His Grace lightly. He does not like that. He gives you grace when you are obedient and willing to follow His will and hear His voice. He knows that the enemy is always out trying to deceive us like deceived Eve. THAT is where our Grace is from!!!

But the people who go out doing what they want and then claiming grace from God, they will be known by their fruit and they will have to answer to God someday.

I don't want to make this message into a judgement of who is doing what. As Jesus said "I did not come to judge, but to save."

I, Tracy Shepard, am here to help people understand God as He imparts messages to me. That is all. I judge no one, God will do that.

So, I say to you, This message is urgent. Satan is arrogant. He does not believe that God is going to throw he and his angels in to the lake of fire. So he is doing things that are worse and worse. Just look at the way he is attacking children now with Pokemon. Look how he is attacking men and women with materialism, self interest, self promotion, self indulgence. He is out to kill and you need to know that.

Jesus made it quite clear. I am making it clear now in today's vernacular. Be on your watch. The arrogance of the devil is everywhere! He is attacking both Christians and non-Christians alike.

If I could only tell you some of the things I see, you would be shocked, but God has only shown me these things between He and I to help me to understand what is happening in the spirit world.

All I can say is this. I love you all very much. Each and every one of you are very precious to me. Even though many of us have not met in person, each one of you were chosen by God to be on this list. I do not just add people. The Holy Spirit tells me, put this one on, take this one off. It is VERY specific! I am not in to numbers! I am in to "God, tell me what to do. You know best and who you want to reach."

So, please, keep this message in your hearts. Go and read the Book of John, Chapters 7-9 right now. It is very important that you understand this. Today's message is written very seriously because it IS SERIOUS!!!

I want to help you. I want you to understand what God has shown me. This is not about Tracy, or the ministry, or Mr. Taco and friends. This is about GOD'S WILL for you and me. And that is to know and understand the wiles of the devil so that we may be in a position to use our authority in the Name of Jesus Christ to cast out these demons where we see them interacting. That's it.

So, I end with this. I love you, God loves you, and we want to see you successful in your walk with Jesus. So keep this knowledge and go forward with the Holy Spirit who will tell you what to do with it. Many of you will find that you may use it real soon! Don't be surprised. The enemy has entered in to many camps, and you need to get him out!!! NOW!

May God bless you and give you great success as you take these words and pray for understanding and that He shows you how these affect your lives and those around you. I pray for you, that each one of you will be very successful and very powerful in your ministries to Jesus. Amen and God bless you all!

Love always in Jesus,

Tracy Shepard

I saw as it were like a Phoenix rising from the ashes of defeat and destruction. With awesome glory and splendor it rose and lit up the East, West, North, and South. It was a great city on a hill that could not be hid. And I heard the voice of the Lord say,

'Anchorage Arise! Shake off the dust of apathy and religion and shine! The bonds and chains that have held you captive are breaking away! A new liberty do I declare to you this day! A new freedom. They will see it from afar and come. The nations of the world will be your inheritance, the uttermost parts of the earth your possession.

A day of visitation has come. A time of harvest and increase. A time of reaping and revival. You will see My river flow as a torrent in your streets. The blind and the lame will see and leap! The orphan and widow will be set free! I will tear down the walls tempered with untempered mortar that hold My people in bondage. Races and faces shall flow together and embrace, some for the first time. I will bridge the gap between two generations. I will sanctify your congregation, young and old will flow together.

Your fields are white. The harvest is great. Look not to the left or the right, lift up your eyes! You will see the desolation of many generations arise. You will be a repairer of the breach. Prepare your hearts! Revival now will break out in your streets, the hiways and the biways will resound with sounds of singing. Prepare your altars, let not the flames die down, prepare your hearts, for the time to reap is upon you. I have heard the cries of your children Alaska. This is your hour to launch out into the deep and to take in a great catch.

I have heard the cries of the children and they will not be denied. Anchorage! Arise! Arise! Arise! Your hour of visitation has arrived. Your redemption draws nigh. You will shine. Like a phoenix from the ashes, you will shine.

"Your watchmen shall lift up their voices, with their voices they shall sing together, for they shall see eye to eye when the Lord brings back Zion." (Isaiah 52:8).

A great voice of intercession shall be heard from your shores. Great voices of prayer will join Heaven for the nations. From you shores will be heard the cry for nations, "RUSSIA!". "AFRICA!". "CHINA!". "CANADA!". "AUSTRALIA!". "SOUTH AMERICA!". "GREENLAND!". The sounds of the nations will be heard in the cry that comes from you. You will birth the destiny of many foreign lands. From your bowels of intercession shall come many children.

Anchorage! Lift up the banners of prayer! Lift up the banners of missions! Lift up the heads of your children! For they will be the ones that carry your prayers to the uttermost parts of the earth. They will consummate all that you ever dreamed. All that you have ever seen. They will return with their sheaves, though you sowed in tears, you will now reap! Prepare yourself! Now you shall reap! Now you shall see the hand of Your God.'

Ancient of Days

21 Apr 2000

I saw a small sailboat on a dark wind tossed sea. I heard the Lord say ` Speak to it.' I said ` Peace. Be still.' And immediately the storm vanished. The sea was calm, the sky was blue, the sun, shining bright. Then I saw off into the distance, land. Beautiful, clean with a tan sandy beach, and beautiful trees the color of emerald. I wanted to go there and looked at the sail boat, but knew that by walking on the water with the Lord, I would get there quicker.

As I approached the land, the Lord said, ' A land of Milk and Honey. ` Then my hands felt the weight of large grapes on them. One in each hand. I knew that this land was filled with the Abundance of Life. On the beach I saw in the midst of a lush forest a ladder going straight up into the sky.

I started up the ladder, not stepping but gliding effortlessly up. I saw that the ladder was going into a black section that was as wide as the sky. I was puzzled to why this ladder was leading to darkness, and wondered if I should be afraid, but my spirit was at peace, so I continued into the darkness. There was a variation to the darkness, some levels darker than others. I knew that by staying on the ladder no harm would come to me. I was wondering where this was leading when I saw a large opening above my head, like a man- hole. The ladder continued through the hole into more brilliant blue sky.

While I went through the hole I could feel angels passing through me! They were going up and down through me. Then the ladder went into a mountain, it just melted into it. The mountain was huge before me. It was white, so white... with flames upon it and around it. On the very top was a brilliant yellow-gold star that was pulsating. It was breathing and changed size with each breath. It also had brilliant light flashing from it in all directions.

Then I saw three eagles flying high to my right. They were circling each other and getting higher as they went. I thought , " I want to go where they're going." And then one of them looked back at me, came and scooped me up with one of his wings. I could see the shape and color of his wing beneath me.

We flew higher to a place that had no dimension to it. I just knew I was in a place that had something of great value in it and that it was very old. I felt the sensation of 'Awe' all around me. Then I heard someone ask what I felt and I said, " Knowledge, ancient knowledge" Then I heard over and over the words, " Wisdom and Knowledge and Counsel and Might. " And I thought of the Seven Spirits of God mentioned in Isaiah 11:1&2.

Then I felt a warm liquid poured over my head and heard, " Ancient knowledge of the Ancient of Days. Wisdom and Knowledge and Counsel and Might not only from Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph and Moses but from before Adam. The knowledge Adam walked in before the fall. This is for all who ask of me. This is your inheritance and heritage that is hidden within My Son."

INTERPRETATION

The storm...the storms of life. Our words have more authority than we think, they set in motion the climate of our surrounding conditions. Walking on the Word that the Lord gives us will always be a quicker way to our destination than any method of transportation we build. Powered not by our strength, but by His. The Promise land is right before us. Full of the abundance of life and every provision He said it would have. Don't let the storms of life blind your way or distract you. The ladder...the narrow way and principles of God that connect His kingdom here on earth to that in heaven.

The darkness was the 2nd heavens. Don't step back or be afraid, glide on through hidden with-in Christ. Satan only sees the blood that covers you. Stay in Christ! The angels...the ministering spirits to the heirs of salvation receiving orders and giving reports. Nothing hinders them. They are about the Fathers business. The mountain of snow and fire...The Ancient of Days. (Daniel 7:9) The bright star...The Bright and Morning Star – Jesus. (Rev.22:16) The eagles....revelation knowledge. The number three...the Trinity.

The Father is releasing the fullness of His seven Spirits, especially, Wisdom, Knowledge, Counsel & Might, to all who ask of Him. 1 Cor. 2:7-12..." But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, the hidden wisdom which God ordained before the ages for our glory, which none of the rulers of this age knew; for had they known, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.

But as it is written: ` Eye has not seen, nor ear heard, nor have entered into the heart of man the things which God has prepared for those who love Him.'

But God has revealed them to us through His Spirit. For the Spirit searches all things, yes, the deep things of God. For what man knows the things of a man except the spirit of the man which is in him? Even so no one knows the things of God except the Spirit of God. Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit who is from God, that we might know the things that have been freely given to us by God. "

" And the Spirit and the Bride say, ` Come! ` And let him who hears say, ` Come! ` And let him who thirsts come. Whoever desires, let him take the water of life freely! " (Rev. 22:17)

A New Day

Bret Wade

Proverbs 27:17 As iron sharpens iron, So a man sharpens the countenance of his friend.

BREAKTHROUGH 2000!

Welcome to a new day! Welcome to a new season! This modern day Apostolic Reformation has begun it's full swing! As we enter this next year, there are breakthroughs that are on the horizon for us! "Two grand" is going to be "too grand"! The Lord has been preparing Zion for this time! All of Heaven has been awaiting the day that we are in. We have been born for such a time as this! This is a day of mighty change! What will look like devastation will be opportunity! This will be a day of great wonder and great fear. "And I will show wonders in the heavens and in the earth: Blood and fire and pillars of smoke. Joel 2:30 "Men's hearts failing them from fear and the expectation of those things which are coming on the earth, for the powers of heaven will be shaken." Luke 21:26. How will we respond to the new challenges we are faced with? What a day to be alive!

NEW PASSIONS

Jesus said to him, " 'You shall love the LORD your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind.' {38} "This is the first and great commandment. {39} "And the second is like it: 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself.' {40} "On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets." Matthew 22:37-40 There will arise a new passion for Christ. Out of this will come a new compassion for the lost. The focus will change as the emphasis becomes clearly pointed!

BOLD-HUMILITY & HUMBLE-BOLDNESS

There will be an intermingling of boldness and humility that will prevail in the days ahead. God has brought us out to bring us in! He brought the apostolic and prophetic voices to a place of declaring as if alone. We were brought out of the encumbrances of man and fear of man to speak his prophetic word in boldness. But in this season, there will be a coming together into unity for the purposes of God in true apostolic authority. The results will be a new holiness in the Body. Miracles, signs and wonders will increase. Increased detail and accuracy of the prophetic words spoken by the prophets will accompany this intermingling. The miraculous shall prevail.

DIVINE INTENTION

"Go through, Go through the gates! Prepare the way for the people; Build up, Build up the highway! Take out the stones, Lift up a standard for the peoples!" Isaiah 62:10 God has a plan of action - a divine design. He wants us to "develop a plan and work it" rather than simply just getting by. These are unconventional times and will require unconventional methods. These will be days of strategic revelation!

INCREASE

"For the LORD shall build up Zion; He shall appear in His glory. {17} He shall regard the prayer of the destitute, And shall not despise their prayer. {18} This will be written for the generation to come, That a people yet to be created may praise the LORD." Psalms 102:16-18. The Lord said to me, "I am going to accelerate the process!" What appears to be decrease is actually God on the increase. "He must increase, but I must decrease." John 3:30. It's time for those who are in Christ to quit trying to find their place and find Him.

A harvesting spirit will come upon the church! I believe that 2000 shall serve as a year of harvesting for us specifically as individuals! God is preparing us to learn how to harvest according to His ways. In order to harvest corporately, there must be individual harvesting. This will prepare us for the great harvesting of souls that lies ahead.

Also, we will see the increased change of wealth into the hands of the righteous.

The gifts and manifestations of the Spirit will increase in manifestation and in intensity.

POSITION FOR POSSESSION

"The LORD your God is giving you rest and is giving you this land" Joshua 1:13 "Position For Possession In The Time Of Your Progression". It's a time of progressing, positioning and possessing. What appears to be small shall be great in the days ahead! We must allow God to position us through our obedience and allow him to do it through us - rest. He will position us to be possessors of His kingdom and the treasures of darkness! Don't despise these days! As He is bringing progression to your life, see His overall intention is divine and not for destruction. If you can survive the Hand of God, the devil is no problem! He is training us to be those who allow Him to rule through us and possess our communities and our lands! Divine adjustments are necessary to change us into flexible warriors.

Breakthroughs will be breaking forth in new frontiers! We must pursue that which has been placed in our hearts. Consider any distractions or contrary voices to be the cracking of old wineskins and keep moving forward. Keep pushing! Don't give up! The greatest temptation in this hour will be to quit. Breakthroughs come from the push!

A New Wind

Chuck D. Pierce

Letter of July 2000

Catching a New Wind for Your Future: Your BEST is Ahead!

I believe Pentecost 2000 solidified the historic shift that we have been in over the last several years. You might want to read Exodus 23 and Deuteronomy 16 to remind yourself of how God instituted the Feasts so His covenant people would always be reminded of who He was and what He had done in the past. These Feasts were also given to remember God's great acts of salvation, deliverance and healing grace. He knew that if we would remember His power displays of the past, we would have faith to see Him move today and in the future. By participating in the prescribed Feasts (Passover, Pentecost, and Tabernacles), Israel's worship would remain fresh, vibrant, and properly aligned with their Maker. Thank God we have been grafted into these cycles of worship.

The Feast of Pentecost occurred seven weeks from the time the first sickle was put into the standing grain of harvest. The people were required to give a "freewill offering" in proportion to the blessing that the Lord had bestowed upon them during the year. The measure that they gave, would determine the release of their blessings for the coming year. The Pentecost Wind and Breath of the Spirit blew on the first Feast of Weeks after Jesus' death and resurrection. This began a new season in the history of the Church where the Lord released His power to advance and multiply. This "Wind of Pentecost" blew away the past season of death and frustration.

The Body has transitioned from one season to another. We have actually entered into a new "chronos" season and a "kairos" opportune time. We are in this new season, but I do not believe we have gained our footing for the future. The government of the church is being restored to its next level of authority. I have written much on the "The Third Day Church Arising" since October 1996. However, I believe that in the next five months we need to understand our role in this personally before we will be able to embrace it fully corporately. We are so busy attempting to "maintain" our lives, keeping everything done, possibly we are not pulling aside to gain the revelation. Revelation establishes vision. Vision is linked with covenant favor. Covenant favor releases provision. We are more like Martha. We are distracted with much serving. The word distracted means to "drag around in circles". Just as she wanted Mary to drag around in her circle with her, we want others to pity us over our burdens. We are troubled and worried over many issues. The future frightens us. But the Lord is saying, "Pull aside, listen carefully! I have instructions that can adjust your course. I have strategies for your advancement. I have information that will cause you to grab hold of the BEST that I have for you."

We must remember how much Jesus loved Martha. He says so in John 11. However, Jesus knew that Martha had to have a jolt or she would miss what He had to reveal to her in the future. Future means "to be or to come in days, months, or years ahead; the prospective or potential condition of a person or thing; the expected end". In the King James Version of the Bible we find the term "expected end." Future is linked with expectations. Expectations are a function of desire. Desire is a function of the emotions. Therefore to really embrace what God is doing, we must be whole in our emotions. Our desires must be properly aligned with God's desires for us. "Delight yourself in the Lord, and He will give you the desires of your heart (Psalm 37:4)". When we think of the future, most of us think of the "consummation of our salvation". Because of past theological paradigms, we are usually waiting for that one big event that will release us into heaven. We forget that our future is NOW! Once our desires are linked with His desires, the BEST God has for us can be obtained in this new season.

When Jesus did His first miracle in John 2, the principle of "The BEST is Still Ahead" was demonstrated. Remember the wedding party ran out of wine. Jesus was hesitant to reveal Himself. Nevertheless, He changed the water in the pots to wine. The host was amazed at the taste. This demonstration was a change of order. Previously the cheaper, less palatable wine was saved for last. However, the host commented that the better or best wine had been held for last. The Lord did this so His glory could be revealed. We are entering into the days where His glory is going to made manifest in new, tangible ways. This Glory will overcome our unbelief and release us into a new faith realm. By faith we will advance into the BEST! Our future secured.

To have a future we must understand our past. The best example biblically for this is the life of Daniel. Notice the pattern: Daniel uncovered the prophecy that Jeremiah had given 70 years prior. That prophecy threw Daniel into identificational repentance so that the patterns of the past would not hinder their future. Once he had prayed that his people would not have the same mind that had caused them to be unfaithful in the past, he went into spiritual warfare with a territorial spirit that was attempting to block the revelation that God had for the future of His covenant people. The Lord sent a warring angel that caused the Prince of Persia to flee. We then find revelation was released to Daniel for latter days. Once we break the cycles of sin in our past, we can gain revelation for our future.

To have a future, we must not be afraid of the broken places that we see around us. We also find the same people being described in the book of Ezekiel. In Ezekiel 22, we find God reminding Ezekiel the prophet of how the prophets had fallen into decay, the priests had violated God's principles, the princes had been corrupt, and the people had used all sorts of divination. However, He said that if He could find one person who could stand in the gap He could reverse the situation. Gaps are broken places that are a result of our sin. Many times we'd like to see the future released, but we must be willing to stand in the places where sin removed the secure wall around us.

To have a future, we must learn to stand. The key word here is stand. Stand is a military term. Paul says in Ephesians 6, when you can't stand -- STAND. When we are willing to stand in the place that God has asked us to stand, the demon forces that have been occupying that space have to flee. I love Isaiah 60:1 in the Amplified, "Arise from the depression and prostration in which circumstances have kept you - rise to a new life! Shine (be radiant with the glory of the Lord), for your light has come, and the glory of the Lord has risen upon you!" We must break out of the prostrate position we have been in and take our stand. When we do that, God clothes us for the future with His favor and glory.

To have a future, we must be willing to build the wall that is torn down. We can't always just be spiritual. We must receive God's building strategy to rebuild what the enemy has tried to destroy. We must restore the wall. Restoration does not just get us back to the place where we were, but restoration unlocks our future.

To have a future, we must find our position on the wall. Nehemiah did all of the above that I have listed. But then a real key to seeing the wall built in 52 days was to position some with spears watching, and others actually doing the action of building. We must each get positioned in what we are called to do. Some are called to be watchmen, and others are called to be workers. It takes all of us positioned properly to accomplish God's purpose.

To have a future, we must endure the enemies accusing, taunting voice. Remember how the enemy got them distracted from building. The devil will rise up people to accuse those who are really going forth and building the Kingdom. Jealousy is a key demonic force that is usually linked with a Jezebel spirit. These spirits connect together to attempt to stop what God is doing, or steal and transfer God's resources into the enemy's camp. All accusations are really targeted against the Lord. I have found that when a person really wants to accuse the Lord they find one of His ambassadors on the earth to accuse. In Ezra we see a clear pattern of accusation stopping the building process. In rebuilding the temple the enemies first attempted to infiltrate, deceive and sabotage the building plans. After this failed, they resorted to discouragement and instilling fear in the people. When this also failed to stop the building process, they resorted to accusation. This halted the building process for almost 14 years.

To have a future, we must have an intimate relationship with the Lord that allows Him to communicate fresh strategies for victory. We find a good example of this when we look at the life of David. In 2 Samuel 5, David initially defeats the Philistines. The Philistines regroup and came against him once again. The Lord told David to listen for the wind in the mulberry trees and then attack by not pursuing, but coming around from behind. This was a different strategy than what had been used in the previous battle. You can't win today's and tomorrow's battles with yesterdays revelation. If David had used the same method in his new battle that had previously been given him, he would have been defeated.

To have a future, we must honor those that have gone before us. Honor is key. I want to recommend Fawn Parish's book, Honor, to you. So many people never honor those that have paved the way for them to be positioned where they are presently. If you do not do that, eventually darkness will overtake you. I believe this is why an Absalom spirit works in the Body.

To have a future, we must accept and have faith in the generation that is following us. When the Lord is talking about future or expected end, He always says to tell the next generation what is to come (Deut 6:20, Joshua 4:6, 21). Therefore, we must have faith that those who are following us are able to carry the standard and mantle of God into the next season.

To have a future, we must have a testimony that will endure and overcome. Your testimony is part of the overcoming strength of God on earth. Not only do we have to stand, but we also have to testify to the goodness of God. To testify we must endure.

Receive a new wind! The next five months are key! I believe how we make prophetic declarations NOW will frame our future! The earth was framed by faith! Receive a new wind of faith and declare that you have a future and a hope! I love that phrase: "When the winds of change blow, adjust your sails!" The wind is changing! Adjust! Advance!

An October Surprise

Ron Wood

The season of major transition is upon us now. Yom Kippur is Israel's highest holy day. In the Bible, the High Priest would enter the Holy of Holies on this day only, to intercede for the people's sins. In the New Testament, our Savior fulfilled this type and pattern by His own blood shed on the cross.

Yom Kippur occurs Oct 9th this year. In Jewish tradition, this is an occasion to pray the Kol Nidre, meaning "all my vows." This prayer asks for an annulment of all the vows the people were unable to keep the year before. It is forgiveness and release from broken promises. It is also a time of fresh consecration to God.

Across America, thousands of believers in Jesus are now fasting and praying. It is a season of struggle against the flesh so that things of the Spirit can prevail. It is a time for self-denial so that God's kingdom can increase. It is a time for ambition to die and for obedience to be paramount.

While many are praying for the welfare of America in the upcoming election, there is a higher purpose to our devotion- to see God's kingdom come, to see repentance and revival, to see Jesus honored in the land.

On October first, the Lord spoke to me and said, "I have an October Surprise." I sensed in His words a divine pleasure, as though it were a gift He had been waiting and longing to bestow, awaiting the fullness of times in order for its season to arrive. But I didn't know what this meant. I began to seek the Lord for what this could mean.

Today, I feel I have gained additional insight concerning this word. I believe God showed me three things that are now intersecting in God's timetable. These things are coming into alignment on God's calendar on earth even as they have already been in preparation in heaven.

Chronos has now synchronized with Kairos. The fullness of time has arrived. Now it shall spring forth speedily, at least to our earthly eyes. In fact, it has been approaching steadily for a long time but unseen by most.

These three things are: Increased prophetic authority, maturation of the Intercessory Prayer Movement, and the sudden release of extravagant resources to finish building God's house.

To expand on these areas, what I see is: 1) authority to confront the powers that confuse and captivate nations, people groups, and churches; 2) authority through the addition of fatherly intercession to change the times and seasons and bring God's people into their inheritance; and 3) a sovereign transfer of stored up wealth into the hands of God's builders so that the house of the Lord may be completed and filled with God's glory.

The Lord gave me three confirming scriptures:
Jeremiah 1:5-12;
Daniel 9: 1-19, 1
Chron. 29:1-20.

There is a reason for these events to happen now. For all of God's dealings, there has to be a fullness of time. God's prophetic timetable has a pregnancy factor. The word is spoken, then the Spirit broods over it, and then it finally comes forth in due season.

What seems immediate is actually the result of a long process of gestation and labor. Just like seasonal changes, there is an ebb and flow until we realize a new season has taken hold. In the natural, Israel's fate often reflects what is about to occur in the church. (Even as we share this, turmoil is mounting in Jerusalem. A major conflict seems imminent.)

Now I am going to sum up the three things that are intersecting and then apply them prophetically to the church. It is important that you read the three scripture references I have cited above.

PROPHETS WILL CONFRONT JEZEBEL

The authority that has been exercised in the prophetic office has been thus far limited. It will now escalate to a new level of authorization by God. The refiners fire has purged, refined, and in some cases, destroyed as unusable the character of God's prophetic servants. Prophetic gifts have tantalized and been toyed with, but the office of the prophet is now being elevated by the Lord. Ambassadorial credentials are being bestowed.

That office of the prophet is no longer going to be subject to illegal control. By that, I mean leaders who are interested in building up their own little kingdom or controlling their people rather than be burdened for the welfare of the whole church in the city will no longer be able to merchandise the anointing or exploit their prophetic gifts.

The prophetic anointing will no longer be subject to manipulation or intimidation. Awesome increase of fearful accuracy will frighten those who live in sin. Jesus owns the prophets and they are not for sale at any price.

Jeremiah's anointing was to tear down as well as to build up. In tender mercy, with delicate but unrelenting patience, the Lord will demolish man-made structures and traditions. He will break a few tables and knock a few heads in cleansing His temple. He will hurt us to help us. The good will give way to the best.

What Father did not plant will be uprooted. What God did not build will be shaken. The weakness of the present pastoral foundation of the church will become apparent in order that we may begin to cry out for the true foundation of the apostles and prophets, with Jesus Christ as the chief cornerstone. The upside-down church will get righted.

In particular, the Lord will allow the Jezebel spirit to run its course through the religious institutions. He will do this so that we may see its fruit, repent, and turn away from false authority. It will become apparent that the ordinary office of pastoral leadership, as necessary and wonderful as it may be, is not adequate to deal with nor is it designed to uncover, confront, or destroy the place Jezebel has occupied-- unhindered and often unrecognized-- in the church.

I now see why Jesus chose for His front line masculine disciples, a rough core group who had not an ounce of religion in them, all but one, that is, Judas. He had to have men for the foundation of His church that were free of religious manipulation from Jezebel's miasma. God is uncovering Jezebel in order to rebuild the foundation of His church, free of idolatry and wickedness.

PRAYER BY APOSTOLIC FATHERS WILL LIBERATE CITIES

The second factor in God's timetable is the continuing maturation and effectiveness of intercessory prayer. This is typified by Daniel, a statesman-prophet and true intercessor. He was faultless and methodical in his praying. He kept himself righteous even while he served a heathen ruler. He never lost sight of God's plan. He prayed it into existence.

This is truly spiritual warfare, using spiritual weapons to achieve strategic measurable results including the liberation and welfare of people and the salvation of souls and the building up of the body of Christ.

Daniel played a role in the delivery of God's "prophetic baby." He served the purpose of God by seeing and saying what God's calendar predicted. He saw the fullness of time coming to a conclusion. He knew God's Word, discerned the times, and labored in travail for the season to change.

He identified with the sins of God's people and interceded for God's promises to come to pass. He prayed with authority because He knew what God had promised. He was heard because he was righteous, because he prayed according to God's will, and because he used the persistence of true faith.

Spiritual warfare involves testimony, prayer, praise, preaching, prophecy and proclamation. These are things we do with our words. We form weapons with our mouth. These words inspired by God become articles of war that defeat Satan and dislodge his influence.

High praises are especially powerful as tools of war. Intercessory prayer, standing in the gap for others, is especially blessed of God. With words we bless men, exalt Christ, affirm our faith, and weaken and evict the demons. We cleanse our house with words. Words are weapons, especially when they are divinely inspired and prophetically timed.

What I am seeing is that the intercessory prayer movement, one of the largest mobilizations of the Body of Christ in human history, will now move to a new level of maturity. Up to this point in time, it has been mostly led by wonderfully dedicated women.

This is well and good and I mean for nothing I say to take away from what they have done and are still doing. But I see that a new phase is dawning. It can be symbolized by a change that occurred in my lifetime in the delivery rooms of hospitals.

When my two children were born, Woman's Hospital did not allow fathers to be present at births. It was official hospital policy. But a few months after my last child was delivered, they changed their policy. I missed the chance to be in on that precious moment. Now, fathers may enter the delivery room.

Today, God is inviting men into the delivery room. All men, not just those called to minister the Word. We are being welcomed to enter in to the work of the Lord, to travail in birth for God's will to be done on earth.

But in this process a new breed of God's generals will emerge. These are apostolic fathers who not only know how to marshal the troops and lead the battle, they will also be men of much prayer who know how to engage in spiritual birthing. They will be wrestlers who prevail in prayer over the enemy in order that their city may be liberated.

An example of this is Carlos Annocondia. His exploits have been chronicled in books and articles. He travails in prayer, gains power over the devil, then preaches to set men free. As a result, whole cities have been evangelized.

The prophetic intercessory prayer movement is about to have another layer added to it. It will be called apostolic intercession, the combining of ruling and praying, of the kingly office and the priestly function, the apostle and the prophet. On top of this development, the Lord will release the final ingredient to insure our success - abundant financial resources.

END-TIME TRANSFER OF WEALTH

King David laid up resources for Solomon to construct the temple. He also inspired the people to give extravagantly toward the completion of the building. He made their giving an act of worship, saying "Now who is willing to consecrate himself today to God?" (1 Chron. 29:5)

In our day, the completion of the house of God has been hindered by two errors. First, we thought the house of God was a physical building located on a piece of land. In reality, God's house is the Body of Christ. That body needs facilities to meet in, but God's house is the people, not the bricks. God dwells in relationships, not in buildings.

Second, we have built the traditional church on the wrong foundation. We have built it based on pastors rather than apostles and prophets. As a result, it does not reveal God's glory.

In the houses we build, the priests have no problem standing because God's glory is routinely absent. The fullness of Christ is not revealed to the degree it should be. Why? Because it was not built according to the divine pattern.

I am not saying this to build a case for apostles and prophets, just to say the current situation is unbiblical. God is now addressing this area in order to correct it.

What does this have to do with end-time transfer of wealth? Just this: The financial control of modern churches and seminaries has been (with very few exceptions) in the power of pastors or teachers. This statement of fact is not meant to indict pastors. Instead, properly understood, it should be a relief.

Pastors have been the unsung suffering heroes of the Body of Christ. Pastors and their wives have suffered slings and arrows and satanic assaults and have still faithfully tended the flock through it all. But unfortunately, they have been drained and burned out, many having left the ministry having had to do things they were never given grace by God to do. We owe all pastors a huge debt of appreciation.

When we minister inside our sphere of grace, authority, and anointing, we don't burn out. We carry the load with ease. The foundation gift ministries of the church are apostles and prophets. The church is not built on the foundation of pastors and teachers. It is built on the foundation of apostles and prophets (Eph. 2:20).

Therefore, in order for God to release the abundant resources He has stored up for completing the work, He is inspecting the building site of His house to see if we are removing the pieces that were put in the wrong place and inserting the right pieces into proper place. It is a matter of placement and alignment.

God is a good builder. God will not pay for what he does not first approve. He reserves the right to inspect the building site. If we get His permit to continue, He releases the funds to build further. When the foundation of God's house is built according to His specifications, He will release the riches of heaven into the right hands.

God is about to invest in apostles and prophets. But here is a warning: If we don't repent quickly, the payment will be delayed in transit.

Zechariah was a prophet of restoration. What he described for Israel has an end-time application in the church as well. He saw the high priest, the Branch (a Messianic foreshadowing), the one who will build the temple of the Lord (apostles are wise-master-builders).

He will rule on his throne (apostles are primarily gifted in government in the church), he will be a priest on his throne (one necessary function of prophets is to intercede and pray for the people as the Spirit wills), and the "counsel of peace will be between the two offices." (Zech. 6:11-15).

In other words, there will be a union between the offices of or apostle and prophet. There, the Lord commands the blessing. There, the crown of silver and gold will adorn his head. There, the glory and the wisdom will be revealed. There, the gold and the silver will be placed as an adornment. Then, money will be no object.

God is not broke. He has stored up the wealth which we need in order to finish the work of building God's house. Everything our generation has amassed, the internet e-tech fortunes, the entertainers, the rich athletes, all of it is designed to serve God's purpose.

A new partnership between businessmen and apostles will emerge. A new wealth-creation cycle between widows and prophets will appear. No spirit of Jezebel will choke off the funds anymore!

God has pre-positioned supplies all along our route. There is a rich storehouse of treasure and it is extravagant and abundant. There is no shortage of money with God.

God's October Surprise includes the wealth of the nations being transferred into the builders hands, the foundation gifts of apostles and prophets, those who will lay the foundation for the future. The glory of the latter house will be greater than the former. In fact, there will be no comparison. ---

Invitation to suffering

There are those who awake in pain every day, those who rebel and then lose their way,
those that abuse is all they've ever known,
other's have ended up without even a home.

There is judgement due to the color of skin, or rejection because of a particular sin, addictions making millions their slaves, wounded families left in murder or suicide's wake.

I've made provision to heal every heart,
by the One's I've redeemed and I've set apart,
many have asked Me, "Lord why don't you care?"
"why am I hurting and why aren't You here?"

My people, it's easy to judge where you've never been,
it's easy to criticize another man's sin,
so those I've set apart and called by My Name,
I invited to walk some roads of suffering and pain.

compassion is born from sharing suffering and grief,
only those who have suffered can truly offer relief,
It's for that very reason I came in human flesh, and entered into all of man's suffering's and tests.

I'm not a God that is untouched by man's pain,
I've invited My children to enter into other's suffering and shame, to fill up what is lacking in the sufferings of Christ,
but so few are willing to pay such a price.

Those who accepted My Invitation of pain, can look forward with joy to the treasure they've gained, for those I will send them will see a reflection of Me, as I anoint them and use them to set others free.

A New Season

Luz Cintrón

There is a season of renaming, of renewal of rebirthing. Its time to put the old away for like yesterday manna, what belongs to the past in the past will remain, and if you try to store it and live in yesterday's glory it will become spoil rotten and good for nothing in your hands.

Come unto Me, My Bride, my dove, come and drink of the living waters of my love. Like the living waters of a flowing river that are newly fresh from second to second, so is my provision in the Spirit for You. I am your provision. Come and drink, come draw nigh. I have a new name to give you that no lips have ever pronounced. Your name burns in my lips in the longing to pronounce it upon you. Beauty for ashes, my lovely Bride, beauty for ashes I have for you, come near. I will kiss your tears away for ever, to me you are glorious, precious one, you have put on the garment of my blood. Fragile dove, in the brokenness of despair I looked upon you and in the tears of rejection I visited you, come to my heart and dwell with Me, holy one of my delight. With my love I will console you and with my embrace I'll strengthen you.

Come with Me and we will gather spoils together. Rise lovely one, shod your feet once more with the Gospel Of Peace... and come with Me. I will show you salvation from the four corners of the earth. What was said impossible, with Me is already done. Heed to my call and answer me. Raise from your bed, open to Me my darling Bride, my heart is heavy with the longings for you. Come and let us run together, the fields are white awaiting, the voice that calls resounds upon them my beloved, it is your name in Me that fills my heart and the cry of love upon the harvest fields... Have you not heard that the foolish of the world I have chosen to confuse the wise? I have called the weak to shame the powerful, and the humble to bring low the proud. ; but this I tell you, I Am your strength and I Am wisdom in you. Fear not, I Am with you! Set your heart upon Me and...Come forth! Our love is forever, Come forth! For ever I love you, Come forth!

As I have received it I give it to you, May He bless you and be strength and courage in you . His will is done. Blessed be His name!

Your servant in His love;

A New Song to Our God

Gloria Shepherd

Dearest Saints;

Last night, an apostle I know, called me to relay a message He had received from God to be spoken forth. Last night it was given to five people to speak forth. Tonight it is to go forth to the nations of the world.

God has asked that these Psalms be spoken forth, shouted forth, prayed forth or sung forth for one week once a day by at least one person from every nation of the world. When this apostle called me last night, I was really busy, and somehow I forgot to do this before going to bed. It is so important, that I was woken up out of a sound sleep last night to do it by Holy Spirit. I was shaken out of my bed to speak this forth into the night at 3:00 am and I knew as I spoke the words was cutting through the enemy lines as it was being The Holy Spirit shook my bed and shook me to the floor to wake up and speak forth those Psalms. I did it, and it was like the Psalms as they were coming forth out of my mouth, cut the enemy's lines, and did damage to where it was spoken. I had a vision of this in 1997, and there were all these people holding hands, around the earth, one from every nation, singing a new song. and then the glory golden rains came down on those whose voices and heads were lifted up to the most High, singing this new song as one voice up to Him. I believe that this proclamation from God is a fulfillment of that vision I saw take place at the beginning of 1997.

Sing a New Song to God is not what the apostle called it. Holy Spirit just told me as I wrote this, to call it that.

This New Song to Our God is to be spoken forth into the air with believing faith. This is a new song to be song from every nation of the earth each day, for one week. It is going to bring the glory rains from heaven.

Speak forth these Psalms at least once a day for one week.

Speak it forth, shout it forth, pray it forth, or sing it forth all three Psalms each day for one week as many times as you are led to do it in a day. God has asked that be these psalms be spoken forth in the above manner and it come forth from each nation of the world. Pass this on to all that you know, so it reaches every nation on earth.

Psalms 142, Psalms 143, Psalms 144

I do not access to the whole world, but I know that this is a work of God's and it will go forth to every nation and be carried forth as He wills it forth, those that have ears to hear will know that this is from Him.

In His Service,

Gloria Shepherd

A New Book Opened

The Third Day and the Seventh Day

Joseph Herrin

A New Book Opened

Joseph Herrin

I am writing this on the first day of the Feast of Tabernacles, also called the Feast of Ingathering. This seems appropriate since it deals with God gathering His elect, His remnant together to their respective places of association. We are entering a new time. We have been in the fiery furnace of affliction, as those things that have bound us have been burned away, and now we are being brought out of the furnace and promotion will be ours even as it was for Hananiah, Mishaël, and Azariah (Shadrack, Meshack, and Abednego).

Many of God's saints have been going through the most difficult trials of their lives and they have wondered when it will ever end. These same sons and daughters have had many precious promises spoken to them from God. Yet, rather than seeing the promises fulfilled, it seems their lives have taken an opposite turn where it would seem that they are cut-off, forsaken, despised, little cared for, and far removed from the promises and blessings of God. This has always been God's pattern for promotion and for blessing.

Joseph as a young man was given dreams of his future calling. He then spent years where it seems that everything conspired to cause him to doubt that such a calling would ever be realized. Yet he remained faithful to God throughout all his dark days.

David similarly had his calling made known as a youth when Samuel poured the oil over his head and declared him to be the Lord's anointed. He then spent years in exile, fleeing for his life and despised and rejected even by his own family. He too remained faithful in his trials.

In these last days God has need of many sons and daughters to walk in tremendous kingdom authority, having His glory revealed in and through them. This place of honor is given to those who prove themselves faithful. God has therefore been taking many through trials at this time. God has been proving them, refining them, molding them, and making them fit vessels as they undergo His crucible of testing.

Where are we in this process? God has spoken to me that we are at the same point that David was at right before coming into the position of ruling that had been revealed to him so many years earlier. We are leaving Ziklag and heading to Hebron. Listen to God's revelation through the life of David.

David typifies those whom God is bringing forth in this hour perhaps more than any other Biblical character. In Revelation 12 it speaks of a man child that is born and is caught up to the throne of God. This symbolism typifies ruling and reigning with God. David was also God's appointed ruler and he was faithful before God. David's darkest hour came right before he received the kingdom authority promised him. In similar manner, we are told in Revelation 12 that the great dragon waited to devour the man child that was being birthed, but God delivered the man child from his jaws. The greatest threat is right before kingdom authority is given.

David's darkest moment was at Ziklag. The story is recorded in I Samuel chapters 29 and 30. David had been fleeing from Saul for years and eventually he had to leave his own country and live in the land of the Philistines. He and the 600 men who joined themselves to him lived in Ziklag with their wives, children and possessions. At this time war arose between Israel and Philistia and David and his men went to join themselves to the armies of the Philistines, but they were rebuffed and rejected for the Philistines were afraid David and his men would turn on them and fight against them. David and his men were sent back to their home in Ziklag.

When they arrived they found that Ziklag had been raided and their town had been burned and their families and possessions had been taken captive. We are told that David and his men wept until they could weep no more. This was David's darkest day. His men blamed him and some even spoke of stoning him. Years after he had received the promise of kingdom authority he found himself rejected by his own people, living as an exile, distrusted by the inhabitants of the land he lived among, and now all that he had and held dear was taken from him.

Many questioned David and asked him where was the God whom he trusted in. Many mocked his faith in a loving and faithful God. Where was his God now? Why hadn't his God protected his wife and children and possessions while he was gone? If God was for him, why did it look like he was the world's greatest loser and victim?

Many of God's children are in a similar position today. They have hoped and trusted in God and it seems that one evil thing after another has befallen them. Hope has been crushed and great darkness has entered their lives and souls. Yet in all of this they have not let go of their trust in God. As Peter said, "Where else shall we go? You alone have the words of eternal life."

We read that David strengthened himself in the Lord and then put on the priestly ephod and inquired of God as to whether they should pursue and get back their families and possessions. God answered that they would surely recover all. David's men were already weary from their trip. Added to this was the weakness from the deep emotions they experienced at finding their city burned and all they had to be captured. A third of David's men could not go to the battle to recover their families and possessions. Despair and fatigue had so overcome them. David told them to stay and watch the baggage for them. When all was recovered David declared that these who stayed with the baggage would share equally with those who went to the battle.

David had learned compassion by experiencing the extreme depths of sorrow and despair that he had gone through. He had pity on those who could go on no further. In similar way, God has been teaching us compassion through the things we have been enduring. We can understand the despair and hopelessness of others as we have endured our own darkness. Those who are granted kingdom authority must know compassion for the weaknesses of others. Even when God must judge mankind, His mercy and love are always present. God will use those who are being raised up today to proclaim the judgment of God upon the household of God and upon the world, but they must not forget mercy and compassion in doing so.

As God has taken His children through the fires of affliction and testing some have reached a point of not being able to continue further. Let these have hope. Those who stay with the baggage will receive the same reward as those who have gone to the battle.

I know that my own Ziklag experience is not unusual. Many are going through similar trials. For many of us it seems as if our homes have been burned and we have nothing left there. The place we had been dwelling and living has been taken from us. For many this speaks of the church they had been a part of. For some it speaks of relationships with family and friends. For some it speaks of the physical place they had been dwelling. God has allowed our Ziklag's to be burned. There is no remaining there. There is nothing to go back to but a charred ruin. But, like David, God is using this to cause us to inquire of God where He would have us go next.

II Samuel 2:1

Then it came about afterwards that David inquired of the LORD, saying, "Shall I go up to one of the cities of Judah?" And the LORD said to him, "Go up." So David said, "Where shall I go up?" And He said, "To Hebron."

(NAS)

It has been prophesied that the year 2000 would be a year of tremendous separation, as well as a year of joining together. Sometimes God brings a separation through means as traumatic as David experienced at Ziklag. For many it seems that the life they have had has gone up in smoke. There is nothing left of it. But God is not leaving us there. He will take us to the place where we will be joined together according to His wisdom and design. For those who have been in exile and have experienced separation from brothers and sisters, family and friends, this should come as welcome news.

While in my Ziklag experience, God told me to study the name of the place David went next. He was instructed to go to Hebron. Hebron comes from the Hebrew word "Chebron" which is Strongs' word 2275. The word means "seat of association."

This Hebrew word is further derived from "Cheber" (Strongs' 2267) which means "a society, a company" and it is closely related to "Chebar (Strongs 2269) meaning "an associate, a companion, a fellow."

After all the rending of separation this past year (and longer for some) God has a place of association for His children. God desires that we be joined together in a society of companions and fellow saints whom He has appointed for us. As David did at Ziklag, we are to inquire of God as to where He would join us. Rest assured that as He answered David with a specific destination, so will He do for us.

This is where we are at. Our Ziklags have gone up in smoke. There is no remaining in these places. God would have us to inquire where we are to go now. He will speak and He will show us clearly who our companions and associates are to be. He will guide us to our Hebron, our place of association.

A final thought that God gave me on this is that the burning of Ziklag and the dark days that attended this are recorded at the end of I Samuel. However, David's inquiry of where to go next and his ascension to the throne are recorded at the beginning of II Samuel. A division occurs in David's experience and it is marked by a new book being opened.

In the same way God is closing one book in the lives of His children and He is opening a new book. This new book will be one of kingdom authority. The former book was the story of the preparation for this authority. If David's life ended with the close of I Samuel he would have been to be pitied. For many of God's saints, if our lives closed now there would seem to be cause for great pity. But a new book is being opened. God is turning the page and eye has not seen nor ear heard what God has in store for those who love Him.

Be encouraged.

The Third Day and the Seventh Day

(3-13-2000)

We are entering a new day, the third day since Christ and the seventh day since Adam. Peter speaks of each thousand years of man being as a day in God's timetable in the following verse.

II Peter 3:8

But do not let this one fact escape your notice, beloved, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. (NAS)

David also speaks of this correlation in the Psalms.

Psalms 90:4

For a thousand years in Thy sight are like yesterday when it passes by, or as a watch in the night. (NAS)

It has been 6,000 years since Adam and 2,000 years since Christ first appeared on the earth. Therefore, six days and two days have transpired. We are now entering the 7th day since Adam and the 3rd day since Christ. The scriptures say much about the 3rd and 7th days, and those who would discern the times should study well these passages.

In the scriptures those who have discerning of the times are praised and those who have failed in discerning the times are derided. God tells us to be wise and discern the times.

I Chronicles 12:32

And of the sons of Issachar, men who understood the times, with knowledge of what Israel should do... (NAS)

Esther 1:13

Then the king said to the wise men who understood the times... (NAS)

Matthew 16:2_3

2 But He answered and said to them, "When it is evening, you say, 'It will be fair weather, for the sky is red.'

3 "And in the morning, 'There will be a storm today, for the sky is red and threatening. 'Do you know how to discern the appearance of the sky, but cannot discern the signs of the times? (NAS)

It is wise men who will discern the times and who will then know if it is time for fair weather, or for a storm. So what are some of the things that are spoken of for the 3rd and the 7th days that are now upon us?

Genesis 1:9_13

9 Then God said, "Let the waters below the heavens be gathered into one place, and let the dry land appear"; and it was so.

10 And God called the dry land earth, and the gathering of the waters He called seas; and God saw that it was good.

11 Then God said, "Let the earth sprout vegetation, plants yielding seed, and fruit trees bearing fruit after their kind, with seed in them, on the earth"; and it was so.

12 And the earth brought forth vegetation, plants yielding seed after their kind, and trees bearing fruit, with seed in them, after their kind; and God saw that it was good.

13 And there was evening and there was morning, a third day. (NAS)

The third day is a day of gathering and of unveiling and resurrection. It is also a time of harvest. As the waters were gathered together into one place, so will this day be a day of great gathering together. Both those who are evil and those who are righteous will be gathered together to their own groups. A distinction will be made between them even as was made between the water and the dry land, as between the Egyptians and the Israelites who lived in the land of Goshen.

As the dry land emerged out of the water and stood above it, so shall a resurrection once again take place on the third day. This is further signified in Hosea.

1 "Come, let us return to the LORD. For He has torn us, but He will heal us; He has wounded us, but He will bandage us.

2 "He will revive us after two days; He will raise us up on the third day That we may live before Him. (NAS)

From the first advent of Christ mankind has been torn. As the Holy Spirit came and brought forth new life and many were born again of the Spirit, being quickened in their own spirit, a tearing took place. Mankind is comprised of spirit, soul, and a fleshly body. We are told that "in our flesh dwells no good thing" (Romans 7:18), but that "the inner man (spirit man) joyfully concurs with the rule of God" (Romans 7:22).

Paul makes an excellent case in both Romans 7 and Galatians 5 that, since being born again spiritually ("that which is born of the Spirit is spirit"), mankind has entered into a fractured existence where endless war is waged in our members.

21 I find then the principle that evil is present in me, the one who wishes to do good.

22 For I joyfully concur with the law of God in the inner man,

23 but I see a different law in the members of my body, waging war against the law of my mind, and making me a prisoner of the law of sin which is in my members.

24 Wretched man that I am! Who will set me free from the body of this death? (NAS)

Galatians 5:17

For the flesh sets its desire against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; for these are in opposition to one another, so that you may not do the things that you please. (NAS)

For two thousand years man has been in this fractured and torn state of being. For two days in God's timetable man has known the struggle between the spirit and the flesh and the war has raged in the soul of man. The flesh has desired to rule and reign and to gain the upper hand in man's soul, and the spirit too has sought to have ascendancy. Those who have walked according to the spirit have had to keep the soul in subjection and have had to rule over the passions of the flesh. The struggle has been relentless, but we are told that after two days of being torn, on the third day we will be revived, healed, bandaged, and we will live in His sight (Hosea 6:1, 2).

This hope is expressed in many places in scripture.

Romans 8:19_23

19 For the anxious longing of the creation waits eagerly for the revealing of the sons of God.

20 For the creation was subjected to futility, not of its own will, but because of Him who subjected it, in hope

21 that the creation itself also will be set free from its slavery to corruption into the freedom of the glory of the children of God.

22 For we know that the whole creation groans and suffers the pains of childbirth together until now.

23 And not only this, but also we ourselves, having the first fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting eagerly for our adoption as sons, the redemption of our body. (NAS)

Paul spoke of anxiously awaiting the redemption of our body. There is a groaning inside of us as we have desired to walk in a manner pleasing to the Father, but always realizing that we are robed in sinful flesh that always sets its desires on evil and wickedness. This is the futility spoken of that has entered creation. There has seemed to be no end to this struggle, but even as there was an initial salvation that caused new life to appear within us in the inner man of our spirit, so there is a further salvation promised that will put an end to our futility and will heal the breach that has arisen within mankind. No longer will he be torn, but he will be healed and made whole. This is the salvation spoken of in Hebrews 9:28.

Hebrews 9:28

so Christ also, having been offered once to bear the sins of many, shall appear a second time for salvation without reference to sin, to those who eagerly await Him. (NAS)

Yes, the very One who appeared the first time for salvation, a salvation that left us divided and torn, will appear a second time for salvation, and this time we will be made whole. The entire creation groans as it awaits these "whole" sons of God to be revealed. When will this take place? It will be on the 7th day for the 7th day is a day of rest. This rest will mark the end of striving within man's being. As Paul says in the book of Hebrews:

Hebrews 4:1_12

1 Therefore, let us fear lest, while a promise remains of entering His rest, any one of you should seem to have come short of it.

2 For indeed we have had good news preached to us, just as they also; but the word they heard did not profit them, because it was not united by faith in those who heard.

3 For we who have believed enter that rest, just as He has said, "As I swore in My wrath, they shall not enter My rest," although His works were finished from the foundation of the world.

4 For He has thus said somewhere concerning the seventh day "And God rested on the seventh day from all His works";

5 and again in this passage "They shall not enter My rest."

6 Since therefore it remains for some to enter it, and those who formerly had good news preached to them failed to enter because of disobedience,

7 He again fixes a certain day, "Today," saying through David after so long a time just as has been said before, "Today if you hear His voice, do not harden your hearts."

8 For if Joshua had given them rest, He would not have spoken of another day after that.

9 There remains therefore a Sabbath rest for the people of God.

10 For the one who has entered His rest has himself also rested from his works, as God did from His.

11 Let us therefore be diligent to enter that rest, lest anyone fall through following the same example of disobedience.

12 For the word of God is living and active and sharper than any two_edged sword, and piercing as far as the division of soul and spirit... (NAS)

There remains a Sabbath rest for the people of God. This Sabbath is described as resting, or ceasing, from our own works. However, as with the Israelites of old, not everyone is guaranteed to enter into this rest. Some because of disobedience and unbelief will be disqualified. Paul tells his readers to "be diligent", to "strive" to enter into this rest. It is not a gimme. It is not automatic to all those who have been born of the Spirit of God. What is this sabbath rest that some will fall short of?

We know that all things in the Old Testament were written for us as examples that we might be instructed. Because of unbelief most of those who came out of the bondage of Egypt did not enter into the promised land of their inheritance. They failed to become possessors of that which was promised to them. Instead, they lived out their existence in a wilderness and never partook of all that was available to them.

In the same way, many of the saints of God have been delivered from the bondage of sin through the blood of Jesus Christ. Even as the death angel passed over those who had the blood of the lamb applied to their doors, so too all those who have trusted in the blood sacrifice of Jesus Christ have been spared from the penalty of their sins. However, these have not yet entered into the promise that has been set forth before them. The promise to Israel was a land flowing with milk and honey. What is the promise to the saint of God today?

David describes our promised inheritance in this way:

Psalms 16:5_6

5 The LORD is the portion of my inheritance and my cup; Thou dost support my lot.

6 The lines have fallen to me in pleasant places; indeed, my heritage is beautiful to me. (NAS)

When Joshua led the Israelites into their inheritance the people first surveyed the land and marked out its boundaries. They then cast lots to see who would get what portion of the land. David, in a beautiful poetic analogy, says that when it came time for the lot to be cast for him and for his portion of the inheritance to be revealed that God supported him. The boundary lines of his portion fell in the most pleasant of places and he was given a beautiful heritage. What was this heritage? In verse 5 he says that his portion and inheritance was the LORD Himself.

In the same way all those who come out of the bondage of sin are invited to enter into their inheritance and fully possess it. This inheritance is Jesus Himself. Even as boundary lines described the land of promise to the Israelites, the names of God describe the inheritance that awaits the saints. Multitudes know Jesus as Savior. They have participated in Passover and have applied the blood to the door of their hearts. But do they know Him fully as He offers Himself to them?

Jesus is also Jehovah Shalom - God our Peace. Have they striven to enter in and possess this portion of their inheritance? Jesus is Jehovah Jireh - God our Provider. Have they driven the enemies out of the land to possess this portion of the inheritance? Jesus is Jehovah Rapha - God our Healer. He is Jehovah Nissi - God our Banner. He is Jehovah Makkodesh - God our Sanctifier. And on and on His names describe the land of our inheritance.

Sadly, many Christians are content to view their inheritance from a distance. They do not want to face the giants and overcome the walled cities required to go in and possess their inheritance. They are content with manna in the wilderness when they could have the land of milk and honey.

The seventh day is the day marked for entering into the Sabbath rest of God which describes our inheritance. How many saints today will enter in? When Christ returns will He find faith on the earth? It is said that many are called, but few are chosen. Yes, this will be a day of great separation as God makes a distinction between those who please Him and those who don't. Without faith it is impossible to please God.

As we enter this 3rd and 7th day we will find multitudes in the valley of decision. God will purify the church. Some will offer themselves willingly as a freewill offering and they will be offered as incense, a sweet savor arising to the nostrils of God. But many more will be purified against their will. These will not be offered as incense to God. There will be nothing pleasing in their aroma before God. These will also suffer great loss of reward and they will even be restricted from the presence of God and of His most holy things (See the book "The Remnant Bride" on my website for a further explanation of these things).

The 3rd and the 7th days are both symbolic of cleansing and purifying as is indicated in the following scriptures.

11 'The one who touches the corpse of any person shall be unclean for seven days.

12 'That one shall purify himself from uncleanness with the water on the third day and on the seventh day, and then he shall be clean; but if he does not purify himself on the third day and on the seventh day, he shall not be clean...

19 'Then the clean person shall sprinkle on the unclean on the third day and on the seventh day; and on the seventh day he shall purify him from uncleanness, and he shall wash his clothes and bathe himself in water and shall be clean by evening.

20 'But the man who is unclean and does not purify himself from uncleanness, that person shall be cut off from the midst of the assembly, because he has defiled the sanctuary of the LORD; the water for impurity has not been sprinkled on him, he is unclean. (NAS)

We are entering both the 3rd and the 7th day and it will be doubly a day of cleansing. The tribulation period is at the door and it is described as the day of the Lord's wrath. It is not the day of Satan's wrath, nor is it the day of man's wrath. It is the day of God's wrath.

2 "But who can endure the day of His coming? And who can stand when He appears? For He is like a refiner's fire and like fullers' soap.

3 "And He will sit as a smelter and purifier of silver, and He will purify the sons of Levi and refine them like gold and silver, so that they may present to the LORD offerings in righteousness. (NAS)

There are those who have freely offered themselves to God. There is a remnant today that have responded to God's invitation and have allowed Him to purify and refine them and they have gone through the furnace of affliction and great grace has been theirs because they freely responded to the invitation to be refined. God has been with them and has upheld them and strengthened them as He has led them through trials and great difficulties. These will soon know the wisdom of their decision. It is better to fall on the rock than to have the rock fall on you.

Matthew 21:44

"And he who falls on this stone will be broken to pieces; but on whomever it falls, it will scatter him like dust." (NAS)

Jesus has been standing in the fiery lake of refining with His arms outstretched asking if any will come and join Him. Multitudes have stood in the distance and splashed around in the cool, clear streams coming down from the mountains. They have frolicked and laughed and spoken of prosperity and blessing, but few have been willing to leave the cool streams and join the Lord in the fiery lake. Would you not rather be with the Lord, even if He is leading you through the furnace of cleansing, than to be in a blessed land where He is not there? The hour of freely responding to His invitation is nearly over. Soon all will be cleansed, but the opportunity to come freely will have passed by.

Much is at stake in this day and hour. Jesus is calling forth His bride to respond to His summons, but like Vashti in the book of Esther she is refusing the summons. Vashti's fate will also be the fate of much of the church. She will lose the honor of being the bride of the king and she will be banned from appearing in His presence. Another who is more worthy will then be sought out.

As a Christian are you enjoying the honor and privilege of being betrothed to the King, but are you failing in obedience when He calls? Let those who are wise and who discern the times know that the hour is already passed for such disregard of the Lordship of Christ. Multitudes, multitudes are in the valley of decision.

A New Season

Repentance

A New Season

Deb Cossu

Zechariah 8:16

"These are the things you are to do. Speak the truth to each other, and render true and sound judgement in your courts."

I am ready.

I come to speak the truth.

Judgement is declared.

You will be burned.

The call to repentance continues...

This call has not been silenced by your restraint in private, or satisfied by your respect in public.

You sing in your gatherings, "let the fire fall, purify my heart, and holiness is what I long for..."

Get ready, for the fire alarms are about to sound.

It is not just a practice drill. Hot, burning flames are coming your way. This is not a false alarm, but a true call to freedom. Freedom from the wiles and snares of the sin that so easily still entangles you.

I will burn off the ropes you have not been able to untie. Surely the fire of My holiness that is burning will not be put out. Stop claiming you shall pass through the fire and not be burned. I want you to burn, to burn with holiness! Because I claim you as My own, surely you shall burn, and burn brightly. I shall burn away all that has held you in bondage, so you shall be set ablaze with a flame that shall not grow dim.

The glory of My holiness shall be seen across the face of the earth through those who are caught in the flames of repentance. You have walked freely in the outer courts without fear, and some have even come with fear to the inside the court room. Neither of these courts are for you who will burn with My Holiness. I am "courting" you into My chambers. Here the fire that shines with holiness will fall upon you.

Then your heart will be purified, because holiness is what I long for. I cannot settle for less for I must have you by My side. I summon you in this season, to display the beauty of holiness by becoming torches of My love in truth.

For you to see the revival that will result, you must be burned. This is the truth, get ready.

Repentance Means Take Your Stand....

Deb Cossu

I saw the people of God all just on the ground. They were definately on the battle field, but not one was standing. They were sitting, kneeling, and even lying all over. I could see the enemy getting closer, now not even being sneaky about it because they too could see the people of God taking these strange positions to be fighting a war.

I asked the Lord why they won't get up. He did not seem the least bit concerned. He asked me to help unfold this banner He wanted to display before the enemy. After we had placed the stakes in the ground, named TRUTH and TRUST, He stood back to look. This banner was a brilliant white inlaid with silver threads. Written in red was, "REPENTANCE".

I could not understand how the Lord was so calm, and the people so unconcerned. When would they get up!!!

Scripture:

Zechariah 9:8

" I will defend My house against marauding forces. Never again will an oppressor overrun My people, for now I am keeping watch."

Because you have sought Me as you knew how, now I will come. This stance you have taken to repent will reap a harvest unlike any other in history.

This "stance" of humbling yourself before Me will cause you to stand before the enemy with this banner held in place by Truth and Trust.

Finally you have had enough of your own efforts.

You are acknowledging the truth.

You cannot repent, but by grace it is happening.

You cannot change, but in truth you are being transformed.

You cannot go on the way things are, for behold, I make all things new.

It is not enough to hear the truth and to trust My love outpoured for you. You must speak the truth and trust My love poured out through you.

Truth is My loudest mercy, trust will silence all that's not.

Your failings, weaknesses, and coldness of heart will be the very crossroads that will lead to new life.

The admitting of your failings will secure the victory longed for. The acknowledgement of your weakness will cause you to be filled with My power.

The confession of your cold heart will cause you to burn with Mine.

No you cannot change, repent, or go on the way things are. Because I love you , I will accomplish what you cannot, so you will be freed to do what you must.

Stand up, stand strong, stand together as won.

Repentance is My work, not yours. It is not something you do, it is a gift to those I love most. It is a severe work of grace, a supernatural act of mercy. As you wait before Me and acknowledge the truth of your own heart, I will cause you to stand in the victory that is waiting by giving My heart to you.

The enemy will scatter for I go with you into this battle. Pride and presumption, self-seeking and flattery will be routed out as this banner of repentance is secured by the truth and trust you have come to love.

A New Realm

Intercessors Moving Into A New Realm Of God's Glory

Last Tuesday, our group of intercessors met and the Lord impressed upon my heart the most amazing picture. I would like to share it, as I believe this is a word for intercessors all over the world.

Recently the Lord has begun to call us, as intercessors, into a deeper realm of the Spirit, He is calling us into the GLORY realm! We begin with the praise of God on our lips and then, by His Spirit, we are led into true worship. It's the worship that leads us into the realm of glory, which is the presence of God. In that place, anything can happen!

THE WEIGHT OF HIS GLORY

This is the place we were called to during our intercession. The weight of His glory had fallen upon each intercessor and the realm of spiritual depth was awesome, there was an increase of everything we had ever known in the Spirit. During this time the Lord showed me what seemed to be a three-act play and I would like to share with you what the Lord shared with me. I pray intercessors will be encouraged to move into a place of deeper worship and a greater depth of relationship with the Lord.

ENTERING THAT REALM

So, I will begin with what I saw when we entered that realm of GLORY. We had already praised for a while and then the spiritual atmosphere began to change and God took us to a deeper level of intercession and worship. It was at this time the following picture began to unfold.

It began with the intercessors standing in worship and I saw a huge angel in the room. In his hands was a bow and arrow. He looked around the room and his eyes focused directly at me. He put the bow into position and pointed the arrow directly at me. I could see that the end of the arrow was on fire. Immediately I felt the intensity of the moment as the arrow was released. The tip of that flaming arrow pierced into the very center of my heart and I fell to the ground as if dead. I watched as the angel of the Lord pointed the arrow at each intercessor and shot into each ones heart and I watched as they each fell to the ground. As this scene ended, each of us were laying there completely still with no motion in our bodies.

THEN THE SCENE CHANGED

Then the next scene opened. Each intercessor was still on the ground in the same position except our clothing had been changed; our garments were the most beautiful garments of pure white that I had ever seen. Each of us rose to our feet at the same time and the dance of worship began. I had never witnessed anything more beautifully orchestrated in all my life, the flow was so synchronized that the dancers appeared as ONE!

As the motion began, it appeared that there were flames of fire coming from each intercessor; as I took a closer look I realized the garment had what appeared to be a "thread of fire" sewn into it.

SPECTACULAR DANCE

This spectacular dance continued for what seemed to be hours and then each intercessor came together in a circle, their hands touching. They began to dance in a circle, dancing faster and faster until no longer could the flow of their garments be seen but only the fire!

RING OF FIRE

Now, there was a ring of fire and in the center of this was the world, it looked like a globe.

It, too, was spinning except it was going in the opposite direction of the ring of fire. It appeared to the eye as a type of wheel within a wheel. As the fire continued to spin, I noticed that the speed of the world appeared to slow down until it came to a complete stop and then it began to turn again, except this time it was going in the same direction as the ring of fire. It began to spin faster and faster until it, too, became ablaze with fire, in the same manner that I had observed with the dancers. That was the end of that scene.

INTERCESSORS IN THE THRONE ROOM

The third and final scene opened with the intercessors in the throne room, it was a glorious place. All but three of the intercessors were face down in a bowing position before the Lord. There appeared to be large steps that led to the actual throne, those who were bowed were at the foot of those steps. I saw the other three intercessors approach the throne boldly. One intercessor was weeping before the Lord, the kind of weeping where deep calls unto deep; another intercessor was praising with the most beautiful sound of praise coming from the heart; and the third intercessor was on bended knee with an awesome array of exquisite jewels within reach. This intercessor was busy taking each jewel one by one and removing it from the pile and placing it at the feet of Jesus. Then I saw the others that had been knelt before the throne arise and begin to dance once again around the throne except now they were joined with many others. That was the last of the third scene.

WHAT THE LORD IS SAYING

Now, for what I believe to be the interpretation. First of all, I believe the Lord is calling intercessors into a deeper realm of the Spirit than they have ever known. He is calling them to come deeper into His Glory, PAST the gates of praise, to a place where He can meet with them face to face. He is piercing the very hearts of the intercessors with His fire, He is removing the old garments and replacing with new garments, garments of praise and worship. He is bringing intercessors into unity with His Spirit so that His will can be accomplished.

CHANGING THE WORLD'S COURSE

He wants His precious intercessors moving in the same direction with the anointing of fire upon their lives that He is imparting. The world seems to be moving in a different direction than the Spirit, but God is calling the intercessors into a new realm of Glory that will literally ignite and change the course and direction of the world as we know it.

Be encouraged to know that as this begins to happen, we can come boldly to His throne room with confidence and bow before Him. He WILL accept the gift of intercession (the intercessor weeping before Him), He WILL accept the gift of praise (the intercessor singing before Him), and He WILL accept our gifts that we lay at His feet (the intercessor taking her jewels and placing them at His feet.) As we move into this realm of God's Glory we will become partakers together, as intercessors, for what God is doing throughout the entire earth!

An Exhortation to Love

God's Hope Shelleymae Bartlett

An Exhortation to Love Shelleymae Bartlett

The Church has done a great injustice to the body of Christ and to all who have fallen by the wayside. By teaching, that we only need to resolve our sins by fighting and resisting the things that have held us captive in shame.

When we try to overcome sin on our own, it only causes us to fall even further away from our intended destiny, our long term loving, very personal relationship with Jesus Christ. When people find that they alone cannot overcome their sins that hold them captive, it only pushes them further into the darkness in such shame of failure, that they will not even try to look to the light because it exposes what they already know and feel.

It is one thing to feel Guilty for something one does wrong, but to feel shame in thinking that you are a mistake is another thing altogether!! Shame on those of us, who think somehow we have arrived!!!!

Where is the salt that flavors/that preserves? Is it not yet known that too much salt in the river only cause things to die? And where is HIS loving light that shines? The inviting cottage in the dark creepy forest, that lights up the world around it with "It's all right now, please come in, your home and safe."

Has the reflection off your own armor blinded you with pride so that you cannot see past your own self? When the church tells us from a religious stand point that, all we have to do is "try to be good" Then we again are trying to save ourselves and are saying that what Christ has done for us was in vain. We must repent!!!!

Everything and anything that we have done or try to do on our own without His request and approval will also be put through the test of fire and will burn as anything else that would burn. Anything that has not been first conceived in faith will eventually become ashes. Hence dust and back to the Earth again.

Our faith Always depends on something higher then ourselves in knowing that we cannot accomplish on our own the very thing we are needing our faith for!!! Our faith is the source that wills the hand to plant the seed. Our faith is the substance and assurance that whatever we are planting will come to be!!!

We must know what we are planting!!!! For we and others will reap what we sow!!!! We are made in the likeness/the image of God and it is as any good father that His "sons/daughters" take after Him. So just as our Heavenly Father spoke life into existence ... so must we and that is the Word of God!!!!

Life and death are in the tongue and we must plant seeds that will produce life!!! Adam and Eve walked one on one with God. They had a wonderful fellowship with Him in both the spiritual and natural. They had an awesome love relationship until sin entered into their world.

When sin entered their hearts, it was then that they lost their communion in the spirit life with our Heavenly Father. It was their own free will that chose to sin that caused their spirit man to die.

We will never understand fully the love or sorrow He must have felt, until we enter into the true relationship with Him in which we were called. And we can only enter into this relationship through our faith and trust in Him.

When Jesus said, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly."(John 10:10) He is saying... I came to give you back that Spirit life that you once had stolen from you.

WE are the sheep and He is the Good Shepherd. He loved us so much that He laid His life down for us to become that door for us to walk through and have eternal life and fellowship with Him again. (John 10)

In His tenderness, compassion, His great love, and richness in mercy, He invested in us, even while we were dead in our sins, He quickened us together in Christ,(Eph.2) He breathed life, His life into us that we might live again.(Gen.2:7; John:20:22; Ez.37:5)

For it by Grace that we are saved through faith; and not of ourselves: it is a gift of God: not of works lest any man should boast.(Eph.2:8) Whenever God goes to move on our behalf it will always be something only God can do.

When we are not in it anymore, and step out in faith, in obedience and trust that His Word is all the platform we need in which to stand. It is then and then alone that He will reveal Himself to us and we will know, because we know, because we know in our knower, that He is the One and the only One who provided.

In return, we get to know Him in a deeper way, each time we step out in faith and trust Him, And He gets all the Glory!!!

Our lives should reflect the Father's love towards others, as the Father through His Son reflected His love towards us. Our light should be illuminated in every area of our life so Jesus Christ can be seen within!!! He is the True Light!!!

We should be a fruitful tree that produces Love, Joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faithfulness, meekness and self-control.(Gal.5:22-23)

A tree that produces because it is vitally connected to the source.(John15) A tree that people can come to and find rest in our shade and healing in our leaves.(Ps.1, Jer.17, Ez.47,Rev.22)

As Jesus is the Word, The Living Word, we need to be a reflection of all that He is. How can people know Him, really know Him if we are standing in the way?? When we lay our lives down and become the living sacrifices, living examples, that He has called us to be in Romans 12...

By stepping out in faith, standing on all the promises of His Word being true, Then we will arise and shine for the Glory of the Lord will rise upon us and the Glory will be seen on us and the people will come to His marvelous Light, and be nursed at our sides and be healed and saved. (Is.60)

"My word shall be that which goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing where to I send it. For the Glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, you shall go out with Joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field will clap their hands. Yes the poor and needy seek water, and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst. I the Lord do hear them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them. I will open the rivers in the high places, and fountains in the midst of the valleys; I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water. I will plant in the wilderness the cedar, the shittim tree, and the myrtle, and the oil tree; I will set in the desert the fir tree, and the pine tree, and the box tree together, to beautify the place of my sanctuary: and I will make the place of my feet glorious, that they may see, and know, and consider, and understand together, that I the Lord have done this.

He that hath an ear, let him hear!

May His love and light shine ever so brightly, great blessings in and through your lives!

God says He is closest to those who are hurting. When we can Praise God in the midst of a trial. He says He inhabits the praises of His people. When we are in His presence we cannot remain the same! In His presence there is fullness of Joy!!! Not only our Joy but His Joy!!! The Joy of the Lord is our Strength!!!

Let us live our lives with the focus of eternity . by walking in the Spirit. In walking in the flesh, we think of the of the earthly things of the here & now. Walking in our own understanding our carnal mind, we take our eyes of the Mark we stumble & fall.& sometimes head down a road that is full of pain. Pain that He never intended for us to feel & affect those around us with.

In walking in our flesh in the here & now, & not in the Spirit with the focus of Eternity, we are always living in the past!!!!

Who is He that commanded the Light to shine out of darkness. a Light so bright & yet the darkness comprehended it not?

Who is He that shines in our hearts, a Great Treasure in earthen vessels?

Who is He that created thee. who is He that formed thee in thy mothers womb?

You are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servants whom I have chosen; that you may know and believe me, & understand that I am He: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after Me.

I, even I, am the Lord; & beside me there is no savior.

I am your Redeemer the Everlasting Father.

I am the Lord, your Holy One, the creator of Israel.

I am your King.

It is I who shines in your hearts.

It is I who gives the Light of the knowledge of the Glory of who I am in the face of Jesus Christ. Even through you. Each trial you endure, each suffering you work through, the veil of the heart is removed, layer upon layer until it is taken away. From Glory to Glory changed into My Image so people can see Me. Fear not for I have redeemed you, I have called you, called you by name; You are mine. When you pass through the waters, I will be with you; & through the rivers, they will not overflow you:

When you walk through the fire, you will not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon you. FOR I, AM, YOUR GOD the HOLY ONE of ISRAEL, thy SAVIOR.

Walk in the Light as I. Am in the Light . Keep your eyes on Me alone.

Rest in Me, Nest in Me, and Surely you will be Blessed in Me.

Humbly submitted With love in Him,

Alaska, Oregon, England and More

Chad Taylor

Operation Cordova Alaska

Chad Taylor

We arrived in Cordova at 8:30 AM on Friday August 18th. The skies were overcast and dark. No sun was there to greet our arrival. This evoked quick fervent prayers for God's intervention knowing that on the morrow we would be presenting the gospel of Jesus with hotdogs and mustard to possibly hundreds of people in the great outdoors! We prayed! Tim and Joanna Dillon picked us promptly at the airport, Bob Horwitz, a gifted saxophone player and worship leader, my wife Maria, and myself.

The small fisherman's town of Cordova was breathtaking. A contrast of ocean and forest created a feeling of ease and peace. But our hearts were quickened because we knew we had landed for reconnaissance and spiritual engagement with the enemy for the souls of Cordova's children. This was no vacation, it was warfare. We were followed by the awesome worship and youth band from Ketchikan, "League of Seven." Finally connecting with local pastors and Christians the stage was set for the following days outreach at Seaman's parking lot, 1st Ave. Cordova, Alaska.

By 6:00 P.M. Saturday August 19th the equipment and amplifiers were ready to publish the grace of Jesus rock n' roll style! The sound of electric guitars warming up and drums finding its beat caused the crowd to begin to gather. The parking lot was packed, overflowing to the side walk across the street. The sky literally opened up and the sun warmed our skin all day! Tables were set up and food was in abundance. The most common question expressed by the people was, "What do we owe you? Is this really FREE?!" They could not comprehend that something was just being given away. No strings attached, no sermon to listen to. Just free. Nearly 300 hundred kids and adults met us that day to hear about the greatest gift ever offered, Jesus Christ...

Local community businesses had donated gift certificates varying from swimming passes to ice cream cones! But the prizes the kids were anxiously waiting for was the skateboard, the snowboard, and the Red Line racing bike! Periodically we raffled these items to hungry little faces. It was awesome. The parent of the child who won the bike told me that he had his other bike stolen and they could not afford another one. God smiled that day on His creation.

I got up around 8 o'clock that night and shared the story of how God had rescued me from the trash heap of humanity and put a fire in my soul. As I first opened my mouth people just continued to talk and move around. Suddenly about 5 minutes into it a holy hush fell on the 250 or so people. You could have heard a pin drop as I confronted the crowd with their desperate need for Jesus. Almost every person present bowed their head in the parking lot and out into the street and invited Jesus to take residence in their hearts. Though Cordova had been silenced into prayer, all of Heaven was clamoring and rejoicing! A fire had sprung up in Cordova! Revival was breaking out in the hearts of the people!

Music played into the night. Christian and sinner were introduced and they both realized they had allot more in common than they had ever imagined. There was nothing to be afraid of. The only the difference between the two was how they talked to God. One knew Him, the other did not. As easy as introducing a stranger to your best friend. Christians were coming to the startling revelation that evangelism was not just for the elite few with tattoos and graphic prison testimonies. But for every heart that shared space with Jesus Christ. That we are ALL called and empowered to share that grace and love that had redeemed us. It was not so difficult and terrifying. It was really simple and easy. Inhibitions melted away as person after person accepted our offer of friendship and salvation.

All over the nation this phenomena is happening. The church is awakening to its inherent responsibility to reach the world with His love and power. An email came to me today from Oakland California, it reads,

"ON SATURDAY WE WENT TO THE INTER CITY OF OAKLAND. WE HAD 500 HAMBURGERS, 1000 HOME MADE TAMALES, AND CASES AND CASES OF POP, CAKES, AND STUFF. 9 PEOPLE HAVE BEEN SHOT TO DEATH IN THE LAST TWO WEEKS. I CHOKED BACK THE TEARS FOR NEARLY AN HOUR AND A HALF.

Drug addicts pimps prostitutes you name it came to this event. JESUS SHOWED UP!!!!!! IT WAS AWESOME. TAKE IT TO THE STREETS. THAT'S WHERE THE ANOINTING WORKS BEST. THE EPHEBUS CHURCH SENT 1 AND A HALF PEOPLE TO HELP. WHEN THEY SHARED IT ON SUNDAY MORNING THE CHURCH BEGAN TO WEEP AND THE PASTOR GAVE AT LEAST TWO ALTAR CALLS TO GO TO THE NEIGHBORHOOD WITH JESUS. IS THAT AWESOME OR WHAT?????????. PRAISE BROKE OUT, THIS IS A BAPTIST CHURCH IN THE INNER CITY THERE IS SO MUCH MORE TO TELL..." (End of quote.)

We are being called to the harvest fields of the world. That is the most profound prophetic statement of the hour. "GO INTO THE HI-WAYS AND BI-WAYS AND COMPEL THEM TO COME IN..." We are being met there with results we never dreamed of. We are planning another outreach into Mt. View in Anchorage Alaska Sept. 29th. We need your prayers and support to see the fires of revival continue to burn. Let us know what God is putting in your hearts for your cities and we will do all we can to assist you in reaching the lost for Jesus Christ. Let's partner for revival and expect above and beyond what we can think or ask! Amen.

The Fruit of Revival
Chad Taylor

Last year we reported that revival had begun to take place on the streets of Boise Idaho amongst the youth. In a 72 hour period we were witnessing nearly a hundred hard core street kids coming under the influence of the Holy Spirit. In 13 years of street ministry from Seattle to Washington D.C. I had never experienced such an intense move of God amongst a people group of any age. A close friend of mine, Jim Miller and I walked downtown on Thursday evening. By Saturday afternoon, 60 of the kids were in the back yard of Youth Pastors Dan and Shannon Fontenot's home eating pizza and swimming in their pool! One young man got baptized by Pastor Harold Hopper. In 72 hours we were eye- witnesses to a revival.

In any move of God the level of impact is generally measured by the fruit that remains after the initial experience. Jesus made it clear that the consummation of His ministry was that He had not lost even one that was entrusted to Him. (Jn. 17:12). The measure of His ministry was the fruit that remained. Jesus taught, "I have appointed you that you should go and bear fruit and that your fruit should remain..." (Jn.15:16). Revival is something that so powerfully impacts a city, a street, a home, a nation, or a person, that it is forever changed under that weight of that glory revealed.

Revival is not a three day event that we advertise as "Revival." It is not a state of mind but a state of perpetual impact that drastically changes the moral climate of an area. The way people think in that region changes. The way people treat one another changes. The fog of deception begins to lift and the "eyes of their understanding are enlightened." Revival is an experience not a definition. It cannot be germinated in a test tube of theology, it can only be demonstrated by radical obedience of those that pursue it. It deals with people not statistics.

One year later in Boise Idaho the state of that perpetual motion still exists. The youth pastors have now purchased a 7,000 square foot building dubbed "The Flame." Wednesday through Saturday The Flame opens its doors to the gothic, the stoner, and the Satanist. Normal to abnormal, runaway to discontent, they come. Christian bands play hard music to reach the crowd of estranged hearts. Dozens of children are reported saved every week. One year after the encounter with God on the streets of Boise, the fruit still remains. Now the challenge is to recruit laborers to work the late hours and spend quality time with the ones wandering in from the streets. Revival forces the issue of commitment. It addresses the heart of the church and measures the level of compassion.

Revival does not look like we expect it to look. Revival is shocking. It never dresses the same, never smells the same, it is unorthodox. It is unreligious. It surprises, it is hardly ever invited or expected. It comes on its own terms and in its own way. Suddenly. And it does not always wear the face that we expect. It can be painted black or white, it may have piercings and tattoos. It may smell like urine or fancy cologne. Revival never comes like we expect. It shows up on Sunday morning in the middle of a well thought out sermon. It comes and sits at our feet and begs for a piece of bread. It comes to us while we are at our best in its worst. It demands more than we have to give. It demands God.

Revival is waiting for us on the streets. It is hiding from us in nursing homes and prisons. It is calling to us from foreign fields and obscure places. Crying, yearning for even one person that will rise from the confines of normality and pursue it. One person that will approach the throne of grace with boldness and expect a miracle. That will stand on a street corner and wait for its shadow to pass by. Knowing that at any minute the wind that blows where it listeth may touch down in that very spot. Exploding, expanding everything that it touches. Revival is a fire. And souls are its kindling.

Boise Idaho was only a precedent to what we are about to experience. A forerunner to the greater works. A first fruits of a chosen generation. A peculiar people. All over the land we are about to see these fires burning. Average people without fame or notoriety doing exploits. Bars will become revival centers. Barns will become training centers. Brothels and barrios will be flaming agents of His grace. Insane asylums and mental wards will be the instruments of power and glory. The world is about to be changed as we know it. Revival is about to visit the land.

We are the catalysts of this fire. We are the river beds that this torrent comes. We are the gatekeepers that must cry out, "Here am I send me!" Revival is not an arm of a clock waiting for the alarm to sound. It is the ever beating heart of every human that contains the treasure of eternal life. That hope of glory, Christ in us. Once we begin to step from the porches of tradition into the ghetto of the impossible, will we begin to see His power unprecedented. It is through our hands He desires to demonstrate His glory. It is through our lips He longs to express His personality. We are revival.

Boise is only the seed of a great harvest about to spring up. It is only a landmark compelling us 'toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus.' We must at all cost, 'forget the things which are behind us, and reach forward to those things which lie ahead.' It is only there that we will experience His glory. It is only there that we will see the impossible become tangible. The unreal a reality. The uncomely become royalty. God is calling to an army of revivalists that will step out into their cities and begin to believe. Believe that 'He is able to do above and beyond what we can think or ask.' Ones that believe for the unbelievable and in return receive 'treasures out of darkness' reserved for such a time as this. This is the fruit of revival. He is the vine and we are the branches...

Reformation before Revival!

Chad Taylor

"Christians are to be taught that if the pope (pastor) knew the exactions of the pardon-preachers, he would rather that St. Peter's church should go to ashes, than that it should be built up with the skin, flesh and bones of his sheep." (Martin Luther, 95 Thesis, parenthesis mine.)

On October 31st, 1517 Martin Luther, the German monk born a peasant in Eisleben Germany, began what some would call a revolution. A revolution in religious thought and spiritual canon, a grass roots revival that brought the freedom of salvation to thousands, even millions. But what Martin Luther opposed is much more critical than the opposer. If he is forgotten, we lose nothing, but if what he opposed is forgotten, we are in danger of falling into the same pit and snare that the church 500 years ago did. God forbid, if we have not already...

October 31st, 1517 Martin Luther nailed the 95 Thesis to the Castle Church in Wittenberg, thus bringing him the precarious title of heretic and ruffian. Enemy of the church of Rome and Germany. What brought this infamous title is even more shocking. Martin Luther confronted the use of Indulgences: "A release from the temporal penalties for sin through the payment of money." These "indulgences" were being sold in order to raise money for the building of Saint Peter's Church in Rome. Paid for by the common man on the basis of false hope and fear for loved ones trapped in Purgatory. Martin Luther cried out to the common peasant and citizen of Germany,

"Christians are to be taught that it would be the pope's wish, as it is his duty, to give of his own money to very many of those from whom certain hawkers of pardons cajole money, even though the church of St. Peter might have to be sold." (# 51 of the 95 Thesis.)

Today it seems we find ourselves as the Church at the same crossroads. We are told if we pay enough, spend enough, give enough, and tithe enough, we will be rewarded in this life and in the one to come great and lofty things. By doing this we will somehow secure a greater access to Heaven than we had before. In giving money to them we will find riches for ourselves and family. And all the while these churches and ministries grow larger than life itself and the streets and alleys of our cities and towns are left none the better. Still the orphan and the widow go unattended and unvisited. Still the gangs and children 'faint for hunger at the top of every street.' While "nobles" grow richer on the hard work and sweat of the common man.

Conferences charge hundreds of dollars per person to meet budgets that are unnecessary. And still the streets only hear an echo of what is preached. Inspiration has become an institution, and the institution has become an industry. Like a circus at times the conference comes to town in flashing lights declaring its procession of names and celebrities, drawing the crowd and charging the money. Forgetting that Jesus Himself set a precedent for us to follow,

"When you give a dinner or supper, do not ask your friends, your brothers, your relatives, nor your rich neighbors... But when you give a feast, invite the poor, the maimed, the lame, and the blind, and you will be blessed..." (Luke 14:12-14).

The reason we do not have revival in our cities and nation, is because we have not had a reformation first! We have not had the revelation of who Jesus really is that will lead to a revolution. Martin Luther somewhere in his pursuit of knowledge and peace of mind came to a revelation of Jesus Christ. That led to a revolution. It led to a spiritual revival from dead works and greedy practices. It gave back to the common man salvation and liberty in the Holy Ghost. It fed the people the unleavened bread of simplicity instead of the rotten manna of men's thinking and reasoning. Only in a revelation of that simplicity will we find the revolution that will change our crime ridden, gang infested streets to rivers of living water. Only at the feet of Jesus Himself will we be empowered to make the impact harvest demands. The cry is this,

"Christians are to be taught that he who gives to the poor or lends to the needy does a better work than buying pardons; Christians are to be taught that he who sees a man in need, and passes him by, and gives [his money] for pardons, purchases not the indulgences of the pope, but the indignation of God." (Martin Luther).

We must move beyond conference to confrontation. We must take off the garments of enterprise and put on the garments of eternity. Seeking first the Kingdom of God. The word revolution means "a radical change in thought..." We must make a radical change in our thinking and approach to the throne of grace. No longer bringing petitions of grandeur and gain, but rather crying out, "Give me souls or give me death!" Only then will we see the revival that we long for. For if we really longed for it then we would not hesitate to pay the price to secure it...

Away, then, with all those prophets who say to the people of Christ, "Peace, peace," and there is no peace! Blessed be all those prophets who say to the people of Christ, "Cross, cross," and there is no cross!" (Martin Luther).

Paul said in Philippians even weeping that there were some that were the "enemies of the cross of Christ..." They were not enemies necessarily of Jesus Himself, they probably followed Him from town to town just to get something from Him. But they were enemies of the CROSS OF CHRIST! They were enemies to the lifestyle of Jesus, the sacrifice, the denial of oneself. And thus this made them enemies of Him! Today many embrace the doctrines of Jesus, they applaud Him every Sunday, They wear t-shirts and necklaces that advertise Him, but they refuse to take up their cross and follow Him!

"They are enemies of Christ and of the pope, who bid the Word of God be altogether silent in some Churches, in order that pardons may be preached in others." (# 53 of the 95 Thesis).

Revival will come when a reformation of religion comes first. We have seen the first fruits in some places, but God knows a revolution awaits us! One that will shake institutions and intuitions. That will change the way we approach the throne of grace. That will reform and renew our minds and the way we think about each other that may be of a different denomination or doctrinal statement. Reformation will clean out the closets of the church and what will emerge is a purified bride ready for the Bridegroom!

"Let the Bridegroom go out from His chamber, and the Bride from her closet, Let the priests, who minister to the Lord, weep between the porch and the altar; Let them say, "Spare Your people, O Lord! And do not give Your heritage to reproach..." (Joel 2:16-17).

Hell's Best Kept Secret

Chad Taylor

"Brother Saul, the Lord Jesus, who appeared to you on the road as you came, has sent me that you may receive your sight and be filled with the Holy Spirit... Immediately there fell from his eyes something like scales, and he received his sight at once..." (Acts 9:17-18).

Until the scales fell off of Saul's eyes, though he had experienced salvation and a dramatic conversion, he had no revelation of his destiny and imminent impact on the world. He was blind. Paul was hell's best kept secret. As long as the scales of human frailty and unbelief clung to him he was helpless. No great orator was Saul as he hid at house of one called Judas. No rumors of apostle were heard that day. Only fear and superstition as Saul clung to life blindly and ignorantly. Ignorant at that moment of the magnitude of the divine call that was suspended over him in the Spirit.

The world is filled with "Sauls" that have not yet comprehended the depth of the call. They walk through life with scales of normality and unbelief, convinced that God could never really use them. Useless in their mind disabling their faith, they walk through life captured by the enemies scheme, "If you be the son of God..." Always plotting to discourage and question the divine election that is buried in the soil of their hearts, waiting, growing, ever ready to explode! Until Saul was confronted with revelation he was in constant conflict with God's purposes. He, "kicked against the pricks...". But once the revelation of Jesus shook him from the firm foundation of religion where he stood, he was awe struck. He was "transformed into the image of Jesus Christ." He went "from glory to glory" in a twinkling of an eye.

Apostasy became an apostle and the synagogue reeled from the aftershock of this revelation. Hell's best kept secret was revealed, and nothing could quench the fire of revelation in Paul's heart. He blazed with confirmation of God's perfect will. He pioneered in a world of unbelief. He made giant leaps of faith that millions followed to their destiny. Paul understood who he was, "Paul, called to be an apostle by Jesus Christ through the will of the Father..." (1st Cor. 1:1). See, Paul had a revelation of Jesus Christ. Until there is revelation there is no illumination. The scales is all we see. No light, no hope, no call. Just darkness. We are blind. Blind to the infinite purpose of God in our life.

Today we live from book to book, conference to conference, ever hoping something extraordinary will happen to us, some great revelation will arrest us and we will be changed. Not willing to be shaken and removed from our own foundation of truth as we understand it. We race from one conference to the next never willing to just simply sit at His feet and be able to boldly say with Paul, "But I make known to you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached by me is not according to man. For I neither received it from man, nor was I taught it, BUT IT CAME THROUGH THE REVELATION OF JESUS CHRIST..." (Galatians 1:11-12).

The revelation of Jesus Christ! This was Paul's secret! His nights in the deep, his years in the desert, his time with Jesus was what made him great. What made him apostle and general of God. John did not make him this, Peter did not pass this on to him, only a revelation of who Jesus was gave him his medals. Paul boasted of these medals later in his life, "From now on let no one bother me, for I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus Christ..." . (Galatians 6:17).

Paul carried His scars. They were the proof of the long nights alone, when, "all men forsook me..." . Paul knew the secret of isolation, not separation from the Body, but isolation that led to revelation, that inevitably led to transformation. Jesus knew the secret of this in His own life, "Rising up a great while before day, He went to an isolated place and there He prayed..." (Mark 1:35). In this hour the treasures out of darkness will be awarded to those that enter their closet and close the door. It will be awarded to those that know the impact of the secret place. There they will receive a crown.

Hell's best kept secret is you. Every one of you that read this, every one of you that hunger and thirst for righteousness, with an insatiable appetite for Jesus. More than conference and public addresses, you need Him! You need to see His face! You need to, like Moses, see His glory! Only that will fill the deep void in your spirit that longs to be filled. And from that place you will emerge like Paul emerged and, "immediately he preached the Christ in the synagogues, that He is the Son of God..." (Acts 9:20). Hell will reel from the impact of your revelation of who you are in Christ. "Created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand that we should walk in them." (Eph.2:10). You will enter the world as Paul did and bring a revelation of Jesus Christ. You will move mountains of religion and shake nations. You are hell's best kept secret...

Oregon on the Threshold

Chad Taylor

"No one having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the Kingdom of God..." (Luke 9:62).

For I had a vision of Oregon. I saw a man in farmer's clothing standing at a vast field of harvest as far as the eye could see. Stretching as far as the East was from the West this great field spanned. The man stood at the threshold of this great field with a plow in his hands. One foot stood on the rich soil of harvest, and the other stood on the stones and fallow ground that bordered the field. The blade of the plow was already buried inches in the dark rich soil, the beginning of a furrow could be seen.

Then I saw behind this man. Behind him was a sharp sheer wall of rock. Huge cliffs that reached into the clouds above, there was no way back. The man looked at the field in front of him and sighed. Then I heard the Lord begin to say,

"The seeds of revival are about to spring up amongst you. The seeds of harvest and revival. You have called for the rain and I have brought it. You have cried out for the wind and I have sent it, you have called out for the fire and I have kindled it. But now you cry out for harvest, prepare yourself O Oregon for it is upon you. And it will suddenly spring up around you. To the East, it will spring up, to the West, it will spring up, to the North, it will spring up, and to the South it will spring up. Pressed down and overflowing it will come. Your baskets will not be able to contain it. Your churches will not be able to bridle it, it will come with violence and force as they press into the Kingdom of God.

The derelict and the destitute shall swell your ranks. I will give them a new heart. I will renew their minds. I will set them free. I will give you an army not of your choosing. But like Gideon, of My choosing. You will not fight with conventional means, but like Joshua and Jericho, you will engage the enemy My way. For only there will you see the victory. Only there will you take the city. You will find allies in the strangest circumstance, like Rahab to the spies, you will find friends in low places. I will make the high places low and the low places high in this hour says the Lord.'

"Enlarge the place of your tent, and let them stretch out the curtains of your dwellings; Do not spare! Lengthen your cords, and strengthen your stakes, for you shall expand to the right and to the left..." (Is. 54:2-3).

Suddenly I looked to the left and right of this man, and to my surprise there were thousands times a thousand standing with their plows. Men, women and children were positioned in a stance to harvest. They stood at the brink of harvest as one great army. Every color and creed could be seen. Each gripping the handles of his or her plow, poised for the transition from the fallow ground into the rich soil of harvest, and then I hear the Lord say,

"This is the hour of harvest. This is the hour to plow and to break up the fallow ground, this is the time to break up the fountains of the deep. To take in a great catch. This is the hour that harvest will demand unity. A unity that they have never experienced, never seen. A unity that yokes together all races and faces as they plow the ground of revival. Even as they did when I walked the earth and My disciples gathered up all the bread and fishes. They filled up twelve baskets full, when they did not even have one before! The unity that caused the masses to sit in ranks and companies to be fed. This is the unity that harvest will bring.'

"Behold, the days are coming says the Lord, when the plowman shall overtake the reaper. And the treader of grapes him who sows seed. The mountains shall drip with sweet rain, and all the hills shall flow with it..." (Amos 9:13).

A great company of both men and women moved across this great field, and as fast as they plowed they began to reap. As the plowman moved out the reapers were already returning with their sheaves. The threshing floors were full. Their garners will be overflowing says the Lord, the garners will be overflowing. I am giving you the land says the Lord, I am giving you the land. Look to the mountains, as far as the eye can see, I am giving you the land, I am giving you the land. "And your descendants will inherit the nations, and make the desolate cities inhabited..." (Is. 54:3).

"That our barns may be full, supplying all kinds of produce, that our sheep may bring forth thousands, and ten thousands in our fields. That our oxen may be well laden, that there be no breaking in or breaking out, that there be no outcry in our streets. Happy are the people that are in such a state, Happy are the people whose God is the Lord!" (Psalm 144:13-15).

Reconnoiter: The Act Of War
Chad Taylor

Reconnoiter is defined as; "to examine, as the surrounding country, especially before making a military movement." The act of spying out, or assessing the battle field. To reconnoiter means to scout out and prepare to possess the land or region under surveillance. Joshua was one of the twelve spies sent by Moses to reconnoiter the land of Canaan. This is the strategy taken before employing troops and armed military might. It is the strategy that wins battles, it is the maneuvers that conquer nations. In military terms the procedure is as follows.

CONDUCT TROOP-LEADING PROCEDURES FOR AN OPERATION:

- 1--Receive the mission. Often, the most critical resource for a new mission is time (especially daylight hours) in which to prepare. (John 9:4).
- 2--Issue a warning order. Issue it right after receipt of the warning order from higher headquarters. Tell the unit what the mission is, when it is to take place, what initial preparations should be made, and when to issue a detailed order. This permits the best use of the available time to plan and prepare. (Joshua 1:10-11).
- 3--Make a tentative plan. If the mission and terrain are known, a quick decision can be made about how the unit can complete its mission. This is a plan that can be changed when going through the rest of the steps. It gives a start point for coordination, reconnaissance, reorganization, and movement. (Luke 14:31).
- 4--Begin movement. This step more often applies to platoons than to squads; rarely does a squad move any distance without the platoon. Often, the company commander will gather the platoon leaders, take them to a position that overlooks the area in which they will operate, and gives the order. (Mark 16:15-18).
- 5--Reconnoiter. To make full use of men and weapons, think about the terrain on which they will fight. There will be times when only a map reconnaissance can be made. If time allows, and if the first four steps are known, take a look at the terrain. It is during this reconnaissance that the first plans are confirmed, or that plans are changed to get the best use of weapons and to plan for the greatest protection for the troops. If only part of the terrain can be seen, then a detailed plan can be made only for that part. (Numbers 13:17-20).
- 6--Complete the plan. Based on the reconnaissance, the plan may be changed, but detail will be added. In the defense, decide exactly where to put weapons and how to tie the defense together. If movement to contact is planned, decide how to move. If an attack is planned, decide exactly how to seize the objective. (Luke 19:12-13).

GOD IS POSITIONING THE CHURCH FOR OFFENSIVE MANEUVERS

The armies of Israel had gathered in mass at the Jordan river. They began by deploying 12 spies into the land of Canaan. Moses commanded the scouts to take to the high ground and spy out the land. To find the cities and evaluate how fortified they were, to observe the fruit of the land and its produce, and to map out the land. For forty days they reconnoitered and gathered information to report back to headquarters so that a strategy could be formulated and the armies deployed. But to Israel's dismay, ten of the twelve spies brought back an evil report, "We are not able to go up against this people, for they are stronger than we... They are giants and we are but mere grasshoppers in comparison..." (Numbers 13:31-33).

Instead of gathering the information they were ordered to attain, they returned in fear instead of courage as commanded. Fear began to rule the camp which resulted in retreat. They had forgotten for Whom they fought. They had overlooked the One for whom they fought for. And in its place fear tormented them and forced a hasty retreat. They were defeated before they had even begun. In this hour the Lord is positioning His army for offensive maneuvers and strikes. To aggressively begin to strategize and occupy new terrain. Perfect love is driving out fear and intimidation and we are beginning to reach out beyond the perimeters and boundaries of the wilderness, and possessing the land. Today the spies are returning, not with a report ruled by fear, but of victory and triumph.

JOSHUA AND CALEB URGE CONQUEST

Joshua and Caleb rent their clothes when they heard this evil report. They exhorted the people saying, "If the Lord delight in us, then He will bring us into this land, and give it to us. Only rebel not against the Lord, neither fear this people, and the Lord is with us, fear them not..." (Numbers 14:6-12).

Israel's first response was to stone Joshua and Caleb! Fear had so ruled in their hearts that it provoked them to kill and fight each other! The Lord's anger was kindled against Israel to the point of destroying them. But Moses interceded and they were spared. Then to the peoples shock, "The glory of the Lord appeared in the tabernacle of the congregation before all the children of Israel..." (14:10).

The glory of the Lord is even now beginning to appear in the midst of us like never before. His glory is being manifested not for us to revel and relish in, but to the contrary, to be empowered and emboldened to cross over the Jordan and possess the land! This is a time for offensive strikes, not defensive parlays! This is the hour to launch out into the deep and begin to net a great catch! Not just in hallowed church buildings but in the streets! The marketplaces and the business places. The cry is going through the camp, "PREPARE! For in three days we will cross over this Jordan..."

HARVEST TIME AND MILITARY ADVANCEMENT

Harvest is defined in the Webster's Dictionary not only as, "to reap and gather," but also, "to win, as a reward or gain from service." Harvest is not only a season of increase and abundance. It is also a time of conquest and overcoming. Of advancement and warfare. Of military maneuvers that advance the Kingdom of God in foreign fields and gang turf. Taking back the land that has been afforded to the enemy. Harvest is not the sound of retreat but rather the trumpet call to arms. To employ our greatest forces and tactics and set the captives free. To invade enemy territory, to reconnoiter and amass a strategy to best possess the land.

Paul wrote understanding military terms, "No man that goes to war entangles himself with civilian affairs, that he may please him who has chosen him to be a soldier." (2nd Timothy 2:4). A militant mentality is coming upon the church. That she may advance with tactical supremacy and take back land surrendered in fear and spiritual ignorance. God is enlisting soldiers that will obey orders from Heaven and take critical ground, releasing prisoners of war that have been taken captive by the enemy.

GETTYSBURG AND THE HIGH GROUND

From July 1st to July 3rd, 1863, in the fields and woods just outside the small town of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, an historic battle, one that would be considered the turning point of the Civil War, was taking place. Over 97,000 Union troops set out to stop a full-force northern invasion of the Confederate Army. As July 2, 1863 dawned, high ground called "little round top" was unoccupied by either side. But both commanders clearly saw the possibilities here. Union commander Gen. George Meade saw the need to defend the big hills in the south "Round Tops", while his adversary Gen. Robert E. Lee saw those same hills as an opportunity to outflank Meade's troops and get around behind them. The Confederates came up just a bit short, with their vanguard stopped by a single Union regiment in the woods below Little Round Top.

The Battle of Gettysburg was a decisive engagement in that it arrested the Confederates' second and last major invasion of the North, destroyed their offensive strategy, and forced them to fight a defensive war. Once the high ground was taken the battle that was seemingly swaying towards the South was drastically changed. At this important junction the war was won. Though the battles raged on for nearly a year, this blow and victory decided the future of both armies. And the future of a nation. During the three days of battle, the Union Army had about 23,000 casualties, and the Confederates had at least 25,000. At the high ground destiny was decided...

Recently a friend and I stood on this very battle ground in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. As I walked through the rock defenses and bulwarks hastily made at night by the union soldiers, as they dug in to protect the high ground on Little Round Top. I was overwhelmed with a sense of urgency for the Church to begin to occupy the high ground in the Spiritual realm and not give another inch of soil to the enemy. So many neighborhoods, streets, businesses, and cities have been given over to the enemy with out so much as a fight. Before Gideon engaged the enemy he took the high ground. Moses stood on the mountain overlooking the battle as Israel prevailed.

We need to get a strategy from heaven for our own cities and begin to march its streets in prayer and intercession. Implementing the tools and weapons God is giving to us in this hour of harvest. Gettysburg was won by the resolve and determination of one regiment of soldiers who refused to give the enemy ground. If they would of given an inch the rebel forces would of flanked the union army and defeat was imminent for the North. But because of their courage and fortitude the civil war was won for freedom. We must remember, Harvest is also defined as, "to win, as a reward or gain from service."

PROPHECY AND WARFARE, OUR SECRET WEAPON

"This charge I commit to you, son Timothy, according to the prophecies that were spoken over you, that you might wage a good warfare." Paul instructed Timothy. It was the prophetic word spoken over him and through him that would determine the outcome of the battles that lay ahead. Paul knew the power of the spoken word, "the power of life and death in the tongue." He exhorted Timothy to use this secret weapon to wage war on the enemy. Ezekiel also implemented this strategy over the slain army of Israel. He prophesied to the dry bones and they lived! When we begin to prophecy the destiny and purposes of God over our neighborhoods and cities, we will begin to see the battle turn even as they did in Gettysburg. As we begin to possess the high places in prayer, and invade the dark areas of our cities and prophesy, we will experience the same results of revival and reformation that they did.

Like Gideon we cannot ignore the idolatry and new age strongholds any longer. We must purpose our efforts toward these areas and intercede and prophesy the heart of God. These areas are only concentration camps in disguise. And behind their neon "psychic" signs, their red harlot lights, and their loud distracting music, is hidden an army of prisoners, imprisoned and ensnared in the enemies traps and deceptions. Only when we begin to prophesy their destiny and purpose in Christ will they awake from their deadly slumber and be saved.

FROM CONFERENCE TO CONFRONTATION

Joshua L. Chamberlain is perhaps most widely known for his role in holding the Federal position on Little Round Top during the Battle of Gettysburg. Joshua was a unassuming college professor from Maine. The 20th Maine was positioned at the far left of the line on Little Round Top. A number of Union officers were killed in the midst of the battle, including Colonel Vincent. Chamberlain was now left in a desperate situation. Having been given an order by Vincent to hold the Union's ground at all costs and not to retreat, yet learning that his men's ammunition was virtually depleted, he had to make a quick decision. Chamberlain decided to counterattack and thus ordered a bayonet charge down the hill. The Union's position was saved. There was no time for conferencing and counsels, only swift confrontation would save the high ground.

Without confrontation there is no victory. There comes a time in every army when they must charge forward, they must advance past enemy lines and take ground. It calls for great bravery and courage. Moses orders to Joshua were straight forward, "Be strong and of a great courage, be not afraid, neither be overwhelmed, for the Lord your God is with you wherever you go..." (Joshua 1:9). In this critical hour of human history the church must now make her bayonet charge into the streets and cities of the nations of the world and push back the darkness that is threatening to prevail and prevails over so many. We must take the high ground at all cost! We must invade the Samarias of the world with our worship and our intercessions and take our conference to the streets! There we will see the victories secured and the opening of the prison to those that are bound.

Our greatest victories are yet ahead. God is putting his hand on normal people like Joshua Chamberlain to do exploits. To take the high ground that has been occupied by enemy forces and push back the evil that pervades our cities and streets. History is yet to be written by those that hear the great call of harvest and respond. Like arrows from the quiver of heaven they will be aimed and shot out into the nations and streets. Flaming and igniting everything they touch. Generals of revival. Visionaries that see the possibilities of eternity. That catch the vision of those that once walked the earth and left the marks of greatness. Uncomely parts. Bondslaves of Jesus Christ.

Joshua Chamberlain said it best in his dedication of the Maine Monuments at Gettysburg (Evening of October 3, 1889),

"In great deeds something abides. On great fields something stays. Forms change and pass; bodies disappear; but spirits linger, to consecrate ground for the vision-place of souls. And reverent men and women from afar, and generations that know us not and that we know not of, heart-drawn to see where and by whom great things were suffered and done for them, shall come to this deathless field, to ponder and dream; and lo! the shadow of a Mighty Presence shall wrap them in His bosom, and the power of the vision pass into their souls..."

A Word for England

Chad Taylor

From the ground of this place will come a river. Like Jacob's well there will come a river. From this place the fountains of the deep will be broken up. From this place a revival will be initiated.

I see the youth gathering as well. A great army of youth mobilized in the days ahead. A great shaking will take place amongst these youth. I see a group of youth participating in this upcoming event. They stand in proxy for a generation.

For I will move from this place says the Lord as a rushing mighty wind. And the dry bones shall rattle and move. For from this place will come a mighty wind that will stir the dry bones of revival in England. For in this hour says the Lord, I will bring the bones together, and this great army will march again.

The influence of this wind will be felt from the villages to the parliament. Every eye will see and every knee will bow says the Lord.

I see a fire. A fire of revival sweeping the hi-ways and bi-ways of England. A great revival of prayer and devotion to the Most High God. They are meeting in barns and mansions seeking the face of God. Seeking the heart of the Father for a generation.

Reconciliation between two groups. Two religious groups. A great reconciliation and reformation in their thinking and approach to one another. Like Jacob and Esau, a great reconciliation is in the land. Dignitaries from each group will stand with one another in one accord, in one accord for a generation.

Prophesy to the wind then says the Lord! Prophesy to the wind of My Spirit and see if I will not answer you with the first and latter rain! See if I will not stir the waters and the lame will walk and the blind will see. See if I will not answer with fire and burn up the high ground and the idols that sit there. See if I will not provoke an army of youth to march your streets with revival fires in their mouth. See if I will not do all this and more says the Lord!

End Time Prophetic Vision

Africa On Fire!

Chimezie Onyebilanma

"...the devil has gone down to you! He is filled with fury, because he knows that his time is short."

I stand to be corrected but I do not know of any other continent on earth today where you can find the kind of spiritual warfare that you find going on right now in Africa. If you look from Cape Town to Cairo it is like the devil in his rage is working relentlessly to set off fires in Africa. From the civil wars in places like Sierra Leone and Angola to the killings and atrocities going on in Sudan and Rwanda. From the famines of Ethiopia to the natural disasters of Mozambique - Africa is on fire.

But though this is what is most reported on the news, it is not at all the most important type of fire burning in Africa today. You don't even need to look too closely to notice this fire - revival fire. Since around the mid-1950s God has been moving in unprecedented ways to sweep through Africa to win her nations. Missiologists predict that soon "there will be more Christians in Africa than on any other continent in the world!" In the last decade as church leaders worldwide observed the growing indigenous missionary movements coming out of Africa, God's purpose for setting Africa on fire began becoming clear. God purpose is not only to win Africa but also to use her for the remaining task of world evangelization. And all over Africa today God's fire burns stretching out to claim all the unreached frontiers within the animistic and Islamic blocs. While at the same time he has been thrusting out Africans like firebrands among the unreached in the entire world from Poland to Indonesia.

It is exactly because of this that high level dark forces are working hard to quench God's purpose for Africa through bad governments, diseases, poverty, wars, idol worship, and Islam. The crisis in Africa cannot be understood except viewed from its spiritual perspective. The devil sees that he is rapidly losing ground and seeks to counter God's fire. The contention is over the remaining over 200 largely unevangelized tribes in the continent. As well as the hundreds others around the world that God purposes to use Africans to reach. So the enemy works to waste Africa rich resources so that there would be no funds to send out missionaries. He brings crisis so that no one would be able to come in or go out to preach. And Islam and false religions are working hard to get to the many remaining unreached peoples of Africa before the truth gets to them. Truly, Africa is on fire.

Now the whole purpose of drawing our attention to all this is because I believe that the outcome of these intense spiritual struggles in Africa depend a lot on what we do or do not do. Each of us has a part to play to see the working out of God's purpose for Africa. There are various different ways God will lead us as to our involvement if we ask him. But I want to end by highlighting two important areas all of us (no matter our location on the globe) should seek to be involved. The first (and by far the most important) is prayers. Let's get on our knees, fan the flames of God and quench hell's fire in Africa. The second is partnership. We need to join hands together to see God's purpose come to pass in Africa. None of us can do it alone. We need to share our resources together to empower the move of God across Africa.

I believe we can give the devil fire for fire and show him that God's fire swallows up hell's fire. Let's do it!

That the nations may praise Him,

End Time Prophetic Vision

An Open Heaven!

Paul Gervais

Dr. Paul N. Gervais

www.weblinker.com/gervais

Paul's E-mail: PGerv14771@aol.com

"For since He Whom God has sent speaks the words of God...God does not give Him His Spirit sparingly or by measure, but boundless is the gift God makes of His Spirit!" John 3:34

Heaven and earth have never been closer than they are this very moment. His will is about to be accomplished in the latter, mirroring and reflecting what has transpired in the former. The Throne Zone has not previously known such anticipation and excitement, as all creation eagerly awaits the promised outpouring. Those days of standing and tolerating Satan's taunts are drawing to a close, as the reaper prepares to surpass the sower, while the gap narrows between the spoken Word and manifestation. Time is surely compressing!

The Glory is about to fall. This is that which was prophesied in days of old. The whole earth remains poised to be filled with the knowledge of a living, active, victorious, all powerful Father, openly displaying His works and Presence through the Children. Conjointly, the evil one will be revealed, as the wraps are lifted from his ugliness, exposing a totally neutered foe. Our response will Scripturally be, "Is this really the puny worm who has been giving the Church such difficulty over the centuries? Why did I ever fear, or permit him to have so much influence in my life, family and ministry?"

The Vision!

With that marvelous revelation arrived a vision of an open Heaven. From this vantage point, it was abundantly clear that a releasing of those good and perfect gifts was occurring, as I witnessed angels ascending and descending at the Father's command, also, hearkening unto the Voice of the Word, spoken through the Believer. Beautifully wrapped presents, representing Gifts of the Holy Spirit and facets of the Covenant, showered down on both the just and unjust alike, as fruit (of the Spirit)...love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance, against such there is no law, mixed with those meticulously prepared packages.

While viewing the Creator's presentation, other objects were floating toward the earth, including much needed physical body parts from the Kingdom's anatomical warehouse, obviously facilitating healing and creative miracles, both required in fulfilling the Agreement and equipping the Army for His grand finale, a reversing of mankind's captivity. Gold was evident in that Latter Rain, indicative of Divine financial provision to perform God's perfect will of always having all sufficiency, in everything pertaining to life and godliness.

REVERSING THE BONDAGE

Without question, the revealed Word (vision) has already begun taking on flesh in the Body of Christ. Judgment, a positive one for the Household of Faith [those walking in faith], is reversing the bondage of the past, removing weights and besetting sins. He is, indeed, doing a new thing, not by might, nor power, but by His Spirit! Yield to that wonderful process, as salvation is worked out from spirit and soul (mind, intellect, will and emotions), to that body, which He will certainly quicken...make fully alive, heal, to a point where the Law of Life will emanate from every pore. The Church is being prepared and positioned to literally glow with the Glory!

THE SEATED CHRIST!

"It is finished! Remember those hell-shaking words, spoken from that cross of love and obedience? Dear Child, I have done all to ensure certain victory. No stone was left unturned before the Savior's journey to His ultimate place of honor. The enemy has been totally defeated. He had nothing in Me. As Branches of the Vine, neither are you to be impacted or influenced in any manner by his wiles or threatenings. Recognize the authority behind every truth spoken through those lips of clay...yours. There is authority, a mighty Unction impregnating those audible Seeds of Life. And no revelation from Me is void of the Power necessary to bring forth manifestation, that which was revealed during those special moments together in the Throne Room.

THE BATTLE BELONGS TO THE LORD

Don't fight! The battle has already been won. Simply know the Family's rights and privileges and speak what you hear in Dad's company. Have I not instructed you to come boldly, laying aside that contrary mindset of sin-consciousness? Guilt and shame are to be granted no place. To live is Christ! As I am, you have become, bone of Father's bone, flesh or His flesh. Don't be frightened by that bully! Everything Father has and is backs the Youngsters, including each acted upon nudging and prompting. For it is I working in you, both to will and do of My good pleasure. Trust that explicitly. Acquaint yourself well with Our New and better Covenant. You are serving both a Risen and Seated Christ! The stage has been set for Satan's vital defeat in the eyes of the world.

But that will have to be accomplished through yielded Vessels who are aptly versed regarding the Contract. The Church is to become a legal expert, instantly obedient in and out of season. No room remains for vacillation, halting between two opinions. Too much is hanging in the balance. So, open that Book. Allow your Teacher in residency to perform His task. He is willing and eager. Set aside tradition; embrace simplicity and inner holiness.

THROUGH THE KIDS

What I'm about to do will transpire through the Kids, while Dad proudly watches the Apple of His Eye plunder hell and populate Heaven. Why question or doubt? Many are called, but few choose to go. However, you have made a quality decision, one from whence there is no return, to follow Me. Therefore, not a single hair on that head will perish. Ponder the backing of David against Goliath, Daniel in the lion's den, amongst others. Were they defeated or disappointed? Yet, you are living in an hour that no other generation has enjoyed, an era of unprecedented display and provision. Prepare for the greater works, while the Blood on the Mercy Seat imparts truth and backs it with an impartation that will turn this world upside down.

As the Bride proceeds forward, all needs...spirit, soul, body, Anointing and finances, will be met, according to My riches in the unveiled Glory. No shortage exists in Daddy's locale. Make way. The show is about to begin!"

A DATE WITH DAD!

"Beloved, your very breath is music to My ears. Please know how much you mean to Me. Nothing thrills this heart any more than when you spend those priceless moments with the One Who loves His Children best. There is so much I yearn to reveal. Satan has misrepresented this heart for centuries, promoting a belief that I am a mean, vengeful and uncaring God. Nothing could be more untruthful! The Church was made for fellowship and empowerment."

MADE FOR INTIMACY

"Intimacy, revelation, incubation and manifestation are integral parts of the progression that brings forth the promises. No Child of Mine could ever overstay his welcome. As with Moses, the longer you remain in My Presence, the more potent that Anointing. In these days of the Spirit, Heaven's very Scent, that Throne Room Perfume, will literally be evident on those spending time with Me. I am a hands-on Creator. Just as there was a walk together in the Garden at the beginning, such is to be the case in the present. Let's do that, again and again. Take Papa's hand, as you are led to those higher places, the depths of the Spirit, where what is not currently known will be revealed. All stops have been pulled! Establish a meeting date. I'll be there with the food, revelation and Glory!"

FRESH BREAD FROM THE FATHER'S KITCHEN

Nothing is more exciting to this Servant than receiving a fresh loaf of Bread from Dad's kitchen. You know, He has promised just that, on a daily basis. Never will His goods be stale or lack appeal. In addition, He knows exactly how to create a keen appeal for His products, inviting us to regularly visit the Bakery of all bakeries!

Within this Spirit is a knowing that He has reserved the best treats for these final electrified days. The Third Person of the Trinity, living in each Christian's heart (belly), continues to promote an appetite for the best...perhaps even a little angel food cake for dessert!

What's incredible is this. God does not just have affection for the lovely, but the unlovely, as well. If they will turn to Him, a newness of Life transforms the vilest of men to Holy Spirit dynamos for the Kingdom. Look at whom He selected to represent Dad in the Old and New Testaments. Most of that crew wouldn't have qualified for much of anything, particularly when it came to spirituality, perfection and holiness. However, Dad looked beyond veneer and was moved by the heart. He possesses that same ability in the present.

We need to do a whole lot more of that, too, with ourselves and others. I firmly believe there is a Seed within every human, which will come alive if we will walk in Divine wisdom and love, preferring that person, prophetically envisioning destiny in the Body (potential and vital) through the eyes of Jesus Christ. According to my Bible, the heathen belong to us. What shall we do with them? Demand their salvation and completion of Father's dream in their lives!

God gives us a detailed description of how He loves the Youngsters in 1 Corinthians 13. According to the Book, that kind of agape (love) is the distinguishing mark of a Christian, setting us apart from the world's flawed standards and expectations of incorporating agendas and assuming reciprocity.

EASY TO BLESS NICE PEOPLE—BUT . . .

It's easy to bless nice people. Nevertheless, our position is to go out there and overcome evil with good. That initially begins with doing whatever Father says, expecting nothing in return...naturally speaking, as He is our Rewarder. From there, promotion arrives. We find ourselves winning the lost through a myriad of signs, wonders and miracles. Beloved, being faithful in the little things is the starting point. The windows of Heaven are wide open to take care of any yielded vessel.

Under an "open Heaven" we may not be asked to die as the Master did. Only He could do that. Regardless, there will be a death to our own selfish desires and tendencies. You and I will cease centering our lives around what we want and feel, looking out for ourselves most of the time. Walking in love equates to laying down one's rights and seeking after another's, instead, carrying the burdens of the weak, while not pleasing self.

Even though that sounds difficult, it is the surest way to be supernaturally blessed. When you walk in love, God takes care of everything that is of concern. The Word declares, "The eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to show Himself strong in behalf of those whose heart is blameless (walking in love and serving) toward Him (2 Chronicles 16:9)."

Speak The Word:

I walk in love. I do not insist on my own rights or my own way, for I am not self-seeking. 1 Corinthians 13:5

Apostles Coming!!

Todd Bentley

Sometime ago Todd had a prophetic experience in a three month visitation that he had of soaking in Gods glory. Until tonight Todd has not felt a release to share what he is sharing now. In this experience he was taken out unto a mountain and had an experience that seemed to be like when Moses was on mount Sinai there was dark thick clouds, thunders and lightening in the sky. From the perspective of Todd's place on this mountain peak, further than his eye could see to the north south east and west was desert waste land other than one river which flowed out from the base of the mountain

Off in the distance at different moments of time from every direction he would see a horse with a rider or two horses with riders or at the most three. The sense in Todd's spirit was they were all being assembled to this mountain as if they were the only ones called, assuming they were all alone. It was like Elijah who thought he was alone prophet, and God said there was seven thousand more reserved un yet revealed to Elijah. As the vision changed Todd found himself on his face before what he knew was the King of Glory, the Lord of Hosts. The sense that Todd had in his spirit was like Joshua before the commander of the army of the Lord receiving strategy for the hour to come. In this experience it was the gathering of the end time army girding up their loins, drinking of the river, preparing for the battle to come anointing their shields.

Also from the place that Todd had on the mountain he was aware that the church was in a place above the warfare. That Gods mighty release of his end time army of harvest would come upon the kingdom of darkness as un unexpected suddenly releasing prisoners from their prisons. There was a real sense of obscurity, like Gods secret weapon. Harvest would break out in the world in such a great way that the enemy would be caught off guard almost like a night ambush. Simultaneous, money, resources, power and laborers will like popcorn begin springing forth into the fathers business.

Ephesians 4:11, "And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers;"

Todd felt in his spirit that the church has moved from a season of girding up their loins and preparing for the battle to a season of the manifestation of secret faithful nobodies that have not yet bowed their knee. These nobodies will be a fresh release of Eph 4:11 ministries. What Todd meant by this is that in this year and the year 2001 there is going to be a "popcorn release" of ministries like Paul and Barnabus.

Acts 13:1-2, "Now there were in the church that was at Antioch certain prophets and teachers; as Barnabas, and Simeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen, which had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them."

The church has been in a season of renewal of passion for Jesus, ministering to the Lord, seeking his face and not just his hand. This will be a continual theme into the 21st century. God is teaching the church to first minister to Him.

But the time has now come where those who have remained separate in their heart for years are going to find their release and resources to be thrust into the harvest.

Hebrews 6:12, "That ye be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises."

This is Gods sending time. Just as Paul was snatched out of his desert season which was his time of ministering to the Lord in the Arabian Desert so many now will be brought out of their desert season into their giftings and anointings.

This is the year of the Lords Glory, and even in these first three years of the 21st century as Gods glory falls the gold (money) are going to be released for these end time Apostolic ministries which will bring in the harvest.

Acts 4:35-37, "And laid them down at the apostles' feet: and distribution was made unto every man according as he had need. And Joses, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas, (which is, being interpreted, The son of consolation) a Levite, and of the country of Cyprus, Having land, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles' feet."

Please heed the Word of the Lord, lets not just be excited about what we know God is saying. But with fervent prayer and intercession pray ye the Lord of the Harvest that HE SEND laborers into the Harvest for the fields are already white unto Harvest.

Apostolic Impact

Jana Alcorn

THE ALCORN REPORT <http://www.harvestinc.org>

February 15, 2000

Inspiration and Information from Pastor Jana Alcorn and various leadership resources to assist today's Christian servant in the Move of God!

Proverbs 15:22 NIV -- Plans fail for lack of counsel, but with many advisers they succeed.

A WORD FROM PASTOR JANA ALCORN

Leader, have you considered the impact of apostolic ministries? There is an acceleration in the Body of Christ that is activated by the apostolic ministry. I'd like to share some principles that will facilitate the apostolic move into new dimensions in your ministry.

1. APOSTOLIC MINISTRIES ARE DIRECTLY COMMISSIONED.

Apostles are "sent ones". The word literally means "he that is sent." But not only that, he is an ambassador with the full power of the one doing the sending!! Acts 13:4 -- "So they, BEING SENT FORTH BY THE HOLY GHOST....." (See also I Corinthians 1:11)

2. APOSTLES ARE THE MASTERBUILDERS.

Apostles have an overview in vision. Apostles see the "big picture." While others are looking at the size of the nails, the Apostle can see the entire skyscraper. Paul says in I Corinthians 3:10 -- According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise MASTERBUILDER, I have laid the foundation.

3. APOSTLES MOVE INTO NEW BREAKTHROUGH DIMENSIONS.

Recently, I asked the Founder and Chancellor of a west coast Bible college if any of his students had a pioneering spirit. He answered me a very frank..."NO". Pioneers open ways for others to follow. Apostles are pioneers who do not fear to break into new territories. Apostolic impartation is an activation into greater faith for others to follow into new breakthrough dimensions.

4. APOSTLES BRING IMPARTATION.

Romans 1:11 -- For I long to see you, that I may impart to you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established. Just as Jesus imparted the five ministry gifts of Ephesians 4:10-12, Apostles have the ability to impart through the laying on of hands. Apostles can stir up that which has been dormant and recognize that which needs to come forth.(II Timothy 1:6; Acts 13:1-3) Leader, many of you are being called into new apostolic dimensions. It is time for a reformation in your thinking. God is giving new mindsets. Apostolic dimensions are awaiting -- enter in!

INSIDE THE SEED

Ephesians 4:11 -- And he gave some apostles, and some prophets, and some evangelists, and some, pastors and teachers..... Jesus fulfilled and carried the mantle of each five-fold ministry gift. Pastor - John 10:11; Teacher - Matthew 5:2; Evangelist - Matthew 18:11; Prophet - Matthew 13:57; Apostle - Hebrews 3:1

LEADERSHIP LINES

God has an apostolic mentor for your life. Energy is a product of the Holy Spirit-filled life. Satan is watching to see if his tactics are working. Your faith is attracting the attention of God. What good thing can you taste RIGHT NOW? Have you asked the right questions about your quest? Never, never, never give up! Nobody succeeds alone.

PROPHETIC WORD

I am moving you into a new season, says the Lord. I have something in mind, says the Lord, that will bring forth the acceleration into what I have ordained for you. This is not what man has ordained, or even wanted, but it is what I want says the Lord, and it is what will be. I will not be bound by the mindsets of men; I will not confine your ministry to the imprisonment of religious attitudes, says the Lord. I free you, my called one; I free you from those who do not know the shift that I am taking you through. I have called you and I have ordained you an apostle unto the nations so do not limit Me; Follow Me now and begin to move into this new thing, says the Lord, and do not look back and do not go back. For I have commanded a blessing in my new move, says the Lord your God and that is where you will find the fulfillment. Old paths will not fulfill you now and old mindsets will no longer appeal to you; For what I do now, shall be a formation of new things and new ways, and new mindsets. Step out in faith and do not worry about the resources, says the Lord, for an apostolic anointing to receive shall come upon you and you shall see a hunger in those that I have called and joined to you and it shall come forth, says the Lord!

Apostolic Cloud Appearing

Michael Quinn

Behold Oh My people what I am about to do! An Apostolic Cloud is moving over the earth. Have you not eyes to see it? It is the Cloud of My Excellent Glory. Cease from your works and let me overshadow you. Let Me overlay you with My divine nature of gold.

Oh I beckon unto you My people! Hear the Voice of the Father, for the time is short now. This is My command: Prepare to move with the Cloud of My Presence and not with the crowd of your present. The time has come for Me to glorify My Son that My Son might also glorify Me. Do you feel the winds of change blowing?. This is Transition Time, a short season to get ready for My glorious appearing in My people and to My people.

What I am about to do I will do quickly. I will make My Bride pure and glorious in My sight! I will infuse My Body with third day resurrection power that will take away all spots and wrinkles. I will make My Bride beautiful. I have sent My angels before Me to clean out the dirt from My House and to prepare the way for My Shekinah Glory. Things will not be as they have been before. I bringing My House into My Divine Order.

For I will arise and overshadow you Oh Missouri. I will appear over you Oh Colorado. My Apostolic Cloud will surely move over you and you will hear the Voice of the Father saying, "This is My Beloved Son in whom I am well-pleased. Listen to Him.

Apples of Gold

Robert Burgess

Prov 25:11 A Word (i. e. A Rhema, or Living Word) fitly spoken is like apples of gold in Pictures of silver.

THE APPLE Here, is set forth as a strong type of the Word of God The Fruit of the Lips, a Living Word (i.e. The Word of Wisdom - Gold representing the Divine Nature - Truth).

Rev. 3:18 "I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich" (See also Prov 23:23 "Buy the truth, and sell it not."). See Song of Sol 2:3, 5 ~ 7:8 ~ 8:5. Also see Joel 1:12

This letter is actually a Prophetic teaching ~ A Word of exhortation to the Pastors of the Bride of Christ that God is raising in this hour. In this day when there is so much emphasis being placed upon the restoration of Apostolic and Prophetic Ministry, The Lord has shown me that there is a need to encourage the Pastors of the Kingdom in a way which will help them not feel discouraged or overlooked by any means, by what the Lord is doing presently in the Ministries of others. He must first see clearly where he belongs in the Body, and perceive exactly how to operate within the Order of God in order to enhance and speed up what the Lord is doing in this hour. Therefore, the Lord has laid this study on my heart to touch on certain elements of truth which will help to define the role of what a Pastor should be somewhat, in the coming Kingdom of God; and how his relationship to the people, and with other Ministries should fit in.

Pastors

Oddly, the word "Pastors" (Meaning, "He who Feeds") only appears eight times in the entire Bible, and seven of these are found in the OLD TESTAMENT!! The interesting point lies in the fact that six of these O.T. references are very negative statements against the Pastors of Israel, while only one is in the positive vein and is a Prophetic Word concerning the calling and establishment of New Testament (actually, Kingdom-Age) Pastors at the end of the present Age (See Jer 3:15).

Eph 4:11 "And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers;"

Jer 2: 8 "The priests said not, Where is the LORD? and they that handle the law knew me not: the Pastors also transgressed against me, and the prophets prophesied by Baal and walked after things that did not profit."

Jer 10:21 "For the pastors are become brutish (Senseless, Without sensitivity), and have not sought the LORD, therefore they shall not prosper, and all their flocks shall be scattered."

Jer 12:10 "Many pastors have destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion (Lit. Heritage) underfoot, they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness (A place of disorder)."

Jer 22:22 "The wind (of God's Cold Judgments) shall eat up thy pastors, and thy lovers shall go into captivity: surely then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded for all thy wickedness."

Jer 23:1-2 "Woe be unto the pastors that destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture! saith the LORD. 2 Therefore thus saith the LORD God of Israel against the pastors that feed my people; Ye have scattered my flock, and driven them away, and have not visited them: behold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, saith the LORD."

Now for some good stuff:

Jer 3:15 "And I will give you pastors according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding."

The Kingdom Age Pastors will have a heart exactly like the Father's; This is not just my idea, this is the Word of the Father to the Church. For many years now, and actually ever since there were Pastors at all, there has been a predominant element among some of them that "Ate up the flock of God;" instead of really caring for them as the Father would. If they fed them at all, it was so they could fatten them up for the kill; Instead of showing them the Father and teaching them His ways, they have been busy teaching such "Vital Truths" as "Generational Curses," and "How to live prosperously in God's Kingdom Economy." The aim of their teaching was of course to make the people put more money into the offering plate so they would have more to spend on themselves; This is what God meant by the Pastors becoming "Brutish.." Now a Pastor has a big job on his hands if he is to fulfill what God desires for him to be; He must be like a tree that can produce a Word in Due Season for the hungry souls that God sends him. Several years ago the Lord gave me a teaching on this Apple Tree, and the significance of it where it dealt with the Ministry.. There are several different kinds of trees within the economy of the Kingdom. Notice how they are related in the following Scriptures:

How the Pastor ~ Shepherd is (or will be) among the Five-Fold Ministries:

Song 2:3 "As the apple tree (Angel of the local Church, the Pastor-Shepherd) among the trees of the wood (Five-Fold Ministry), so is my beloved (Christ The Good Shepherd ~ The Preeminent One) among the Sons. I sat down under his shadow with great delight, and his fruit was sweet to my taste."

The Book of Joel discloses how the "Trees" of Ministry were totally devastated during the "Dark ages" of the Roman Catholic Dynasty:

Joel 1: 12

1. The vine (The Teacher) is dried up,
2. and the fig tree (The Prophet) languisheth (Lit. Declines)-
3. the pomegranate tree (The Evangelist),
4. the palm tree also (The Apostle),
5. and the apple tree (The Pastor-Shepherd), even all the trees of the field, are withered: because joy is withered away from the sons of men." See also Neh 8:10

Song 2:5 "Stay me with flagons (i.e. Pentecostal Wines), comfort me with apples (A living Word): for I am sick of love (The Agape Realm: The Most Holy Place)".

One might ask "How could she be sick of that?" The Baptism of Fire that relates so closely to the Most Holy Place is not something that is always easy to endure; It's like the old saying "I've enjoyed as much of this as I can stand." The dealings of the Father are often so deep and troubling to the soul that we need some temporary respite in order to recover our strength to continue. This is where we need a living Word of God, a Word in due season to encourage us that it's okay, that we'll make it after all, just hang in there - The worst is over!!

The voice of the Bride of Christ is crying out for a Living Word, an Apple, or a "Word in Due Season," if you will.. If the Kingdom Pastor is indeed to be an "Apple Tree," then one of the predominate fruits of his Ministry should be toward the line of the Prophetic, in the "Word of Wisdom, and Knowledge;" and also to raise up other Pastors by the Word of God (Apple Seeds) which he plants in the people. It may be a little hard to see this right now considering all the negative things that so many Pastors have done in the past, and even some of the conditions at present; but remember this is a Prophetic teaching defining those Pastors which God said He would give to the Church in the Kingdom age, who would express only the Father's Heart to the flock.

Song 7: 8 "I said, I will go up to the palm tree (The Upright one or the Apostle), I will take hold of the boughs thereof (See Jn 15:5) now also thy breasts shall be as clusters of the vine (The Teacher Ministry, where the New Wine is Found, See Isa 65:8, Judges 9:8-13 & Rev 1: 13), and the smell of thy nose (Discernment) like apples (Discernment according to the Word of God);"

Those who Will be Qualified for the Bride in the Kingdom of God will be raised up under the Anointed and Pure Word of God by a genuine Pastor-Shepherd Ministry.

Song 8:5 "Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness (See Rev 12:13-14), leaning upon her beloved? I raised thee up under the apple tree (The Word of God, and the Ministry of a godly, Kingdom Pastor): there thy mother brought thee forth: there she brought thee forth that bare thee."

A BLOW brings a Flow

Apple trees never prosper very well in a temperate climate; perhaps this is why the Pastor/Shepherds have not produced the kind of fruit they were intended to.. They have characteristically been very well taken care of by the "Lukewarm" Religious Systems; No doubt more so than any other of the Five-Fold Ministries. Apples are found to flourish best in climates which vary in temperature from 30-40 degrees below zero in the winter to 100+ degrees in the summer. The fact is, that in order for apples to produce to their maximum potential they must HIBERNATE (A type of DEATH) for three to five months every year. A good picture of the need for both Cold weather and extreme Heat is found in Song of Sol 4:12-16 where it is revealed that the Bride is:

"A garden enclosed is my sister, my spouse (The Bride of Christ); a spring shut up, a fountain seated,
13 Thy plants are an orchard of pomegranates, with pleasant fruits; camphire, with spikenard,
14 Spikenard and saffron; calamus and cinnamon with all trees of frankincense; myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices:

15 A fountain of gardens, a well of living waters, and stream from Lebanon.

16 Awake O North wind (the Cold Winds of Judgment) , and come, thou South (the Warm Winds of Blessings); BLOW upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow on. Let my beloved come into his garden, and eat his pleasant fruits (Song of Sol. 4:12-16)."

See also Rev 3:15 "I would thou wert Cold or Hot."

Perhaps the most anointed and gifted people I have ever known have experienced tremendous and terrible reverses in life; and it is because of these things that a "Channel" of sorts was opened up within their spirit man to sense things in the Spirit of God that ordinary people who have never been broken vessels before the Lord are just simply not able to detect. I don't mean that in any way to be critical of anyone; I only feel that this type of Pastor-Shepherd Ministry is going to be one who will have "Suffered the loss of all things," that he might win Christ (The anointing). For many years I have discerned a large "Gap" sometimes between the Pastor-Shepherds and the Apostles and Prophets; perhaps this is because the Pastors have not been exposed much to the "Heart of the Father," and they tend to be too "Soulsh" in their Ministry to the flock. Since they have characteristically not undergone the same kinds of deep sufferings that the Apostle/Prophet Ministry has, they are not able to relate properly to the "Father Nature" of these two, and quite often are too soft (Feminine) themselves, and are not able to correctly manifest the Heart of the Father even if they desired. The bottom line is, they have been too "Motherly" with the people as a general rule; Perhaps they might be afraid of running the congregation off if they attempt to deal as a true Father would with one of his Son's.

"My Father is the Husbandman"

I am not suggesting being "Legalistic" or a "Hard shell;" Neither of those terms accurately describe the Father at all. What I am saying is that the Father is "An Husbandman," or one who knows how to prune the "Trees" of the Garden of God. He knows instinctively by the Spirit when the pruning should be done without harming the tree, and he understands how to engraft the Word of God back into that person's life where the offensive "Branch" has been cut out. A fragmented Ministry though, has produced a Fragmented Church, and Soulsh Pastors have traditionally produced Soulsh people; This will definitely have to change in the coming Kingdom Age.

In the culture of Israel, a boy was brought up by the Mother generally until he was about the age of 12 years old; this is when he began to come into his manhood. The Scriptures record that when Jesus was 12 years old (At His Bar-Mitzvah) He began to be about His Father's Business (The Word of God) in the House of God.. When a person reaches that point of being filled with the Holy Ghost at his Pentecostal Bar-Mitzvah, he doesn't need "Mothering" any more; What he needs then is some "Fathering" in the Word of the Kingdom which will bring him into the kind of eventual maturity of a true Son of God. This has been sadly lacking in the Churches; in fact some have had to leave the Church system entirely to get that kind of "Fathering" directly from the Lord.

The Impartation of Spiritual Gifts

"For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established (Rom 1:11);"

It is our prayer that Pastors will begin to realize that the true Apostles and Prophets of the Kingdom pose no threat to their Ministry or Jurisdictions; They are set in the Body to serve and to promote maturity, and perfect Godliness in the people. The anointing upon these Ministries will always have a Powerful effect upon those who receive them as Apostles (or, Sent ones), and they will find themselves moving in more and more "Apostolic and Prophetic Authority" themselves as they move into, and cooperate with, the various kinds of impartations of that anointing. I have made some folks rather upset by saying that the effects of an Apostolic blessing could last for many generations as it did in the Church at Rome; I can make no excuses for this statement for Paul never wrote anything like this (of Becoming Established) to any other Church. Of course the Apostle imparted much of the Grace and Giftings upon his own life to each of the Churches he helped to establish; This is one of the earmarks of the Apostolic Ministry, but I feel that the Words he wrote to the Church at Rome stand out as a good example of the overall effects of an Apostolic Blessing.

Apostolic Reformation

Doug Fortune/Jim Rinker

AUTHORITY... SUBMISSION... APOSTOLIC REFORMATION

Doug Fortune

This is not intended to be a deep and thorough Biblical study, just some practical thoughts to share. OK, so now we have apostles and prophets in the Church along with the pastors we've always had... so who's the boss? If that is my main concern, then I have totally missed the heart of the apostolic reformation. Is the restoration of apostles in the church intended to give us another hierarchy system with a bit more impressive titles?... Apostle so and so, sounds pretty lofty! In fact, I Cor.12:28 tells us that it's "...apostles FIRST...", so that makes them the boss, right?... NOT! The word translated FIRST, is 'proton' in Greek; it is the neuter form of protos; so firstly we see that there is no gender designation concerning apostles... remember, in Christ there is neither male nor female. Proton means, 'firstly in time, place, order or importance; before, at the beginning'. I believe this significant, as apostles are referred to as the foundation (Christ being the Cornerstone), and the foundation comes before the rest of the house is built. I believe it also refers to a 'pioneering' spirit, one who blazes a trail for others. Does this mean that the apostle is the boss?... no, it means that there is a spiritual grace upon them for their particular task.

The key in the authority issue is simply recognizing the gifting and ministry of Christ operating through each other, recognizing FUNCTIONAL responsibility, and then 'submitting to each other in love'. How can I be 'boss' of something that I have no functional responsibility and no gifting for? My wife is extremely gifted in the kitchen (the extra five pounds I carry around my waist is proof!) and she bears the primary FUNCTIONAL responsibility of feeding our family of six. Now the husband is the head of the wife, right?... so that means I'm the boss of the kitchen, right?... NOT!!! I gladly submit to her authority in the kitchen until such time I am willing to take the FUNCTIONAL responsibility of feeding our growing army (that will NEVER happen!).

Now we understand this principle this in a household matter like the kitchen, but why do we often times fail to get it in the Household of Faith? How many people with a servant's heart have been trampled upon because someone in supposed authority who had never performed the particular task thought it ought to be done their way? I am the worship leader for our worship team in our fellowship, however I am not particularly gifted in administration (that's an understatement!). Our keyboard player (who is a worship leader also) is wonderfully gifted in administration, so she takes care of any administration and I gladly submit to her authority.... nobody is worried about who's the boss! I believe that at the root of many of the problems we have in the Church in this area is that unfortunately many of our ideas of authority are based on a religious Babylonian clergy / laity hierarchy system rather than Kingdom principles. What feeds this also is the SOULISH desire to be in control. I'm NOT saying we shouldn't be good managers of the resources that God gives us, but good management is building Christ IN the people. Recognizing and nurturing the gifting and ministry of Christ through others IS building Christ in them AND good management. This is the strength of the apostle... the ability to speak words that are containers of Life and Light into the life of an individual and thereby release or activate the anointing already resident, but previously dormant in the individual.

Should this be any kind of a threat to the pastor (I use this term pastor to mean the primary leader in a church, not because that is an accurate description of a pastor, but because that is what the religious system calls them) that the apostle can do something that the pastor probably isn't gifted for?... not if the pastor has a true shepherd's heart.

Does this make the apostle superior to the pastor?... no, just a different gifting and function. Does this give the apostle greater authority with the people than the pastor has?... no, because the FUNCTIONAL responsibility of caring for the sheep ultimately lies with the pastor... but part of effective pastoring IS helping provide others with apostolic influence (as well as all the other five fold ministries). If my objective is to build up MY ministry or build up MY fellowship, then I am probably operating under a Babylonian hierarchy mentality. If my objective is to undergird and support and build Christ INTO the people, then I must operate under the Kingdom principle of recognizing the ministry of Christ through other five fold ministers, many of whom are currently sitting in the congregation and not paid staff members necessarily. Let's let Christ build up HIS Church.

Back to the authority issue... I believe it is a fairly accurate rule of thumb in determining authority that we first determine FUNCTIONAL responsibility... whoever is actually responsible for seeing that the task gets done (that doesn't mean they are doing ALL the work by themselves) is probably the best candidate for having the authority in that area. For example, should the pastor or senior elder (whatever you choose to call them) choose all the songs for the worship leader?... probably no more than the worship leader should write the pastor's sermon. Should the worship leader determine the length of time for music in a service?... no, because the ultimate functional responsibility for a service usually lies with the pastor. Most of the time, just some sanctified common sense can solve potential problems.

Another result of the religious clergy / laity system is the idea that I must have some person as my 'spiritual head'. I believe that Christ is the HEAD whom I am to grow up into (Eph.4:15); and what of I Tim.2:5 as it says "...there is one God and ONE MEDIATOR between God and man, the MAN Christ Jesus."... we are ALL individual priests before God. Yes, we all need accountability relationships.. yes, we must submit ourselves one to another; however, if someone insists that you submit to them outside the areas of their FUNCTIONAL responsibility, then I say beware.

So, who's the boss?... Jesus Christ; He must receive the pre-eminence in ALL things. From there, we submit to each other recognizing the gifting and ministry of Christ through each other. We cannot manifest the fullness of Christ as lone individuals, but as a Body we can grow into manifesting His fullness.

My last post was entitled AUTHORITY... SUBMISSION... APOSTOLIC REFORMATION, and I offer the following reply from Jim Rinker <rinker@3dp.com> for your edification and discernment. God is indeed speaking to His people in this hour!

Look at the Christ in ALL, and all the Christ that is IN YOU will have covenant with the Christ in ALL!

Hi Doug,

Couple things. That word FIRST being PROTON. Protons are ELEMENTARY PARTICLES. They are what atoms are built from (protons, electrons, neutrons). So the word FIRST really implies ELEMENTARY or FOUNDATIONAL. Eph 2:20 And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner [stone]; The word FOUNDATION in the greek appears 16 times (very significant number) (also the word interprets the word...very COOL!). 16 is 8x2. Eight is how many attributes of love there are in: Colossians 3:12-14 Put on therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, bowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, longsuffering; Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also [do] ye. And above all these things [put on] charity, which is the bond of perfectness.

1. bowels of mercies

2. kindness
3. humbleness of mind
4. meekness
5. longsuffering
6. forbearing one another
7. forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also [do] ye.
8. and above all these things [put on] charity, which is the bond of perfectness.

2 Peter 1:5 And beside this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge; And to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness; And to godliness brotherlykindness; and to brotherly kindness charity.

1. faith
2. virtue
3. knowledge
4. temperance
5. patience
6. godliness
7. brotherly kindness
8. charity

Galatians 5:22-23 But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, Meekness, temperance: against such there is no law.

1. joy
2. peace
3. longsuffering
4. gentleness
5. goodness
6. faith
7. Meekness 8. temperance

There are 16 in: 1 Corinthians 13:4 Charity suffereth long, [and] is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up, Doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil; Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth; Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things. Charity never faileth:

1. Charity suffereth long
2. is kind
3. charity envieth not
4. charity vaunteth not itself
5. is not puffed up
6. Doth not behave itself unseemly
7. seeketh not her own
8. is not easily provoked
9. thinketh no evil
10. Rejoiceth not in iniquity
11. but rejoiceth in the truth
12. Beareth all things
- 13 believeth all things

- 14. hopeth all things
- 15. endureth all things
- 16 Charity never faileth

The foundation or ELEMENTARY PARTICLES that the apostles display are the fruit of the Spirit or LOVE. There's more depth to this but that should be enough. One other thing. I appreciate what your trying to do (show what apostles really are without offending the religious order and those controlled by it's hierarchy) but in reality many are accepting apostles for GAIN and not for FREEDOM. Keep this in mind. If the FIRST or FOUNDATIONAL particles are absent the whole building is corrupt. Apostles FIRSTLY are living epistles and not FIRST bosses (a point you made very well) but to those who are part of the religious order they are FIRST meaning over or above or in authority. NOTHING WILL CHANGE THEIR HEARTS!!! As Jesus said to the Pharisee "how will you escape the damnation of hell?". Pure hearts allow us to see God while those "enquiring of God through a prophet (coming to Jesus) with an idol in their heart will be answered according to the idol" (Ezekiel 14). We are all gravitating and hearing according to the purity of our heart motives. Nothing can change the course many are on because of the motives.

Love you brother...always good to hear you expound on the word.

In His Love

Apostolic Reformation

Ron Wood

An apostolic reformation is underway. The Scriptures and the prophets say so. It is a re-formatting of the church. And it is birthed in united prayer.

- 1 And he said to them, "I tell you the truth, some who are standing here will not taste death before they see the kingdom of God come with power."
- 2 After six days Jesus took Peter, James and John with him and led them up a high mountain, where they were all alone. There he was transfigured before them.
- 3 His clothes became dazzling white, whiter than anyone in the world could bleach them.
- 4 And there appeared before them Elijah and Moses, who were talking with Jesus. (Mark 9:1-4 NIV)

I want to use this event on the Mount of Transfiguration in the life of our Lord as an analogy, a picture that illustrates the transformation taking place in the Body of Christ. This picture speaks to us about current events in the church.

In this analogy, Moses represents the apostle, Elijah represents the prophet, and Jesus represents the corporate leadership gifts resident in the whole church.

Notice, Jesus prophesied to his men that the kingdom of God would come with power. This kingdom he spoke about was not some remote future event, but was to be an experience begun in their lifetimes.

Jesus was transfigured before them while he prayed. God's unveiled glory became evident to them. This occurred during a time of waiting on God. It was a prayer-summit of strategic men chosen to spend time together. What will it take for this type of power infusion to happen in us today? It will require a reunion of two gifts "apostles and prophets. And it will require prayer.

The church is built on the foundation of apostles and prophets. Jesus is the chief cornerstone. Apostles and prophets are foundation gifts, fundamental to the structure of a New Testament church.

Jesus prayed while his disciples watched. Then he came down from the mountain to help his embarrassed disciples deliver a demonized child.

Unless we take similar action, we will be powerless to help this next generation. Mountain-top experiences are intended to help us deliver people from Satan's power, not give us goose bumps or spiritual merit badges.

There is work to be done. Apostles need teams around them to help them finish their work. Prophets should ally themselves with apostles. They must be in prayer, together. Elijah and Moses were in the right place at the right time to strengthen Jesus.

One of the truly great men of the Bible was Moses. We who are Gentile believers do not adequately appreciate this great patriarch of Israel. He wrote the first five books of the Bible. He was a pivotal man in the unfolding of God's plan for the whole human race. Prophets are God's agents to strengthen leaders facing trials. While some people see it as their duty to criticize, undermine, and disqualify God's leaders, true prophets come along side to help. When the Son of God needed to be strengthened prior to his crucifixion, God sent the best that heaven had to offer. He sent Elijah and Moses. Here was a rare sight: prophets united in support of an apostle!

Yet these two prophets were so different. Their lives demonstrate that there is no such thing as a typical prophetic temperament or style. God won't let himself or his servants be put in a box. A spiritual man is a mystery. He can discern all things, yet he himself can be discerned by no one. God is unpredictable. The Spirit blows like the wind.

Elijah and John the Baptist were "wild men" while Moses and Paul were educated in the best schools of the day.

Daniel and Isaiah ministered among kings or astrologers, while Agabus, Barnabas, and Silas prophesied among unknown apostles and illiterate saints. Isaiah walked naked as a prophetic sign, while Joseph was clothed with new garments. There is no one single style that proves prophetic authenticity.

Moses was a meek man. He was so gentle the Bible states he was the meekest man on earth. Is that how you would like to be known? At that time in history, he also had the greatest revelation of God on the planet. No one else came close. Does that tell you something?

Revelation and humility are related. More humility, more intimacy with God. Do you suppose the Father's rebuke was an "attitude adjustment" for the three disciples on the mount? (Mark 9:7)

God plays favorites. Moses and God were close friends. They were muy sympatico. They talked face to face. God fellowships most with those he is compatible with. Our trials tenderize us.

God resists the proud. Apparently he enjoys the humble. God likes broken people, penitent souls, people with a realistic assessment of themselves, who are not haughty. God likes faith walked out by submission to his divine authority.

Arrogance is like body odor. Pride in the spiritual realm actually stinks. It isn't pleasant to be around. Let's ventilate the church with fresh air and take a bath!

Meekness is not weakness, but strength under restraint. God is the strongest person in the universe, but he restrains his hand and therefore we are not destroyed. Our Lord is gentle. He takes into his yoke those who are like himself.

In contrast to Moses' meekness, Elijah was a character! He was pure prophetic zeal. He wasn't domesticated by the social standards of community living. He never wrote a book, he trained only one disciple, and moved from place to place like a gypsy. He won high victories and suffered agonizing defeats. He was not well-schooled, lived in obscurity in the desert, addressed kings with boldness, and prayed with such power that he epitomized the gift of faith. (James 5:17)

Like all who stand in the office of a prophet today, Elijah was jealous for the worship due only to God. Prophets feel the jealousy of God.

The zeal of the Lord burns like fire in their bones. They want the temple to be pure. Elijah confronted Ahab and the prophets of Baal and turned Israel away from idolatry injected by Jezebel. He rescued his nation from destruction. Later, his powerful prophetic anointing re-appeared on John the Baptist. Jesus said it would return again in the last days.

Thankfully, not all prophets are like Elijah. In fact, his style was suited more for tearing down than for building up. Most modern prophets are builders, relational, not isolated and confrontational. We need all kinds of prophets!

There is an epic battle still brewing between Elijah and Jezebel. The soul of churches and the welfare of nations is at stake. Ignorant people are caught up in forces they do not understand.

Illegitimate authority still rises up against God's anointed. Churches are split. Ministries are destroyed. Nations turn away from God.

Because of the restoration God is doing today, the warfare will not decrease, but increase. The battle lines are drawn. In this battle, Jezebel kills the prophets. The Pharisees stone the apostles. Nothing has changed in the spiritual warfare we are engaged in since the days the Bible was written.

The prophetic anointing is primarily a "seeing" gift. Old Testament prophets were called seers. They could discern the spiritual dimension. Prophets have this capacity more than most. They see by the Spirit then they say what God allows.

Prophets disclose what is concealed so we can repent. They shake the foundations of the house. They x-ray the situation and diagnose the ailment. They hold up the plumb-line of God's word to examine how we are building. But not all prophets are builders.

Moses was a builder. More than a prophet, he was also the law-giver. He brought people out of lawlessness into divine order. He established government for God's people. The Ten Commandments which he delivered were intended to be the pillars of civilization. God's law-word formed a nation out of a rag-tag stubborn mob on exodus from Egypt.

Israel moved from a slave mentality to tribal mentality to become an army that could possess the land. They were able to do this because Moses required them to become obedient to God's word. Today, the church is not yet an effective army. But God's grace is gathering us under apostolic identity.

The "Moses Mantle" of apostolic leadership sees to it that God's people are fitted in to find their place and their function in the Body of Christ.

We can now see from a New Testament perspective that Moses actually stood in the office of an apostle. He laid the foundation of divine government so that God's people could walk in righteousness and receive their inheritance. As a spiritual father, he exercised authority that produced the obedience of faith. This is the function of apostles today.

Additionally, one of the great things that Moses did for Israel was intercede. He intervened for God's rebellious people and spared them from God's wrath.

We have heard much about prophetic intercession. I believe the Lord is now going to teach us about apostolic intercession. In fact, the true heart of a genuine apostle will be revealed more by his prayer in behalf of God's people than his government over God's people.

Like Jesus, we also intercede for people to be saved and to come into their inheritance. We are all a kingdom of priests. The Melchisedek priesthood of apostolic ministry is being restored.

Our "glory robe" is being delivered from the cleaners. Will we put it on? Will we meet at the summit to pray?

Appearing in Glory

Mike Danforth

Luke 9:29 And as He prayed, the appearance of His face was altered, and His robe became white and glistening.
Luke 9:30 And behold, two men talked with Him, who were Moses and Elijah, Luke 9:31 who appeared in glory and spoke of His decease which He was about to accomplish at Jerusalem.
Luke 9:32 But Peter and those with him were heavy with sleep; and when they were fully awake, they saw His glory and the two men who stood with Him.

Through prayer and worship the appearance of the church is being altered. There is a fashion in the church today that is not really God at all. But as the church enters into prayer and worship, her wardrobe is beginning to change. Her style is changing. Even now the apparel of ministry is taking on a new look. As Jesus was turned inside out, even his outward apparel was affected. The word, "fashion" refers to form, figure and shape. So let me say this, the church, is taking on a new form.

That is why we call it reformation. She is developing a new figure that is much more attractive than the old one. The world can not and will not, be able to help notice just how beautiful she really is. Through prayer and worship she is coming into perfect shape. And let me say, the greatest indicator of an apostolic leadership, are those who have given them selves to knowing God through prayer and fasting.

The alteration of Jesus' appearance revealed that He not only had glory, but that he was in glory. The word, "alter" means, to come to be or to generate. Jesus went from a place of them seeing Him generate glory, to glory generating Him.

The word, "generate" implies the ability to produce. Everywhere Jesus went He was producing life, and He was known as a life giver. But now for the first time he was being seen as someone not just having the power of life, but being as the very essence of life itself. As we pray and worship God we are generated by a desire and passion to draw even closer to God and the results are, a desirous and passionate generation. Our legacy will be, that we went from just having life, to becoming life.

Prayer and worship regenerate the cells in our spiritual makeup that were once broken down, unable to produce the life flow, necessary to sustain right relationship with Jesus Christ. It was a powerful thing when the glory of God became flesh and dwelt among us, but it was even more powerful when He went from being known as having resurrection power, to becoming the resurrected one.

The altered state of Jesus revealed his true origin of existence. It's the difference of seeing the glory in a man, verses the man in glory. When the glory of God is in us we see the kingdom of God wrapped up in humanity, but when we are in the glory we see humanity wrapped up in the kingdom of God. The real color in this picture, is revealed through position. To be in glory, among many things, implies a position of total rest. In other words, to be in glory, is to say, we're entering into the rest of God.

Jesus had always been in glory, but His glorious state had not been fully realized. The church has been producing many things, most of which we could probably do without. However, we are about to be turned inside out and the kingdom of God will be realized on earth, just as it is in heaven, like no other time in history.

Jesus said, "the kingdom of God is within you," (Luke 17:21) Paul said, "through great tribulation we enter into the kingdom of God." (Acts 14:22) So how can both be true? It's the difference of having the glory of God's kingdom in us, versus us, entering into the kingdom of God, thus taking on the actual attributes of His kingdom.

Paul said, "we have the mind of Christ," (1Cor. 2:16) but transformation does not take place until we give up our way of thinking, for the mind of Christ. That is why Paul said, "we are transformed by the renewing of our minds." (Romans 12:2)

Therefore transformation, is the process, of taking on the characteristics of the most dominate force that is working on the inside of us.

Into one form or another, you and I are changing; the important question is, into who or what? What is the most driving force in your life? Make sure the dreams and goals in your life are all about some One, and not some thing.

It wasn't until Peter, John and James were fully awake that they saw Jesus in all His glory. Like a Snow White, the church is coming out of a deep sleep. She is being awakened by the kiss of life. She is about to see Him in all His glory, and when she does, she will love Him, just as she is loved.

Ps 17:15 As for me, I will see Your face in righteousness; I shall be satisfied when I awake in Your likeness.

How will we know when we are fully awake? Because we will see Him as He is, and we will be like Him.

Approaching Thunder

Approaching Thunder

Mary (Koons) Wattenford

September 25, 2000 Since Saturday I have heard in the Spirit - the sound of "approaching thunder..." The thunder of "hoof beats..." from horses.....many, MANY HORSES.... thundering - growing steadily louder.

Tonight in prayer. I was shown this:

A darkened tree-lined corridor sheltering a rough road - rounding a curve is a woman astride a white horse. She is covered by a cloak with a hood, which in her haste, has fallen; her hair streams out behind her, and she is urging the horse, kicking it in the flanks to "move it forward - faster.....faster!!"

Next, I see "BIG BEN" and I hear clearly, "THE BRITISH ARE COMING.... THE BRITISH ARE COMING...." A parallel to Paul Revere; only I know that the "term BRITISH" here is merely representative of "THE ENEMY IS COMING..... THE ENEMY IS COMING!" Against the night sky I notice the tall tower of BIG BEN'S clock is illuminated at 11:59. darkness surrounds the tower itself; it is approaching midnight. And the Lord said:

Hear them My daughter? Do you hear the sound of the "approaching hoof beats?" They THUNDER as they come closer.... For My chosen ones - are "hearing them..." "seeing them" "knowing that they approach..." and the sound continues to increase. The day draws to a close... and "midnight" approaches, the night when NO MAN "will" work; for in Truth, the "ENEMY IS COMING." In these hours - go into your chambers My Children and pray for My Hand of Divine Protection, for My Wings to cover, shield and protect you. LOCK THE DOORS BEHIND YOU! Padlock them if you can.... For I will "shut you in..." and seal you under a seal of protection that NO ENEMY WILL INFILTRATE.

I have "sealed" My warriors, I have locked tightly the doors that the enemy was using to "enter in" and distract those I AM has chosen. I have "presented these" with a double edged sword, a sword of short length - but AFIRE, with the SPIRIT OF THE LIVING GOD! A double-edged sword My daughter, double edged to cut, to sever, to rip open the third heaven for I say unto you - OPEN THE GATES SO THE KING OF GLORY MAY COME IN!

I have awaited this day - this time! I have called out - cried out to so many; but FEW, so very few have come forward..... and said as My servant Isaiah said, "Here I AM LORD....SEND ME!" So few have forsaken all - given up all - lost "self" and been willing to be debased, humbled, and crucified even as I - your Master, was.

Indeed - I AM a "hard taskmaster..." and I will not use those who have set up their "idols" before me - for I CAN NOT~! Where is their loyalty, their fidelity, to their KING? Will they honor and obey ME, and ME ALONE? Or, will they turn "tail and run" at the first skirmish? Have they been THROUGH the "fire of adversity?" Have they stood amidst the flames and been "purified" by the FIRE that "consumes?" but "consumes them NOT?" Have they allowed me to REIGN upon the throne of their own heart? WHO HAS TAKEN UP RESIDENCE UPON THE SEAT OF "MY THRONE" WITHIN THEIR HEART? THAT, is who their allegiance is too. And that, will not save them--- will not help them---will not keep the enemy at bay.

Do you hear the sound of the hoof beats? Do you see those I send - to cry out THE ENEMY IS COMING!! THE ENEMY IS COMING!! Do you see the hands upon the clock?

WHAT TIME IS IT - you ask?

IT IS TIME TO BECOME UNITED AS ONE, BENEATH THE CAPTAIN OF THE HOSTS.... IT IS TIME TO MOVE AS ONE UNIT - WITH ONE PURPOSE - FOR ONE REASON!

Listen to the sound My daughter.....

For the enemy is here - EVEN AT THE DOOR....

Listen to the sound of hoof beats..

Listen to the sound of the "approaching thunder."

LISTEN!

Choose the weapons of your warfare! Mary (Koons) Wattenford

Choose the weapons of your warfare! Are they carnal, OR are they of MY SPIRIT - that "WILL" bring down the strongholds? Where is your focus - WHO DO YOU WORSHIP? When I return, "WILL" I find faith upon the earth? If you attempt to "enter" a stronghold without My having gone before you, you have moved "out" of the Spirit, and into the Flesh.... for does My word not say unto you - I HAVE PREPARED THE WAY BEFORE YOU? If you attempt to "slay the enemy" through vain imaginings and foolish notions - you will be "chewed up" and "spit out" before you have even made it in through the "door!" If you are neither HOT NOR COLD - I will spew you out of my mouth, saith the Lord.

BE ON FIRE FOR YOUR GOD.... Be AWARE that your weapons "ARE" spiritual for the tearing down of those strongholds. Though principalities and powers of the air may appear to have "won the battle," they WILL NOT WIN THE WAR! FOR "I AM" has gone before you, prepared the path so that you are NOT caught in the "crossfire...." but instead have the enemy in your crosshairs!

Where have My people chosen to spend their time, their energy, and on what? Why do they ONLY weep before My altar when "they" face ruination? Only when their own "comfort zones" have been disturbed.... been "shifted..." to where they have become uncomfortable and edgy? I AM "SIFTING" in this day and hour - "sifting" the wheat from the chaff.... And allowing the chaff to be blown away - to trouble you no more. But it is "YOUR COMMISSION" to go "and preach MY GOSPEL!" the GOSPEL of the Kingdom! To fall upon your own swords, if need be, to protect My Sheep... To thrust, to parry, to TEAR DOWN.... so that I may "BUILD" My Temple in MY LIKENESS, and "NOT" in the likeness of a man. Will I SHARE MY GLORY with another, saith the Lord? Will I allow men to continually blaspheme and rebel against me and not notice? Nor judge their true motives..... as shown by their own actions? YOU WILL KNOW THEM BY THEIR FRUITS!! What "fruits" are you seeing? Are you seeing FAITH being forged from adversity, or hearts failing from FEAR? WHEN was the last time you sought to bow before MY WILL and NOT your own?

Choose the weapons of your warfare.... CHOOSE THEM WISELY! For who "IS" this that comes striding in victory before you, eyes aflame, with a sword satiated and filled with the blood of His enemies? Who is this that has gone before you - and allows you to stand FIRM - to stand your ground IN HIM? When you are found "IN ME" there is no enemy that can tear you from My grasp, and no stronghold that won't fall before you. For all who "live by the sword," will DIE BY THE SWORD..... but to die in My service is gain, for whosoever loves his life shall loose it, but whosoever loses his life for MY SAKE - shall FIND IT! and WILL reap eternal rewards.

The Lord then gave me the following scriptures to go with this word:

Who is this Who comes from Edom, with crimson-stained garments from Bozrah?* This One who is glorious in His apparel, striding triumphantly in the greatness of His might? It is I, the One, Who speaks in righteousness - proclaiming vindication - mighty to save!

Why is Your apparel splashed with red, and Your garments like his who treads in the winepress?

I have trodden the winepress alone, and of the peoples there was no one with Me; I trod them in My anger and trampled them in My wrath, and their life-blood is sprinkled upon My garments, and I have stained all My raiment.

For the day of vengeance was in My heart - and My year of redemption - the year of My redeemed - has come.

Isaiah 63:1-4

I checked for the meaning of Bozrah in the Bible dictionary and found:

*Bozrah, means "stronghold"

Apostle-Ship

Steve Kenney

Last October the Lord gave me a dream about the apostolic ministry. I saw a huge ship docked at the port of a city. This ship was so enormous that I was in awe of the size, particularly the massive bow on the ship. The bow was so deep and wide that it soon became the focal point of my attention. As I marveled at the bow, I began to notice how the paint had been eaten away, and giant rust spots covered the great ship, especially the bow. As incredible as the ship was, it was obvious that it needed restoration. The next thing that I noticed was that people began to line up on the dock. Everything the people needed was on that ship, however, it was unorganized and it took quite some time for the crew to find the needed items for each person. As I watched all of this take place before me, one word kept resonating in my spirit, "Provision".

The ship itself represented the Apostolic ministry. According to Kittel's Theological Dictionary, ..."If a fleet of ships was sent by Rome to establish a new colony elsewhere, all these were called "apostles"- i.e. the fleet, the admiral and the newfound colony." Everything that the city needed was on that ship. Likewise, resident within the apostolic anointing is every provision needed for the church and our cities, both spiritual and natural. God is desiring to restore this ministry to His church, but right now our "bow is a little rusty". The bow speaks of humility and servanthood. I doubt any could argue this point regarding the church in America. Being "apostolic" is more than being an anointed business man with administrative skills. There are several books out at this time that go into great detail as to the qualifications and signs of an apostle so I won't labor the point except to say that humility will be the distinguishing mark of an apostle, perhaps more than any other ministry. Jesus, .."the Apostle" (Hb. 3:1), spoke of himself as being "gentle and humble in heart" (Mt. 11:29 NAS). How much more then should we practice our "bow".

Though not all are prophets, all of God's people are to be equipped by this ministry and learn to walk in the prophetic anointing to some degree or another. In the same way, not all are apostles, yet all of God's people are called to be "apostolic". You are to be equipped by that ministry gift and walk in the apostolic anointing with the understanding that you are a "sent one." It has been said that if we as a church desire apostolic results, we must live an apostolic life. We all desire to see God's move in the earth, greater effectiveness, more healings, miracles, salvations and for God's Kingdom to come on earth as it is in heaven! The good news is that this is the Lord's desire for His church as well. Church, Jesus said.." blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." (Mt. 5:3) We must begin by recognizing our spiritual poverty and asking for God's grace to move us from where we are to where we need to be. This requires that you are honest before God, yourself, and others. This is the beginning of the humility that is required to be an apostolic church.

As God begins to raise up an apostolic people, we would do well to heed the words of the apostle Paul.. "But God forbid that I should boast except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world has been crucified to me, and I to the world." (Ga. 6:14) That's an apostolic prayer for all the church to pray in this hour. God bless you and be greatly encouraged , the "Lord will accomplish what concerns"...you! (Ps. 138:8 NAS)

Apostolic Today

Richard Breazeale

The Lord has brought together the most unlikely people to establish and restore His church. In this we find teams, a more complete ministry being formed rather than as has been for a number of years. A pastor with elders is incomplete and now is all out of wack. Elders are a necessary part of the church, but chosen by the leading of the Spirit, not man. The church of today looks nothing like that established in the beginning. Maybe purposeful on Gods part, or maybe just mans inability to stand in the ways of the Lord. It doesn't matter, all that matters is what the Lord is doing now.

We have an apostolic group. Apostle, Prophet, Teacher, Evangelist, Pastor, administrators, helps, and?.... We see among us many of the various gifting of the Spirit, though fruit may be somewhat lacking. The apostolic is called to walk in Kingdom ways, Gods ways. This is why it has been difficult, first our ways have to be stripped from us. Because it seems as though we cant just lay them down!

What we do from now on will determine much in what He will do through us. As we said yes, or here I am in the past He came and has been molding, shaping, through trial and test we have been in preparation for what He wills to do in this world. We are not alone, there are several across the nation and the world being raised up as this.

We have learned what it means to love, to stand together in commitment to His will and works and in the midst of each others funk and lacking. He has done this thing, we are unable to this ourselves.

Our prayers have been answered and we stumbled and fell and whined and cried in the midst of the answer. How did we think it would look when the Lord would raise up one? Did we believe it we would wake up one day and full of the Spirit and power move out to change the world? No, we have been going through a very slow precise circumcision. And as yet we are not healed. But healing is near if we allow.

The difficulty of a group of called leaders coming together like this has been at times comical, but most often mightily grievous and overwhelming. Even many of our family, friends, close relations and acquaintances has ridiculed, accused, laughed at, and denied us. As the Lord moves to change and restore His ways and remove mans ways from His body, we are a misunderstood and despised people. Sound familiar?

In this restructuring / restoration, I find there is no one of us which lords it over another. But each is held accountable and responsible to each other. The idea of pastoral covering is being stripped away, changed, and most don't see it yet. The Apostle is being shown to be a servant more than a leader. (Which in truth, enables him to lead). The prophet is being revealed as one who rubs all raw and needs constant prayer and balanced loving correction. The servant is learning that he must just serve, and in serving see truths and knowledge that we thought only leaders can lay hold of because of importance of position (in mans ways and eyes). The evangelist is being rung out and hung up to dry in the winds of Spirit, being taught to rely, and function, and move only in the Spirit, not to rely upon human means and plans. The teacher is learning to be taught and remain teachable by the student. The pastor is learning that he leads by example and stands in the gap, that being a shepherd is nothing like he thought, that he is not boss and cannot have a committee or council of elders to be the giver of guidance and direction, but the Spirit, in accordance with them and himself. We are all learning all of this and more. Totally contrary to human nature we stand in this which looks like a mess to the world (and the 'church') right now. Yet our Lord has his purposes and means. If we do not resist or deny or fall away, He can use us to change the world!

He is teaching us that the foundation lies underneath the building with the capstone being Messiah on top. The body is held up by us, it is not lifted or lead by it. The whole body is lead by the capstone.

Foundations are mostly and usually overlooked except by people of certain calling or persuasion. It is not seen unless looked for, yet it is to be strong and sturdy to hold the building. It is to be solid and unmovable! Unseen to most. Unappreciated and not acknowledged. All the forces of nature and the natural move upon it and come against it to test its steel and resolve. In all this it must just stand, be solid, unmovable. If the structure does not stand, guess who is blamed?

In His service.....

A Purpose To Fulfill

My people, I would remind you that I have called each of you by name, and that I have appointed unto every individual a ministry to perform and a purpose to fulfill. Not one of you who are Mine were called to sit on the sidelines and do nothing - nor were you called to sit in the bleachers as it were, and merely cheer others on who are actively involved while you yourself remain dormant.

Each member of the Body has a part to play that is integral to the proper functioning of the whole. When someone neglects to do that for which they were chosen, it hinders the whole Body. You cannot relax your vigil - you cannot ignore the Spirit's wooing's without bringing disharmony and disillusionment to others.

I urge you My children, to seek My face diligently about what is expected - not by others or of others, but what it is that I would have YOU do.

Oh that My children, all of My children, would be about their Father's business! That all would concern themselves more with what I desire and not with what the world or even other's in the Church desire.

I would remind you of My Word in 1 Peter 4:1-2, "So, since Christ suffered in the flesh [for us, for you], arm yourselves with the same thought and purpose [patiently to suffer rather than fail to please God] For whoever has suffered in the flesh [having the mind of Christ] has done with [intentional] sin-has stopped pleasing himself and the world, and pleases God. So that he can no longer spend the rest of his natural life living by his human appetites and desires, but [he lives] for what God wills."

And also 2 Cor. 5:9-11, "Therefore also we have as our ambition, whether at home or absent, to be pleasing to Him. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, that each one may be recompensed for his deeds in the body, according to what he has done, whether good or bad. Therefore knowing the terror of the Lord we persuade men.." I have never called you to do anything that I have not also given you the wherewithal to accomplish it. My word promises in Phil. 2:12-13, "Workout - cultivate, carry out to the goal and fully complete your own salvation with reverence and awe and trembling [self distrust, that is, with serious caution, tenderness of conscience, watchfulness against temptation; timidly shrinking from whatever might offend God and discredit the name of Christ]. [Not in your own strength] for it is God Who is all the while effectually at work in you - energizing and creating in you the power and the desire - both to will and to work for His good pleasure and satisfaction and delight."

Apology for Y2K Predictions

Joseph Herrin

(8-9-2000) We are now well into the year 2000 and the dire predictions of calamity forecasted for the date change from 1999 to 2000 have by and large not panned out. I am sure this has been a cause of embarrassment for many who spoke fervently of the impending disaster prior to this crucial date. I too felt that things would be much worse than they were and it has been a source of great instruction from the Father.

One of the primary lessons from this event for those who are called as prophets, seers, watchman, teachers, etc., is the need to guard against being led by the rational mind as we receive input from our eyes and our ears. The servant of God is to be led of God's Spirit and I believe this whole event was a hard lesson to many of God's servants to guard against being led astray by the mind and our physical senses, for we are instructed to "walk by faith, not by sight." This is further borne out in the following scripture which speaks of God's righteous one.

And He will delight in the fear of the LORD, and He will not judge by what His eyes see, nor make a decision by what His ears hear...(NAS)

It is truly difficult at times to discern between the voice of the Spirit of God and the voice of reason. The scriptures say that the mature have the capacity to discern between what is good food and what is bad food (food referring to teachings and doctrine). This comes by training and sometimes this training comes by making errors and suffering the consequences.

Hebrews 5:14

But solid food is for the mature, who because of practice have their senses trained to discern good and evil. (NAS)

The issue of Y2K was a lesson for many of God's saints, myself included, and the end result that the Father would have in mind for us is to be much more cautious in the future to discern between spirit and soul. The mind of God is not known through our mind and our senses, rather it is discerned in our spirit as we commune with God's Spirit.

I Corinthians 2:11_13

11 For who among men knows the thoughts of a man except the spirit of the man, which is in him? Even so the thoughts of God no one knows except the Spirit of God.

12 Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit who is from God, that we might know the things freely given to us by God,

13 which things we also speak, not in words taught by human wisdom, but in those taught by the Spirit, combining spiritual thoughts with spiritual words. (NAS)

During the time period leading up to Y2K I was employed as the Microcomputer Coordinator of a county healthcare system. Part of my job was Y2K preparation and I attended a number of seminars on the issue, as well as participating in teleconferencing and serving on committees that were assigned the arduous task of achieving year 2000 compliance and readiness. Being in this position, my physical senses were filled with information (much of it sensational) about the impending crisis and the need to prepare. When a person is receiving a lot of information from the physical senses, he/she needs to be even more careful to get alone with the Father and hear what that still, small voice is speaking. Failing to do this, one will be led to faulty conclusions and into error.

What occurred in my case was that I combined the input I was receiving on the Y2K issue with my understanding of the days of shaking and judgment that are certain to come upon the world, and I erroneously linked the two together. If I had pressed into the Father's presence to hear a clear and distinct word from Him I would have received the truth, for He gives wisdom to all those who ask Him (James 1).

The end result is that I am now seeking to be much more diligent in pressing in to know the mind of the Lord. No one likes people to point to them and say, "You cried wolf and no wolf showed up. Why should we then believe you when you cry wolf again?"

Some in dealing with the embarrassment of unfulfilled prophecies are resorting to creative interpretations and saying that all that was prophesied would have happened if it had not been spoken of so forcefully and loudly. They have compared it to Jonah preaching repentance to Nineveh. Judgment would have come to Nineveh if they had not repented, but they repented and were spared the judgment. Even so, some say that the world woke up because of the voice of the doomsayers and they acted diligently and were spared the serious consequences that could have resulted.

I am sure there is some truth in this. Estimates are that over a trillion dollars worldwide were spent in remediation, an astronomical figure, and this was done because many diligently proclaimed the results of failing to take these steps. However, this is not an excuse for myself or many of the other people who forecasted dire results for Y2K.

Jonah preached that Nineveh would perish UNLESS they repented. In the words of many speaking of Y2K there was no UNLESS. The message from many was not that calamity would come UNLESS something was done to rectify it. No, the message was that it was already too late to repair the situation and calamity was certain and unavoidable. This is a much different message than Jonah's message for there is no hope given in it. This was, to my chagrin, the message that I communicated to some people and I repent of it. I was speaking from the soul and not from the spirit.

For those others of God's saints who spoke similar words, I encourage you to own up to them and to learn from the experience and move on, chastened, but instructed. The scriptures tell us that "faithful are the wounds of a friend" (Proverbs 27:6). God is certainly our friend and the discipline He brings us is for our building up, not our tearing down. We should respond "Thank you Father for this valuable lesson. I needed Your instruction and I appreciate Your correction." We should be very thankful that the covenant we have with God is a covenant of grace. There is mercy to be received from our Father's hand.

The days we live in are days of purifying and refining. God is removing the dross from the lives of His servants. This is a serious matter and we should look at it seriously. God would have His true servants speaking only what He gives them to speak. He is therefore giving many lessons of the ill results of failing to sanctify this area of our lives. I apologize to any of you who may have read my dire predictions of Y2K and who were led into error by them. This is a serious matter and I repent of my misspoken words.

Are you Looking for His Appearing?

Becky McLendon

My study of yesterday in Hebrews led me to stick with this one verse:

"So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for Him shall He appear the second time without sin unto salvation." Heb. 9:28

To "look for" in the Greek is apekdechomai which means to expect intensely, to wait for, hope for, expectation of the adoption as will be realized in the redemption of the body. (Zodhiates, HEBREW- GREEK STUDY BIBLE)

We are to go after the appearing of Christ as a lover searches out his/her beloved. This is BRIDE talk...It is appalling how many "church people" do not look for his appearing...do not have even a CLUE as to what that is all about..

do not want to address it because it is "controversial.." Now if He says that Christ will appear to those who LOOK for His appearing, what will happen WHEN he appears? Will most "miss it?"

Other references dealing with this expectancy can be found in Titus 2: 11 - 13:

"For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, teaching us that denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly and righteously, and godly in this present world, Looking for that blessed hope and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Savior, Jesus Christ."

Also in 2 Timothy 4: 8: "Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness which the Lord, the righteous judge shall give me at that day, and not to me only, but to all them also that love his appearing."

2 Peter 3:12 "Looking and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat..."

Who are NOT looking for His appearing, those who live according to the flesh, striving sweating, doing good works, churchy activities, planning scheming, being greedy, selfish. Those who are openly practicing what they KNOW is sin. Those who challenge, doubt, scoff, mock, walk in arrogance. Those who refuse His counsel. Those who refuse to pray or acknowledge him...those who ignore parts of scripture that deal with his coming...

Look at Jacob who slaved for Laban for a little over 20 years....He did so EXPECTING deliverance..20 STANDS FOR EXPECTANCY...In the 21st year of servitude, God delivered him in the night SUDDENLY...why? Jacob was Looking for it!!!!

are YOU looking for His appearing, or are you saying oh he wont come. Or mocking and saying...WHERE is this one who is coming. I see NO EVIDENCE saying he is coming. Well You are right. He is not coming for YOU.

Oh join me in fervently looking for Him!!!!

Love you Becky

Arab and Jewish Christians

Arab and Jewish Christians in Israel pray together

Date: Fri, 13 Oct 2000

Arab and Jewish Christians in Israel are praying together as violence in the Holy Land threatens to destroy peace efforts. A Palestinian Christian and an American-born Messianic Jew, both living in Jerusalem, spoke to Religion Today about the situation.

Christians from Egypt, Iran, Iraq, Jordan, Lebanon, and Syria met with Messianic Jews and other Christians from Israel and around the world in Jerusalem Oct. 1-10. About 1,200 Christians from 150 nations came to pray and tell what God is doing in their countries. Violence broke out three days before the convocation began. "As fighting escalated, convocation leaders set aside their prepared program to worship God and pray," messianic leader Barry Segal said. "Because of the heavy spiritual tension and the violence, we took one night to just praise God and dispel the darkness." Arab and Christian leaders discussed their differences. "There was a time for Arabs to share and for Jews to share," Segal said. At the end he and a Palestinian pastor read from Romans 8:35: "Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall trouble or hardship or persecution or famine or nakedness or danger or sword?" The evening "was a tremendous move forward in terms of reconciliation and prayer for each other - to see the fulfillment of God's purposes for both communities," Segal said. Meanwhile, in the Sinai desert, Palestinian, Jewish, and Western Christians were praising God together at a celebration held by a Palestinian ministry. Twenty-two supporters of Musalaha, a ministry of reconciliation between Jewish and Arab Christians, spent three days at Mount Sinai "singing and listening to God - asking Him what He is calling us to do," Salim Munayer, a Palestinian Christian, said. "We prayed for hours in the desert, asking God for mercy. We knew the situation was bad but we continued on to show that there is another way to deal with this," Munayer said. Musalaha fosters reconciliation by inviting Arab and Jewish Christians to live and work together in the desert for three weeks. During that time, Munayer and others preach about the need for Christians to be reconciled to each other. Palestinian and Jewish Christians in Israel are separated by politics and theological disagreements, but their common faith binds them together, Segal and Munayer said in separate interviews. Jewish and Arab Christians may not agree on all issues relating to the land of Israel and the Palestinian people, but they refuse to be divided, Munayer said. Palestinian and Messianic Jewish congregations formed a "ring of prayer" around Jerusalem, Segal said. Twelve ministries pray daily and worship God in two-hour shifts to keep a 24-hour "prayer watch" over the city, he said. There are about 5,000 Messianic Jews in 70 congregations and 3,000 "born-again" Palestinians in 40 churches in Israel and the West Bank territories, he said. Christians outside Israel should pray for the peace of Jerusalem, Segal said. "Not necessarily a political peace, but the peace that passes all understanding. Pray for the Prince of Peace to return." Christians should not place blame or use prophecy to justify the violence, but instead should pray for the protection of all people in Israel, Munayer said.

A Revival of Love

Wanda Reams

The Lord told me nearly 2 years ago to run for president of my neighborhood's resident council. I would much rather have run for the secretary or even vice-president. But again God said, "President." Well, I have wondered what good I have done by accepting this position. As you know, if you have ever been on any sort of council, it seems an eternity before anything is ever even accomplished. My term is nearly up and I have not felt to openly share my testimony or even pray for anyone

My eyes opened up when I saw a woman in our neighborhood telling another about Jesus. I felt the Lord tell me, "I asked my disciples to plant seeds, not try to shove a whole loaf of bread down someone's throat!" I shared this idea with my husband, Matt. He relayed to me, " 'Witnessing' without the unction of the Holy Spirit and the right timing can be – in fact – the greatest tool in the hand of the enemy." And I believe that without love we are nothing but a noisemaker. A clanging gong and a loud cymbal that makes people want to cover their ears and run from us, and from the noise.

Christians have adopted a false notion that it is us who lead people to Him. The Bible says, "No man comes to the Father except the Spirit draw them." Have you ever wondered where the notion came from to bring the unsaved to a church to lead them to the Lord? That is not the biblical framework. Jesus told the disciples, "Go and preach the gospel..." Wherever they went they shared the Good News. Whether it was on the streets, in the marketplace, or in the park, they shared as they went. They healed as they went.

I believe the next revival outpouring will not be in the church, but on the streets: in the shopping malls, in the grocery stores and schools and gyms, even in the bars and on buses.

Today I visited with my neighbors. Two times the conversation turned to my boys and how well mannered they are. The ladies puzzled over that and began to open up about their own frustrations in parenting. I walked away from that meeting with an understanding that my life is a testimony which points people to Him when I don't say a word. In fact I am learning that it is better not to speak, but rather to listen.

I am also learning from these ladies how to be more real, less 'perfect' and more open. I am seeing the meaning of the phrase, "sheep among wolves"...some hate me and seek to devour and destroy me because of Christ in me.

God has used this neighborhood to place inside me a desire to build relationships with others, and a desire to literally begin to love my neighbor. The natural outworking of that has been that I want to pray for them and their families. I want to give them what I have that will meet their needs.

Over time I know the opportunity will present itself to pray with them over issues they are facing. My prayers will then come from a heart of love because of a relationship that has developed over time.

I believe that God is already speaking to men and women to begin to reach outside their church friends and gatherings. I believe when they reach out it will not be to 'save' their neighbors, but instead to love them, to bless them and to give to them. As relationships develop, as the love develops (Is God not Love?) then life will spring forth. The dead will be implanted with new life and they will open and bloom with His eternal life in their being. The darkness will be gone and the light will spring forth. THEY will want to know God. It won't be us trying to push anything on them. It is the goodness of God that draws men to Himself.

It was love and compassion that moved Jesus to do miracles when He walked on the earth. He is the same today.

As we reach out in love I believe we will see miracles. We will see God revealing Himself to those who do not know Him and are not even seeking Him. Then they will not only believe because the Bible tells them so...but they will KNOW because God Himself has revealed Himself to them – undeniably. When that happens, no one will be able to talk them out of what they KNOW. It will not be stolen away. I believe the fruit of these relationships will be eternally lasting. We just have to be obedient. “Go!” and “Love!”.

When these dear ones from the neighborhoods and streets begin to come to Him, as He reveals Himself to them, we will see a whole new class of believers. They will be like Moses. Moses was raised worshipping other gods. When God-Almighty spoke to Moses from the bush he was not satisfied. Moses, who was not familiar with the Jewish ways and customs, wanted to KNOW God. The Israelites did not even wonder what His name was. They were content with knowing the ways and customs. They were afraid to get nearer to God than that. Moses went up to the mountain when it was believed that if one went up there they would die. He went up there with an Insatiable compelling to not only KNOW Him but also see Him.

These new believers will rock the world of the established church. They, not knowing the traditions, will not be held back by them. They are going to come forth with boldness and zeal and an unquenchable desire to KNOW God that not even death will stop. They will be the ones willing to die for what they KNOW. The whole kingdom of heaven will be open to those who are willing to lose their lives. The ‘Churched’ will hate it when these new believers heal the sick and raise the dead. Their ways will seem unorthodox, even messy, unorganized and radical. A great division will come and at the same time a great unity.

As I typed the last line I felt a heaviness come to my heart and confusion to my mind. I began to pray. Suddenly I saw what I thought was green grass. It changed to white so suddenly...”white to harvest”. Then the heads of the wheat became like faces: countless; side-by-side. Lord, give us your heart and your mind. Deliver us from uncaring hardness and confusion that has held us back from walking in the flowing out of your love, and your life.

The only way we can love them the way Christ has commanded is if we are standing in the middle of Him: His timing, not our own: His steps, not our own: His life, not our own.

God help us.

The Nicky Cruz that God raised up in the 70’s was prophetic of those God will be raising up all over the world. They will come from gangs and jails, from prostitutes and shaman. This time the church will not put it’s own restrictions and formalities on them. As they flood the walls of the church the walls will come down.

Army from the North

By Judy Aiello

Behold, I have come out of the North in a whirlwind and in tumult, roaring like a lion, resounding the trumpet, bow bent for battle, lightning ready to hit the mark. I will speak to you out of the storms of your life. I am your tent peg. I am your battle bow. Prepare for battle. Call forth the arms. For you will be a mighty army coming out of the North. I am with you and will strengthen you with my mighty right arm.

Though the Tempest Rages

Behold, there is an earthquake coming. It's epicenter will cause waves of adversity. But stay in your boats! Climb in your boats of safety and hang on. You may get splashed with waves of humiliation, waves of embarrassment or other kinds of waves, but STAY IN YOUR BOATS! Stay focused on Christ, not the waves! Your boats will get rocked, sometimes violently, but "hang on", says the Lord. It shall pass.

A Realm of Glory

Jill Austin

Prophetic Proclamations By Jill Austin

This past month the Lord has given me fresh revelation which, I believe, will be a confirmation to many of you. These proclamations are like a tapestry of mysteries that will unravel gradually across the seasons of our prophetic journeys.

The Next Move of God is a Realm of Glory

... with signs and wonders coming to prepare us for the end time judgments. He is crying out for a dwelling place, for a people whose hearts are ablaze with love for His Son. The Lord wants a marriage between the prophetic, intercession and worship to usher in His glory, to enable the bride to endure the persecution and martyrdom that lies ahead.

A Seer Anointing Released

A mystical realm is opening where we can go into the heavens and receive fresh revelation. Some will literally travel to the heavenly war- room to obtain God's wisdom and strategies for His bride. Returning to earth with His blueprint plans, they will be able to mobilize troops into the nations.

Healing Rooms

These will explode all over the world. Also, healing teams will go to hospitals and to places in the world where epidemics are breaking out.

Josephs Come Forth -

Joseph Companies of apostolic men and women who deal with the movement of resources and people are being established in the nations. This is strategic for global purposes! God is releasing "Joseph" from the dungeon in preparation for these catastrophic world events. Even though many nations are experiencing a time of affluence as in Joseph's days ... it's a time for God's people to prepare.

A Season of Paradigm Shifts

These Joseph Companies will emerge and confront the "Pharaohs" of our age. Some will have great favor and the course of nations will be changed as they give divine revelation and move in signs and wonders.

Martyrdom -

Other nations will be judged as these "Josephs" shake the evil world systems with the government of God. Many will be martyred as Satan vomits his rage upon the earth with unprecedented fury.

An Anointing for Land and Buildings

Extravagant giving will result in God releasing abundant revelation for the end times. Prayer warriors in the Kingdom are going to cry out for territory and God will give it to them. Architects, builders, and bankers will release money and resources to establish beachheads.

The Rod of God -

Governmental and financial shifting is taking place as God moves heaven and earth to establish His Kingdom. He is raising up apostolic and prophetic men and women in the secular marketplace. These power brokers will be given the authority to move huge financial resources and even stop wars. God will give them great wisdom to enable them to contend with rulers and leaders in international political arenas.

Protestant Monastic Communities

The global prayer movement will birth communities. These ecumenical prayer communities will explode throughout the earth and link with Catholic, Episcopal, Messianic, Orthodox, etc. movements, bringing healing to the Body of Christ. Many will be international embassies - governmental headquarters of the King of Kings.

Prophetic Servant Communities

These multi-faceted and multi-layered communities will train, equip and send forth the "troops". The Lord is raising up diversified groups around the globe with different mandates and callings. Training centers, healing rooms, missionary schools, communication centers, etc. will also emerge.

Generational Blessing -

Mothers and Fathers will come forth to mentor the generations. A family of believers encompassing the widows, divorced, married, singles, and all ethnic groups, young and old alike, will be coming together as never before.

Humility - A Low Humble Door -

A place of common equality. People will lay down positions of ministry, jobs and titles to go through a low, humble door. It will be an "unrobing" to come in but we will be embraced and "redressed" in the garments of the Lord.

A Time to Prepare -

In birthing these communities, I believe God is telling us we have time to get ready before evil rulers are solidified and put into place. See Psalms 2! This is a time to prepare for the end time judgments; a time to build communities, sanctuaries, and cities of refuge before the economy crashes.

A Grass Roots Jesus People Movement -

Many people will return to the land and be drawn into a simple lifestyle free from debt, home schooling or schools within the community, and raising their own food. Silos for grain, medical clinics and different types of structures for housing will be built. Self-sustaining communities will be giving to the poor. Y2K was merely a dress rehearsal.

Prophetic Destinies are Being Accelerated by God's Timetable -

There's a fresh shaking and realigning of the players to get people into their destiny and call. Two radically opposing kingdoms are emerging and becoming clearly visible on the world's scene. Signs and wonders will increase in the Kingdom of God to counteract the renewed Satanic Revival unleashed on the world.

A Royal Summons

Joan Brown

We were all standing before the Lord, in His Presence. We stood alongside each other, facing Him. Then the Word of the Lord came to us - "I have something to say to each one of you. LISTEN, - BE STILL, - BE ALERT.

Today I am saying to you - "Count the cost." As it was with Me, so it will be with you. Are you willing to be misunderstood? Are you prepared for persecution? For today I give you a choice. If you say "yes" to Me, it will be costly. There will be persecution, there will be trials, But there will be fruit, there will be 100 fold return, Mark 10. 29 Jesus said, "Truly I say to you, there is no one who has left house or brothers or sisters or mother or father or children or farms, for My sake and for the gospel's sake, 30 but that he shall receive a hundred times as much now in the present age, houses and brothers and sisters and mothers and children and farms, along with persecutions; and in the age to come, eternal life. but My Grace My Presence, My Wisdom, My Power, My protection, My Provision will be readily available Count the cost - before you say "Yes" to Me.

Let it be known that should you decline, there will still be a cost. There will still be persecution, there will still be hardships without the reward. What you see now is passing away. I am moving ahead to fulfill My purposes. This will become a barren place. So it will be costly once having put your hand to the plough and turning back. My soul shall find no delight in you, so choose you this day.

This has been the beginning of many things the Lord has had to say to us over these past months. Once responding to this Royal Summons, the Lord will also have further things to say to each one --But - count the cost before you say "Yes" to Him afresh.

Are You Anchored?

Jane Clark

I have had a picture from the past and one from the present which combine to speak into the future; firstly about our own lives, and then about the difficult things which are to come.

The first is of a boat, firmly grounded in the mud of a bay, or estuary; but now the tide is coming in. Is the boat anchored? If not, it will drift away, and possibly be destroyed, or stolen; and no longer be of use. God seemed to be saying to me; "Is your anchor sure? The tide is about to rise, storms are about to come and My Holy Spirit is also about to move mightily; it is important to make sure your anchor in Me is secure." The anchor is not put to the test until the tide comes in.

The second came on reflection of history. He seemed to be saying that the old order is passing away i.e. the anchor that holds us secure in society is about to be broken. I have been reading a book regarding the early saints in Wales written by a scholar who majors on architectural and manuscript evidence of the past. Very little exists from the 6th and 7th centuries, but there is evidence of Roman occupation in gravestones inscribed in Latin, for Wales was an important centre for gold mining. Two warriors lie buried in the little churchyard of Llanlleonfel, a place otherwise renowned for the wedding of Charles Wesley to Sarah Gwynne in 1749. Their gravestones translated from Latin read;

Silent in the shroud, Iorwert and Ruallan await in peace the dreadful coming of the judgement The Welsh (religious) tradition, it tell us, has its origins in a situation where civil order has collapsed and where all earthly securities are taken away. The conversion of the peoples of this land to Christianity took place in the midst of the death and destruction of an old order. Men and women were faced with an encounter with ultimate realities, with death and judgement. However affirmative the Christianity of these centuries may be, it is never altogether comfortable or assured about life in this world; the reality of another world is too close.

A L Allchin "God's Presence Makes the World" P3

"The conversion of the peoples of this land to Christianity took place in the midst of the death and destruction of an old order. Men and women were faced with an encounter with ultimate realities, with death and judgement" This phrase was really quickened to me; maybe this is what is about to happen, maybe many are going to come into the kingdom through facing such an encounter. Our thoughts have been with the situation in the Middle East. Perhaps it will take a desperate situation to bring in a harvest of God's people, Jews and Gentiles?

If this is so, we Christians need an anchor, so we can stand firm in all situations, trusting in God who does all things well. The tide coming in speaks also of the operation of the Holy Spirit, He is also our Anchor, for here we have no abiding city, but seek one to come. Where IS our anchor, our security? You will never really know until the tide comes in. If it is not in eternal things we are of no use when the Holy Spirit and when crisis comes. Now is the time to check the anchor; it should have 3 chords; faith, hope and love. (for a 3 fold chord is not easily broken.)

The anchor point is not our responsibility.... God has anchored us in Christ and has given us a deposit, the Holy Spirit, an anchor point into the present world which reaches us from eternity.

13 When God made his promise to Abraham, since there was no one greater for him to swear by, he swore by himself, saying, "I will surely bless you and give you many descendants." And so after waiting patiently, Abraham received what was promised.

16 Men swear by someone greater than themselves, and the oath confirms what is said and puts an end to all argument. Because God wanted to make the unchanging nature of his purpose very clear to the heirs of what was promised, he confirmed it with an oath. God did this so that, by two unchangeable things in which it is impossible for God to lie, we who have fled to take hold of the hope offered to us may be greatly encouraged. We have this hope as an anchor for the soul, firm and secure. Heb 6:13-19 NIV

I believe this scene and these promises will also apply to Israel. The current situation appears intractable; a confrontation with the powers of darkness seems inevitable. There will be war because neither side will give up Temple Mount, and Islam is moving aggressively forward to claim all in the teeth of scripture which clearly says that Jerusalem and Israel belong to the Israelites. I think of Hosea in this context; the valley of trouble is a door of hope because it is a means of bringing us to really call upon God.

*14 "Therefore, behold, I will allure her,
Will bring her into the wilderness,
And speak comfort to her.
I will give her, her vineyards from there,
And the Valley of Achor (* trouble)as a door of hope;
She shall sing there,
As in the days of her youth,
As in the day when she came up from the land of Egypt.
NKJV Hos 2:14-15*

May God have mercy upon us, and grant us grace to receive the severe mercies of God so that we may escape the judgement that is coming and be fit tools for His use in the coming ingathering

Are We Settled on Our Lees? / Defending Our Old Wineskins?

Michael Clark

Are We Settled on Our Lees?

Michael Clark

Dear Saints of God,

Recently we were asked about the wine making process and the verse in Jeremiah that refers to wine being poured from one container to another. God in His word had a controversy with Moab because it had "settled on (its) lees."

11 Moab hath been at ease from his youth, and he hath settled on his lees, and hath not been emptied from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his taste remained in him, and his scent is not changed. 12 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will send unto him wanderers, that shall cause him to wander, and shall empty his vessels, and break their bottles. (Jeremiah 48:11-12, KJV).

Grape juice that is not preserved will readily ferment. This is caused by yeast. Different areas of the world have different forms of yeast that are peculiar to that area. These different types of yeast can give a taste to the wine that is not due entirely the type of grape used. Sometimes this is desirable. The yeast and the wine are named for the wine growing areas such as Burgundy or Bordeaux in France where they are found.

There is another form of yeast common worldwide that is not desirable to the wine maker. It is called the mother of vinegar. If this yeast gets in the wine, you will end up with wine vinegar.

Yeast, therefore, is a type of the acting of the trials of God on the crushed grapes our hearts. The same trial can make one Christian bitter and the other a fine wine that is to be set before the King. We decide the outcome in our hearts by the way we react to the testing of God sent to refine us for His purposes. A winemaker must constantly be on guard against the mother of vinegar, and take precautions so it doesn't get in the grape juice as the good yeast is added.

In modern wine making they use something called a trap that allows the wine to breath as the yeast is working. This trap contains a liquid poison in it that the air and CO2 must pass through. This kills the foreign yeast and prevents the wine from turning into vinegar. The fruit as well as the bottles must be sterilized to avoid this problem.

In the days of the Bible, they did not have this technology, so they used a fresh animal skin (Note: The requirement for the shedding of blood is even found here.) to put the curing grape juice in and sealed it. The elasticity of the new skin allowed it to expand and contract as the fermentation process went on inside, sealing the wine away from the possible contaminants in the atmosphere. This skin could only be used for this purpose once, and then it had to be discarded because it lost its elasticity. So you now see why Jesus warned us against trying to pour His new wine into the previously used container that He once honored.

As wine yeast eats the grape sugar and it secretes CO2 and ethyl alcohol, turning the grape juice into wine. If the yeast dies before all the sugar is consumed it will be a sweet wine, if not it will be a "dry" wine. If the wine is bottled before the process is complete, it will be a carbonated or sparkling wine with the CO2 captured in the liquid.

There is an undesirable byproduct caused both by the sediment that is in the grape juice that the yeast could not eat and the dead yeast bodies. This sediment is called dregs or lees. The alcohol secreted by the yeast eventually kills the yeast as the alcohol becomes too concentrated for the yeast to survive. These dead yeast bodies settle to the bottom with the other sediment. The wine maker must then pour the new wine off of the lees without stirring them up from the bottom. They either siphon or pour the wine into clean sterilized bottles. This has to be done a number of times to capture all the lees and make sure none are left in the wine. Cheap wines often have lees in the bottom of the bottles.

It is important to get rid of the lees because they will make the one who drinks them very sick. The wine will also be clouded and opaque. Dregs are not to be allowed in fine wines. God is very particular about His wine. He is always pouring off His people from one container to another to purify them and make them transparent and pure. We often get quite settled in and are content to have a few dead lees in our containers rather than be disturbed by the purification process that God knows we need to be ready for the wedding feast of the Lamb.

There is a story in the Gospels where God shows up with Elijah and Moses giving honor to Jesus. I find that our reaction to the Spirit's visitations is like that of Peter who said, "Lord it is good that we are here. Let us build three tabernacles..." In other words, "Let us just settle down and soak up the blessing. We have arrived, why go any further?" God always has the same reply, "This is my Beloved Son, hear HIM!" When we make a religion of Moses (law) and Elijah (the prophesy), we cannot hear what he Son has to say to the Church TODAY. When we cling to the old workings of God, refusing to flow with the current move of God, we displease Him. God never nullifies the previous move of the Spirit and revelation given to the Church, but rather He adds to it. He purifies the wine as He pours it into its new container.

I am familiar with what is called the House Church Movement. In fact, I prefer meeting in a home with a group of spiritually hungry saints as a family over meeting in a large, impersonal, institutional building as do some. But, there are some who tend to focused on the book of Acts and the way the early Church met in homes. There is a mindset that if we just meet in homes and do what the early Church did in Acts, we will capture the power and the life that they once had. I say, that this thinking is just as faulty as for today's Pentecostal Churches to focus on the Azusa Street outpouring, or the Methodists to focus on the Wesleyan Revival and make a denomination out of these. God is still saying the same thing, "Let him who has ears hear what the Spirit IS saying to the Churches." "The IS My Beloved Son...Hear Him."

We need to ask God to break us loose from our old wineskins and pour us out into His vessels of honor, making us ready for the Son. The Church, like Moab, has settled on it lees.

Often we would rather "hear" a tradition that emerges from the last outpouring, stay in that container from that point on, and just settle in on our lees. We hear the wrong thing. We should be hearing the Spirit of Jesus. We, like Moab, refuse to be poured from vessel to vessel. We refuse to go into the captivity and trials that come with the new vessel. As a result, we will never be purified for the Master's table. We, like Moab, are at ease from our youth, refusing to grow up. We sit in our churches from Sunday to Sunday, never changing, never learning the deeper truths of the way of the cross, never going beyond the need for milk. The taste and smell of dead yeast remains in us.

God is an iconoclast. He pulls down our icons. He would rather we were fluid, willing to leave our old bottles at His command, but now we are forcing Him to "break our bottles and empty our vessels." The day of judgement has come to the Church.

The prophet Micah wrote:

2 Many nations shall come and say, "Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, To the house of the God of Jacob; He will teach us His ways, And we shall walk in His paths." For out of Zion the law shall go forth, And the word of the LORD from Jerusalem. (Micah 4:2, NKJV).

Oh saints of God, forsake that "old wineskin" way of thinking and allow the Spirit of God to speak into your hearts His heart's desire for you. May we leave our "nations," our denomi-NATION-al thinking, and go UP to the mountain of God, the house of the Lord, and let HIM teach us of HIS ways that we might walk in HIS paths. May we hear the voice of the Lord coming down out of the New Jerusalem saying, "THIS IS MY BELOVED SON, HEAR HIM!"

Defending Our Old Wineskins?

Michael Clark

Thank you for your responses to my teaching, "Are We Settling on Our Lees?"

As some of you suspected, there is no scriptural basis for reusing old wineskins. One brother tried to use the parable of the good Samaritan where the Samaritan poured in oil and wine into the man's wounds to heal him, to say that an old wineskin can be made reusable by doing the same. There is a big difference in the intent of these two parables.

In Matthew chapter nine and Mark two where it speaks about the new wine and old wineskins, Jesus was responding to those who clung to following John the Baptist and to the followers of the Pharisees. He referred to their devotion to these teachings as "old wine skins." As I said in my article, God doesn't rejuvenate the old systems of men, He makes all things new.

9 Behold, the former things have come to pass, And new things I declare; Before they spring forth I tell you of them."(Isaiah 42:9, NKJV). (See also Isa. 43:19, 2 Cor. 5:17, and Rev. 21:5)

Men cling to their traditions and in so doing make void and of no effect the commandments of God, what the Spirit IS saying to the Church currently. This they do to their own downfalls.

In the parable of the Good Samaritan (Luke 10:25-37), Jesus is answering a legalistic Jew who asked Him, "Who is my neighbor?" to Jesus' statement "Love your neighbor as yourself." Jesus was here referring to a poor soul in need, the one fallen by the wayside who was being passed by the self-righteous Jews who didn't want to defile themselves with the blood of the man who had been beaten up (Of course their traditions told them to avoid human blood).

In the first instance (wineskins), Jesus is dealing with the fixed and inflexible institutions of men. In the second (the good Samaritan) He is dealing with the hearts of men and our need to show mercy to our fellow man.

Answer me this. If an old wineskin can be refurbished and made elastic and men then put in it the new wine once again, doesn't that make Jesus a liar? I think that some of us are so bound to your traditions that we will at all cost make our institutions "true" even if we have to make God a liar (See Rom. 3:3&4).

Also if the wineskin can be reused as some suggest, then how do you un-shrink a piece of old cloth so that you can patch it with a new piece? I am sorry, but it is this kind of thinking that Jesus was talking about when he warned the Pharisees, " [You are] making the word of God of no effect through your tradition which you have handed down. And many such things you do."(Mark 7:13, NKJV).

You see to some, the traditions of men are more important to keep than obeying the Holy Spirit in what He is telling the Church to do today both directly into our hearts and through His prophets. These are they of whom Jesus spoke in chapter 23 of Matthew.

29 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! Because you build the tombs of the prophets and adorn the monuments of the righteous,

30 "and say, 'If we had lived in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.'

{You are blind to your own self-righteousness as you cling to your traditions.}

31 "Therefore you are witnesses against yourselves that you are sons of those who murdered the prophets. 32 "Fill up, then, the measure of your fathers' [guilt]. 33 "Serpents, brood of vipers! How can you escape the condemnation of hell? 34 ¶ "Therefore, indeed, I send you prophets, wise men, and scribes: [some] of them you will kill and crucify, and [some] of them you will scourge in your synagogues and persecute from city to city, 35 "that on you may come all the righteous blood shed on the earth, from the blood of righteous Abel to the blood of Zechariah, son of Berechiah, whom you murdered between the temple and the altar. 36 "Assuredly, I say to you, all these things will come upon this generation.

{Can you see that it is THIS generation that is being judged as it rejects the leading of the Spirit today? God is still sending prophets to speak to the Church and guess what the result will be?}

37 "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, the one who kills the prophets and stones those who are sent to her! How often I wanted to gather your children together, as a hen gathers her chicks under [her] wings, but you were not willing! 38 "See! Your house is left to you desolate;

{These "hallowed institutions" of men that were built over the bones of the prophets of the past will be destroyed and left in desolation.}

39 "for I say to you, you shall see Me no more till you say, 'Blessed [is] He who comes in the name of the LORD!'"(Matt. 23:29-39) {Comments in brackets add by me.}

These who hold to their traditions will not see any rejuvenating of the Lord until they "let go and let God." They will not see Him again, until they say, "BLESSED IS HE, THE PROPHET, WHO COMES IN THE NAME AND THE SPIRIT OF THE LORD WITH GOD'S WORD FOR THIS HOUR!"

Those who are like the wind and follow the Spirit where ever He blows, WILL see Him, again and again.

Blessings on you as you seek HIM,

Michael Clark

A Song for the Church

Jack Helser

Greetings in Christ!

Enclosed is a prophetic song for the Church. It is a confirmation of 3 themes the prophets have declared recently:

- 1) The Church of Jesus Christ is victorious!
- 2) The call and mission of the Joshua Generation!
- 2) The time is now! Come forth!

The song is the Lord's gift to me, and He has instructed me in turn to give it to His Church (without cost) for personal use and corporate worship. The song and lyric sheets are free at the 2 web sites above. The lyrics can be found below. The Lord impressed me to list the scripture reference for each line of the song for use as a teaching/equipping tool for the Church.

SOUL BY SOUL

Lyrics and music by Jack Helser

Soul by soul we'll find the lost (Luke 15:4)
Lead them to the Savior's cross (Matthew 28:19-20)
Help them turn away from sin (James 5:20)
Die to self and live again (Luke 9:23-24)

Teach us at the Savior's feet (John 7:37-38, John 6:45)
Hold the milk bring on the meat (Hebrews 5:13-14)
Fit us with God's battle gear (Ephesians 6:14-18)
Time for war! His Kingdom nears! (Ecclesiastes 3:8, Mark 1:15)

(optional: Time to kick the devil's rear!)
(Luke 10:18-19, Ephesians 6:12)

CHORUS

Jesus! Hail the risen King! (Revelation 1:18)
Jesus! Conquers everything! (John 16:33)
Jesus! Every knee shall bow! (Romans 14:11)
Jesus! Is our victory now! (Romans 8:37) (repeat)

Step by step we'll win the war (John 12:31)
Raise your shields and draw your swords (Psalm 28:7, Hebrews 4:12)
Soon He'll give the trumpet blast (I Corinthians 14:8)
The time to fight has come at last (Ephesians 6:13)

No retreat - we'll forge ahead (James 4:7)
To take the cities, raise the dead (Matthew 24:14, John 14:12)

Like Jericho we'll march on hell (Hebrews 11:30, Matthew 16:18)
Sound the trumpets! Give the yell! (Joshua 6:20)

CHORUS

Song Background

Last November when we attended the Shiloh Equipping the Prophetic Conference in Kansas City, I went forward for prayer when Mike Bickle invited all the worship leaders to come forward for anointing and impartation for writing prophetic worship music.

I was truly blessed when the sister who prayed for me had a word of knowledge and asked the Lord to heal the carpal tunnel problem in my left hand which has at times hindered my guitar playing during worship. When I am faithful to my calling to write and record music for the Lord, there are no problems from the carpal tunnel syndrome. I can play the guitar for hours at a time.

However when I stray from the Lord's calling, the carpal tunnel flares up once again. It's proven to be an effective "thorn in the flesh" that keeps me on the straight and narrow path of the Lord.

During the 6 hour drive home from Shiloh, my wife and I had a wonderful time of prayer and fellowship, and recalling the conference which was such a blessing. When she decided to take a brief nap, I began hearing the beginnings of "Soul By Soul" in my spirit.

I clearly heard the melody, lyrics, and saw the guitar chords in spirit. I grabbed my micro-cassette recorder and sang the song as I heard it in my spirit.

When we returned home, the rush of the holidays and family travel caused me to put the song on the back burner, where I forgot about it. Last February, two of my prophetic friends sent words to me about "take up your sword and shield" and "bring down the walls of Jericho" which I received as a much needed kick in the britches to get the song finished and available to the Church.

I finished writing the song in March, and began what proved to be a near 6 month spiritual battle to get the song recorded, and available on the internet.

I've written several Christian songs over the years and have made tapes which I've passed out to friends and family. Writing and recording was never a problem for me until "Soul By Soul." There were more personal health problems, sound/music equipment problems, family health problems, unrelated legal problems, and outright spiritual battles associated with recording "Soul By Soul" than with all my other songs combined.

And the battle isn't over now that the song is recorded and freely available. One sister reported that when she tried to forward the song to several churches in her conference that her computer locked up repeatedly, or her internet connection hung up. She had never had problems like that before.

When I first posted it to Mp3.com 2 weeks ago I had to upload the song several times before it took. Once online the song rose to number 30 in the "Christian Rock" genre, but a 2 day glitch at Mp3.com prevented it from making the top 40 list where it would have had some visibility. And this morning when trying to send this message my computer crashed.

Why the attacks on this song?

I believe it conveys a message that satan doesn't want the Church to hear.

Meri Burlingame spoke to the issue in her word "To Possess or Not to Possess is the Choice" posted through your list on September 22nd. In the message Meri observed the church at a crossroads: either it becomes a "fortress Church" wherein the focus is to grow within while holding the sinful influence of the world at bay, or it shifts gears and becomes a "possessing Church" with the focus of reaching the lost and re-possessing the world which was lost to satan at the fall of man.

Possessing messages have also been spoken through Bobby Conner and Steve Shultz who have declared that God is raising up the "Joshua Generation". The song "Soul By Soul" also advocates the possessing church.

Even my hearing-damaged ears from years of electric guitars and loud amps can hear the Lord say "The Time is Now!" ;^)

I pray the song will be a blessing to the List and to the Church.

The song can be found in MP3 format at <http://www.mp3.com/jackhelser/> where it can be streamed over the internet in Lo or Hi Fidelity, or downloaded in Hi Fidelity and listened to at your convenience.

Microsoft Windows Media Player and Real Audio will play MP3 files. WinAmp, which is bundled with Netscape 4.6 and higher also plays MP3 files. There is also a Lo Fidelity streaming Real Audio version of "Soul By Soul" available at <http://www.theramp.net/helser/ccsongs/>

There anyone interested in singing the song at their church will find a lyric sheet suitable for making an overhead and guitar tablature in Microsoft Word.doc format.

Enjoy! And be blessed.

In Christ, Jack

A Storm is Coming

Jeanne Robinson

I recently received this Word from the Lord that my brother, who is an evangelist said I should submit. He is associated with the Missionary Baptist Church. His name is David Clements and his email address is emissary@mytalk.com

After talking with him, we both felt it is a confirming Word to many that have been hearing this message from the Lord recently.

Thank you for a chance to share this with the Body of Christ.

Sincerely, Jeanne M. Robinson<alienisus@yahoo.com>

The word is as follows:

A Storm is Coming

A storm is coming and everything that is not built on the sure foundation of Jesus Christ will be wiped out. As the strong winds blow and the rain beats down, what is not anchored to the Word of God will wash away. Where sin remains it will be exposed. Hearken unto me and repent, stop making excuses. Are you like David, do you desire truth in your innermost being or are you content to treasure compromise and dishonesty? What is it that I desire in a man but to do justice, love mercy and walk humbly with your God? Yet you have chosen high places in your own hearts over me. Bring down those high places and humble yourselves before me. Which will you choose, the beautiful castle built on the sand or the simple house built on the rock? You judge yourself by your own appearance of righteousness and the reflection of others. You should be looking into the mirror of My Word, allowing Me to change you from glory to glory. Lay down your life, lay down your life for me.

Ashes Of The Red Heifer

Doug Fortune

I read an article recently pertaining to the ashes of a red heifer, the construction of the Third Temple, and the return of Christ... the basic premise being that if the sacrifice of the red heifer for purification and the Third Temple were complete, that this would facilitate the return of Christ. However, in taking a strictly literal view of this, are we perhaps missing the intent and purpose of God? Let's not forget that, "...all these things happened to them for examples, and are written for our admonition..."(1Cor.10:11), and that "...such things are only the shadow of things that are to come, they have only a symbolic value. But the reality, the substance, the solid fact of what is foreshadowed, the body of it belongs to CHRIST..."(Col.2:17). Could it be that this subject deserves a closer look? ... I do believe so.

I believe that the completion of the 'temple' is absolutely paramount in the eternal purposes of God! Consider however, that in Acts 7:48 and 17:24 the Scripture states clearly that He does NOT dwell in temples made with hands; and in 1Cor.3:16-17, 1Cor.6:19, 2Cor.6:16 it says WE are the temple of God; and Eph. 2:22 says, "you yourselves also are being built up with the rest, to form a FIXED ABODE (dwelling place) of God in the SPIRIT.". THIS is the temple God is concerned with!

Consider also that in Rev. 1:1 is says, "This is the REVELATION of Jesus Christ...", the uncovering, the unveiling or the REVEALING of Jesus Christ. Verse seven goes on to say that He is coming, or being REVEALED with CLOUDS; Acts 1:9 says, "...a CLOUD received Him...". I believe that this CLOUD that received Him and that he is returning in is none other than the '...great CLOUD of witnesses...' (Heb. 12:1) that we are surrounded by... so we are already seeing the beginning of one aspect of the return of Christ to His temple as he is REVEALED IN US... Christ IN US, the hope of glory. Even verse 13 of Rev. 1 tells us that Christ is revealed "...in the midst of the Lampstands..." and verse 20 tells us that these Lampstands are the Church!

Let's explore the offering of the red heifer though, as I believe that this is a true key to seeing the ultimate fulfillment of the coming of Christ. As you read in Numbers chapter 19, keep in mind that the entire purpose and context of this particular sin offering is for anyone "...who touches the DEAD body of any person..." (Numb.19:11), this is extremely significant... I'll explain in a moment. Firstly however, we notice that it is a RED heifer... the color red is symbolic of those who are covered under the blood of Jesus Christ. It is also a HEIFER, in other words a female and a virgin... the Church is always referred to in the female gender, a Virgin Bride. The red heifer was to be without SPOT or BLEMISH... "That he might present it to Himself a glorious Church, not having spot... it should be holy and without blemish..." (Eph.5:27). The heifer was to be free of any YOKE... "in that day his burden shall be taken from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy neck, and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the anointing." (Is.10:27); "If the Son therefore shall make you free, you shall be free indeed." (John 8:36). The heifer was to be taken OUTSIDE the camp and slaughtered... Jesus was taken outside the city and slaughtered, and remember He said, "...if I be lifted up from the earth I will draw ALL men unto Me. This He said signifying what death he should die (crucifixion)." (John 12:32). He drew ALL men unto Him on the cross; it was NOT just one man on the cross, WE were crucified in Christ, "We know that our old self WAS nailed to the cross with Him..." (Rom.6:6). Also, the red heifer was to be totally consumed with fire, the skin, flesh, blood, and dung... there is a baptism of fire for us that consumes our vanity and pride (skin), our carnal desires (flesh), the SOULISH (mind, will, emotions) psuche life that is in the blood, and, well... you can figure out the last part! (A little humor never hurts!) As the heifer was in the consuming fire (Heb.12:29) they were to cast in cedar wood, hyssop and scarlet... the cedars of Lebanon were the tallest and most valuable trees and Lebanon means 'whiteness or pureness', this speaks of spiritual maturity IN Christ; the hyssop speaks of the humility IN Christ; and scarlet speaks of the blood of Christ, our new blood line, our new heritage as Kings and Priests in the order of Melchizedek. Verse 12 of Numbers chapter 19 says, "He shall purify himself with the WATER for impurity made with the ashes of the burned heifer on the THIRD DAY, and on the SEVENTH DAY he shall be clean...". This water points us to Eph.5:26, "...that He might sanctify her, having cleansed her by the washing of water with the Word...". Are we starting to get a picture of who this red heifer is symbolic of?

Now then, remember the whole purpose and context of this heifer sacrifice?... it was for any who touch a 'dead body'. "We know that our old self WAS NAILED to the cross with Him... we were BURIED therefore with Him by the baptism into death..." (Rom.6:6&4); "For as far as this world is concerned you have DIED, and your new, real life is hid with Christ in God..." (Col.3:2). Friends, there are those who are trying to bring the Old Man (Adam nature) into revival in hopes he will be reformed; there are those who are trying to bring spiritual healing to the Old Man through inner healing; there are those who through the disciplines of Bible study, positive confession, fasting and many other activities are trying to modify the behavior of the Old Man... am I saying that revival, inner healing, discipline, etc. are bad?... NO, I am saying that they are ineffective in dealing with the Old Man (Adam nature). The ONLY thing that is effective is reckoning the Old Man CRUCIFIED, DEAD, and BURIED in Christ... touch NOT the dead man! Quit digging him up and trying to heal him, or revive him, or get him to behave... Adam is reprobate!... reckon him DEAD and don't touch him! You see, in prophetic millennial terms, THIS is the THIRD DAY in Christ and the SEVENTH DAY from Adam!... we are CLEAN!

I'll borrow from Gary Garner's writing for a moment here. Perhaps there is an aspect of the old sin nature that is plaguing and killing you, the 'sin that so easily besets you', like the snakes that were killing the children of Israel in Numbers 21. God did NOT instruct them to go on a snake hunt to kill them with discipline, or to try and domesticate them and heal their inner aggressive behavior, or to try and charm them into a hypnotic state in a revival service; He simply had the people LOOK at the brazen serpent that was lifted up and they were healed. We must SEE that old sin behavior that is trying to kill us as it was LAID ON Christ... that lust, that pride, that hatred literally laid on Christ and crucified, dead and buried... "for our sake He made Christ virtually to BE SIN who knew NO sin, so that in and through Him we might become the righteousness of God..."(2Cor.5:21). Jesus said, "...just as Moses lifted up the serpent in the desert on a pole, so must the Son of Man be lifted up on the cross..."(John 3:14).

This truth is absolutely imperative to the sanctification and completion of the true temple of God that WE are being built up into because Numb. 19:13 says, "Whoever touches the corpse of any who has died, and does not purify himself, defiles the tabernacle of the Lord... because the water for impurity (made with the ashes of the red heifer) was not SPRINKLED upon him...". You see, sometimes I accidentally bump into the dead man, that Adam sin nature takes occasion in my flesh because we are creatures of habit and I lived from my SOUL realm for many years even after accepting Christ (as most people do). Now if I turn my focus, my attention on the dead man and try to make him behave or try to understand psychologically or spiritually why he manifested bad behavior (like DUH!... that's a no-brainer!... he's reprobate and acting according to his nature!), or go on a 'snake hunt', then I defile the tabernacle of the Lord! Rather, I am to, "...draw near... having our hearts SPRINKLED and purified (this is the water of the ashes of the red heifer!) from a GUILTY EVIL conscience and our bodies cleansed with pure water (the Word)..."(Heb.10:22). I MUST look to the FINISHED work of the CROSS, understanding that the Old Man was crucified, dead and buried, confess my sin and turn from it, and MOVE ON in the purpose and call of God. I MUST understand that THIS is the THIRD DAY and the SEVENTH DAY and I am CLEAN, a purified temple fit for Christ to REVEAL Himself in. THIS is the red heifer that I am interested in!... THIS is the red heifer that purifies the temple not made with hands, making it ready for the FULL manifestation of Christ in the earth.

I realize that there are some very sincere, well-intentioned people looking through barnyards for red heifers, and I mean them no disrespect, but I believe that there is a much greater purpose here. As for me, I'm leaving the dead man alone and not looking to a literal heifer to complete what God has purposed.

As Hidden Treasure

Seek Me As Hidden Treasure
Stephen Hanson May 6, 00

For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also. Matt. 6:21

Blessed is the man who finds wisdom, the man who gains understanding, for she is more profitable than silver and yields better returns than gold. She is more precious than rubies; nothing you desire can compare with her. Prov. 3:13-15

"The kingdom of heaven is like treasure hidden in a field. When a man found it, he hid it again, and then in his joy went and sold all he had and bought that field. Matt. 13:44

"I would you show you a man who is in search of something."

"This man traveled over many far seas and areas of the world. He traveled over mountains and he traveled over deserts. He walked the streets of many of the cities of this world. Many people have been searching and they have not found the answer."

"You must look for Me more than you would look for fine gold. I AM the treasure that was hidden in the field. I say, escalate for Me, and you find Me in the midst of your everyday life. You will find Me as a treasure hidden. Wisdom is more to be desired than fine gold or silver, but I AM more than just mere wisdom. Look for Me and you will find Me.

(I saw a golden chalice which was lifted up and was being drunk, and passed around to people.)

"Will you drink the cup that I have drunk? I say that I have offered my life freely to those who would come to Me. Drink of that life-giving stream, the one which flows from my throne. Those who seek Me are rewarded. As David said, "Oh taste and see that the Lord is good." During the stillness of the morning and during the day, I will speak. Those who hunger and thirst for righteousness will filled with my Spirit. But you must hunger and thirst for Me more than you would anything else. "

"I have called some to the mountain in this hour, and I have called some to the caves. There is a battle which is raging and I have called you all to partake in it. Oh dear people of mine, do not be lax in the things you do. Be wise as serpents, but innocent as doves. And do not be lax in your worship, for I AM a rewarder of those who diligently seek after Me."

"Seek Me in times of plenty, and seek Me in great need. Seek Me at all times and I will be there to answer. "

"Look for the treasure that was hidden, and you will find it in Me."

Do Not Venture Into Darkness
Stephen Hanson

I pray that these prophetic messages will bring life and illumination from the Father unto you; give glory back unto

Him, and help us in this hour. His servant---Stephen Hanson <http://www.angelfire.com/in/HisTruth>

May 13, 00

12. The night is nearly over; the day is almost here. So let us put aside the deeds of darkness and put on the armor of light. 13. Let us behave decently, as in the daytime, not in orgies and drunkenness, not in sexual immorality and debauchery, not in dissension and jealousy. 14. Rather, clothe yourselves with the Lord Jesus Christ, and do not think about how to gratify the desires of the sinful nature. Rom 13

"In the daylight the shadows have past."

"The secret deeds of darkness are done in the darkness. The enemy does his work behind the scenes and in the darkness. The light of my Son has shone and he (the enemy), has never understood it, but I say, my sons and daughters will expose his deeds. Every wicked thing imaginable is normally done under the veil of darkness."

"The night has come for many on this earth. Behold, will you be found with oil in your lamps?"

(The Lord showed me a house and the front door was open slightly. On the edge of this door was hung a lamp, very much like a street lamp. Just outside the door where the lamp was hung, were several demons who were there, huddled together as if planning something.)

"I the Lord say... shut the doors of your houses. Do not venture out into the darkness. For that is where you will find all the vile deeds of darkness. But I say, do the work that I've called all of you to do. Be a shining example of my light in this world. Do the deeds of charity, of helping the poor, lifting-up the broken hearted and setting the captives free. "

"I have said that I will expose the works of the enemy. I will show many of you a way into his camp."

(The Lord showed me a scene of a feast. There was a long table, and at one end was a royal chair, and sitting on this chair was Satan himself. As I looked at his chair, I noticed that he appeared very much like what death might look like. There was a gray veil over everything in the room. He was passing around various plates of food of all sorts of things to those who were sitting around this table. There was something served, and then something else would be passed around to those sitting. I then asked the Lord what they were doing, and He said: "They are feasting on the deeds of darkness.")

The Lord then continued saying:

"These foods are not merely "foods," but they are the things that the enemy "feeds" on. For his delicacies are treachery and deceit; they are murder and gossip; they are lust and anger. Such are the things that he feeds on at his table. But I, the King of heaven and earth, am preparing a feast, a royal feast for you. For it is the royal feast of the marriage supper of the Lamb. Soon the enemy's feast will be over. Come and feast at my table. Do not venture out into the darkness, but I will expose his deeds by my light."

There Is A Design

Ecclesiastes 3

1. There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under heaven: 2. a time to be born and a time to die, a time to plant and a time to uproot, 3. a time to kill and a time to heal, a time to tear down and a time to build, 4. a time to weep and a time to laugh, a time to mourn and a time to dance, 5. a time to scatter stones and a time to gather them, a time to embrace and a time to refrain, 6. a time to search and a time to give up, a time to keep and a time to throw away, 7. a time to tear and a time to mend, a time to be silent and a time to speak, 8. a time to love and a time to hate, a time for war and a time for peace. 9. What does the worker gain from his toil? 10. I have seen the burden God has laid on men. 11. He has made everything beautiful in its time. He has also set eternity in the hearts of men; yet they cannot fathom what God has done from beginning to end.

"Look to the sky and you will understand what the weather is like. Look to the east and you know that the sun is coming up; look to the west and you know that it is coming down."

"There are regular cycles in the weather and in each day. Light begins as each morning starts, and night comes and it is veiled in the darkness. There is a definite "rhythm" to each and every day. I have set these things as cycles in the heavens and on the earth below, so that man would see the pattern which is set. There is a time for every season and purpose under heaven. Have I not said these things in my word? You can even see these things in the animals as well. For they know when to eat, and they know when to rest. All nature shows forth its manifold wisdom, for it was created by Me to give forth its glory back unto Me. "

"If nature has a rhythm and a design to it, does not man? So there is an order and a plan for him to live out his days. I speak to you young lions....'Know when it is time to rest. Know when it is time to enter into battle' I speak to you eagles....'Know when it is time to soar in the heavenlies. Know when it is time to speak, and know when it is time to be silent. I speak to you, shepherds of the flock....'Know when it is time to guard the flock, and know when it is time to "let go." Know when it is time to minister, and know when it is time to let others minister as well. "

"To everyone who has will more be given unto you. To those who have put their faith and trust in Me, I will enable them to walk with Me and to talk with Me. See if I will not open the windows of heaven for you. Make the best of every opportunity that you are given. Surely, the days are evil, but I will redeem the time for my beloved. Know the pattern which I have set forth in every day; and see that pattern and design in each of your lives. "

"Day will break forth unto day until my return. Know the times and the seasons, and know the season which you are in as well."

Consider These Things
Stephen Hanson

May 27, 00

6. You will hear of wars and rumors of wars, but see to it that you are not alarmed. Such things must happen, but the end is still to come. 7. Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be famines and earthquakes in various places. 8. All these are the beginning of birth pains. Matt. 24

"The rolling river and the ocean bring news."

"Consider how the ocean tides rise and fall. Consider how they rise to a great height. Consider how a storm would start."

(Here the Lord showed me how a tornado might start. I saw the Lord reach down and begin causing the wind to twirl around and around to form a tornado. I then saw a dark sky with this tornado in the distance. There was a small city in the background, and the tornado was approaching.)

"There are "storms" and tidings which I will show. With the storms and with the ocean tides, there are spiritual "tidings" as well. For I would say that these storms are an indicator of the spiritual climate in which you live. Look and you will see the significance of these things. I said in my word that there would be earthquakes and various signs upon the earth, and I said that these would be "indicators" about my soon return."

"I said that there would be wars and rumors of wars. And yes, it is true that there have always been wars, but I AM saying that these wars and these rumors will escalate. The important thing to realize is that these wars are an indicator of the "wars" which are within you. For there are wars within my body and there are wars within my church. Many of you are divided about various issues. You pick your own individual doctrines and you "stretch them out." The WHOLE COUNSEL of God is important here. "

"Again, consider how a wave rolls in and out on the ocean. It rises and falls. It recedes and it levels out and it gets smooth. So is a person's spiritual life. So know these things and understand them as well. So understand these things and you will know that there is a certain "flow" to this life. There is a certain "naturalness" to this life. There are "peaks" and there are "falls" in your own lives. But as the ocean waves swell and rise to great heights, so there are times when these rises can get out of hand; and so with the ocean it can have great storms as well."

"And so know that there are storms which are coming, and know that these storms are an indicator of the spiritual climate in this world. But do not look to the sky, nor to the world around you for these things, but look to Me."

A Season Of Birthing

Bill Burns

April 7, 2000

"Now comes the spring of the year when the kings go out to war. The springtime is also a birthing time. You must now guard yourselves, My people, for the kings (rulers) of darkness have come to devour that which I am birthing in you.

Even as the vultures wait to swoop down and kill the unguarded newly born, so will the evil one come to steal those things which I am now birthing in you. I say, a season of birthing has come to My people, for surely the earth itself groans and labors with birth pangs to bring forth the glorious liberty of the children of God.

This liberty that I speak of will be brought forth by a new spiritual positioning which will bring forth great victory in the days ahead. You must now labor in prayer to birth the glory that is to be revealed in you. You must now arise from your resting place and follow Jacob to the birthing place. I say, arise now and unburden yourselves, for some old things must be left behind so the new can be birthed. Ephratah shall once again become a birthing place of the supernatural work that I now bring forth by My spirit, says the Lord."

This is one of those words that needs to be expounded so that we may receive "revealed truth," and thereby understand the fullness of the Master's word.

Ephratah means fertility; it is also the ancient name for Bethlehem, which means a place of food. So, we have a fertile place of conception which will then be birthed in our spirits as rich food (revealed word of God) that will give growth (manifestation) to that which was birthed.

Genesis chapter 35 reveals that which was spoken of in the word we just received (conceived). Jacob had found his God at Bethel (House of God) and then without explanation, God moved Jacob to Ephratah (Bethlehem). This was only a distance of 5 miles, and Rachel was pregnant.

Rachel died on the journey in childbirth and named Jacob's son Ben Oni (son of my sorrow), but Jacob renamed his son Benjamin (son of my right hand). The Lord said, "Some old things must be left behind so the new can be birthed."

Why did God move Jacob to Bethlehem? So he could position him in this proper place to bring forth the work of the Lord that was before him. God moved Jacob to Bethlehem so a Ruth could marry a Boaz and they would give birth to an Obed, who would give us a Jesse who would give us a David and eventually to a Mary who would give us Jesus. (See Matthew 1:5-16)

It cost Jacob his Rachel to move into God's purpose. It may cost you some relationships to move to your place of birthing. It also cost God something to give us the opportunity to enter into His kingdom.

Follow with me the signs given first in the natural. Rachel means "a lamb!" A Lamb had to die (Son of God's sorrow) before we could have a son of God's right hand, the only begotten of the Father, who now sits at His right hand.

The church is now on a spiritual journey from Bethel (house of God) to Bethlehem, the place of birthing of God's purposes into the lives of each one that has heard the Master's call, "Arise and leave the old, and come forth into the fullness of My purposes."

Prophetic Utterance through Bill Burns:

April 2, 2000:

Get ready to move with the flow of this river. There is a new depth today. There is a spiritual order coming that will release the power of Almighty God through His vessels. It will no longer be a matter of hoping that God will move; you will walk in full authority because God has sent you, for He will bring you into the fullness of power for ministry. I send you forth to break the powers of darkness, to open the floodgates of heaven, that blessings be poured out and that those bound in darkness be set free and released in the flow and anointing of this river.

Words from the Lord to Marsha Burns:

April 3, 2000:

I had a dream last night of a young man that I was trying to do business with, but he would not tell me what he wanted, though I knew very well that he had something in mind. In the dream I was prepared to give him whatever he asked, but he would not ask, and I had to walk away having given him nothing. When I awoke, I heard the Lord say, that's how some of My people are. I want to do business with you, but you will not ask of Me. How can you be about My business if you are afraid to ask for what you want and need? For, when you are in fear you are double-minded and receive nothing. I say to you, cast aside the fear that keeps you from moving in the power of faith to receive. Have I not said that if you ASK anything in My name, I will do it? James 4:2-3, "You lust and do not have. You murder and covet and cannot obtain. You fight and war. Yet you do not have because you do not ask. You ask and do not receive, because you ask amiss, that you may spend it on your pleasures."

April 4, 2000:

Break up your fallow ground. Many of you have sown among thistles, and the weeds have choked out your harvest. You are still trying to eke out a harvest in barrenness. I say to you, stop wasting your time lamenting over past failures. Cut your losses short. It is time for you to break new ground and sow new seeds, but I say to you, sow in righteousness. Sow according to My plans and purposes, and you will reap a great harvest. Now is the time to plant. Now is the time to build. For, I say, if you will sow according to My direction and build according to My plans, I will not pluck up that which is planted or tear down that which is built. But, if you build according to your own desires, and if you sow with selfish motives, lust or greed, you will be sowing among thorns.

Hosea 10:12-13, "Sow for yourselves righteousness; reap in mercy; break up your fallow ground, for it is time to seek the LORD, till He comes and rains righteousness on you. You have plowed wickedness; you have reaped iniquity. You have eaten the fruit of lies, because you trusted in your own way, in the multitude of your mighty men."

April 5, 2000:

Watch out! Here comes discouragement and heaviness to keep you out of the flow of My Spirit. The main goal is to cause you to feel like a fish out of water with a sense of displacement and a feeling of inadequacy. I say, refuse to yield to this confidence crisis. Stay steady. This cloud of discouragement is like a spring storm which will move through quickly. All you have to do is not get caught up in the whirlwind of its movement nor overreact to your feelings. There are some changes you need to make, but you must wait until this storm passes through. The enemy wants you to act hastily so that you will miss the mark of solid direction, instruction and wisdom. Ephesians 6:10-11, "Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might. Put on the whole armor of God, that you may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil."

Expanding 4/4/00 1:57 p.m.

I am *expanding the minds of My children. Things that have kept you from advancing are being torn down. I am doing a fine job of replacing those things with the truth of your God ringing soundly in your minds. I want none ignorant of My truths. I want My children to walk holy before Me with a deeper knowledge of My love than they have ever experienced. I am expanding minds to receive My truth, beloved. I am expanding minds to receive the glories of your God and King as they unfold in your midst. I want you to know that the time is right for you to experience Me and My vast array of goodness toward My beloved. I want you to know that I am knocking down barriers that have hindered these glorious experiences in Me. Please come to Me in an attitude of compliance and let Me tear down these barriers to My truth. Let Me turn the tables on the enemy and present you with the most lovely. I am speaking to you today of a glorious awakening that is coming your way. Be ready to receive, by laying aside all of your preconceived ideas and resting in the knowledge of My great love for you. I wish to open vistas to you that will send your heart soaring. I want you on that higher plain with Me, soaring and bounding over the enemy's territory with giant leaps. This is the time to look on the present and know that your God is working NOW to bring this thing to pass. I am eager to have you in this avenue of faith, beloved. Most eager! Hold on to your hats now! The time is right for a deeper exploration to go forth in your heart. Acknowledge the will of your God as it breaks forth and give to Me your sound resolve to remain constant in the faith. I want My children to comply with My wishes. I want the best for you-for you all, beloved. I want to give the best I have to offer to My beloved. Do not stay in the trenches of despair. Rise up believing and know the fullness of your God as He presents to you the glorious and unhindered reassurances of His love. I am going to expand some willing minds. I am going to teach you My way, beloved. I am going to show you My truths. Give over those things that are holding you back, as I point them out to you. Give them to Me. Let the barriers fall! Let the redeemed speak! For the Lord God Almighty is giving you the true and glorious knowledge of His will and He wants you to march forth in an attitude of thanksgiving for all that is coming your way-all that I am presenting to you. For I am speaking to you of a greater and unlimited resource being offered to you that you might enter into the most holy and may know better your most holy Lord. This is an offer you cannot refuse, beloved. This is an offer that SHOULD NOT be refused by anyone, anytime- EVER!!!

expand-1. to spread out; open out; stretch out; unfold 2. to make greater in size, bulk, scope, etc.; enlarge; dilate; extend 3. to enlarge upon (a topic idea, etc.)

April 6, 2000:

Have I not said that I did not come to bring peace but a sword? And he who does not take his cross and follow after Me is not worthy of Me? He who finds his life will lose it, and he who loses his life for My sake will find it. He who receives you receives Me, and he who receives Me receives Him who sent Me. He who receives a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward. And he who receives a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righteous man's reward. I am calling you to a closer walk with Me. I have set you apart from before the foundation of the earth, and I am calling you forth for such a time as this. Be done with social and political religious exercise. Draw close to My heart and incline your ear to hear My leading, for I have a plan and purpose that cannot be accomplished where you are. I am leading you out to do great exploits in My name, for you have been content to eat the crumbs that fall from My table when I have called you to be a guest at My banquet. Humble yourself, submit completely to My will, and you will be moved into a place of greater effectiveness in the Kingdom than you could ever have imagined or believed. Expect the enemy's greatest resistance at your point of emergence.

April 8, 2000:

I see the hearts of those who feel alone and isolated, but I say to you, I am raising up all who will come to Me for inclusion. I am bringing My remnant together and binding them together for My purposes. I am uniting the hearts of My people to be one with Me. "Strengthen the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees, and make straight paths for your feet, so that what is lame may not be dislocated, but rather be healed." For, I am surely bringing My Body together and placing each one in proper order for My purposes according to My pattern.

A Sovereign God

I Am Working Out Your Salvation

Olivia Reitz

A Sovereign God

Olivia Reitz

October 1, 2000

A SOVEREIGN GOD

I AM the Most High God, the Sovereign God of the universe! No-one can ward off My hand. My counsel shall stand and I shall have My pleasure. And no person, no thing can hinder or compel or stop me!

All position and power IS MINE to give and a manifestation of My presence is quickly approaching. I lift up those whom I wish and I shall set over it the lowliest of men. And I cast down those who have lifted their heads in pride, arrogance, who are self-seeking and promoting self sovereignty.

Very quickly, I will break upon this earth both blessing and cursing. Shadrack, Meshack and Abednego...knew their God was sovereign and they submitted to the one who has absolute sovereignty. Haven't I said that you must obey Me rather than Men?

Will you bow your knee to the true sovereign God? The time is at hand. Which do you choose, My children, Blessing or Cursing?

October 5, 2000

A SOVEREIGN GOD

Part Two

Have I not said that "no" man has the ability to stop what I AM about to do? I shall both deliver and judge. I shall bring both blessings and cursings.

America, I have been most willing to show My great mercy, if only you had shown sincere repentance. But you have continued in your evil ways, from the house to the White House. You have but a short, short time to kneel at My feet in repentance. For My plan and My timetable will NOT be stopped and it is done for the sake of My Holy Name.

Many, I say many of you have felt that you are not accountable to your Sovereign God. Now is the time for your decision, for I am bringing My winds and you must decide which of My winds shall blow upon you.

My Feasts have begun. I have said to blow the trumpet in Zion and sound an alarm in My Holy Mountain, for the Day of the Lord is at hand and I shall make My Presence known throughout the world.

Have I not said I have chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise....and have chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty?

My "Sons" shall arise, rising up out of obscurity, filled with My Might, filled with My Power and filled with My Glory! They are My chosen ones who have endured and remained faithful to Me. Even now, I am bringing to a completion, the sealing of "My Sons of Glory".

My winds are changing. Have you not heard that a storm is coming from the North? Remember, My children, North is the direction of My Throne. The North Wind brings deliverance and power, and as deliverance comes, so shall you see the judgment and power of My East Winds. You shall stand in awe and in reverential fear.

I said I shall send deliverance from My North Winds. Prepare to see all that I will do through My "chosen ones". For as My North Winds blow, they shall be manifested in the flesh, by and through My Spirit and through both the North and West Winds they will have power, deliverance and restoration.

These are people who have been "born of the spirit" and will become a part of the wind. My prophet Joel gave you a picture of My people who become like a wind.*

My Army shall not be effected by the East Winds, for they shall be refreshed by the South Winds and empowered by the North Winds.

The Great Harvest is upon you and "these works" are by MY hand, not man.

The "Breath of My Spirit" is about to blow over this world. My angels are standing at attention to release the winds.

Which of My winds shall blow upon you? Now is the time for you to "listen" and bow your knee to your Sovereign God!!!

* Joel 2:7-11

 North Wind ... God's Throne, majesty, authority and power
South Wind ... refreshment, comfort
West Wind ... restoration, end of the age
East Wind ... judgment

October 9, 2000

Persecution against MY people has been used by the enemy to eliminate their testimony. People say, "Well, they are good, but bad things happen to them". They see this as a curse and they want "no" part of Christianity. Even some of My own have fallen along the way due to the intense fire. BUT I AM a just and faithful God. I AM GOD, there is no other. To fear, love and to trust in ME 'must' be above all things.

My children, you have been in the fiery furnace and it has been turned up seven times hotter, as it was with My three Hebrew children.... BUT your Father, My Son and My angels have been watching My trusting ones, that only the dross may be consumed. Remember, My children, "true metal", Satan has no power over to hurt or destroy. And any blow aimed at you, falls upon your Savior, Jesus Christ. HE IS YOUR DEFENSE, MY CHILDREN, JESUS IS YOUR DEFENSE!

At times, you have only heard the Father's silence. But Oh, My Child, if you have faith in JESUS and TRUST and wait long enough, the blessings always come. THEY ALWAYS COME!

Many of you had realized Jesus as Savior, but also, many of you had not realized Him as Lord, and you found it very frustrating to live in My Kingdom while trying to avoid living under the Lordship of Jesus. In fact, My child, you could not! You were still trying to run your own life. But, you have wholly and completely surrendered your will to My consuming and refining fires!

You have been in the refiner's fire. My beloved Malachi, preached that the Messiah (Jesus) would be like a refiner's fire, He would purify the people.* You also have been told that Jesus will baptize with the Holy Ghost and Fire. By your own will, you have accepted the refiners fire and you have found that this has not been a warm, fuzzy fire, but a "consuming fire"!

My Vashti church is full of pride, self-will and rebellion. My Vashti's are playing church, while My Esther's have risked all to enter into My manifest presence and My Esther's are about to come forth as burning lights in the darkness. They have been sanctified by My consuming and refining fires. They have paid the price and in this hour shall come forth. And they shall walk in My Love, My Power and IN MY NAME!

My decree is about to go forth against the enemy of God's people and you are about to see the deliverances, the restorations and the harvest that are about to "quickly" appear on the scene.

My Word says to beware of the wolves! To My Chosen Ones, again, I say, "beware of the wolves". The ones dressed in 'sheeps' clothing. My Faithful Ones, you must keep your "tired and weary eyes" open and alert, at ALL times to see the hidden agendas amongst the wolves.

The fire has been burning, My Chosen Ones, turned up the seven times hotter, and beyond, but your day is coming, yea, it is here and the Sun of Righteousness shall rise with healing in it's wings....and you shall go forth. **

You are getting ready for war. In the beginning of the last century, there was a phrase "The war to end all wars". No, my chosen ones, the war to end all wars is just beginning.

"NEVERTHELESS"... I will set things right. My Spirit is raising a standard against the enemy. No matter how things 'appear', the Great I AM is working out your salvation!

* Malachi 3:2-4 He will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and He will purify the priests, the Sons of Levi, and refine them like gold and silver, that they may offer to the Lord offerings in righteousness. Then will the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasing to the Lord as in the days of old and as in ancient years.

Malachi 4:1-2 For Behold, the day comes that shall burn like an oven, and all the proud and arrogant, yes, and all that do wickedly and are lawless, shall be stubble; the day that comes shall burn them up, says the Lord of Hosts, so that it will leave them neither root nor branch. But unto you who revere and worshipfully fear My name shall the Sun of Righteousness arise with healing in His wings and His beams, and you shall go forth and gambol like calves [released] from the stall and leap for joy.

As The Dew Begins

Sharon Marks

The Father showed me this in an open vision and I can not begin to relate to you the wondrous peace and joy I received from Father as He gave... What an awesome Dad we serve!!!

As the dew begins on the top of the mountain [Christ], slowly descending it gathers together. What was mist becomes as tear drops [God crying out to His people], descending further.

It becomes as a slow moving river [His mercy and grace] steady and sure. It reaches the bottom and then becomes a powerful waterfall [His anointing].

The water disperses into the north, south, east, west, gathering and uprooting all that are not firmly planted into fertile ground [Jesus] -- bringing them forth into a place of sorrow [repentance] and to the fountains of Living Water [Holy Spirit] and into a fine Vineyard [life] -- to be grafted into the newness of life [born again].

Then He revealed to me that as we stand in worship, His anointing begins as mist on His Head, traveling down His body, as did the water flow down the mountain. It gathered together forming a mighty river until it reached the hem of His garment.

It speaks that if we truly desire to be immersed in His anointing [around, through, over and below], then we MUST HUMBLE our hearts before Him [prostrate ourselves before Him], then we may touch the hem of His garment.

As The Waters Cover The Sea

Judith Grobelny

Over the past two weeks in times of prayer, and in visions, I have constantly seen an abundance of gold in the spiritual realm. Many are being stripped down, remoulded, and repositioned by the Lord at this time in preparation to receive what is already prepared in the heavenlies. Never have I seen such spiritual abundance available to come forth, and this appears to be linked to abundance of provision to accomplish what God desires. In a time of intercession recently we saw a huge meeting of God's people in a stadium and the offering being taken up in large baskets, these were overflowing. When the offering was over, the baskets were brought to the front of the meeting and the needy were invited to help themselves out of the abundance, there was such a sense of overwhelming joy as this took place.

Today as I have been spending time with My Lord, the following scripture came to me a number of times; HABAKKUK 2:14 For the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord as the waters cover the sea. Following on from that I felt He was asking me to look with my eyes wide open at the abundance of gold that could be seen in the spiritual atmosphere.

I see gold in the spiritual realm, and even with open eyes I see that the cloud of God's presence is rapidly descending over the earth, especially over New Zealand, now.

I see the river of God is going to flow powerfully over and through His people. I see it flowing over people who are burning up in sin, putting out the flames of fleshly desires and addictions, and then washing the soot and ashes from their bodies.

Right behind this flow of living water there is a great outpouring of oil. Thick, rich, golden oil. I see it soothing, healing, restoring, strengthening, especially those so recently washed clean.

I see those who previously played in the river of God's Spirit now being immersed in thick golden oil which will both empower and protect them. The difference between these two experience is like going from being children frolicking in the small waves on the edge of the sea to becoming adults swimming in the deep ocean.

I see, as I have seen before, people coated in this oil, so thickly that it drips from their hands and feet. There will be no striving for those willing to immerse themselves in God's presence. He will flow from them in every place and in every circumstance. They will be completely unassuming and natural as this happens.

There is a new elevation connected with this for those who move in the prophetic. At this time I see that many are part-way in this elevation, and their eyes are seeing about half of what the Lord will release for them to see. There is a new sharpness and clarity of vision. As I see this, I feel the Lord showing me that the safest place for eagles to be is high up in the air - on the ground is where they are most vulnerable. As I saw this I also felt that He was showing me that eagles live in quite isolated places because they are the safest place for them to be when they are not in flight. However, there are other eagles around from time to time!

I submit this very humbly, it was all very clear as I saw it, but I also understand it is merely a part of all that the Lord is doing in the earth today. The other scripture that came clearly to my mind was from 1 Cor. 10:26 "The earth is the Lord's, and everything in it." The sense I have with that scripture is that He is about to break the lie of the enemy regarding who is LORD over all.

A Surprise For My Children

Bill and Marsha Burns

Prophetic Utterance through Bill Burns:

September 17, 2000:

Alpha-Omega, I AM is here. I have come to tell you a great mystery within My kingdom. Is it not written that when I ascended into heaven I would return in like manner? Here is a surprise for My children. Before I come FOR My church, I will come TO My church for I must come and restore those things that have become waste places. Yes, even in the day of My ascension and the years following thereafter, wasn't every stone in the temple thrown down? I say, I am coming to throw the stones of man-made religion down again. I am coming to take the bales of hay that they have tried to build on My foundation with and the stubble and those things that are not lasting, and I will wipe them from My foundation, sweep it clean, and then I will restore My house. Because it is My house, I will restore it, for the house holds the bride that I come for. Isn't the bride that I'm coming for without spot or wrinkle? Therefore, you understand why I must come and purge My church, purify My church, throw down the things that are not of Me. I will take the doctrines of demons and the doctrines of men and cast them aside, for I shall build a holy house...I say, a holy house, a righteous house, a house filled with the presence of My Father, a house filled with glory, a house filled the understanding of who I AM. I say, expect the miraculous to begin to manifest in your midst as My power is exercised among you. This is a day of new beginnings. Are you not moving into the seventh day? Listen for the sounding of the trumpets in that day that has already been ordained from the foundations of the world. Then, look up, for your redemption draws nigh.

Words from the Lord to Marsha Burns:

September 18, 2000:

Remember when I brought joy to your hearts to cause healing to come so that your souls could be set free from old bitterness and bondage? I say to those who yielded to this process, this has been accomplished. Now, I am releasing new joy in your midst that will bring victory in warfare. For, I say in this day, your weapons of warfare will indeed not be carnal, but will be released in the power of My Spirit through joy, which is your strength against the enemy. Rise up and smite the enemy with great joy!

September 19, 2000:

I had a short vision of people in a garbage dump. They were digging through the garbage, trying to find something of value, but it was all refuse. The things they picked up to keep were the "best" of the trash but still worthless. And the Lord says, you will be tempted to go back into your past failures to salvage something worthwhile. But, there is nothing to go back for. This is a new day with new opportunities. Press forward, for there is nothing in your past that is worth redeeming. When thoughts from the past come back to haunt you, send them back to the dung heap. That's where they belong. Do not allow the enemy to draw you back to old places of failure or to saddle you with condemnation and fear of a repeat performance. I am your Kinsman Redeemer, and your past has been covered by blood; the price has been paid. Rise up, and shake off the dust and defilement of old waste places, for you are the Bride of the King.

September 20, 2000:

Completely abandon to My plans and purposes, for you can never achieve anything in My kingdom through your own designs and objectives. Remove yourself from the equation along with your selfish motivations, for I tell you, this is not about you. It about Me. It is about My intentions for My people. My ways are higher than your ways, and My thoughts are higher than your thoughts. Refrain from designing your own schemes and asking Me to bless them, and yield to My order, for what I have designed is already blessed. Seek to understand My vision and then move ahead to fulfill what I have called you to do. Certainly, I will direct your steps if you will but yield.

September 22, 2000:

Watch and be amazed at the things that are about to transpire, for I am causing My people to redeem the land. Those who have ears to hear will take back what the enemy has stolen and used for his purposes. And, I will bring restoration and healing to areas that have been devastated and brought to ruin. I will bring life and joy to that which has suffered desolation. Lift up your heads and rejoice, for this is a great work.

Isa 58:11-12, "The LORD will guide you continually, And satisfy your soul in drought, And strengthen your bones; you shall be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters do not fail. Those from among you shall build the old waste places; you shall raise up the foundations of many generations; and you shall be called the Repairer of the Breach, The Restorer of Streets to Dwell In."

September 23, 2000:

Go forth, My people, in boldness. Rise up out of timidity and fear. Be done with self-focus and short-sightedness. This is a new day, and I am doing great and mighty things. The enemy will bring distractions, things to worry about, too many things to do, but if you will look to Me apart from these distractions, I will open your eyes and bring clarity to your vision. I will cause your ears to hear with precision, and I will guard your heart with peace. For I am looking for those whose total investment is in My kingdom, those who are available to Me to fulfill My purposes on the earth. I will not coerce you into faithfulness; I will not beg you to forsake worldliness, but My call is going forth with an invitation for you to come and follow Me.

A Time And A Season

Hollie L. Moody

Months ago, the Lord began to speak to me about a season of silence for His prophets. As I questioned Him as to the reason for this time of silence, I felt the Lord began to reveal to me His purpose in all of this. Over the last few months, I have prayed and fasted and pondered this time of silence for many of us, and I felt the Lord began to speak to me about His wounded children, repentance, judgment and renewal.

This is something I felt the Lord speak to me weeks ago, yet it was not until last week that I felt a release in my spirit to share these things with anyone else. I waited another week as I asked the Lord for confirmation that it was indeed the right time to share this with others. Over the last few days, this has been reconfirmed to me on numerous occasions.

To those of you who may be reading this, I ask you to pray about this, and have the Lord confirm it to your own heart if it is, indeed, from His Spirit.

In my mind, it was as if I saw a large group of people gathered before the Lord. We were all standing on a mountain top. Our eyes were firmly fixed upon the Lord. We were not speaking, and we were moving hardly at all. Our attention was totally upon the Lord. The Lord was speaking to us, and touching us individually as He spoke to us (as if He were ministering to us in a healing way).

When He was finished speaking to us, I noticed a small mallet in His hand. With this mallet, the Lord began to hammer at us as a group. When we were in pieces before Him, He put down the mallet. I then noticed a bowl and a pestle in front of the Lord. He began to scoop up the pieces of ourselves and put the pieces of us in the bowl in front of Him. Then, with the pestle, the Lord began to push firmly down on the pieces of us in the bowl with a grinding and twisting motion until we were as a rough powder.

The Lord put down the pestle, and picked up a sieve. There was another bowl in front of Him that was empty. The Lord began to pour the powder through the sieve into the empty bowl. The empty bowl was filled with a fine powder. The sieve had smaller chunks and pieces in it. The Lord put the chunks and pieces of the powder back into the first bowl, and began to once again grind at this powder with the pestle. Then, He poured this powder through the sieve. It was a process that the Lord repeated many times, until only a few small hard pebbles were left in the sieve. The Lord tossed these pebbles aside.

"Explain this to me," I asked the Lord.

"It is only the weak who wound others," the Lord said to me. "They wound out of fear, intolerance, misunderstanding, and from the mistaken belief that they are defending Me. It is very often a controlling and domineering spirit of lust for power and position within a person's heart which causes them to wound others. My prophets have been much wounded at the hands of those who have not understood the purpose of My prophets. I am working out reconciliation and forgiveness on the part of those who have wounded, and those who have been wounded. My prophets have not always been faultless, but this has for the most part been from ignorance and immaturity on their part, not out of a spirit of maliciousness.

To be able to more fully use My prophets for the next phase of how I will be using them to minister to others, I will bring their wounds upon them once again. I will cause them to become alone with those wounds, and with the remembrance of those wounds. I will do this in order to deliver them from the memory and the remembrance of those wounds. As they struggle with the issues of bitterness, resentment and unforgiveness within their hearts and minds, their wounds will become alive and fresh to them once again. This is a time of great soul searching and repentance on the part of My prophets. I am breaking them once again, and grinding away at the impurities within them to refine them."

"For what purpose?" I asked the Lord.

"Behold!" the Lord said to me.

I looked outwards from the top of the mountain upon which a large group of people and I were standing with the Lord. We saw a large tree before us. It was growing upwards, outwards, and downwards. I could somehow perceive the depth of its root system, and that this root system was spreading mightily under the earth.

As the roots of this large tree spread, I saw smaller trees beginning to sprout upwards. These smaller trees grew to varying heights and produced various types of fruit of varying degrees of quality. (A very few trees produced no fruit at all, or what appeared to be bad fruit).

"Come, it is time," I heard the Lord say.

I looked over at the Lord, and saw that He held a large bow (like a bow used for arrows) in one of His hands. He began to reach out, and take a person from the group gathered before Him. He would then place this person into the bow as if they were an arrow, and shoot this person at a tree. As the person flew through the air towards a tree, the person would become as a flame of fire. When the person hit the tree, they became embedded in the tree, and seemed to set the tree on fire. This happened over and over and over again.

Some of the trees that had caught on fire had some of their branches, leaves and fruit burn up in the fire. Other trees didn't seem to fully burn up, and were relatively unchanged from the fire. But every tree had some burning from the fire come to it.

I then heard a blowing sound. I glanced over towards the Lord, and became aware that it was He Who was doing the blowing. He was blowing towards the trees. The blowing started out gentle, then became more and more fierce. By the time the wind from the blowing reached the trees, it was like the strength of a hurricane.

The wind hit the trees and seemed to turn the trees inside out. The trees began to twist and shake from the force of the wind. I saw fruit falling from the branches of the trees to the ground. I saw branches being stripped of their leaves. I saw and heard branches breaking and falling to the ground. Some of the trees snapped in half (leaving only the roots and the trunk). Other trees were totally uprooted.

When the wind stopped blowing, I noticed new, fresh shoots beginning to spring forth from the remaining, surviving trees.

I immediately felt in my spirit that the large tree was Christianity, and the smaller trees were denominations. The people the Lord shot at the trees, who became as a flame of fire and brought fire to the trees, I felt were sent to bring the fires of repentance back to the churches. Whatever is not of the Lord in the church, will be consumed in and by the fire.

After the fire of repentance comes upon the church, the wind from the Lord will fall. The wind will strip from the church (denominations) those things that are not of God, but are things man has added to the truth. The wind will literally turn many churches and congregations inside out. The things which have been hidden and concealed, will become plainly visible and will be exposed. Many churches and denominations will be totally uprooted. For some churches, only the roots and the trunk will remain. These are the foundational truths that denominations built upon, and are of the Lord.

When the fire and the wind have passed, new growth will blossom on the remaining trees.

For the months I have pondered these visions, and have felt the Lord speaking to me, I have begun to feel that for this next move of God, God desires to use a people who are free of those things which would hinder them from being fully used of the Lord. I feel the next move of God is so delicate, and is to a people who are already so wounded and confused, yet also so very hungry for the Lord and for a move from God, that if we go to these people without having been broken by God and having had the fires of repentance burn away those things within ourselves which are displeasing to God, we will serve to hinder and not promote a move of God. If we harbor unforgiveness, bitterness, and a wounded and offended spirit within ourselves, we could very well abort the next move of God.

This is a critical time and place for the church. God is breaking many of us, and bringing us through the fire. It is a continuing process which is painful. Memories of past wrongs are being brought back to the surface of our minds. We must decide whether, and how, to deal with these issues. God is whittling away at all within us that is not of Him, or is displeasing to Him.

I feel such a spirit of reconciliation and healing coming to those in the churches who in times past have been separated by misunderstandings and misconceptions. I sense the Lord is gathering His people together as a whole, to bring us to a place of repentance, and to bring us back to our first love of Him. It is through this spirit of unity and love that we will be able to effectively reach out to and minister to others.

We cannot do this through a wounded, unforgiving spirit. To heal, we must be healed. To mend, we must be mended. To all things there is a time and a season. We are each, individually, in a time and a season with the Lord where we will find greater intimacy with Him if we endure the refining process He is taking us through. When the process is complete, there will come a time and a season of renewed growth in the Lord.

In Him, ~~

At His Feet

Bob Jones and Keith Davis

Now as they were traveling along, He entered a certain village; and a woman named Martha welcomed Him into her home. And she had a sister called Mary, who moreover was listening to the Lord's word, seated at His feet. But Martha was distracted with all her preparations; and she came up to Him, and said, "Lord, do You not care that my sister has left me to do all the serving alone? Then tell her to help me. But the Lord answered and said to her, "Martha, Martha, you are worried and bothered about so many things; but only a few things are necessary, really only one, for Mary has chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her." (Luke 10:38-42)

One of the passages of scripture most often taught throughout the church is the story of Mary and Martha. On one privileged occasion, the Lord visited their home and began to teach. In this Biblical scenario, Mary admiringly sat at the Lord's feet absorbing every word that proceeded from His mouth. Martha, on the other hand, busied herself in the preparation of meals and other seemingly necessary arrangements while this process took place.

In a unique prophetic experience, the Lord illustrated this scene in vision form to Bob and emphasized key elements of it as a teaching for the hour in which we are living. In it he saw Mary sitting at the Lord's feet with a look of affection on her face beyond the description of words. While this scene unfolded, Bob also saw Martha enter the room in a spirit of "disgust" as she was quite frustrated at Mary's unwillingness to assist her in her duties. In fact, she actually complained to the Lord for Mary's lack of response in recognizing these domestic concerns.

Martha's sense of duty overshadowed her ability to recognize the greater purpose available to her in this Divine encounter. Mary, on the other hand, responded appropriately in this unique opportunity to hear and absorb the very words of Life essential for her instruction, maturity and well-being. It was not an act of negligence on her part but a sense of duty. "It is written, 'Man shall not live on bread alone, but on every word that proceeds out of the mouth of God.' (Matt 4:4)

THOSE WHO WAIT UPON THE LORD

But those who wait on the LORD shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings like eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint. (Isa 40:31)

In this prophetic experience, this scripture was given as a teaching illustration in the analogy of the two roles portrayed by Mary and Martha. The term "wait" can have dual application. One meaning is to "wait upon someone in service; to attend." Nevertheless, as utilized in this passage it means "to tarry, to look for, to hope with expectancy; to bind together; to remain stationary in readiness or expectation; to look eagerly for someone." The International Standard Encyclopedia defines it accordingly: "It implies the listening ear, a heart responsive to the wooing of God, a concentration of the spiritual faculties upon heavenly things, the patience of faith, 'the earnest expectation of the creation' <Rom 8:19>. It describes an eager anticipation and yearning for the revelation of truth and love as it is in the Father. Thus: 'My soul, wait thou...for God only' <Ps 62:5>; 'Our soul hath waited for Yahweh' <Ps 33:20>"

Mary chose to do that which was more important for that particular time and received her strength from the Lord as she admiringly waited at His feet to receive precious enlightenment. Perhaps, it was at His feet that Mary received the revelation of the Lord's approaching sacrifice and beautifully illustrated her love by anointing Him with nard symbolically preparing Him for this great purpose. She humbly presented herself at the Lord's feet receiving from Him the instruction to anoint Him for His burial, an act that few others recognized or comprehended. This gesture of love and demonstration of spiritual vision revealed the hearts of some. The keeper of the money among the Lord's disciples responded indignantly at this beautiful presentation of love and self-sacrifice. The religious spirit in this disciple rejected this form of worship and expressed his disgust through a veiled attempt to hide his true character. Such obedience and discernment of the Word will always discern and judge the thoughts and intents of people's hearts. (Heb. 4:12)

There is always a time and season for each purpose characterized through Mary and Martha. There is a season to rest and wait upon the Lord and receive sufficient guidance so we can make certain our efforts are directed toward the will of the Father and not our own inclinations. Many are presently in such a process.

In this prophetic illustration, the Lord used this historical account to convey to Bob that He too had to wait at the feet of the Father to receive His instructions. It is recorded in the Scriptures, He did nothing except what He saw the Father doing and spoke only that which He heard proceed from the mouth of the Father. Likewise, we should also receive our instruction at the Lord's feet. Even as Mary sat at the Lord's feet admiringly embracing enriching truth, so also did the Lord sit at the Father's feet receiving His counsel.

If we will faithfully follow the example of Mary in this season of the Spirit, we will also receive counsel from the Lord in order to accomplish the will of the Father. The Lord is desiring to change our mind-set from that of Martha to Mary so we no longer labor for Him and begin to work with Him. Uniquely, very often those following the example of Martha will seemingly persecute those sitting at the Lord's feet waiting on Him. It is very difficult to overcome the tendency to continually be busy about religious activity despite the good intentions expressed. Nonetheless, it is a vitally important spiritual reality that we must experience by waiting upon the Lord during the appointed seasons. It is in this place that intimacy is developed and clear apprehension of the Lord's heart.

SHE WASHED HIS FEET WITH HER TEARS

And behold, there was a woman in the city who was a sinner; and when she learned that He was reclining at the table in the Pharisee's house, she brought an alabaster vial of perfume, and standing behind Him at His feet, weeping, she began to wet His feet with her tears, and kept wiping them with the hair of her head, and kissing His feet, and anointing them with the perfume. Now when the Pharisee who had invited Him saw this, he said to himself, "If this man were a prophet He would know who and what sort of person this woman is who is touching Him, that she is a sinner. And Jesus answered and said to him, "Simon, I have something to say to you." And he replied, "Say it, Teacher." A certain moneylender had two debtors: one owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty. When they were unable to repay, he graciously forgave them both. Which of them therefore will love him more?" Simon answered and said, "I suppose the one whom he forgave more." And He said to him, "You have judged correctly." And turning toward the woman, He said to Simon, "Do you see this woman? I entered your house; you gave Me no water for My feet, but she has wet My feet with her tears, and wiped them with her hair. You gave Me no kiss; but she, since the time I came in, has not ceased to kiss My feet. You did not anoint My head with oil, but she anointed My feet with perfume. (Luke 7:37-46)

As this scene ended another unfolded, and Bob was able to observe the Lord in a home into which He was invited. It was actually the scene of the Lord being invited to the home of Simon with many of the Pharisees and Sadducees in attendance.

Although the Lord was a guest in this man's home, the respect and honor due a guest of this prominence was not extended to the Lord. The Jews naturally wore sandals as was the custom of that day. These were traditionally taken off when they entered a house. It was commonly regarded as an act of hospitality and kindness to wash and anoint the feet of a guest, especially a distinguished and esteemed visitor. It was also the custom for such a guest to be greeted with a kiss. The kiss was an emblem of love and affection, a token of warmth and a common mode of salutation among men. Simon had even neglected this amiable expression of welcome as the Lord entered his dwelling.

As this scene continued to unfold, Bob observed the Lord reclining in the presence of these proud and pretentious faulty leaders. While in this posture, a woman entered the room with significant character flaws and failures in her life. In fact, the scriptures suggest all in the room recognized her as a prostitute. The intrusion of this woman was intolerable to the respectable Pharisee because of her evil reputation and because she was not an invited guest.

Nonetheless, she made her way to the feet of the Lord and began to lavish upon Him the honor and acclamation due such a celebrated guest. She freely began to show her obvious love for the Savior, and at the same time her humility and penitence. By pouring forth a flood of tears, and washing His feet in the manner of a servant, she obtained an eternal testimony far greater than the leaders of Israel. In this manner she testified of her love for the Lord Jesus, and at the same time her humility and sense of sin by kissing his feet. There could be few expressions of contrition more deep and tender than here depicted.

Among the many character flaws in this woman was the love of the world and the things of the world displacing her ability to love God. Do not love the world, nor the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. (I Jn 2:15) So great was her desire for the things of this world that she willingly sold her body for financial gain. However, as she reclined at the Lord's feet, her admiration and love for Him overcame her appetite and desire for the things of this world. She willingly began to lavish upon the Lord all of her substance in loving appreciation for who He was. Deep within her resided a seed of Life heretofore buried. When Light shone upon the seed, it emerged providing a heart of repentance and fidelity. As she sat at the Lord's feet she received the impartation of divine instruction and inspiration to do that which the leaders of Israel had failed to do.

DISCOVERING FREEDOM

When we recline at the Lord's feet and wait longingly for him we will also discover freedom from our worldly conformity as we yield our will to the will of the Father. At this place of surrender we discern the thoughts and desires of the Lord displacing our own. Our thoughts are not His thoughts and our ways are foreign to His. Yet, at His feet we can ascertain the path of righteousness and spiritual conformity according the council of the Holy Spirit.

This precious woman very lovingly washed the Lord's feet with her tears and dried them with her hair in a sacrificial gesture of respect and love. She clearly disregarded the reproach of all in the room in order to fulfill this great demonstration of discernment and affection. The church must come to the same place.

Many times in prophetic experiences a person's hair is representative of their glory or their intellect. We lay our thoughts and opinions (intellect) at the Lord's feet and begin to take upon ourselves "the mind of Christ" through the impartation of the Holy Spirit. She had fulfilled the responsibility of the law by doing honor to this most acclaimed of guests, although the Pharisees had failed to meet their legal obligations.

She then retrieved the alabaster box containing all that she had achieved in her sinful and worldly pursuits. She unsparingly lavished this substance of great value upon the Lord disregarding the cost. Previously, she had lived in darkness and pursued the desires of her heart through unjust gain. However, now that light had come into the world she emerged from her dark stupor and repented by abandoning all self-regard and fear of man to disperse upon the Lord her resources. It is at His feet that we lay all of our ability and essence, humbly acknowledging our great need for Him and His resources. It is at His feet that we begin to bridge the gap between the vast and infinite provision of Heaven and the great need of humanity.

TRADITIONS OF MAN

Although this woman was recognized as an adulteress, still reality highlighted that the Pharisees were guilty of a greater sin in their spiritual adultery, although they were busily fulfilling the traditions of the law. Their sin blinded them to the spiritual reality directly before them and nullified the grace of God extended to them. They were so preoccupied in religious duty, they failed to receive the spiritual revelation available to them. Because of this negligence they were not able to properly lead and prepare the people for their divine visitation. They were absorbed in dutifully complying with the precepts of man and following the traditions set before them by man and failed to discern the very presence of God in their midst.

Additionally, the other religious leaders in the room expressed their disgust and dismay at their perceived notion that the Lord lacked the discernment to detect this woman's previous character. The Lord then responded to these leaders disclosing essentially that their names will not even be remembered a few years from that point yet this woman's testimony will be remembered for all generations. The Lord then chastised the Pharisees for not recognizing this great responsibility. It was in fact their duty to be the leaders of Israel and discern the light that had come into their dark world. Regardless, because of their hardness of heart they were unable to recognize the day of their visitation nor prepare the people of their generation for the Lord's purpose.

Few leaders of that day were willing to sit at the Lord's feet to receive His instructions, even as the Lord sat at the Father's feet to receive counsel from heaven. Only those with humbleness of heart like these two women could receive that edification. The example of these two women is an eternal illustration for all who are willing to do likewise. There is a time for waiting and a time for executing. However, the performing of religious or spiritual endeavors is after we have waited upon the Lord to receive from Him divine instruction and counsel.

DOING IT THE LORD'S WAY

Presently much of the church should be in a posture of waiting upon the Lord during this season to receive from Him divine instruction for the upcoming outpouring of the Spirit. There presently seems to be significant importance placed upon the role of sitting at the Lord's feet in order to receive the will of the Father. "Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord,' will enter the kingdom of heaven; but he who does the will of My Father who is in heaven." (Matt 7:21)

There is coming a time in which we will be very busy about the Lord's business. If we would follow this standard of waiting upon the Lord, our efforts would be far more profitable, achieving much more with considerably less extended effort. Considerable gain can be achieved in the realm of the Spirit when operating under the Spirit of Wisdom and Understanding. We must first receive the wisdom of heaven and the understanding of that revelation in order to apply divine principles in achieving the will of the Father. Very often we recognize an end to be achieved but go about it in our own understanding requiring greater energy to achieve that purpose and consuming far more time.

Waiting upon the Lord essentially has been a lost art in the corporate church. It is imperative that we begin to understand this great spiritual principle in accomplishing the divine purposes established for this generation. The Lord is far more interested in our obedience than our human efforts. He is much more concerned with the development of our spiritual discernment than with our human zeal.

RESTING IN HIM

This dear sister who washed the Lord's feet and dried them with her hair previously placed her security in the spirit of this world. Upon recognizing the divine light that had entered the realm of man, she rejected the security offered by the spirit of this world and whole heartedly dispensed herself upon the Lord in an expression of affection and trust. She found rest for her soul in Him and abandoned all else to give expression to her new - found abode.

By no means is this prophetic analogy intended to endorse slothfulness. Instead, it is designed to encourage the church to first receive instruction at the Lord's feet by waiting upon Him, then employing the gifts and means available in the accomplishment of these divine purposes. Very often a person is called to accomplish a certain task on behalf of the kingdom of heaven. However, it can sometimes be months or even years before the commission or authority is released in the realization of those purposes. During the interim, we should follow the example of Paul who discovered the Lord's rest and separated himself unto the Lord allowing the Holy Spirit to prepare him for the great purposes ahead. The Apostle Paul was called as an apostle to the gentiles but was not equipped and commissioned for that purpose until many years later. The time he spent faithfully waiting upon the Lord prepared him to do the will of the Father in his life.

Likewise, Martha, although doing something that seemed appropriate, failed to recognize the greater purpose of sitting at the Lord's feet absorbing every available impartation. There is a time to "wait" and a time to "do". We must ask the Lord for the discernment to distinguish the two.

Athet Paulu Testimony

Friday Fax 2000/15

Friday Fax 2000 issue 15, 14 April

A few weeks ago, we published the astonishing story of a Buddhist monk in Myanmar, who rose from the dead during his own funeral, three days after his death. The report was distributed on cassette. We have now obtained a translation of the report, of which this Friday Fax is a summary.

"We first heard of the events from a number of Burmese church leaders, who investigated the reports and have no doubt as to their authenticity. The monk, Athet Pyan Shintaw Paulu, has turned his life around, and suffers and risks much to tell his story. Nobody would undergo such hardship for nothing. He has already led hundreds of monks to Jesus, has been imprisoned, despised by his relatives, friends and colleagues, and been threatened with death if he does not tone down the reports. His current whereabouts are not certain: one Burmese source claims that he is in prison and may have been murdered, another that he is free and preaching." (AMO: see below)

"My name is Athet Pyan Shintaw Paulu I was born in 1958 in Bogale in the Irrawaddy Delta, Southern Myanmar (Burma). When I became 18 years of age, my Buddhist parents sent me as a novice to a monastery. At 19, I became a monk, entering the Mandalay Kyaikasan Kyaing monastery, where I was instructed by probably the most famous Buddhist teacher of the time, U Zadila Kyar Ni Kan Sayadaw, who was killed in a car crash in 1983. I was given a new name when I entered the monastery: U Nata Pannita Ashinthuriya. I tried to deny my own selfish thoughts and desires; even when mosquitoes landed on my arm, I would let them bite me instead of brushing them away. I became very ill, and the doctors diagnosed a combination of Malaria and Yellow Fever. After a month in hospital, they told me that they could do no more for me, and discharged me so that I could prepare myself for my death. Back in the monastery, I became ever weaker, and finally lost consciousness. I only discovered that I had died later: my body started to decay and smelled of death, my heart had ceased beating. My body was put through the Buddhist cleansing rites.

But my spirit was wide awake I found myself in a powerful storm which blew everything away. Not a single tree, nothing was left standing. I was in an empty plain. After some time, I crossed a river, and saw a terrible lake of fire. I was confused, because Buddhism knows no such thing. I did not know that it was Hell until I met Yama, the King of Hell. His face was that of a lion, his feet like snakes, and he had many horns on his head. When I asked his name, he said 'I am the King of Hell, the Destroyer'. I then saw the saffron-coloured robes of Myanmar's monks in the fire, and upon looking closer, saw U Zadila Kyar Ni Kan Sayadaw's shaven head. 'Why is he in the lake of fire?' I asked. 'He was a very good teacher; his cassette "Are you a human or a dog?" helped thousands of people recognise that they are worth more than a dog.' 'Yes, he was a good teacher,' said Yama, 'but he did not believe in Jesus Christ. That's why he is in Hell.'

Buddha in Hell I was then shown another man, with long hair bound in a ball on the left side of his head. He also wore a robe, and when I asked who he was, I was told 'Gautama, who you worship (Buddha).' I was distraught. Buddha in Hell, with all of his ethics and moral character?' 'It is not important how good he was. He did not believe in the eternal God, so he is in Hell,' answered the King of Hell. I also saw Aung San, the revolutionary leader. 'He is here because he persecuted and killed Christians, but mainly because he did not believe in Jesus Christ,' I was told. Another man was very tall, wearing armour and carrying a sword and shield. He had a wound on his forehead. He was larger than anyone else I could see, around 22 feet tall. The King of Hell said 'That is Goliath, who is in Hell because he mocked the eternal God and his servant David.' I had never heard of either Goliath or David. Another 'King of Hell' approached me and asked 'Are you also going into the lake of fire?'. 'No,' I said, 'I am just here to look.' 'You are right,' the creature said. 'You only came to look. I can't find your name. You'll have to go back to where you came from.' On the way back, I saw two paths, one wide, one narrow. The narrow path, which I followed for about an hour, was soon made of pure gold. I could see my own reflection perfectly! A man calling himself Peter told me 'Now go back to tell the people who worship Buddha and other gods that they will end up in Hell if they do not change. They should believe in Jesus. He then gave me a new name: Athet Pyan Shintaw Paulu (Paul, who returned to life). The next thing I heard was my mother crying. 'Son, why are you leaving us now?!' I realised that I was lying in a coffin. When I moved, my parents cried out 'He's alive!', but the others around them did not believe them. When they saw me, they were frozen with fear, and started shouting 'It's a ghost!'. I noticed that I was sitting in about 3 1/2 cups of an odorous liquid, which must have come from my body as I lay in the coffin. I was told that they were about to cremate me. When a monk dies, his name, age and the number of years of his service as a monk are inscribed in the coffin. I had already been registered as dead, but as you can see, I'm alive!" All Things In Christ

Doug Fortune

“For it was IN HIM that all things were created, in heaven and on earth, things seen and unseen, whether thrones, dominions, rulers or authorities; ALL things were created and exist through Him, and in and for Him.”(Col.1:16). “Making known to us the mystery of His will- of His plan, of His purpose. And it is this: In accordance with His good pleasure which He had previously purposed and set forth IN HIM, He planned for the maturity of the times and the climax of the ages to unify all things and head them up and CONSUMMATE them IN CHRIST, both things in heaven and things on the earth.”(Eph.1:9-10)

I must admit that I’m just beginning to get a glimpse of the vast implications of these verses, so this writing is by no means meant to be an exhaustive study... but these verses really do represent the purpose and plan of God from Genesis to Revelation, which is this; the REVEALation of Jesus Christ! He really IS Alpha and Omega, the Beginning and the Completion... now before you sone me for using the word ‘completion’ instead of the word ‘end’, let’s look at that word. In Greek it is telos and it is the root word for the word teleios found in Eph.4:13, speaking of the ‘teleios’ Perfect Man, “...that WE might arrive at mature manhood, the completeness of personality which is nothing less than the standard height of Christ’s own perfection...”(Amplified Bible).

Some read Gen1:26-27 as the telling of an historical event; I read it as a prophetic proclamation of God’s purpose in the earth... “So God created man in His own image, in the image and likeness of God He created him; male AND female He created them.” This was not truly fulfilled in the first Adam, it is fulfilled in the Last Adam- Jesus Christ the Head, and the Second Man the lord (the word lord is kurios in Greek, meaning supreme in authority, used 42 times in the New Testament as a human title of honor, NOT speaking specifically of the Lord Jesus Christ) descending from heaven- the teleios Perfect Man of Eph.4:13. THIS is the man (male AND female, for IN Christ there is neither male nor female) that God blessed and said “Be fruitful, multiply, and FILL the earth and subdue it...”(Gen.1:28); and that is exactly what is happening as all things are being consummated in Christ, as the kingdoms of this world ARE become the Kingdom of the Lord and His Christ, as the earth is being filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord as the waters cover the sea.

We read in Genesis how all things were consummated in water and only that which was in the ark lived; of course the ark is a type of Christ. “As were the days of Noah, so will be the coming of the Son of Man... they did not know or understand until the flood came and swept them all away... one will be taken, one will be left...”(Mt.24:37-40); “...in the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them; but gather the wheat into My barn.”(Matt.13:30). The ‘time of the harvest’ represents the Feast of Tabernacles which the church is entering into now and I believe that ‘as the days of Noah’ all things will be consummated IN Christ, this time with FIRE as the water. And NO, I’m not talking about some nuclear war that may or may not happen (my apologies to the doomsday prophets). I am speaking of SPIRITUAL FIRE that, just like the flood of Noah’s time, will cover the earth with “...the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.”(Hab.2:14). Just as the flood of Noah’s time, only that which was in The Ark lived; only the wheat was gathered into the Barn, the rest “perished”. 2Cor.2:15-16 says, “For we are unto God a sweet savor of Christ, in them that are saved, and in them that perish; to the one we are the savor of DEATH unto DEATH, and in the other the savor of LIFE unto LIFE...”. The word translated as perish is apollumi in Greek and it means to destroy fully... death unto death is the second death spoken of in Rev.20:14 and 21:8, “...this is the second death, the lake of FIRE...” You see, to be CONSUMMATED in Christ will mean Life to one and destruction to another; only that which is of Christ will remain, the rest to be taken and destroyed. All will ultimately be reconciled in Christ through mercy or judgment. In order to understand this we must understand that man is a ‘triune’ being of sorts; spirit, soul and body. Just like the Tabernacle was ONE tabernacle with three parts, so we are ONE whole consisting of three parts.

As for the SPIRIT, the seed-potential of Christ is in every man... for some this lies dormant within, trapped in the outer shell of their human spirit, the seed never grows... they are ‘DEAD in trespasses and sin’, they are “...without (or apart from, outside of) Christ... having no hope and without God in the world...(Eph.2:12). For those who confess Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior, this seed within grows, consuming the outer shell of their human spirit, "...he that is joined unto the Lord is ONE SPIRIT with Him."(1Cor.6:17); their spirit is CONSUMMATED in Christ.

Now then, Eccl.12:7 tells us that "...then shall the dust (of which God made man's body) return to the earth as it was, and the SPIRIT shall RETURN to God who gave it.". We can see this in Luke 23:46, "And Jesus, crying with a loud voice said, Father INTO YOUR hands I commit My SPIRIT! And with these words He expired." The SPIRIT will RETURN to God who gave it; the physical BODY will return to dust; what appears to hang in the balance is the SOUL and the spiritual body; "...as surely as there is a physical body, there is also a spiritual body."(1Cor.15:44). Consider Matt. 10:28, "...but rather be afraid of him who can DESTROY both soul and body in hell (gehenna)." The body referred to here is the spiritual body, as the physical body is returning to dust in the earth. Keep in mind also that Heb.12:29 tells us that "...our God is a CONSUMING FIRE..."; the word 'consuming' means to consume utterly.

Are we beginning to get a picture here?... the SPIRIT will return to God who gave it; the PHYSICAL BODY will return to the dust; the SOUL and SPIRITUAL BODY will either be consumed and utterly destroyed OR consumed and resurrected in the mind, will and emotions (the SOUL) of Christ and the resurrected BODY of Christ as the many-membered teleios Perfect Man of Eph.4:13. Truly ALL things will be CONSUMMATED and reconciled IN Christ!

You see, the 'man of sin' is being revealed... sin entered the world through one man (Rom.5:12), and it is the SOULISH Adam/ sin nature that is seated in the temple of God proclaiming sovereignty. It is interesting to note that there are two distinct words in the Greek that are translated as temple in English. Beginning with the Book of Acts, after the outpouring of the Holy Spirit through the Book of Revelation, the word naos is used ONLY referring to people as the temple not made with hands; when referring to the physical temple building the word hieron is used. Of course, throughout the Book of Revelation, the word naos is used, as hat Book is the REVEALING of Jesus Christ, and He is revealed in the MIDST of the Lampstand, the CHURCH (Rev.1). Why then is there so much confusion when 2Thess.2:4 speaks of the man of sin seated in the NAOS of God, "...which temple (naos) YE ARE..."(1Cor.3:17)... why are we looking for a man seated in a building yet to be built in the Middle-East, when we should be looking in the mirror? As the 'man of sin', the Adam nature is revealed, "...the Lord Jesus will slay him with the breath of His mouth and bring him to an end by His appearing at His coming." or "...the brightness of His coming..."(2Thess.2:8) as some translations read. This is the salvation of the SOUL as the Living Christ within our spirit, with eyes/ vision of fire and in His mouth the two edged Sword of the Engrafted Living Word pierces the veil of our flesh/ SOUL life, and the appearing or brightness of His coming floods our SOUL with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord and the 'man of sin'/ Adam nature is slain, consumed and destroyed! Truly, ALL will be consummated in Christ!

We WILL see the fulfillment of Gen.1:26-28; a many-membered MAN in the image and likeness of God, filling the earth and subduing it... We WILL see the fulfillment of Eph.4:13 "...that WE might arrive at mature manhood, the completeness of personality which is nothing less than the standard height of Christ's own perfection...", the teleios Perfect Many-membered Man... We WILL see the FULL manifestation of the Sons of God.

A Tidal Wave of My Spirit

Paul Gervais

"Behold, I will do a new thing; now it shall spring forth; shall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert." Isaiah 43:19

"Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thine health shall spring forth speedily: and thy righteousness shall go before thee; the glory of the Lord shall be thy rearward." Isaiah 57:8

"Even the mystery which hath been hid from ages and from generations, but now is made manifest to his (God's) saints: To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles; which is Christ in you, the hope (blueprint) of glory." Colossians 1:26-27

A WAVE OF LOVE POISED TO STRIKE THE PLANET

A Wave of Dad's love is poised to strike Believers all over the planet. This drenching will be unconditional in nature, resulting in a coming together, or oneness, if you will. The Lord has plainly indicated that the old has passed away; business won't be conducted as usual. His marvelous process is making room for the new...a vital reestablishment of God's highest and best for the Family.

An unstoppable flow of love, Light and Power is commissioned and dedicated to invade darkness of every kind, as sin yields to His righteousness, the physical body becomes quickened, while the Redeemed enjoy a new mindset (Christ's). Death cannot possibly survive the onslaught of this unprecedented Unction.

That season of the Word becoming flesh is richly upon us. Humanity has been consciously and subconsciously pleading for a Jesus of tangibility, just as we did two-thousand years ago. In actuality, all that exists, every atom and molecule, awaits a manifestation of the Sons and Daughters.

In compassionate response, the Creator is honoring that heartcry as the Master initially arrives in Spirit (Presence), then in person for all see within that global Cloud of Glory (manifestation).

LOVE BURIES WRONGDOING

"There is approaching a Tidal Wave of My Spirit, on the crest of which lies abundant healing for the Body of Christ. Where distortions and fabrications have abounded in hearts of the Children, a proliferation of Truth will be the norm, a visible revelation of Dad's unconditional love. What a liberating day that will be!

In the wake of this movement, differences will be set aside and replaced by the Glory. Where sin has formerly abounded, grace will much more gain ascendancy. Forgiveness and forgetfulness...the supernatural type, have already begun impacting the Church.

A distaste for the negative, Satan's destructive works, is stirring within the Bride's heart, a Divine desire to right wrongs, from burying weapons formed against promoting oneness, to winning the lost, healing the sick and raising the dead. Unity will be championed.

ONE WILL HURT--THE OTHER WILL SAY "OUCH!"

One Member will hurt. Another will say, 'Ouch!' Faith, indeed, works by love. The latter must first be embraced in order to enjoy the former. Observe the Holy Spirit as He performs this new and awe-inspiring endeavor, one that will purge all forms of sin, sickness, poverty and death from the System.

As I am, you have become in this world...thinking Papa's thoughts and carrying out His unparalleled plans to reverse the captivity of multitudes. Some have, in the natural, been literally unable to set aside emotional and spiritual weights. Consequently, their quest for destiny has been halted.

However, that is about to change. These enemies you are to see no longer, being far from all oppression. Rejoice in this certain word of prophecy. Just as the gifts...signs, wonders and miracles, win souls, contemplate the inherent Power resulting from the fruit and giftings conjointly moving forward into that field already white unto harvest.

The Church will never be the same. Spots and wrinkles, previous remnants of attack, are now being obliterated by the Blood of the Lamb. A High Place, far from all oppression, is just before you!"

RESTORATION OF MY BODY

"Precious Soldier, this is Our rule of thumb. Every good and perfect gift comes from the Father, with whom there is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. If what's impacting that life or ministry does not belong to Me...the Head, neither should it attempt to invade the Body...you!

That's right! How long has the evil one been permitted to trespass, while the Kids believe lies about the Most High and His perfect blueprint for the Family?

Contemplate Heaven's new and better Covenant, based upon absolute promises procured through the Blood of the One Who knew no sin. Isn't salvation of the spirit and soul perfect?

Why should a different standard exist for that physical body, those finances, your ministry? Well, it doesn't! An unveiling of the Contract is of utmost priority in My Kingdom.

As with the original Church, many have perished, become weak and are even sleeping (death) for lack of knowledge, not discerning the Lord's Body, being strangers from the (Covenant) promises...Salvation to the uttermost.

The Teacher has accelerated the understanding process, as Soldiers will ongoingly continue to be recipients of dreams and visions...Heaven's language. A boldness, coupled with keen insight into the spirit-realm, will also rapidly gain ascendancy.

Babes are being fed meat in this season of suddenlies, since growth in Word and deed must be expedited. Set that hand to the plow. The past doesn't count, only decisions rendered for the present and future. Looking back will only slow you down, Bold Child.

Permit former experiences to be stepping stones, comforting others with the comfort wherewith you have been comforted.

Restoration and reconciliation will rule each moment, while the Spirit of the unpredictable moves with every act of surrender and obedience...vindicating, delivering, manifesting and glorifying the Sender.

Listen closely. The natural eye has not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things that I have personally prepared for My Children! Let's play in the Rain together!"

A Time To Stand, A Time To Run.

Bob Neumann

THERE IS A PURPOSE TO ALL THAT I DO IN YOU MY CHILDREN. BECAUSE SO MANY ARE BUT CHILDREN I EXPECT YOU TO SPEAK AND ACT JUST AS YOU ARE. CHILDREN. WOULD I EXPECT TODDLERS TO ACT THE SAME WAY AS SERVANTS TRAINED AND SOLDIERS BLOODED IN BATTLE? WOULD I EVER DEMAND OF YOU THAT WHICH YOU ARE IMPOSSIBLE TO FATHOM?

INDEED HAVE I NOT TRIED TO KEEP THINGS SIMPLE AND TO THE POINT. CONSISTENT AND UNCHANGING FOR YOUR BENEFIT AND NOT MINE? IF I HAVE NOT TRAINED YOUR FINGERS TO WAR AND STOOD WITH YOU IN YOUR TESTINGS IN THE WILDERNESS WOULD I EXPECT YOU TO STAND IN THE BATTLE LINE? AM I A GOD WHO DESIRES TO SEE YOU WOUNDED AND FRUSTRATED?

WOULD I TELL YOU TO STAND AND FIGHT WHEN YOU HAVE NEVER ABIDED IN ME, TRUSTED IN ME? IF YOU ARE CALLED AND ELECTED BY MAN WOULD I EVEN KNOW YOU, SO WHY BLAME ME FOR YOUR MISHAPS AND DEFEATS. WHY DO YOU BATTLE IN MY NAME IF THE ENEMY THE DEVIL MUST FLEE THOSE WHO RESIST HIM AS THEY STAND FIRMLY IN MY SHADOW? IT IS HARD TO SUSTAIN HAND TO HAND COMBAT WITH AN ADVERSARY IN FULL AND FRANTIC RETREAT.

LITTLE ONES, PLEASE CONSIDER MY WORDS. WERE YOU CALLED TO STAND AND RESIST? OR WERE YOU CALLED TO RUN UNTO ME FOR SAFETY? DO YOU PREFER TO STAND AND PROVE YOURSELF OR TO PROVE ME AND MY WORD? IS YOUR TESTIMONY OF YOUR GREAT VICTORIES AND ACHIEVEMENTS, OR OF MY LOVE AND MERCY?

11 Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

CHILDREN, WHAT ARE "THE WILES" OF THE DEVIL? IS IT A BIZARRE WEAPON THAT BASHES AT YOUR SHIELD OF FAITH? OR IS IT HIS SLICK AND PLEASANT WORDS THAT DISTORT MY TRUTH IN YOUR HEARTS SO THAT YOU WILL CLING TO HIS LIES AND BE DECEIVED? IF MY WORD IS WRITTEN IN YOUR HEARTS, CHILDREN, AND I HAVE RAISED YOU IN MY HOUSE AND TRAINED YOU WITH MY SWORD THEN INDEED YOU ARE MY SERVANTS. IS IT NOT WRITTEN....19 Who is blind, but my servant? or deaf, as my messenger that I sent? who is blind as he that is perfect, and blind as the LORD'S servant?

HEAR MY WORDS NOW CHILDREN, AND BE NOT DECEIVED. THERE IS A TIME AND PLACE FOR THOSE WHO I HAVE CALLED AND CHOSEN TO STAND IN MY POWER AND NOT THEIR OWN. IF YOU WERE NOT CALLED TO STAND UP AND PUSH BACK THE ENEMY AT THE GATE, MAYBE YOU SHOULD RUN TO ME FOR IT IS WRITTEN....10 The name of the LORD is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe.

INDEED, THERE IS A TIME IN WHICH TO RUN. A TIME TO FLEE FROM YOUR OFFENCES AND FEARS. TO ESCAPE YOUR TORMENTS AND AGONIES. IT IS TIME CHILDREN TO RUN TO SAFETY. TO RUN TO ME. IT HAS BEEN TIME, BUT YOU DID NOT NOTICE BECAUSE YOU FOUGHT YOUR OWN FIGHTS. IT WAS TIME LONG AGO BUT YOU WERE DECEIVED BY THE COMFORTS OF BABYLON. I DESIRED TO BRING BOTH FREEDOM AND DELIVERANCE, BUT THE LIES WERE SWEETER TO YOUR MOUTH AND NOW BITTERNESS FILLS SO MANY BELLIES. NOW TASTE AGAIN THE SWEETNESS OF MY WORDS IN YOUR HEART, IN YOUR LIFE AND RUN TO ME.

TRUST IN ME AND ONLY ME. STOP LISTENING TO THE PLEASANT LIES OF YOUR FLESH. STOP LISTENING TO THE PERVERSE PROMISES OF A DEFILED WORLD. STOP TURNING YOUR EAR TO THE LIES OF THE DEVIL WHO FEEDS YOUR EGO AND PRIDE WITH HIS WORDS AND HIS FALSE IMAGES WHICH INDEED ARE VAIN IMAGINATIONS.

11 The rich man's wealth is his strong city, and as an high wall in his own conceit.

12 Before destruction the heart of man is haughty, and before honour is humility.

13 He that answereth a matter before he heareth it, it is folly and shame unto him.

SO MANY OF YOU HAVE HEARD MY VOICE AND ARE PLEASED AND CONTENT. BUT YOU ARE BUT BABIES WHO DO NOT DISTINGUISH WORD FROM SOUND. TRULY PLEASANT IS THE SOUND OF MY VOICE, BUT IT IS MY WORDS THAT YOU MUST EAT, MATURE, GROW IN STATURE AND IN WISDOM. LISTEN AND LEARN QUICKLY. BE SWIFT TO OBEY. FOR THE DAY OF MY WRATH IS UPON THIS WORLD. IF YOU HAVE NOT RUN FROM THE WORLD AND INTO MY PRESENCE THERE IS NO TIME LEFT TO YOU TO SIT ANY MORE. NO TIME TO WALK CALMLY TRUSTING YOUR OWN WISDOM AND STRENGTH.

FOR IT ALSO IS WRITTEN...

13 Up, sanctify the people, and say, Sanctify yourselves against to morrow: for thus saith the LORD God of Israel, There is an accursed thing in the midst of thee, O Israel: thou canst not stand before thine enemies, until ye take away the accursed thing from among you.

10 And also all that generation were gathered unto their fathers: and there arose another generation after them, which knew not the LORD, nor yet the works which he had done for Israel.

11 And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the LORD, and served Baalim:

12 And they forsook the LORD God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and followed other gods, of the gods of the people that were round about them, and bowed themselves unto them, and provoked the LORD to anger.

13 And they forsook the LORD, and served Baal and Ashtaroth.

14 And the anger of the LORD was hot against Israel, and he delivered them into the hands of spoilers that spoiled them, and he sold them into the hands of their enemies round about, so that they could not any longer stand before their enemies.

15 Whithersoever they went out, the hand of the LORD was against them for evil, as the LORD had said, and as the LORD had sworn unto them: and they were greatly distressed.

I AM DELIVERING UP TO THE SPOILERS THE WORLD I LOVED AND GAVE MY BELOVED SON FOR. YES INDEED CHILDREN A TIME OF GREAT DISTRESS IS NOW UPON MANY WHO WOULD NOT OBEY WHEN I CALLED. ONLY EVIL AWAITS THOSE REBELLIOUS CHILDREN WHO CLING TO THEIR IDOLS AND FORGET MY DELIVERANCE. MY REMEMBRANCE AND MY MIGHTY DEED ON THEIR BEHALF.

THERE IS A TIME TO STAND, AND A TIME TO RUN.

DO YOU KNOW WHAT YOU ARE TO DO?

A Time of Extremes

Hollie L. Moody

Those of us who live in the United States would have to agree that lately, the weather patterns have been nothing less than bizarre. In some of the southern states and in Texas, there has been no rain for over two months. The heat and dryness has made for horrendous fires which have destroyed hundreds of acres of land.

In other parts of the United States, the weather has been varying as much as 20 degrees from day to day. It will be chilly one day, with temperatures in the 60's. The next day, it will be back into the 80's with high humidity.

People are tense, troubled and disturbed. Some of these feelings and emotions, I feel, arise from the troubled weather patterns. These troubled weather patterns are also affecting some of us in our spirits. I am one of these ones who have felt troubled and tense and disturbed in my spirit. I don't feel it is just from the bizarre weather patterns, but also because something major is happening in the spiritual dimensions.

Yesterday, was a muggy and humid day here in Michigan. I had opened all the windows of my house. Over night, the temperature dropped. I left the windows open anyway since I had heard today was also to be a muggy and humid day.

A little over an hour ago, I was taking my youngest child to school. Suddenly, it began to rain. There was no warning that rain was coming. It was as if someone had taken a bucket of water and just begun to pour it out. Within minutes, the streets were flooded and running with rain water. The windshield wipers on my van could not even successfully keep up with the deluge of rain.

At a stop light, as I stared out the windshield, I was semi-praying and asking the Lord, "Lord, what is happening here?" To my surprise, the Lord answered me.

"This is a time of extremes," the Lord said to me. "In your nation, there is an extreme of heat and fire and lack of rain in some states; while other states are experiencing coolness and rain and flooding. What you are seeing in your nation, is what I am performing in the spiritual.

"There are those who are feeling the fierceness of heat and fire in their spirits, souls and lives. Whatever is not of Me, is being burned and purged from them. They are so thirsty to see a move of My Spirit in their lives, their churches, their neighborhoods, their cities, their nation; yet at this time, all they are experiencing is the fire of My burning and purging.

"This burning and purging has a twofold purpose. One purpose is for judgment. My judgment is being poured out.

"The other purpose is for the fires of revival to begin to burn after all that is not of Me has been consumed by flames.

"Then will I pour out rivers of living water upon all who are thirsty. Then will I open up in the deserts streams of water. Those who have been faint, will be revived. Those who have been weak, will be strengthened. Those who have been discouraged, will be encouraged. Those who have been filled with despair, will be filled anew with hope. Those who have sorrowed, will rejoice. Those who have wept, will laugh. Those who have stumbled, will walk straight. Those who feel they have lost their way, will see clearly the path they are to tread upon. Those who are confused, will find firmness of mind.

"This is a time of extremes, My child," the Lord repeated to me. "Many will see and behold the extreme between the blessing and the curse, between judgment and mercy. The way is being prepared for this to come to pass. There will be a noticeable separation between that which is holy, and that which is profane; that which is true, and that which is false; those who are Mine, and those who I know not. The time for lukewarmness is past. I say to My people this day, 'Be one extreme or the other; be consumed by passion for Me, or walk away from Me.' It is time for My children to be extreme."

As The Millennium Turns

Shirley Baskett

As the millennium turns, the old structures that have been man made will begin to fail. Jesus will build his end time church, the way He designed it. Yes there will be a fulfillment of the pattern of apostles, prophets, pastors, teachers and evangelists - but they will be those who are God ordained, demonstrating the gifts, expressed through the fruit.

The time is coming for those who prefer to be kings in the church, to make way for The King. Much has been written lately about the emergence of apostles, much that will be forgotten as true apostles take their place.

Watch the birth pangs of the earth. Watch and see the signs in the heavens and rejoice because your Lord is near.

Some will begin to teach more strongly that the end is further away than we first thought. That the return of Jesus is not to be expected for some time yet. That we are to concentrate on 'taking dominion' on God's behalf. This is to avert our eyes from the return of Jesus. Every day we should live in expectation.

We are coming to a time where denominations will mean less, structured hierarchy will mean less, but a structure born out of authority that is God ordained will be present - trans denominationally, trans geographically and held together by recognition of an authority rarely seen up until now.

We are entering exciting and perilous days where the darkness is increasing and so the light will be more manifest! Look up for our redemption draws near.

There is yet work to be done and now is a time to hold the sword in one hand and a trowel to build in the other. We don't know how little time we have left.

A Time Of Great Celebration

Harley Hickling

September 5, 2000

This evening, while once again on my garden bench, I was meditating on the goodness of our Lord and had entered into a time of worship. As I was worshipping a picture began to form in my minds eye and as it began to fill out and take shape I saw a vast throng of people gathered into a very large public area. The setting had a festive medieval flavor to it with colorful banners of every color displayed everywhere, many in royal colors and many displaying Royal Crests and lions and swords and various designs of shields and armor in artful and powerful displays. Colorful bunting was draped over nearly every object that was in the public area. The throng was also suitably dressed in medieval garb as well and an air of great excitement and anticipation was in evidence among many everywhere throughout the crowd. In the middle of the public area at a slightly elevated position stood a large Pavilion with colorful pennants unfurling in a gentle breeze above. As I was observing the activity around the Pavilion a line of 12 herald trumpeters, dressed in what reminded me of the Beefeater costumes worn by the Pope's Palace Guard, came forth from out of the entrance to the pavilion and lined up facing the vast throng and began to blow forth beautiful sounds of ruffles and flourishes. The long trumpets they were playing appeared to made of gold and long banners depicting the Lion of Judah draped from the length of the trumpets. As the heralding came forth the throng of people immediately became silent and many turned to face the direction from which the heralding had come. At the conclusion of the trumpeting a man dressed in splendid royal attire with elegant robes and with a gem encrusted crown emerged from the Pavilion's entranceway and the huge crowd began to shout forth "The Royal Prince is here!" and "Our Lord and our Savior is in our midst!" It seemed as though nearly the entire crowd was elated. And soon the man of royalty was moving through the huge crowd, speaking a word to this one, smiling to that one, touching a small child here and embracing another one there. Although He seemed to be passing through the crowd quickly, yet it seemed like those people that He gave direct time and acknowledgment too were not stinted in receiving personal recognition from Him. As he continued to pass through the crowd a sound of utter joyous celebration began to build coming forth from those who had received a personal touch from the Prince. As the Prince kept moving and making contact with different ones it began to become evident that the Prince was making no attempt to acknowledge everyone in His presence. In fact only a relatively small number of the throng was actually making personal contact with the Prince as He passed by.

Abba than spoke to me. What you are seeing is a large crowd of believers who have gathered at a previously announced public meeting to celebrate the arrival of Jesus in their midst. Some in this throng have a much greater desire to see their Lord than do others as is evidenced by those in the crowd who with excitement turned to gaze upon their Lord as soon as the trumpets started announcing His imminent appearance. As you have already noticed, the Prince is not making contact with everyone present in this area. He is connecting only with those in the crowd who are totally determined to serve Him and Him only. These are the ones who have submitted themselves to the ministrations of the Most Holy Spirit and who have sought His fiery cleansing of everything that had previously pertained to self in their lives. These are those who have died to self that they might live in Him and that He might be made manifest in them. These are those who are to be numbered in His bride and are wholly given unto Him. Although all the others are believers, they have not yet decided to surrender their all to their Prince and future King. Until they do decide to surrender all, they can not become numbered among His bride. Most of those who are unwilling to surrender are not yet ready to give up everything the world is offering them for the ruler of this world is determined to keep as many believers as possible from moving into complete intimacy with their Lord and Savior. Though Jesus' desire is for all to come into an intimate relationship with Him, yet He can not compel His people to make such a commitment for this must originate and spring forth from each heart voluntarily.

As Abba finished speaking and as the level of praise from those who the Prince had communicated with was becoming quite loud, the Prince finished His movement through the crowd and raising both his hands triumphantly above His head He began to turn slowly in a full circle giving a forth a mighty shout of joy which reverberated as loud as thunder roundly about the entire area! The trumpets began heralding once again and the Prince shouted forth "Come My beloved servants and join me in My Pavilion for a time of great celebration!" And with that the Prince started His return to the Pavilion and each one He had made contact with in the crowd joined with Him as the crowd parted to make way for the Prince and His procession to return to the Pavilion. As they neared the entrance to the Pavilion a number of angels came forth from the Pavilion who then went about turning aside large numbers of those who were trying to gain entrance into the Royal Pavilion but had not been recognized and invited by Prince to join Him there. Many in the crowd began to display dismay, some even shouted obscenities, and many more began to wail as the reality of their lack of relationship with Him began to sink in. Some just turned away as though nothing had happened at all in their presence. As the scene began to fade from view Abba said. Not all is lost for all of these people for many will yet decide to sacrifice all for Him who will someday soon will collect His Bride to be with Him. Others will fall away completely as prophesied of old and will experience outer darkness. Many others will simply end up with less than the best that they could have had.

A time of great celebration is even now beginning to break out among My children everywhere around the world as more and more of my children are coming into intimate relationship with their creator and with their savior. My children you are now entering into a realm of great love you have never believed possible and into a time of power and authority in Me never dreamed of. For you My beloved, this is indeed a time for great celebration!

The Sound Of Many Trumpets

September 8, 2000

The scene that I am depicting here is one that Abba has shared with me on a number of occasions over the last several months, or at least portions of it. It has only been very recently that I have been given understanding of just what it is that I have been witnessing. The setting takes place near the top of a high mountain. The principal feature in this setting is a pavilion not unlike those typically depicted in a Camelot setting although the other trappings of Camelot, such as a jousting arena, are not in evidence. I am also not unmindful that this setting is also similar to that depicted by Bob Neumann in The Sixth Thunder. Colorful banners and pennants are flying in a gentle breeze. Because many of the banners are depicting the Lion of Judah, it is obvious to me that this pavilion belongs to our King. There are also some very large colorful flags flying from the tops of a cluster of very tall flagpoles that stand a short distance from the pavilion. There are no people in sight, although there are several angels positioned around the perimeter of the King's Pavilion. Perhaps because of the expressions I can see on some of the Angels faces I have a sense that something dramatic is soon to take place.

With this anticipation in mind there is suddenly a sound of many trumpets, perhaps even a hundred or more, sounding out loudly throughout this heavenly place and just as suddenly a group made up entirely of men of every description appear before the entranceway into the pavilion. The men are dressed in everything from jeans and tennis shoes to suits and ties and they are neatly lined up as though in a military formation. The men are standing at attention and they too seem to have a great sense of anticipation about them. The entrance flap to the pavilion is now opening and the King makes His appearance and a shout of joy rises up from the men gathered before Him. Acknowledging the acclaim from the men, the King bows His head slightly toward them and with a genuine smile makes a simple gesture of invitation to these men to join Him within the pavilion. Immediately the scene changes to that of being on the inside of the pavilion. The men are now all on their knees in neat rows before their King. There is some light available from many candles placed about the pavilion so I am able to see the King begin to move about the men before Him. As He moves among them, He touches each of them on their foreheads with His hand and the instant that He touches them they are immediately clad in bright and shiny armor that gives forth a most terribly bright light. As each man is touched by the King, he bows his head low touching the ground in obeisance before Him. The King's Pavilion has now taken on a very bright light within coming forth from the armor that each man is now wearing and especially so now from the King Himself. A smell of beautiful incense is also quite noticeable in the air as well.

As I am observing this scene Abba speaks to me. What you are observing is the calling forth and the commissioning of a select band of warriors that will soon go forth to directly engage principalities, powers and rulers in high places. These are men who have completely given themselves to the service of their King. They have each spent much of their lives on the back part of deserts learning to die unto self in order that they may fully serve their Master. They are determined to release multitudes of captives, setting them free from their tormentors and they are willing to give up their lives, if necessary, to achieve this end. Now as the King reaches out and touches each of these warriors a measure of the mind of Christ is being imparted to each and with this impartation comes the understanding of what their respective missions are and what they must do to be successful in completing their assignments. The light radiating from their armor is the Glory that their King is covering each of them with.

With the commissioning ceremony now nearly over the King once again approaches each man and as He once again touches each one, they rise quickly to their feet each receiving the King's full embrace. As the warriors make final preparation before their departure angels assist each in being outfitted with sword, shield and helmets. The King informs them that His Rod of Iron will be given them when necessary in their dealings with the spirits of darkness. He also speaks to them about many other matters again passing through their ranks and speaking to each personally. There is a sense of great faith present among this group.

Again Abba speaks. What you have been witnessing will be occurring again in slightly different ceremonies for those men and women who will be serving their King as Apostles, as Prophets and as Prophetic Intercessors in these final days. My children will not lack for guidance nor for purpose in the days that they have remaining.

Again the sound of many trumpets sounded throughout this heavenly place and the warriors quickly disappear from view. The last thing I saw was the King as He turned and proceeded to the Ark of the Covenant that I had not noticed here to fore as being part of the pavilion's setting. As He takes His place on the Mercy seat a very great light overwhelms the area and the scene quickly fades from view with these final words from Abba. What you have been witnessing will soon come to pass. When I raise my battle flag on the mountain, let all the world take notice. When I blow the trumpet, listen.

A Time of Reaping

Wendy Twine

My Children,

I see your heart ache, but know your time of morning is coming to and end. Your season of dancing is breaking forth. I have seen your tears, I have heard your doubts, I have felt your pain, but know this a day of new beginnings. A season of harvesting is coming forth.

I have said if you don't grow weary in well doing you will reap a harvest if you faint not (Galatians 6:9). Well because of your faithfulness to keep trusting me when all looks hopeless, or when all have said, "give-up," I'm here to tell you that your time to reap your harvest is near. Because of your perseverance and steadfastness you will be in the King's court. You have remained faithful and because of your faithfulness your name will be in the Lamb's book of life (Revelations 20:12).

But again I say your morning is being turned into dancing and your years of sowing is turning into reaping. Even this day you will begin to see an increase measure of my favor upon you. As you continue to seek and knock the door will be open unto you.

If you know how to give good gifts to your children how much more will I give to those who ask (Luke 11:8-13). If my words abide in you and you abide in me ask what ye wish and it shall be given unto you (John 14).

A VISION :

I see a field of many tender shoots that have sprung forth in the last two weeks. For a long time you have stared at the field and said, "Lord I have sown all these seeds. Your rain has come to water (His word), Your sun has brought it's light (the warmth of God's love), and yet when will I see what I have sown?" The Father says, "You will now begin to see the seeds sown, and in a very short while you will see them maturing, bearing fruit, and ready to harvest. What you have not realized is the process I had to do to your seeds. Your seeds had to be covered where no one could see what I was doing. I had to cause the seeds outer shells to be broken off and allow the seeds to die first. Once they died, I was able to bring forth life that were inside and cause them to grow."

INTERPRETATION

The seeds represent promises, desires, callings, and giftings. The seeds that were placed in the ground represents a burial or a death that takes place (John 12:24-25). The outer shell of the seeds represents the shedding of the outer man, flesh, and world's systems; so that the inner-man or God's spirit and way may come forth. Much of our waiting has happened because of the outer shell of the seeds had to be removed, so all our fleshly ambitions could be put to death. And so that God's resurrection power could be brought forth in our promises, desires, callings, and giftings. So that He would receive all the glory.

All Through The Fires

Dan Luehrs

"When you pass through the waters, I will be with you; And through the rivers, they will not overflow you. When you walk through the fire, you will not be scorched, Nor will the flame burn you" (Isaiah 43:2).

I thank God for the truth of His word, but I despise the lies of men. There are those among us that would say we do not have to go through the fires. God will allow us to run from the fire if we choose. But, in truth, we will be running away from Him. If our desire is to get close to God, we must go through the fires in order to get to Him. "For our God is a consuming fire" (Hebrews 12:29). Do you really want to get close to Him? I tell you, the closer you get to Him, through the experiences of His Holy Spirit and the revelation of His word, the greater the fires will burn in your life. Fire only consumes fuel, when the fuel is gone the fire dies out. "For lack of wood the fire goes out" (Proverbs 26:20).

"His throne was ablaze with flames, Its wheels were a burning fire. "A river of fire was flowing And coming out from before Him ." (Daniel 7:9-10).

The clearest illustration I have to give understanding of this verse is of a volcano erupting; blowing its top, with fire spewing in the air and a river of fire flowing downward. Would you dare approach it? I think not! If a volcano is only His creation, then what must He be like?

"And Moses brought the people out of the camp to meet God, and they stood at the foot of the mountain. Now Mount Sinai was all in smoke because the LORD descended upon it in fire; and its smoke ascended like the smoke of a furnace, and the whole mountain quaked violently" (Exodus 19:17-18).

"And to the eyes of the sons of Israel the appearance of the glory of the LORD was like a consuming fire on the mountain top" (Exodus 24:17).

Notice, "His glory was like a consuming fire." We must have the fear of God in us if we dare draw closer to Him. Many people talk about the glory of the Lord being so wonderful, and it is. But when we realize that His Glory is the fire that consumes unholy traits in us, we must be careful how we draw close to Him with sin in our life. As I said, fire only consumes fuel and we are that fuel, when we have sin in our life. Some sins are so ingrained in us through habit that it can take many years for the fires of God to burn them out. Let me explain it this way. As a log is put on a fire, the outside of the log burns very quickly. It's core however, keeps burning because it is bound so tight. And so it is with us. The core of the sin takes time to be consumed. The fires will burn in us until there is no more pain or attraction to that former sin. To live for self is the main fuel that must be consumed!

Selfishness is ingrained in us from birth. This is what is in us: "Me, mine, my way, and no!" It is interesting to note that the fires of raising our own children take away our own self-centeredness from us. This is why parenting can be so challenging; it is a fire that consumes us. The same is true of marriage and any relationship that we have.

Our lives are ordered by God to burn self out! When we come to the realization of the fact that God is in control, and it is He that is setting these fires and maintaining them to cleanse us, we will have matured greatly. "Therefore, those also who suffer according to the will of God shall entrust their souls to a faithful Creator in doing what is right" (1 Peter 4:19). Did you know that it is God's will for you to suffer? Many would say, "But, but, I thought." It makes no difference what we think. God is not interested in our opinion, and the sooner we see this, the sooner we will get through the fires. For they can only burn until the fuel is gone. "After you have suffered for a little while, the God of all grace, who called you to His eternal glory in Christ, will Himself perfect, confirm, strengthen and establish you" (1 Peter 5:10). We must embrace the fires, not run from them. How do we do this? By acknowledging the fact that we are in fire; by giving God permission to do whatever He needs to do and yet counting it all joy! "Beloved, do not be surprised at the fiery ordeal among you, which comes upon you for your testing, as though some strange thing were happening to you; but to the degree that you share the sufferings of Christ, keep on rejoicing, so that also at the revelation of His glory you may rejoice with exultation" (1 Peter 4:12-13).

Many talk about escaping the fires of hell, and this we do by obeying Jesus Christ. (See John 3:36). But there is no escaping the fires of God in this life. In fact, I believe that if we do not go through these fires here and now, we could end up in eternal fire. Face the fires now or later; you cannot run from them. Thank God, we now have the comfort of His Holy Spirit to face these fires; in hell there will be no comfort. We must agree with God and run into Him where we will be consumed with His fire of love, not wrath. "And we know that God causes all things to work together for good to those who love God, to those who are called according to His purpose" (Romans 8:28).

"So that the proof of your faith, being more precious than gold which is perishable, even though tested by fire, may be found to result in praise and glory and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ (1 Peter 1:7). Notice how this verse and 1 Peter 4:12-13 both speaks about us being prepared for the revelation of Jesus. This is not the so-called rapture, but the revealing of His nature in His people. "So that also at the revelation of His glory you may rejoice with exultation." If we can see that the end goal of these fires is for us to be prepared for the revelation of His glory in us, the fires will not seem so bad because we know they have an eternal purpose. Remember that His glory is His fire! He is coming in flames of fire! ". When the Lord Jesus will be revealed from heaven with His mighty angels in flaming fire, dealing out retribution to those who do not know God and to those who do not obey the gospel of our Lord Jesus" (2 Thessalonians 1:7-8). He is not coming in some secret way as we have been told, oh no. He is coming in fire; a fire that consumes all that has not been prepared beforehand through holiness. Nothing will be hidden from His eyes. His fires are now burning all the garbage out of us. So, why would we want them to stop if they are doing such a great work in us? We must rejoice in the fires, even through the pain! These small fires in our life are now preparing us to be ready for His great appearance in fire. The only thing fire does not consume is fire. When He comes, we will become one fire in Him. Hallelujah!

"But the day of the Lord will come like a thief, in which the heavens will pass away with a roar and the elements will be destroyed with intense heat, and the earth and its works will be burned up. Since all these things are to be destroyed in this way, what sort of people ought you to be in holy conduct and godliness" (2 Peter 3:10-11).

Please hear me, these verses are not talking about the natural heavens and earth being destroyed. This is talking about all the works of the wicked flesh and evil spirit's being destroyed by great stress and pressure that is coming upon the earth at the revelation of Jesus Christ. "For behold, the day is coming, burning like a furnace; and all the arrogant and every evildoer will be chaff; and the day that is coming will set them ablaze," says the LORD of hosts, "so that it will leave them neither root nor branch." "But for you who fear My name the sun of righteousness will rise with healing in its wings; and you will go forth and skip about like calves from the stall. "And you will tread down the wicked, for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet on the day which I am preparing," says the LORD of hosts" (Malachi 4:1-3).

Do you hear what Malachi is saying? To those who fear His name, it will be a day of great freedom! For those who are prepared for His coming have nothing to fear. The fires will be great grace, (strength) to live by. "Therefore, gird your minds for action, keep sober in spirit, fix your hope completely on the grace to be brought to you at the revelation of Jesus Christ" (1 Peter 1:13). Fire is power. Firepower is the strength that runs almost everything: Your car must have gas to make fire in the motor to turn the wheels; electricity to run your home is fire; light is fire. Where would we be without the sun?

"Sinners in Zion are terrified; trembling has seized the godless. "Who among us can live with the consuming fire? Who among us can live with continual burning?" He who walks righteously, and speaks with sincerity, he who rejects unjust gain, and shakes his hands so that they hold no bribe; he who stops his ears from hearing about bloodshed, and shuts his eyes from looking upon evil; he will dwell on the heights; his refuge will be the impregnable rock; his bread will be given him; his water will be sure" (Isaiah 33:14-16).

Will you be prepared for the day of His revealing in fire?

A Twister of Blessing

Doug Patterson

May 15, 2000

I am sending to you a whirlwind of blessing. My Spirit will blow like a mighty twister. It will land in your territory and as it begins to move it is going to clear away a path of blessing. For I have seen structures that are not of Me. Things of the flesh that are going towards a purpose or a plan that I have not ordained. It appears to be all good works that have come out of the heart of one who wants to be faithful in My sight and pleasing unto Me.

Many of you have started building good ministries and outreaches and at My direction. They are like small buildings and as you have taken them up to the second and third story they look quite healthy at this point. But I tell you the foundation is weak. Allow My wind of blessing to come and tear it apart, test it and reconstruct it. I am clearing a new pathway. The blessing will be that I am preparing a perfectly level base that will be a place of building. Yes, the building of the Temple of the Lord, a holy habitation, a dwelling place. See the twister of life is coming to settle the issues, establish the callings and allow you to build a sure foundation. This will allow the ministries that I have called and given to you to flourish and prosper and to provide an excellent report as you present them to your Lord and Savior as an act of service for the covenant relationship that we have.

This wind will not leave any destruction but provide a pathway of life, a place of building and establishing and a place of moving forward into a new purpose. Clarity, hope and joy shall be established deep within each one of you, allowing you to know that I am your God and we are family.

Build My Vessel

Doug Patterson

This is a day to prepare to cross over into the promise. This is a day to look and find a piece of wood or a piece of cloth lying in the desert. For I have called My people to come towards the Jordan. Some shall walk others shall rest in the dry valleys of the desert. For I am about to fill them with an underground stream of living water. As they hang on to that piece of wood it will cause them to float along that stream of living water in the desert and it shall run them towards the sea. There My people will congregate in Me and as I assemble them together all is well. Each person will have a piece of material necessary to build a boat. A sailboat is in order today, for the wind of My Spirit is going to blow across the land.

There is a calm to build this boat. It shall be like an A frame, an apostolic anointing. Direction from the Father shall bring things together, set in order. Each person has a very important part. It is time to gather together as a team. Trust Me. Many have heard that the wind will blow but you must have a vessel of honor to cross. This boat constructed in the shape of an A, upon completion shall be turned over and placed into the water. This time it transforms into a V. V for victory! V for vision! V for a violent spirit to take the land by force!

For as you enter the boat you enter into My victory. The pieces of fabric have been sewn together to make a majestic sail. It is time to build the boat. It is time to lift the sail. It is time to enter in for My wind is about to blow. New vision is coming your way. Gather together, assemble, build My vessel and see what I will do.

Australia

Trevor Lourens

A VISION FOR AUSTRALIA

While watching the live broadcast of the arrival of the Olympic flame in Uluru on the 8th June, God started to speak to me, giving me prophetic parallels of the events taking place on my TV.

The number 8 speaks of new beginnings and resurrection day and I saw Australia coming into a new season of God.

The flame arrived out of the sky via Ansett airways accompanied by the guardian of the flame and other flame attendants.

I saw the Gloryfire of God coming down upon this nation accompanied by the Lords guardian angels of fire.

When I saw The Olympic torch I was shown an exploded view of it and saw that it was constructed of three almost identical sections. Each section was a different colour.

Again I saw the relevance of what I was seeing. The three sections making one unit spoke of the Trinity. White speaks of the purity, holiness and righteousness of Father God. The blue, of revelation and a Rhema word of God which comes by His Holy Spirit. Silver, the symbol of redemption, speaks of Jesus our Redeemer. The flame of fire on top of the torch represented His burning presence.

I saw the torch of the Gloryfire of God going from town to town and city to city with people gathering and filling stadiums all worshipping Jesus, the Light of the world.

Nova Peris Kneebone was the first torchbearer in Australia, the Lord said to look up the meaning of her name. It has two meanings and I was given accompanying scripture. The first meaning is "new"

Isa 43:

19 Behold, I will do a new thing, Now it shall spring forth; Shall you not know it? I will even make a road in the wilderness And rivers in the dessert. NKJV

Nova is also a star that suddenly increases its light output to burn thousands of times brighter than normal and then fades to it's original state within months or years. Prominent astronomers believe that the star that heralded the birth of Jesus, The Bethlehem Star, was a nova.

Those who will carry this torch of God will have spent much time on their knee bones.

As Nova Peris Kneebone raised the Olympic torch high and stepped barefoot from the red earth onto the highway to begin the journey, I saw more of what is to come.

Acts 7:

33 Then the LORD said to him, "Take your sandals off your feet, for the place where you stand is holy ground.

34 "I have surely seen the oppression of my people who are in Egypt; I have heard their groaning and have come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send you to Egypt." NKJV

The higher way of holiness is opening up before us, get ready to pick up YOUR torch and run.

Isa 35:

8 A highway shall be there, and a road, And it shall be called the Highway of Holiness. The unclean shall not pass over it, But it shall be for others. Whoever walks the road, although a fool, Shall not go astray. NKJV

To the faithful and true, to those with a broken heart and a contrite spirit, to those who have BELIEVED for the supernatural power of God, your day of visitation is at hand Australia, for this is the beginning of the season of Isa 60.

Isa 60:

1 Arise, shine; For your light has come! And the glory of the LORD is risen upon you.

2 For behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, And deep darkness the people; But the LORD will arise over you, And His glory will be seen upon you.

3 The Gentiles shall come to your light, And kings to the brightness of your rising.

4 "Lift up your eyes all around, and see: They all gather together, they come to you; Your sons shall come from afar, And your daughters shall be nursed at your side.

5 Then you shall see and become radiant And your heart shall swell with joy; Because the abundance of the sea shall be turned to you, The wealth of the Gentiles shall come to you. NKJV

Kathie Walters

VISION AND WORD FOR AUSTRIA By: Kathryn Walters Kathie's e-mail: kathiewalters@mindspring.com

Several years ago I had a vision of Austria, and the Lord told me to pray for the believers in Austria to be alert and awake - and to pray for their nation.

The Vision:

I saw several youths of about 18-20 years old. They were playing a game and were on a mountain. It was very green and the sky was blue.

In the right hand corner of the sky appeared a very small dark cloud. They didn't notice - it was so small. As they continued with their game the cloud got a little bigger, but still it was small. It seemed hardly worth noticing.

After a while the cloud grew bigger and although the youths glanced at it, it still seemed unimportant, they continued with the game.

A while later the cloud was bigger still and they looked at it- but then turned away again to the game.

Then after another while it was bigger still and obviously growing. As it grew bigger and bigger it began to take up a good part of the sky. They became alarmed and started shouting at the cloud. It still continued to grow bigger. Then as the shouting hadn't done anything, they picked up stones and small rocks, and threw them at the cloud. The stones had no affect upon the cloud at all and soon it was covering most of the sky.

As they realized that what they were doing was not affecting the cloud at all, they then knelt down in desperation and put their hands in the air and began to call upon the Lord.

Austria - interpretation. I believe the Lord showed me that the dark cloud represented the Nazi spirit. The youths were distracted with enjoying themselves. Although there were signs that things were happening in the spirit that weren't good, they didn't consider it of any real danger.

And so the spirit had opportunity to gain strength. The shouting - represented complaining, and the stones represented "words." When both the complaining and "words" failed then they turned to the Lord.

I don't believe this is an inevitable thing, but a word from the Lord to pray now - to take seriously the small signs you see - don't be distracted and ignore them.

15 years ago the Holy Spirit told me that the Nazi Spirit was making plans to make Austria its headquarters. Lets pray for Austria and join with our brothers and sisters there to pray for this beautiful nation.

A Visit To The Throne Room

Amanda Davis

Posted from the Elijah List

Received 2/27/00

Recently, I have been hearing a lot about intercessors being called to a new level of intimacy with the Lord. I had heard a strong focus on entering in via praise, worship and thanksgiving. I humbly submit this prophetic experience for your discernment.

ENTERING HIS GATES WITH PRAISE, WORSHIP, AND THANKSGIVING

This morning in my prayer time I decided that I was going to begin with a time of praise, worship and thanksgiving. I didn't have any specific time limit in mind, I just began by praising and worshiping him for His awesomeness in so many ways. Then, moved into a time of thanksgiving for specific things He was doing in my life and in the life of others.

"I SIGHED . . I WANT TO ENTER IN, LORD"

It was during this time of thanksgiving that I sighed and simply said, I want to enter in, Lord. Immediately, I found myself in the Throne Room. The room was all white except for a strip of red carpet that led up to the Throne where the Lord was seated. I stood there wondering how I got there.

Then, as if He could read my thoughts He said, You passed through the gates of praise and thanksgiving. Now, come My Child and enter in. I hesitated in a state of awe, not knowing how I should approach someone so majestic.

Instantly, He said, "Come boldly before My Throne."

I made my way to the Throne with a handful of papers.

He asked, "What have you brought Me?"

READING MY PETITIONS . . . HE ADDRESSED EACH ONE PERSONALLY

One by one, I began reading my petitions (requests for prayer from different people and ministries, for the Body and even some personal ones). Some of the requests, were things I had prayed for on a daily basis, but today it seemed so different because I saw with My own eyes that He was addressing each petition personally.

As I brought the first request before Him, He banged what appeared to be a seal onto the paper and said, "Done."

Sometimes, the requests were for people who were discouraged and He would bang the seal and say, "It is the Father's heart to grant this request."

Sometimes, a request would get the following response before I could even finish saying it,

" . . This request was granted as you began speaking it."

I went through every piece of paper and then reached into the recesses of my mind to try to bring Him every other request I could think of for some personal insight from Him. He began opening my mind to understandings about certain situations which had become blocks in my prayer life.

I ACTUALLY WANDERED OFF IN MY THINKING OF WHAT HE HAD SAID

He gave me ways to pray for certain circumstances that had seemed hopeless. I'm embarrassed to say, there was even a time when He began to open my mind to these mysteries that I actually wandered off thinking about what He had said and forgot that I was standing before the Throne of God. Embarrassed and humbled that I couldn't even keep my attention at a time like this I begged for forgiveness. He sweetly forgave me and assured Me that He was willing to wait for me. I was so excited to be before Him and didn't want to leave but I knew that my earthly home was calling for my attention to the responsibilities that had been given me there.

It was then that I heard Him say, Now that you know how to get here, visit me often. END OF THE EXPERIENCE

NOTE FROM AMANDA DAVIS:

Please, understand that I am not trying to say that there is a formula for getting to the Throne of God. I can't really tell you why this prayer experience was different than yesterdays.

Our ways and understandings are not God's ways. But, He does tell each of us to come boldly before the Throne (Heb 4:16). Whether you see this experience prophetically as I did is not what is important. What is important is that you know, by faith, that the Lord is there 24/7 to receive our petitions, that He address them personally and that He wants to bring each of us to new understandings of His marvelous mysteries.

May God bless you richly as you boldly approach His Throne of Grace.

NOTE FROM STEVE SHULTZ REGARDING THIS PROPHETIC EXPERIENCE:

I interviewed Amanda about this vision so that I could pass on to you the answer to my question. I asked her to describe what this experience felt like. This is what Amanda shared with me:

Amanda:

"You know it is so interesting that you asked how I experienced my Throne Room time with the Lord. It is only the 3rd time I have ever had an experience like this but I would have to say that I felt like I was actually there.

It wasn't a picture in my mind because I have experienced that before. My understanding of a vision is like you are watching a movie picture and it wasn't like that. I was actually participating in this experience.

The pieces of papers I took to the Lord were requests sent to me mostly via the internet. I wrote to you last Friday about a School of Intercession I am getting ready to begin via the internet. Some of the papers contained names of ministries like The Cove, which is an community outreach program that feeds and cares for about 500 underprivileged people in their town. Another, was a pastor from little church in the mountains close to Canada who was struggling to save his church. I don't know what denomination these people and ministries are affiliated with, I never ask as long as they are Christ-centered.

I have felt a strong call to intercede for the Body as a whole. So, these pieces of paper represented pieces of the Body.

On a personal note, there were people for whom I had prayed with in ministry time [who] never seemed to have victory. This had been very perplexing to me. He simply said to pray that they become willing to be made willing to surrender it to God. He evidently was waiting for them to lay the problem at His feet so He could take care of it once and for all. But, they had to be willing to leave it there and not pick it up again. BTW, I have personally seen this work already in more than one case.

Thanks for ministering to my soul with your ministry. I have made many new friends via The Elijah List that I can't wait to meet in Heaven."

A Violent Judgement on the Earth?

Jane Clark

How great is our God, and how puny we are, we who think we have everything under control.... We are unaware of the forces that can be unleashed at God's command, and how great His mercy is in withholding them; giving us time to repent.

Prophecy and science can sometimes be bedfellows

I saw a programme on British Television and two days later read a portion of Isaiah which appears to describe a situation very like the scientists prediction. It is shared for encouragement, warning and prayer. I have tried to report the facts from the programme as accurately as possible, but at the time I was listening I had no idea of their prophetic significance.

"Horizon" a British TV programme tells the history of super volcanoes and their impact on the world focusing on Yellowstone Park, an area where the conditions for a super volcano exist. A geologist was trying to find a large crater of a super volcano that he knew was there. He was unable to do so until Nasa took satellite picture of the whole area. He then discovered that it had been just too large to find.. 100km long and 70 km broad. And within this large area were 2 other gigantic craters which had exploded at different times.

A super volcano is not like a normal volcano. The lava-like molten material does not blow straight into the atmosphere, because it is trapped under a layer of rock. The pressure under the rock begins building up. When mixed with a gas under this layer of rock, the pressure gets so much it blows the whole area literally sky high. The most recent super volcano eruption happened 60-74,000 years ago, the scientists say, in the Indonesian causing a volatile explosion which affected the whole earth, layering it with ash and lowering the world temperature by an average of 10 degrees (which would cause the harvest time to cease). Very few people would have survived on the whole earth .

The only comparable event in history is the eruption of the normal volcano on Santorini, Greece, which blew up half the island. A super volcano is much more potent due to the reaction between the gas and the molten metal. The scientists did, however, try to recreate laboratory simulation of the conditions causing a super eruption. The effect was very violent and would indeed blow a large part of the earth's crust many tens of kilometers high into the atmosphere. The geologists are concerned that there may be more such eruptions to come; hence the interest in Yellowstone Park.

Back to Yellowstone Park; the 3 eruptions here, each one occurring at 60,000 year intervals, according to the scientists, were super volcanic, and the layers of ash were there to evidence it. The geologist was warning that another one was due. They looked at records of the measurements of the earth level movements for over 50 years in the area, and the results show that the earth had bulged by 2 and a half feet at one end of the crater, and was continuing to move upwards. They believe it is only a matter of time before the next super volcano comes into action. (They were giving no predictions as to immediacy.)

Two days afterwards I was looking for a Psalm at random to praise God, and I came upon this:

A violent judgement on the earth;

Isa 24:19-20

19 The earth is violently broken,
The earth is split open,
The earth is shaken exceedingly.
20 The earth shall reel to and fro like a drunkard,
And shall totter like a hut;
Its transgression shall be heavy upon it,
And it will fall, and not rise again. NKJV

Isa 24:1-5

Behold, the LORD makes the earth empty and makes it waste, Distorts its surface
And scatters abroad its inhabitants
2 And it shall be:
As with the people, so with the priest;
As with the servant, so with his master;
As with the maid, so with her mistress;
As with the buyer, so with the seller;
As with the lender, so with the borrower;
As with the creditor, so with the debtor.
3 The land shall be entirely emptied and utterly plundered,
For the LORD has spoken this word.
4 The earth mourns and fades away,
The world languishes and fades away;
The haughty people of the earth languish.
5 The earth is also defiled under its inhabitants,
Because they have transgressed the laws,
Changed the ordinance,
Broken the everlasting covenant.
6 Therefore the curse has devoured the earth,
And those who dwell in it are desolate.
Therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned,
And few men are left.

The last verse is particularly interesting, for the geologists in the programme happened to hear of some research into the mutation of genes. Without being too technical scientists had found a gene that mutated from mother to child at a fixed interval, and through this fixed based they could calculate back to the base starting point of man's genes. They expected that there would be many different variations, but surprise, surprise, they came upon a bottleneck about 60,000 years ago and came to the conclusion that there could have only been a population of a few thousand throughout the whole earth at that time! They blamed this on the super volcano; but my thought immediately went back to Noah and the flood, not to any super volcano action.

However..., concentrating on the geologists findings; if a super volcano were to erupt the last verse would indeed come true; the earth would be burned, its face distorted, it will fall and not rise again, and few men would be left....

"Dear God... have mercy upon us and help us to work whilst it is day, calling men into the everlasting Kingdom"

Now for the good news; interspersed between the judgements in the same chapter were real rays of rejoicing and the prophecy of the dawning light.... or daystar, Jesus Christ, and the reigning of His saints.

The Righteous Rejoice

14 They shall lift up their voice, they shall sing;

For the majesty of the LORD

They shall cry aloud from the sea.

15 Therefore glorify the LORD in the dawning light,

The name of the LORD God of Israel in the coastlands of the sea.

16 From the ends of the earth we have heard songs:

"Glory to the righteous!"

The Judgement of the Wicked and the Righteous Reign

Isa 24:21-23

21 It shall come to pass in that day

That the LORD will punish on high the host of exalted ones,

And on the earth the kings of the earth.

22 They will be gathered together,

As prisoners are gathered in the pit,

And will be shut up in the prison;

After many days they will be punished.

23 Then the moon will be disgraced

And the sun ashamed;

For the LORD of hosts will reign

On Mount Zion and in Jerusalem

And before His elders, gloriously. NKJV

How great is our God who holds the world and all the cataclysmic forces of physical nature in His hand.

The mighty power that raised Jesus from the dead is infinitely more potent, for there is power to rescue from anything the physical world can do to us...The power was such when He died that men were raised from the dead spontaneously. I believe it was because they were just in the physical region of the event on the cross when Christ yielded up His Spirit, and cried it is finished. All power to Him and His mighty victory. May we cry out for help and escape the judgement.

A Vision of the Mantles

Chad Taylor

(In an intense moment of worship I had the following vision. It has reoccurred many times since its original manifestation. I humbly offer it now as a means of moving us all into a place of greater power and glory. Openly, publicly, displaying His glory to the world as in times of renown. I believe this represents a distinct season of revival and reformation about to be presented to the world in profound proportions and impact. Many past movements and revivals are consummating into one river, flooding the land with His power and passion. With this expectation I release the following vision. Chad Taylor).

I saw as it were a great parade route. An innumerable company of saints proceeding down this way. Down this road. On each side of this procession the crowd of onlookers pressed in on each side, reaching out as if to touch those coming by. The road was paved with gold, and the light at the end was brilliant like the sun. You could hear the voices of praise as this great company of the living walked this road of glory.

Suddenly the faces of those that were pressing in on each side could be seen. William and Katherine Booth, Kathryn Kuhlman, A. A. Allen, John G. Lake, Charles Finney, Maria Woodworth-Etter, some well know, others unknown. They pressed and pushed to get close enough to touch those still living and passing by. These that had already ran their race reached out to touch those that were now passing through. Then I heard the Lord say,

"I am taking My church to the Mt. of Transfiguration to show them a greater glory of who I am. Like Peter, James, and John, they will enter the cloud and they will see Me in My fullness and majesty. 'the Kingdom of God present with power.' (Mk. 9:1). They will come out the other side transfigured themselves. They not only saw Me in My glory, but they also saw Elijah and Moses 'and behold, two men talked with Him, who were Moses and Elijah, who appeared in glory...' (Lk. 9:30-31). "

"Now in this time I am opening the graves of those that I once shook the earth with, and these mantles will rest on the shoulders of men and women again. Even children shall walk in a glory that only seasoned veterans of the faith had once walked in. The earth will see these signs and wonders again, but now in a greater magnitude and frequency. It will be a common occurrence to see and hear the miracles that they did. These old mantles are now going to be released to this chosen generations. Mantles of kings and priests will rest on the shoulders of this generation. They will do more than all these other ever saw or did. They will usher in the fullness of the ages, the end of world."

As the Lord spoke this, I saw those old saints on each side suddenly begin to throw off their mantles and coats on those passing by! As each one cast off their mantles they cried out, "Cross over! Cross over! Come to the other side! Come into the promise land! Enter into the cloud! Climb the mountain! Come up higher! Higher! Higher!" Each one was now casting their mantles on the individuals that passed by. Some even caught two and three mantles! The faces of the those on each side were beaming with excitement as we received the mantles and the callings they were so freely giving away. Then I heard one say, "We have freely received these things, now we freely give them away to this chosen generation..."

I saw the faces of the heroes of the faith that had passed on centuries ago. The attire that they wore in this vision gave reference to what era or time they were from. Each one cast their mantles on those that were now passing by, the ones who were now living upon the earth. Each one as they received these gifts and callings, were really only beginning to fulfill what the Lord had already intended for them to do. "To cast out demons, heal the sick, raise the dead, and cleanse the lepers." The world was seeing the face of the resurrected Christ through the faces of His people.

I then heard the Lord say, "Now is the time for public demonstration of My glory and power. Now is the time for the open air meetings and My glory demonstrated in the marketplaces. Now is the time for the world to stand in awe of Me. Now is the time the Church will cross over and begin to do exploits. Now is the time for all of these things says the Lord. That I will do wonders amongst you. I will prove Myself and reveal Myself to a gainsaying and rebellious people. Because I am longsuffering, not willing that any perish, but that all come to repentance. These are those days says the Lord."

The Church had been transfigured into a glorious expression of the Father's heart. Each one doing what they were destined to do. Moving about the earth seeing whole nations turn to the word's of the Lord uttered through human lips. This great cloud of witnesses cheered the crowds as they passed by. Their numbers growing as the Lord "added to the church daily such as should be saved." Fear was upon the church again as, "believers were increasingly added to the Lord, multitudes of both men and women, so that they brought the sick out into the streets and laid them on beds and couches, that at least the shadow of Peter passing by might fall on some of them..." (Acts 5:14-16).

A Warning: To Abide in Christ

Roseanne G. Harney

I had a dream last night; I was seeing people being sent out on a journey. The hike that they were going on was one that would take great courage and strength. I could see that the terrain was quite rugged and mountainous.

I watched a woman, trying to figure out how to cross the swift river set before her. She was holding onto tree branches as she began to walk across the river. On a large log she stepped out, but I could see fear in her face and then she fell into the river and drowned.

The next thing I heard was a man's voice asking me what had I observed? What did I know about this person?

I told him, that God showed me that her hands slipped and that she had been very tired. She was going ahead of her destiny, and out of God's timing, afraid of failure. So she continued on the path she sought and ignored His voice. Looking only to other people (tree branches) for answers and direction. They gave man's wisdom, that was a type of truth, but not the real Truth that God had for her.

When she decided to walk down the wrong path. Sin entered into her life. Pride and self-exaltation came from touching God's glory that resulted in her death.

She wouldn't have fallen if; she had held on to His written Word and remained in relationship with Christ. Obeying His commands and His love and yielded to the Holy Spirit for direction.

If her life had been fruitful, she would have been seen as a disciple of Christ. Filled with much love and wanting His purpose for her life. If she had yielded to the Holy Spirit and prayed, it would have changed the direction for her whole life. She would have been walking and talking with God and had much joy and the fruit of the Spirit in her life. (Galatians 5:22-23) NIV

(John 15:1-8) NIV "I am the true vine, and my Father is the gardener. He cuts off every branch in me that bears no fruit while every branch that does bear fruit he prunes so that it will be even more fruitful. You are already clean because of the word I have spoken to you. Remain in me, and I will remain in you. No branch can bear fruit by itself; it must remain in the vine. Neither can you bear fruit unless you remain in me. "I am the vine; you are the branches. If a man remains in me and I in him, he will bear much fruit; apart from me you can do nothing. If anyone does not remain in me, he is like a branch that is thrown away and withers; such branches are picked up, thrown into the fire and burned. If you remain in me and my words remain in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be given you. This is to my Father's' glory, that you bear much fruit, showing yourselves to be my disciples.

Awakening

A WORD FOR ISLANDS AND ISLAND NATIONS-

From his book, "Prophetic Power in the New millennium"

Many islands and island nations worldwide will be powerfully visited by God. Deemed insignificant and non-strategic by many, God will take personal pleasure in blessing these tiny dots on the map - all to His glory! These islands and island nations will take the lead, spearheading new and powerful moves of God. God will show the world He is "no respecter of persons" (Acts 10:34).

REVIVAL FIRE!

Nations like Taiwan, Cuba, Trinidad, Japan, Madagascar, the Philippines, Indonesia, the Greek Isles, and New Zealand will feel God's mighty hand pressed heavily on them. Unexplainable phenomenon will testify of this visitation from heaven. In some cases it will be a prolonged visitation much envied by others. Island chains like the Hawaiian Islands, the islands of the Caribbean, even Eskimo populations along the Aleutians will be visited by the Holy Spirit.

Individual islands like Tahiti, Corsica, Sardinia, and the Falklands will also experience the fire of revival with the glory of God visibly descending on them as never before in their history!

HOLY SPIRIT MARINES

A special corps of ministers, a kind of Holy Spirit Marines, will specialize in invading these island nations. Wave after wave of anointed prophets will storm these beaches, retaking the ground lost to previous spiritual conflicts.

Already, God is placing His strategies in apostolic and prophetic ministers for these very nations. Although tiny in size, these isolated islands will see God do marvelous things.

A Warning Against Pride!

Deborah Voetberg

DREAM:

I could see the throne to my left in the Holy of Holies, and could hear the call of the Lord for all to enter in, there was a beckoning of His spirit that was urgent. A greater call was going out to His bondservants, warriors and five-fold. Those hearing and answering the call had to leave their own identity of who they were in the kingdom outside the door before entering into the Holy of Holies.

Some didn't understand how they were to approach Him and carried with them their tools and weapons of ministry. The warriors were in the majority of this group. They came dressed as knights in shining armor. The Father chastised them for their pride, and for approaching Him in their own strength. Their pride had blinded them from the heart of the Father.

I heard Him say, " Depart from Me all who entered in their own strength...those who practice lawlessness."

INTERPRETATION:

I believe this is a warning to the leaders and servants mentioned. I am five-fold, a bondservant and a warrior...so I am not coming against leadership. Before I went to bed that night I had been praying to the Lord about some doors that are opening up in ministry. I was asking the Holy Spirit to keep my heart, because I know how addictive the wine of ministry can be and I want my eyes always on the Father...that my desire is to always be about my Fathers' business, not my own.

He is our strength in all that we do. He is our identity. All that we have comes from Him. Lawlessness is the opposite of righteousness. When we believe Him...it is counted to us as righteousness, when we believe in ourselves more, that is counted as lawlessness. When that becomes our way of thinking and functioning in ministry we are now practicing lawlessness. It is not something we just find in the streets of the world...it is in our hearts.

The Father is beckoning His bondservants, five-fold and especially His warriors to lay down their own tools of ministry and pick up His ways. He is warning us of pride that leads to a fall. If your ministry was gone tomorrow...would you still worship Him? Come boldly, and humbly before his throne.

"If anyone speaks, let him speak as the oracles of God. If anyone ministers, let him do it as with the ability which God supplies, that in all things God may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom belong the glory and the dominion forever and ever. Amen. " 1 Peter 4:11

A Word for America

Ros Henderson-Hobson

Here is a word that is specific to America, it concerns the judgment America will face during the tribulation time.

A WORD FOR AMERICA

America your judgment is coming soon. Though you say in your heart I am strong and wealthy and am in need of nothing. Though you glorify in your great wantonness and harlotry, you shall be crushed by your enemy. With flames of great fury your cities will be destroyed.

Though you sit as a queen upon many waters, and say in your heart, I am desired by all. What nation can resist me! You shall be beguiled by your own vanity.

You call yourself beautiful, yet you are ugly and contemptible! You exalt yourself and concern yourself with the affairs of others, whilst your own children suffer.

Murder and lust abound within the hearts of your people. Many seeds of your corruption have spread throughout this world. You have committed vile and despicable acts, murdering your own children. Shall I not punish you when the stench of your sins have reached to the heavens?

You walk upon the high places, and say there is no god! You divide and conquer at your own pleasure, your pride has blinded you to the truth, therefore you shall stumble and reel like a drunkard with too much wine.

Though you say in your heart I will stand, for my high walls and fortresses are many, sudden destruction will come upon you. A great terror will befall you from the northern most conqueror. Plagues of great affliction shall strike you suddenly!

Vision

I saw flames of fire pouring down upon the cities of America. Terrible destruction consumed the lives of many.

Then I saw another scene, multitudes of people walking away from their homes. It was winter time and very cold. Despair was written across the faces of many. I watched a woman covered in a black heavy coat walking slowly in the long line of people leaving from where they had come.

Then I saw others standing on the road side handing out small portions of food and soup. Who are these people lord that provide for the needy ?

These are they whom do my work, says the lord. These are my servants, they fear not for their own lives but serve me and are obedient to my word. They flee not, for they do not fear the enemy.

I marveled at the courage, of those who remained strong and firm in their faith. With hearts of compassion they served the Lord even unto death. For they knew their reward would be great.

Who is this northern oppressor Lord, that comes to destroy the lives of many ?

The devourer who comes destroying many in his path is Russia. Him who you call the bear! And with him shall come smaller nations eager to partake in the spoils. The heart of this bear is filled with great rage and bitterness, even now he devises schemes and great wickedness upon the spiritual harlot America.

Others will watch in awe as the bear weaves his path of destruction. America will try to rise up against her strong enemy but will stumble and fall.

Woe to America for your oppressor is great, and his wrath knows no bounds. Who will save you from your day of destruction! O land of the oppressed. For the enemy will strip and consume your flesh and utterly consume you with fire.

For the lord has purposed it into the heart of the devourer to carry out the destruction. Yes the vile northern conqueror is coming to kill and destroy the people of the land.

Revelations chapter 18 verse 3

Because all nations have drunk the wine of her passionate unchastity, and the rulers and leaders of the earth have joined her in committing fornication and the businessmen of the earth have become rich with the wealth of her excessive luxury and wantonness.

America shall pay the penalty for her sins and crimes have reached high into the heavens. And I shall repay to her what she has paid to others, and double her doom, in accordance with what she has done. Mix her a double portion for her, in the cup she mixed for others!

To the degree that she has glorified herself and reveled in her wantonness, so shall her plagues be. In a single day she shall be utterly consumed burned up by fire; for mighty is the lord who judges her.

God bless

Awaken Now

Bill Burns

June 16, 2000:

Awaken now, My people, for the time has come for man to come under My divine rule. The day of My power comes now with the swiftness of the eagle. The day of My power will reveal My goodness and My severity. Blessings will overtake those who belong to Me, and judgment will come upon those whose hearts are far from Me.

It is now time for My people to possess the kingdom, to fully live in the kingdom, and to receive the benefits of the kingdom. For now I will make a distinction between those who are Mine and those who are not. Now comes the hour of restoration. Is it not written that I will restore to you the years the locust (consuming one) has eaten?

The day of the Lord is at hand, a day of darkness for all that do not love My coming, but it is also a day when the righteous will shine as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Behold, a people come, the likes of which has never been--a strong people, a great people--these are My beloved, My sons who abide in My glory. Again I say, awaken My people and look unto Me, for it is time for you to possess the kingdom.

Words from the Lord to Marsha Burns:

June 12, 2000:

I have things to show you and revelation to release to you, which you must receive to fulfill your purpose on the earth. But, you cannot receive when you are stuck in your petty issues of life. I am Spirit, and I speak spiritually into your spirit. You cannot receive that which is spirit by way of flesh. So, I say to you, rise up out of the issues that anchor you to the flesh. Forgive all offenses and release yourself from hurt and bitterness, for these will keep you in bondage.

Proverbs 18:19, "A brother offended is harder to win than a strong city, and contentions are like the bars of a castle." June 13, 2000: I have brought you by way of Seir where demons dwell to Kadesh Barnea, a place of holiness, to test your heart. I say to you today, choose one place or the other. For, you cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons; you cannot sit at the Lord's table and the table of devils. You cannot be filled with pride and walk in humility. You cannot love the Lord and hate your brother. You cannot walk in peace with war in your heart. You cannot walk in the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace and yet harbor resentment. And, I tell you, that where division, strife and contention exist is where you have exalted yourself, but whoever exalts himself shall be abased. Have I not said that pride goes before a fall and a haughty spirit before destruction? Do you think that I don't see the judgments that you have formed against those who are My beloved? Aren't these judgments based on your own flesh motives and desires? Have I not forgiven your every sin? How can you be forgiven and justify unforgiveness in your own heart? But, I say absolutely if you do not forgive, neither will I forgive you. Examine yourself and purge your heart and choose life.

June 14, 2000:

A number of years ago we had a family of bluebirds build a nest in a birdhouse in our front yard. It was so much fun to watch the entire process of them raising their new family. This morning as I was waiting on the Lord, I was reminded of the day the five little birds left the nest. Mama and Papa bluebird stopped feeding the young ones and sat outside on a power line calling to their babies. The babies, one by one would peek out and see them, lose their nerve and go back inside the birdhouse. Finally the bravest (or the hungriest) of all hopped out on the perch and flew up to join them. The next three followed shortly thereafter, but the fifth little bird refused to come out. The papa bird began to teach the first four how to hunt and feed themselves, while mama bird kept calling to the reluctant one.

After half a day of watching this process, I could stand it no longer. I took the front of the birdhouse off so the last little bird could see his mama. But, he had his eyes shut tight and his little head buried in the corner of the nest. He finally did join the rest of his family, and I suppose lived happily ever after.

As I pondered why I would be reminded of this event, I heard the voice of the Lord. You, My children, are about to move into a new level of existence and freedom. You are about to enter the reality of your purpose in My kingdom, to fulfill what I have called you to do. I am calling to you to come forth, hear My voice, and follow My leading. Even though you will be a more visible target for the enemy, I will also give you the ability to see the attacks coming and the wisdom to escape. Do not be afraid, for I will be with you to direct your every step. I will open up new realms of glory to you and greater vision. You will soar to new heights spiritually as you follow Me.

June 16, 2000:

Come into My peace and rest. I have called you and chosen you for such a time as this, but I will do the work as you yield to My leading and guidance. When you step out on your own, you will find yourself afflicted with a strong dose of insecurity. Insecurity brings with it a lot of clamoring and noise, and you will find yourself entertaining covetousness and jealousy, as you measure yourself and compare yourself with others. I say to you, rise up out of carnality and rest securely in My presence, for I am your security, your place of safety, your high tower. Come into the secret place of the Most High.

June 17, 2000:

I surround you with My peace and uphold you with My love. My joy is your strength, and My word is your light. Behold, I am doing a glorious work in the hearts of those who have yielded themselves totally to Me. But, you cannot be double-minded. You cannot serve yourself and serve Me at the same time. You must choose. I am waiting to sanctify you completely, but I can only do that when you surrender all. Your past is not fixable, but it is redeemable if you will release it to Me. Come for healing and restoration, for I will make all things new.

A Word to Prophets

Scott Hofstee

January 1, 2000

I the Lord, speak this day to prophets, both true and false. To the true prophets, that I have appointed, I say this to you. There is coming a fire, a holy fire, that will first purify your vessels and then strengthen to contain what I AM about to pour through them. It has begun already in some but many more, in the days and months ahead, will begin to experience it. Do not fight against what I do. It is I burning off the dross, the impurities in you all, that taint you and make you fear what is in you. When I AM done, I will begin to use you as a conduit of fire, to begin to speak in even greater measure to the issues that are on My heart. Not yours. For many have spoken out of their hearts but have not had My heart. I will deal with this, My beloved servants, and the sure word of the Lord will come forth with boldness and purity. I love you, therefore I discipline, therefore I disciple you. Do not grow weary or faint hearted in this season, for it is I the Lord who prepares. It is not you being punished, It is I preparing.

To the false, self appointed prophets, who have sought a place, a ministry, that I have not given, I say to you, I love you as well but your vanity and self is about to be exposed. I will , this year, separate those who have prophesied out of their minds, to forward themselves and not forward the name of My Son. I will cause you to know that I AM a holy and awesome God. Many will repent and I will restore you to places prepared for you. But some will not and I will move against you with a fury that will stun many who have not known both My mercy and severity. I tell you all, My shepherds rod is going to fall. It will separate and it will gather as well. But none will be allowed complacency. I AM shaking beloved, I AM freeing you from the mindsets that have limited you, up until now, from My fullness. I tell you, strange thoughts and visions will come to you. Do not dismiss them. Neither assume that you can understand them with your carnal minds. Instead, seek Me for understanding. I will give it, as you yield to Me. The foolish are going to confound the wise, My children. And My prophets will be the forerunners. I say to apostles as well, let this be a warning to you as well. If I have not built the house, the house is coming down. Let those who have ears to hear, hear what I say. It is I who establishes, not men. Men can only establish what I have already ordained. You promote yourself and I will expose it in this hour, says the Lord of Hosts. Judge yourselves My people, for My judgment comes and all will be made known. True and false, apostle and prophet, teacher and shepherd. The storms have begun but shakings will increase. For only that which is eternal will stand. And I will make myself known through you, if you will but allow the death that leads to life to envelope you. Allow Me to finish you into vessels of honor, pleasing to Me and it will be a sign for all times, says the Lord.

A Word to Intercessors / I have Arisen

Scott Hofstee

February 16, 2000

The Lord says, to those who would intercede for My people, come before Me and lay hold of the altar. The fury of the Most High is upon you and few of My intercessors know it. Many have sought a place of recognition and adulation, a place of being noticed and accepted. Many have compromised the calling I have put before them. They have sought to pray on the street corner as the Pharisees and have not wanted to know Me in the secret place. I will now begin to give those, who have used their calling and gifting for expediency, over to deception. I will do this to expose those who have operated of another spirit and have propagated a lie. Soon the messages of the intercessors will become very mixed and polluted. You will have to know the One who guides into all truth, to know the true from the false. I will cause the streams that many have been drinking from to become bitter and many supposed, self-appointed intercessors will be seen as they are.

But at the same time, I will speak what is truly on My heart to My true intercessors. They will know My plans and will agree with Me in their prayers. They will be a silent minority but I will exalt them in My kingdom in the days to follow. For I have sought for a people to stand in the gap, to make up the hedge and behold, I have found them, they have always been there. For I will always have a few, a remnant that will come to Me out of a desire to know Me and know My ways. Not be exalted, for I will bring down the proud, the boastful, who love themselves more than Me. For I AM calling out to a pure people, who will stand before Me for cleansing and I will do a work that will stand for eternity. Take heart warriors, for this is the time that many have looked to. Do not grow weary or fainthearted for indeed, I AM with you, even when you are alone and I will upgird you and equip you for the work ahead. Do not be surprised what I will show you, only seek Me for understanding and I shall give it for I long to share My heart with the warriors of My kingdom. Continue to press forward and you shall break through to the place I have called you to be. A place where I dwell in fullness, a place where I AM known as I AM. Come to that place, for in it is your strength and your reward.

I Have Arisen

Scott Hofstee

February 20, 2000

The Lord says this day, I have arisen. I have arisen and My fury comes with Me. I AM coming to inspect My troops. For I AM Captain of the Host. Many have sought to join My army but few have been chosen. Many have looked for alternative ways to become a soldier of the cross but I have had only one. It is death My children. It is at the foot of the cross. Now I have began to gather those who have chosen this path and I AM sending them forth with My message. It is a message that increases in its intensity, in its tone, in its frequency, for the fools posing as My ministers have come before Me and now I say that war is here. The mighty men have been hidden in caves but in the caves, their training has been by My hand. Not the hand of the learned, educated ones of the times. These renegades are about to show up on the scene from places that you religious ones have never dreamed of. They will burst on the scene like lightning and roar as thunder. The enemy before them will be panicked because he never saw them coming. For I have hidden them for this time. The church as we know it, is through. I AM coming to dismantle this abomination to Me. I will only spare that which I have established in it. All imposters and pretenders will be exposed and the slain of the Lord will be many. I the Lord, this day declare war on My enemies, for the war for the souls of men must be fought. For few have been willing to risk anything for the cause of My kingdom. If they could get it without pain and suffering then it was ok but sacrifice your financial security, your self esteem, your place among your peers and they have wanted no part of it. I say this day, the choice is about to be made for you. I will come against those that oppose the messengers with such a fury that the fear of the Lord will once again come into the gathering.

The men that have heard the call to turn the battle to the enemy will come forth. The enemy has put forth the lie that these will only speak a love of softness and gentleness but I tell you these will speak a love that this generation has never known. They will speak a love of sacrificing and being spent for their brothers and sisters. Not in word only but in deed. I will give them the works necessary for the task. To those who would suppose to hold a place that I have not given or that I have now removed, I say, step aside before the sword of the Lord falls and you are cut asunder. The mighty men are here, Saul has opposed them but they have been faithful with the little I have given them and have not touched My anointed but the time has come for David and I say to you this day, choose whom you will serve. Will it be yourself or will it be the One who has died for you. Do I not know what is best? Are My plans not for your good? And yet you have scorned My prophets, you have abused My sheep. No longer will this be allowed to stand, for I come in fury of My jealousy to reveal a side that this world does not want to know. Anchor yourselves dear ones, for the wind is increased again and in this wind nothing will stand that I have not ordained. Will you oppose it? If you do, know this, I have loved you, I have warned you, now I judge you. See if the foundation built on sand can stand before Me, I will it unearth for all to see and I will be once again be glorified in My people and the earth will know that I AM holy, I AM just, and I AM the Lord of the whole earth.

A Word to True Worshipers

Julie Baxter

This I say to the people who call themselves by my name. Do not do as your fathers in the faith have done. Do not even imitate your brothers and sisters in the faith. Your part is to do as I have told you, to obey me, not to camp at some other tribe's doorstep emulating what I have given them to do. Your part is to obey my word, all, my word, and not to choose the part that satisfies your flesh the most.

For yea I say unto you, to be alone with me truly will satisfy your flesh. You shudder at this and say "Oh no, Lord, I only want to be with you." But, beloved, you do not see clearly. I see that if you take the time to be only with me there is nothing else that will draw you. Your homes will remain a poor testimony with work undone. Your employers will have grounds to mock your faith for your poor testimony. The needy in your community will remain unfed, unclothed, and unvisited. Yea, that which you seek is the same as Peter sought, and I rebuked him.

You may ask, "Then how can I have time worship you? There is so much to be done?" I say unto you, do all things in moderation, lean not unto your own understanding, allow me to direct your paths, for the footsteps of a righteous man are ordered of the Lord.

You say, "But, Lord, others are finding great strengths in worship." Yea, I know. I am leading them. I will also lead them from worship to getting their hands dirty in my service. Sometimes it takes long periods in my presence to get people ready to obey all I have given them to do.

I want my testament, both the old and new covenant, to be your gospel. Many say they are full-gospel people, but are not. Do not do as they have done, choosing only the part you like or camping in one area when I anoint it. No, I say unto you, the people who make up my Bride care about what I care about. I care most deeply about the souls I died for to save. I know I am a wonderful counselor, everlasting Father, prince of peace, and a mighty God. It is not for me that I ask you to worship me. It is not so that I may hear how wonderful I am. It is because I inhabit the praises of my people, my people are my dwelling place. It is because I have commanded you, my chosen generation, my royal priest hood, and my holy nation, to show forth my praises to your generations.

How can you show forth my praises if you accomplish nothing praiseworthy to the unbeliever? They already think Christians are useless. Do not prove them so by disobeying my commandments, to do what you think and feel is right.

Yea, I say the answer to your question is that which no other generation has fully grasped. You are a peculiar people who can both worship and praise me while you are tending my sheep. It is a mature Bride who can take care of the effects of the household of her Master, while she is fully loving and praising Him. I have called you to maturity. I have not called you to imbalance, or to neglect the whole counsel of your God.

Go your way, singing the songs of the Bride and the Groom, songs of praise, thanksgiving, deliverance and victory. Have your heart always set on listening for my voice, listening carefully to what I will tell you to do. I will have you choose the better part as well. That which distinguished Mary from Martha was not what she did, it was who she was at that moment, a listener.

I hear you, and I want you to be listening to me. Listen and obey, for your obedience to all my requests are the mark that you care more for me than yourself. The worship I want is from your singing heart as you do what I tell you to do, loving me with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your strength, and with all your mind; and your neighbor as yourself.

A Year Of Overturnings

Kathleen Pirl

December 26, 1999

I will show you great and mighty things that are about to come. I am the omniscient God. I know and reveal to those who know ME. Before and after the beginning from the end there is nothing outside of My Knowledge and when you step into ME into eternity I reveal that which pertains to the destiny, calling and purposes in your life to be unfolded. Always I am birthing and creating new things.

They did not enter in because of unbelief-enter in- believe all things I have spoken and whispered to you and enter into my complete rest. For I know the plans I have for you for provision and purpose for destiny and eternity. Plans that are unimaginable, exceedingly and abundantly above what you can ask for or even imagine for I am able to do more that you could think because I create it through you by my indwelling resurrection power.

I give you dominion and authority in Me over all the works of the enemy for you are more than conquerors through the blood of Jesus Christ. If I did not spare my own Son for your sakes then how much more am I willing to give you all good things that pertain unto righteousness and holiness and the coming kingdom that will reign forever?

Eye has not seen nor has ear heard those things that I have treasured up for those who wait on me. Nor has it entered into the heart of man the extremes of my favor for those who have been tested and found not wanting and are found faithful to the end. Be faithful then I shall give you the great reward of eternal life and riches beyond compare.

All men are like grass they are here for a season then they fade away but the Word of God is forever. So establish the Word of God in the hearts of those around you and those I will send to you and you to them for this will reap an everlasting reward that will never perish nor fade away.

For I know the plans I have for you a hope, a future, and eternal destiny with Me.

I AM your time and your effort. Focus on ME, focus on ME, focus on eternity for the great apostasy is now working in hearts and the government of my church is being shaken to test it and see if it is on the correct foundation. Do not build on any other foundation but Jesus Christ, the Chief Cornerstone, and His Promised Land. All others will be swept away prophecy, tongues, martyrdom; all will pass away except that which is done in love. For I AM the God of love from above. My ways are higher and my thoughts are greater than yours. Who can know Me? Only those who show the abiding fruit of love. This is how you will know who they are \ of Me and from Me and sent by Me -- they will manifest My Love.

If you look into their eyes do you see the light of my love and my countenance in them? Or do you see darkness?

2000 There are going to be may shakings this year great and terrible. I WILL BE EXALTED ABOVE ALL THE NATIONS. There will be continuing famines, pestilences, droughts. Wars and rumors of wars will increase. I will change the heads of governments in some instances dramatically and several times over. For it will be a year of overturning and overturning and much upheaval in the natural and in the spiritual also. For the kingdom of darkness and the kingdom of light are engaging in increasing conflicts to bring forth My will and government.

Prepare yourself. Make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

I have glory and fire in my eyes. The purging fire to bring out the pure glory of My bride who has been tested and found faithful. Know that your faith will be tested. Fill yourself full of the Word of God and the hearing of the Word and Spirit of God for only this can give you overcoming life.

I will trample my church this year to press out of her meat and drink that I might provide for those who are hungry and thirsty for righteousness. I will press out her iniquity and the stains of her unrighteousness to me. I will press out her self-seeking and aggrandizement that have caused her to be puffed up and full of knowledge without my grace and good fruit love.

It is better to rend yourself and fall before Me in repentance before I bring my judgements to the earth. Then I will keep you from the hours of trial. Then you will understand the mercy seat and extend mercy --not indulgence, but true godly mercy.

As I cause the tides to swell and the waves to increase so will be my word to you. I will cause it to rise and increase. I will empower you to do my will for it is not by might, power, nor by earthly strength but by the Sovereign Spirit of the Lord. I am now searching for those who are humble and contrite before me to show Myself strong on their behalf that I might display My glory through my chosen bridal company.

March is an extremely significant month for Israel.

December 28, 1999

The Mercy seat will be paramount this year for I will extend mercy from Mt. Zion on the sides of the north. From My holy mountain will come the rod of judgment and the scepter of mercy. I will open up the heavens and give revelation and understanding of the Mercy seat on the Ark of My Covenant that has not been realized yet in the linear framework of history but godly men and women have seen this mercy seat. Now there will be a hitherto uncommunicated understanding of My mercy but it will cost obedience.

A Year Of Transition

Harley Hickling

January 1, 2000

The year 2,000 will mark the beginning of the transition from the way things have always been to the way they shall always be. For I Am changing the rules concerning the process of living out one's daily life and because of that change of process, remarkable changes shall soon be sweeping your world. Many among you will soon be entering into that enviable place where you will find that in looking to Me and trusting in Me, you will find that you are possessing a new freedom, a freedom that hither too you would have not believed possible, for those who truly look to Me and trust in Me will find that every need is being met. Not just only met, but indeed every need shall often be exceeded beyond your wildest expectations!

On the other hand, those who can not look to me in faith will find many troubling upheavals occurring in their lives as by My hand I shall cause the collapse of much of that upon which the world looks to for it's succor. My hand shall greatly unsettle the booming economies of the world and governmental instability shall become the hallmark among a multitude of nations. Many of the leaders of your world will be replaced in time when those currently in power will be found to be incapable of successfully stemming the tide of change of that which they can no longer control. Not only will the upheavals I Am generating reduce the institutions of your world into chaos, but the ongoing upheavals in the natural realm shall increase as well, for both earthquakes and storms shall increase in their frequency as well as in their intensity creating havoc among you as never before.

But the greatest change that is even now beginning to manifest in your world will be the dramatic changes that I Am bringing forth in the lives and hearts of My beloved children for I say unto you My children, "This is the dawning of a new age! This is the time that I Am raising up my beloved in newness of life and in the fullness of My power. For it is now that time which I have waited for since I created man, the time when My beloved shall be fully established in Me and shall go forth in boldness manifesting My power and My anointing, effecting great change in your world, touching it powerfully and bringing about dramatic changes in My name. Changes as the world will not believe possible. Changes My people will bring into being because of their great love with which they will embrace the lost and of those in great need. Changes more powerful and far more compelling than has ever before happened in My name! Changes that will be truly life changing to multitudes among the lost who have yet to meet Me and that desperately need to do so! Changes that will forever alter the dynamics of life from that which has gone on in the past unto that which is yet to be!"

Bad Decisions

BAD DECISIONS

Sometimes GOD does things unexpected. I was rereading the STORY OF RUTH...which is part of the REMEMBRANCE of SHAVUOT....THE FEAST OF WEEKS. Modern Christians call it Pentecost.... and quote Peter quoting the Prophet Joel. It sort of short changes the image we could have.

But THE MOST HOLY SPIRIT had something else planned for me. In the last three verses of JUDGES we have a bizarre combination of images.....

23 And the children of Benjamin did so, and took them wives, according to their number, of them that danced, whom they caught: and they went and returned unto their inheritance, and repaired the cities, and dwelt in them.

24 And the children of Israel departed thence at that time, every man to his tribe and to his family, and they went out from thence every man to his inheritance.

25 In those days there was no king in Israel: every man did that which was right in his own eyes.

Theoretically we have a weird downhill spiral. The tribe of Benjamin has been decimated by war with Israel because of their sins and idolatry. They seemed to only be interested in women who danced....they caught them and carried them away. Might seem romantic today but in reality it was kidnapping and rape. But it was a way to rebuild the tribe and everyone "went along with it" but then comes that last verse....25 In those days there was no king in Israel: every man did that which was right in his own eyes.

Realistically the majority of the Book of Judges told us that they had been doing "what was right in their own eyes" for one long time. So when Ruth opens it is no real revelation when we hear....

1 Now it came to pass in the days when the judges ruled, that there was a famine in the land.

Regrettably we are seeing then what is now. Amos states it clearly. No new revelation unless we keep reading.

And a certain man of Bethlehemjudah went to sojourn in the country of Moab, he, and his wife, and his two sons.

2 And the name of the man was Elimelech, and the name of his wife Naomi, and the name of his two sons Mahlon and Chilion, Ephrathites of Bethlehemjudah. And they came into the country of Moab, and continued there.

3 And Elimelech Naomi's husband died; and she was left, and her two sons. 4 And they took them wives of the women of Moab; the name of the one was Orpah, and the name of the other Ruth: and they dwelled there about ten years.

5 And Mahlon and Chilion died also both of them; and the woman was left of her two sons and her husband.

I had never heard anyone teach on the next two verses. But then again much what I hear from THE MOST HOLY SPIRIT is fresh plowing. But this is indeed a warning to any with ears to hear....

The story begins in Bethlehem of Judah where FAMINE is occurring in THE HOUSE OF BREAD. It is a clear picture of the APOSTATE CHURCH in our midst. Take Ephesus, Pergamos, Sardis, Thyatira, and Laodicea and roll them up together and you have today's reality. A carnal, liberal, church preaching humanism and the doctrines of men and demons. They should be a place where THE BREAD OF LIFE IS FREELY GIVEN to all of ABBA'S CHILDREN. Just does not happen for so many who hunger and thirst.

Now the story begins with Elimelech and his wife Naomi. ELI MELEK means "GOD IS KING" and NAOMI means "PLEASANT". So should it be in THE HOUSE OF BREAD, only it is not. They have two sons. MAHLON means sick/illness and CHILION means destruction/consumption. Imagine the FAMINE so intense that THE KING'S KIDS are DISEASE AND DESTRUCTION. It is no surprise they both die.

Now the STORY OF RUTH begins in tragedy and ends with a KINSMAN REDEEMER that "buys back" a piece of land. And a PAGAN WOMAN to be his BRIDE. We all know that story and it is a great prophetic promise we all share. But it does not negate a harsh reality that relates to the needs of today.

1 Man is in sin.....

2 Man runs away from where he would have been blessed if he repents and returns.....

3 DISEASE and DESTRUCTION come because a GOD WHO WANTS TO BLESS OBEDIENCE IS FORCED TO CURSE THE DISOBEDIENT.

Man has made BAD DECISIONS since THE GARDEN. Like in Judges we have a "professional clergy" that sold out cheaply. The story goes...

6 In those days there was no king in Israel, but every man did that which was right in his own eyes.

7 And there was a young man out of Bethlehemjudah of the family of Judah, who was a Levite, and he sojourned there.

8 And the man departed out of the city from Bethlehemjudah to sojourn where he could find a place: and he came to mount Ephraim to the house of Micah, as he journeyed.

9 And Micah said unto him, Whence comest thou? And he said unto him, I am a Levite of Bethlehemjudah, and I go to sojourn where I may find a place.

10 And Micah said unto him, Dwell with me, and be unto me a father and a priest, and I will give thee ten shekels of silver by the year, and a suit of apparel, and thy victuals. So the Levite went in.

11 And the Levite was content to dwell with the man; and the young man was unto him as one of his sons.

12 And Micah consecrated the Levite; and the young man became his priest, and was in the house of Micah.

13 Then said Micah, Now know I that the LORD will do me good, seeing I have a Levite to my priest.

So you can see Bethlehem of Judah had a problem in THE SPIRIT long before THE FAMINE was noticed in the NATURAL. Now here is a guy both Levite and Judean. But he wanted to "find a place". He did with Micah and Micah's IDOLS. But it says Micah "consecrated" the man. Micah figured GOD had to bless him. How he figured that out is a mystery, but many seem to be caught up in that mindset all over modern America. Many expect GOD to bless them even when they are refusing to obey HIS WORD. GOD says there are things HE HATES....and righteously curses. Yet man continues to sin and expects blessing. This could be called "iniquity". But it could also be seen as rebellion. In the NATURAL it could be called "INSANITY". To demand BLESSING when HIS WORD calls for repentance is exactly that, insanity.

But will THE PRODIGAL come to his senses and return to THE FATHER'S HOUSE? In my spirit I hear two "witnesses". Both say it is too late and I grieve.

4 For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghost,

5 And have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come,

6 If they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance; seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame.

1 Then said the LORD unto me, Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet my mind could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them go forth.

2 And it shall come to pass, if they say unto thee, Whither shall we go forth? then thou shalt tell them, Thus saith the LORD; Such as are for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword; and such as are for the famine, to the famine; and such as are for the captivity, to the captivity.

FAMINE IS BAD....BUT THE SWORD CAN NOT BE AS EASILY IGNORED....AS FOR CAPTIVITY.....SELAH.....

Balance

Stephen Hanson

April 27, 00

I am realizing that there is a great need in the body for us to come into a place of "balance" in our walk and in our relationship with our Lord. Let me begin by saying that there is a need to have revelation knowledge, and a need for a thorough and deep understanding of the word--the logos. We see and hear much about visions and prophetic words from the Lord, and again, this is good and absolutely crucial for us to have. Being a prophet and having that calling and drive, I understand the unique and oftentimes, the burdens and things which are "seen" and experienced. However, I believe that we need to not neglect the written word, the scriptures, in our pursuit of revelation and prophetic speech. We must seek the Lord above all else; but in the seeking, within the desire to hear Him better, and to know Him, what we hear from Him, must be coupled with what He is also saying in His written word. We must also study to show ourselves approved. I know that the apostle brings with him or her, the trowel of the "master builder," and with this, hopefully, the balancing, and plumb line, will be made more distinct and clear. We however, all need the balance which I am talking about here, and without it, then, "the winds of doctrine, and the winds of varying spirits," will lead us astray.

II Tim. 2:15. Do your best to present yourself to God as one approved, a workman who does not need to be ashamed and who correctly handles the word of truth.

39. You diligently study the Scriptures because you think that by them you possess eternal life. These are the Scriptures that testify about me, John 5

In fact, I believe, that much of what is prophesied comes out of our understanding, and our exposure to the written word, along with the Holy Spirit's leading and unction. Much of what is prophesied by those who are "young in the gift" can be seen in looking at the scriptures. What I mean here, is simply that "they are prophesying the word." And that is good and well, for "edification, exhortation, and comfort." When the prophetic word however, becomes one of direction or correction, then oftentimes, it may not be readily seen in the written word. There however, should and must be, a substantiating, or a reinforcement, if you will, of this prophetic word found in a foundational truth in the written word.

Now, God has set in the church various members, each functioning in their own way under His plan to carry out what the body of Christ is in its multiplicity. So, those who prophesy, need in their "being carried away in the Spirit," a balancing beam of the teacher. Not all prophets will teach, it is true, but they should have a good knowledge of the written word or logos. Without this, then, I believe, they may fall prey to "misleading Spirits." As we are being carried along by the currents of Holy Spirit, and hearing what the Spirit has to say unto the churches, we need also, to be "grounded," and not lose the foundational truths which will keep us strong and sane. There is a "balance" which is found in the differences and the functioning of the varying ministries within the body--namely, the apostle, prophet, evangelist, pastor and teacher. But all of these offices and each of these individually, need the balance within themselves which I am referring to.

Now, to be sure, it is also true, that one may neglect the Spirit, and then give too much credence to the logos, or written word. These are those who follow the "letter of the law." These are those who have become pharisaic in their understanding, and in their relationship with the Lord.

He has made us competent as ministers of a new covenant--not of the letter but of the Spirit; for the letter kills, but the Spirit gives life. II. Co. 6

Remember that honest scales and balances are from the Lord. He desires for us to whole and complete in Him, and not "wavering from side to side" like a wave upon the ocean.

Honest scales and balances are from the LORD; all the weights in the bag are of his making. Prov. 16:11

Lastly, in our pursuit of being "whole and complete in Him," we must make every effort to add the qualities of "Christ-likeness" to ourselves. This is something obviously, which we can't muster-up on our own willpower or abilities, but is done through Him, and in our relationship with Him.

II. Peter

5. For this very reason, make every effort to add to your faith goodness; and to goodness, knowledge;

6. and to knowledge, self-control; and to self-control, perseverance; and to perseverance, godliness;

7. and to godliness, brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness, love.

8. For if you possess these qualities in increasing measure, they will keep you from being ineffective and unproductive in your knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

To conclude, back in 1993, the Lord gave me a word which concerned the very things which I am mentioning now, and that is BALANCE. He compared this to a tent. It is below, and says these things much better than I can. May we all ultimately come to a place of BALANCE in the body of Christ, where the wind will blow, but the stakes of the tent, will also remain intact.

BALANCE

"Learn to balance the word of the Spirit with the written word. For when you can do this you are on your way to maturity, for both are needed.

The revealed word that is spoken is said out of an understanding of my written word. As a tent has stakes in it which represents my written word; it anchors the tent and holds it in place.

But what would the tent be holding up? It takes on the shape and contour that I would embody unto it. So, in the same way, the voice of the spirit is represented in this way. Let the tent rise to its full potential in me.

Let its pitch and its sides fall where I want it to. And know that you are all tents of mine, would say the Lord. You are all being perfectly joined together in me.

For the ministry of teaching my word, and the spoken word, are both needed. And so, this tent is the tent that must be strong. Its stakes must go down into the very ground on the foundation of my written word.

But let the breeze blow, and let it blow through the fabric of this tent. Let it seep in through every crevice and stitching of the fabric of my Holy Spirit. For it is woven by my hands; I am the master craftsman; I hold the tent by my son, Jesus Christ. He holds the very fabric together, and by his stripes, nothing will cause this tent to fall.

Thus would say the spirit of the Lord, the one who has made every tent for its purpose."

Yours in Him,

Stephen Hanson

*(If you would like to consider a regular donation to this ministry, it would be greatly appreciated, but not necessary. Please feel free to pass these messages onto friends or others in the faith. Let me know if in anyway it has blessed, or brought forth "new life" in Him. Any questions may be directed to me. Thank you.)

Ballad Of Mount Moriah

Carol Lynn Vandeman

My contribution is a poem. It was written concerning the discovery of the Ark of the Covenant by Ron Wyatt.

My heart tells me that God could very well have arranged for the Ark to be placed where Ron claimed to have found it. So much so, that I was impressed to write about it. I am a member of the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Hermiston, OREGON. I don't know if our church has a web page or not. I know most of them do not share my belief about the Ark, however, I don't think believing or disbelieving it threatens ones salvation. At least at this point. I joyfully look forward to His coming and watch for more marvelous workings by our wonderful God.

Ballad Of Mount Moriah

Carol Lynn Vandeman

8/5/00

Mount Moriah, are you the one
Who saw Old Abraham
Offering up his only son,
Before the great I AM?
Oh hallowed place, where God's own face,
Was mirrored in that lamb!

You saw a city raised,-- each gate,
Each building and each street.
You were content to watch and wait
Beneath the crude concrete.
You sadly saw God's perfect Law
Trampled beneath their feet.

They failed to keep the Law of God,
Soon they no longer tried.
With hate and murder, lies and fraud,
In sin, men lived and died.
You saw it all,-- the city fall
In ruin on your side!

Jerusalem was surrounded,
God would not hear their calls.
When the final trumpets sounded
Above the battered walls,
The enemy were stunned to see
Deserted temple halls.

God's holy things were hidden well,
The Ark and all the rest.
None would whisper, and none would tell
What lay within your breast.
Safe they would stay until the day
Their presence would be blest.

Safe, they would remain, out of sight,
 These symbols of God's grace,
Your stony arms hid well the light
 Lost to a sinful race.
The Ark of God beneath the sod
 God's chosen Holy Place!

So there inside, as ages passed,
 Unknown to anyone,
The Holy Place stayed safe at last Awaiting God's dear Son.
Four angels bright, girded with might,
 Stood guard, admitting none.

There the temple treasures lay,
 Of vast and untold worth,
So carefully hidden away
 Within your silent earth.
There in the dark, the precious Ark
 Awaited Jesus' birth.

Time moved on, after many years
 The city was rebuilt.
You heard them cursing through their tears
 Beneath their load of guilt,--
The sounds of sin filtering in
 Down through your mounds of silt!

Someday the Lord's Appointed One
 Would die for mankind's sin,
Would pay the price for everyone
 And save the race of men,--
Turn wrong to right and bring to light
 The Law of God again!

When the Holy Law is broken,
 Sorrow does not suffice.
Though words of repentance spoken
 Are required, right and nice,--
Please understand, God's Laws demand
 Blood as a sacrifice!

For the promises to be kept
 The temple rites spoke of:
Only One Man could pay that debt,--
 (He had to care enough,)
God's own Son, the Appointed One
 Conquering by His love!

When Jesus came that awful day
 To face and fight the grave,
God's Holy Ark already lay
 Inside your hidden cave.
God had a plan for sinful man,

Whom He'd resolved to save!

And when the Lamb walked up your slope,
By men condemned to die,
Although it seemed the end of hope,
You knew the reason why!
This sacrifice beyond all price
Made even angels cry!

They heard Christ bow His head in prayer,
"Forgive them." Jesus cried.
An earthquake struck the city there,
Your rocks rent open wide,
A crimson flood of saving blood
Gushed from his broken side.

The earthquake hit,-- your rocks were split,
Clouds moved before the sun,
A victory cry rang through the sky,
"It's finished! It is done!"
The price was paid, atonement made
By the blood of God's dear Son.

That blood, directed by God's hand,
Flowed down our Savior's feet.
It trickled through the rocks to land
Where Law and Mercy meet.
Down through the dark, above the Ark
Onto the Mercy Seat!

The angels watched with awestruck tears
The last great sacrifice,
The focus of four thousand years,--
Sin's awful, final price.
The Ark of gold would ever hold
Enough blood to suffice!

The chains of Death, so pitiless,
Dissolved at His first shout.
From the deepest depths of darkness
He led the captives out.
The first of men rescued from sin,
No longer chained by doubt.

Mount Moriah, you saw Him rise
From Death forever free,
While tears of love fell from His eyes,
He rose in victory.
While your blessed hill, lay voiceless still Men now call Calvary.

Two thousand years, the secret's lain
Within a room of stone,--
The Ark with its dark crimson stain,
Waiting to be made known.

Four angels stand with sword in hand,
Someday it will be shown.

Though some will doubt and some cry fraud,
The blood will testify:

He truly was the Son of God
Who came to earth to die,
Who conquered sin and rose again
To reign with God on high!

Soon now, Heaven will be shaken,
The stars will fall like rain.
Those who appear forsaken
Will shake off every chain,
And join their Lord with angel horde
In victory to reign.

Soon now the air will fill with sound
Shrill trumpets stir the wind!
Soon now, we'll see that hallowed ground
And every knee will bend!
For now, we wait at Heaven's gate
For sin's dark reign to end.

Above, on earth, we watch and wait,
As Time goes marching by,
Is Messiah already late?
And if He is, then why?
Some preach God's word, some haven't heard,
And some believe a lie.

Band-Aids and Barnacles

Sandy Warner

8/8/00

Hi Loved Ones,

Band-aids which do you prefer, the slow peel or that fast rip? The past couple of weeks I have been seeing a lot of band-aids in strange places. Now I must admit, maybe these have been popping up in unexpected places because I had a cut finger and suddenly my finger became paramount because it was pulsating to the rhythm of my heart for a few days. But my finger is healed now, and I am still seeing band-aids. When I saw one lying on the floor at a Mahesh conference a couple weeks ago, I decided this band-aid idea was DEFINITELY anointed. (What could be more anointed than a discarded band-aid at a Mahesh healing conference?)

This year I have been going through a stripping process where the Lord is peeling away layers of heart (t)issues that do not glorify Him. Now when He told us at the beginning of the new year that He was going to circumcise our hearts and give us new ones, I never thought it would be like THIS. Yeeeeeeee - ouch. The slow peel or the fast rip? Well I want it over really fast, and my heart is willing but my flesh is weak. I am sure I have heard that somewhere before. (Josh 5:8, Deut 10:16, Matt 26:41, Rom 7:18)

Band-aids usually mean blood. And when it comes time to peel the band-aid off, exposing a somewhat healed wound, it sometimes reopens a fresh wound. And if not, then the peeling causes its own pain. This is exactly what I have been through this year. It is like He is taking me through my past, exposing layers of band-aids. Last month, painful heart issues of 30 years ago, (that I thought were totally and long gone from my life) were suddenly surfacing.

Band-aids are flesh colored, they pad really well, they cover over a wound and they protect us from outside pain. Sometimes when we have been wounded in our past, we turn to fleshly comforts that cover our wounds, pad us from the pain, and soothe our hearts. God gives us good gifts and He does use band-aids. But something goes awry when we begin to rely on the band-aids and not the One Who tenderly placed them there. "All things are lawful for me, but not all things are helpful; all things are lawful for me, but not all things edify." (1 Cor 10:23-24 NKJV)

When that band-aid becomes too important, it becomes an idol. Through this process, He revealed to me that when we rely on anything other than Him, and it becomes a support structure in our lives, it becomes an idol. He was stripping me of idolatry! And in His mercy He took me past the sin to its starting place. He pinpointed the wounding of where it all started. It was His way of telling me that He understood, and He looked beyond my faults and saw my need. Wow, what love.

I was in this stripped and vulnerable place when I attended the Mahesh conference. One of my desires was to talk to a prophetic intercessory friend of mine and ask him what the Lord was doing in his life since the turn of this year. I was secretly hoping that whatever he told me, would confirm me and let me know that I was not going loony and that even though things felt like they were out of control, God was still at the helm!

When I asked him, he shared a dream that someone had sent him:

DREAM I am looking at a wide ocean bay, and see an oil tanker coming into the river. As it moves forward into the locks, the slots are narrowing. A close up view of the tanker reveals rust spots, streaks of rust and barnacles. Just ahead the locks are still narrowing and the water is becoming turbulent.

Finally one side of the tanker begins to scrape the sides of the concrete lock. There is a harrowing sound as it propels forward. Narrowing even more, the other side of the tanker grinds into the concrete, still moving. The sound is horrendous as concrete, barnacles and metal clash! Metal shrieks are deafening as barnacles are stripped away. Men appear on the deck, throwing old equipment and gear out, and the noise is almost unbearable.

The tanker is riding higher and lighter now. Clean, shiny metal is appearing all over the ship. The water is calmer, as the locks are widening and the ship glides forward. It leaves a huge, violent white wake behind as it glides into another bay, surrounded in lush green jungle. [End of dream]

As I heard this dream, I was overcome by the joy of knowing that all this screeching I was making was godly, and that the Lord was removing all my barnacles! And to think that we are sitting on the power and endowment of all that oil. Oh boy are we coming into some great times. When my friend finished sharing the dream, he prophetically stated that the next assignment for the ship was to be painted in all gold. I had waves of the Lord's Presence when he shared this.

As I ponder the barnacles, I am reminded of the verse, "Therefore, since we are surrounded by such a huge crowd of witnesses to the life of faith, let us strip off every weight that slows us down, especially the sin that so easily hinders our progress. And let us run with endurance the race that God has set before us." (Heb 12:1-2 NLT) Barnacles are attachments that hang onto our lives that weigh us down. He wants them stripped off. It's going to be a slow peel or a fast rip, either way God is behind this!

When the Lord told me at the beginning of the year (and He has told many prophetic people this) that He was bringing us into circumcision, (Joshua 5) I had no idea what that meant. I do now. He is wanting to cut away our carnality, flesh nature, excess baggage, idolatry, old habits, old life, old attitudes, opinions, demons, sins, giants, you name it, if it doesn't glorify Him He wants it stripped away. I am thinking of that tanker shrieking and I don't know who shrieks louder, the demons or our flesh. When we are in the middle of it, we can't tell who is what, but what matters is that God is in control and He is having His way. He is preparing us for an awesome, new day.

Deut 30:5-6 NKJV Then the LORD your God will bring you to the land which your fathers possessed, and you shall possess it. He will prosper you and multiply you more than your fathers. And the LORD your God will circumcise your heart and the heart of your descendants, to love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, that you may live.

The following is a prophetic Word to Ponder the Lord gave me in the 80's. It is simple, but if you are in that wounded place, I pray it encourages your heart like it recently touched mine, when I needed it the most.

WOUNDED I wound and I heal. I tear down and I build up. What is being fashioned you have not seen. Rest assured it is I Who have brought you to this place. A new thing is in the making. But I will also restore your walk to a smooth path without shame. Your confidence shall return. Be of good cheer. (Deut 32:39)

Lovingly,

Sandy

Baptism of Repentance (The Fire of God)

Brett Hofstee

As we wait with great anticipation for the coming of our Lord, we must realize before our Lord comes in His fullness on earth (the final trumpet), that He is coming first with a manifestation of Himself through His children. Our Lord comes as a thief in the night to take back His kingdom and we are His kingdom. We are the living stones which He is going to use to build His eternal kingdom on this earth.

Joel 2:25 And I will restore to you the years that the locust hath eaten, the cankerworm, and the caterpillar, and the palmerworm, my great army which I sent among you.

Before the army (kingdom) of God can march, the fire (the priesthood) of God must prepare the way. The fire of God represents Elijah (John the Baptist, the lion of the tribe of Judah) and the 7,000 fire prophets that go with him.

1 Kings 19:18 Yet I have left me seven thousand in Israel, all the knees which have not bowed unto Baal, and every mouth which hath not kissed him.

Romans 11:2-5 God hath not cast away His people which He foreknew. Wot ye not what the scripture saith of Elias? how he maketh intercession to God against Israel, saying, Lord, they have killed thy prophets, and digged down thy altars; and I am left alone, and they seek my life. But what saith the answer of God unto him? I have reserved to myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to the image of Ba'al. Even so then at this time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace.

Revelation 11:13 And the same hour was there a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the city fell, and in the earthquake were slain of men seven thousand: and the remnant were affrighted and gave glory to the God of heaven.

Malachi 3:1-6 Behold, I will send my messenger (Elijah/John the Baptist) and he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, whom you seek, shall suddenly come to his (Elijah/John the Baptist) temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold he (Elijah/John the Baptist) shall come, saith the Lord of hosts. But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap: And he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness. Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the Lord, as in the days of old, as in the former years. And I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the Lord of hosts. For I am the Lord, I change not; therefore ye sons of Jacob are not consumed.

Malachi 4:5-6 Behold, I will send you Elijah (John the Baptist) the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the Lord: And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers. lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.

Matthew 17:11-13 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Elijah truly shall come first, and restore all things. But I say unto you, That Elijah is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed. Likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them. Then the disciples understood that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

Elijah (John the Baptist) and seven thousand prophets of fire shall begin to turn the hearts of men back to their Father (God), and the fathers will in turn, begin to turn their families back to them. We must all go through the baptism of repentance (fire of God) to enter the kingdom of God. There is no other way into the kingdom, except through the fire.

1 Corinthians 3:13-16 Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is. If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward. If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as by fire. Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

Our God is an all consuming fire. His fire is His glory. His fire is His love. God is love and who can stand in that kind of love? For it exposes and burns right to the heart. None of us have been completely burned up yet. If we had, we would have begun to manifest Jesus and God's glory (fire) would be here on earth. God's glory goes wherever Jesus is, because Jesus is clothed in His glory. And we will be clothed in His glory after being birthed through fire.

Revelations 3:18-22 I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eye salve, that thou mayest see. As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten; be zealous therefore, and repent. Behold I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me. To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my father in his throne. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

The flesh (self/antichrist) hates the glory (fire) of God because it does not want to be exposed. There will be no stones left unturned for each one of us who wants to be a part of the hundredfold (holy of holies).

Matthew 19:29 And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my sake, shall receive an hundredfold and shall inherit everlasting life.

Matthew 10:34-39 Think no that I am come to send peace on the earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword (truth). For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law. And a man's foes shall be they of his own household. He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me: and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. He that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me. He that findeth his life shall lose it; and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it.

We are about to be judged by fire, which will burn up all flesh and the only thing left standing will be our Lord and Savior manifesting through us. Then we will be pleasing to our father and He will come and dwell in the midst of us as His heart as always wanted to. Our Father desires not to have a veil between us but because of our rebellious nature, He has to protect us from His love. Remember, King David had the keys to the kingdom. They were a repentant heart and praise and worship. Until we have truly been through the baptism of repentance, we cannot bring the offering of praise and worship that will bring His fullness to us. We must lay the "man of God" spirit, which is self righteousness, aside and put on the garments of our Lord's righteousness. For this will be the only thing pleasing to our God. Self righteousness is any work done thinking that it was pleasing to the Lord. Our works are as filthy rags before the Lord. The works of the Spirit are generated by pure love for God, without looking for anything in return, or thinking you are getting somewhere with the Lord. We are a rebellious lot always looking to feed our self. If we choose exposure, we will end up with a truly repentant heart (burned up in His love) and be as the Apostle Paul was at the end of his ministry, chiefest of all sinners. None of us will have a ministry. Our ministry will be the ministry and testimony of our Lord and Savior. We must come out of the world system (the harlot) if we are ever to hear clearly from the Lord. Blessings to you all, your brother,

Baptism Of Love

Shelly Mathis

23 June 2000

My Bride, I have called you to intimacy. Yet, many of you prefer to surrender to My chastening fire than to My love. Today, I desire for you to surrender to My baptism of love. To those cloaked with the garment of condemnation, I say that the reason you prefer the fire is that it gives you what you know you deserve. Yet My love gives you what you know you do not deserve. My love is a free gift which you cannot earn, but only receive by faith. It is received by choice. It is your insecurity and pride that cloaks you with condemnation and bars you from intimate relationship with Me. Condemnation is spiritual adultery... for your love and devotion is for your own holiness and not for Me. I have called you to be My glorious Bride, My Sons of Glory, My Vessels of Honor. This calling requires intimacy. Do not cause Me to turn you away because I never knew you. Throw off this cloak of darkness with selfless abandon! Come before Me without your religious props. Stand before Me naked of all self-protection and religious hype... and I will clothe you with My garments of praise, righteousness and joy. Enter the secret place and surrender all. And then we will be One.

Oswald Chambers - My Utmost for His Highest on 6/21/00: "The continual grubbing on the inside to see whether we are what we ought to be generates a self-centered, morbid type of Christianity, not the robust, simple life of the child of God."

"I once thought all these things were so very important, but now I consider them worthless because of what Christ has done. Yes, everything else is worthless when compared with the priceless gain of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. I have discarded everything else, counting it all as garbage, so that I may have Christ and become one with Him. I no longer count on my own goodness or my ability to obey God's law, but I trust Christ to save me. For God's way of making us right with Himself depends on faith."

Baptism of Repentance

Lorna Sherwood

January 17, 2000:

I wanted to share something I received recently. Several weeks ago an audible voice woke me up calling, "Luke, Luke, Luke!" I knew by the Spirit that the message was to be found in Luke 3:3. As I read it, a rhema word jumped out at me. It was a call to the intercessors to be a voice crying "in the wilderness" to prepare the way of the Lord by asking the Father to send a baptism of repentance. Now before this, I had always associated the word "baptism" in that reference, with a baptism in water, but the Holy Spirit made very clear to me that He desired to baptize the church with a spirit of repentance, something much more intense than I had ever realized. This is a deep call of the Lord -- to cry for grace. We have no ability to truly repent on our own, and we need His grace to pour out from heaven and immerse us with true repentance. I sense we are to birth this into the church and the season is now.

Battle Of The Firstborn

Ephraim Frank

Dear Messianic Israelite,

I would like to offer up, for my family and myself, a round of praise and thanksgiving to our Heavenly Father for His faithfulness towards us this past summer. Not having even half the amount needed to launch out on this adventure when we started, we watched His hand move before us as we traveled over 20 thousand miles by air and another 12 thousand in vehicles. Even the children, though not with us the whole time, could not help but be in awe at what took place. Divine appointment after Divine appointment occupied our time and dominated our relationships. Some of you know that all future plans were contingent on Him getting us to each location, and everything fell into place as He allowed it. Some of our plans did not materialize, and only hindsight clarified the reasons.

We also want to thank you for your participation in this venture. We cherish your friendship very much. Even if we do not remember all the names that 'go' with all the faces, or the faces with the names, yet we are (all) learning to connect from the hearts upon which our Father is branding His Torah within our renewed covenant being.

No matter what the future might hold, we do love you and are looking forward to the day when we all, as the United Kingdom of Israel, will be living together in the land of our inheritance.

Many of you seem to like the personal testimonies in these weekly letters. But please bear with this one, as I would like to share a dream I had the first night after we had returned from the trip. It actually occurred three times during that night. I saw what looked like a bridge on which two armies were fighting in hand to hand combat. It seemed that the fighting might have been going on for a while, as the combatants were standing and fighting on stacks of dead comrades. I could not make out who was who, because it was taking place in the early morning hours, or in late evening. Each time I awoke I heard the words, "battle of the firstborn". During the following week I was taken ill with a virus. For several nights I dreamt of pending troubles. Each of those dreams was characterized by huge thunderstorms; at times three were going on at different points on the horizon all at once. I could only see them at a distance, as none of them were close to me.

Most of you who know us are aware of what we have been saying for years, and that is that we are headed for what we used to call the "battle with the surrounding nations". This, of course, is not something new and unusual for the House of Judah, as they have been battling for their national survival with these surrounding nations for the past 100 years, even centuries.

What made this dream about this bridge and the armies warring on it different?

Last week we had gone and visited a good friend in one of the settlements. When we arrived he was very distant and cold toward us, a posture which was not typical of him in our previous contacts. When inquiring, he pulled out a pamphlet that was written by a leading Rabbi of the settlements. It was a very negative but true observation of the Christian groups that are supportive of the settlements, whose motivations are not trusted by the Rabbis. Our friend had begun to suspect that those who present themselves as Ephraimites belong to the same camp. He declared that he did not want to be used by the Christian gentiles for their purposes (as part of their dispensational theology). After about two hours of intense conversation we were able to re-establish trust and convince him, with the help of the Holy Spirit, that the people we represent are not the same as these Christian organizations. However, in the course of conversation I began to understand the dream.

The bridge is the two portions, which constitute the "West Bank", Judea and Samaria. These are the lands of the two leading tribes of the house of Jacob - Ephraim and Judah. Both have firstborn status in the family. However, the battle I saw was not between the two of them, but between the Arabs (surrounding nations) and Judah.

Who are the Arabs and more specifically the Palestinians? I believe they are made up of the firstborn, as listed in Ps 83: Esau, Amalek, Ishmael, Moab and Ammon. They are fighting Judah on this land bridge called Judea and Samaria. Why in this particular location? Because that area belongs to the two leading families of Jacob. The winner, who will gain this as an inheritance along with Jerusalem, will also have the dominion in the earth. This is the battle of the firstborn, it is the same battle that raged in the womb of Rebecca. My question to Ephraim is: will he join Judah as God's mighty man for this hour, or will he turn back as he did in the days of old? "The sons of Ephraim were archers equipped with bows, yet they turned back in the day of battle, they did not keep the covenant of God and refused to walk in His Torah" (Ps. 78:9-10).

We believe the Ephraimites have been called out of darkness into His marvelous light for such a time as this, as a witness that is to be seen. We know that God always works with a remnant. Judah is looking for his brothers, the ten lost tribes; will they find a true son of the covenant returning from the nations with an obedient heart toward Torah, an arrow straight and true, prepared for the bow? Ephraim and Judah are destined to be a mighty weapon in His hand; walking together in the land of their fathers; an army with the Lord of the Armies at its head.

In the following days we will be sending some very sobering information, please read it carefully. Reality is about to dawn and we need the watchman on the Hills of Ephraim to be alert and ready. The cost to redeem this land may be a heavy one. Ephraim, you have been given the blessing of the double portion, the means to redeem that which has been lost. As a firstborn you do not belong to yourself, you belong to God! Therefore do not make the mistake of Cain or Ananias and Sapphira by withholding the tithe, the first fruit, that which belongs to YHVH. We can get a glimpse of how that money is used in Jeremiah 32 and 2 Chronicles 34:9-10. I will be sharing more on this subject at a later date.

In the meantime have a very blessed Holiday time, remember the Feasts of the Lord are prophetic in that they are shadows of things yet to come. (see Col. 2:16-17).

Shabbat Shalom, Shevet Achim

"Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brothers to dwell (shevet achim) together in unity...for there the Lord commanded the blessing - life eternal" (Ps 133).

Batten Down The Hatches!

We Would See Jesus Mary (Koons) Wattenford

Batten Down The Hatches! Mary (Koons) Wattenford

September 02-04, 2000

While I was in prayer Saturday night I was shown two things...

The first - was the "BURNING BUSH" again... (keeps coming up!) I was led to go back to Exodus to read the passage. It begins with Moses seeing this bush - on fire but NOT BEING CONSUMED BY THE FIRE....and he says to himself:

"I will now turn aside to see this great sight, why the bush is not burned!" (Exodus 3:3)...

This CONSUMING FIRE (within the bush) that DID NOT CONSUME - GOT HIS ATTENTION TO THE POINT WHERE HE TURNED ASIDE TO GO INVESTIGATE WHAT IT WAS!

Following that - I saw those "THOUSAND POINTS OF LIGHT" across this country that I've seen off/on now for almost two years, I feel I was shown that WE are the "UPCOMING BURNING BUSHES..." For the "thousand points of light" will be so LIT UP AND ILLUMINATED BY THE CONSUMING FIRE OF GOD - THAT DOES NOT CONSUME that "many - MANY!!" will turn aside to "SEE AND INVESTIGATE" even as Moses did - "WHAT" this is!

Following this ... on a MUCH MORE SOBERING NOTE... I CLEARLY SAW a horse..... that I KNEW immediately was a horse from Revelation - I heard the Spirit say "RED HORSE..." and it was FLAMING RED alright, the rider wore black. (I knew what I had saw and heard, but didn't realize until I opened up the Bible to Revelation as I had been instructed to do, that there really WAS a "FLAMING RED" horse...)

Revelation 6:3-4 (Amplified)

And when He broke the second seal, I heard the second living creature call out, Come!

And another horse came out, flaming red, And its rider was empowered to take the peace from the earth, so that men slaughtered one another; and he was given a huge sword.

What I believe I'm been shown is that GOD's people will BE AFLAME WITH THAT CONSUMING FIRE THAT DOES NOT BURN...and that as "MANY" (like Moses) turn aside to investigate, the "FLAMING RED" HORSE, will ALSO appear... As one of the individuals that I shared all of this with, wrote me:

"I think it is the classic battle between good and evil, and the Flaming Red Horse represents the "counterfeit" coming in at the same time, to try and override the True consuming flames of God."

Then while I was in prayer last night I was shown this...

I was astride the "horse" I'd been given - a white filly.... named, "SWORD OF FIRE..." I was also holding the fiery-white, glowing two-edged SWORD OF THE SPIRIT, which the Lord presented to me about a month ago. When He gave me this sword I was given "VERY!" concise instructions about its usage. I was NOT to wield it in any matter unless HE "specifically" told me to do so - and to use it then - "ONLY" as He instructed. I saw myself wearing a white robe and I "perceived" that there were MANY on either side of me - as well as ahead and behind me, also mounted up, holding their own "glowing" swords and wearing white robes. AN ARMY DRESSED FOR BATTLE was the "distinct impression" that I received. The Holy Spirit then reminded me of the following scripture in Joel:

And the Lord utters His voice before His army, for His host is very great, for [the enemy is] strong and powerful who executes God's word. For the day of the Lord is great and very terrible, and who can endure it? (Joel 2:11)

Since I received the "SWORD OF THE SPIRIT" a month ago - He has had me use it three times:

1 - In warfare against (what I believe) to be a principality that was attempting to block many who the Lord was in the process of moving forward.

2 - To bring down a stronghold that was "hindering" my own personal advancement... and

3 - And to "sever" thick metal chains that are holding many in bondage (representing their being delivered).

At 2 a.m. this morning - I was given this word:

September 04, 2000

Batten down the hatches! Says the Lord.... For "flood waters" will fill the earth - A flood from MY SPIRIT... For there are three baptisms to undergo, the Baptism of MY SPIRIT, WATER, and FIRE! For all three of these Baptisms form within you MY CHARACTER - so that what "shines forth," IS MY reflection, where no shadows can enter in.

The Baptism of My Spirit begins to reveal to you the "facets" of My character; even as a diamond is multi-faceted and will reflect the LIGHT that "gleams" upon each one separately, so one by one I lead My children to a revelation of the many attributes and beauty of your God!

The Baptism of Water is an OUTWARD demonstration to those who believe upon My Name of what I AM has already wrought within them... For I AM NOT A GOD that would have you disavow yourself of this outward demonstration of your belief in Me. Does My Word not say that "if you deny me before MEN - that I also will deny you before My Father who is in Heaven."

The final baptism is the "BAPTISM OF FIRE!" My Fire that consumes ALL that remains of "self," within you, burning away the chaff, leaving only "ashes!" It is an "INWARD" work of My Spirit that allows no place for anything else, save Me! FOR MY FIRE allows you to promote ONLY "MY KINGDOM," and not your own!

Batten down the hatches My Children... for even as the flood waters of My Spirit flow forth - will MY fire also explode from deep within you. A FIRE THAT BURNS BRIGHTLY - but does "NOT" consume that which is burning.... Flooding you with MY LIGHT FROM WITHIN - leaving MY CHARACTER TO SHINE OUTWARDS... to BE that VISIBLE "outward" witness for many!" And Many, MANY will "turn aside" to see this thing - astounded and in great wonder of what I AM has done!

But for those who have "turned aside," from Me - MY fire will burn against them and in My great wrath will they see their "kingdoms" fall and their "loyalties" lost amid the turmoil. For I will flood this planet with My Presence and they will have no excuse for having ears that do not hear - and eyes that do not see! Those who "turn aside" are as blind guides who have fallen themselves into the "pit" of their own iniquities. They have not sought to know ME, to come before Me in humility... to deny themselves and PICK UP THEIR CROSS AND FOLLOW ME! NO~!! They are forever hindering My work by their own hardheartedness and perversity... They seek to know nothing other - than "self..." And so, I will give them what they so ardently desire - "SELF!" which will NOT SAVE THEM in the day of My great wrath.

I AM LOVE.... yet to truly know Me, REQUIRES that you have and serve no other God before Me! If you have set up an idol within your own heart - than you have denied ME - Your Creator. But I say unto you - that every knee WILL BOW, every tongue WILL CONFESS that "I AM" King of Kings and Lord of Lords and those idols of "SELF" self-promotion, self-pity, self-will, self-justification, WILL kneel before Me!

Batten down the hatches My Children - be prepared to hold tightly to what I have given you... Hold unto ME and cling to no other. For there is no other lifesaver besides ME who can "help you" when all directional guides and landmarks have been swept away by the WAVE OF MY SPIRIT - and burned to ash by the Power of MY CONSUMING FIRE!

bat·ten To furnish, fasten, or secure with battens: batten down the hatches. Batten - A narrow strip of wood used to fasten down the edges of the material that covers hatches in foul weather.

hatch n. 1.a. An opening, as in the deck of a ship, in the roof or floor of a building, or in an aircraft.

b. The cover for such an opening.

c. a floodgate.

We Would See Jesus Mary (Koons) Wattenford

SIR, WE WOULD SEE JESUS!

A recent online posting had some personal observations from its author in regards to seeing and hearing a lot about "you're an apostle... a prophet... et. al.," coming forth at conferences or through their e-mail "inbox." I was meditating on this earlier today when the Holy Spirit reminded me of this portion of scripture:

And there were certain Greeks among them that came up to worship at the feast: The same came therefore to Philip, which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus. (John 12:20-21)

We see among the brethren a lot of back patting, elbow rubbings and yes, even back stabbing, and other carryings on... but how "often" do we TRULY SEE JESUS in someone else? Personally, I am not impressed whatsoever with titles..... for if the Lord is "not" the one who has positioned and appointed you, don't expect an anointing to follow! It doesn't matter "what" you think your call may be - if HIS anointing doesn't "come with the package," it will become very apparent, very quickly, to most of those around you. Yes, receiving confirmations through our peers/brethren, by or through a Rhema word the Lord may speak through them, is very edifying to receive, and our Lord is always gracious and sometimes will bless us with those to encourage or sustain us. However, don't look to the person who "SPOKE THE WORD" look instead - to the "GIVER OF THE WORD!" Unfortunately, I think far too often, we "focus" on a person or personages, rather than focusing on JESUS.

"SIR, WE WOULD SEE JESUS!"

The Jewish Feast of Passover was a holiday that drew crowds from all over the known world. The "atmosphere" was one of reverence - coupled with one of commerce. It was not unusual for Greeks to attend any of the feasts in Jerusalem. Hellenized Jews at the time were numerous... but these Greeks, went to a "particular apostle," with a "particular request," for a "particular reason."

A Particular Apostle

They had come to worship at the feast, but at some point during their stay - or possibly even before they arrived, they had "heard" about Jesus; and it was their deep desire to SEE HIM. And they approached Phillip... I found that interesting - "WHY.. Phillip?" Why not John - surely the gentlest of the apostles... ?

Matthew Henry writes in his commentary about "why" Phillip the following:

I think that they applied to him only because they saw him a close follower of Christ, and he was the first they could get to speak with

That is certainly a likely possibility - but if you examine the meaning of the names in verse 21 - you find that there might well have been a reason "why" Phillip and not one of the other apostles.

According to Strong's in Greek the name Phillip means, "lover of horses." Bethsaida means "house of fish," while Galilee means "circuit." Jesus had called out those with "fishing boats..." - "fishermen," and some members of his most "intimate selected twelve" WERE fisherman, so that reference is not surprising. But what "IS" rather surprising is what the name Phillip means coupled with what Galilee means. One who is a "lover of horses," and whose place of origin is an area called "circuit?" Sounds like a race track to me! Historically, we find:

Chariot and mounted (bareback) races were part of the ancient Greek Olympics. By 638 BC, the sport had become a public obsession and entertainment spectacle in the Roman Empire.

Whatever the Greek's reason for selecting Phillip - whether it was because he was the first "apostle" they happened across, or they took his name and place of origin as a way of "hedging" their bets (in the modern vernacular), they were quite definite about the reason for talking to him.

A Particular Request

"SIR, WE WOULD SEE JESUS!"

The Greeks approached Phillips and used the word "SIR," as a means of respect. Strong's [2962] defines SIR as meaning in the Greek one who as the power of deciding, it can also mean master or lord - and was used for a "servant" to greet their master; other meanings include: he to whom a person or thing belongs, about which he has power of deciding; master, lord; the possessor and disposer of a thing, the owner; one who has control of the person, the master; in the state: the sovereign, prince, chief, the Roman emperor; is a title of honor expressive of respect and reverence, with which servants greet their master; this title is given to: God, the Messiah

WE WOULD - Strong's [2309] to will, have in mind, intend, to be resolved or determined, to purpose, to desire, to wish, to love, to like to do a thing, be fond of doing, to take delight in, have pleasure.

SEE - [Strong's 1492] to perceive with the eyes or by any of the senses, notice, discern, discover, to turn the eyes, the mind, the attention to anything, pay attention, observe, see about something, to ascertain what must be done about it, to inspect, examine, to look at, behold, to experience any state or condition, have an interview with, to visit, to know [of anything] get knowledge of, understand - of any fact, force and meaning of something which has definite meaning, to know how, to be skilled in, to have regard for one, cherish, pay attention to.

JESUS, [Strong's 2424] meaning "Jehovah is salvation."

A Particular Reason

Now, obviously the Greeks were not "servants" of Phillip, and it's impossible to miss the last notation in the Strong's listing which says this title is given to God, the Messiah! The Greeks then affirmed TO Phillip who they believe Jesus to be. They had come no doubt, on a long arduous journey to attend the Passover; the text telling us they were there "to worship." Instead of worshipping in the "proscribed Jewish manner, however..." these Greeks had found another purpose for being at this "particular feast" at this "particular time" altogether! They had "resolved and determined" within themselves that they "would see," look upon and discern within themselves to gain knowledge and understanding of Jesus. They were ready to meet with the "JEHOVAH THAT TRULY WAS SALVATION," instead of the dead ritualistic religion of works that Judaism had become. The Temple rituals that had been their original intention for attending the feast - PALED beside the "LIVING WORD" that walked among them, healing the sick and speaking as "no man" had ever spake before!

These Greeks approached Phillip, apparently in the hope that they would have a "mutual point" of contact... they wanted "in this race!" They were willing to be rebuffed, but they were determined!

As one studies the Gospels, it's readily apparent that the ones who DID receive their "breakthroughs," were not the ones who (to our minds anyway) would appear to have been the "most likely" to receive them. It was those individuals who "broke the mold," that got His attention. The individuals who would risk anything just for a chance to "touch the hem of His garment..." the ones who TRULY "WANTED TO SEE JESUS!" Lepers, risked their lives by approaching close enough to receive a healing word, a woman with an issue of blood, weak no doubt, and by Jewish standards, "unclean," who fought a "pressing crowd" just to touch his robe, a blind man sitting beside the road, crying out "Son of David - have mercy on me," who REFUSED to be silenced!... the list goes on and on.... They ALL had "one thing" in common - they had a NEED.... And they "WANTED TO SEE JESUS!" They lived with religion every day of their lives, and religion had NOT solved their problems.

We too, "WANT TO SEE JESUS!" We've had enough of rituals that bring us "no relief..." of a "standard of religion" that "wants to affirm positions," rather than meeting people at their "deepest point of NEED..." WE WOULD SEE JESUS!!! Oh, we do occasionally.... My most recent example of "seeing Jesus" happened in February, when a "total stranger" helped me when I had no one else TO help me in a strange city, in a stress-filled situation. I'm sure no one else would "consider" this man a Christian - but to me, he was one of the "purest examples" of Christianity I've ever seen. We get so wrapped up in "titles and being someone..." (as if that truly means anything with a world of hurting people surrounding us) that we forget that for "us" to SEE JESUS... we must "first" be willing to BE AS HE was- IN THIS WORLD! Whenever you see a man, with no ulterior motive, helping a woman in a desperate situation - you see JESUS, whenever you see someone reaching out to "touch" those [social] lepers who risk their "open wounds" crying out to be healed - you see JESUS, whenever you see someone fighting principalities and powers with everything within them for someone else to approach the Throne of Grace - you see JESUS, whenever you see someone handing a starving child a bowl of soup, you see JESUS, whenever you see someone ministering to the sick and infirmed, in places where the church "won't go," (disregarding the direct mandate of our Lord), i.e., mental institution, nursing homes, homeless shelters, houses of prostitution, jails and prisons, even to the outermost parts of this planet, you see JESUS!

The Greeks had traveled a long way to see what "use to work" - the "rituals..." and those who "jockeyed for positions of power," they decided that they "wanted the REAL THING!" --- so should we....

Battlefield Vision

Paul Jobe

Sept. 18, 2000

In the vision, I saw a huge medieval-era battlefield in which the opposing armies were a demonic horde and the Body of Christ. Both sides had some organizational problems and communication was inadequate. I saw the entire battle scene from behind the lines, yet I could move anywhere I wanted to without being noticed by either side.

My attention was drawn toward the side of the Church where some disorganized skirmishes were taking place. I noticed that there were three segments in the Church which were doing different things. In the back and well out of harm's way were older Christians who had on shiny armor. Some were dwarfed in size because of their poor diets and did not have the ability to fight. Some were very tall because they had read a lot of books, but were skinny and weak. Others were sitting in lounge chairs and watching TV, not understanding that the enemy could easily overtake their territory and being oblivious to the potential danger. I noticed that the TV cables were being fed from the enemy's camp directly into these televisions.

The next line of Christians were called "young men" and consisted mainly of housewives and teenagers. These were well aware of the ensuing battle and were busy with different tasks. Some of these were carrying food and water to the front lines to refresh the warriors. Others were holding binoculars to try to see the enemy's movements. Those with binoculars were the focus of many of the enemy's arrows and many fell because they spent too much time looking through the binoculars and didn't see the enemy when a close attack came. Some made the mistake of trying to walk around while looking through the binoculars. This resulted in them falling into pits that the enemy had laid. The biggest problem for these was that they couldn't get high enough to look down on the enemy. Some of those in the rear had tall towers called "finances" that could have helped them, but they did not want to share the towers nor bring them into this part of the battle, lest they get scratched. The third group of warriors was a combination of those mounted on horses and those on foot. The ones on horses were well-seasoned in battle and moved with great skill. These had the names "Apostles," "Prophets," "Evangelists," "Pastors," and "Teachers" on them. Each one had a different colored horse according to their designations. They were systematic in battle and communicated with each other well. Each mounted warrior was responsible for about 100 of those on foot.

The footsoldiers were called "Children" and were extremely ferocious in battle. What they lacked in battle smarts they made up for in their zeal to defeat the enemy. They were motivated by love for the Head of the Church, yet expressed this love on the battlefield by throwing themselves into battle. Most of them had recently come from the side of the enemy and because of this, knew the enemy's tactics very well.

The most unusual thing about these warriors was that they had missing armor. Some were missing the shield of faith or belt of truth, yet this did not stop them from being willing to die for those still caught in the enemy's camp. I watched as several of these children ran straight into the enemy's line and were cut down quickly by the demon's swords. Other children would see this happen, yet go after the enemy time after time. Seeing their zeal, the mounted warriors gathered the zealous children together and started giving them some instructions. Very soon, the battle changed and the Church started getting the advantage.

The Church plan was to concentrate efforts on one area of the demonic horde and systematically send huge numbers of children warriors and mounted soldiers against that area until the enemy was defeated or retreated. I watched as these children were cut by the enemy's swords, cried out in pain, yet still tried to fight. I was overcome with emotion at their zeal and was reminded of the verse, "Those who did not love their lives unto death." What amazed me was that as soon as the wounded children would cry out, a mounted warrior would quickly arrive and apply a topical medicine called "The Word of God" which almost instantly healed the wound. To the horror of the enemy, these wounded warriors would arise again with greater wisdom and resolve to fight, their battle scars being a strength and a symbol of honor. This battle plan was followed until the enemy was totally defeated.

As I pondered the vision, I was reminded of a couple of verses- "He who seeks to save his life will lose it, but whomever loses his life for My sake will find it." "He who has been forgiven much loves much."

Between The Blessings And The Curses

Sandy Warner

I came across an interesting section of scripture the other day. The spiritual and prophetic parable leaped off the page and grabbed my heart.

Prior to crossing into the promised land, Moses told the people they would be given the choice between God's blessing or God's curse. To make the point very clear, he told them that after they crossed, over 6 tribes would stand upon Mt Gerizim proclaiming blessings and 6 tribes would stand upon Mt Ebal proclaiming curses. (Deut 11:26-32, Deut 27:11-14, Josh 8:33-35)

These two mountains stood one to the north and the other to the south of a narrow valley cutting through the mountain range. This valley carved a main north-south road that ran between the two mountains making Mt Gerizim (about 2500-2800 feet) a strategic military importance. This valley of Shechem between was about 3 miles long and narrow enough to hear voices between the two mountains.

In this valley between the divided tribes stood the ark of God and the Levites, the priests. They were to literally stand between the blessings and the cursings, shouting the curses and blessings of the law. As I read this suddenly something very personal and very prophetic became quite clear.

A FORERUNNER IN BATTLE

As a background to what I am about to share: in 1984 when I received my supernatural calling from the Lord (15 years after I became a Christian) the Lord planted in my heart a burning and passion to pursue Him. He launched me into dreams and visions and my life became a red-hot pursuit of Him. I discovered in the process that I had an enemy that did not want me to succeed in my pursuit and suddenly opposition came from every side.

It has been a very long uphill journey overcoming a step at a time. The Lord has kept me safe within His hedge allowing allotted degrees of warfare. He gave me the understanding and the faith to stand upon the scripture: "For it was of the LORD to harden their hearts, that they should come against Israel in battle, that He might utterly destroy them, and that they might receive no mercy, but that He might destroy them, as the LORD had commanded Moses." (Josh 11:20 NKJV) I didn't like this, but I accepted it, grateful for the enlightenment.

It is important to note that as an intercessor, I do not go after principalities and fight offensive battles. To do so is sure presumption and certain doom without the command of the Lord. In certain seasons I have had intercessory assignments where principalities have opposed me at night time. I have stood in these incidents and seen some wonderful dynamic clashes of lightening as opposing forces fight, while in my weak flesh I merely speak His Name or Word, or take simple authority over such. We are called to do our part and the warring angels do the rest as we stand in faith. On a number of occasions I have wrestled in hand to hand combat with these rulers ("For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places." Eph 6:12) and have come to appreciate that Paul certainly knew this wrestling experience.

In all of these assignments, they have lasted for seasons, some longer than others, always sprinkled with blessings and the keeping power of Him Whom I love, and intimacy with Him. I have learned to trust that He totally equips us with exactly what we need to stand and stay within Him. Every assignment, although some very difficult and lengthy, has ended in victory as He has commanded it. Such is the background for what I am about to tell you.

Within the past year I have had 3 occasions, lasting a total of several weeks, where a principality of cursing opposed me. It was like nothing I had ever stood against before, for this was a blatant attack during the daylight hours directly against my thoughts. My spiritual ears would open and I could hear him curse myself and others, hundreds and hundreds of times, over and over again. It got to the point where as I walked in public places I knew who was a Christian and who was not, merely by hearing the curses hurled against them! It was the most difficult battle I have ever faced. I did everything to stand against this horrific onslaught. I want to briefly share some of the ways I stood, to pass on some tools, but this is not the point of this posting.

I bound him in Jesus Name. I said whom God has blessed, you cannot curse. I told him that no matter how tiny I was, and how tall he was, he was doomed to fall because I stood not in my own power, but in the power of Jesus Christ. I told him he had no authority against Jesus Christ. I poured the blood of Jesus Christ all over his head. I commanded double portion blessings upon each and every person he cursed. I said he had no authority except what God Himself had ordained, in order that he might be destroyed. I did self inspection, repenting of any unknown sins, searched my home to make sure there was nothing offensive to the Lord, and fasted the ol' flesh. I submitted to the covering and prayers of those whom the Lord has called me to be personally accountable to. I called upon the Lord's help, I loosed the warring angels to stand strong against this big dude. I commanded the curses to be null and void in Jesus Name. I sent the curses to be chained in the abyss to await their judgment. I sent the curses to the feet of Jesus to be held captive. I placed the curses under my feet in Jesus Name. You name it, it did it.

TAKING THOUGHTS CAPTIVE

Paul understood the spiritual battle: "For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war according to the flesh. For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal but mighty in God for pulling down strongholds, casting down arguments and every high thing that exalts itself against the knowledge of God, BRINGING EVERY THOUGHT INTO CAPTIVITY TO THE OBEDIENCE OF CHRIST, and being ready to punish all disobedience when your obedience is fulfilled." (2 Cor 10:3-6 NKJV)

I tried to command every thought, every curse I heard to be held captive in Jesus Name. Sometimes they came so fast and furious, it was literally impossible, and so I would take authority over all the curses since the last time I sent them to be judged. Many, many times I felt as though I was getting nowhere. But I knew that when my obedience in warfare, intercession and my own walk was fulfilled, these curses would receive their punishment.

THE REWARD

As the days turned into weeks I became very weary. In the final week of battle some interesting things took place. I started wondering how tall this dude was. I knew he was at least as tall as a mountain. And once again, I said it didn't matter how tiny I was, he was doomed. That night I was taken up into hand to hand wrestling with him and the Lord opened my eyes. We were miles above ground. Somehow, it didn't matter to me. I knew it was only a matter of time, he was doomed. That week something wonderful happened. I began to get very discouraged! I started to complain to the Lord and said, "Lord where is my reward for having to hear all of this terrible cursing?" I suddenly thought that He has given us the nations for our inheritance, if we ask.

Psalms 2 (NKJV) "Why do the nations rage, and the people plot a vain thing? The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the LORD and against His anointed, saying, "Let us break their bonds in pieces and cast away their cords from us." He who sits in the heavens shall laugh; the LORD shall hold them in derision. Then He shall speak to them in His wrath, and distress them in His deep displeasure: "Yet I have set My king on My holy hill of Zion." "I will declare the decree: The LORD has said to me, 'You are My Son, today I have begotten You. ASK OF ME, AND I WILL GIVE YOU THE NATIONS FOR YOUR INHERITANCE, AND THE ENDS OF THE EARTH FOR YOUR POSSESSION. You shall break them with a rod of iron; you shall dash them to pieces like a potter's vessel.'" "Now therefore, be wise, O kings; be instructed, you judges of the earth. Serve the LORD with fear, and rejoice with trembling. Kiss the Son, lest He be angry, and you perish in the way, when His wrath is kindled but a little. Blessed are all those who put their trust in Him."

As I pondered this, I began to get very excited. I asked the Lord for 100 souls for every curse I had heard! I immediately heard another barrage of curses. Each and every curse, I stood against and said, "That's 100 souls in Jesus Name!" "That's another 100 souls in Jesus Name." "There's another 100 souls!" In a few minutes I had over 1000 souls. My heart leaped and I started rejoicing. I was seeing a sea of faces. I became so excited at every curse I heard, that I actually started thanking the enemy for another 100 souls! I became a fanatic for souls, rejoicing with every curse!!!! I have to tell you, with no bells or whistles the curses fizzled out that week as I stood against their dwindling numbers, with my rejoicing of each 100 added to the list. In a few short days, all became quiet.

THE PARABLE

In the past year as Words of the Lord have come through various sources, we have heard the voices of coming judgment and glory. These are the curses and the blessings. The intercessors have stood in between declaring, "Oh God how we have fallen! Turn us around and let us enter Your glory!"

In the day of Joshua, the divided tribes were in the high places declaring blessings and cursings. This was going on over the heads of the Levites in the valley, those who carried the ark of God. I consider this a parable, where the high places are the spirituals where the blessings and curses are spoken and the angels and demons bring to pass the spoken Words. The Levites had a Word war going on above their heads!

OUR CHOICES IN THE DAYS TO COME

What I went through was a parable and a forerunner of what is to come. In the days to come, we each will have our portion of warfare and battle. Together we fight against common enemies and together we will utterly destroy these giants. For truly at the turn of the year, I knew we had come into the land of giants. This one of cursing opposes us day and night, whether or not we hear. I wish I could say this giant is dissolved and completely destroyed. He is not, for even though the Lord has closed my ears and hedge to his barrage, I can still feel him behind my invisible shield. His authority to curse the body of Christ comes from our disobedience! As we come into this new land of promises, depending upon our own choices, we will receive blessings or curses.

Deut 28:1-10 TLB "If you fully obey all of these commandments of the Lord your God, the laws I am declaring to you today, God will transform you into the greatest nation in the world. These are the blessings that will come upon you:

Blessings in the city, Blessings in the field; Many children, Ample crops, Large flocks and herds; Blessings of fruit and bread; Blessings when you come in, Blessings when you go out.

"The Lord will defeat your enemies before you; they will march out together against you but scatter before you in seven directions! The Lord will bless you with good crops and healthy cattle, and prosper everything you do when you arrive in the land the Lord your God is giving you. He will change you into a holy people dedicated to himself; this he has promised to do if you will only obey him and walk in his ways. All the nations in the world shall see that you belong to the Lord, and they will stand in awe."

Deut 28:15-21 TLB "If you won't listen to the Lord your God and won't obey these laws I am giving you today, then all of these curses shall come upon you:

Curses in the city, Curses in the fields, Curses on your fruit and bread, The curse of barren wombs, Curses upon your crops, Curses upon the fertility of your cattle and flocks, Curses when you come in, Curses when you go out.

"For the Lord himself will send his personal curse upon you. You will be confused and a failure in everything you do, until at last you are destroyed because of the sin of forsaking him. He will send disease among you until you are destroyed from the face of the land you are about to enter and possess."

Beloved of the Lord, if ever there was a more serious time to get our lives in line with Him and become holy people set apart unto Him, it is now.

Lovingly, Sandy

I Want to Be Birthed!

Gary Allred

"I want to be birthed - not just into the hearts and minds of the people but into their every day lives - into their experiences. It is time for My Life to be birthed in the people.

You have heard and seen the results as first My Life was released into the people's minds, then released into their hearts. They were first acquainted with the knowledge of My Reality and the need to search for Me and inquire of Me.

Then came a season of rest. The second season was one of heart - the call to Me became more intense and the joy they found in seeking Me became full. Then came a time of stillness, a time of rest.

These times are not truly lulls or seasons of inactivity but are seasons of transistion, such you have been in - but now you need to begin to focus on birth - it is My Life in your midst that desires to be born.

Much will happen around you that may distract you but refuse to be distracted. Focus - focus as a woman in labor. The Babe has entered the canal - there will be waves of intensity and you must focus on the Babe - you must focus on Me - call to Me as you labor.

This is not a time when you can slumber or become distracted - the time when that was allowable is over - now you must focus on Me. Your desire to see me must be your overriding desire.

Your lives tomorrow will be filled with My Presence or lost. There is a death when a birth is lost. The labor - the battle you fight is from within and from without - your flesh will want to run from the pain or escape from the discipline needed to conquer it - your heart will be tempted to fear or become discouraged - these are cries of flesh which cannot be heeded.

The enemy will try to destroy whatever he can, so remember you are a woman in labor in enemy territory. In this position you can be vulnerable. Your energy will need to be replenished constantly - your food and water is from Me."

(note: my daughter is interning as a midwife - the midwives encourage the mom to drink and eat to keep up her strength.)

--Picture came-- I then saw a woman lying on the ground in the middle of a war zone. She was lying on the cold hard ground behind a bush laboring to give birth - she was also behind enemy lines and it was dark like night - she seemed very alone until my vision was clearer and I saw this - a circle of angelic warriors - glowing in their power - their swords were drawn as they kept watch around the woman in labor - she, however, was unaware of their presence. "I have a mighty angelic host to guard you - they stand with sword in hand prepared to defend you. Do not grieve them by repeating what the enemy speaks - Labor with praises to the most high on your lips and a heavenly chorus will resound your praise.

This is a supernatural birth - it is not one of man's plans or one of man's strategies. Who among you can stand before Me and tell Me you knew your heart would travel this present course - or who can stand before Me and know what details are held in tomorrow? Not one.

Do not rely on your own counsel or the counsel of those around you to bring birth to My Life."

(I saw a group of people standing around asking each other what to do next.)

"Weep as a woman in labor at your own weakness and focus your energy on calling Me forth that I might be birthed in your midst. Each move of My Spirit in you has been one of preparation - early labor - But now we have come to the true movement of birth - all is ready - it is time to push."

(a midwife note: when the mom begins to cry and say she cannot go on the midwives begin to get out their clean sheets and make preparations - their usual comment is "Good - now it's time.)

I was also given Ezekiel 12:24.

In conclusion: I believe it was last summer or fall - two constellations appeared in the heavens together - I believe I heard it was the first time this had ever happened in recorded history.

The two constellations together formed the picture given us in Revelation 12:1-5, "And a great sign appeared in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars; and she was with child; and she cried out, being in labor and in pain to give birth.

And another sign appeared in heaven; and behold, a great red dragon having seven heads and ten horns, and on his heads were seven diadems. And his tail swept away a third of the stars of heaven, and threw them to the earth.

And the dragon stood before the woman who was about to give birth, so that when she gave birth he might devour her child. And she gave birth to a son, a male child, who is to rule all the nations with a rod of iron; and her child was caught up to God and to His throne." A week or so ago I read a word from Sandy Warner about the Lord getting ready to lay upon those of His people that were prepared - authority in government. The Lord had spoken a similar word to me at the time. Could all of this together mean that the constellation which manifested in the heavens some months ago was the announcement that the time for the Sons of God to be revealed was upon us? - for Christ to be birthed in His people?

Is now the time for the Church at large to bring forth the life of the Son of God on the earth one last time? Is the bestowing of governmental authority the same spoken of in this passage of Revelations?

It is surely a sober time - Holy Spirit help us to hear.

Being Clothed in God's Love

Roseanne Harney

I decided to read about a man called John G. Lake this morning. Do you know about him? He was a Faith man and there were many miracles done through him and around him for the Kingdom of God.

He was talking about witchdoctor's and how everyone feared them in Africa, they were essentially very powerful in the occult. He liked to watch them move, because the things they could do were amazing. But he said, all of the Christian's feared them. He said, believe 1John 4:4 and he cast out the spirit's out of the witchdoctor's of the village.

As I read, something caught my attention, God had shown this man, what he had shown me while I was in Bible College at CBC.

That was: to look into the eyes of the demonized and the spirit's will flee. I have had this happen on more than one occasion. One student in class once asked me, how do you do deliverance? I said, "Oh it's easy...I started to explain, this is what I do...now look into my eyes".

He turned and looked into my eyes and the next thing I knew he exploded like a bomb went off. His chair flew backwards and hit the wall and he screamed!

His heart began to race, it was really something to see, later that week God delivered him from the spirit's that were inside of him.

(We did become friends after this! He is a minister today)

But this is what Lake writes, it wonderful revelation.

God Almighty can look out of your eyes!

The spirit's were in terror and trying to get back away from my eyes as far as they could.

The main question is how have you been seeing the world lately? Have you been using only your natural eyes or have you been allowing the Spirit of God to use your eyes to see and help people? Are you clothed with His love and compassion? If we see through His eyes, we will see His miracles that bring LIFE!

We need to understand the authority that God has given each of us and it is only by exercising His power that we begin to understand God's GREAT Power and PROTECTION.

Today, let's pray that God will look through our eyes and that His power and love will shine through to those that we come into contact with today OR those we serve. Lord use us to serve You faithfully for Your Kingdom purposes.

Scripture: "God hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind" (2 Timothy 1:7)

Have a sunny day, filled with God's love and His kindness

Blessings,

Roseanne

Vision of His Boat

Roseanne Harney

Given to New Life Church in Colorado Springs, Co

I am seeing calmness over the waters and birds flying overhead. A boat is resting as the current makes it drift forward.

I can see a man in a chair on the boat, he is meditating on God's Word. A light shines all around him. Now the Lord takes me above the boat and he shows me the darkness around the boat. He says, " I am even in the darkness and there is peace. One can find peace in the midst of darkness, if he has me to hold onto." Psalms 27:1-4

Climb into His boat and walk in the destiny that he has planned for your life. He is the light and life that will sustain you and meet all of your needs.

Bear Awakens

Dumitru Duduman

Duduman's 2nd of 3 final visions

Dumitru Duduman was a Romanian pastor that was sent to America after being tortured for 5 months for smuggling bibles into Russia for 25 years. He was given the task of warning America of judgement. He died May 5, 1997, this is the 2nd of 3 visions he received just a few days before he died. I will send some comments re. this tomorrow.

Dream Received April 1997 I knelt beside my bed to pray, as I do every night before going to sleep. After finishing my prayer I opened my eyes, but I was no longer in my room. Instead I found myself in a forest. I looked around and to my right I saw a man, dressed in white, who pointed a finger and said, "See and remember." It took me a while to find what he was looking at. It was a small bear who seemed half dead lying on the ground. As I continued to watch this bear, it began to breathe deeper. With every passing minute it seemed to revive itself, and, as I watched, it continued to become angrier. It then began to grow. Soon it was larger than the forest floor and as it grew larger it continued to become angrier. It then began to paw the ground, so that when its paw hit the ground, the earth would shudder. The bear continued to devastate all that was in its path until it came upon some men with sticks trying to fend it off. By this time the bear had become so large that it simply crushed the men underfoot and continued its rampage.

I was stunned by what I saw and asked the man standing beside me, "What does this mean?" "At first, they thought the bear was dead," the man said. "As it will begin to stir once again, they will consider it harmless. Suddenly it will grow strong once more with purpose and violence. God will blind the eyes of those who continue to trample on the sacrifice of Christ's blood, until the day the bear will strike swiftly. This day will catch them unprepared and it will be just as you saw."

The man said, "Tell my people that the days are numbered and the sentence has been passed. If they will seek My face and walk in righteousness before Me, I will open their eyes that they may see the danger approach.. If they only look to the approaching danger, they too will be caught up and trampled under foot. Only in righteousness will they find safety." Suddenly I was again by myself in my room, on my knees, with sweat covering my face.

Be Bold and Go

Jana Alcorn

The heavens declare my glory, says the Lord, and even shall you declare what I have given. Now is the time of release. That which has been held in reserve in your spirit, must now come forth. This shall come forth as a sound from the heavens. It shall come as a resound throughout the region, for now is my time.

You have contemplated, but now is the time for action. I give you new territory, says the Lord, so arise to possess it. Do not be held back for lack of resources, for I will provide as you go.

Each new step will open new deposits of my provision. Refuse to die the slow death of indecision. Arise to assemble the people, for there are those that are called unto this vision. Be bold and release what I have placed within. The resources will be there. Go and I shall go with thee, and it shall be even as I have spoken, says the Lord!

Be Ready

Bill Hernandez

January 27, 2000

For I am coming with a hammer to shatter the teeth of all who would nay say Me and all who fear the move of My Spirit. And I am coming like an ax to cut down trees that are merely weeds in the garden who rob sunshine and water and nourishment from the wheat. And I am coming like a fire to burn up works not wrought in Me. And I am coming with a roar of thunder to silence all ignorance and naivete. I will not be mocked. I only tarry that the wheat might mature, but soon, very soon, I will come like lightening that flashes from one end of the sky to the other. And so sudden will My coming be that great dismay will grip the land as many watch all their years of hard work disappear before the great wave of My Spirit and power. Many houses of prayer and worship will be derelict while all My godly ones rejoice in the streets. And many shepherds will be left without jobs for they have not attended to My appearing and My Holiness and My children. There will be mourning in the land but not for the lost. There will be a grievous cry, but not for the poor, the sick and the outcasts. But there will be weeping and grieving over personal loss.

Now is the time to repent. Now is the time to ask if indeed the move of My Spirit is really from heaven. And if there is turning and blessing of My work, My will, My power, My presence, My manifestations, I will turn from judgment and much grieving will be avoided. Grieving and mourning have been for them who have loved My presence. And they have been derided and cast out and dishonored and blasphemed. How much more will I do this to them who are the cause of these things? And how much more will they who cause suffering and pain take their place?

The tables are turning and the tide is shifting. The backlash is about to break forth. I am coming like a lion to shred to pieces the plans of ignorance. I am coming like a bear to run down and maul them who would greatly disturb her young. And you who think you see, I will blind you as with the talons of an eagle who would fiercely protect her young. Watch out. Be ready. Turn and I will turn. Turn and I will pour out mercy. And this mercy is the wave of My Spirit which so many have spurned. Be ready. (billh@pacbell.net)

Bethlehem Bride

Kathleen Pirl

Jerusalem Purim

2000 March 17-

The Bethlehem Bride

The San Francisco airport had an exhibit of traditional bridal dresses from various parts of the world. The bride is getting herself ready.

The exhibit contained a bride from Bethlehem. I heard the bride from Bethlehem is preparing the most expensive garments of woven threads and costly coins. The bride Israel is to be prepared. The Arabic/Israeli bride is being made read to follow the gentile bride into her Lord's arms.

I saw the heavens opened. The sun rained down a waterfall of glory.

The heavens will open with a shout of triumph she will be summoned upwards forever.

Vision later in the air-I saw the Bethlehem bride standing next to a baby in a manger.

JHOPFAN March 22 Purim

Prophecy-There is a great and wondrous sign in heaven: a woman with stars clothed with the sun the moon under her feet about to give birth to a fully formed man child. The woman is Israel giving birth to a fully formed man child, Jesus born fully matured. He will have a rod of authority over the nations. He will crush that old serpent the Prince of Persia. I will rip open the belly of the Middle East and birth the children of God ordained from the foundations of the earth. I will write holy over their foreheads. They will be holy to me. They are called out from the north, south, east, and the west. I will call them to come here to the gates of salvation and the walls of praise. Many people will come to hear them. Holy will be written on them and the articles will be holy and the temple will be built. Then a tongue was given followed by a long blast as though from a trumpet.

Be Willing to Die for Me

Stephen Hanson

Sept. 10, 00

- 7. He was oppressed and afflicted, yet he did not open his mouth; he was led like a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is silent, so he did not open his mouth.
- 8. By oppression and judgment he was taken away. And who can speak of his descendants? For he was cut off from the land of the living; for the transgression of my people he was stricken.
- 9. He was assigned a grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death, though he had done no violence, nor was any deceit in his mouth. Is. 53

"I was led like a sheep to the slaughter. I was assigned a grave and condemned to die. I gave up my life as a ransom for many. I was mocked and ridiculed by many before my death on the cross. I rose from the dead and am now giving new life unto many. "

"Just as I was led to the slaughter, so will many of you be. It may not be the slaughter of a physical death, but it will be the slaughter and the death of your own fleshly desires. It will be the death of your own ambitions. It will be the death of your own lives that are apart from Me. I have asked you to die in order that you might live. I died and was given new life. The life that I lived was given up for all of you. I AM asking that you give up your lives for Me. Unless a seed falls to the ground it cannot produce fruit. So it must be with you as well. Give-up your lives for your friends. Give-up your lives for your families. Be willing to pay the price for a servant. Be willing to be mocked, and be willing to be ridiculed. Be willing to suffer at the hands of those around you who do not understand you. If they did the same to Me, why should you expect anything different?"

"Sorrow will be turned into gladness. For afterwards, these things will birth a new thing. Travail in prayer, and travail in laying down your lives for the brethren. The furnace of affliction will produce the multitude of fruitfulness. Let my furnace burn away the dross and the impurities. Let my cross have its perfect work in you. Let my death be identified with your own. Then you will come out of the graves with new life. Then you will be assigned a portion with the great. Then you will be my vessels upon this earth. Then you will go onto those things that I have assigned you to. "

End Time Prophetic Vision

Bill Hamon's 1997 Florida Prophecy

Richard M. Riss

This is an edited transcript of Bishop Bill Hamon prophesying and declaring the Word of the Lord over Florida from the top of the State Capital building in Tallahassee, Florida at midnight on May 19-20, 1997.

Here we stand close to midnight atop the State capital building in Tallahassee, Florida. We have come up here tonight to make some prophetic decrees, declare the Word of the Lord, to speak God's voice and God's word here from the state capital to the State of Florida and to make some divine decrees from the heart and mind of God. Throughout the Old Testament when prophets were moved and directed of God and spoke the Word of the Lord, it changed nations and set things in motion.

As in the beginning when God said, "Let there be...", and there was light and creation, we can become the voice of God today. The Church and His Prophets are His voice today; and we are making divine decrees against the old high places that they are coming down. We are making divine decrees against the prophets of Baal that always propagate false doctrine. They are coming down!

We declare right now that we cancel the assignment of hell to hold back the judicial system and the government in this place; and we say the Kingdom of God is going to arise and the purpose of God is going to be fulfilled. Greater is He that is in us than he that is in the world. We speak with the authority of God that He is going to begin to shake this place; and everything that can be shaken that is not Godly is going to come down. The Lord is going to begin to build and establish His purpose and His plan.

Hear Oh Heavens! Hear Oh Earth! At this time God's angels are going to begin to make war against these principalities and powers, and the saints are going to intercede and war in the spirit. As the saints war here on earth, the angels are going to war in the heavenlies and we are going to see Godly government begin to be set up over this nation and over this state.

This State is a gateway into the nation. It is a gateway for many things, but we close the gate to the devil and we open the gate to the righteous. We open the gate for the Lord's Kingdom to begin to come in and to be established. We speak to the principalities and powers and tell you that our God reigns and Jesus Christ shall now begin to come in and take dominion. We say right now in the name of Jesus Christ, saints be stirred and awakened in this area, come alive to the voice of God.

Army of the Lord arise and begin to move against the enemy because God is riding forth with His fiery chariots. He is riding forth with His authority; and right now, in the name of Jesus, every demon and every principality that has been assigned through the centuries and years is going to be brought down.

Now we declare, decree and command in the name of Jesus (you know that name - you know its power) that the principalities and powers around this judicial governmental system shall be rooted out. We command you to go! We cancel your assignments, your claims and your power; and we declare that Jesus Christ owns this earth. This capital is sitting on God's earth! These judicial offices are sitting on God's property, so we say, devil get off of God's property!

We release the purpose and plans of God; and we speak in the name that is above every name that is named in heaven and earth - the name of Jesus. Father God, right now in Jesus' name, through the authority vested in me as Your Prophet with Apostolic anointing, I release the decree of God. All heaven stands waiting for the Church to move and for the saints to decree.

God, I release legions of angels from heaven above and warring angels around this area. Shake this area, God and raise up the saints to go to war so that the principalities and powers will be torn down. We ask, oh God that even now Michael, as the warring General of heaven, would come with angelic forces and begin to war and tear down the forces of darkness. God, we will maintain here on earth that what the Prophets prophesy on the earth is echoed in heaven, and what there angels trumpet in heaven is echoed by the Prophets on earth.

I declare that, from this day forth, it is going to turn around and God's kingdom is about to be established in this area. We decree right now that the assignments of everyone who is legislating, voting, bringing in evil and unrighteousness and causing trouble in this state are canceled. We raise up the righteous, we raise up the Godly, and we say that all unrighteousness, which is contrary to God's Kingdom and God's way of doing business, God's way of government, has come down!

We start it in motion now, and month by month, year by year, we are going to see a transition - this is the dawning of a new day. This is the beginning of the work of the Lord; and this capital that represents the State of Florida, the decisions that are made and official governmental events is now in the hands of God. Devil, you are finished in this area! You may counteract, but you will not succeed.

>From this day forward, I call forth the righteous, I call forth the saints, I call forth the angels of heaven; and I stand here between heaven and earth at the top of this building declaring and decreeing that the angels and the saints are rising up and unity is coming to the Church. The power of God is going to be released and the devil's days are numbered.

The power of God is going to be executed in this earth. Florida belongs to Jesus, and Florida shall be a state known as a place of refuge, a place to be protected and a place to be directed. We cut off the influx, we cut off the increase of the wickedness, and we release righteousness into the land.

Just as you made a decree, Lord, in the beginning, just as You made a decree for the flood to end, just as you made a decree and Jesus came and began the Church, we decree by the authority of the voice of God and the work of the Lord, Florida, you are turning around! Capital, you are being taken over by the angels and the presence of God!

Lord we send angels to inhabit and encamp around all the decision-making places. Go in and meddle with man! Go in and begin to infuse, to in and begin to inspire! God, we release your mind and your work. We say, devil from this day forward your power is brought down! The anointing is setting the righteous free and the Glory of God is going to fill this earth as the waters cover the sea. He is going to start here with Florida and you cannot stop it because Jesus said you are brought down. We so decree it!

We declare the prosperity upon this state, we declare God's blessings and we declare God's righteous decrees. We set it in motion now - nothing can stop it. No demon or power on earth, because our God reigns! Jesus is Lord over all! His power is greater than every power in hell; and the least saint (devil, hear this) the least saint covered by the blood, praising God can whip the biggest devil in hell because Christ is in us, the hope of glory. We decree the righteousness of God for this place, God's righteousness.

Thank you, Father God. In Jesus' name, we stand as your ambassadors, we stand as Your commissioned ones (sent ones). This is your divine appointment for now, and we speak in the authority of Jesus' name, knowing our power is backed up by heaven itself.

All the armies of heaven are backing us. Satan, we are not deceived by you any more! Jesus is Lord, Jesus is King; and Jesus is going to release His glory over this place. From this day forward a new decree has gone forth, a new day has dawned and a transition is going forth. The glory of the Lord shall be established and God's kingdom shall come forth.

Arise, oh saints! Arise on Church! Arise mighty angels and come forth because we are taking over in the spirit, God is taking over in the natural and the Kingdom of God shall reign yet in this place in Jesus' name. Amen and amen, so be it. Glory! I believe it is done.

Baptized In The Cloud

Russell Walden

WHAT SHALL BE THE MANNER OF HIS APPEARING? We are in a new day. A new corporeality is being birthed. A new Ecclesia, or church is being birthed from the ashes of the old. This is what the Jews didn't see. They could only accept the Messiah to come as a single man and wreak revenge on all their enemies and satisfy all their lusts for power and position and vindication against their enemies. They did not see that between the rule and reign of Messiah and their day was the birth of a new corporeality known to us as Christianity, or the Church. This same blindness is on the church today. We are looking for a Messiah to come and punish the enemies of the faith, and whisk the faithful to some harbor of safety while the terrors of divine judgement are poured out upon the luckless heathen. What we have not seen is that there is a NEW ECONOMY of GOD, a NEW ECCLESSIA altogether, that is emerging.

A NEW ECONOMY, A NEW DYNAMIC, A NEW BAPTISM When the children of Israel entered into the promises of God, they were baptized in the cloud of God's presence and in the Red sea crossing (1 Cor. 10:2). With the advent of the purpose of God in Christ came the baptism of water. When the church was birthed was the baptism of the Holy Ghost. With each transition came a new baptism. With each baptism experience came the formation of a corporate body representative of the new day God was ushering in. Likewise this millennial economy of God, prefigured as the Sun-clothed Woman of Revelation 12 will be attended by a mighty baptism, not of water, or Spirit, but of Fire. Luke 3:16 John answered, saying unto [them] all, I indeed baptize you with water; but one mightier than I cometh, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire:

Consider the following brief treatment of this matter. The baptism of the Holy Ghost that fell on the day of Pentecost was the fulfillment of one of the feasts of Israel by the same name. The feast of Passover, all theologians agree represents the salvation which will rightly be attended with a baptism of water. So these two, of the three feasts of Israel are types that are fulfilled as personal experiences for the believer. What about the third feast? Surely the conclusion can rightly be made that the third feast, as the second and the first must also represent and be fulfilled in a third experience available at some point in God's timetable to the believer. John spoke of the baptism of water, the baptism of the Spirit and the Baptism of Fire. We have seen the first two baptisms but not the third. We celebrate the fulfillment of Passover in our salvation and water baptism. We partake of the fulfillment of Pentecost in the baptism of the Holy Ghost. There will come a day and is now at hand that the Baptism of Fire will be made available to the saints at the appointed hour, the time of the fulfillment of the feast of Tabernacles.

What is this baptism of Fire? The baptism of the Holy Ghost acts in renewing power upon the mind, will and emotions, filling the Soul of Man with the fulness of God's ethereal nature. The baptism of Fire will act upon the physical man setting in to redeem him from the last enemy which is death. This baptism is pre-figured for us in the life of Moses and in the transfiguration of Jesus.

Deut. 4:24, and Heb. 12:29 tell us that "our God is a consuming fire". The baptism of Fire is a baptism into His Person. Some may call this rapture, or translation, or body felt salvation. But the imperative for us to understand that it is not a sweeping away to some "planet" called heaven, but the initiation into a company of saints that will comprise the eight church mentioned in Revelation, the Sun-clothed woman of Rev. 12. After the Laodicean Church is spewed out of the mouth of the Son, there "appears a wonder in heaven", a Woman clothed with "the Sun", clothed with Fire.

In Matthew 17: 1-7 we find the transfiguration of Jesus, when he was "his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light." This gives us a glimpse of the nature of the baptism of Fire. You may object, "That was Jesus! We cannot expect that type of glorification to come upon a mortal man." Is that so? Then consider Moses, the agent of what Paul called the "ministration of death": Exod 34:34 But when Moses went in before the LORD to speak with him, he took the vail off, until he came out. And he came out, and spake unto the children of Israel [that] which he was commanded. 35 And the children of Israel saw the face of Moses, that the skin of Moses' face shone: and Moses put the vail upon his face again, until he went in to speak with him. In the presence of God, who is a consuming fire a unique and peculiar phenomena is affected. Paul, speaking of this side effect of Moses' "face to face" relationship with the Father said this: 2Cor 3:7 But if the ministration of death, written [and] engraven in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance; which [glory] was to be done away: 8 How shall not the ministration of the spirit be rather glorious? 9 For if the ministration of condemnation [be] glory, much more doth the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory. 10 For even that which was made glorious had no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth. 11 For if that which is done away [was] glorious, much more that which remaineth [is] glorious. 12 Seeing then that we have such hope, we use great plainness of speech....

Please understand that this baptism is not some alien experience. On the day of Pentecost there appeared "tongues of fire" upon the believers. They receive in a portion the earnest of that fulness promised in the Baptism of Fire. The Baptism of Fire, or of Glory is a full immersion into that fire that only lighted briefly upon the 120 on the day of Pentecost. As at the Mount of Transfiguration, Jesus returned to his followers and appeared normal as before. But those who went with him witnessed his glorification. Likewise on the day of Pentecost there were physical manifestations that didn't linger with permanence but nonetheless were a testimony to the uniqueness of the experience. The baptism of fire will come in full blown sensory perception to the believer, yet afterward leave him to return to his affairs, seemingly none changed to the outward eye, but there will be a fullness of inward effulgence that will flow out of this fire-baptized company that will electrify the world around them.

This baptism is not some new teaching or strange revelation. This baptism is what the prophets have inquired into, what theologians have misapprehended as the "rapture", or the "translation of the saints". They see a "rapture" of the Lord coming "for" his saints. But the scriptures clearly teach that his is "coming in us" in glory before he come "for us" to glory: 2The 1:10 When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be admired in all them that believe (because our testimony among you was believed) in that day.

This is NOT the Christian Religious System. This is a "glorious" or "glorified" church that has come out of the Babylon of the Christian Religious System and prepared as a righteous remnant to be God's instrument of power in the closing days of time. This is the portion of the end time saint. This is not a secret experience only for a few. This is for "whosoever will" who will walk with God as Enoch walked with God, who "was not" for God took him.

BAPTIZED IN THE CLOUD Jesus spoke of this in John 17:20 Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word; 21 That they all may be one... Jesus is praying that the 12 disciples and those who would follow after them would be one. He even stated the degree to which he wanted us to be one. "as thou, Father, [art] in me, and I in thee" Jesus wants us to be one to the magnitude that our oneness is as much a mystery as the mystery of the Godhead, and you cannot hardly discuss the mystery of the Godhead without blaspheming because of the inscrutable one-ness of the Father and the Son. Now why does Jesus want us to have this oneness? "that they also may be one in us...." You would think that Jesus got it backwards. Surely we need to be one with the Father before we can be one with each other. But Jesus plainly prays that we would be one first with each other. THAT (in order that) "they may also be one in "US" in the Father and the Son. This is undeniably the language of this verse. The path of becoming one with the Father is becoming one with each other. Look at these verses in your bible and tell me this is NOT the wording. This oneness is the means by which we are baptized into HIS GLORY, INTO THE CLOUD. Now, if we are going to be ONE (laterally) in order to be ONE WITH THE FATHER (vertically) we can't do it in ourselves. What has he given us to be one? Well it must be LOVE, right? No, love has NOTHING TO DO WITH THIS ONENESS. Agreement? No, agreement, mental assent, common doctrine, etc., have less than nothing to do with this ONENESS. What Has he given us to facilitate the oneness he is praying to the Father that we have and enter into? v. 22 And the glory which thou gamest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one: He didn't give us love, agreement, common labor or vision - he gave us His Glory. As the instrument of entering into ONENESS with one another and with the Father. How does that work? You seek out those as yourself who are yearning for the glory as you are and you come together and talk, pray, WHATEVER ACTIVITY INVOKES THE COMING OF THE CLOUD, the discernment and awareness of his nearness. Matt 18:20 For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them. You see Jesus GAVE US HIS GLORY in order that our pursuit of the GLORY would bring us together IN ONE and then IN THAT GLORY we become ONE not only with one another, but ONE WITH HIM. Where you enter in to the manifestation of Christ in us, the HOPE of GLORY. v. 23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.

This IS what is emerging in the earth today: a forging of ONENESS that has nothing to do with EGO, Doctrine, ministry work, etc., in fact it will cost you your ministry, your ego, your independence. You will have to lay down your opinions and choose to sit IN THE CLOUD THAT COMES and be TAUGHT TOGETHER OF HIM, to be brought into UNION first with your yoke fellow, your fellow bond servant, who ever he might be. Your fellow sojourners won't be likely who you would choose in the natural. But you will gain THE GLORY! You will gain a lateral "Oneness" with your yoke fellow and at last the ONENESS of CHRIST IN YOU beyond what you could ever ask or hope. Then you will go from personal blessing, to common vision, to mutual work and ministry but the only thing you will have any thought for is the cloud of God's presence, the satisfaction of that hunger, getting back to the cloud, staying under the cloud wherever it may lead.

Birthing!

Doug Fortune

I have read quite a lot recently concerning BIRTHING... I believe that what God is birthing into the earth is the New Creation Man of Gal.6:15, the Man-Child of Rev. 12:5, the Perfect Man of Eph. 4:13, the fulfilment of Gen. 1:27... man in the IMAGE and LIKENESS of God! I don't know that the following individuals quoted would or would not have the exact same conclusion that I have concerning just WHAT is being birthed, but I found these words edifying. I offer the following excerpts from recent prophecies for your edification and discernment.

keep listening for His voice!

trumpet call apostolic / prophetic bulletin

Look at the Christ in ALL, and all the Christ that is IN YOU will have covenant with the Christ in ALL!

p.s. if you find these bulletins edifying, please forward them to your friends... if not, please tell me and i will promptly remove you from the list.

BIRTH OF THE MAN-CHILD

given through Doug Fortune

Is not the 'woman' ready to give birth to the 'Man-child' even now? For she is clothed with the sun and I have placed the crown of Apostolic order upon her 'head', and her travail is turning to proclamation... all of creation groans in travail with the woman that the manifestation of her 'Seed' come forth quickly. Indeed, this One, this 'Man-child', this 'perfect Man' of many members SHALL rule the nations as I have purposed and according to My promise. For he shall be joined unto Me, I in him and he in Me, and he shall issue forth judgment as I command... for he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes or the hearing of his ears, but with righteousness shall he judge as My seat of authority, My throne. As he has borne the image of the man of dust, even so shall he bear My image as mortality puts immortality and death is swallowed up of life. I shall clothe this many-membered 'Man-child' with My glory and My nature and kings shall come to the brightness of his rising. Yes, nations shall come to the 'Man- Christ' and submit themselves as the kingdoms of this world are become the kingdom of the Lord and HIS CHRIST.

Know that I have prepared a place of provision under the shadow of My wing for the ‘woman’, and though nations fall and darkness covers the earth, the ‘woman’, My church shall know My protection and provision and the suffering she bears shall only serve to strengthen her. Know also that as the devil is cast into the earth that those who are ‘of the earth’ shall have no power against him... woe unto the inhabitants ‘of the earth’! But for those who are ‘born of heaven’, the surrounding darkness of the earth shall only serve to magnify their brightness in the earth, for they have overcome him by the blood of the Lamb, the word of their proclamation, and the death of their ‘life of the flesh’.

Look to the many-membered ‘Man-child’ and decree his coming forth in prophetic proclamation, for the dragon is poised even now desiring to devour him with pride, but know that My hand of protection is upon him in your proclamation. Yes, he shall humble himself under My mighty hand and I shall exalt him in Kingdom authority to rule the nations. Know that the time of manifestation of the ‘Man-child’ is come, and speak forth My purposes over him that he be joined in oneness with Me, ‘caught up’ as it were into Me and My throne that My resurrection power flow through him to the nations.

The night is far spent, weeping and travail has endured but joy comes with the morning as the ‘woman’ is clothed with the sun, for the great and terrible ‘Day of the Lord’ is at hand. Rejoice and sing, O Zion, for the redemption that all creation has groaned for is nigh... indeed, the ‘woman’ SHALL, through Apostolic order bring forth the ‘Man’, the fullness of the stature of Christ, and the kingdoms of this world SHALL be the Kingdom of the Lord and HIS CHRIST, the ‘Man-child’.

Blood Of The Martyrs

Jeff Hammond

Friday Fax 2000 issue 40, 6 September

Indonesia: is the blood of the martyrs again the seed of the church?

Pastor Benyamin Munthe from the G.K.I.I.-Church in Medan, Indonesia, is obviously on the death list - and God has protected him many times. Two months ago, a bomb exploded in his church, but nobody was hurt. Last month, they heard something scratch the car during a brief stop. They discovered that a bomb had been magnetically attached to the roof. They were able to remove it, and throw it in a river, where it exploded shortly afterwards. On Sunday September 17, two men rode up on motorcycles and started shooting at the car. They shot the driver, Kalep Situmorang, and then started firing at Pastor Munthe. He and his family called on the name of Jesus, and the attackers' guns jammed. A few months ago, Pastor Munthe's church held a large 'City Taking' seminar with around 2,000 pastors from 40 denominations. Kalep recently watched George Otis' well-known "Transformation" video, which has been seen by some 35 million people so far.

One report in the video is of Pastor Julio Ruibal, who was martyred for his evangelistic efforts in Cali, Colombia. Shortly after his murder, a revival started in the city (we reported). Another report in the video tells of Pastor Mariano from Almolonga, Guatemala, who survived a murder attempt when a pistol forced into his mouth jammed. "After seeing the video, Kalep remarked that the price for unity and revival among the Christians in a city is high, but that he would be prepared to pay it, if revival would follow!" reports a friend. "That has now happened. Kalep died. We now pray that the price has not been paid for nothing, and that a revival will start in Medan," says Jeff Hammond, who sent the report.

Blueprints Of God

Joni Ames

Do Not Tamper With The Blueprints Of God"

To those of you to whom God has given an idea, vision, plan or dream...Stand! Know that what He has told you WILL come to pass! If He speaks to go forth, do so without question. But it is very key that you "do not tamper with the blueprints." Habakkuk 2:3 is for you. "... it will speak and it will not lie. Though it tarries, wait for it; because it will surely come and it will not tarry."

I saw a set of blueprints on a table. It was magnificent. It was as if in a "war room." Many were around the table. The shade of the blue paper the plans were on was magnificent, and the details specific and bold. There was great excitement! However, the more the people surrounding it haggled and explained over the vision, the more the color and the clear definitions on the blueprints diminished, as did the excitement of the people. Eventually, the plans AND people disappeared. I felt this was the interpretation....

The visions, ideas, plans and dreams of the Lord have spirit and life before they are ever shaped by our words. While the Word tells us to "write the vision that they may run who reads it," (Habakkuk 2:3), we must be sure when "writing the vision" that we maintain the original spirit of the ideas of God. We must not permit our own interpretation or definitions to take root in and become part of the life of the original, pure version, unless the Lord Himself has specifically spoken that something be added to the original form. (i.e., as in times when the Lord Himself brings forth a magnified, more detailed version.)

Some of our words add to and promote the plans of God that He reveals to us. Others can bring such confusion that it will completely distort, change and dilute the original version. Such action brings about the "paralysis of analysis" to such a degree that we "dissect" it to DEATH. Thus, in "sharing" the vision, we must be cautious to not so clothe that dream/vision with the use of our words that we cramp, limit, distort or kill it.

Sometimes the mere "feelings" surrounding the vision or dream can better define it than the use of words possibly can. In studying the Bible, for instance, there are "original" definitions to the Greek and Hebrew words used that are better defined by studying the customs and beliefs of the day surrounding the use of the word, rather than the mere use of current day words.

In much the same way, we must not allow that which seems to us to be "the way" in which God will accomplish the fulfillment of it to distort or kill what God has spoken. If God said it, that should be the final word. After all, we want the Isaac, not the Ishmael! The explanation and walking out of God's promises to us needs to be done in the realms of the leading and direction of the Holy Spirit, and in His timing.

When a God-given idea or vision is empowered by the direction and supervision of the Holy Spirit, it is sometimes brought to rapid maturity. Yet when confined by mere words with the opinions, definitions, expectations and supposed realities of man, instant death can be brought to it.

On the other hand, just as fine wine is fermented and flourishes with age, sometimes the ideas of God must be allowed to do the same. When the message of the cross was beginning to be brought forth, Peter took out his sword and cut off one of the soldiers' ears. The situation looked worse as it "aged." The following days seemingly brought forth death and burial of the dream. What a MESS! How could this "mess" possibly be part of the plans of God? However, allowing the "mess" to "age" just one more day brought forth the greatest MESSAGE of all time! Truly, His ways and thoughts are SO much higher than ours!!

In any case, we must maintain an attitude and provide an atmosphere whereby the ideas of God that He gives to us can flourish and abound, not become diminished and destroyed. It's not about us, it's about HIM. Let's not limit Him with our own ideas and words. Allowing the creativity of the Holy Spirit to bring forth what is shown to us by allowing Him to use His Own methods will bear much ETERNAL fruit! - And we won't have to go through a bunch of Ishmaels (fruits of our fleshly doings) to get to our Isaacs (the fruits of God)!!!

Buddhist Monk Raised From The Dead

Friday Fax

Friday Fax 2000 issue 9, 3 March

Myanmar: Buddhist monk raised from the dead - 300 monks turn to Jesus

"In 1998, a Buddhist monk died. A few days later, his funeral was held, at which he was to be cremated. From the smell, it was obvious that his body had already started to decompose - he was very clearly dead!" according to the report from missions agency Asian Minorities Outreach. "We have attempted to verify this report which reached us from a number of sources, and are now convinced that it is accurate," they write. "Hundreds of monks and relatives of the dead man attended the funeral. Just as the body was about to be burned, the dead monk suddenly sat up, shouting 'It's all a lie! I saw our ancestors burning and being tortured in some sort of fire. I also saw Buddha and many other Buddhist holy men. They were all in a sea of fire!' 'We must listen to the Christians,' he continued emphatically, 'they're the only ones who know the truth!'"

The events shocked the whole region. Over 300 monks became Christians and started to study the Bible. The resurrected man continued to warn everyone to believe in Jesus, because he is the only true God. Tapes of the monk's report were distributed throughout Myanmar. The Buddhist hierarchy and the government were soon alarmed, and they arrested the monk. He has not been seen since, and it is feared that he was killed to keep him silent. It is now a serious crime to listen to the tapes, because the government wants to dampen the sensation."

Birthing of an Army Part II

Maria Magruder-Taylor

2nd Kings 19:3 "...this is a day of trouble, and rebuke, and blasphemy; for the children have come to birth, but there is no strength to bring them forth."

Birth in this verse in the Hebrew means: "to break forth"

Hezekiah's name means "strength", so why is there no "strength" to bring forth this birthing? If we look back into the 18th chapter we see it's a spirit of Rabshakeh that has brought in false prophecy, doubt and unbelief. Rabshakeh speaks death over Jerusalem, and causing them to doubt God and His deliverance for His people.

18:29 Rabshakeh says, "Do not let Hezekiah deceive you, for he shall not be able to deliver you from his hand; nor let Hezekiah make you trust in the Lord, saying, "The Lord will surely deliver us; this city shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria."

The name Rabshakeh means: to quiver with violent emotion, especially anger and fear, be afraid, fret, provoke, quake, rage, shake, tremble, trouble, be wroth! Its no wonder Rabby instilled fear in the people! Telling them that God will not deliver them!

Since I posted "Birthing of an Army Part I" I have received more than one email of women across America having the same dream. In this dream these women are very pregnant, like gonna burst pregnant! So the hour has come for these women to give birth and they go to the doctor to have their baby delivered, and the doctor looks at them and says, "go home, you are not pregnant!" And the women go home in disbelief in what the doctor just said, and end up delivering at home.

Doctor in the Hebrew means "instructor" or "teacher" so I believe this is a wake up call to the church and its leaders to be prepared for what God is about to do with many of His women. Will you help these women deliver? Or will you send them home with no support as many have already experienced? A true leader is to SERVE AND EQUIP God's people, no matter what the gender, since there is no Greek, Jew, nor male or female in God's Kingdom.

There are many of you women out there who have been struggling with the call of God on your life, and even the promises God has made to you. You have been pregnant with the Word of God in you, but because you have not seen the hand of God with your natural eyes you have begun to doubt what you have heard from the heavens. You have allowed that spirit of Rabshakeh to deceive you in thinking “it must of all been in my head” or “how can God deliver me from my circumstances?”, or “other people are more anointed than I” you have become discouraged and heavy hearted in the things of God. You have cried out to see the hand of God move in your life. And again I hear the Lord saying, “I AM YOUR DELIVERER”. For your God has not forsaken you, nor has He left you. For He has called you by name, You are His! (Isaiah 43) When you pass through the waters, He is with you, and through the rivers, they will not over sweep you, and as you walk through the FIRE, (and YOU WILL walk through the FIRE), you shall not be burned, nor shall the flame scorch you! Fear not for the Lord your Savior, your DELIVERER is with you!

The enemy loves to snuff out “deliverers” that have been appointed by God, as he tried to snuff out Moses and Jesus. The enemy would love to “snuff” out the call of God on your life and deceive you into thinking the call of God is not real on your life. He comes to steal, kill and destroy, especially the call of God on you! Many of you are called to be deliverers, even as Deborah was a deliverer for a whole nation, so God is going to raise up deliverers in this last hour for His people. He is birthing an army and He is recruiting all tribes, and all genders, He is looking for a bride without spot or wrinkle, to ride with Him.

BIRTHING OF AN ARMY

Maria Magruder-Taylor

Micah 4:9

The Lord says, “Why do you cry aloud? Is there no king in your midst? Has your counselor perished? For pangs have seized you like a woman in labor.”

There is a birthing happening in the body of Christ. This birthing is a birthing that is happening among God’s women. For those of you who have been laboring, God is about to deliver!

You O woman, who have been waiting, you have been waiting to see God’s hand move. You have been waiting to see the Word of God come to pass in your life. You have been in labor. You have wept and wept. You have searched for the Lord your God and could not find Him. You felt abandoned by Him, yet He has been with you as He was with Joseph in his darkest hour. You have waited for so long, some of you years, some months, you have waited to the point of death. You said, “Oh, God! I cannot bear to carry this word, this seed in which you have planted in me!” “Oh, God help me deliver, help me wait to see this Word come to pass!” You have cried, “Where is the God of Elisha!” Your God, says, “this is the hour of delivery. This is your hour my daughters.”

As Sarah and Abraham had to wait for their seed to be conceived, they had Ishmael. Sarah doubted in my Word, and took things into her own hands, and the result was Ishmael. I still blessed Ishmael and made him into a Great nation, but it was not without conflict my daughters. There have been those of you who have questioned the “conflict” in your own lives, and it is because you have not waited for my BEST that I have for you, but I tell you now the WAIT IS OVER! The best is upon you! Your Isaac shall be birthed! For I am a faithful God, and I am not a liar. Every word I have spoken unto you SHALL COME TO PASS IN THIS LAST HOUR. I will deliver you!

Vs. 10 Be in pain, and labor to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in birth pangs. For now you shall go forth from the city, You shall dwell in the field, And to Babylon you shall go. There you shall be delivered; There the Lord will redeem you From the hand of your enemies.

The enemy has tried to take many of you out, as he tried to do with baby Moses and even Jesus! The enemy has pressed you on every side even to the point you have wanted to die! But you have called on the Lord your God, and He will deliver you! He is your protector and deliverer!

Vs 11 Many nations have gathered against you, held you down, pushed you down, who say “Let her be defiled” But they do not know the thoughts of the Lord! Nor do they understand His counsel; For He will gather them like sheaves to the threshing floor. So.....

Arise and thresh, O daughters of Zion; For I will make your strength as iron!

Micah 5:1 Now gather yourself in troops O daughter of troops, for you are a Great part of the Army of God. For I am doing a New Thing, and I am birthing an Army for My Kingdom, that eye has not seen nor ear has heard of. Arise my daughters! Arise!

Bobsledding

Mary (Koons) Wattenford

Last night in the Spirit the Lord showed me a "bobsled," with a "team" of individuals riding in it. Although in international competition a regular bobsled team will comprise four individuals, I saw five individuals on the sled I was shown, as it careened downhill at a tremendous speed. The Lord impressed upon me HOW important it was in these races for EACH TEAM MEMBER to be "working in complete unison," as they traversed the steep, slick sides of the track. Any fluctuations" by ANY member of the team in their reaction to the track will result in either the sled loosing precious split seconds of speed, or can even result in the sled overcompensating and leaving the track. The bobsled I was shown was going around one curve that had an extremely sharp embankment and as I watched, the Lord impressed upon me the "UNISON" of the motions of the team. Each member of a bobsledding team MUST function as a "faceless" member of the team - NOT as an individual.

Today I researched bobsled racing, my only "previous" familiarity with it being from those infrequent Olympic telecasts. What I found from the Encarta Encyclopedia was "very interesting," in conjunction with what the Lord showed me last night. The start-ups in bobsledding racing are critical. Teams focus on "explosive starts," because the sled's speed will be affected for the rest of the race by how well the "team," has BEGUN THE RACE. All members of the team must give their "all" to give the sled the greatest chance of victory at the end of the race. Any slipping, any faltering - any member of the team loosing his concentration - will result in precious moments lost. The members of the team will run for about 164 feet, before leaping into the sled just before it reaches the first turn. They will all assume the mostm "streamlined" positions possible for the rest of the race. The driver - in the first position steers the sled, while the brakeman is in the rear, and will brake the sled to a stop when the race is completed. In between them, is the rest of the team - there to add "ballast," [steadying] to the sled. These members are the "most" important at the start of the race. ALL members will "shift" their weight as they careen around the curves to reach the greatest possible advantage of speed. The greatest challenge to the team will be to maintain a "tight line" on these curves - not allowing the sled to over or under compensate on the icy surfaces. On the curves the team can experience pressure four times that of normal gravity. Bobsledders wear spiked shoes, skintight uniforms and gloves to make them more aerodynamic, helmets are required and the driver must wear goggles.

INTERPRETATION:

THE TEAM WORKING IN UNISON - I believe means "team ministry," working in SUCH UNISON and UNITY OF THE SPIRIT together that NONE of the members try to "over or under compensate" for the race ahead of them. NONE will try to "exploit" their own position, but work together - as a group of "faceless" individuals - held in position by the desire to COMPLETE THE COURSE BEFORE THEM. ANY arbitrary movement by any of the "team" individuals will, most likely, have catastrophic results.

RACE START-UPS - The "critical" nature of bobsled "starts," I feel means that we too - as a member of a "ministry team," - MUST be willing to lay down ANY thought of "OUR ministry," but give our all to "help the team....." - give up ANY thought of "self" to reach the "common goal" - the finish line. An "explosive start," - even one given by the Holy Spirit, does not necessarily mean that any "ministry team" will complete the race....for the REST of the race will be affected by how well that "team" moves TOGETHER - AS A TEAM!

Streamlined Positions - Members of the team must be "streamlined," - flowing together with NO excess weight or baggage to slow them down. If even one member of the team should over exceed or overextend "his position" in the sled - the entire team would suffer loss.

Team positions in the sled during the race - The driver is in the front at the steering wheel. The other team members are behind him - with the brakeman at the rear. Since I saw FIVE "team members" on the sled - I believe this is representative of the five-fold ministry. The "apostle" is the driver of the vehicle who "steers" and leads the other riders through the dangerous curves and slippery spots. The other team members - prophet, evangelist and pastor must ride behind the apostle - although they are JUST AS IMPORTANT TO THE TEAM VICTORY AS THEIR DRIVER.

These members are there to add "ballast," - to keep the ministry "steady" and ON TRACK. In the start-up of ANY team ministry these three offices would be the MOST important. The prophet - to bring the "word(s) or oracles of God," to the ministry. The evangelist to "exhort the unsaved to come to the Cross for salvation" and the pastor to "shepherd the flock" that has responded to the invitation given by the evangelist. The brakeman would represent the "teacher," of the five-fold ministry who would "apply" the brakes to stop ANY race where non Biblical truths are being taught by ANY of the members in front. The "teacher" and the "apostle" as well as ALL members of the five-fold team must be ready to respond with lightening speed in ANY GIVEN SITUATION - as a "unit," and again, NOT INDIVIDUALLY. All must be able to depend on the others - able to "lean," on them when a sharp dangerous curve appears ahead. ALL must know the "maker of the sled," which represents Christ - the "maker of all things," and be willing to undertake ANY COURSE - TRAVERSE ANY CURVE - for the sake of HIS GOSPEL. A "tight line" must be maintained by all riders - one of solid foundational teaching; because any other teaching will cause the sled occupants to "go over the edge," and not finish the course set before them. During the trip down the course - "extreme pressure" can be expected!

Clothing of the Team - Spiked shoes are required to "dig in," and get a grip on the slippery terrain the team must traverse; to face their opponents with "firm footed stability." Skintight uniforms and gloves represent a covering" of "saving faith," that no "dart of the enemy" can penetrate. Helmets must be worn by all team members and is the "helmet of salvation..." Goggles - are worn by the driver to protect the apostles eyes from the "glare of the elements," to give him "greater vision and clarity," and I believe ALSO represents the apostolic anointing of the "Upper Room," given by the Holy Spirit to "comfort and protect" the rest of the team and give them confidence in their "driver."

Finally - the Lord asked me if I remembered the "Jamaican bobsledding team..." - which I did; although I only remembered that at some time there had been one. He reminded me how the other teams - teams from Northern ice packed countries - had ridiculed and mocked the Jamaican's when the team first appeared. From the Encarta Encyclopedia I learned that the Jamaican team first ran in the 1988 Winter Olympics in Calgary, Alberta in Canada. Although ridiculed by their "contemporaries," the crowds LOVED THEM - and the Jamaican's would eventually still even their most "ardent hecklers," when they did so well they made the final heat of the event - the medal race!

And His gifts were [varied: He Himself appointed and gave men to us,] some to be apostles (special messengers), some prophets (inspired preachers and expounders), some evangelist (preachers of the Gospel, traveling missionaries), some pastors (shepherds of His flock), and teachers.

His intention was the perfecting and the full equipping of the saints (His consecrated people), [that they should do] the work of ministering toward building up Christ's body (the church).

Ephesians 4:11-12

Stand therefore - hold your ground - having tightened the belt of truth around your loins, and having put on the breastplate of integrity and of moral rectitude and right standing with God;

And having shod your feet in preparation [to face the enemy with the firm footed stability, the promptness and the readiness produced by the good news] of the Gospel of peace.

Lift up over all the (covering) shield of saving faith, upon which you can quench the flaming missiles of the wicked [one].

And take the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit wields, which is the Word of God.

Boundaries Disappearing

Debby Spruill

Prophetic Words through Debby Spruill <BSPRUILL@kc.rr.com> Given to her at the IHOP (International House of Prayer in Kansas City) while attending the Women and the Prophetic Conference April 8, 2000

I was very distracted while I was waiting on the Lord at the IHOP. I kept wanting to go run my fingers around the box drawn around the 10-40 Window on the wall map of the world, as if to erase it. But, being the shy, quiet person that I usually am, I didn't do that. I just sat there wishing I could do that.

However, the second word came on me quickly following the first one. I knew it had to do with the map. Suddenly, I began, in my own inartistic way, to sketch the map of Asia and East Africa on another napkin. I remembered a word and vision that the Lord gave me before -- last year, I think. This was before I even knew what the "10-40 Window" was. I just saw a blurb about it in our church bulletin, and started getting the vision and the word. I saw a pantomime happening of "The Box."

Someone is stuck in a box and can't get out. The person pushes against every side of the box unsuccessfully, while trying to escape. God basically let me know He was removing the box, and that the people were going to be set free. Then the new word began: " 'The box' is decreasing in size. It is turning into steadily decreasing circles -- concentric circles, each smaller than the previous one. The boundaries that have held My people from Me are disappearing. The box that the enemy meant to keep My people captive is no longer effective. I have given him notice that I am coming for My people, and that he will let them go.

His time is short. Do not be surprised by his tactics. He is a roaring lion seeking whom he may devour, but he will not be able to do so for much longer, for I am coming to set 'the captives of the box' free. For they shall 'know Me,' and I shall be their God, and no weapon formed shall stop Me, for they are My chosen ones. Let no one step between Me and My beloved. (Said to the enemy) I am sounding the battle cry to the enemy! Do not get in My way! I am coming for My unreached loved ones. Do not get in My way! My laborers are coming! They are My precious ones that I am sending. Do not touch them, for they are ready, ready to shoot you down. They are coming to pick the fruit from the trees, which are bent low under the weight. The fruit is so ripe. The harvest is here!

Even now, the fruit is turning to the true ripeness of My harvest, (white for harvest). Do not harm My children, for I will cast you down!" [Background on trees -- I saw the trees in a picture in November 1999. In this picture, there were thousands of trees, like in rows and groves lined clear to the horizon and beyond, all bent under heavy loads of fruit. There were so many trees and so much fruit, it was almost overwhelming. The message was to be ready to pick the fruit before it hit the ground and got bruised].

"For I would that you would be a reflection of My image to the world. For I am pouring out My Spirit unto mankind and womankind even now. Do not turn to the right or to the left. Stay right where you are and receive what I am giving you, for I am 'honing' you into the image of My Son.

I am turning your image into My reflection upon the water. It will be My image that others see when they look at you. In the mirror, you will now begin to see Me. You will no longer be able to say, 'No, I can't! I am not worthy!' For I am giving you My image for all to see.

I am establishing you this day for all the world to see that you are My child, My creation, and worthy of value in My kingdom. Let no one say to you that you cannot come to My throne room for you may approach Me at any time. I am giving you the keys to the kingdom, when you ask in My name, and so My Father will give to those who ask of Him, through the Son." (Then I saw an hourglass. -- Most of the sand was in the bottom).

"Be aware that My time is short, so ask, and ask specifically, and expect things to happen. Do not say, 'That could never happen,' for I am the God of the impossible. I will make a way where there seems not to be one. I would do it for you whenever you ask. I am coming to bless My children. Only accept what I am offering to you. Reach out and take it, and hold it in your heart that My Holy Spirit can make it life to you. I long to give you so much; just accept that My blessing, yes, even miracles, can be for you." (Then I saw a road or highway).

"There will be choices of roads offered to you. Which road should you pick? Ask of Me, and I will answer you. You will know the road to take long before you get to it." (Then I saw a single diamond, with no adornment).

"For you are a precious jewel in my sight, oh daughter. I have grown you and molded you into the 'beauty' of My kingdom. Yes, you are beautiful to Me, My love; you are precious in My sight."

Bombshells

Ching Co

"BOMBSHELLS ARE ABOUT TO EXPLODE"

October 17, 2000

Some days ago, I felt these words drop in my heart-- "bombshells are about to explode". I sat on this as I received nothing else.

Watching events unfolding in my own country and events taking place around the world, it looks like we are under heavy attack from all points. Added to that are our own pressures that we face day by day.

Yet in the midst of all these

1. What is God doing?
2. What are we supposed to do?

I asked the Lord the same question and have waited for His answers.

WHAT ARE WE SUPPOSED TO DO?

All of us who know the Lord already know what we are supposed to do. Psalm 91 gives us the answer and many of us know this by heart. However, there is always a big gap between knowing it and living it out. I am struggling to find that place and need a lot of the Father's help.

WHAT IS GOD DOING?

God is at work in the nations. All these bombshells being dropped in our midst are symbolic of the activities also taking place in the heavenlies.

From our side here, it may look like that we are losing ground. . . . but from the heavenly perspective, God is moving forward putting in place all that needs to be done for His plans and purposes to be unveiled.

DANGER ZONE

I felt the Lord impressing to me certain areas that we need to guard against during this season.

First, don't be dictated to by your feelings. Many of God's children-- because of the long drawn battle that they've been in-- are feeling tired and yes, some are surprised that they don't feel like talking much these days. Also, desire and zeal seem to have diminished too. These are not the same as loss of anointing.

Second, keep your focus on God and refrain from jumping to conclusions about anything. This might call for more time listening and less time talking. God is fighting the battle for us and it will be wise and prudent to be silent when we are not sure and certain about certain matters. God wants us to "leave matters in His hands."

JERICOHO

In so many ways, this is another "Jericho season" for God's people. The walls are about to fall FOR GOD IS FIGHTING THE BATTLES FOR US.

THE PROMISE

"But now listen, O Jacob, my servant, Israel, whom I have chosen. This is what the Lord says - He who made you, who formed you in the womb, and who will help you: Do not be afraid, O Jacob, my servant, Jeshurun, whom I have chosen. For I will pour water on the thirsty land, and streams on the dry ground; I will pour out my Spirit on your offspring, and my blessings on your descendants. They will spring up like grass in a meadow, like poplar trees by flowing streams." (Isaiah 44:1-4)

"Do not tremble, do not be afraid. Did I not proclaim this and foretell it long ago? You are my witnesses. Is there any God besides me? No, there is no other Rock; I know not one." (Isaiah 44:8)

"Sing for joy, O heavens, for the Lord has done this; shout aloud, O earth beneath. Burst into song, you mountains, you forests and all your trees, for the Lord has redeemed Jacob, he displays his glory in Israel." (Isaiah 44:23)

"I will go before you and will level the mountains, I will break down gates of bronze and cut through bars of iron. I will give you the treasures of darkness, riches stored in secret places, so that you may know that I am the Lord, the God of Israel, who summons you by name." (Isaiah 45:2-3)

PRAYER

" Father, we come to Your throne this day and we say 'Teach us Your ways and let it be done to us and the nations according to Your will.' Amen!"

Do your best to present yourself to God as one approved, a workman who does not need to be ashamed and who correctly handles the word of truth. 2 Timothy 2:15

Preach the Word; be prepared in season and out of season; correct, rebuke and encourage--with great patience and careful instruction. II. Tim. 4:2

Now, brothers, I have applied these things to myself and Apollos for your benefit, so that you may learn from us the meaning of the saying, "Do not go beyond what is written." Then you will not take pride in one man over against another.

For who makes you different from anyone else? What do you have that you did not receive? And if you did receive it, why do you boast as though you did not? I Co. 4:6-7

The Lord said to me: "Study to show yourself approved. In a house there are many books, and not all of them are good. "

(I saw a young man who was reaching for a book in a bookshelf, and he took one of these books out of the bookcase and looked at it. It had a very ornate cover of gold flourishing and designs, and was seemingly very beautiful. He then placed the book back on the shelf where he had found it.)

The Lord then said, "Put them all back into their proper places."

"Many of the books in a library may have their reasons and purposes; they may be helpful in one way or another, but nothing compares to my everlasting word. Do not seek to know more than is in my word. My word has all that is necessary for living a FULL LIFE. Many have gone astray by following after things beyond what is stated in my word. My word is to be used as a measuring rod. While it is true that my Spirit gives forth messages; they must be substantiated by my word. So when a word or a message comes forth, then judge it by my word and the Spirit by which it speaks. "

"In the same way that there are many different types of books, so there are many different kinds of messages from Me. Some are very hard-edged, some are poetic and beautiful, and others unveil things that have been behind a curtain. It has been said to 'Not judge a book by its cover,' and truly, this is so. And you are not to judge by appearances, but I have called you to judge the words that come forth. For just as every book is not good to read, so there are words that do not "build-up" and are NOT from Me. So let every book and every word have its place. Then will my library be filled with a balanced selection. Then you will know what to read and what not to read."

Stephen Hanson

*(If you would like to consider a monthly donation to this ministry, it would be greatly appreciated, but not necessary. Please feel free to pass these messages onto friends or others in the faith. Let me know if in anyway it has blessed, or brought forth "new life" in Him. Any questions may be directed to me. Thank you.)

Thank you,

Bootcamp

Gloria Shepherd

May 7, 2000:

My children, I have you in training for what is ahead, you are now in a spiritual bootcamp. And just as a marine bootcamp is hard, so is spiritual bootcamp for my warriors, because you are being trained to be aware of the enemy, and of things which you have not seen until just now. So do not think that you are going through all this for nothing. I am training you, to be my warriors, even more now than before....like an elite bootcamp for those who will lead the front lines for the others.

So know this, that this special forces will be like no other, trained by me, for the times ahead. So do not cry about how much you have to go through, for there is a reason for everything which I have brought you through, and will bring you through yet. This is like special training for the elite forces, that will be able to detect the enemy from every level and way in which he tries to come in at the family of God. They will be used to warn the body of Christ, of the dangers, to the left and to the right of them, because they will see with special Holy Spirit eyes, what the enemy is doing in the ranks, and wherever he is coming from, they will see him coming, even if he may appear to be invisible, these special troops will see with eyes, as likened unto laser eyes in the physical, they will see all things the enemy will try to do the body of Christ, in these coming days.

But first, I say to you, my children, those who have ears to hear this word, that this is time of learning to see and to discern all things in the spiritual, like never before. So the things you may have to go through and into, may appear to be the hardest of all things you have had to endure up to now, do not give in, nor give up, for there is a purpose and a reason, why I have taken you into the trenches of the enemy now, to teach you things you did not see before. Ask me to show you everything, as you go through to the other side, so you may learn to discern these things and understand all the tricks of the enemy, the game plan and all. Remember that the enemy does not want you to succeed in this endeavor and he is fighting tooth and nail to bring you down in this exercise of faith to go through the testing fires. Do not give up nor be disheartened, but ask me to strengthen you like steel to be able to pass through these fires now upon you.

Born Of God

Mike Forest

"For whatsoever is born of God overcomes the world: and this is the victory that overcomes the world, even our faith." (1 John 5:4).

Many Christians believe that overcoming is a matter of exercising more will power, making bigger and better resolutions, biting the bullet with self determination, and proclaiming "I will overcome."

The Christian must be made to see that he is a overcomer by his very nature. "Whatsoever is born of God overcomes the world." The question to overcoming is whether or not you are born of God. By virtue of the new birth we have been placed into Christ, and now Jesus Christ is living within us. It is the life of Christ within us that overcomes the world. So the secret of overcoming is to abide in Christ.

The cause of much failure in the Christian life is that we are living out of our soul, that is we are living out of our self life when we ought to be living out of our spirit, which is our new nature. Romans 7 is the picture of a man that is trying to live the Christian life by and through his will power. The self life is not sufficient to overcome the world, the flesh, and the devil. Only that which is born of God has the ability to overcome the world. We must always realize that "in my flesh there dwells no good thing." (Romans 7:18). God will allow us to continue to fail so that we can literally come to the end of ourselves and cry out to God, "O wretched man that I am, who shall deliver me from the body of this death?" (Rom. 7:24). God has to bring us to the point where we see that there is only One that has overcome in all things and that is the Lord Jesus Christ, and that Christ is now living His life in us. He is our victory. Overcoming will not be a struggle when we allow Christ to live His life in us and through us. "I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ lives in me: and the life I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave Himself for me." (Galatians 5:20).

Living the Christian life is living the life of Another. By the new birth the child of God has become a partaker of the divine nature. Jesus Christ has come to dwell within us to be the life of our life. By what life are we living by? The life of Christ is that life that is within the Christian that overcomes the world. It is a overcoming life, it is a victorious life. Jesus said that "I have come that you might have life, and that you might have it more abundantly." (John 10:10). That word life in the Greek is the word (Zoe). This is the very life of God. All those that believe in and into the Lord Jesus receive eternal life (zoe). They receive the very life of God into their innermost being.

"Walk in the Spirit and you shall not fulfill the lusts of the flesh." (Galatians 5:16). "The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus has made me free from the law of sin and death." (Romans 8:2).

Faith in Jesus Christ is the victory that overcomes the world. As long as we abide in the vine and allow His Word to dwell in us we will live a perpetual life of victory. The good news is that "sin shall not have dominion over you." (Romans 6:14). When we were in Adam, controlled and dominated by the life of the flesh, sin did indeed dominate us. But praise God that by the cross of Jesus Christ the old man has been crucified, and now we have become a new creation in Jesus Christ. In this new creation "Christ is all in all." He is everything to us.

God is calling us to be overcomers in all things, and as believers we can have total assurance that "Whatsoever is born of God overcomes the world."

"And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; and they loved not their lives unto the death." (Revelation 12:11).

Birth Pangs Upon the Earth

Rick Ridings

Oct. 18, 2000, Jerusalem, Israel

This new season is a time of birth pains coming upon the earth. Even though there will be moments of relief from the intensity, don't be fooled into thinking that the contractions you already felt were "false labor pains". Those moments of less intensity are the time to prepare for the next contraction. And the contractions will come closer together, and be more intense.

Even as a woman in labor needs a "focal point" upon which to concentrate to lessen the pain, and to cooperate with the contractions, this is the time where you must learn to keep your focus on the Lord Himself. Ministry to the Lord in worship, intercession and waiting upon Him will no longer be a "specialized area of ministry", or an option, but will become vital to even your very survival.

In this new birthing season, it will be important to discern those relationships which are His "joining" you with others for His end-time purposes. Do not cling to past relationships that He is directing you to release [not in terms of continued love, but in terms of labor together in ministry]. Guard those He is telling you to keep, but let go of those that He is saying to release to Him.

Some who will receive this prophetic word are called to one of His end-time purposes - the restoration of the Tabernacle of David, "tents" of 24-hour worship and intercession. Recognize that these are "tents" and not "temples". He must remain the Center, not allowing the vision to become a false center. Stay mobile for many will be called to be seeds sent to plant the vision in other places. In its time, this will be a rapid work, multiplying these "tents" of intercessory worship where "the flame never goes out day or night". These "tents" will be key to the breaking open of those nations and peoples who, until now, have been the most resistant to His Gospel.

Some who will receive this prophetic word are called to another of His end-time purposes - helping the Jewish people return to Israel. Some know in your hearts that you are called as part of an "underground railroad" in your nation to help hide and transport Jews in the coming days of rage against them. The current wave of anti-Semitic acts [tied to the Middle East crisis] are a first "birth pang" concerning that vision. During the moments between contractions, don't be fooled into thinking that they were only "false labor pains". The contractions [and anti-Semitic acts] will only increase in intensity and in frequency. Use those "breathing moments" between contractions to study how past "underground railroads" have worked. Learn from their wisdom. Learn from past examples such as Corrie ten Boom, both in terms of method and of heart. Ask the Lord to join you to others who are also called to this specific end-time purpose. Prepare the places of refuge and the plans of transportation to aid His people in coming home to Israel.

Some who will receive this prophetic word are called to another of His end-time purposes - the youth and children's army for revival. Don't copy old wineskins of youth and children's ministry. The new model will weave together worship, intercession, and evangelism in a depth and intensity that will astound many, but which will bring in the great Harvest. As His Spirit is poured out on this generation, He will do a quick and intense work. Don't interfere with His "pressure cooker", as He allows them to go through breaking and sanctifying processes that are more intense, and at a younger age than what you experienced. Some who will receive this prophetic word are called to another of His end-time purposes - the "Joseph ministry" of provision for what will happen. Don't be fooled or discouraged by recent events which have seemed to the contrary. God has been testing and preparing you to know that He alone is your source, and to be sure you will be able to faithfully steward and properly channel large sums of money according to His end-time purposes. Even as Joseph was tested, those who pass His tests will suddenly be called out of their "prisons" into the palace of major stewardship, requiring them to operate in divine wisdom. There will be new strategies released that will generate income while old strategies are falling with the economic shakings, which will also increase in intensity and frequency. Once again, do not be lulled back into sleep in between contractions. Lay aside lesser things to give yourself to the birthing of His end-time purposes. Use the moments between contractions to prepare for the next contraction. Use those moments to re-focus on Him. For He alone must become the main "focal point" of His Bride as she gives birth. Even as Mary (Myriam) gave birth to Jesus (Yeshua) before her wedding feast, so now His Bride on earth must give birth to His end-time purposes before the great and glorious wedding feast He is preparing for those who are faithful, and who overcome until the End.

Brace Yourself

BRACE YOURSELF! THE HAND OF THE LORD IS COMING DOWN UPON THE CHURCH! Bobby Conner March 2000

<http://bobbyconner.org/Article13.htm>

In a startling prophetic experience, the Lord said, " I have a message for the Church!" The message is - "Brace yourself! The hand of the Lord is coming down upon the Church." I said "Lord!" that sounds threatening, He replied "It is!"

THE HAND OF THE LORD

The hand of the Lord deals with His Divine Government. His hand will come down and commence to shake down everything He has not built. The hand of the Lord also speaks of the functioning fivefold ministry flowing together. The Word of God declares in Psalm 127:1 "Unless the LORD builds the house, they labor in vain who build it; unless the LORD guards the city, the watchman stays awake in vain." The writer of the book of Hebrews warns us concerning this upcoming shaking, in Hebrews 12:25-29 declaring See that you do not refuse Him who speaks. For if they did not escape who refused Him who spoke on earth, much more shall we not escape if we turn away from Him who speaks from heaven, whose voice then shook the earth; but now He has promised, saying, "Yet once more I shake not only the earth, but also heaven." Now this, "Yet once more," indicates the removal of those things that are being shaken, as of things that are made, that the things which cannot be shaken may remain. Therefore, since we are receiving a kingdom which cannot be shaken, let us have grace, by which we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear. For our God is a consuming fire.

God Is Going To Deal With Our Foundation

God will Demolish Man's Self-glorifying Efforts.

God is beginning to reveal and shake down every work that is not of HIM. The example of how He dealt with the tower of Babel is a warning for all who attempt to build a name for themselves. In Genesis 11:1-9 Now the whole earth had one language and one speech. And it came to pass, as they journeyed from the east, that they found a plain in the land of Shinar, and they dwelt there. Then they said to one another, "Come, let us make bricks and bake them thoroughly." They had brick for stone, and they had slime for mortar. And they said, "Come, let us build ourselves a city, and a tower whose top is in the heavens; let us make a name for ourselves, lest we be scattered abroad over the face of the whole earth." But the LORD came down to see the city and the tower which the sons of men had built. And the LORD said, "Indeed the people are one and they all have one language, and this is what they begin to do; now nothing that they propose to do will be withheld from them. "Come, let Us go down and there confuse their language, that they may not understand one another's speech." So the LORD scattered them abroad from there over the face of all the earth, and they ceased building the city. Therefore its name is called Babel, because there the LORD confused the language of all the earth; and from there the LORD scattered them abroad over the face of all the earth.

God is again destroying every effort of mankind to build a name for themselves and attempting to get to heaven without God. This coming judgment of God will deal with fruit as well as foundation. The Refiner's fire will only serve to purify and make more precious the true faith. (See Malachi 3:1-3)

The Tower of Babel was an ancient tower symbolizing man's pride and rebellion that was built during the period after the flood. The teachings are many for us in this display of God's disapproval of our efforts to seek a name and a place for ourselves apart from the Spirit of God. We must remember salvation is from the Lord, man can not work his way into the kingdom of God. (See Eph. 2:8-10) also (Titus 3:5-7).

Brick In The Place Of Stone- Bricks Speaks of the work of man.

The tower was constructed of brick, brick is always the type of man s labors and man s work. Man builds with brick because they are all formed alike, uniformity is not a substitute for true unity, however bricks are an inferior substitute for stone. (see Is. 9:10). No matter how big a tower we build it is nothing for God to shake down. To men the tower is a architectural monument Deut. 1:28, but to God it is so small that He must come down from heaven to catch a glimpse of this tiny endeavor. The construction of the tower and city is described as an act of self-glorification by the builders. Mankind continuously plays the role of a fool when he attempts to seek for his own protection, attempting to be his own salvation. It is a mistake to seek salvation and help from any source except God. See Proverbs 14:12, and Acts 4:12.

OUR FOUNDATION IS FUNDAMENTAL

Foundation is the strong, stable base on which a building is built. Jesus spoke very powerful about foundations in the Sermon on the Mount, teaching that believers should build their faith on the strong, solid foundation of obeying His Word. The apostle Paul also referred to Christ as a foundation for believers (See1 Cor. 3:11). The Prophet Isaiah reveals how precious and powerful Christ Jesus is in Isa 28:16 Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: "Behold, I lay in Zion a stone for a foundation, a tried stone, a precious cornerstone, a sure foundation; whoever believes will not act hastily.

In this vision I was told that we must examine the foundation to make sure it was solid. It is crucial that we have the correct foundation. Hear the warning of Jesus Christ spoken in Matthew 7:20-27 "Therefore by their fruits you will know them. "Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord,' shall enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of My Father in heaven. "Many will say to Me in that day, 'Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in Your name, cast out demons in Your name, and done many wonders in Your name?' "And then I will declare to them, 'I never knew you; depart from Me, you who practice lawlessness!' "Therefore whoever hears these sayings of Mine, and does them, I will liken him to a wise man who built his house on the rock: "and the rain descended, the floods came, and the winds blew and beat on that house; and it did not fall, for it was founded on the rock. "Now everyone who hears these sayings of Mine, and does not do them, will be like a foolish man who built his house on the sand: "and the rain descended, the floods came, and the winds blew and beat on that house; and it fell. And great was its fall."

Notice Jesus was inspecting the foundation not just the deeds being done. This is a strong warning, against just trusting in what one does as evidence that they are right with God.

EXAMINATION TIME

It is time for some very close investigation and examinations. Hear these instructions found in 2 Cor 13:5 "Examine yourselves as to whether you are in the faith. Test yourselves. Do you not know yourselves, that Jesus Christ is in you?-- unless indeed you are disqualified". It is time to ask the Spirit of God to turn on the search light and expose everything false and fake in our life.

The only sure foundation is the Word of God. Paul writes in 1 Cor 3:11-15 For no other foundation can anyone lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ. Now if anyone builds on this foundation with gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, straw, each one's work will become clear; for the Day will declare it, because it will be revealed by fire; and the fire will test each one's work, of what sort it is. If anyone's work which he has built on it endures, he will receive a reward. If anyone's work is burned, he will suffer loss; but he himself will be saved, yet so as through fire. The fire of God s judgment will only work the work of purifying if our foundation is correct and will only prove what we have built.

THE SURE SOLID FOUNDATION

Jesus Christ is the only true Cornerstone and Foundation. Ps 118:22-23 The stone which the builders rejected has become the chief cornerstone.

This was the LORD'S doing; it is marvelous in our eyes. We are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone; In whom all the building fitly framed together groweth unto an holy temple in the Lord: In whom ye also are builded together for an habitation of God through the Spirit.

THE FIVE-FOLD MINISTRY

This coming Government of God's hand will be the functioning five fold ministry spoken of in Paul's letter to the Church at Ephesus in Eph 4:11-14 And He Himself gave some to be apostles, some prophets, some evangelists, and some pastors and teachers, for the equipping of the saints for the work of ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ, till we all come to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to a perfect man, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ; that we should no longer be children, tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the trickery of men, in the cunning craftiness of deceitful plotting.

We are experiencing the unfolding of the promised five fold ministry. Thank God for how the Spirit of God is releasing understanding about the roles and responsibilities of these ministries. God is bringing about a team ministry that will prepare the Saints for the work of service. The Christian life was never intended to be something we observed someone else doing. It is time to be actively serving Jesus.

THE PROPER POSTURE AND POSITION

In response to the warning of "brace yourself" I questioned "Lord! How can we be ready for the hand of God?" He said only in the place of true humility. It is time to get honest and humble before the Lord. We have been brought to a place of real repentance. It is a broken and contrite heart that touches the heart of God. (See Psalms 51:17.

May God grant us the grace to fall upon the Rock in true humility. Asking God to prune us and cut away from our lives anything that would keep us from being fruitful for the Kingdom of God. We welcome this coming shaking in order to deal with any deception. Remember it is only on Christ the Solid Rock we can stand, all else is sinking sand. (Amen)

Glorious Bride

The Glorious Bride and the Release of Apostolic Authority

Barb Miron

I received this vision in installments on March 6-7, 2000, during revival meetings in Prince George, BC. Although I kept slipping in and out of the vision, it unfolded as a continuous whole. Therefore, I am recording it as a single vision.

I saw a young woman being beaten with thick wooden sticks. Her white dress was soiled and torn; she had bruises and bleeding wounds all over her body. Her feet were bare, and she had been stripped of a thick woolen cloak. I could not see the faces of her assailants, only eight or ten arms repeatedly striking her with these sticks.

Song of Solomon 5: 7 came to me as I was watching this:

The watchmen found me as they made their rounds in the city.

They beat me, they bruised me;

they took away my cloak,

those watchmen of the walls! (NIV)

Then I saw her running away from this attack. It was cold, and she did not have proper clothing or footwear. She was in great pain from the beating, but there was no one to minister to her wounds. She was looking for her Beloved to comfort her and help her, but remained alone. She was in terrible pain.

I could see a handsome man standing in the shadows out of her view. He was dressed in a white robe with gold trim. He watched her with deep concern, but remained hidden in the shadows. As the young woman ran looking for help, the desperation, longing and lovesickness in her heart intensified. When the longing and love in her reached a certain intensity, the man who had been watching her stepped out of the shadows and revealed Himself to her.

He began to console her and bind up her wounds. As He did this, her dress changed from ragged and dirty to new and clean. He put golden shoes on her feet and gave her a new cloak. The new cloak was not like the old woolen one; it was made of a plush burgundy-colored velvet, trimmed with fur. After her wounds healed, her face began to shine with a radiant glory.

Song of Solomon 6: 10 came to me:

Who is she who looks forth as the morning,

Fair as the sun,

Clear as the moon,

Awesome as an army with banners? (NKJV)

As I was watching this woman and her Beloved and watching her face glow with increasing radiance, I started to hear the words "full apostolic authority" over and over again. Intense power surges went through me every time I heard this. It was quite overpowering.

Then the vision increased in intensity. I saw Jesus riding on a white horse with a huge iron rod in His hands. He was now wearing a bright blue cloak. I could see people gathering together to resist Him, but they were so minute in size compared to Him. Psalms 2: 2-3 came to me:

The kings of the earth set themselves,
And the rulers take counsel together,
Against the Lord and against His Anointed, saying,
"Let us break Their bonds in pieces
And cast away Their cords from us."

These figures were gnashing their teeth in anger and forming alliances against Jesus, but they were completely dwarfed as He rode over their heads. They did not seem to be aware of how minuscule they were or of how powerful He was.

Then Jesus took the iron rod and passed it to His Bride, the glorious woman in the royal cloak. I could feel the iron rod in my hands, and my right arm began to make a striking motion, over and over. I could see Jesus and the royal Bride with their hands joined, leaping together in an exuberant victory dance. I heard the words "I am going to release full apostolic authority" repeatedly as I was watching this celebration. Every time I heard these words, I again felt the intense power surges going through my body.

Then I heard the words "I saw Satan fall like lightning from heaven" several times (Luke 10: 18). This came to me as a reassurance of how completely powerful our Bridegroom is. It struck me at that moment that the powers and principalities that seem so daunting to us are nothing to Him. He has already seen their boss fall. What a Bridegroom!

I also saw some huge teeth being shattered with the iron rod Jesus gave to the Bride. I kept seeing these teeth being smashed over and over. What came to me was Psalms 3: 7:

For you have struck all my enemies on the cheekbone;
You have broken the teeth of the ungodly (NKJV).

I do not consider myself to be apostolic. This vision seems to be a promise for the whole Body of Christ to take comfort in because we will all experience the benefits of victory over our enemies when the Lord releases full apostolic authority. As well, we can all help hasten the release of this authority by falling more passionately in love with our Bridegroom so that He can step out of the shadows and show us His face.

Bride Of Mercy And Grace

Linda Patterson

June 30, 2000

Vision

I saw a beautiful bride sitting on what appeared to be a footstool. A hand reached out to her and lifted her up. As she did the footstool turned liquid and seemed to flow out in the form of the earth. The bride began to walk across the nations. I saw an oily substance flowing from her fingertips. As it dripped off of her and touched the people they wept with joy as they had new sight.

Word For His Bride

You are My beautiful bride whom I adore. Mercy and grace are cupped within your hands. As you lift your arms to praise Me, I pour My strength into you. I blow upon you a refreshing wind of My presence. For you are My beloved. Called and chosen for this very hour.

My love and compassion flow through you like honey and oil, a sweet balm. To cover the broken, wounded and many who are bound. The naked, the lonely, the poor and oppressed shall reach out a hand to you. For they recognize the Saviour in the loving things you do.

A humble heart will know release and come to you with joy. Renewing, refreshing we give to them but oh so much more! As the cloak of mourning is lifted off, a new garment we freely give of peace, of love, of righteousness of eternal life to live.

Extend My hand of mercy & grace to a lost and dying world. For the time is short and soon the trumpet shall sound announcing My return.

Being Sober.

Bob Neumann

Dear Friends,

I am hesitant to write even now because of personal self-doubt. since Monday there has been a stirring in my spirit as I watch and listen to TV, the Media, and especially the INTERNET. so please weigh my words and place them in the BALANCE. I am grieved by the "scornful" words and "mocking" demeanor towards any thing pertaining to "the bug"....or the Y2K computer issue. some of the "media" correspondents in their interviews went clearly beyond humorous to sarcastically condescending. mocking ridicule is not the norm and my spirit grieves at this as THE WORD flows through my inner man.....

Jude 17-19

17 But, beloved, remember ye the words which were spoken before of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ;

18 How that they told you there should be mockers in the last time, who should walk after their own ungodly lusts.

19 These be they who separate themselves, sensual, having not the Spirit. (KJV)

When I went to Jude to read those verses I as usual I kept reading....

Jude 20-23

20 But ye, beloved, building up yourselves on your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Ghost,

21 Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life.

22 And of some have compassion, making a difference:

23 And others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire; hating even the garment spotted by the flesh. (KJV)

Funny how simple and clear THE WORD is....we strengthen our faith by our prayer in and Communion with HIS MOST HOLY SPIRIT which anchors us in HIS LOVE and HIS MERCY. only then can we find TRUE COMPASSION which allows us to move in intercession, supplication, evangelism, and Holiness. how else will we disperse the darkness and reflect HIS LIGHT to a dying world? how else can we counter the unholiness of our "self".

Y2K seems to have brought out the mockers and scorners in huge numbers. I wonder why? of all the sin, stupidity, and insanity thriving in the world today "why is this such a catalyst?" was the issue I could not lay at rest. the fact that everyone seemed to be shouting "peace and safety" did not help my unease. so I placed it all in prayer at the foot of THE THRONE. since then I have had a "stirring", not a WORD as might be anticipated. maybe my lack of faith precludes that for now. so I place these thoughts before all.

For a long time man has spoke of "A Bug". man also set a date and declared the timetable and level of events. call it prognostication at it's worst. and like most of what man does it failed. some people did have "words" to prepare because of this event. these I do not question or challenge. I certainly have had my share of HOLY PROMPTINGS and DIVINE LEADINGS in the last 4-5 years where GOD directed and HIS WORK got done....to the amazement of myself and others.

so when thinking of Y2K and the "BUG" we can picture a roach, a fly, or an ant and simply say....YUP, IT'S A BUG. true for one edge of the sword. but last week I had a "bug", too. a nasty little virus prevalent now in south Florida. so when I "got" an image of bacilli and cocci as seen through a microscope I had to step back and ponder....selah.....

For years we have heard of "computer virus" and seen what some could do. I had to accept the idea that maybe I had not the correct image for what is now occurring. phrases I have used suddenly changed as I viewed things from my spirit man. terms like "epidemic" and "pandemic", "latency", "vectors", "contagion", "virulence", "contamination", and "incubation" suddenly took a different meaning. as I prayed and meditated I realized that there was an aspect of all this in the "natural realm" as seen in the computer problems yet to come, and a "spiritual disease" we are seeing "symptoms" of all over the world but have yet to put together because we have failed to see it as a specific "disease syndrome". knowing we all see things in part, with this posting I am trying to do whatever I can.

THE WORD says we are to BE SOBER...and VIGILANT. To be WATCHFUL and to JUDGE all things by HIS SPIRIT and HIS WORD for THE KING HAS SAID HE IS COMING and HE EVEN QUESTIONED US ON WHETHER HE WOULD FIND FAITH UPON HIS RETURN. personally I need all the FAITH, GRACE, and MERCY I can get hold of.

So let me share the thoughts of two old friends who speak of mockers....be blessed old dog

Isaiah 28:21-29

*21 For the LORD shall rise up as in mount Perazim, he shall be wroth as in the valley of Gibeon, that he may do his work, his strange work; and bring to pass his act, his strange act.
22 Now therefore be ye not mockers, lest your bands be made strong: for I have heard from the Lord GOD of hosts a consumption, even determined upon the whole earth.
23 Give ye ear, and hear my voice; hearken, and hear my speech.
24 Doth the plowman plow all day to sow? doth he open and break the clods of his ground?
25 When he hath made plain the face thereof, doth he not cast abroad the fitches, and scatter the cummin, and cast in the principal wheat and the appointed barley and the rie in their place?
26 For his God doth instruct him to discretion, and doth teach him.
27 For the fitches are not threshed with a threshing instrument, neither is a cart wheel turned about upon the cummin; but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and the cummin with a rod.
28 Bread corn is bruised; because he will not ever be threshing it, nor break it with the wheel of his cart, nor bruise it with his horsemen.
29 This also cometh forth from the LORD of hosts, which is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in working. (KJV)*

Jeremiah 15:15-21

*15 O LORD, thou knowest: remember me, and visit me, and revenge me of my persecutors; take me not away in thy longsuffering: know that for thy sake I have suffered rebuke.
16 Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O LORD God of hosts.
17 I sat not in the assembly of the mockers, nor rejoiced; I sat alone because of thy hand: for thou hast filled me with indignation.
18 Why is my pain perpetual, and my wound incurable, which refuseth to be healed? wilt thou be altogether unto me as a liar, and as waters that fail?
19 Therefore thus saith the LORD, If thou return, then will I bring thee again, and thou shalt stand before me: and if thou take forth the precious from the vile, thou shalt be as my mouth: let them return unto thee; but return not thou unto them.
20 And I will make thee unto this people a fenced brasen wall: and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee to save thee and to deliver thee, saith the LORD.
21 And I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible. (KJV)*

Behold The Cloud

Holly Moody

(A vision I experienced on 5/4/00) hlmoody61@aol.com

I was standing with the Lord atop a large mountain. The view stretched out before me was mountainous. I saw very little vegetation. It was a stark scene.

"Behold," the Lord said to me, and pointed.

I looked around and downwards, and saw men and women beginning to emerge from caves that had been hidden to my eyes. These caves had been concealed within the face of mountains surrounding the mountain which the Lord and I were standing upon. These men and women gave the impression of having endured very many things. They were dressed as warriors. All of them began to proceed very purposefully towards the mountain top which the Lord and I were standing upon.

When the men and women reached the mountain upon which the Lord and I were standing, they began to climb upwards towards us. This took a while. The Lord and I watched their efforts in silence. I wasn't sure what was going on.

When the men and women reached the top of the mountain where the Lord and I were standing silently, they fell on their faces and began to weep and pray.

"Behold," the Lord said to me once again, and pointed off into the distance to His right. I looked where He was pointing, and saw a small cloud. The men and women looked up, but remained stretched out flat upon the ground. When they saw the small cloud, they began to rejoice, then buried their faces back into the rocky ground and continued to pray harder and more fervently.

The Lord and I continued to watch the small cloud. Other clouds began to form also, and all these clouds began to come together. The sound of a strong wind began to be heard, and a few rain drops began to fall.

The men and women looked up, saw the clouds forming, heard the wind, and began to hurriedly descend from the mountain top. The Lord and I remained upon the mountain top and watched both the descending men and women, and also the clouds. The clouds were getting bigger and bigger, and were coming towards us. The wind was getting fiercer and louder, and the rain was beginning to pour down.

I heard a very loud rushing sound, and looked off to my right (in the direction from which the clouds had first formed). What I saw startled and frightened me. A large wave, as gigantic as a tidal wave, was coming towards the mountain which the Lord and I were standing upon. This tidal wave was coming very very quickly and was overtaking the men and women who had succeeded in descending the mountain and had been running off into the distance, to our left.

The tidal wave gained on the men and women, and swept over them. I expected to hear cries of terror and fear, but instead, the men and women were worshipping and praising and rejoicing. I was confused and turned to the Lord and asked Him to explain to me what I had just observed.

"The men and women you saw are My Elijah's," the Lord said to me. "Adversity, trials, persecutions; drove them into caves of hiding. I cared for them while they were in their caves. They were only in their caves for a season. When it was time for them to emerge from their caves, they obeyed the call of My Spirit to them to come forth. I called them to the mountain top, and when they reached the mountain top, they went into intercessory prayer. They prayed for the birthing of revival. When even just a little bit of revival became visible to their eyes, they went to share this joyous news with others. Before they could even reach others with the news of My coming revival, it overtook them and swept them onwards."

The Lord then turned to me and looked into my eyes silently for a moment. "It is coming, My child," He said to me. "A move of My Spirit is coming, and it will come so quickly and so suddenly, that it will overtake many by surprise. Only those who have labored much in intercessory prayer will be aware when this move begins to take place. I tell you, My child. It is already beginning. My revival is already here. Receive it, and accept it, and rejoice in it."

I was reminded of the story of how Elijah went to the mountain top to pray for rain. He saw a cloud the size of a man's hand, and knew the promised rain was coming. The fierce drought was coming to an end. (1 Kings 18:41-45.) God's Spirit is moving. A mighty outpouring of His Spirit has already begun, and will gain in momentum until it overtakes us and sweeps over us. "I hear the sound of an abundance of rain !!!"

End Time Prophetic Vision

Better to Obey God Rather Than Man

Priscilla Van Sutphin

In this text, I am seeking to expose some lies that have been perpetrated about prophecy from old testament "rules" to new testament "rules". The Lord entreated me this last week to teach on 1 Kings 13, especially for the youth. There has been a grave error in the teaching of some who call themselves prophets. They have perpetrated a gospel of exclusivity, by which they can maintain their hold on the place and position they hold in the church as if God wanted them to have fame and position. Honor for the authority they bear, yes.

In many circles of church organization and influence there has crept this hierarchal philosophy of how old Testament prophets are done away with, and now we have the New Testament prophets, therefore God doesn't work the way He did in the Old Testament anymore. This has brought great distress to many new prophets of this age, and has kept them from the fullness of realizing their purpose and place in Christ. The Spirit of prophecy is the testimony of JESUS. We are to smell like Him, talk like Him, walk like Him, sound like Him, be crucified of flesh like Him, be generous like Him, loving like Him, outspoken like Him. And this teaching that God does not move the same way as before is contrary to biblical scriptures,

Yes, When He Who is Prophecy comes again, as it says in 1 Corinthians 13, there will be no need for prophecy. Old things will pass away. But God is the SAME it says, yesterday, today, and tomorrow. And the people who teach this doctrine of demons, have not released, as they should, the beautiful young prophets, and prophetesses that are sitting in our congregations whom GOD wants to use greatly to speak to the overall church and to the world. The apostles produced apostles like Stephen the first martyr. The prophets should also reproduce themselves, instead of hogging the lime light so they can make themselves rich in fame, power, and position, established in the church. The goal of Christ is CREATIVE and active, and is to make a prophetic end times people ! How do we know this ?

Because scripture tells us in so many ways, it says in, Joel 2:28-30 KJV

28 And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions:

29 And also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit.

30 And I will shew wonders in the heavens and in the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke.

Our thinking has become so set in seeing things as we are taught that we barely can think for ourselves. So many rely on what is taught in the pulpit, without knowing the Word for themselves, the Living Word, or the Logos. I have a revelation, .Agabus, was NOT the only new testament prophet ! Peter was a prophet and apostle, .How else would he have known that Ananias and Sapphira kept money back, if he had not heard it prophetically? God TOLD HIM ! And the words he spoke, were implemented immediately in true prophetic fashion, like what happens in the 13th chapter of 1 Kings 13 which we are about to delve into. The only difference between old and new testament prophets, is the age of the dispensation of GRACE ! We have the indwelling Holy Spirit, therefore more of us can hear than could in the old testament for we have direct access through Jesus !

But God's ways are limitless, and that is unchanging. He can act and do whatever HE wants, and use whomever HE wants. I am not trying to teach rebellion against authority. God established His authority, not based on man's predisposition to organize everything, but on His SOVEREIGN will ! He is NOT a regarnder of persons, He is not prejudiced. He will use whomever H E wants to use, and if He can use an 8 year old king in the Old testament like Josiah, or a donkey to speak to Balaam, then He will continue this same pattern when it suits HIM ! He knows the nature of our old man is stubborn, and self-willed. So He will do what HE wants to do, not what we think He should do, or how WE think He should act. He is not a God of formulas and pigeonholing. He does not pigeonhole us into a place and say, this is all YOU can do. He will do whatever is best for us in any situation. He so loves His people, that whatever it takes, that He will do.

John and Peter came up against some unbelievers in the book of Acts who told them not to speak, and they proclaimed that if they did not speak, the ROCKS would cry out. They were not controlled by man, whether it was in the church or out of it. They yielded themselves fully to GOD alone. FEAR had no place in them. They did not fear losing their ministries or position in the church. They did not fear losing their homes. They laid it all down at HIS feet. Everything they were and desired, was given into the hands of Christ Jesus. They DIED to what they wanted, and lived alone for the kingdom and Christ Jesus. People respected them, for they saw the innate authority given them by GOD. They had nothing to prove. They'd laid everything down. God was their defense and high tower, their ever present help in time of need. They had this confidence because they KNEW Him. When I say KNEW Him, I mean, that they had relationship with Him, the word knew in the old testament was a term of intimacy between a man and a woman. So I use this as Christ wants that same relationship of being intimate with His BRIDE.

In first Kings there is a story that brings some clarity to what I am saying. And I hope as this is conveyed that the eyes of your understanding are opened. I am not exalting anarchy or disorder , only promoting GOD's order of things. In some circles, even God if He was sitting there, could not get a word in edge-wise, because of MAN's ordained order. Our flesh is so prone to doing what it has already done. What has already been done, is about to die in the TRUE church. Christ JESUS must be the pre-eminent One, not our agendas, and our 6-7 song plan.

1 Kings 13:1-3 NKJ

And behold, a man of God went from Judah to Bethel by the word of the LORD, and Jeroboam stood by the altar to burn incense.

2 Then he cried out against the altar by the word of the LORD, and said, "O altar, altar! Thus says the LORD: 'Behold, a child, Josiah by name, shall be born to the house of David; and on you he shall sacrifice the priests of the high places who burn incense on you, and men's bones shall be burned on you.' "

3 And he gave a sign the same day, saying, "This is the sign which the LORD has spoken: Surely the altar shall split apart, and the ashes on it shall be poured out."

The first mistake this prophet makes is not being sure that God had his name written in the bible ! In many places, if a no name prophet came sent from God, and began to do such a thing as is described here, he would be immediately escorted out by security guards and taken to jail or a sanitarium before his message even got spoken out! There is an unwritten rule in many churches, .do not speak out in the congregation. And if this had been a woman, .oh Lord, she would be stoned or shot, .whatever!

Jeroboam was an evil king, .Now I think kings in general get more respect than pastors. So here is this "LONE RANGER" prophet, coming in and disturbing the unsanctified offering of Jeroboam by laying hold of the altar and speaking to the altar, this prophecy which eventually was fulfilled some 320+ years later ! The nerve of him to come in and disrupt a service, and disrespect a "king" to speak the word of the Lord. The king did not even KNOW him for 6 months yet to know whether his character was in keeping with traditional requirements for prophets ! And if he had been a Hosea, married to a prostitute, for SURE the church today would have nothing to do with him ! And if he had had a reputation like Isaiah for unclothing himself and running around town naked for 3 years, or like Ezekiel for being so lazy as to lay on his side for a year and then almost another several months, and eating his food cooked with dung coals, OI Vey ! Would he have been in even MORE trouble. These guys surely had a penchant for the finer ways of life n'est pas? They were surely an uncouth group.

And herein is the reason we don't like this stuff from the old testament. We like things neat and clean, organized and controllable , we don't like anyone upsetting the status quo, .not even the Most Holy Spirit of God who is supposed to rule and reign in our churches. Let's see what happens next,

1 Kings 13:4-7

4 And it came to pass, when king Jeroboam heard the saying of the man of God, which had cried against the altar in Bethel, that he put forth his hand from the altar, saying, Lay hold on him. And his hand, which he put forth against him, dried up, so that he could not pull it in again to him.

5 The altar also was rent, and the ashes poured out from the altar, according to the sign which the man of God had given by the word of the LORD.

6 And the king answered and said unto the man of God, Entreat now the face of the LORD thy God, and pray for me, that my hand may be restored me again. And the man of God besought the LORD, and the king's hand was restored him again, and became as it was before.

7 And the king said unto the man of God, Come home with me, and refresh thyself, and I will give thee a reward.

Isn't this a great story? Now we see the king wanting to grab this guy and when they try, .wham, the Lord comes to his defense ! Jeraboams hand withers, I'm sure that was pretty uncomfortable being an ex nurse, and does this idolater repent, .? NOOOO, .He begs for the prophet to plead with God for his hand back to it's normal condition, without an apology you notice. But being the godly prophet this man is, he begs mercy for the ingrate and God restores his hand. This too is the sterling character of a true prophet of God, they do not desire vengeance on their enemies, but are full of the mercies of God. Can't say the same for my actions in history of my life in Christ, I have been, at times, more like the apostles who wanted to call down fire from heaven, to destroy the inhabitants of a town.

This dysfunctional king then wants to reward the prophet, not to repent so much, but to thank him for his kindness with which the Lord , as His true Friend, responded to his pleas for mercy. Isn't this good ? Next, ..

1 Kings 13:8-10KJV

8 And the man of God said unto the king, If thou wilt give me half thine house, I will not go in with thee, neither will I eat bread nor drink water in this place:

9 For so was it charged me by the word of the LORD, saying, Eat no bread, nor drink water, nor turn again by the same way that thou camest.

10 So he went another way, and returned not by the way that he came to Bethel.

Thus far this prophet is looking real good, he seems bent on the performance of God's word alone, and that is a big temptation, to not receive the riches from the wealthy king, , and especially for prophet these days, would that be a BIG temptation. I remember Rheinhard Bonnke relating such an experience where a woman wanted to offer 1 million dollars to his ministry, .but the Lord told him NO. He obeyed and has never regretted it, nor been without what he needed. Now it gets MORE interesting,

1 Kings 13:11-17 KJV

11 Now there dwelt an old prophet in Bethel; and his sons came and told him all the works that the man of God had done that day in Bethel: the words which he had spoken unto the king, them they told also to their father.

12 And their father said unto them, What way went he? For his sons had seen what way the man of God went, which came from Judah.

13 And he said unto his sons, Saddle me the ass. So they saddled him the ass: and he rode thereon,

14 And went after the man of God, and found him sitting under an oak: and he said unto him, Art thou the man of God that camest from Judah? And he said, I am.

15 Then he said unto him, Come home with me, and eat bread.

16 And he said, I may not return with thee, nor go in with thee: neither will I eat bread nor drink water with thee in this place:

17 For it was said to me by the word of the LORD, Thou shalt eat no bread nor drink water there, nor turn again to go by the way that thou camest.

Now the scriptures call this man an "old prophet" so we must assume he was that, and he goes to offer the prophet food and rest, and the prophet seems again to be unmovable. But then, something happens which has been happening a lot in the church today, ..

1 Kings 13:18 KJV

18 He said unto him, I am a prophet also as thou art; and an angel spake unto me by the word of the LORD, saying, Bring him back with thee into thine house, that he may eat bread and drink water. But he lied unto him.

He says, "I am a prophet as thou art", which should have caused some discernment in the younger prophet, as if he was indeed a prophet as HE was, he would have gotten perhaps the word of the Lord for Jeroboam, if he had been all that he was cracking up to be, perhaps he would have confronted at least Jeroboam in his sin of defiling the House of God and all Israel. Then HE LIES saying an angel sent him, which I'm sure is true, but what kind, more like an angel of darkness. Perhaps this old prophet had fallen into complacency and hopelessness or had gotten tired of not seeing change in what was going on and felt defeated, or maybe he was a false prophet to begin with, or just had wanted the anointing that he heard the young prophet demonstrated. This is the character of the "Harlot" church, to want the power, but not the cost. So guard your hearts young prophets, Do not be deceived by kind words that control !

1 Kings 13:19-23 KJV

19 So he went back with him, and did eat bread in his house, and drank water.

20 And it came to pass, as they sat at the table, that the word of the LORD came unto the prophet that brought him back:

21 And he cried unto the man of God that came from Judah, saying, Thus saith the LORD, Forasmuch as thou hast disobeyed the mouth of the LORD, and hast not kept the commandment which the LORD thy God commanded thee,

22 But camest back, and hast eaten bread and drunk water in the place, of the which the LORD did say to thee, Eat no bread, and drink no water; thy carcase shall not come unto the sepulchre of thy fathers.

23 And it came to pass, after he had eaten bread, and after he had drunk, that he saddled for him the ass, to wit, for the prophet whom he had brought back.

Herein is the lesson of the Lord, .DO not believe everyone who says they are a prophet! Stop and ask the Lord, (dependence on God) , Is this person who he says he is ? Should I listen to what he says ? Have You changed your mind Lord ? WE MUST learn reliance on GOD above man. Anyone can give you a word. There are no licenses for "prophets". There are 3 sources of information possible to hear from. a) We are hearing from God. b) We are hearing the enemy. c) We are hearing our own flesh. d) We are hearing the enemy working for God, as a test of your heart. The word of the Lord came to this older prophet, maybe he hadn't heard it in a while but it came. So, did God allow this old man to lie to the prophet as a test of whether he would obey God over man ? I don't know! We know all scripture is for our edification, so God is trying to tell us something here. One is that we CAN be deceived. Two is that what we know we hear from God is more important than listening to MAN. Do not bow to the fear of man. Some trust in chariots, and some trust in horses, but we will trust in the name of the Lord ! He also did not, it would seem, ask God for confirmation of what the old man said, .this can get us way off track into a detour. We can survive a detour and God will not be angry if we really thought it was a word from Him. We will recover. But if we will become sooooo dependent on HIM over what we think, or what others think, or what others say, .that IS the place to be in HIM.

Micaiah saw this, in 1 Kings 22:15-22 (Jehoshaphat is king)

15 So he came to the king. And the king said unto him, Micaiah, shall we go against Ramoth-gilead to battle, or shall we forbear? And he answered him, Go, and prosper: for the LORD shall deliver it into the hand of the king.

16 And the king said unto him, How many times shall I adjure thee that thou tell me nothing but that which is true in the name of the LORD?

17 And he said, I saw all Israel scattered upon the hills, as sheep that have not a shepherd: and the LORD said, These have no master: let them return every man to his house in peace.

18 And the king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat, Did I not tell thee that he would prophesy no good concerning me, but evil?

19 And he said, Hear thou therefore the word of the LORD: I saw the LORD sitting on his throne, and all the host of heaven standing by him on his right hand and on his left.

20 And the LORD said, Who shall persuade Ahab, that he may go up and fall at Ramoth-gilead? And one said on this manner, and another said on that manner.

21 And there came forth a spirit, and stood before the LORD, and said, I will persuade him.

22 And the LORD said unto him, Wherewith? And he said, I will go forth, and I will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And He said, Thou shalt persuade him, and prevail also: go forth, and do so.

I remember Jack Deere, I think it was, once saying, "The greatest deception of all is to think that you can't be deceived." We are taught by scripture to "Lean NOT on our own understanding, but in all of your ways, acknowledge HIM, and He will make your path straight." There are times when we can be let to go astray, that the Lord can bring repentance in our hearts, to show us when we are too religious and haughty, that we too, can be reduced to nothing if we rely on our own strength and righteousness, instead of God's. For my own self, I cannot get away with anything with the Lord anymore without Him bringing swift correction for the most part. If I start to get prideful and judge anyone, I can count on a spiritual spanking from my Father in heaven, which is always more merciful than the beating that people might like to give to me. He'll let me go so far and then boom, comes the hand of His wonderful justice, it is His love greatly provoked which brings His correction. What would we be if He let us go on in our delusion or deception? We would gradually become more hardened in our hearts and apart from Him. So here this prophet Michaiah actually sees a vision of the throne room of God, and God deliberating on how to bring justice to Ahab. And a spirit comes forth and says he will be a lying spirit in the ears of Ahabs prophets. (who were false prophets by the way, ..which means they sometimes were right, ..that really blows our theology!) See the devil knows information, but not revelation like John Paul Jackson says, so psychics can have some correct information from the demons that serve them, but they are not getting their information from God) And this spirit goes down to confuse them and to mess up their information. King David also had a problem with a lying spirit, .

1 Chron 21:1-15 NKJV

1 Now Satan stood up against Israel, and moved David to number Israel.

2 So David said to Joab and to the leaders of the people, "Go, number Israel from Beersheba to Dan, and bring the number of them to me that I may know it."

3 And Joab answered, "May the LORD make His people a hundred times more than they are. But, my lord the king, are they not all my lord's servants? Why then does my lord require this thing? Why should he be a cause of guilt in Israel?"

4 Nevertheless the king's word prevailed against Joab. Therefore Joab departed and went throughout all Israel and came to Jerusalem.

5 Then Joab gave the sum of the number of the people to David. All Israel had one million one hundred thousand men who drew the sword, and Judah had four hundred and seventy thousand men who drew the sword.

6 But he did not count Levi and Benjamin among them, for the king's word was abominable to Joab.

7 And God was displeased with this thing; therefore He struck Israel.

8 So David said to God, "I have sinned greatly, because I have done this thing; but now, I pray, take away the iniquity of Your servant, for I have done very foolishly."

9 And the LORD spoke to Gad, David's seer, saying,

10 "Go and tell David, saying, 'Thus says the LORD: "I offer you three things; choose one of them for yourself, that I may do it to you."'

11 So Gad came to David and said to him, "Thus says the LORD: 'Choose for yourself,

12 either three years of famine, or three months to be defeated by your foes with the sword of your enemies overtaking you, or else for three days the sword of the LORD--the plague in the land, with the angel of the LORD destroying throughout all the territory of Israel.' Now consider what answer I should take back to Him who sent me."

13 And David said to Gad, "I am in great distress. Please let me fall into the hand of the LORD, for His mercies are very great; but do not let me fall into the hand of man."

14 So the LORD sent a plague upon Israel, and seventy thousand men of Israel fell.

15 And God sent an angel to Jerusalem to destroy it. As he was destroying, the LORD looked and relented of the disaster, and said to the angel who was destroying, "It is enough; now restrain your hand."

I know, you're thinking, that isn't fair that God would punish the people when it was David who committed the sin, ..lots of lessons in this scripture ! 1) It is Satan himself wanting to take out a few for his kingdom and destroy David at the same time. 2) David does not discern, perhaps he'd grown a bit prideful with all his favor. 3) We are also accountable for our leaders. God may have chosen leaders in those days. But today it is not always so, just like when Jesus came, many had bought their ways into the priesthood. God is supposed to be head of our churches and we are to be accountable to one another. A pastorship is NOT a dictatorship, run by one man. We are accountable when we see someone stumbling to lift him up, and moreover, we are to pray in the first place for our leaders. Perhaps the children of Israel were failing on that account too, and therefore received the discipline. WE ARE THE CHURCH. The pastor is not the church. We are accountable to one another and the weakest it says in Corinthians is also necessary. It is to be a living breathing organism like our own body. One part cannot run the whole thing. It takes working together. When we give all the authority to the pastor and don't live up to our own responsibilities and relationship to him, we are practicing idolatry, and neglect towards the house of God. And when one sins the others suffer.

That IS why so many are sick today. The church is so adulterous, many are suffering in their bodies for the sake of the church like Paul said in Colossians 1:24.

Let's go back to 1 Kings 13, . 1 Kings 13:23-32

24 And when he was gone, a lion met him by the way, and slew him: and his carcass was cast in the way, and the ass stood by it, the lion also stood by the carcass.

25 And, behold, men passed by, and saw the carcass cast in the way, and the lion standing by the carcass: and they came and told it in the city where the old prophet dwelt.

26 And when the prophet that brought him back from the way heard thereof, he said, It is the man of God, who was disobedient unto the word of the LORD: therefore the LORD hath delivered him unto the lion, which hath torn him, and slain him, according to the word of the LORD, which he spake unto him.

27 And he spake to his sons, saying, Saddle me the ass. And they saddled him.

28 And he went and found his carcass cast in the way, and the ass and the lion standing by the carcass: the lion had not eaten the carcass, nor torn the ass.

29 And the prophet took up the carcass of the man of God, and laid it upon the ass, and brought it back: and the old prophet came to the city, to mourn and to bury him.

30 And he laid his carcass in his own grave; and they mourned over him, saying, Alas, my brother!

31 And it came to pass, after he had buried him, that he spake to his sons, saying, When I am dead, then bury me in the sepulchre wherein the man of God is buried; lay my bones beside his bones:

32 For the saying which he cried by the word of the LORD against the altar in Bethel, and against all the houses of the high places which are in the cities of Samaria, shall surely come to pass. (I've changed the spelling of carcase to carcass for young readers)

Well this is fascinating. Who wouldn't take a second look at a lion just standing next to it's prey, and the body it just killed ? This was for a sign and a wonder. A wonder makes you wonder John Wimber used to say ! This would make me wonder. I'm sure it spread all over Israel. God uses all kinds of ways to say things. An ass, or donkey often is symbolic for stubbornness and self-will. Lions can be good...as a symbol of our Lion of Judah, or as a symbol of satan as the devouring lion. When I look at this I see a miracle in the sense of the animals behavior being controlled by God, and yet God gave man a choice. And we don't always want to listen to Him even though He has been so kind as to make us able to make choices, instead of being robots of His devotion. I see a miracle in the sense that God honored this prophet even in his death of judgement, by not having him desecrated, because he was dutiful to go for Him when He said go, and he performed most of his duties, .but not all, so he lost his life for it, but God was merciful in a way. And the old prophet knows it, he sees this, and he takes the body back and tells his sons, .bury my bones with his when I die, as his word will surely come true. Why was he convinced? When he knew the prophet disobeyed and ate ? 1) the sign of the altar splitting, and 2) God performed His word following the old prophet's word of judgement. And 3) The ass and the lion sign. He too saw God's mercy and handprint on this. And he thinks somehow to gain favor by having his bones buried with the younger's. It would seem, that if the prophet came with no donkey, on foot, and God told him not to accept gifts, perhaps the ass stands for what we hold onto the most, and that is our COMFORT. There is an obvious lesson here in that we must obey God rather than man or the devourer will have place in our lives. We must give him no place! GRACE is the ONLY way we can, overcoming grace to be and do all that He wants us to be and do. Power to change our lives and heal us so we can obey. This we get by entering the "throne room", coming into His presence. The stubbornness of our "but I want to do this" and our "But" anything will get us devoured in the end, so we must become FLEXIBLE to His will alone, not ours, not the desire of other men and women. God did not give us a spirit of bondage to fear of man but a spirit of ADOPTION by which we can cry out "Abba Father". We are not to be bound to the will of other people. In order to have UNITY we must have our FIRST love in place for the Father, Son and Holy Spirit, and we MUST LISTEN to GOD and do what HE wants first and foremost. It will not be popular, as the enemy of conformity is prevalent in traditions of men. But I believe this generation of teens that will be birthed into the kingdom, will not bow to conformity and fear of man, but to God. We must not see this as rebellion, when it is only rebellion to our control. We want to make them in our image when we are not conformed to HIS image and likeness. That is a very sad state of affairs in the church today, .so let's spend time with our Beloved, so that we may see through our Father's eyes, this generation being raised up, and ALLOW them to move and breathe and do what GOD wants them to do.

If We Build It, He Will Come

Jim Wies

A few years ago there was an inspiring movie where a man had a vision of building a ball field in the middle of a corn patch. The vision kept echoing through his mind saying "If you built it, they will come". In a play off that phrase the Lord has been reminding me of the principle from His word stating: "If we build it, HE will come". 1 Peter 2:5,9 states: "you also, as living stones, are being built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ. ... a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, His own special people, that you may proclaim the praises of Him who called you out of darkness into His marvelous light;"

God tells us we are to be built into a "spiritual house" and a dwelling for Him. When Moses was receiving instruction as to how he should build a place of worship before the Presence of God, he was told to carefully build according to the pattern, "And let them construct a sanctuary for Me, that I may dwell among them. According to all that I am going to show you, as the pattern of the tabernacle and the pattern of all its furniture, just so shall you construct it.. and there I will meet with you". Ex. 25:8,9,22

We know from Hebrews 9:8,9 that the tabernacle of Moses was intended as a symbol for this present time. Actually, the apostle James' statement in Acts 15:16 indicates that God is intent on restoring, in the context of the church, the fallen tabernacle of David whose manner of worship is clear from the Psalms. He has given us some specific patterns for what He wants build. When we build it according to the pattern, He will come and manifest His presence into our midst. One man put it this way.. When the pattern is right, the glory will fall.

Notice what Peter said about why we are being built together - "being built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ." In understanding our "priesthood" we must understand that the highest purpose of the priesthood was to minister to the Lord. So we minister to the Lord through building a corporate context to offer the sacrifices of praise and worship. "Therefore by Him let us continually offer the sacrifice of praise to God, that is, the fruit of our lips, giving thanks to His name." Heb 13:15

But it has to be built according to the pattern. The Psalms were David's instruction manual for worship. Psalm 11:2,4 states "Come before His presence with singing... Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise. The Scripture states as well that the Lord "dwells upon" or inhabits the praises of His people. (Ps.22:3) So in a real sense you could also say it this way.. "If you build it, HE will come"

We see as well from Solomon's day that when the pattern was right the glory came. "Indeed, it came to pass, when the trumpeters and the singers were as one, to make one sound to be heard in praising and thanking the Lord, and when they lifted up their voice with the trumpets and cymbals and instruments of music, and praised the Lord saying 'For He is good, for His mercy endures forever', that the house of the Lord was filled with a cloud,... for the glory of the Lord filled the house of God." (2 Chron. 5:13,14)

And then, Isaiah 60:2-3 states: "...the LORD will arise over you, and His glory will be seen upon you. The Gentiles shall come to your light, and kings to the brightness of your rising."

So, if we build it, HE will come, (and if He shows up)... they will come.

Bush- Smooth Transition

DREAM

Aug 4, 2000 Friday A.M.

I saw a girl possibly younger than 20 and she was afar off from her father the King. I knew that there was a dispute between the girl and her father which had resulted in their separation. There was a rift between them caused by arguments. I watched as the girl began to draw near to her father in hope of petitioning him for something. The girl's father was seated on a throne which was lifted up above his servants. I watched as the girl came before the King, she had a small sword in her right hand which seemed to be made of bronze, the kind that the Romans used when their enemy's came in close. Her father would not let her speak whatever was on her mind but ruthlessly he immediately called a guard by name and told him to throw her to the Winged Goat. The servant of the king came from his right hand side and picked her up and cast her into a deep hole. On her way down into the hole the girl landed precariously on a branch and clinged to the limb while many goat like demon creatures waited below for her to fall. There was one goat-man with wings but he did not fly up to grab her and the rest of them were a cross between man, goat and demon. I was in observation mode and watching I saw George W. Bush ride in on a horse with someone else who I did not recognize. Bush spoke to his friend on the other horse and he said, "Nothing like Winged Goat soup." After Bush had made that proclamation, the Winged Goat demon came up from the hole and stood before him. I continued to watch but it was clear now that I was not only in observation mode but that my hands were beginning to be his hands and his eyes were becoming my eyes. At first while still in observation mode I was fascinated to see Bush stand up against this huge creature who was clearly much stronger than he. George W. was not impressed by the size of the demon, nor was he afraid. The Winged goat flew up to a high place and then jumped down from a great height aiming straight for Governor Bush's head with his feet. I watched Bush just stand there waiting to get hit but at the last moment he quickly moved aside and I saw that he had been standing over a hole in the rock. The demon fell straight through the hole and was out of sight but came right back up again. Observation mode was fading away and I was becoming one with Governor Bush. He grabbed the big demon by the shoulders with each hand and began to sling him up and down like a rubber band. Somehow Bush got the demon in a twisting position and began to twist his whole body.

Governor Bush wrestled with the demon for a long time and he twisted away at it's body. The demon had a long shiny sword in the left hand and he was trying to cut Bush with it, but Bush stayed away from the blade and remained unscathed. Somehow it seemed as though the demon was now caught in between 2 pieces of wood or some kind of vice. About the time that it was clear that Bush was going to tear the demon in two, Bush began to call out for Joseph. Watching this and sometimes being a part of it, I knew that the demon was only moments away from destruction and I wondered why Bush needed Joseph's help. About that time I looked over my right shoulder and saw "Joseph," and I knew who he was, he had brownish red hair and very fair skin and was tall. I assumed his skin was so white because of the 13 years that he had spent in the darkness of the Egyptian dungeon.

Looking back at the demon body and Bush still calling out for Joseph, I was puzzled. Joseph! Joseph! Joseph! he continued to yell out. At that moment the demon became brittle and the body twisted apart and where the body had been there remained only 6 very smooth silver dimes in Governor Bush's hand.

The dream ended and I woke up.

There are many symbolic images in the dream and some of them are easy to figure out.

The young girl is the American church The girls father is our heavenly Father and King of Kings. The bronze sword in her hand may be symbolic of the collective Word in the American Church which is not as effective as the genuine article.

The servants of the King are the angels.

The branch which the girl landed on and depended on to keep her from falling is Christ and can also be symbolic of her own crucifixion experience while under this current administration.

The demons waited on the American Church to fall but by sovereignty they were not able to touch her as long as she did cling to the branch.

Of course the demons below are the servants of the Evil One, "the Winged Goat." The bright and shiny sword in the hand of the goat may be symbolic of the counterfeit Word which has been used against the Christian people in America. The word of Tolerance. The hypocrisy of the American Media and the current administration.

The sword in the demon's hand is shiny like chrome and satan is known as the shining one.

Governor Bush is symbolic of Governor Bush, a man sent by God to take authority as President of the United States people, for it is God who establishes kingdoms and who takes kingdoms away. It is also God who by His sovereignty allows His own people to go into tribulation.

The 6 dimes are symbolic of 6 days multiplied by 10 which equals 60 days.

The smoothness of the dimes indicates that it will seem like a smooth transition of power but it will only be won after much wrestling with demonic forces.

In exactly 60 days America will elect a new president which I believe the interpretation here is George W. Bush.

The calling of Joseph was a sign for me that I would know that this is a Word sent by God and must be interpreted..

I believe that God left me with the name Joseph last of all so that I would know that this is a dream which will surely come to pass. There may be many more symbols that I have not understood, such as the hole in the rock that the demon went through, maybe someone might have constructive understanding to add to the interpretation.

Break Up Your Fallow Ground

Meri Burlingame

12 Apr 2000

Fallow Ground is ground that once bore a harvest. The rains and winds have beat on that ground since its last harvest and it has become hard. Some fallow ground has weeds and grasses growing in it. Some is barren, so hard even the weeds and grasses could find no place to anchor. But it is ground that has borne a harvest in the past.

God is calling us to break up our fallow ground. There is NO CONDEMNATION upon fallow ground, though it be hard and resist every effort for it to be broken up. The very agents that hardened it were often the ones that protected it and kept it's nutrients from being washed away and available for this next season. What seems hard, when broken up in God's perfect timing, will yield soil that, with the right fertilizers, water and seed, will bear a harvest in greater abundance than ever before.

Some of you are going to be plowman. When you walk into the lives of those who have fallow ground that God is about to plow, be confident, be assured, that the word that you speak might not be readily received. It will often be met with resistance even as the hardened ground resists the plow or the tiller.

A garden I once worked had a corner that plowed so easily in the spring. There was such an abundance of sand in that area of the garden plot that it could be plowed and tilled the same day that it rained. But keeping things growing in that sandy soil was a great problem. The food and water leached out of it, sinking into the earth, unavailable to the seeds and plants that were seeking to be established and bear fruit. When the sun beat down, plants wilted. In the rainy season they turned pale yellow, and they were a delight to the insects due to their weak state, and rodents loved to burrow in the soft soil.

Because some people readily receive the plowing up of their fallow ground while others resist it, is not necessarily an indication of the ultimate productiveness of that garden. Resistance may only mean that there has been an abundance of rain and wind in that life, that it truly has gone through a hard winter, that death and destruction have ravished the surface. It may or may not indicate whether it will again bring forth a harvest.

God's word will accomplish that for which it was sent. Those He is desiring to plow once again in this season who stiffen their necks, resisting the "correction" and "instruction" in righteousness, may be found barren and cracked on the surface in the heat of yet another hot summer.

There is no condemnation for those who need their "fallow ground" plowed up.

There is no condemnation for those who have well trod paths in their lives that God is now desiring to turn into productive fields with which to feed the hungry and clothe the naked and give shelter to the homeless.

There is no condemnation for those whose "gardens" have worked up large rocks from within the center of the earth that once again must be removed.

There is no condemnation upon those whose lives have ugly stalks left from last years harvest that must be mowed down and turned into mulch for fertilizer for this years harvest.

The bean poles from last year served well, but they may not be adequately strong for this next year's crop if they remained in the garden all winter. The stakes and supports from last years harvest may not be adequate for the crop that God will plant this season. Many changes and alterations will come into those lives who are willing to plow up their fallow ground and let God direct the planting and the watering and the feeding and the ultimate harvest!

We who are the soil of God's harvest must yield our fallow ground up to God's Word to be plowed and tilled, and we do that as we co-labor with Christ as His Word goes forth into the heavenlies and we receive it into our lives by faith to penetrate our fallow ground. The seed is good He will send the rains. Yet if the ground isn't plowed and prepared, there will be no harvest despite all the promises of God that we hold onto, profess or declare out of our mouths.

Those of you who are sent forth with the Word as plowman and tillers, remember from whence you came. You were conceived in the heart of the Father and He has graciously plowed you by His Word and tilled you and prepared you to bear forth His Mighty Word. He asks you to bear that same measure of honor and respect for those lives into which you are sent to plow and till with His Word.

Some don't know they have become hardened through the winter rains and will not know that they have need of the Word that will plow and till them, though they long for the harvest with all their hearts.

As the Father has been gracious unto you, so be gracious unto them, yielding yourselves to the indwelling Word of God in their hearts and lives. Though you are sent, trespass not against another soul, yielding to one another in the humility of the Lord. Know that HIS WORD accomplishes that which it was sent for and does not return barren. He does that which we cannot do. A piece of land may require more than one pass of the plow or the tiller to be prepared. It may require other instruments of destruction and preparation to receive the seed. Many laborers may be called into one field, and you may only make one pass, or you might be called to tend that field through the harvest. Each of you are required to know the Father, to know His plan and what He is accomplishing, that you might fellowship with HIM in that work as you co-labor with HIM.

Beware of False Prophets and Apostles

Ros Henderson-Hobson

Beware of false prophets and apostles

Revelations chapter 2 verse 2

I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil: and thou hast tried them which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars

It is of great concern to myself and many others, that we are seeing many false doctrines and heresies abounding across the earth, in these latter times. Jesus solemnly warned us in the bible of the false prophets who would go out into the earth to deceive the body of Christ.

He also warns us about those who come and say they are apostles sent by the lord. They will tell you they have been divinely chosen to teach and instruct you in these last days, yet you shall know them by their fruits.

Do not deviate from the truth of god word, giving attention to doctrines taught by men who give credence to writings such as the book of Enoch.

Do not think for a moment the god of heaven and earth, cannot protect his written word given to the scribes by the holy spirit. It is a satanic delusion taught by men, overpowered by seducing spirits, who will tell you the bible has been corrupted.

There are many pretended revelations and dreams and visions, given by false prophets and teachers of heretical doctrines who call themselves apostles. They have the appearance of righteousness, yet are inwardly corrupted by Satan , tearing down the full and complete truth of god's word

It is absolutely necessary that we must earnestly test and measure every word spoken to us by divine revelation lest we give heed to and believe the visions and prophecies of liars.

It is not enough to live by mans word or revelation from prophets who proclaim to have the ear of the lord.

The lord says you shall know them by their fruit !

To each person who has faith and believes in Jesus Christ, you have been given the holy spirit to abide and live in your heart. It is most important that each person learns to recognize the voice of the holy spirit for themselves. So that they may discern the truth of gods word in comparison to the voice of mans doctrines.

If we are following the heretical doctrines of man, instead of pursuing the true and living word of god, we open ourselves up to seducing spirits, who teach seducing doctrines

And become ensnared by the fowler who sets traps for those who are found wandering away from the truth of gods word.

Men and women who love the esteemed places, are quick to say thus saith the lord, they are like white washed walls having an outside form of cleanliness, yet their hearts reveal their wanton uncleanness.

Warning !!!

Pay heed and give attention to what the lord is saying to the believers across the world

Luke chapter 18 verse 8

I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?

MATHEW CHAPTER 24 VERSES 37-45

But as the days of Noah [were], so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. Then shall two be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left Two [women shall be] grinding at the mill; the one shall be taken, and the other left

Watch therefore: for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come.

But know this, that if the goodman of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up

Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh

Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season?

Watch closely and guard yourselves from those who pretend to be prophets

Mathew chapter 7 verse 15

Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves

Mathew Chapter 24 Verse 24

For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect

2 Peter Chapter 2 Verse 1

But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction

1 John Chapter 4 Verse 1

Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world

Jeremiah Chapter 14 Verse 14

Then the LORD said unto me, The prophets prophesy lies in my name: I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake unto them: they prophesy unto you a false vision and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their heart

Lamentations Chapter 2 Verse 14

Thy prophets have seen vain and foolish things for thee: and they have not discovered thine iniquity, to turn away thy captivity; but have seen for thee false burdens and causes of banishment

Friends we know that we are living in the last church age, and we know the days are full of wickedness. Be alert and careful for what you are putting your trust in, for many false prophets and apostles have already gone out into the world to deceive the elect.

Protect yourselves by training your heart and minds fully to be obedient to the word of god.

Do not be like the foolish virgins who were not prepared and ready to meet the bridegroom. Set your hearts and your minds towards the living god, and be every ready and alert at all times for you do not know in what hour or day that the son of man will return.

God Bless

By Appointment

Ephraim Frank

Dear Messianic Israelite,

"Do two men walk together unless it has been designated, or appointed for them [to do so]?" (Amos 3:3). Appoint, assign, designate; the root is ya'a'd. The English translation says that these two persons "have made an appointment". The Hebrew wording, however, does not necessarily imply that; it simply says that it was ordained, or appointed, for them to meet. Again, the English gives the impression that the two set an appointed time, or made their own arrangement for the meeting. That is not so in the Hebrew text, which hints at a predestined order, and even beyond that, at someone who sets things in order, appoints and designates the arrangement of everything in the universe. In other words, there is a God who has the 'program' in place. Shaul (Paul) illustrates this point when he writes: "He (Elohim) has chosen us in Him (Messiah) before the foundation of the world. . . . predestined us to adoption as sons through Yeshua the Messiah" (Eph. 1:4-5). The Greek word for predestine is "pro-orizo", which is made up of two words; "pro" meaning in front of, before, ago; "orizo" - to appoint, mark out, border, or boundary.

The Apostle reiterates this thought when he speaks of the Israelites as those "to whom belongs the adoption as sons and the glory" (Ro. 9:4). In the Torah, likewise Yisrael is exhorted: "O foolish and unwise people, is He (YHVH) not your Father who has bought you? He has made you and established you" (Deut. 32:6). In the Prophets, we read: "Thus says YHVH, who created Ya'akov, and formed Yisrael. . . . I have called you by name; you are Mine. . . . everyone who is called by My name, and whom I have created for My glory, whom I have formed, even whom I have made" (Is. 43:1,6). Ya'akov-Yisrael was set apart, appointed by YHVH to fulfill a certain destiny. Many in today's 'politically-correct' world do not like the thought of a Sovereign who would be so 'unjust' as to choose a race, or a nation of people and separate them from the rest of mankind in order to be established as a holy kingly priesthood. It simply does not fit into the humanistic pattern and agenda. But if we take the Tanach literally, at face value, we cannot ignore or deny Yisrael's predestined, prophetic calling. "For the Most High. . . . when He separated the sons of Adam, He set the boundaries of the peoples according to the sons of Yisrael. For the Lord's portion is His people, Ya'akov is the allotment of His inheritance" (Deut. 32:8-9).

Let's stretch a bit the boundaries of our understanding concerning this verse. The Hebrew word here for boundaries is "g'vool", which means boundary as determined by measuring cord, or line. This application has more of a physical limitation, such as in "land". But if we return to the arena of time, which can also be used for measuring and establishing boundaries, we arrive back at the Hebrew word, mentioned above - "ya'a'd", although the latter also is not without its connection to a physical location. For example, "tent of [appointed] meeting" (the tabernacle in the desert), is "Ohel Mo'ed" (the root being y.a.d -appointment) . And in Ps. 74:7 we read: "they have burned Thy sanctuary". The rendering of "sanctuary" there is "mo'adey El", literally "appointed times of God". We thus see that Place and Time, in the Hebrew mind, are not always determined by a clear boundary. The well known term for "feast" or appointed time, "mo'ed", is almost always connected to a specific place at which the "called out, destined assembly" the "e'dah" (from the same root again) - is to gather together. The three-stranded cord (ref. Eccl. 4:12), of place, time and people, is held together by the sovereignty of the One who has appointed and chosen them, their destiny, and interactions one with the other.

Therefore, the nature and timing of events and circumstances pertaining to the land and people of Yisrael are determined, and stay within the predestined confines and boundaries established by the Elohim of Yisrael. Let us then ask again: Will two walk together unless it has been assigned for them to do so? In spite of the scattering and dispersion of the broken branches, the re-gathering and putting together of the sticks or trees of Judah and Ephraim (ref. Eze. 37) will inevitably and unfailingly take place, according to YHVH's predetermined plan. Yes, those two will yet walk together to the place, and in the time recorded in YHYH's calendar.

The Messiah's atoning sacrifice worked redemption into all three strands of the cord; people, place, and time. Therefore, having been sealed by His blood, we are assured of the fulfillment of the plan. The people, the time and the place are not of our choosing, for they have already been established, but it is incumbent that we not be ignorant of the "ya'a'd" of our Elohim.

Shabbat Shalom,

Shevet Achim

Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brothers to dwell together in unity. (Psa. 133.)

By Whose Authority?

PART I - The Covenant of Salt

A few days ago the Lord put together for me several different things that He has been revealing for the past several months. Although at first glance they did not APPEAR to be related, He then showed me something in the Spirit that connected all of them.

The first revelation deals with the "Covenant of Salt," which I was not even aware of until approximately two months ago. This covenant is first described in Numbers 18, verse 19.

All the heave offerings [that is, the lifted out and kept portion] of the holy things which the Israelites give to the Lord, I give to you [Aaron and the priests] and to your sons and your daughters with you, as a continual debt for ever. It is a covenant of salt [that cannot be dissolved or violated] for ever before the Lord for you [Aaron] and for your posterity with you.

This "covenant" dealt with the Lord's describing to Aaron and his descendants their inheritance of the Levitical tribe, as many verses in this chapter make clear. Verse 6 is very specific in this regard:

And, I, behold, I have taken your brethren the Levites from among the Israelites; to you they are a gift, given to the Lord, to do the [menial] service of the tent of meeting.

Verses 8 and 9 in this same chapter discusses just what those "heave" offerings were:

And the Lord said to Aaron, and I, behold, I have given you the charge of My heave offerings, [that is, whatever is taken out and kept of the offerings made to Me], all the dedicated and consecrated things of the Israelites; to you have I given them [as your portion] and to your sons, as a continual allowance for ever, by reason of your anointing as priests.

This shall be yours of the most holy things; reserved from the fire; every offering of the people, every cereal offerings and sin offering and trespass offering of theirs, which they shall render to Me, shall be most holy for you [Aaron] and for your sons.

A "heave" offering is first described in Exodus Chapter 29, verse 27, and is defined by the Bible Dictionary as:

Heave offering - an offering in which the items presented to the Lord were lifted up to Him as gifts before they were given to the priests.

Leviticus 2:13 states: Every cereal offering you shall season with salt [symbol of preservation]; neither shall you allow the salt of the covenant of your God to be lacking from your cereal offering; with all your offerings you shall offer salt. Verse 14 goes on to say - you shall offer for it [cereal offering] of your first fruits.

We find then from these selected passages (and there are many others!) that God made a "perpetual" covenant with His chosen "priests...." And this covenant was for the "most holy things" reserved from the fire, for BOTH sons and daughters, and included the inheritance of those from Aaron's priestly line for perpetuity. It was a "gift" given to God to His priests who were directly chosen BY HIM TO MINISTER TO HIM within the tent of the meeting.

The next passage that deals specifically with the "covenant of salt," is found in 2 Chronicles, Chapter 13. Verse 1 tells us that King Jeroboam [enlarger] is King over Israel. Abijah [the Lord is My Father] is ruler over Judah. Abijah has already reigned for three years in Jerusalem when war erupts between him and Jeroboam. Verse 3 gives us an idea of what Abijah was up against.

And Abijah prepared for battle with an army of valiant men of war, 400,000 chosen men. Jeroboam set the battle in array against him with 800,000 chosen men, mighty men of valor.

Although Abijah is outnumbered two to one, he is NOT deterred from this battle, as he makes clear!

And Abijah stood on Mount Zemaraim, in the hill country of Ephraim, and said, Hear Me, O Jeroboam and all Israel!

Ought you not to know that the Lord, the God of Israel, gave the kingship over Israel to David for ever, even to him and to his sons by a covenant of salt?

Yet Jeroboam son of Nebat, servant of Solomon son of David, rose up and rebelled against his lord [the king].

And there gathered to him worthless men, base fellows, who strengthened themselves against Rehoboam son of Solomon, when Rehoboam was young [as king], irresolute and inexperienced and did not withstand them with firmness and strength. (2 Chronicles 13:3-8)

Abijah is clearly reminding Jeroboam and his troops that they have rebelled against the Lord, their God, by Jeroboam's not being content with the prophesied kingdom he would receive from God, (1 Kings 11:16-40). We are told in 1 Kings 12: 25-33 that Jeroboam was so concerned over retaining his throne after being recalled to Israel after Solomon's death, that RATHER than have the peoples hearts return to the Lord, he made two calves of gold, one in Bethel and the other one in Dan, so that the people would not have to travel to Jerusalem (where Rehoboam, and then his son Abijah reigned) to worship! He also made individuals, irregardless of their tribe - priests, and appointed his own feast days.

Because of Jeroboam's actions the prophet Ahijah gives Jeroboam's wife a prophetic word for her husband.

Behold I will bring evil upon the house of Jeroboam, and will cut off from [him], every male, both bond and free in Israel, and will utterly sweep away the house of Jeroboam, as a man sweeps away dung, till it is all gone.

Any one of Jeroboam who dies in the city the dogs shall eat; and any who dies in the field the birds of the heavens shall eat; for the Lord has spoken it. (1 Kings 14: 10-11)

Returning to 2 Chronicles, Chapter 13, beginning in verse 8 then, we find Abijah of Judah referring to the multiple sins that Jeroboam has committed.

And now you [Jeroboam] think to withstand the kingdom of the Lord in the hand of the sons of David, because you are a great multitude and you have with you the golden calves which Jeroboam made you for gods.

Have you not driven out the priests of the Lord, the sons of Aaron, and the Levites, and made priests for yourselves like the peoples of other lands? So whoever comes to consecrate himself with a young bull and seven rams may be a priest of idols that are not gods. (2 Chronicles 13: 8-9)

Jeroboam has brought the golden calves with him to this battle! Effectively, Jeroboam has set himself up as "God..." picking and choosing those who will serve as priests, and using the golden calves, "idols," for worship.

Then we find in verse 10 how Ahijah and Judah is different than Jeroboam and Israel.

But as for us, the Lord is our God, and we have not forsaken Him. We have priests ministering to the Lord who are sons of Aaron, and Levites for their service.

They offer to the Lord every morning and every evening burnt sacrifices and incense of sweet spices; they set in order the showbread on the table of pure gold, and attend to the golden lampstand that its lamps may be lighted every evening; for we keep the charge of the Lord our God, but you have forsaken Him.

Behold, God Himself is with us at our head, and His priests with their battle trumpets to sound an alarm against you, O Israelites, fight not against the Lord, the God of your fathers, for you can not prosper. (2 Chronicles 13:10-12)

The nation of Judah were following the Aaron priestly line and using the Levites to do the menial service of the meeting. Incense [representing prayer] was offered up, every morning and evening. Showbread - [representing the heavenly manna and the Bread of Life] were presented on a table of pure gold and the golden lampstand and its seven lamps [representing the Light of the World and the seven-fold Spirits of God] were lighted every evening. Their priests were also arrayed for battle - fully prepared to sound the alarm that an enemy was approaching. This was a far cry from the "form" that Jeroboam's "religious observances" had become.

As Ahijah shouts out to Jeroboam and his troops however, Jeroboam causes an ambush to come up from behind so that Ahijah is surrounded by the Israelites.

When Judah looked, lo, the battle was before and behind; and they cried to the Lord, and the priests blew the trumpets.

Then the men of Judah gave a shout; and as they shouted, God smote Jeroboam and all Israel before Ahijah and Judah.

And the Israelites fled before Judah, and God delivered them into their hand.

And Abijah and his people slew them with a great slaughter, so there fell of Israel 500,000 chosen men.

Thus the Israelites were brought low at that time, and the people of Judah prevailed, because they relied upon the Lord, the God of their fathers. (2 Chronicles 13: 14-18)

We must note here that verse 15 clearly tells us that it is "GOD" who smote Jeroboam and those troops he had assembled. Why? Because they had forgotten the perpetual "covenant of salt," of their fathers and had attempted to approach God on THEIR TERMS. We are also shown in this chapter in 2nd Chronicles another comparison - first read in Exodus - where Aaron (who was ordained the first High Priest) , ALSO (lest we forget) made the "first" golden calf to be worshipped.

And he [Aaron] received the gold at their hand, and fashioned it with a graving tool, and made it a molten calf; and they said, "These are your gods, O Israel, which brought you out of the land of Egypt! (Exodus 32:4)

PART II - A Tree and A Whip

The 11th Chapter of Mark begins with Jesus making His Triumphant entry into Jerusalem to the cries of "Hosanna!" from the people. Beginning in verse 11 we pick up what happened next:

And Jesus went into Jerusalem, and entered the temple (enclosure); and when He had looked around, surveying and observing everything, as it was already late He went out to Bethany [house of affliction] together with the twelve.

On the day following, when they had come away from Bethany, He was hungry.

And seeing in the distance a fig tree [covered] with leaves, He went to see if He could find any [fruit] on it [for in the fig tree the fruit appears at the same time as the leaves]. But when He came up to it, He found nothing but leaves, for the fig season had not yet come.

And He said to it, No one ever again shall eat fruit from you. And His disciples were listening [to what He said]. (Mark 11: 11-14)

Jesus arrives to the exhalations of the crowds of people who have crowded into Jerusalem for the annual Passover celebration; a celebration of the liberation of the Israelites from their Egyptian overlords. He enters the temple, observes what is happening and then leaves for the day. The next morning as He and His disciples are returning to the Temple He sees a "fig tree" - in the distance. The tree is "covered" with leaves, meaning it SHOULD be "covered" with fruit [figs], but it's not.

In Hosea 9, verse 10 we find an explanation of the meaning of this verse.

I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness; I saw your fathers as the first ripe fruit on the fig tree in its first season; but they went to Baalpeor,* and consecrated themselves to [Baal] that shameful thing, and they became detestable and loathsome like that which they loved.

The fig tree is symbolic of the nation of Israel and as this verse tells us, the "fruit" of the fathers of the nation had never come into season, because of their continual "worshipping" of other gods. After observing the "religious" ceremonies at the Temple the day before - Jesus, on His way there again - is hungry for FRUIT, but He finds NONE. Only the "evidence" [i.e., leaves] that the fruit SHOULD be ripening on the tree. He curses the tree for its barrenness then He and His disciples continue on to Jerusalem.

And they came to Jerusalem. And He went into the temple (area, porches and courts) and began to drive out those who sold and bought in the temple area, and He overturned the (four-footed) tables of the money-changers and the seats of those who dealt in doves.

And He would not permit any one to carry any household equipment through the temple enclosure [thus making the temple area a short-cut traffic lane].

And He taught, and said to them, Is it not written, My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations? But you have turned it into a den of robbers. (Mark 11:15-17)

Now the Passover of the Jews was approaching, so Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

There He found in the temple enclosure those who were selling oxen and sheep and doves, and the money changers sitting there [too at the stands].

And having made a lash (a whip) of cords, He drove them all out of the temple enclosure, both the sheep and the oxen; spilling and scattering the brokers' money and upsetting and tossing around their trays - their stands.

Then to them that sold the doves He said, "Take these things away - out of here! Make not My Father's house a house of merchandise - a market place, a sales shop!" (John 2:13-16)

These two passages from Mark and John are important because this "cleansing of the temple" takes places the SAME DAY that Jesus has "cursed" the fig tree for not producing FRUIT. It is of "particular" interest to this study that it was to those who sold the "doves," that the Lord seems most incensed. Since the "dove" is a symbol of the Holy Spirit - and therefore, a symbol - still recognized today of the "church," we should pay particular attention to "what" the Lord is telling us in this passage.

The nation of Israel [represented by the "fig tree" verses]; is given to us immediately before the verses in Mark, where Jesus "overturns and rebukes" those who are buying/selling in the temple. He literally "whips" them OUT of the temple itself! He reminds all who are watching that His Father's House is to be a house of prayer - NOT! a house of merchandise.

The parallels to our modern-day church system can NOT be overlooked. These passages show us the Lord is very serious with those whose "seats are those who deal in doves," surrounded by the seeming sanctity of their temple enclosures, but in reality using that position - or "booth" if you will, to SELL THEIR WARES.

Continuing in Mark 11 we read:

And the chief priests and the scribes hear [of this] and kept seeking some way to destroy Him, for they feared Him, because the entire multitude was struck with astonishment at His teaching.

And when evening came on, He and [His disciples] as accustomed went out of the city. (Mark 11:18-19)

So, on the very day that Jesus cleanses the temple enclosure the chief priests and scribes seek some way to destroy Him.

Verse 20 tells us:

In the morning when they were passing along, they noticed that the fig tree was withered (completely) away to its roots.

The "fig tree" - has been completely destroyed - just as the buyers/sellers business was destroyed by the anger of the Lord. The tree has "withered" away TO ITS ROOTS!

Picking up the passage again in Mark 11, verse 27.

And they came again to Jerusalem. And when Jesus was walking about in the (courts and porches of the) temple, the chief priests and the scribes and the elders come to Him,

And they kept saying to Him, BY WHAT (SORT OF) AUTHORITY ARE YOU DOING THESE THINGS, OR WHO GAVE YOU THIS AUTHORITY TO DO THEM? (Mark 11:27-28)

The priests and scribes waste no time in coming to Jesus and demanding that He tell them by "whose authority" He has cleansed the temple. This takes place the day after He has done so. The religious leaders were given a percentage of all sales made in the courtyards of the temple, the "latest" golden calf. Jesus has cost these men, no doubt, quite a bit of money - considering it was the Passover when Jerusalem's population swelled from the influx of pilgrims who came to celebrate the feast. The priests and scribes consider themselves the "righteous authority" - those who judiciously followed the precepts set down by Moses in the Law. They were incensed that Jesus had not ONLY "cleaned out the temple enclosure" but boldly stated that "His" Father's house was a house of prayer - effectively taking back the authority of the temple that they considered theirs alone.

Jesus told them, I will ask you a question. Answer Me, and then I will tell you by what (sort of) authority I do these things.

Was the baptism of John from heaven or from men? Answer Me. (Mark 11:30-31)

The Lord's question puts the religious leaders in a quandary. Probably most of those present had seen and heard John preach. There are numerous verses in the Gospels that tell us that many of the Pharisees and Sadducees had gone to observe and find out what John's "mission" was. Certainly, none of the religious hierarchy could state that the authority for him to preach and baptize had come from men, for they all knew that he had no formal schooling or training; even though he was the son of a priest, (Luke 1:8) Their deliberations were further exacerbated by the fact that most of the people, now crowding around to hear their arguments, held John in high esteem.

So they replied to Jesus, We do not know. And Jesus said to them, Neither am I going to tell you what (sort of) authority I have for doing these things. (Mark 11:33)

Jesus effectively ends their argument "by whose authority" He had taken such actions the day before. For the priests and scribes are unwilling to categorically state that John had a divine commission from God. They are ALSO unwilling to state that his mission was from "man," since to their minds, that meant it could only have come from themselves. Added to all of this was their desire not to anger the crowds, who all held John to have been a prophet sent from God. John who dressed in an animal skin and ate wild locusts and preached a "fiery" gospel - John who had refused the religiosity of his lineage and lived alone in the wilderness. John who had said of Jesus, "He must increase, so I must decrease."

The following verses from Luke give us pause today, just as they must have caused the Lord's followers to pause and meditate when He first uttered them.

So then, whoever of you do not forsake - renounce, surrender claim to, give up, say good-bye too - all that he has cannot be My disciple.

Salt is good - an excellent thing; but if the salt has lost its strength and has become saltless (insipid, flat), how shall its saltiness be restored?

It is fit neither for the land nor for the manure heap; men throw it away. He who has ears to hear, let him listen and consider and comprehend by hearing! (Luke 14: 33-35)

PART III - The Smokehouse

One night in prayer the Lord showed me a "smokehouse." Inside hung large slabs of meat, curing. The Lord asked me what was used to preserve "meat." I answered "salt..." and He began to open up the revelation of how the "covenant of salt," related to the "cleansing of the temple," AND how it relates to the here and now. The verses in Mark are a "foreshadowing" of this day and age. Just as the Israelites became "saltless," so has the Lord's "church." He cursed the fig tree - representing Israel, and THEN "cleaned out the temple," from those who were buying and selling. God removed the "golden calf," yet again!

Today, is no different. The Lord is "separating" the sheep from the sheep. Those sheep that have been promoting themselves - or merchandising their positions, rather than remembering that His house is a HOUSE OF PRAYER, can expect no less of a reaction than the temple priests and moneychangers received from the Lord. The church has lost its "salt," and the "covenant of salt," which God ordained to be a perpetual covenant - one for both sons and daughters - that HE has appointed. The "covenant of salt," has become watered down to one person speaking from a pulpit! Don't forget! The FIRST "golden calf," was made by Aaron. Aaron effectively set into motion - by reason of his ALSO being High Priest - a false religious system as well as the one that God had ordained. This "false system," according to scripture is:

1) gods to go before the people (Exodus 32:1) 2) another god that had delivered the people OUT of Egypt (Exodus 32:4) 3) a god to give offerings too and one that allowed man - not God - to set "feast days." (Exodus 32:5) 4) a god to eat and drink and be merry with (Exodus 32:6) 5) a god to worship and sacrifice to (Exodus 32:8)

In other words, a "god(s)" that took the place of the One True God! Anything that is worshipped, be in a golden calf in reality, or a golden opportunity at the marketplace, is an abomination before God.

Jesus cursed the "fig tree" and it withered away at the ROOT.... And so - will, those sheep who have bought and sold from His house. The church has never abided by the perpetual covenant of salt that God made with Aaron's sons and daughters. Indeed, they have set up their own "golden calves," just as the Israelites did after they left Egypt. And those who object to this- are asked by "whose authority" they dare do so!

Just a couple of days ago I received several visions from Richard Sutcliffe who lives in South Africa. Realizing that what he had sent me tied in so well with what the Lord had shown me, I am using them (with his permission) in this article.

Richard wrote:

As I stood and looked I saw the church and it seemed to have no roof .

A LIGHT, the GLORY of GOD a circular shaft of LIGHT was shining through into the building from the top to the bottom.

When I looked again the LIGHT was a WAVE and it washed out the leadership, and I heard a voice say "Followship."

6 May 1999

It was morning, and I was praying and asking GOD about the controlling of the international money markets, and I heard "rottenness", and saw in the SPIRIT that the markets where rotten to the core with corruption, stealing, manipulation and every kind of vile thing. I saw the economy, it was black and looked like a half flat tire with a root holding on to something, It was very thin in comparison, to the whole. Just like a string on a balloon. I asked the LORD to set HIS ax to the root.

I was taken to ISAIAH 5: 24

Therefore, as the tongue of fire devours the stubble, and as the dry grass sinks down in the flame , so their root shall be like rottenness and their blossom shall go up like fine dust, (burnt paper rising?) because they have rejected and cast away the law and the teaching of the LORD of HOSTS and have not believed but have treated scornfully and have despised the word of the HOLY ONE of ISRAEL.

Then this afternoon while praying the LORD showed me that HE is all ready at war, and HIS power has been released, HE already has the victory. The nations have come against HIS power with every thing they have, and now their resources are drained. And there will be an economic collapse, and even a limited war.

Indeed - we must all seek and humble ourselves before the Lord in this day and hour and REFUSE to "go along" with any who put "golden calves" for us to worship in our paths! We can not allow the "priests and scribes" of our own day, no more than Jesus allowed them in His, to dictate how we should worship! When asked, "By Whose Authority?" do we deny the current church structure and those who have abused their positions, our best response is the Lord's response!

BY WHOSE BAPTISM DO YOU PREACH? FROM MEN OR FROM GOD?

* Baalpeor was a place of worship for the Moabites, Midanites and the Ammonites, see Numbers, Chapters 22-25. The incidents of the Israelites worshipping this deity would bring divine judgment for later generations.

The call is going forth. The shofar is being blown.
To call My Chosen Ones together.
I am calling those I have called...to formation.
The formation as of an army. The call to assemble.

The Attributes of My Chosen Ones

Olivia Reitz

Oct. 14, 2000

THE ATTRIBUTES OF MY CHOSEN ONES

You are My people ready to move out and take My Word to this nation and the nations of the world. I desire to redeem the lands but I need a people willing to step out and take My Word. You are that people, My Chosen Ones, a people prepared by My hand. This has been a long process, and you have been pressed in on all sides. Yes, I Am calling more but their preparation will not take as long, as the time is short. They will join you in the call, they will hold up your arms as Aaron did Moses. They will be your intercessors and your right hand.
I have been instilling My attributes into My chosen vessels. I am calling My chosen ones to "love", it is a great weapon. For though you speak with the tongues of men and angels and have not love, you become as sounding brass and clanging cymbals. For without Love, My move cannot accomplish what I intend for it to accomplish. I AM a God of love and compassion and I have been imparting love as one of the attributes to you, My Chosen ones. You must move in Love, for I AM Love. Also, you shall proclaim My judgment, but you must speak in Love, not vengeance, for vengeance is Mine, says the Lord.

As you go forth proclaiming My judgment, remember My mercy, for it endures forever.

A LOVE LETTER TO MY CHOSEN ONES

Olivia Reitz

To My chosen sons and daughters. You have been carefully chosen from an ordinary people to be made priests of mine, chosen for My Glory. I have purged you and made you fit for a Chosen Vessel. You have stood during the preparation time, not understanding, but you said, "yes, yes..." Now as revelation is coming to you, you say,

"yes..yes..!"

"Use me as your hand extended Lord - use me, your humble servant."

You have been experiencing My Glory, but from a distance. Very soon you will experience it beyond your comprehension of My Glory. Who can fathom My greatness? Only those, I am revealing it to, My Chosen.

Allow My Glory and greatness to be your food. Feed on My Word like never before. New revelations are open to you, for I am a glorious and awesome God.

The birthpangs have been laborious and long, a new life has emerged, a brand new life, with hope and new vision.

A life bearing the "Works of God". There is an excitement and a great expectation of being of the Mighty Work of God that this life was birthed for. There is a new awareness of who, I your God, really is.

You have been birthed with YOUR FATHER's LIKENESS. My love, My compassion, My grace, and My mercy for the lost. Do not be tainted by this world. Stay close to Me, allow Me to nurture you with My words.

There is a well springing up within you. A well of expectancy. It is building like a dam and is ready to burst forth. This bursting forth will bring forth unexpected miracles and also anticipated miracles. This will flood and touch your life and those around you. It is springing forth, even now. As the rains come in the natural, so the well is springing forth in the Spiritual from the rains of My Spirit.

Who will ascend the mountain of God, the Holy place? Those whom I have Chosen. Those with a clean heart, those who have sought My Heart. Those who have given up all, given their very lives for My service. As, you ascend into that Secret Place, I have called you to and am taking you....you will be surrounded by an awesomeness of Who I AM and what I AM doing in these days. A move like noneother has ever seen or experienced in this day. But, My Chosen will know it is My hand....It is Me, performing these mighty acts. Hold on, in anticipation of what I AM about to do THROUGH and IN My Chosen. Be ready.

I am an awesome God!

Come to Me

Wayne MacKay

I saw a picture of a church on a beach looking over the ocean. Typically what you would find in Cape Cod area. White with a tall steeple and white fencing around the church. I then saw Jesus come and stand on top of the church. After that I saw Daddy (God) with His face smiling down on the picture. His face filled the sky with radiance so bright you could not look up but you knew it was God shining down. Then I saw Jesus raise His hand and God spoke. The next thing a hurricane had developed. Jesus then raised His hand again and God spoke again. Next there were tornadoes. This happened several times with catastrophe after catastrophe. I saw the waves slamming into the earth and devouring large parts of it. Tornadoes chewed up the earth and the earth disappeared under the water. But the church was still standing and had a radiance around it. There were two magnets and the people were either drawn to the church or away from the church. There was no in-between.

I then felt like I was being taken up into an airplane to see what was happening. And this same thing was taking place all around the world. Some churches fell into the ocean and were devoured by the waves. While other churches were standing with a glow around them as if they were on an island. This scene happened all around the world. Lifelines were being thrown to the people in the water from those churches that were still remaining. Many people would not accept the help. Others were just blinded. If they did grab hold of the lifeline, even in their weakened condition a supernatural power pulled them up and saved them. But it was through this devastation that many were brought into the churches. Then everything seemed to end abruptly. The sun started to shine and the ocean receded. The earth was filled in and trees, flowers and grass grew instantly. People came out of the churches praising the Lord. They all greeted the people from other churches with open arms with an inner peace. For they all were the bride of Christ.

Along with the vision I felt the Lord saying the following:

It is time to stop playing church. Many churches say they know me but don't. The time of your existence is over. No more sitting on the fence. It is time to make a decision and stick with it. I LOVE every one of you. But I can't hold back my judgement any more. The time is quickly coming to an end. It is time to make the decision if you want to be in My kingdom or another. What will it be. Those that truly know Me will be saved. They will find solace in My house. For I am shaping and forming My church to be My bride. I come for a clean and spotless bride and that's what I'll find. I Love you My children. Come to Me. Forget the world and come to Me. I want every one of you. But I can no longer wait. Make a decision. For eternity is waiting for you.

Concerning Apostles And Prophets

Numbers 11:29 "And Moses said unto him, Enviest thou for my sake? would God that all the LORD'S people were prophets, [and] that the LORD would put his spirit upon them!"

The heart cry of those who are TRULY sent as a gift to the body as apostles and prophets will be IDENTICAL with the heart cry of the Father. That cry in their voice will be the same as Moses heart cry that we have just seen in Numbers, that ALL of God's children would be raised up to the full stature of a man, to full maturity.

The ministry of the apostle and prophet will be TEMPORAL in the sense that it's only purpose is to work with the Lord to raise up a NATION of prophets and apostles.

There is a desperate need of a shift in focus from apostles and prophets to the APOSTOLIC and PROPHETIC. In the former the focus is on the one sent while the latter is to focus on the goal or end product which is the maturing of the BRIDE.

The goal is to produce a people who are raised to full maturity, who fully reflect the nature and character of Jesus and who are thus capable of having the fullness of power placed upon them and the full stamp of approval of the Father upon them. The one(s) sent are simply instruments to meet the goal.

As the talk about the release of apostles and prophets escalates to gigantic proportions so does the deception concerning the purpose of the apostles and prophets.

Matthew 24: 5 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many.

Many shall come in Jesus name yet they will deceive many. I don't want to focus on what they said that will deceive many but rather the fact that they proclaimed "I am Christ". The proclamation out of their mouths is I AM ANOINTED, I AM A SENT ONE, I AM AN APOSTLE.

Note the focus of the "deceivers" is on being a "sent one" rather than bringing the body to maturity. Those being sent are not to bear a "title" or a "position" but rather POSSESS the ability to reproduce in others that which they have. They are thus constantly trying to bring others to the place of complete reliance on the Lord while working themselves out of a position.

That is something which can be done whether the body recognizes your calling or not. Those who are truly "sent" bear the seal of the Father in their forehead [mind] (Revelation 7 and 14). Those who are "sent" know they are sent and WHY they are sent. They need not proclaim WHO they are but rather "do the works which the Father has sent them to do". Their total focus is on bringing the Bride into the true place of worship, which is into the holy place.

1 John 2:27 "But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in Him."

The true [holy] place of worship is covered and unlike the "outer court" has no "natural" illumination. It's light is the golden candlestick which is fueled by the anointing oil. The illumination for those in the holy place is strictly from the Holy Spirit. Beside the golden lampstand is shewbread. Those brought into the holy place partake of the pure word of God. They no longer run "to and fro" being satisfied by what they are given but partake of the bread of life under the illumination of the Holy Spirit. They can now partake of and understand the deeper truths that the Father wishes to relate to us and with us. The joy of the true apostle and prophet is to watch those they have been sent to enter into the fullness of their inheritance in Christ Jesus. As they watch this they watch those under their care GROW UP and no longer need their ministry. Only the truly broken are able to rejoice in this.

The reason that multitudes were "deceived" by these "sent ones" proclaiming that they bore then 'anointing' is that they had no capability of reproducing Christ in others. Perhaps we may say it was not their goal to make a nation of apostles and prophets but rather be an apostle or prophet. They are "sterile" in spiritually and incapable of reproducing. Because of this, those who follow or gather themselves around such people never are lead to maturity and will inevitably be deceived.

Ephesians 4:14 That we [henceforth] be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, [and] cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive.

But such is life in the outer court. There is no capability of "understanding" in the outer court because it is only illuminated by natural light. And in this is the difference between the truly "sent" and the ones who "proclaim" they are sent. Those who are truly sent know that this is the case and at all personal cost (including recognition) seek to lead God's precious children from the outer court into the holy place where they can now worship the Father in spirit and in truth.

Those who send themselves wish to (either intentionally or not) keep the minds of God's precious children "darkened" by keeping them in the outer court. They thus build a ministry in the outer court instead of leading them into the place where only Jesus ministry exists, which is the holy place.

May we recognize and receive the ministry of the true apostles and prophets in this hour and seek to align ourselves with the goal of the Father which is to raise up a people who will come to full maturity.

Blessing in Christ Jesus,

Jim Rinker

Calendar

Ephraim Frank

Dear Messianic Israelite,

At this point in history the whole world's attention is drawn to the end of the Millennium, according to the calendar developed by Julius Cesar in 45 BC, honoring the sun god, Apollo, or Helios. Fifteen hundred years later Pope Gregory VIII revised this calendar for his religious purposes. These undertakings were used to help bring unity to the realms overseen by these two individuals; a king (Roman Cesar) and a priest (Roman Pope), hailing out of Nimrod's kingdom, changed the times and the seasons, as foretold by the prophets of old. However, this was not the first time that such changes had taken place. The Jews, during their stay in Babylon (6th century BC), failed to protect the sanctity of time and altered the Hebrew months, adopting the names of Babylonian gods, using the patterns of the Chaldean zodiac. But looking even further back in history; the first culprit to purposely set out to change the times and seasons, was an Ephraimite king called Jeroboam (10th century BC). Later on the scattered seed of Israel's northern kingdom spread the sin of Jeroboam into all the nations where they had gone (Jer. 3:13). That testimony can still be seen as the nations of this earth celebrate the end of a year, a century and a millennium, according to their non-biblical calendar. Unfortunately, these changes have been incorporated into, and are purported to center around, the birth of the "Messiah". But was He really born at that time, and was his birth intended to change the biblical calendar?

In today's world, with the rise of a restored ancient Greek political system called democracy, along with the efforts to reconcile the main monotheistic religions, man has devised a method of uniting the world around a single theme, "humanism". Humanism is a type of "Melchizedek order"; a kingly and priestly rule within one's own being. It could very well be that in the near future a temple will be built in Jerusalem, where the man of lawlessness will sit and rule over an anti-Christ system. But what we must also consider, since God calls man a temple, is that the man of lawlessness may be the person living inside his own body (or temple); man being lord of his own destiny, worshipping through pride the works of his hands, doing what is right in his own eyes, and deciding what is holy and profane. Humanism in its political and religious form is a direct counterfeit of God's kingdom in the earth. The Greeks established democracy in order to give the individual freedom, which would enable him to express the lusts of his own heart. The same is true today; the nations that have adopted this form of government have the highest rate of abortion, euthanasia, homosexuality, etc. They look for every opportunity to satisfy their lusts; setting times and seasons (feast days, birthdays), to indulge in food and drink resulting in gluttony, drunkenness and sexual promiscuity.

This freedom is symbolized by a statue, which stands in the harbor of New York City, called the Statue of Liberty. To those who are familiar with ancient Greek history, this modern day pictogram is very familiar. Around 290 BC, another such icon was erected, called the Colossus of Rhodes. Approximately three hundred tons of copper and iron were used to construct this "wonder of the ancient world." It was built as a tribute to their savior "Helios", who protected the islanders from being captured by an invading army. The sun god Helios, was an Egyptian god who according to legend took up residence on the island; later Helios became known as Apollo.

In a recent newspaper article, journalist John Rigos reports that the municipality of the city of Rhodes, aided by the European Union, is planning to rebuild this monument as a symbol of growing European unification and international peace and cooperation. In order to implement this theme of "new world in a new millennium", as it was coined, the monument may be made out of melted-down coins from "all the members of the European Union and from prospective candidates abandoning their individual currencies in favor of one euro".

Not surprisingly, the Europeans have also altered the arrangement of the weekly calendar, with “Sun-day” appearing as the last day, or seventh day of the week. The sun gods of the ancient empires were believed to give light and life. The Messiah came to do the same thing, thus it was not difficult to blend the two concepts. The purpose of the Gospel was also to bring peace, harmony and unity to humanity living in a world of wars, conflicts and strife between governments and religious factions. Political and spiritual leaders were always looking for the right combinations of governmental and religious ideals to advance their control and power over the populace. Constantine, in the 4th century, was one such leader who combined the “nativity of the Greek sun god”, with an alleged birth date of the Messiah. This was an intentional ploy on Satan’s part to deceive humanity and to lead it further away from the truth of God’s divine times and seasons. Thus, the celebration of the ancient festival of the sun god on the 25th of December was in reality honoring a more ancient Egyptian god, who during the Constantinian era was worshiped by thousands of followers of Mithraism.

The Torah gives us divine instructions on how to observe the calendar of YHWH. The enemies of Torah know the importance of a calendar as a tool, which keeps order in society. Without a calendar, humanity would be in a state of chaos. The current potential computer problem, termed Y2K, is a case in point. However, whether this situation will result in world pandemonium is yet to be seen. There are a few organizations and leaders who are saying that the new world order must be birthed out of chaos. However, although we may not see these changes overnight, they will definitely occur in the near future.

We, as God’s redeemed, have been exhorted to seek first His kingdom and His righteousness, being holy (separate) as He is holy. Since we have been set apart to be the witness of His kingdom of righteousness peace and joy, what kind of people ought we to be in holy conduct and godliness? (2 Pet. 3:11). To be in the world but not of it, certainly would mean that we do not participate in pagan practices, nor mix them into the Torah that is being written on our hearts. The times and the season are in YHWH’s hands. “So let us be sober, knowing the time that it is already the hour for us to awaken from sleep; for now our salvation is nearer to us than when we believed. The night is almost gone, and the day is at hand. Let us therefore lay aside the deeds of darkness and put on the armor of light. Let us walk properly as in the day, not in carousing and drunkenness, not in sexual promiscuity and sensuality, not in strife and jealousy. But put on Messiah Yeshua, and make no provision for the flesh in regards to its lusts” (Rom 13:11-14).

Vision/Word Called and Separated for His Kingdom Purposes

I was taken through a fine arts gallery in a vision. I could see that all of the pictures were special and that they were displayed with great care. To the right side of each picture was the title and a description of each picture.

I noticed that some pictures stood out from the other's and that were separated from the all the other pictures in the gallery. I noticed a man sitting in a chair guarding them.

I heard these Words from the Holy Spirit: Notice the fine details in each of these pictures. The artist took great care and attention with each stroke of his brush. So it is with those that are called and separated for God's Kingdom purposes. They have gone through many trials and testing, which have produced much fruit in their lives. The details in their private lives are as important to God as their public lives. They have remained steadfast to preach the gospel of Christ, their faith is more valuable than gold. 1Peter 1:6-7(NIV) In this you greatly rejoice, though now for a little while you may have had to suffer grief in all kinds of trials. These have come so that your faith-of greater worth than gold, which perishes even though refined by fire-may be proved genuine and may result in praise, glory and honor when Jesus Christ is revealed.

As our faith is tested and refined, may God's light shine forth!

Call it a Dream

Bob Neumann

Call it a dream if you like, it started out gentle and wondrous. Simply standing in meadow filled with clover and wild flowers. Probably a great place for sheep to munch. It was quiet, serene in fact. All the "stuff" of the world just seemed to melt away as I just kept still and soaked in HIS PEACE. I was awaiting THE SHEPHERD because this certainly looked like prime grazing land.

As I waited I could smell the grass and clover, something I had not smelled since very long ago. Then I realized I was smelling the "rain" on the grass. You know that "clean" smell that defies man-made scents. it was then I noticed I was wearing a pair of well worn work boots that were wet from walking through the tall grass and clover. Only I had not been walking, merely standing and being filled by the PEACE of the place. In a while I noticed the setting sun and the cool breeze on my face. It was not my SHEPHERD I was waiting for it seems. Yet I was in neither a garden or a vineyard and this was not HIS THROWN ROOM but it did not matter. It had been so long since I had walked with my ABBA, or even heard HIS VOICE. It had been near YOM KIPPUR since I sat with HIM last.

So I waited and just "rested" for what seemed a long time. Afternoon had passed into twilight and the light slowly faded. Darkness and ABBA had never been points that came together so I pondered what it all was leading to. Not for the first time I rebuked myself for thinking too much and being impatient. Waiting and watching still does not come easily.

Slowly I noticed a new scent in the night breeze, a breeze no longer cool. Chilly is more accurate. Yet I could smell HIM. A mixture of jasmine and fruit blossoms is best I can describe. Stronger than apple or pear, more subtle than orange. Light like lemon but unmistakably unique. As I waited the scent became stronger and it seems HE stepped over a hill I had not noticed and was strolling toward me.

When I first walked with HIM in HIS VINEYARD I saw the WISE AND CAREFUL FATHER who tended THE VINE. More recently I have seen HIM as THE ANCIENT OF DAYS WHOSE WORDS SHAPED AND DIRECTS THE UNIVERSE. But now all I saw was my ABBA who I suddenly missed terribly. And like the Prodigal HE received me with open arms and tender words. After a time I now think as so short HE simply said "WALK WITH ME."

We walked casually in the direction of HIS CHOOSING and after awhile came to THE RIVER and THE GARDEN. We sat down on a stone bench where THE RIVER moved with a strong current. We sat quietly as I watched THE WATER CHURN and LISTENED to the TORRENT. At the same time I felt THE BREEZE pick up and it too had a SOUND. It was engrossing, the sound and the feel and the sight of it all. Then I began to feel the beginning mist of a night rain. The rain I could smell, and hear, and feel, and taste. It was a cold rain. The slow steady rain that a dry land cries for. THE RAIN....THE WIND....THE RIVER are all images of HIS MOST HOLY SPIRIT... HIS BREATH that GIVES LIFE. I wondered if I was understanding whatever message I was to learn when a flash of LIGHTNING and A ROLE OF THUNDER shook the sky above us. SPRING STORM came into my spirit man as I looked into HIS FACE and saw GENTLE PEACE smile upon me.

"SON", HE began, "YOU FELT THE BREEZE BEFORE YOU HEARD IT. YOU SAW THE RIVER BEFORE YOU HEARD IT. BUT YOU SAW AND HEARD AND SMELLED AND TASTED AND FELT THE STORM AS IT BEGAN. EVEN IN THE DARKNESS YOU KNEW THE STORM WAS HERE. THOSE WHO KNOW THE BREEZE KNOW THE STORM FOLLOWS. THERE ARE MANY BREEZES JUST AS THERE ARE MANY CURRENTS IN THE RIVER." "MY SPIRIT EBBS AND FLOWS IN AND AROUND MY CHILDREN WITHOUT STOP. LIKE THE TIDE IT HAS HIGHS AND LOWS WHICH THOSE WHO STUDY MY WAYS CAN FOLLOW WITHOUT TROUBLE. THE WISE SERVANTS ARE STUDENTS WHO KNOW THE SUNRISE AND THE SUNSET, THE NEW MOON AND THE FULL MOON. THOSE WHO HAVE PROVEN THEMSELVES KNOW WHEN MY SPIRIT FLOWS AND WHEN IT IS HELD. ANTICIPATING MY WILL PLEASES ME, ATTEMPTING TO ORCHESTRATE AROUND IT DOES NOT." "SPONTANEITY AND DIVERSITY I GREATLY ENJOY. VAIN REPETITION AND CONTRIVED MANIPULATION I HAVE NEVER ASKED FOR. WATCH THE CHILDREN AND YOU WILL SEE THAT THE YOUNGEST ARE THE FREEST AND THE MOST SIMPLE AND SINCERE."

With that HE STOOD and looked out upon THE RIVER. As I watched THE RIVER slowly widened and flowed faster. I watched as THE MIGHTY RIVER churned and the waters turned white and frothy. I thought that I was watching a flood begin and HE CORRECTED me.

"THIS IS NOT A FLOOD, SHEMUEL, FOR A FLOOD LEAVES IT'S BANKS AND IS UNCONTROLLED. THIS IS THE RIVER THAT FLOWS FROM THE MOUNTAIN, ALIVE AND WITH POWER. WHERE MANY STREAMS COME SUDDENLY TOGETHER TO MAKE ONE. THE RIVER SPEAKS TO THE SPIRITS WHO DRINK OF THE LIVING WATER. YOUR SPIRIT AND ALL THOSE WHO HAVE EATEN AND DRANK OF MY SON. THOSE WHO HAVE BEEN BORN OF MY SPIRIT WILL BE AS ONE TOGETHER AS I AND MY SON ARE ONE. HE PRAYED THAT THIS WOULD BE SO AND MADE ACCESS FOR YOU AND ALL MY CHILDREN TO WALK WITH ME AND BE ONE WITH ME. I HONOR HIS PRAYER AS HE HONORED ME AND DRANK THE CUP AND BORE THE INIQUITY OF ALL MEN". "SO WHY SON DO SO FEW SEEK TO WALK WITH ME?" The answer "bubbled up" out of my spirit man as easily as breathing. "Because they have not followed HIM to the place of their death, ABBA." "WHY WOULD THEY NOT FOLLOW HIM AS HE HAS ASKED?". "they have not been taught, ABBA.", I answered quickly. "YES, SON, THEY WERE NOT TAUGHT, BUT WHO TAUGHT YOU?"....

and I suddenly "caught" it..... "You did ABBA".....I replied quietly..... "YES, SON...AND NO. THE FIRST TIME YOU SAW AND HEARD ME WAS IN MY VINEYARD. REMEMBER TO COME TO ME IS THROUGH MY SON. TO FIND MY SON YOU MUST HEAR MY SPIRIT WHO WHISPERS LIKE THE BREEZE AND ROARS LIKE THUNDER. WE ARE ONE, AND WE ARE MORE. THEY DO NOT FOLLOW BECAUSE THEY DO NOT HEAR. MANY WHO DO HEAR CHOOSE NOT TO LISTEN. THEN MANY WHO LISTEN HAVE CHOSEN NOT TO OBEY. THESE ARE THE ONES WHO SPEAK MY NAME FREELY AND SERVE THEMSELVES."

With that last statement ABBA turned away from THE RIVER and I stood in that place between time and space. Before me stood the KING OF GLORY who stood quietly. Yet I could still feel ABBA'S PRESENCE and hear HIS VOICE and smell HIM. Sort of out of nowhere I "heard" a section of a post about the Grammy awards and the performance of certain rock stars. I had paid little attention to the posts and the confusion on the internet about the translation of a Spanish name and certain lyrics. I had not "felt" THE MOST HOLY SPIRIT and had basically ignored it. Then ABBA asked.... "WHY WERE THEY WATCHING THIS?".....

and I had no answer. I thought of all the useless things I have seen and done and had no excuse for myself, so I answered "I don't know, LORD." immediately came a second question, but this time it was from THE KING and it was in the VOICE OF COMMAND.

" WHAT VALUE TO MY KINGDOM DO I RECEIVE FROM SERVANTS WHO WATCH/INVOLVE THEMSELVES IN SUCH ACTIVITY?". with that I got rocked down to my toes for I know how little fruit comes from keeping your face and mind in BABYLON AND EGYPT. like the exslaves in the wilderness who kept their idols and passed them on to their children, ignoring the same commandments they told MOSES they would obey. I realized how hypocritical I am because I still do things that are dead and fruitless... again I answered "I don't know".

then I heard that sweet gentle VOICE whisper in my spirit man.... "HOW DOES THIS EXHORT, COMFORT, AND INSTRUCT THE CHILDREN AND YOUNGER SERVANTS I HAVE PLACED IN YOUR CARE?". suddenly I felt a grief inside because I took this personally. in the last few weeks I have been angered and simply irked by much of what has gone on within the "prophetic community". the deluge of bizarre and unscriptural anecdotes that were labeled as "prophetic" and "anointed" had left me jaded and without compassion. in my spirit was one ugly term and it fitted me to a T....hubris. I looked at MY KING and I felt HIS SADNESS. I could have/should have done better. I could have tried harder and not tried to ignore these things. yet even now I do not know what I could have done. but I had not asked HIM anything more than whether it was a fight HE wanted me to join. HE SAID 'NO' and I had dropped it. I had looked at it as just a battle between "spirits" and forgotten that HIS SHEEP were in the crossfire. I had forgotten that HIS SHEEP come first.

the next thing I knew I was falling....not far...into a dark place of muck and mire.

two things were obvious....I was naked.....and I was not alone.... the muddy water was almost waist deep and the stench of death and rot was pervasive. the sense of "deja vu" was strong...I had been here before. but things were different....the last time here I was the aggressor...armed and armored. a table had been turned. and I was not going to get through this in my flesh. I could hear, but the noises came from all directions.... I could smell, but everything stank.... I could see, but I was in utter darkness..... so I closed my eyes and waited....and prayed.... there was no where to run....and the only ONE who could get me out had put me here for HIS REASONS....so begging for forgiveness only went so far....a lesson had to be learned the "hard" way...

as I prayed the "panic" slowly receded and I "felt a breeze", as crazy as that sounds. and a song came to my spirit and I recalled who sends THE GENTLE BREEZE....and I began to "see" in HIS SPIRIT. and I remembered....and I waited.

it came slowly and quietly. yet I saw and heard it as it circled me. it chose to attack from the back. good tactics if the prey is unknowing and unexpecting. somewhere along the lyrics of that song I had remembered whose I am and who I serve. I am not the prey. I am a predator....

I thought it was a snake, and I felt at peace and centered. I attacked....the last thing it appeared to expect.

in the second heaven I had "encountered" snakes before. this one differed in three ways. first it was a whole lot bigger than any snake that had slithered in the natural. the head was a good foot and a half wide. I had hold of it below the head and it was too big around for my hands to control. so I locked it between elbow and chest. it was writhing in the muck that I noticed the second difference....it spoke to me. it was neither subtle nor enticing. enraged is more accurate..... and then the third difference....it had claws...several pairs I would guess.... it was hard to count. but they were sharp.

when it became apparent that I could not break the beast's neck, it began to mock my efforts. it basically did all the "talking" and I got more than an earful about it's invulnerability and the outcome I would have. about that time I thought how nice it would have been to have a short sword again and it sort of read my mind. and mocked my "nakedness". that I had been put here to be punished for my pride and disobedience.

now that was a lie... as were the comments of being forsaken and condemned.... and somewhere in my spirit man I thought...."why am I here".... and the old line about "can you take what you dish out" sort of flowed on by....so I let go with my right hand and thought "HAMMER/ANVIL" and began pounding it's eyes.....

I had never heard a demon scream before. from that point on the thrashing and writhing and clawing had one goal... to escape being pounded. how long I kept it up I do not know. how much actual damage I caused I could not tell. but after awhile the thrashing slowed and I "sensed" we were not alone. others were joining the "party". in my spirit I know there were at least two others. their approach was stopped when I let go of the first "beast". it slithered away and I stood still and waited. the "others" kept their distance as I caught my breath. after a while of this I suddenly was back in that place "between" and THE KING stood waiting. HE stood casually watching me, arms across HIS CHEST. "WHAT HAVE YOU LEARNED, DOG?", HE ASKED.

if anyone tells you that you do not feel pain in dreams and visions, they have only had nice ones. my body ached and my arms felt like lead. even now I really do not know what I learned in all this....in time I pray I will. what I was then told is sufficient.

"IMAGINE DOG, THAT ALL THOSE WHO TRUST IN BABYLON AND TURN TO EGYPT ARE IN THE SAME CONDITION YOU FOUND YOURSELF IN. NAKED, DEFENSELESS, AND IN THE DRAGON'S DOMAIN. ALL WHO TRUST IN MAN AND THIS WORLD, NO MATTER THEIR TITLES OR POSITIONS WILL FIND THEMSELVES FACING THE DRAGON OF THE NILE WITHOUT HOPE. BECAUSE THEY HAVE NO USE FOR PRAYERS NOW, THEIR PRAYERS THEN WILL NOT BE HEARD". on hearing that I got a chill then, and a chill now as I type this. I wondered about the fact I survived the encounter....and HE ANSWERED..... "THE ENEMY IS BY NATURE A COWARD. ALL YOU HAVE TO DO IS STAND AND RESIST. YOU'VE BEEN DOING THAT FOR YEARS, OLD DOG. WOLVES AND SNAKES LIKE CHEAP EASY MEALS. THEY PREY ON THE WEAK AND DEFENSELESS, THE UNKNOWING AND UNDISCERNING. OLD DOGS LIKE YOU ARE EXACTLY WHAT THEY DO NOT WANT TO RUN INTO. DEAD MEN TAKE THEIR TOLL ON THE ENEMY'S SCHEMES."

HE looked at me with that quiet grin of HIS, knowing I had a question in the back of my mind. "ARE YOU EAGER TO FACE THE OTHER DRAGONS, DOG?". "no LORD," I replied, "but will I have a sword when I do?" "YOU SEEMED TO DO WELL ENOUGH WITHOUT YOUR KEVLAR BOXERS"..... now that was funny, but I was not happy about letting the one get away. and I told HIM so. "DOG", HE BEGAN, "YOU CANNOT KILL THESE DRAGONS. IN SPITE OF THE COMMON OPINIONS YOU CANNOT KILL DEMONS. ALL THOSE CUTE IDEAS OF CHOPPING AND DICING THE DEMONIC IS JUST THAT. CUTE IDEAS AND NOT IN MY WORD." at that point I began to wonder what had happened in the past. "THOSE UNHAPPY ENOUGH TO HAVE ENCOUNTERED YOU IN EITHER THE FIRST OR SECOND HEAVEN ARE NO LONGER THERE. THEY AWAIT THEIR CHANCE TO RETURN TO THESE REALMS FOR THE LAST BATTLES." suddenly I realized HE was speaking of THE ABYSS....the place of incarceration.....far less than the LAKE OF FIRE..... HE NODDED and we talked for awhile longer..... and I woke up.....

if anyone has some interesting interpretation feel free to tell me. if anyone has an answer to the three questions, especially for # 3 please tell me. to "exhort" and to "comfort" is open ended....but to instruct assumes someone has something you want to learn. many people are eager to teach where no one has asked. few seem to be asking. so where does this take us.

Canada, The Nations Of The World Await You!

James Berkley

1/7/00

BELOVED CHURCH OF CANADA,

Beloved of the Lord! The nations of the earth await you! I am raising you up this hour for the healing of many troubled nations. Kings shall come to bow before me and nations shall be saved as the light of your countenance goes forth.

Isa 60:1-3 Arise, shine; for your light has come! And the glory of the LORD is risen upon you. ... the LORD will arise over you, and His glory will be seen upon you. The Gentiles shall come to your light, and kings to the brightness of your rising. (NKJ)

A GREAT MISSIONARY MOVEMENT... A great missionary movement is about to arise in Canada. Not like the ones before. This will be an army of prayer warriors filled with the passion and zeal of the Lord! They will have hearts filled with strategies from heaven! Many cities of the world will be swept into the Kingdom as hundreds and even thousands of interceding Christians go in the power of the Holy Spirit! These new moves of God will soon begin to eclipse the established mission efforts. Most of those now on the mission fields will welcome the fresh troops and fresh move of God and will lend their resources to fuel these efforts. Russia, Britain, France and Germany are among those nations who are about to be impacted in a major way. Even Egypt is about to see a great underground church arise out of the rubble of persecution.

FRANCE... has never seen what it is about to see. In spite of violent resistance, there will be a breakthrough on a mass level. Signs and wonders will be released in the very streets. House church movements will arise and flourish as great gifts of physical and emotional healing are released. Once again, that ugly spirit that hates the prophets and kills those who are sent to her will arise in this nation and attempt to wear down and discourage the saints. This will only prevail for a season! Then there will be an awesome breakthrough! The floodgates will open and the living water will run freely in the streets! The blood of the martyrs has not yet been answered like it is about to! Your greatest harvest is at still at hand! Be encouraged! The Lord is coming to you! He is clothed with blood and bears a maple leaf! You will see it!

DO NOT WORRY ABOUT RESOURCES... Those who surrender to the call to the nations will find an abundance of grace and resources. The Lord is now preparing the pastors and Church leaders to release and bless those who are being sent. In many cases the pastors themselves who will go. Finances and prayer support will follow those who are truly called and ready to go.

A NEW CRY... A new cry will arise among the younger members of the church, primarily 40's and under! The cry is "Father, give us the nations as our inheritance!" (Ps. 2:) This will be birthed out of prayer. As intercession increases in the church so will this cry for the nations increase. It will be birthed out of the Father's heart. As we obey the words of our Lord Jesus that, "My Father's house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations", the cry for salvation of whole nations will arise. AMEN!

CHECK YOUR HEARTS... Check your hearts! See if the Father has not already planted His holy desire for the nations in your heart. Which nation(s) have been planted in your heart? The Lord plants those nations in our hearts so the Kingdom of God can be birthed and flourish as we pray. "Is it not written, 'My house shall be called a house of prayer for all nations'? Mark 11:17 (NKJ)

STRONGHOLDS OF THE KINGDOM... There will be strongholds of the Kingdom of God established in many cities of the world. As these strongholds are established, great resources in people and finances will be poured into them until the church in that city explodes into the surrounding regions and nations! In Germany and France there is about to be great breakthrough. Even Egypt is about to see a great underground church arise out of the rubble of persecution.

CANADA'S MAPLE LEAF, A SYMBOL OF HEALING FOR THE NATIONS! It is no mistake that there is a maple leaf on your flag. You have always been a peace-loving people among the nations. There is a heritage in the heart of the Heavenly Father for you. It is HEALING FOR THE NATIONS!

Rev 22:2 2 In the middle of its street, and on either side of the river, was the tree of life, which bore twelve fruits, each tree yielding its fruit every month. The leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. (NKJ)

ARISE, O CHURCH OF CANADA! So ARISE O CHURCH OF CANADA! THE LORD IS CALLING YOU TO THE FATHER'S HOUSE OF PRAYER! HE INVITES YOU TO HEAR THE CRY S OF THE PEOPLES OF THE EARTH! HE INVITES YOU TO RECEIVE WITH YOUR LORD JESUS A BROKEN HEART FOR THE PEOPLES OF THE WORLD! HE INVITES YOU TO..." "...Ask of Me, and I will give You the nations for Your inheritance, and the ends of the earth for Your possession." Ps 2:8 (NKJ)

Canada in the Throne Room

Linda Patterson

August 12, 2000 I saw a hand reach down over the nation of Canada. The nation was rolled up and lifted into the Throne Room of God. Like a scroll I saw Canada rolled out and spread over a table. Although it looked like a map it seemed to be alive.

I heard the words, "Canada arise! Arise to your destiny!"

There was a hazy, smoky film around the table. I believe this was the incense of the prayers of the saints throughout the ages for Canada.

Embers were glowing and the Lord leaned over and breathed upon them gently. Fires started burning brightly in various provinces and territories. There was much excitement and activity and I sensed that angels were being dispatched by the Lord.

As the vision faded I heard "O Canada we stand on guard for thee" being sung and echoed throughout the heavens.

Prayer:

Thank you Father for our glorious nation. May your end times plans and purposes for Canada be fulfilled. Let revival fires burn within the hearts of your people. May we rise up and possess this land of Canada which has been held in captivity for too long.

As the wind of your Spirit blows and ignites a glorious flame across Canada, I pray that this fire would spread forth to the nations and join with the fires burning there to create a mighty revival throughout the earth.

Yoked with Jesus

Linda Patterson

August 7, 2000

As I was in my watch with the Lord early this morning, I was reminded of a vision that I had two weeks ago. Doug and I were holding a workshop on discerning God's voice. One of the women on our team was leading worship. This was a stretch for her because although she had taken piano for many years, she had never lead worship with a group. During the course of the day I had a vision of this woman standing at the keyboard and I saw Jesus superimposed over her playing the keyboard through her, singing and laughing having a wonderful time. She was yoked together with Jesus.

Take my yoke upon you and learn from me for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy and my burden is light Matt. 11:29

"As you open your spirit to Me and allow Me to live, to move and to flow through you, the joy, the peace will bubble forth. For My precious ones what I am asking you to do for me is not to be done alone. It is a joint effort. We are bonded together in love. Many of My people have Me locked up in one little compartment when I cry out to be Lord of all.

You are My body, My beloved, My bride. Open your spirit to Me, move with Me, flow with Me, waltz with Me. Together we are a symphony of love and grace. Allow Me to increase through you in power. Allow My glory to shine forth through you. Be ablaze with My radiant love. Together we blast through the storms of life, through the joys and through the sorrows. For truly in you I desire to live and move and have My being!"

Capernaum

Todd Bentley

CAPERNAUM: A HUB OF HEALING, SIGNS AND WONDERS by Todd Bentley

toddbentley@hotmail.com

As I was on the airplane flying to Coos Bay Oregon for a recent series of meetings. The Holy Spirit gave me this word for the region and state of Oregon. I believe that the principals and prophetic strategies of this word on Changing your spiritual climate has prophetic keys to Opening the Heavens for miracles and Healing in all Regions. Please take the time to prayerfully consider what the Holy Spirit may want to say to you in your city or nation about Capernaum!!

The Holy Spirit said I am changing the spiritual Climate over the state of Oregon. I am rending the heavens for an outpouring of Healing's and miracles. I will cause there to be a strong contrast between what has been the atmosphere of Oregon like unto Nazareth and bring a transformation in the heavens like unto Capernaum.

Capernaum Vs Nazareth

Capernaum by the Sea of Galilee was a city in the region of Zebulun and Naphtali which became the hub for the healing miracle ministering of Jesus in to the surrounding Regions, cities and towns. It was in Capernaum that Jesus healed the paralytic in Mark ch 2 and continued in mighty signs and wonders in Mark 3 with the creative healing of the man with the withered hand, In matt Ch 8 we see the healing of the leper, the centurion servant and in verse 16, " When evening had come, they brought to him many who were demon-possessed. And he cast out the spirits with a word, and healed all who were sick."

All these miracles and healings took place in Capernaum, As well as the raising of the dead with Jairus's daughter and the healing of the woman with the issue of blood in Mark ch 5.

As we move from the Mighty manifestations of miracle healing in Mark 5 in Capernaum we immediately arrive in Nazareth in Mark 6:5 it declares" Now he could do no mighty works there, except that he laid hands on a few sick people and healed them."

The atmosphere and spiritual climate in Capernaum was ripe for healing but Nazareth had brass heavens and hindered the healing anointing because of familiarity and unbelief. The word of God declares "He could do no mighty miracles" It is not that he didn't want to do mighty healing but the corporate unbelief and familiarity of the people caused the heavens to be closed and limited the ministry of Jesus.

The Holy Spirit said that Oregon State had been like it was in Nazareth in that he could only do but a few miracles because of the spiritual climate. Familiarity and unbelief have caused there to be a hardness in the heavens. But the Lord says that the heavens shall open and it shall be even as it was in Capernaum in that Oregon with be a hub into the world and northwest for Healings, Signs and Wonders.

Changing your spiritual Climate

I believe that the Holy Spirit showed me in the natural there was nothing different about Jesus, his faith and anointing in Nazareth vs. Capernaum, but that in Capernaum the heavens were open and in Nazareth they were closed. Jesus's anointing and faith were the same but the impact of his ministry was different from one city to the next.

In the last couple of years as I have traveled and seen hundreds if not more healings and miracles, I have noticed that I can do everything the way I did it in a great healing explosion in one city and do the same elsewhere and see different results. What is happening in heavens in the region where I am can limit the effectiveness of the anointing and what God does.

Two things about Nazareth that hindered a greater release of Power of God and Healing were familiarity and unbelief. In Mark 6:3 the bible declares that "is this not the carpenter, the son of Mary, and brother James, so they were offended at him" The operation of familiarity hinders the anointing because we no longer know a man after the spirit but the flesh, and the word of God declares that when you receive a Prophet in the name of a Prophet you receive the Prophets reward.

Appreciation and honoring always are connected to the anointing. In Acts 5:12 the bible declares "And through the hands of the Apostles many signs and Wonders were done among the people" verse 13 "the people esteemed them highly. That word for esteem is to show respect and make large.

The more we go out of our way to know a man for who he is in God and not the flesh, and begin to treat all the servants of God as if we were receiving Jesus himself we would set them free to deposit in our lives all that God has. In the body of Christ we have so many attitudes of well who are you? And let's see if your as good as I heard, Show me the goods.

We have competition and jealousy in our hearts. We want to judge and fault pick, tear down ministry. We prefer ministry based on name and give more respect to the man who we think is more popular. A large percentage of people in the body of Christ have rebellion in there hearts toward leadership. We struggle with submission and servant hood.

I know that in many instances there have been abuse and control issues in the church and that has made some gun shy. At the same time we have attitudes of well what do you they have that I don't. I believe that as close as I get to someone in ministry I must never cross that line of "Common" I must separate man and gifting. I never want to lose respect for Christ in you regardless of the faults I see and how close we get I still fear and regard who God has made you and the anointing you have for the body of Christ.

I was in South Africa this year and amazed at the level of respect and servant hood in the body. They called everyone on the team Pastor, High regard for ministry. They were offended if they couldn't carry your bag and considered it an honor to get you a glass of water and serve. In South Africa the young people dared not speak against the leaders, and it all seemed to be done in love and honor. They were so concerned for all the details of your life and comfort. They gave the same treatment to us as they would Reinhardt Bonnke or Benny Hinn.

They know ministries by name but all are treated equal. "No big shots." I have been in places in USA where what they would do for a bigger name ministry they wouldn't do for you. We favor one another on the basis of whom we think you are and how large your name is.

I believe that when we began to treat the one that seems to be least in the body of Christ as the one with a international name the same, we will see that familiarity spirit come down and the power of God released in a greater way. Let's go out of our way to prefer and esteem one another highly.

I believe that we can see a change come to the spiritual climate of our region and city when we recognize that over North America there is a spirit of unbelief set up in the nation because of the unbelief in the hearts of Church Leaders and the body of Christ.

You may have faith for healing and a miracle ministry and see a few sick healed but if we are going to see the release of the coming healing revival then we need to see a change in the heavens nationally through corporate prayer. Intercessors and churches that will stand in the Gap like Daniel for the sins of familiarity and unbelief in the nation. Identification and repentance.

Join me in prayer by repenting on behalf of those leaders and saints in the Body of Christ who don't believe in healing and miracles anymore. Let us ask God to forgive them and us for every time we have embraced doubt and religion rather than Faith and Power. We can see a greater release of healing come when we have a high regard for one another in the grace that God gave us and choose to walk in Faith.

I want to see us cleanse the spiritual atmosphere of the nation through corporate prayer and repentance.

Captain of the Lord of Hosts

Bill Burns:

July 16, 2000:

I come to you as the Captain of the Lord of Hosts to deliver My people, for it is ordained that My church must be delivered. It is written that I have come to deliver every captive. I have walked among you today in the anointing of repentance, to bring repentance to your hearts. Then, I bring restoration. My purpose today has been to build you up and edify you and to remove the burdens from you that you might walk in freedom and liberty and that you might walk with much joy in your hearts. I say, the joy of the Lord is your strength. I have wrapped you in My arms with compassion, and I have touched you with My hands to release joy. I have come to impart anointing that your spirits may be set free to move towards heaven on wings of eagles that I might show you that which is yet to come and that you might find an inward strength, a superior strength to that which you have had because you KNOW Me today, for I have walked among you and touched you. Surely the waters of joy shall break forth upon you, and they are living waters, and they are waters that give My people life. I give unto you peace and joy and say, enJOY Me in your walk. ENJOY My presence. ENJOY Me when I come to you. Then, you shall receive that which I have for you. Thus saith the Lord, your Friend!

Words from the Lord to Marsha Burns:

July 17, 2000:

I am reminded this morning of a dream I had a few nights ago. In the dream Bill and I had built a campfire in what seemed like a deserted place when a woman walked up to us and asked if we had seen the house. We told her we didn't know of any house, and she went on to describe a house that had been mysteriously abandoned and urged us to go look at it. The house was surprisingly close to where we were, and as we walked into the house, we sensed the spiritual emptiness, almost a spirit of death. We went from room to room noticing that a family had lived there and had been about life as usual when they suddenly were removed either of their own volition or by an outside force. In either case, the mystery remained. The details of the rooms were very vivid. I remember going into what was obviously a girl's room. Though her room was tidy, the things she had been busy with were still on her bed and desk. There was a washing machine at one end of her room where she had been doing laundry. I looked inside the machine, and it still contained water and articles of clothing. That scene was indicative of the entire house, neat and tidy for the most part, yet evidence of the family going about their daily affairs before their disappearance. There was a cake in the kitchen half-frosted, yet it had become as hard as stone.

As I contemplate this dream one more time, I hear the Lord saying that many of you are about to abandon life as usual. And, I hear my spirit asking Him, "Lord, is it by their own choice or by force." He says, it is both. The enemy has come to destroy families and the blessings that I have bestowed upon them. The mystery is that the abandonment will seem to be by choice, but will be motivated by the powers of darkness. Those who are not willing to stand and fight to maintain what I have called them to, will most certainly abandon My perfect will and will take nothing with them. This is a great tragedy.

July 18, 2000:

Beloved, I call some of you Marah for you have become bitter, angry and discontented. You have formed judgments in your heart that come from a root of bitterness. You have judged and made comparisons that come from your own flesh desires and motivations. Your focus has turned inward, and your selfishness has become more important in these current circumstances than godliness, for you have become spiritually nearsighted, even to the point of blindness. I say to you, Marah, rise up out of this egocentric pit and seek My will. For, I will certainly rescue those who have a heart after Me and set your feet on the path of the just and establish your ways.

July 19, 2000:

I had a quick vision of an old jalopy stuck in the mud. And the Lord says to those who feel dilapidated and run down, you are feeling unloved, unappreciated and unworthy. You feel old and useless in many ways, and you have become stuck in that mindset. But, I say to you, the only thing that causes you to be useless is that you have believed the lie that you have no value. You are valuable to Me. You are My own special treasure, unique, matchless and peculiar. I have a specific and perfect plan for you that is unlike any other. But, this plan cannot be implemented as long as you are stuck in your rut. Rise up, and anoint yourself with the oil of gladness, for I will cause you to come out of that place of neglect, and I will restore, renovate, rejuvenate, repair and rebuild that which has come to ruin.

July 21, 2000:

Behold, I give you power to tread upon serpents and scorpions and over all the power of the enemy so that nothing shall by any means hurt you. Did you hear Me? I have given you authority over the enemy and his tactics against you! Why, then, do you allow the enemy to trample you under foot? Why is it that you take the position of the victim in your stubbornness and pride and refuse to rise up in victory? You have chosen to remain a victim so that you can prove your innocence. Yet, you know your own heart and your guilt in this matter, and your heart is far from me. I say to you, this is witchcraft, hypocrisy and double-mindedness, and I am certainly not fooled by your tactics. Isn't it time for you to rip your garments of heaviness and put on your garments of praise? For surely I will restore you. I will lift you up and bring peace once again to your soul if you will but repent of this evil. Rise up in the face of the devil and roar back.

July 22, 2000:

I speak to those who have lost spiritual perspective. For many have been burdened by life's circumstances and have lost sight of My promises. Some have even said in their hearts, "Where is the promise of His coming?" You have held on and held on and held on, believing for the fulfillment of a promise, and yet you have not seen the evidence of its completion. But, I say to you, it is not over until it's over! Keep the faith. Move and make decisions based on your faith instead of on your circumstances and what you can see. For, the things you can see are temporary, but the things not seen are eternal. Walk by faith and not by sight! Set your heart on what is eternal and everlasting. Come back to that place of spiritual reality where your walk in the spirit is fresh and pure, a river of life that brings joy and assurance to your soul. Hebrews 11:6, "But without faith it is impossible to please Him, for he who comes to God must believe that He is, and that He is a rewarder of those who diligently seek Him."

Catching The Little Foxes

Kathie Walters

CATCHING THE LITTLE FOXES

"How come when I get physically hurt I can receive healing right away - but emotional hurts hang on for months and months, and I don't seem to be able to get healed?" My friend, Glendon, couldn't understand what was happening. I questioned her about it. "Well, what do you do when you need a physical healing.?" Glendon thought for while. "When my father was visiting me, he and I were in the barn. I mounted one of the horses, which is a big no no - you never mount a horse while you are still in a barn. The horse reared up and I fell off," Glendon continued. The horse fell on me and the horn of the western saddle dug into my stomach. I knew it potentially was quite serious. But I thought of my dad standing there looking very alarmed, and my only thought was that I wanted to have a testimony to the goodness of God. I so wanted my dad to know that God was good."

"So, what happened," I asked.

"I immediately began to praise and thank the Lord for my healing," Glendon said. "I could feel pain but I didn't allow any negative thoughts to enter my mind. I kept praising Jesus and looking to Him and within a few minutes all the pain left and I was totally OK." Glendon told me that she had experienced that several times and so her faith was built up in the area of physical healing. I asked her about the problem she was having with receiving the inward, emotional healing.

OUR VISIONS VS. NEGATIVE THOUGHTS

The Holy Spirit began to show me what the problem was. "You receive the inner healing when you pray, don't you?" I said, "But then negative thoughts come and you start to dwell on them, right?" Glendon thought for a few minutes and said, "Right." After that the Holy Spirit began to talk to me big time.

Many of us have had visions and words from the Lord which we really did receive and believe. Then after a while negative thoughts began to come and fight against the vision we had. As we entertained the thoughts they got a stronger hold, and then we became double-minded.

THE POWER OF THOUGHTS--THEY CAN KEEP YOU FROM RECEIVING FROM THE LORD

Remember what the Apostle James said about being double-minded - "A double-minded man is unstable in ALL his ways" (Jas.1:8), and in v 6 it instructs us to, "Ask in faith, nothing wavering.....and let not that man think he shall receive anything from the Lord." No wonder the devil wants us to entertain his negative thoughts which war against our faith. What a battle-ground is the arena of the mind! No wonder we are told to "take captive every thought"(2 Cor 10:5).

Thoughts can be very positive and build our faith, or they can become a source of abortion to our vision. The devil doesn't want us to fulfill our destiny and prove God - so he throws thoughts like arrows. If we are not on the watch of the castle of our minds those arrows will enter and bring unbelief, doubt, fear and even depression and defeat. God is not a "yes" and "no" God, "For all the promises of God in Him (Jesus) are YES, and in Him, AMEN unto the glory of God by us" (2 Cor. 1:20).

IT'S ABOUT YOUR MIND

So our first battle is in the mind - "Gird up the loins of your mind," the Apostle Paul said (1 Pet.1:13). "Gird up" - what does that mean? To "gird" according to Webster's dictionary means, "to encircle, bind, to surround, to prepare oneself for a trial ahead, to provide, equip or invest with power." So, there is a preparation that we need to make concerning our minds. Too often we neglect to take care of the weeds that grow strong up in the garden of the mind, because they are watered by the entertaining of negative thoughts of unbelief.

When the enemy robs us through doubt, fear, unbelief, we let go of our vision, then we get into defeat and allow past disappointments to affect our faith.

In Ephesians, chapter 6, Paul talks about all the pieces of armor that we are given to equip us for the battle. One of those pieces is the helmet of salvation. What is the helmet for? - It covers the mind. Sometimes we are pleased to run around with the sword, but we forget to put our helmet on. We forget to gird up our mind. Did you realize that Satan still has the same old ministry as he had in the beginning. He has a "hath God said?" ministry.

LITTLE FOXES ON A HUNT

When God gives you word or a vision, or gives you direction for your life and calling you receive it and are excited. What happens then? Well that old sly fox sends all his little foxes out on a hunt--to capture your thoughts -preferably before you get too much opportunity to really get a hold of your vision. The fox comes to steal the farmer's chickens, and the little foxes come to steal the word out of your heart and mind.

So many of God's children have almost given up their "Word" or the vision that God imparted because of these destructive little foxes that come in the guise of negative thoughts. Have you had a past disappointment that affects your present faith? Don't look back at that - look at Jesus- the author and finisher of your faith. Where do you get your information? If God asks you to go on a mission trip, where do you get your information to make that decision? From the Lord or from your check-book? He is the source of our information. Who told you that you couldn't do this or that?

TIME TO GET YOUR FAITH BACK

This is the year God wants us back in faith to receive the things we need to do the work - until He comes. Many prophets are saying that America is like a Titanic and, yes, there will be some trouble ahead as we hit some icebergs, but we, God kids, are going to be the answer. It is time to receive the prosperity we know the Body of Christ is supposed to have.. Why? - to buy big cars, yachts and live the good life? - No! But that we might have provision for others when they are in need. We need to be filled with the Spirit and with faith - to bring healing and deliverance, and dwell in the wisdom of God, not just for our own lives- but for others also

Caution: Contents Under Pressure

Dennis Drewlo

I see, My children that many of you are feeling pressed. It seems as if your circumstances have gotten the best of you. You ask me, "Why have you forsaken me?". From every side, you feel the pressures of the cares of this life. I tell you that I have not forsaken you.

Many of you are experiencing the pressures of life and are blaming the enemy. But I tell you that not all of what you are experiencing is from the Evil One. I am bringing you into this place of pressure to form you into what I have called you to be. I am squeezing you to bring out what I have placed in you. I am squeezing you to remove all that is not of Me. I have brought what seems to be pressure from every side to cause you to look up, for your redemption draweth nigh. I am putting you in the threshing floor. I am separating the wheat from the chaff. I am squeezing you to make you into a beautiful diamond. When I am finished, I will have the beautiful "diamond" that I have called you to be.

My desire is to release the New Wine through you, but you must go through the wine press. I desire to get out of you that which is pure and holy so that you may release it to others.

I have led you into a wilderness, leaning on your Beloved. I have called you to put your trust in Me. I have called you to trust Me in the dry places, for at the end you will come out "in the power of the Spirit". Some of you ask for the Promised Land, but do not want to go through the wilderness, but there are no detours. There are no shortcuts.

Some of you feel as if you are in a valley. You long for those "mountain-top experiences" - where you felt My Presence in a stronger way. I say to you that the RIVER flows through the VALLEY! I bring you into the valley so that you will seek My face. I bring you into the valley so that you can bring others up to the mountain-top. I bring you into the valley so that you will learn to walk by faith and not by your feelings. I have not called you to walk by the deceitfulness of your feelings. You cannot have mountains without valleys. My desire is not simply for one-time experiences, but for an eternal relationship with you.

I have called you to "fight the good fight". I have called you to endure hardness like good soldiers. I have called you to be warriors and not worriers. I have called you to be overcomers and not undergoers. I am looking for the YES in your hearts. Do not allow your circumstances to get the best of you, for I am asking for the best of you. I gave you the best of Me.

Remember - I am the potter, and you are the clay. I am molding you and shaping you into the vessels that I have called you to be. I am bringing the Fire of My Presence to solidify what I have placed within you. I am bringing you to a place of sanctification - a place of consecration.

I will bring shaking into your life to remove what is not of Me, so that which is of Me may remain.

I ask you to love Me in the dry places, for it is there that I will meet with you. I love you unconditionally, for that is how I ask you to love Me. I see that you have questions, but I ask that your faith in Me would be greater than your need for an answer. I ask you to trust that Father knows best.

I ask you to offer up to Me those things that you are concerned with - yes even the good things, for the GOOD is the ENEMY of the BEST. I ask you to place them on the altar.

I am calling you to let your faith arise. I ask that your faith in Me would be greater than your need for an answer. I ask that when I answer your questions, you do not question My answers.

There is much I desire to give you, but you are not ready for all of it. You ask for the BLESSING, but you must go through the PRESSING. You ask for the Power of the Resurrection, but you must endure the Cross, even though the Cross will be abrasive to your flesh.

Remember that when you walk through the fire and the flame, I will be there. I will remove those things that have kept you bound, and I - the Fourth Man - will emerge.

I have placed a great deposit within you. My desire is to get out of you what I have put in, but you must broken. I will make you like gold refined by fire, but you must be willing to be processed. Do not be quick to say, "This cannot be God". I am breaking My Church so that I may put her back the way I intended her to be. I am seeking to make you a victorious Church - the Church I have always dreamed of.

Do not be afraid, for the best is yet to come. Walk with Me through the fire and the flames and I will make something beautiful out of you.

Celebration of Praise

Doug Patterson

August 23, 2000

I commission My people to come before Me. To lift up their voices and to praise My name. This is a time to shake off the weariness, to extend hands and to break every chain that binds and ties your feet.

A new celebration is coming into the Body of Christ. A new fire is burning within your heart. Joy and peace will dominate you, overpower you. An explosion of praise is coming into the church. A time of gratefully lifting a new song to your Lord. A time of extending expressive praise and worship through dance, banners and dancing.

Be released into the freedom of your God. For I have purchased your freedom at the cross. Indeed it is time for you to rejoice. Cast your cares upon Me for I care for you. We are family preparing for a mighty banquet. Prepare for the feast of praise. Set the table for a celebration of grace. Get ready to rejoice and stand with your family.

Know that your praise enters the very throne room of God. Sing them and shout them aloud. Let everything, yes let everything that has breath Praise the Lord. Let the praise ring from the mountains and the valleys, in the city and in the country.

The nations will dance and praise God. It shall be like a consuming fire that shall burn in your heart. Your household will be set ablaze with the glory of God. Celebrations will extend throughout the evening and carry on the next day. The visitation of the Lord is going to come through the praise of His people.

Changing Of The Guard

Ching Co

A SOVEREIGN CHANGING OF THE GUARD

October 27, 2000

Dearly Beloved,

Today I felt the Lord leading me to share these impressions which have been in my heart for sometime now. I sense that this will affect many within the body of Christ and so I'm submitting this word for your prayers and discernments.

CHANGING OF THE GUARD

I saw a massive change taking place in the army of God. Those that God has used mightily and visibly in the past are being recalled and replaced with another group of army which has been pretty much hidden before.

This recall does not in any way reflect God's demotion nor displeasure. Instead the reverse is true. God is bringing to a higher place His generals in the order of Moses and fielding out many Joshua's. This will not in any way diminish what they have sown faithfully into the kingdom of God.

Many of our great leaders today and in the past have been walking in the anointing of Moses which has drawn attention and placed a heavier burden upon those standing in the frontline. But this will soon change for in the same manner that God took of the Spirit resting on Moses and put the Spirit on the seventy elders that Moses brought before the Lord and they helped Moses carry the burden of the people (Numbers 11:16-17) So God will begin to do the same in the body of Christ.

THE CROSS

I saw a big cross up on the mountaintop and I saw men and women of God carrying precious packages and laying them down at the feet of the cross. The packages represented the lifelong works of these men and women of God.

And as each package was laid down at the foot of the cross, I sensed a bright light coming down and taking them to the heavens unto the arms of the Lord. I saw the Lord blow on these packages and throw them back into the earth like arrows, and when it reached the earth, it had the appearance of lightning flashing from one end to the other-- lighting up the sky with such a magnificent display of power and light.

WAGGING TONGUE

Surrounding that place I perceive an evil darkness overshadowing it, and all I can see were wagging tongues trying to speak into the ears of the people on the way to the cross. What I received was that the enemy will not be silent and will continue to bombard these people inwardly and outwardly with many distractions and obstacles making the climb to the cross more difficult.

SURRENDER AND FAILURE

The way to the cross will be littered with thorns and often times when perceived from the earthly eyes, the effect will look like acts of surrender and failures. God has designed the road to be that way because no one whom God has chosen for great service will be exempted from the path of the cross.

THE RESURRECTION

But after the cross, there will be something greater awaiting these faithful saints. The power of the resurrection will be revealed to them and made manifest in such a great and mighty way that only God can do. Men cannot imitate this and the world will see and will understand the value that the Almighty placed upon these precious ones and what they have offered to God. God will sovereignly vindicate them before all men.

CAUTION

As members of the body of Christ. We must be careful not to pass judgment when we hear or see of any negative reports about any of God's general, for many times what we see before us will be an incomplete report and only God knows the whole reason for what He has allowed to take place.

Instead, like the sons of Noah, Shem and Japheth, when they heard of their father's nakedness took a garment and laid it across their shoulders and walking backward covered their father's nakedness (Genesis 9:20-27) We too watching from the outside also have the responsibility to cover them in love for a great blessing awaits those who are willing to walk this path.

PRAYER

"Father, we know that You are at work among the nations, bringing to pass Your great plans and purposes. And as we see changes taking place in our midst. Guard our hearts and our tongues and like Jesus' disciples, we also offer this same petition ' Lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from the evil one.' Matthew 6:13). Cover every general within Your body in a very special way this season and speak clearly to their hearts about Your great plans and purposes for them. Let them understand Your ways and Your thoughts and prepare us for the great change that is coming our way. In Christ's name I release all these by faith-- trusting that the Holy Spirit will sift through every word that I have spoken herein.. Amen!"

May God's people be faithful to test these words accordingly.

Changing Robes

Bryan Hupperts

There is a truth hidden in the beautiful story of Joseph that speaks a godly encouragement to the persecuted and suffering among God's people. Joseph's father Israel presented him with a coat of many colors. This was a woven, seamless type of coat that children of nobles wore and it signified the wearer as one who is especially beloved of his father. It is significant that this robe was made of many colors because God, who is Light, is the collective of all colors, and it speaks symbolically of His myriad, great blessings.

Reading this story, I was struck at how many times the Bible mentions Joseph's clothes were changed. He wore a simple shepherd's robe until his father elevated him with the coat of many colors. Later his brothers violently stripped his robe off throwing him in a waterless well. They dipped his coat in animal blood pretending a wild animal had devoured him.

He was taken to Egypt and put in slaves' clothes. His boss's wife tried to seduce him ripping his robe off forcing him to run from the house naked. Rejected, she made a false rape accusation and he was stripped of even his slave status and was put in prisoners' garb. And later when Pharaoh found out about his gift for dream interpretation, he was washed and given new clothes and brought into the presence of Pharaoh. After his promotion to being the governor of Egypt, Pharaoh gave him a new robe - two changes of clothing in a single day! Whew! So what do all of these changes in clothes mean?

The changes in Joseph's clothes represent the various stages God walked him through to reach his ultimate destiny in Christ. He was shown his exaltation to power in two dreams as a young man but wisely enough, God didn't reveal the painful paths he would have to walk to arrive in the place of greatness.

Have you ever seen this in the Body of Christ? Someone comes to faith and they take off like a rocket. They suddenly walk in the power and presence of God putting the old seasoned saints to shame with their zeal and consecration. And then something happens. Often, as was the case with Joseph, their brothers in the Lord begin to get jealous and look for any excuse to "humble" this unsuspecting soul. Jesus warned that a man's enemies would be those of his own household - and that can include the household of faith.

Our meteoric young saint is suddenly attacked, deftly knocked out of orbit, and ends up being taken out of the limelight. Joseph was cast into a deep, dry well where light was scarce and the only reply to his cries for help was jeering mockery. Has this ever happened to you? You're going along serving God when unexpected opposition comes into your life. You ask for prayer and suddenly you're surrounded by people who are accusing you of every sort of wrong motive. If they can't find fault in your actions, they presume on your motives wounding you with jagged accusations wrapped in sweet words of grace.

It is as if the Father's favor is stripped from you and you're suddenly demoted to the lowest of the low places - a slave. Even the common rights afforded to all humanity are stolen from you. People treat you with contempt and you have to learn to bear the injustices in silence. Forsaken by family and friends, you learn in your isolation to draw comfort from God. Even as the Lord was with Joseph, he is with you as well.

After the slavery comes a small promotion and still another test. Will you abuse your newly found authority? Joseph could have taken his boss' very willing wife - but he refused to sin against God. Day after frustrating day she spoke seductively to him finally trying to seduce him. She grabbed his robe and he pulled away so hard he ended up running naked from the house. If she could not compromise his righteousness, she slandered him with a rape charge. For the second time, Joseph is stripped of his robe. And then comes the prison, the dumping ground of ruined humanity, a place where all hope is vanquished. You're a nobody. The promises of God are now faint memories but His Presence becomes your secret abiding place. You have been wrongly accused, sentenced, and locked away. And in such places you learn to allow God himself to become your life. He becomes your comforter, companion, and sweet secret friend. Years pass and suddenly Pharaoh calls. Your gifts and wisdom are urgently needed.

Your prison garb is stripped away and you are cleansed and brought to a place of power where you speak the Word of the Lord. Suddenly a royal robe is wrapped about your shoulders. This is not the robe of a noble child, but of one in full authority. It is the kings' robe. You speak for the King! A gold chain and signet ring are placed on you and you suddenly have the power to conduct kings business.

The Father's favor is again publicly placed on you. After so many false starts, you suddenly find your true place of service. The taunts of your accusers fade in fear of the authority on your life. And the promises of God burst forth to maturity and you inherit his long delayed blessings. So when your robes are being changed or stripped from you, take heart: God is preparing you for your true place of service by first breaking you, and then remaking you in His redemptive image. Whatever robe you happen to be wearing at the moment, remember this: He who promised is Faithful and True.

Vision Of China's Revival

Holly I. Moody

hlmoody61@aol.com

Jan. 25th, 2000 I have had a burden for the nation of China, which has grown since the beginning of this year. As I was praying for this nation this morning, this is what I saw in my mind:

I was out way above the earth, in the heavens, looking down upon the earth. My attention was drawn to a very dark spot on the earth. The Lord was with me.

"What is that dark spot?" I asked the Lord.

"That is the nation of China," the Lord replied. "Come and see."

The Lord and I seemed to draw closer to this dark spot on the earth that the Lord had told me was China. I saw as if it were prison bars completely surrounding the entire nation. The nation was in almost total darkness, and even the small, faint light that there was dim and gloomy looking. There were people from within China pressed up against the prison bars surrounding their country. They were very thin, were in rags, their clothes tattered and filthy. They appeared as if they had been physically beaten. They had blindfolds over their eyes. They were reaching through the bars they were pressed up against, and they were weeping and crying out, "Come to us!!!! Come to us and feed us!!! We are so very hungry. Come to us!!!!" over and over again they cried these things out.

"I have surely heard their prayers and their cries," the Lord said to me. "Behold!!!!"

The Lord stretched out one of his arms towards the heavens. I looked and saw the sun rising. It was a tremendous, glorious sunrise. And the sun was as if it were on fire. The higher the sun came into the sky, the fiercer it burned. It began to permeate the nation of China. The rays of the sun were as flames of fire, and reached down right into the heart of China. When the sun's rays hit the ground in China, the rays became as flames of fire spreading over the whole ground and nation. The blindfolds on the people's eyes were burned off. The flames entered into their mouths, and they began to "grow fat" before my eyes. They began to sing and shout and dance and rejoice. It was as if the entire nation caught fire and was fully and totally illuminated by the sun, which was now high in the sky directly over China.

"Behold, it comes," the Lord said. His voice was filled with tremendous sadness.

I felt a sense of impending doom and began to glance uneasily around me. Then, I felt a chill. It began to creep across the nation of China. Some of the Chinese people began to feel this chill also.

"Work harder!!! Work harder!!! " They cried out to the people around them. "The night is coming. Work while it is yet day and while the glory of the Lord continues to shine upon us."

"It is come," the Lord said.

I felt tremendous fear enter into my heart. Then, a darkness began to creep across the flaming sun. I glanced up at the sun. It was like an eclipse was taking place. But when I looked closer, I saw that a small red dragon was creeping across the sun. The further across the sun the red dragon crept and covered, the larger the dragon grew. And the darker and dimmer the light of the sun became.

The Chinese people were beginning to glance around fearfully and to cry out in terror. "What is it?" they cried out. "What is happening?"

The red dragon began to roar. When the Chinese people heard the roars of the dragon, they fell on their faces to the ground, with their hands over their heads and ears. I heard their cries of fear and terror, and felt so much fear and helplessness myself as I saw this transpiring.

"They come," the Lord said. When I looked at him, I became aware that he was weeping over China.

I looked back up into the heavens. I saw a large group of smaller dragons forming behind the red dragon. They all began to roar, and to grow larger. Then, with a mighty roar, the red dragon and the dragons following behind him, descended as a lightning bolt into the very heart of China. They brought with them a thick darkness that could be felt. I could see nothing. I felt the Lord put his hands over my eyes. When I opened my eyes back up, I could see into the darkness of China to what was beginning to transpire.

The red dragon had a very long tail. With its tail, it had completely covered China. The smaller dragons were beginning to enter into people. When they entered into people, the people would rise; stand up very tall and straight, with their eyes staring straight ahead. A sword was given unto them, and they began to form in line after line after line one behind the other; forming a tremendous army. The red dragon continued to roar. Then, when the army of people was formed, the red dragon positioned himself at the head of the army of people. They all faced forward and began to move.

As the red dragon, the other dragons, and the vast army of Chinese people began to move, everything that came across its path was devoured. The red dragon continued to grow larger and larger as it devoured all before it. The smaller dragons and the vast army of Chinese continued to march. I could hear the sound of their boots as they marched, and it was as thunder.

The red dragon, the smaller dragons, and the army of Chinese people marched across the face of the earth; devouring whole nations and peoples as they went. The Chinese army kept its face staring steadfastly straight ahead, never looking to the right or to the left.

I saw the red dragon, the smaller dragons, and the Chinese army approaching a sparkling city. This city appeared to be of gold, and had like a gauzy veil over it.

"What city is this?" I asked the Lord.

"This is Jerusalem," the Lord replied. "My bride."

The red dragon, the smaller dragons, and the Chinese army gave one loud roar, and began to run towards "Jerusalem." the Chinese army had their swords pointed straight ahead. They never seemed to blink. They acted almost like they were robots.

When the red dragon, the smaller dragons, and the Chinese army roared and charged and advanced on Jerusalem, I heard a shout from next to me. I glanced to my right, and saw the Lord. His face was filled with fierce anger. Then, the Lord was gone. I began to glance around, looking to see where the Lord had gone to. Then, I heard a shout coming from above my head. I glanced up, and saw the sky above me literally splitting wide open. I saw a large hole forming in the heavens above me, and such intense light began to pour forth from this hole, that I was knocked down by its brilliance. I felt as if I had been blinded by this light, but when I looked back up, I could still see.

I saw a white horse erupt through the hole that had split in the heavens above my head. The Lord was on this white horse's back. The Lord had a flaming sword in his hand, and a shield of pure glittering gold in his other hand. He had a crown of gold upon his head, and was dressed all in white.

Then, the Lord and his horse were through the hole in the heavens, and army after army came charging out of the hole behind the Lord. This heavenly army was also all dressed in white, and also had flaming swords and shields of gold. They were also seated on white horses. These were the largest, most magnificent horses I had ever seen. They went charging off after the Lord, and gathered themselves over the city of Jerusalem.

The red dragon, the smaller dragons, and the Chinese army continued to run towards Jerusalem. They continued to roar. The Lord and his armies gave a shout. Then, charged at the red dragon, the smaller dragons, and the Chinese army.

A terrible battle began. I could hear thunders, see lightnings, hear the shouts and roars and cries of both armies ~ the Lord's armies, and the red dragon and his Chinese army. The earth was shaking and quaking and being torn open. Buildings were falling and toppling from within Jerusalem. I heard screams and shouts from the people from within the city of Jerusalem.

Then, I heard a deafening blast, such as a dynamite blast, only much much greater. Then, there was a tremendous silence. I heard no more shouts, no more roars, no more screams or cries. All was silent and quiet. When I tried to look around to see what had happened, it was as if I could see nothing. There was a very very thick dark cloud covering the whole scene of this battle.

Then, I heard another shout, and I knew it was the Lord. I glanced up, for the shout had come from up above me. I saw a city coming down from the heavens, but it was also a bride. I knew it was a city, yet I also knew it was a bride. As she descended from the heavens, the Lord gave another shout. I glanced around, and then located the Lord on his horse on a mountain. His armies were gathered around him at the base of the mountain. When the Lord shouted the second time, his armies began to shout. And it was the shout of victory.

The city bride continued to descend from the heavens.

Then, the vision ended.

~ Hollie Moody

At first, I thought maybe the battle I saw in this vision was the battle of Armageddon. but after praying more about it, I felt that what this vision was really speaking about was, (1) a tremendous revival in China, and (2) a spirit of deception that follows on the heels of the Chinese revival, and slowly covers the whole face of the earth. this spirit of deception comes up against the true church of Christ, the bride of Christ, and is unable to overcome it.

I have felt since the beginning of the year a tremendous burden and weightiness in my soul about the coming spirit of deception. I'm really not sure, though, if that IS what the battle represents ~ a spirit of deception. does anyone else have any input on this?

CHURCH - Ecclesia Apostello

by Doug Fortune

Church.. for most that word brings up the idea of going to our gathering of believers and engaging in a corporate worship service. In fact, much of our Christianity seems to be built around weekly (or whatever frequency) gatherings, and for many a pastor and believer, the mood on Monday is largely determined by whether we had 'good services' or not. A great deal of effort goes into it; from sermon preparation, music preparation and cleaning the building to our 'Saturday night bath' and clean Sunday clothes! Is all this wrong?.. no. Is all this Church?.. well, 'Church' is much more than all this. We must consider that in Deut. 5:14 when God instituted the Sabbath, Israel had no public meeting place, no tabernacle or temple; the Sabbath was not a day of public assembly, the assembling of the congregation for corporate worship was only on the Feast Days, NOT the weekly Sabbath. Now, lest you think that I'm against meetings, were you to check with our local congregation you would find my attendance record quite exemplary. I'm not against meetings, even Jesus in Luke 4:17 '...entered the synagogue, as was His custom on the Sabbath day..'; I AM against meetings taking the place of and being the sum total of 'Church'.

The Greek word for Church, ecclesia, means 'a calling out' and yes, it does mean a meeting also. I think we've got the meeting idea down all too well, so I want to focus on the first part of the definition.. a calling out. What exactly are we 'called out' from? 2Cor.6:17 says, '...come out from among them and be ye separate..'. Some would interpret this to mean that we are to separate ourselves totally from unbelievers and the world in general lest they taint us with uncleanness, (like the influence of the world is stronger than Christ.. NOT!) and hope for a rapture to literally take us out of the world. Consider the profound words of Jesus' prayer in John 17:15-18 '...I do NOT ask that You will take them OUT of the world. they are not OF the world. Just as You SENT Me INTO the world, I also have SENT them INTO the world..', obviously this 'calling out' means something different. That passage in 2Cor.6 is actually a quote from Is.52:11, and it holds the key; '...depart, depart, go out from there (the lands of exile), touch no unclean thing; go out of the midst of Babylon; cleanse yourselves and be clean, you who bear the vessels of the Lord..' (Amplified Bible). We are 'called out' of Babylon, as we bear the 'vessels' of the Lord. And what is Babylon?.. consider its roots in Babel, the tower built there. As we read in Gen.11:4 of the tower, this is not so much a description of the physical height of the tower, but rather the top of the tower was 'dedicated to', or reaching forth to the heavenly realm.. it was man's approach to God and the spiritual realm by his own doing. Consequently, much of religious Babylon looks and acts spiritual and good, but in reality it is man's works, man's approach to God. Religious Babylon is really the spirit of anti(instead of) Christ, because Christ is Gods' approach TO US.. He came in the likeness of man to live IN us and THROUGH us. Any approach to God apart from Christ alone, in essence seeks to deify man because we approach Him as an equal based upon our works. There is much self-help, self-realization, self-faith, self-hierarchy, self-promotion, self, self, self, in what is called 'Church' today that is really more identified with Babylon than Christ. Yes, it is God's ultimate intention to join us to Himself in oneness through Christ, but that is the ONLY way. So, true to the meaning of Church (ecclesia), it is Babylon that we are 'called out' of.. the world's approach to God, or self-deism (making myself a god).

Having said all that, we are ‘called out’ as we ‘..bear the vessels of the Lord..’(Is.52:11). The word vessels, ‘keliy’ in Hebrew means ‘something prepared, as an implement, utensil, vessel, weapon’. We ARE vessels of the Lord, bearers of His very presence and Person! We ARE prepared IN Christ, His implements, His weapons, ‘..whoever cleanses himself, who SEPARATES himself from contact with contaminating and corrupting influences will then himself be a VESSEL set apart and useful for honorable and noble purposes, consecrated and profitable to the Master, PREPARED unto every good work..’(2Tim.2:21).

THIS is what ‘Church’, the ecclesia really is.. those called out of Babylon, not OF this world system, who bear and represent the very Person of Christ, Who is the express image of God! This can and should happen ANYWHERE, not just in a meeting of believers. Throughout the New Testament we read very little of what happened in their meetings, but we read of those ‘called out’ ecclesia impacting their world WHEREVER they went. My desire is to see CHURCH happen wherever we go, whatever we are doing! CHURCH can happen at the grocery store, at work, at school, and yes, even at what we call ‘Church’! I am not content with ‘Church’ within the walls of a sanctuary. I always hear the question, ‘Why can’t we get more people to come to our church?’.. the answer is because it was never intended that way. We are to BE ‘Church’ in the world, ‘..just as You sent Me into the world, I also have SENT them INTO the world.. so that the world may believe and be convinced that You have sent Me..’ (John 17:18,21). The word ‘sent’ there in the Greek is apostello, the root word from which we get apostle and it means ‘to set apart to send out’. We are to be the ‘apostolic set apart sent out ecclesia manifestation of Christ that bears the very presence of God’ Church! WE are the only Christ most people will ever see!

Some feel that their work, school, family circumstances, etc. are a ‘dark place’ spiritually; some feel that the whole world is a ‘dark place’ and can’t wait to get out.. but I am here to tell you that you are there for a REASON and that is to BE ‘Church’, to be ecclesia, the manifestation of Christ to the world. As we press into BEING Church, we won’t have trouble getting people to COME to Church. There seems to be so much emphasis on our meetings.. good music, good preaching, comfortable facilities, convenient times; are these things bad?.. certainly not. Should they be the primary considerations for ecclesia (Church)?.. certainly NOT! It is time for mature sons of God to manifest.. it is time to stop just HAVING church and start BEING Church (ecclesia). As the old hymn says, ‘Rise up O men of God, the Church for you doth wait; her strength unequal to her task, rise up and make her great!’

Isaiah 33:14,15,16 "Sinners in Zion are terrified; trembling has seized the godless. Who among us can live with the consuming fire? Who among us can live with the continual burning? He who walks righteously, and speaks with sincerity. He who rejects unjust gain, and shakes his hands so that they hold no bribe. He who stops his ears from hearing about bloodshed, and shuts his eyes from looking upon evil. He will dwell on the heights; his refuge will be the impregnable rock. His bread will be given to him, his water will be sure."

I shall open the eyes of the blind and unstop the ears of the deaf. You long to see signs and wonders, and in the year ahead creative miracles will flow like never before.

Yet the blindness I speak of is in the eyes of my own who see, and refuse to look to Me. Before I have a chance to show you the answer, you have already made a decision based on your surroundings.

LOOK TO ME.

Both the sinners and godless within My house shall be shaken. Do not stand among those who will not see. Do not sit with those who only see in the natural. Come unto Me and allow My vision to be imparted.

Let eternal perspective overshadow that which you know.

The deafness I make mention of is not in those who cannot hear- it has captured those who refuse to listen. Itching ears have found a dwelling place among My own. You hear only that which is pleasant and satisfying.

You refuse to listen to My call of repentance and remorse. You even silence those who vocalize their sin. You insist My voice is a gentle blowing breeze, and it is when you are willing to obey.

I am also heard in the thunder and will be silenced no longer in your gatherings. You invite me to come into your midst, but as I arrive, as I peel back the veil, as I open my mouth to speak - once again you prefer blind eyes and deaf ears.

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH.

I have roused Myself up in behalf of those who call to Me day and night. I stand in defense of those who have laid down their lives, and the others who will follow.

I am coming into your midst as a burning fire, a flame that will never be quenched, and no longer silenced or ignored as you gather.

Continual burning has begun and My house will be ablaze for all to see. The crackling of what is burning shall be heard loud and clear.

Look to hear what I am saying in your day. The highway of holiness remains open for those who will walk in My ways, who speaks what is true and refuses the false way.

There shall be such a shaking in the spirit that in the natural the trembling will be noted. As the earthquake shakes within your borders like never before, where never before, so shall My church be shaken. Not just in your land but in your lives.

Wake up My people and get ready.

Streams of living waters shall burst forth. These waters flow from the midst of the fire and is pure and holy. You shall be sustained and refreshed as you drink and invite others to do the same.

Open your eyes, unstop your ears. My trumpet is about to sound again a battle cry unobstructed and distinct. It is My desire to reveal Myself in behalf of those who have implored me to come. It is through the tears of repentance I shall be seen.

Through the cries of remorse I shall be heard. See the fire and hear it crackle. Enter into the flame so you will not be burned. All flesh shall see the glory of the Lord as news of My people ablaze is proclaimed for all to see.

Create In Me A Clean Heart

Teresa Daly-Crews

"Truly God is good to Israel, even as to such as are of a clean heart." Ps 73.

[Psa 24:3-6] Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully. He shall receive the blessing from the Lord, and righteousness from the God of his salvation. This is the generation of them that seek him, that seek thy face, O Jacob. Selah."

Now is the time for us to seek the face of God as never before. The Father is calling for us to look deep within our hearts by the hand of the Holy Spirit and allow Him to purge us unto holiness. If we say that we have no sin, we live a lie and the judgment will be greater. If we will allow the Spirit of the Lord to have His complete will in our lives He will purify us as gold, sanctifying us in His holiness.

Just as David cried out to the Lord, Father is seeking those who will enter into His presence with a pure heart and undefiled mind. We must cast aside our flesh, setting our thoughts upon the perfect and complete will of the Lord. We must call unto the Lord saying, "Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy loving kindness: according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions. Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin. For I acknowledge my transgressions: and my sin is ever before me. Against thee, thee only, have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight: that thou mightest be justified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou judgest. Behold, I was shapen in iniquity; and in sin did my mother conceive me. Behold, thou desirest truth in the inward parts: and in the hidden part thou shalt make me to know wisdom. Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean: wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow. Make me to hear joy and gladness; that the bones which thou hast broken may rejoice. Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities. Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me. Cast me not away from thy presence; and take not thy holy spirit from me. Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation; and uphold me with thy free spirit." Ps 51 1-12

Our hearts must cry out to the Lord for His change. "Then will I (we) teach transgressors thy (His) ways; and sinners shall be converted unto thee(Him). Psa 51:13] For the Lord to use us to bring the Bride to perfection we must allow the Spirit of God to cleanse us. No one is exempt from this time of change and re-creation. It is necessary so that we may come to the unity of the faith. With this unity will come forth dunamus power that will manifest the Glory of the Lord.

The Father is giving ample time for us to choose to receive correction before the Spirit brings the FIRE. [1 Cor 11:31-32] "For if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged. But when we are judged, we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world." We have been given spiritual eyes to see, if we will receive it. This change can only be accomplished spiritually not with judgment of the outside appearance, but by looking at the heart within. It is not meant to bring condemnation, but instead it will give life to those who will receive it.

What the Spirit means by judging ourselves is to scrutinize, investigate, and examine. Moreover the original translation continues to describe judge as to question (the Lord) ask, search, and determine. Using David as an example once again, He cried, [Psa 26:1-2] "Judge me, O Lord; for I have walked in mine integrity: I have trusted also in the Lord; therefore I shall not slide. Examine me, O Lord, and prove me; try my reins and my heart." David knew the power and strength that came from being tried and tested. We must ask the Lord to test our reins (REINS, In Scripture, the inward parts; the heart, or seat of the affections and passions.)and our hearts.

For us to fully receive the grace and presence of God we must first examine ourselves. To seek the Lord with a hypocritical heart will cause us fall into the danger of damnation. 1 Cor 11:28-32, "But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body. But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body. For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep. For if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged. But when we are judged, we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world." This scripture does not only apply to Communion in the natural, but also to a "spiritual communion" with the Lord. To receive of His Body and Spirit we must examine our hearts, our motives and ourselves.

Many are weak and sickly among us because they have failed to properly discern the Body of Christ. This applies to both the spiritual and the natural. The accuser of the brethren works to cause division and discord. We are called to unity in the Body, without wrinkle, spot, or blemish. If we pass judgment upon others and have not removed the beam out of our own eye, we are guilty and will receive the greater damnation. There is but one judge and He has reserved this right for the final day. Until then we must use the Spirit of God to look at our own hearts, asking for all wickedness to be purged.

The importance of our heart condition cannot be understated. To truly come into the presence of the most Holy God we must first allow the Lord to wrap us in His robe of righteousness. To be forgiven, we must first forgive, this is a key principal of Kingdom living. "Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. Know ye not your own selves, how that Jesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates?" [2 Cor 13:5] Without the redemption of Jesus Christ we are nothing, unable to enter into the presence of the most Holy God. Notice it says to "examine yourselves", not others. To pass condemnation upon others brings forth an equal dose of bondage to ourselves. There is no such "office" in the Kingdom of God as a "fruit inspector". The only reason we are given Matt 7:16, is so we may "know" the brethren. Our fruit should be openly apparent for all to see.

We must search our hearts, allowing the Spirit of the Lord to prune our trees so we may bring forth greater fruit. Following is a list of "heart conditions" according to the word. Where does your heart fit? Are there still hidden areas that need to be exposed or are you standing without covering before the throne of God. The Lord wants us to approach the throne with childlike innocence, allowing Him to direct our every step. He desires us to worship him with a rejoicing and merry heart. Stand before Him with a pure and clean heart. Allowing the Spirit of the Lord to circumcise our willing hearts. Seeking Him and all His wisdom to produce a servant's heart. Receiving from Him a courageous and perfect heart, all to glorify Him.

Trembling heart ~Melted heart~Merry heart~Courageous heart ~Obstinate heart~Evil heart~Wicked heart~Clean heart~Pure heart Trembling heart~Fainting heart~Failing heart~Glad in heart~ Hardened heart~Grieved heart~Willing heart~Heart stirred~ Sorrow of heart ~rejoicing heart~hot heart~receiving heart~his words in Considering heart~Upright heart~servant's heart~Seeking heart Wisdom of heart~Lifted up heart~Fainthearted~Astonished heart Gladness of heart~perceiving heart~Imaginations of heart Plagued heart~inclined heart~Discouraged heart~Integrity of heart Circumcised heart~Perfect ness of heart~Naughtiness of heart

When you open your heart to the Spirit of the Lord, do you find you are of a fearful, failing, wicked, evil, obstinate, naughty, grieved, hardened, sorrowful, hot deceived, plagued or discouraged heart. Do not be discouraged, the Lord our God is gracious and merciful unto those who seek His perfect will. Recognition is the first step to freedom. There is hope for those who love the Lord, for in your weakness He is strong. Rend your heart and not your garment, as the Spirit of the Lord brings Living Water to heal your thirsty land. There is no one who has gone too far, nor been so defiled that the Lord cannot heal them. I know first hand the depth of despair and destruction. Our God is the God of Miracles! He can make the most wonderful Rainbow appear after the worst storms of life.

The Lord does desire His people to be of a perfect heart. There are many blessings promised to those who are of a perfect heart. So often we feel this is unattainable because we use mans standards to measure our self worth. Perfect in the best definition means: PER'FECT, a. [L. perfectus, perficio, to complete; per and facio, to do or make through, to carry to the end.] 1. Finished; complete; consummate; not defective; having all that is requisite to its nature and kind; as a perfect statue; a perfect likeness; a perfect work; a perfect system. 2. Fully informed; completely skilled; as men perfect in the use of arms; perfect in discipline. 3. Complete in moral excellencies. Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father who is in heaven is perfect. Matt.5. 4. Manifesting perfection. "My strength is made perfect in weakness. 2 Cor.12."

If it were impossible to attain biblical perfection according to Gods standards the Word would not tell us to be perfect even as our Father is perfect. The Father is in the process of perfecting (maturing) His true servants so they may allow His light to shine to the whole world. Let us not look at each other as the Lord brings the defects to the surface to purge our impurities. Instead let us look upward, anticipating the glorious changes that are coming upon the Bride.

Father, I pray we all may come to the unity of the faith bringing glory unto you. I stand in the gap, interceding for all who are wounded, in bondage, and crying out to you. Specifically those who have become ensnared by the pain and torment of religiosity and those who have been mortally wounded by it. Let the golden oil flow to the nations. I thank you for allowing this prodigal to return home. I ask all this in the precious name of Jesus, my savior, my commander, my friend.

Caught in the Winepress

Deborah Voetberg

CAUGHT IN THE WINEPRESS OF RIGHTEOUSNESS

There is coming in the heavenlies a clash between lawlessness and righteousness that will shake the nations. If you have been feeling pressed on every side by the issues of life around you – you are not alone. This is the prelude to the ‘in your face’ lawlessness that is quickly rising. Those of God’s children who have said ‘Lord my life is yours’ are finding themselves caught in the Winepress of Righteousness.

Lawlessness is the opposite of righteousness and righteousness is what God requires of His people. We haven’t understood the meaning or importance of righteousness in our walk. To many it has simply meant: ‘Right standing with God’. That is not a correct definition. Nice saying – wrong application. The Blood of Jesus Christ brings us into right standing with God.

Righteousness is the character and nature of God. Melchizedek translates: King of Righteousness. Righteousness is how Jesus executes justice. It is the principle of justice. Abraham believed God and it was accounted (credited) to him for righteousness. It is something we can accumulate. Grow in.

It comes when we believe what God says and choose His ways and thoughts over our own. Deut. 6:25 ‘Then it will be righteousness for us, if we are careful to observe all these commandments before the Lord our God, as He has commanded us.’ Psalm 4:5 ‘Offer the sacrifices of righteousness, and put your trust in the Lord.’

It is a transformation process: Psalm 23:3 ‘He restores my soul; He leads me in the paths of righteousness for His name’s sake’ & Psalm 17:15 ‘As for me, I will see your face in righteousness; I shall be satisfied when I awake in your likeness’

It is God’s rod of correction against lawlessness... Psalm 45:6 ‘Your throne, O God, is forever and ever; a scepter of righteousness is the scepter of your kingdom.’

It brings healing to those who fear His name... Mal. 4: 2 ‘But to you who fear My name the Sun of Righteousness shall arise with healing in His wings; and you shall go out and grow fat like stall-fed calves.’

We are to present our members as instruments of righteousness to God (Romans 6:13) and become slaves of righteousness (Romans 6:18)

‘All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness.’ (2 Tim 3:16)

There is a crown of righteousness. (2 Tim 4:8) and His kingdom is righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Spirit! (Romans 14:17)

These are just a few examples of the true meaning of righteousness. We need to become students of righteousness, it's part of the transformation process into His image. As you believe in him, and in the power of the gospel, His righteousness is revealed from faith to faith; the just shall live by faith. (Romans 1:17)

The Body of Christ is the rod of correction on this earth toward lawlessness. Where sin abounds, grace abounds much more. And grace reigns through righteousness! (Romans 5:20-21)

The early church reigned in great power and great grace. (Acts 4:32-33) You cannot have one without the other. Great power is coming to the Body of Christ. We need to be people of great grace that reign through righteousness.

Which brings me to the Winepress of Righteousness. A winepress is used to excavate or dig out the juice within the grape. The Lord has been raining down on His people blessings and manna of revelation from heaven. He has come into His vineyard to inspect His fruit. The winepress applies pressure to your life to examine the wine that flows out. Is it the wine of righteousness or lawlessness? We must understand there is nothing in between. If our thoughts, actions, and motives of our heart are not of His character and nature, then it is lawlessness in His eyes.

Isaiah 5:1,2 & 7 ' My Well-Beloved has a vineyard on a very fruitful hill. He dug it up and cleared out its stones and planted it with the choicest vine. He built a tower in its midst, and also made a winepress in it; so He expected it to bring forth good grapes, but it brought forth wild grapes...He looked for justice, but behold, oppression; for righteousness, but behold, a cry for help (wailing).'

Our Beloved is coming into His vineyard for an inspection, expecting to find righteousness in our lives. There will be many inspections. With each one we will grow in grace as He gently points out & uproots the lawlessness still in our hearts. We will experience many moments in the winepress until the day comes when the wine flows freely in the righteousness of His kingdom.

Great Grace!

Christ In You

Deborah Voetberg

CHRIST IN YOU, THE HOPE OF GLORY! COL 1:27

What does that verse mean to you? What mental pictures emerge in your mind? Hebrews 9:24-26 offers some clues..." For Christ has not entered the holy places made with hands, which are copies of the true, but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us; not that He should offer Himself often, as the high priest enters the Most Holy Place every year with blood of another – He then would have had to suffer often since the foundation of the world, but now, once at the end of the ages, He has appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself."

Once a year, for many generations, our Heavenly Father watched as the high priest of Israel approached the Holy of Holies, slipped in beyond the veil and offered the sacrifice for himself and Israel. Each sacrifice drew the Father closer to the time when His own Son would be the ultimate sacrifice and offering. Each year the Father watched a shadow and forerunner of the true. Then the time had finally arrived, and He watched His Son ascend unto Him, not into a holy place made with hands, but into the true Holy of Holies, as the true High Priest atoning for the sins of mankind.

We are the temples of the Holy Spirit, and God is building within us a place for His Son to dwell. A place not made by hands but by His Spirit. According to 2 Cor. 5:1, an eternal house or mansion in the heavens. What we need to understand is that the mansion is being built now, within us! It's not something just being constructed up in heaven that we will walk into. Christ is to dwell within us now. We are to be clothed in glory, not found naked. The mystery is that this house here is being built at the same time in heaven. The process of salvation is the process of Jesus the carpenter building a dwelling place to hold His glory!

2 Chronicles 5:13 & 14..." indeed it came to pass, when the trumpeters and singers were as one, to make one sound to be heard in praising and thanking the Lord, and when they lifted up their voice with the trumpets and cymbals and instruments of music, and praised the Lord, saying: " For He is good, For His mercy endures forever," that the house, the house of the Lord, was filled with a cloud, so that the priests could not continue ministering because of the cloud; for the glory of the Lord filled the house of God."

As the church we have been praying that this would happen in our congregations, but God says the house He is building is within you. Bring your spirit, soul & body into agreement with all of heaven and have the words found in your mouth be " For He is good, For His mercy endures forever," which translates into a thankful heart of gratitude and praise, and watch the glory fill your house! When we get individual temples filled with the glory then corporate temples will be filled with a greater glory than the former says the Lord of hosts in Haggai 2:9. A temple that He will give peace... wholeness!

Do you want to be a temple that he visits or dwells in? Then rejoice and count it all joy when you are grieved and fall into various trials. The sanctification process is at work preparing a permanent dwelling place. The genuineness of your faith is being tested by fire that you may be found to praise, honor and glory at the revelation of Jesus Christ. (1 Peter 1:6&7)

Because as High Priest, Jesus entered the Holy of Holies once and for all as our sacrifice for sin, His intercession is the constant reminder in heaven that He has paid the price for our sanctification process. The Father is revealing a greater revelation of Jesus Christ in our days. A greater understanding of who He is and what He fully did for us.

The greatest reward waiting for us all is the revelation of the fullness of Christ in us, the hope of glory!

Peace to you all!

Clarity and Discernment

Marsha Burns:

February 7, 2000:

I am calling you and bringing you to positions of greater clarity and discernment, but first I must unveil your own hearts so that you can see clearly your own desires and motivations. I am revealing those things in your own lives which are inconsistent with My purposes. You are living in the days of the Great Falling Away, and apostasy is performing its work, but only on those whose hearts are darkened by the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes and the pride of life. Now is the time for you to put to death the deeds of the flesh by the Spirit. Walk in purity and holiness before Me having no other desire than to abide in Me. Then, you shall be washed. Psalm 51:12, "Behold, You desire truth in the inward parts, and in the hidden part You will make me to know wisdom. Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean; wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow. Make me hear joy and gladness, That the bones You have broken may rejoice. Hide Your face from my sins, and blot out all my iniquities. Create in me a clean heart, O God, And renew a steadfast spirit within me. Do not cast me away from Your presence, and do not take Your Holy Spirit from me. Restore to me the joy of Your salvation, and uphold me by Your generous Spirit."

February 8, 2000:

The past is up for review, but not so you can rekindle regret. You cannot go back and relive or correct one moment. There are things in your heart that must be released and relinquished. You are about to step through the threshold to a new phase of existence. I want to bring you to higher spiritual ground, a place of greater spiritual awareness and effectiveness. But, you must first leave the past behind with all the things that have kept you bound. Rise up out of the dead ashes of the past; shake off the dust of rejection; leave behind all failure and defeat. Let go of old relationships that keep you from pressing on and going forward. Regain eternal perspective, and be done with temporal thinking and sightless living.

February 11, 2000:

This morning as I waited before the Lord, I kept seeing different plants that had grown, bloomed and gone to seed--a cattail, a dandelion and others. Then, I saw a strong wind come and blow the seeds and deposit them in places where they could take root and grow. I thought of the scripture in John 12:24-25, "Most assuredly, I say to you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the ground and dies, it remains alone; but if it dies, it produces much grain. He who loves his life will lose it, and he who hates his life in this world will keep it for eternal life." And, the Lord says, many of you are in a season of maturity. The Word has been planted in the good soil of your hearts, taken root, grown and born fruit. Now, watch as the wind of My Spirit begins to move on you and cause you to speak forth the Word, to plant it in the hearts of others. The breath of My Spirit will carry the seed to good ground in other hearts where it can take root, grow and produce fruit. Thus, you will sow and reap. Isaiah 55:9-11, "For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts than your thoughts. For as the rain comes down, and the snow from heaven, and do not return there, but water the earth, and make it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater, so shall My word be that goes forth from My mouth; it shall not return to Me void, but it shall accomplish what I please, and it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it."

February 12, 2000:

I am placing a divine hunger in your heart and a thirsting in your soul that only I can satisfy. You will have to seek Me for satisfaction, and My intention is that You come closer, that you draw near to Me. The dissatisfaction will manifest as a sense of being isolated and alone even when you are among the brethren. Haven't you noticed that you can't seem to relate to others like you used to? Small talk and social interaction are more difficult because I am calling you to come aside and commune with Me. I want to infuse you with renewed zeal and intimacy; I want to restore your joy and strength; I want to make you a disciple under My discipline in preparation for what is ahead. Come, and let us share in sweet communion together.

Cleanse Us O Lord!

Penny Johnson

This morning in prayer as we were praying about the fitting together of the body of Christ I saw something I saw on a counter top a white cloth. It looked clean but it was wrinkled and waded up. Then I saw a hand with a dirty, wrinkled, stained cloth in it. The hand reached out and picked up the clean looking cloth with the dirty cloth and showed it to me.

Then the Lord said, "I am putting together that which seems to be clean but is wrinkled, with that which is obviously stained and wrinkled. I am getting ready to throw them together into my cleansing agent to become vessels of honor for My use in the body of Christ. Prepare yourselves for the cleansing. Strip off the old clothing, become naked before Me and step into the place of cleansing. The water will be HOT! The cleansing solution will be harsh!

Stand! Stay steadfast and unmoveable and you will go through it quicker. Resist and it will take longer. Cast aside rebellion and haughtiness. You ALL need it! ALL My body needs washing!"

Dear Body, please yield yourselves to the Lord for cleansing. The ways of the world has made us dirty and clouded our view of God's will in our lives. Our haughtiness keeps from obtaining true humility hearing anything new from God. He has not revealed everything that is to come. We are not ready. Get ready!

Then, I could see as we began willfully removing the layers of dirty clothing, that underneath were fat, slimy, leaches stuck to our skin. As the hot water and the cleansing agent was applied we could begin to pull the leaches off.

Psalms 94:10-13; 95:8-11; Mal. 3:2

Choose Life

Linda Patterson

Feb 2, 2000

Choose Life! Choose Life dear ones. For life and death are in the power of the tongue.

Glory bearers are filled with life.
Glory bearers walk in the light.
Open your mouth and speak an encouraging word.
For truly I desire to be heard.
It is not a difficult thing to do.
For I desire to be heard through you.

The River of Life is flowing today.
The choice is yours so don't delay.
Come walk with Me, take My hand
We go together to a glorious land
Where sin and death are washed away.
The blood of the Lamb is here to stay.

When you walk in the light,
The pathway is bright.
Negative, hurtful, critical words
Can't glorify Me, Oh don't you see!
My peace like a river is flowing for all
Jump in today and answer the call.

Come forward with me the River of Life.
Plunge into the waters, be filled with light.
My Son is here to fill you anew.
A crown of life is waiting for you.
My overcoming glorious ones
Rest in Me, yes look to the Son.

John 8:12 NKJ

Then Jesus spoke to them again, saying, "I am the light of the world. He who follows Me shall not walk in darkness, but have the light of life."

Climb The Mountain

Stephen Hanson

April 29, 00

29. He gives strength to the weary and increases the power of the weak. 30. Even youths grow tired and weary, and young men stumble and fall; 31. but those who hope in the LORD will renew their strength. They will soar on wings like eagles; they will run and not grow weary, they will walk and not be faint. Is. 40

3. Send forth your light and your truth, let them guide me; let them bring me to your holy mountain, to the place where you dwell. Ps. 43

16. this is the man who will dwell on the heights, whose refuge will be the mountain fortress. His bread will be supplied, and water will not fail him. Is. 33 (The Lord showed me a pathway which was bordered with stones on either side, and it stretched out before me. It was one which might be traveled on a mountain path. I also a man who held a compass or an instrument in his hand, and this seemed to be for checking barometric pressure. I then saw an eagle which was soaring above, and as I observed this, it became dark and the eagle continued to fly, but seemingly not knowing where he was going. I saw someone who was holding a song book in his hand and the song, "Shall we gather at the river," was being sung. With this song then, the eagle turned his course around, and began flying in the other direction.)

"Go onto the top of the mountain. Take the necessary gear that you will need."

"Many of my prophets have been going in the wrong direction. They need to travel to the top of my mountain. With the climb, comes clearer vision. "

(Again I saw the man with the song book. As he was holding this book in his hand, the song, "They shall mount up with wings as of eagles," was being sung. In the background I heard the chorus as the words rang out..."They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength, they shall run and not be weary, they shall run and not faint. Teach me Lord to wait.")

The Lord then continued and said:

"I want you my prophets to sing with Me and soar with Me. Travel with Me up this holy mountain. Come to the places of the streams.....travel over the rocky cliffs. Travel over the footbridge which I have provided for you. Travel and continue on. I AM leading many of you into places that you have not been before. Continue to go on up and follow Me. You need to go to those places so that you can hear what I have to say to you. As I gave the food which was fed to Elijah by the ravens in the wilderness, so I will do with some of you. But what is my food, and what is my sustenance? Is it not being in my presence daily and partaking of my holy word? So this is primary, and without it, you will not come into those "places." There may be places that you come to which may be dark and uncertain, but know that it is the mountain, and the journey which you must take."

Cloud Vision

Judith Grobelny

Some months ago I posted a vision of people emerging through the clouds right across the earth - people God was bringing forth into ministry and service for Him.

This morning I again had that vision, the clouds covering the whole earth as if I was looking down from space. I saw now that the clouds were streaming above the surface of the earth and the people had fully emerged from them and were running across them. I believe the Lord was showing that He is now releasing many freshly into His purposes at this time. It is a time of ACTION and of moving in the JETSTREAM of His purposes.

He then began to speak to me. Three times He said "You are to warn" and then the following: Many think there is yet time, many think I will not judge. They are wrong. I have promised I will not destroy as in the time of Noah, but I have not said I will not judge. Read My Word.

Intercessors go to war, pick up your weapons. The lives of many, not just individuals, but churches, cities, nations, depend on you. Cry out for mercy, pray for change, weep between the porch and the altar. Even in the desert flowers will bloom - the dry lives and dry places, watered with prayer, will see new life come forth.

You look at the times and see darkness, but open your eyes and your lips that you may see light. I AM the light in the darkness, speak forth My Word, call forth My Life, knowing that as they are manifest the darkness must flee.

Many of you are tired and discouraged (I saw warriors standing with swords that had been used but were just dangling in their hands ready to be dropped) ready to drop your swords, because the enemy drew you into battle on his terms.

Take now what only comes through Me. Use the weapons that are not carnal. Take up the sword of the Spirit. Speak forth the Word of God. Be empowered by the Love of God. You have said "I have little strength" and it is true, but as you wait on Me I will give you My strength and it will be renewed again and again.

He then led me to read Psalm 118, and particularly v.15 &16 Shouts of joy and victory resound in the tents of the righteous. The Lord's right hand has done mighty things! The Lord's right hand is lifted high; The Lord's right hand has done mighty things.

It seemed that the whole of Psalm 118 was given as encouragement at this time. There was a general sense of great urgency about what the Lord was saying and the speed at which I saw the people moving over the clouds.

Shalom, Judith Grobelny

A Call for Co-advocates

Linda Royce

July 11, 2000

The LORD has shown me a strategy that the adversary has launched against intercessors which has increased in intensity lately.

The LORD has released a greater level of intercession to His people. There is an open heaven over those who will humbly intercede in this hour. The LORD spoke this to me in mid-June of this year. This is a time of breakthrough for those who will press into Him.

I was extremely excited and full of zeal to pray, and didn't notice the attack of the enemy. I share this because I believe that there are others who could be attacked in this same way. I do not typically focus on the adversary, but we are not to be ignorant of his schemes.

The LORD has shown me that one of the biggest areas of spiritual warfare is in the area of relationships. I have been serving in a ministry for about three years now. The LORD will show me the things He wants me to pray for. Here's where the trap comes. I am shown what areas I am to be praying, and before long a magnifying of those areas comes. Before I realize what has happened, the negative areas are all I can see. This comes about so subtly and gradually until I reach a point of hopelessness and heaviness, which is followed by a sense of not being able to go on.

I know that this scheme, though simple, has been very effective, because I have seen people "check out" over the years, not realizing that this is warfare. People see this as a flesh and blood issue, which it is not. We tend to forget the "basics" of spiritual warfare.

For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh: (2 Cor 10:3 KJV)

Brothers and sisters, if the LORD has called you to pray for a ministry, leadership of a ministry, family members, saints of God, the lost... whoever – don't allow the adversary to pull you into this deadly trap. We are seated with Christ in heavenly places (Eph. 2:6). Pray and intercede from those heavenly places.

The next thing the LORD showed me was awesome.

My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous: (1 John 2:1 KJV)

Think about what an advocate does. Jesus Christ the righteous is fighting for His saints, and He is calling us to be co-advocates. An advocate does not focus on the negative, but on the positive. An advocate will help you out of every difficult place you find yourself in, even if you got there by your own doing. An advocate will fervently defend you. This is what Jesus Christ is doing right now, as He ever lives to make intercession for us. He is calling His intercessors to join with Him. He is calling His intercessors to be co-advocates.

If He is showing you a problem, He will give the solution. What easily happens to intercessors is that they will talk about the problem, but won't seek the LORD for the solution. The solution must be sought out and prayed in. Don't magnify the problem – speak out and pray the solution. If the LORD isn't giving you the solution, then He probably isn't showing you the problem. We need discernment: is the LORD showing you what to pray for or is the adversary laying a trap before you?

For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another (Gal 5:14-15 KJV).

Some of our biggest attacks will come in the area of relationships. The LORD is calling us to true relationship in this hour. When we are truly unified, nothing will stop us. Brothers and sisters, I exhort you to ask the LORD if you have fallen prey to this attack of the adversary. Jesus Christ is inviting us to be His co-advocates in this hour. We need His heart and His vision like never before. God bless you.

Coming Of Age

Ching Co

September 25, 2000

All over the world, many of the children of God are crying out for more of the Lord. As we watch all that is taking place around us. There is a greater longing to see God do something.

Many of us has come to that realization that WE NEED GOD TO INTERVENE in our own family, around our neighborhood, in our city and in our nation.

It was at this point in time that I saw these visions and received these impressions. May the Holy Spirit breathe His life into these words.

THE VISION

I saw a series of pictures:

A pregnant woman positioned in the delivery table about to give birth.

A volcano and all around it there were rumbling sound signaling an eminent explosion.

A girl preparing for her grand Debut.

A wedding ceremony about to start with all the participants waiting at the door of the church.

A flower buds that is about to bloom.

THE MEANING

As I was pondering what all these pictures signifies. I heard deep within my heart these words being impressed: "My church is coming of age. "

I began to understand that all these pictures has one interpretation. They all represent the church of God and something significant is about to take place. There is a great unveiling that is about to happened in our midst.

In the past, from generations to generations, the church of God has past through many stages. We have seen many important moves of God through each generation. And all these have enable us to understand more and more of the character and ways of God.

But the day is coming and the day has come for the matured church of God to be made manifest.

NEW FACE OF THE COMING CHURCH

A great change is coming to the church of God. As the winds of the Holy Spirit blows upon us, the church represented by the people of God will invade the marketplace so that speak.

This meant that wherever God has planted and positioned His people, there will be a manifestation of His power. God is bringing His church to the places where His people are found. Your homes , your school, your office, your workplace will literally be filled with the power of the Most High as His Spirit descent and fill these places.

In the midst of these places, we will find people falling under the power of God, people under conviction crying out for mercy, people being healed , people being ministered. Revival will break out in these places not just for a day or a night or a season but this will become the norm. In these places while everyday activities are being carried out, we will also see people CONTINUALLY BEING MINISTERED.

God will be using every yielded vessel for His service in the coming days. The promise of Joel 2:28-29 will become a reality and not a dream.

"And afterward, I will pour out my Spirit on all people. Your sons and daughters will prophesy, your old men will dream dreams, your young men will see visions. Even on my servants, both men and women, I will pour out My Spirit in those days."

These places will become like the "tent of meeting" during Moses time. The Presence of God will dwelt there and people all around will recognize the Presence of God and will flock there. And the Spirit of God present in these places will minister to those that come even when nobody is touching them.

GOD'S MESSAGE

A new day is coming, a day like never before. A day of great rejoicing will break forth from your midst. For like the days of old, I am coming to you.

Though it linger, wait for it; it will certainly come and will not delay (Habakkuk 2:3) As the coming of that day draw near, the storms raging all around you will become more intense. But take heart, for I have you covered under the shadow of my wings. These storms will not shake those who run to me for cover and those that have learned to dwell in the secret place of the Most High. Like a weaned child with it's mother, so will your souls be stilled and quieted before me. (Psalm 131:2)

Many of you have carried these visions within your hearts. You have nurtured it through the years. Like Mary you have treasured them in your hearts. And like Mary many of you have been pierced in your hearts as you give your all to allow these visions to grow.

To those of you who have not hold back anything from me, but like David have understood that for these visions to become a reality, it will cost you everything. Yet you have willingly follow these visions through. REJOICE FOR I AM COMING TO YOU AND WILL DWELT IN THE PLACE THAT YOU HAVE PREPARED FOR ME.

You tent will become like Mount Zion to me and these promises will become a reality in your midst.

" In the last days the mountain of the Lord's temple will be established as chief among the mountains; it will be raised above the hills, and all nations will stream to it. Many peoples will come and say, ' Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob. He will teach us his ways, so that we may walk in his paths.' The law will go out from Zion, the word of the Lord from Jerusalem." (Isaiah 2:2-3)

"In that day the Branch of the Lord will be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the land will be the pride and glory of the survivors in Israel. Those who are left in Zion, who remain in Jerusalem, will be called holy, all who are recorded among the living in Jerusalem. The Lord will wash away the filth of the women of Zion; he will cleanse the bloodstains from Jerusalem by a spirit of judgment and a spirit of fire. Then the Lord will create over all of Mount Zion and over those who assembles there a cloud of smoke by day and a glow of flaming fire by night; over all the glory will be a canopy. It will be a shelter and shade from the heat of the day, and a refuge and hiding place from the storm and rain." (Isaiah 4:2-6)

PRAYER

Father, thank you for encouraging us today. As we wait for the coming age of your church. Continue to prepare us in all ways. Amen !

Coming Destruction

John Sherrer

This is what the Lord says:

I am going to bring destruction on this earth. I am going to first destroy the places of idol worship. The destruction will be over many years. One nation will fall, and then another and so on. The United states is the first one to fall. The United States is the nation of many idols, even Babylon did not have near the idols that the United States has. Every Christian home in the United States has many idols. For every minute that I am worshipped, twenty hours is spent with idols.

I will wipe away these idols as a woman wipes the crumbs off a table. Not one idol will keep one person from My coming judgment. Not one idol will keep one person safe and secure. Not one idol will feed the hungry. Not one idol will keep babies fed and warm. Only those who learn to trust me will survive. Only those who learn to hold My hand and walk through difficulties will overcome. I am holding out My hands to all who will take one of them. It is not My will for any to suffer and die. It is not My will for those who will eat their own children to suffer in that way. It is not My will to see the heart break that is coming.

The destruction is coming when no one is expecting it, except My watchmen and others who listen to Me.

Starvation is coming. Death by freezing is coming. Death from nuclear explosions is coming, death from volcanoes and earthquakes is also coming. If you think, "I am safe, no one can get me here", watch and see what I will do. Why does a loving God do this to His people, a Christian nation? Why does a Christian do such obvious cruel sin. Why are the unborn babies crying out against you? Even the infants cry out against you for their murder. Grandparents cry out against you for their extermination. The unwanted cry out against you for rejecting them, when I did not reject you. This sin, as evil as it is, is not the only charge I have against you.

You walk past those who I love while you are on the way to church. You give them a look of scorn and rejection. You drive one out of your church because of his skin color. You hate another because you do not like the way he dresses. You despise another because you cannot afford the car he is driving. You hate another because his kid went to a more expensive college than your kid. You even hate another because his grass in his lawn is better looking than yours. You will contemplate these things while in church when the preacher is talking. You reject the conviction of My Holy Spirit. The blood I shed for you is rejected. If you do not repent, My blood is on your head! Repent, see in your imagination that you are throwing all your idols on the cross, to die with Me. Then My resurrection power will transform you. Then I will prepare you for the times ahead. Submit to My Holy Spirit, let Me do My work in you. Let Me make you part of My Church Without Spot or Wrinkle!

This is a hard word. The choice is before you. Make a Will choice to trust Me, and let Me cause it to happen. Or trust you idols, let them save you.

The United States has not been a Christian nation for many years. The United States is full of those who attend church for "Fire Insurance". That Idol is not big enough.

When you are dying, and you see your neighbors, who are having mercy on you and are waiting for you to die before they start cutting you up for the fire they have already started, because they have not eaten for two weeks, and you remember this hard word, repent, and you will get into My kingdom! Repent even then, and I will receive you!

Coming Into His Presence

Hi Loved Ones, The following is Francis Frangipane's "River of Life Weekly Summary." He was given a very profound dream. It truly left me pondering and seeking the Lord about entering into His Presence.

Following Francis' Word are my comments and additional teaching. Lovingly, Sandy

Pastor Francis Frangipane

RiverofLifeMailer@InChristsImage.org

This teaching is taken from the book, "The Days of His Presence", by Francis Frangipane

FOR DREAMS TO COME TRUE

Just because we walk and talk does not mean we are truly awake. Zechariah was not sleeping when an angel roused him "as a man who is awakened from his sleep" (Zech. 4:1). Perhaps we too need to be shaken from our slumber to possess the promises of God!

In spite of all the signs, wonders, and warnings announcing that we are truly in the last days, Jesus also said there is a mysterious drowsiness that we have to overcome. Indeed, immediately after highlighting the various evidences of the end (see Matt. 24), He compares the church to virgins who "all got drowsy and began to sleep" (Matt. 25:5).

Virgins sleeping at the end of the age: It seems incomprehensible with all the signs in the heavens and wonders upon the earth, not to mention the increasing Presence of Christ. Yet this phenomenon is something we each battle: the tendency to become spiritually drowsy and lose our focus as we wait for the Lord's return.

There is a subtle activity of the enemy that dulls our perception and seduces our zeal. Our vision takes a backseat to other less important aspects of life. From the beginning, the voice of Satan has had this lulling effect on mankind. Eve's excuse for disobedience was, "The serpent hath caused me to forget" (Lit. Gen. 3:13 Young).

This sense of spiritual forgetfulness, of drowsiness, is the cloud of blindness that we each must discern and overcome. It was in regard to this that the Holy Spirit spoke to my heart through the following dream.

THE DREAM There was a temple standing in an open field. My view of the temple was from its side, about 200 yards away. I could not see its front, yet it must have been completely open because great light flashed out from the inside; it pulsed like lightning, yet was solid like sunlight. The block of light issued straight out and I knew this light was the glory of God.

The temple was so close, I knew that with a little effort I could enter the glory of God. The Holy Presence was clearly within my reach. There were also others directly in front of me that I recognized as people from church. Everyone seemed very busy. And while the temple and its light were visible and readily accessible to any and all, every head was bent downward and turned away from the light; each was occupied with other things.

I heard one voice say, "I have to do laundry." Another said, "I have to go to work." I could see people reading newspapers, watching televisions, and eating. I was sure everyone could see the light if they wanted to—even more sure that we all knew His glory was near. There were even a few people reading the Bible and praying, but everyone maintained the distance between themselves and the place of God's Presence. No one, in fact, seemed capable of standing up, turning, and walking into His glory.

However, as I watched, my wife lifted her head and beheld the Lord's temple. She then stood and walked toward the temple's open front. As she drew closer to the light, a garment of glory formed and thickened around her; the closer she went, the more dense the light surrounding her grew until she stepped in front of the temple. She then entered completely into the Presence of God.

Oh! How jealous I felt. My wife had entered the glory of God before me!

At the same time I realized that there was nothing stopping me from approaching God's Presence-nothing except the pile of things to do and responsibilities that, in truth, ruled my life more than the voice of God.

Pushing the weight of these pressures from me, I determined to rise and enter the temple myself. But, to my great regret, as I rose up, I woke up!

The longing and disappointment within me seemed unbearable. I had been so close to entering God's Presence. How I wanted to enter the temple and be swallowed up in His glory!

I cried, "Lord, why did You let me wake up?"

The word of the Lord spoke deeply into my heart. He answered: I will not have My servant's life fulfilled by a dream. If you want your dream to come true, you have to wake up.

Today, God is calling us all to awaken to the reality of His Presence. The promises God gives us in the Scriptures must become more to us than dream-like realities reserved for the hereafter.

For this reason, the Scripture says, "Awake, sleeper, and arise from the dead, and Christ will shine on you" (Eph. 5:14). If we truly want Christ to "shine" upon us, we must arise from the distractions that entomb us in lethargy and spiritual darkness.

It is time to put away all that is permissive, and even what is permissible, and find what is permanent. If we want our dream of attaining His glory to come true, we each must wake up.

COMMENTS & TEACHING FROM SANDY COMING INTO HIS PRESENCE

~ A Vision of the Prophetic ~

A long time ago the Lord gave me a vision of the prophetic. It was one of those wonderful understandings that has helped me along the way as I study the Words of the Lord through the prophetic. I saw that each one had a different pair of lenses in which to see the future. One had a very long telescope and could see many years in the future. I saw one who had a pair of binoculars peering into the distance. Another had a pair of glasses. All were given to see what was coming, but they could only see a certain distance, depending upon their lens.

In the vision I understood that the prophetic had little understanding of how their particular "lens" fit in with His timing, and would actually be fulfilled on earth. They also had trouble receiving one another's Words, because their lenses were different. The reason for these difficulties is that they did not know each were given a different lens nor did they know that the power of these lenses had to do with timing. When they looked through their own lenses, everything appeared close regardless of how far away it was! However, the truth was, the more powerful the lens, the longer the wait for what was seen to become visible on earth.

~ Promises & Hopelessness ~ After years of waiting for the Words of the Lord to come to pass, it is easy for people to fall into slumber. A prophetic promise faces many obstacles to come into fruition. One of these obstacles is hopelessness and despair. Hopelessness can be a result of the discouragement, impatience, frustrations, and many other emotions resulting from living and breathing His Word as though it is right now, right here, right away, then having to wait. If expectation is really high, delay really hurts. The most natural way to numb the pain is to fall asleep spiritually.

If you have Words from the Lord given to you through the prophetic, or if you have Words from the Lord because you ARE prophetic, and they have not yet come to pass, the Lord is asking you to WAKE UP. Your future is upon you! The future is NOW. He is wanting us to walk into His Promises now. He is wanting our participation by moving forward towards Him.

~ I'm awake Lord, now what? ~ As I read Francis' dream, I said, "Oh Lord how can I come into Your Presence all the time? One day without Your Presence is miserable, now that I have tasted! I long for You Lord!" As I was praying this, I saw this wall in front of me. It was like one of those brick walls that are placed in an obstacle course, just standing there not connected to anything. It was an easy thing to overcome by simply walking around it! He told me that wall was called hopelessness and I had overcome that several years ago as I studied other's prophetic lenses and how they were beginning to connect and overlap with my own. Hope had been wonderfully rekindled as I believed the Words of the Lord and could see how they were puzzling together.

~ The Formula ~ "And so I tell you, keep on asking, and you will be given what you ask for. Keep on looking, and you will find. Keep on knocking, and the door will be opened. For everyone who asks, receives. Everyone who seeks, finds. And the door is opened to everyone who knocks. "You fathers--if your children ask for a fish, do you give them a snake instead? Or if they ask for an egg, do you give them a scorpion? Of course not! If you sinful people know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him." (Luke 11:9-13 NLT)

I cried out, "Lord, I'm awake! I refuse to fall into hopelessness again. Lord what about those of us who ARE seeking You, who have chosen You over TV and other worldly ambitions?" I was knocking - I knew His "formula" to move forward into His Presence. But now even though worship, praise, tongues, studying His Word, and prayer were all wonderful ways to move forward into His tangible Presence, I was feeling quite dry. "Lord did I mess up? What is going on here? I MISS YOU. Knock, knock, knock, knock. This is me speaking. I am knocking. Hello, is Anybody up there?" (Now other people may not pray like that, but that was my prayer.)

~ As A Child ~ At that point in my prayer I saw this tunnel filled with light. All these little people were walking through it in one direction, towards the light. And then my attention was on their legs. I could tell these really were little people, about two years old! I could see their backsides as their little short legs toddled forward.

I had a keen sense that God had called them to come, and they were coming. It wasn't any major project; they had no preconceived ideas of whether they could actually walk towards Him, whether He would actually be there, whether there was any obstacle in their way. They simply were walking towards the light because He had called them. Their little hearts told their little legs to move forward because they WANTED to come. It was that simple to respond to Him. Hearts desire Him, legs move towards Him.

~ The Reality of His Tangible Touch ~ A short while after this, I was playing the keyboard during musician's practice for Sunday AM worship. Somewhere during the songs, it ceased being a practice, I poured out my love for Him through singing and playing. Suddenly out of nowhere, I was downloaded with His Presence! I almost fell off my chair. Waves of His power moving up and down my arms, tangible goose bumps up my spine, heat like warm oil pouring down my head, neck and face. New Wine making my muscles like jelly and my head giddy. Layers of cares gone; I became a melted marshmallow right on the spot. I was so delighted, I began to giggle as His Presence continued in wave after wave. It was like jumping into a cool lake on a very hot dry day! I looked up feeling rather silly and overwhelmed that I had just been "kissed by My Beloved" and everyone else was just singing and playing. They hadn't a clue!

Oh that we would become like little children and receive! "Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter therein." (Luke 18:17 KJ)

So Lord we beg You - that You would give us the hearts of simple expectation like little children. Please give us hearts to desire You and the spiritual legs to move into Your Presence!

Lovingly, Sandy

Come Into The Holy Of Holies

Stephen Hanson

<http://www.angelfire.com/in/HisTruth>

Aug. 26, 00

3. Who may ascend the hill of the LORD? Who may stand in his holy place? Ps. 24

15. For this is what the high and lofty One says-- he who lives forever, whose name is holy: "I live in a high and holy place, but also with him who is contrite and lowly in spirit, to revive the spirit of the lowly and to revive the heart of the contrite. Is. 57 2.

A tabernacle was set up. In its first room were the lampstand, the table and the consecrated bread; this was called the Holy Place. 3. Behind the second curtain was a room called the Most Holy Place, Heb. 9

19. Therefore, brothers, since we have confidence to enter the Most Holy Place by the blood of Jesus,

20. by a new and living way opened for us through the curtain, that is, his body,

21. and since we have a great priest over the house of God,

22. let us draw near to God with a sincere heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled to cleanse us from a guilty conscience and having our bodies washed with pure water. Heb. 10

"Come into the Holy of Holies"

"Come, Come into my sanctuary. Come past the place of the shewbread, and come past the curtain to find Me. Enter into this place with a clean heart and holy hands. I AM here to hear your pleas and to listen to you. This is where I abide and live. This is where you will find Me. "

(The Lord showed me someone who was shooting an arrow, and as I watched the bow being bent back, it released an arrow that was filled with flames. The flaming arrow struck a book, and this book opened up. It was filled with fire and flames. The Lord then said: "This is my Holy Book.")

"My word speaks about Me and shows the people who I AM. It describes the many things and the many people who have beheld my glory. I gave my servant Moses, the ten commandments and for my law. My word came in the form of my Son, for He embodied the word and truth. But I say that some have misused my word and have not handled it correctly. Those who know Me know about Me in my word. "

"Come to the altar and hear Me as my Spirit speaks. Come to that place and kneel beside Me. I AM not far off as many would think that I AM. I dwell with those who are meek and humble of heart. Hear the music that is played within my sanctuary, and feel my presence. "

(I saw the Lord sitting upon a throne and He bent down as if to get something. He was as the King of Kings and the Lord of Lords. He bent down to get a cloth and with this, He took it and spread it upon His lap. He set this cloth there and then I saw many jewels and brocades, and types of armor that was very beautiful.)

Then He said this:

"These things are for my warriors and for those who have come before Me in this hour." Take them for you will need them in this hour. My warriors will fight for Me and will be dressed in my robes of righteousness. Be dressed in my royal robes, I would say. Now go, go to your individual assignments and do what you must do. It is time for my sons and daughters to come into maturity. "

"LET THE PROPHET AND APOSTLE WORK TOGETHER"

Stephen Hanson

Aug. 5, 00

19. Consequently, you are no longer foreigners and aliens, but fellow citizens with God's people and members of God's household, 20. built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, with Christ Jesus himself as the chief cornerstone. 21. In him the whole building is joined together and rises to become a holy temple in the Lord. 22. And in him you too are being built together to become a dwelling in which God lives by his Spirit. Eph. 2

"It is now time for the eagle and the lion to be coming into unison. For the eagle has soared and the lion has roared, and each has had its time. Now the eagle represents my prophets, for they have spoken my messages and some of them have truly soared with Me in the heavenly places. They have been carried along by my Spirit into the territories that I have taken them. Some have drifted on winds of their own making and the fantasies of their own minds. But for those who have kept my word I have a reward for them. For my word will be established upon this earth. From the highest mountain unto the deepest valley, it will be filled with it. Again I say, those who have kept my word, will be rewarded for their efforts. "

"Now my apostles have come, and have laid a firm foundation. They have established my truth in the form of doctrine. Some have truly been wise master builders, for they have built upon the Chief Cornerstone of my Son. Some have helped pioneer new churches and ministries for Me. Some have truly been a father to many. But some have fallen into the temptation that they are the head over everything. There is one head who is the only head and is the father, and that is my Son Jesus Christ. Now is the time for these two ministries to work together in unison. For I have said in my word that my church would be built upon the foundation of my apostles and prophets. Both need each other. For a builder must know where to build and must have a vision for it. Neither one is more important, nor is one greater than the other. Can my lions and eagles work together for Me? Survey the building together and check the foundation. Are there holes or fissures there? Nothing can be built any higher unless this is done well. Know when you need the help of each other. When my revelation comes, then you my apostles will know how to put it in to effect. This way I'm making you both dependent upon each other. Now when these things are laid, then the building can begin. Do the work together as one man for my kingdom. "

His servant and friend, Stephen Hanson

"BE CAREFUL WHERE YOU SOAR"

Stephen Hanson

Sept. 4, 00

29. He gives strength to the weary and increases the power of the weak. 30. Even youths grow tired and weary, and young men stumble and fall; 31. but those who hope in the LORD will renew their strength. They will soar on wings like eagles; they will run and not grow weary, they will walk and not be faint. Is. 40

"This is a message to the prophets:"

"Remember how the story of Icarus was? It is a fable about a man who flew too close to the sun. Because he thought that he could come so close to the sun he burned up and fell to the ground. "

"Remember that some of you have flown in the heavenlies very high. You have soared on the wings as of eagles. But I would say that some of you have flown high in your own imaginations. You cannot manufacture or create, your own wings. You can soar only as high as you are in my Spirit. You must be aware of these things and be careful where you fly. "

"I have said in my word that "those who wait upon Me will renew their strength and will mount-up with wings as of eagles." And truly this is so, but first you must "wait upon Me." This is a season of learning how to fly more carefully. There are times when you will fly and there are times when you will guard the nest. There are times when you will hunt, and there are times when you will sit and survey the landscape. Know the season that you are in. Know when you are to sit and be silent. Know when you are to speak. Know when you are to work together with others. Know when you are to work alone. Know when the heat of battle is so hot that you must retreat to the nest. Know when you must fight the battle with Me. "

"When you know these things then you will fly more "fitly." Know that it is a lifetime of training. Know that it is an on-going refinement. Know that it is a lifetime of service. Know that it is a lifetime of forgiving and being forgiven."

"Your character must match your words. You must die to yourself daily. Then my Spirit can do the work that is necessary. "

"Soar with Me, but know where and how you must soar with Me. Thus would say the Spirit of the Lord, the one who has made the Spirit of the prophets to soar with Me."

Stephen Hanson

Come Out Make the Break

Gaylene Womack

The adversary has taken My signs of covenant from you and perverted them, that you no longer see them as My promises. Look at the rainbow and what it now represents. Look at the moon and the stars and how deep into darkness they are. Where is your righteous anger and indignation – your fiery fight?

Why are you not offended? You sit as though in delight.

They take over this land with their pyramids – through architecture they establish their plan; with crescent moons and stars –with sun bursts and worship of the sun – perverted crosses – devils portrayed in toys and games for your children to delight in (you even give them to your children that they may be in the current craze) – in videos they display their will of darkness of which your children willingly play – and you just party and play!! No supervision in the darkness of this day, mother and father must work, that they may partake of the world's perks.

Why do you allow and promote the music that once glorified Me and now calls up from the deep? Why do you justify the blending of the world? Oh, you think the young are reached, but with perversion they do now seek. Lies and deceptions you have allowed to be. Why are you not before Me on your knees?

Look at My cross. Many ways has the darkness prevailed. You were not even offended – you are only in awe that in many ways they have perverted the cross. Why is not the offense in your heart for those that wear My cross and yet live in open darkness?

There has been no suffering or loss – that they may wear My cross.

Symbols are now opening the door for darkness to come right through your whore – the idol that sits inside your door. Your youth and you it has seduced. Right from the screen, depression, oppression, possession comes to take you – but you do not move.

How is the world going to see what is from the devil or what is from Me? The yoke of the world you must not take. Now is the time you must make the break.

Singleness of mind is what I demand. For a Father unto you is what I will be IF you take that yoke and break it for Me.

Some say this will be a glorious day . . . I say for only those that stay in Me . . . even then hardships will be but even in these times, faithful some will yet be.

Why must I send terror? You come to Me only when you are in despair and in need of prayer. Oh, how I wish you would come to Me to fellowship and share. Don't you know how much I really do care?

Come out of the Laodicean church and come into the church of Philadelphia. For your works are that of the flesh – every deed is manifest that brings forth death. Your works are that of man, for My Spirit is not allowed in their plan! One world religion will soon manifest. I called you times before but you wouldn't come out of their door. With busyness, party and play you stayed where I told you NOT to be - and you thought you were doing this unto Me. Readied for a visit from Me I wanted you to be!!

The day is coming when I will no longer call. Foolish you are to My all – those that do heed My voice and forsake their all.

A price you will have to pay, for party and play and busyness will not be the order of that day.

Lay down your life . . . die for Me. Take up your cross, deny yourself and come follow Me . . . that is where victory ONLY will be.

This is going to be a day of awakening. This nation is in slumber. I tried to awaken you with the y2k news . . . but you slept right on through. I tried to awaken you with the enemies' news but you continued to snooze. Now I WILL awaken you with demonstrations of My power – for across this land My hand will shake even with My power.

Even now, judgments continue and it doesn't even effect you. Why don't you weep and cry for the destruction that is happening over on the East Side of this nation? My shaking will soon begin on the West, going right on through – then who will brood for you?

This is the year decreed and proclaimed. Fire you will see coming from the planes. From across the ocean they will come and from within they will not succumb.

You have seen what the enemy plans for you. Now you repent, stand and go across this land and you now proclaim and decree My Word that brings the liberty to set My people free, for soon you all will have to flee.

The time is far spent. For you that humble yourselves, repent and cry, turning from your ways that displease Me, I will take you to the place where you shall hide. Within the fiery furnace you become My bride (Isa. 48:10). Those that dwell in My secret place shall abide under My shadow. You will say I am your Refuge, your Fortress, your God in Whom you will trust (Ps. 91:1,2). The righteous will run unto Me, their High Tower, and they will find safety.

Coming Out Of Your Caves

Bill Yount

"DON'T "COUNT" YOUR MONEY! READ IT!":

While in Israel I hiked to the mountain of Engeddi. Engeddi was where David hid in caves from Saul. David was anointed to be King over Israel but went into hiding because of his pursuing enemy. You can have a great call of God and destiny on your life but be in hiding. The Lord spoke to me up near those caves where David hid. God said, " Tell My people to come out of their caves.....their Sauls have been slain! Your enemies have been slain! . Come out of your Caves of Fear, Caves of Doubt, Caves of Unbelief. Come out, I want to use you"! This day the Spirit of Saul that has hounded you and has driven you into Caves intimidating you is being destroyed"..

There is a cave in Engeddi that can hold 3,000 soldiers. Whole churches can be in a cave, intimidated by the enemy.

FEAR OF LACK OF FINANCES

I saw some caves that you may have difficulty coming out of to go forward into God's purposes for your life. The biggest cave I saw in the Spirit was the " Cave of the Fear of a Lack of Finances " to accomplished what God is calling you to do. A revelation jumped in my spirit of what is written on our money and every coin and penny. It says, (in the USA) "IN GOD WE TRUST". God spoke to me." Tell My people...don't count your money...read it! Don't count on how much you have or don't have, count ME...Count ME into your God -given Destiny. We are not lead by money but by His Spirit we are led. We must find out what God wants us to do and then trust Him and step out of that Cave.

FEAR OF THE UNKNOWN

Another Cave I saw was "The Fear of the Unknown" What's out there? I don't know, let's go find out!. Many want to wait and know all the details before stepping out of the cave. But God doesn't tell us everything at once. Revelation follows obedience. God speaks as He confirms what HE wants us to do. Then obedience must follow. Then He explains... maybe. Abraham went out not knowing where he was going and he ended up with a city who builder and maker was God. Another Cave was "A More Convenient Time" But there will never be a convenient time for our flesh to feel like stepping out for God. Now Faith is faith is for now.

MY PLANS

Another Cave is "MY PLANS" Someone said," If you want to hear God laugh, tell Him your plans, And if you want to laugh, wait til you hear His"! We must leave our plans in the cave as we step out into His purposes. There's a Cave called "Fear of Failing" What if we fail as we step out? Listen What if we don't? If we fall we will fly. God is stirring our nest of comfort like a mother eagle to get us out on the edge of the nest so He can give us a love push over the edge for we were not born to stay in the nest but to learn like the eaglet that it is through falling that we learn to flap our wings and fly with the wind that's beneath us. One of the largest Caves I saw was "The Cave of Past Failure" that held us back from the present and the future.

PETER FELL?

When I was on the Sea of Galilee about half way across, I said to the Lord, " Lord this is the sea where you called Peter out of the boat and Peter walked on the water before he fell in. I said "Lord are we near the place where Peter got out of the boat and walked on water before He fell?

The Lord answered me." What do you mean Peter fell? This is the Sea where Peter walked"! As though He didn't understand my question. Listen... He doesn't see your failure either. If you have confessed your sin and failures to Him, they are gone, gone, gone. They are not even in the bottom of the Sea of Forgetfulness....the fish ate them!. God did not see the last time you fell. He only saw the last time you got back up! Come out of the Cave of your Past. God has need of you.

YOUR LAST CAVE DAY

By faith I am going to blow the shofar into your caves and you are going to come out...ready or not. The breath of God is going to blow you out of every cave of hiding and His breath will blow every cave in, so you will not be able to go back in them. Even the dust from those caves falling in will praise Him. The Lord says to you. "Come out with your hands up. Leave everything in the cave. You won't need it. He has new things to give you to fulfill His purposes. Right now His breath is blowing step out now. God has need of you! THIS IS YOUR LAST "CAVE DAY"! Receive His breath and be blown into your Destiny!

Come Up Higher

Gloria Shepherd

Coming into the 3rd day Rest

Gloria Shepherd

Cease from the works of your hands, My children, and come and worship Me this day, for I want to bring you into the day of rest as you lay your hearts before Me and worship me in this place which I have for you to enter into this day.

Cease your works, My little ones. Come into the place that I have waiting for you in the Holy Place. Give your hearts unto Me as you come into this place of being totally and wholly given over to Me, and allow Me to do this new work in you.

Some of you are still laboring and do not understand how to enter into this place. If you will come unto Me, hearts surrendered unto Me, and begin to worship Me with all your hearts, I will begin to show you what it is to enter into this place of rest. Worship and praise Me and give all of your hearts unto Me, so I may begin to heal your hearts this day. Let Me do this work in you as you come to the place of total surrender unto Me.

I will bring you into this special place of rest. Cease all your works this day. Let all the labors cease and come into the place of rest tonight. Praise Me with all your hearts and I will show you what this new day is all about. It is the day where all your labors cease and you rest in Me. I will do the work through you.

Come, My little precious ones. I want to do this work in you as you just come into this place and praise My name and lift up holy hands before Me, I shall carry you in this day and this hour as you come into this place of rest.

Reach Higher Into My Glory

Gloria Shepherd

I heard the Lord tonight say to me, no matter how much the seas are tumultuous around you, I want you to come into that place where my glory will engulf your soul and every atom of your being, where you will go into a higher plane of glory. He said, say to my children this day:

Reach Higher into My Glory. I want you to reach Higher into the glory. I have so much more for you.. You have only just begun to touch the heavenlies.

Come higher, reach into the place that is just beyond your reach; come into the Holy Place Expecting More, More, More, More, each time.. Don't stop until you get more than what you had before.. Glory is about to be poured out in such a measure as the world has never seen, nor have you ever known. These are the days of the greatest glory and of My greatest presence ever with My children...

Come Higher this day, don't stop until you get into a higher place than you have been. My glory is your rest and will give you the power to go forward in these days to come as if you are walking above the earth in my glory.

Praise and Worship Me with all your hearts, with all the music that I will begin to birth in you. This is the day of the "new David's" with new songs and new music for this day and hour. Out of their instruments people will be saved for the anointing will flow from their instruments of praise.

Come higher into the glory as you worship Me with all your hearts. I will give you weapons of war, which some will be made of instruments of praise for this hour and day. The enemy will not be able to stand up against this new sound being birthed across the land.

Praise Me from the Highest Place of My Glory. Let your hearts give Me all that they have and I will take you to a place you have not entered into yet.

Some of you, I am going to bring you into a place of my glory you have never entered into before. It shall be new levels of My glory as you enter into this place, and reach higher into the glory I have for you to be in.

Some of you think there is no higher a place you can go into... and I say to you if you will believe when you come into the Holy Place to go higher I will bring you to places you have not been to before. Even greater levels of My glory are being birthed even this day.. .

For I am bringing you to this place as you come into the place of worship, and as a child looks with excitement to see more and more, that is what I am doing in many of your hearts this night.

I am taking you in even higher places of worship and where My glory will envelop you like a great cloud. Have I not told many of you of this day and hour...

This is the day and hour of rejoicing for My glory is pouring out over the vessels who will come to this place tonight. Reach higher in My glory. Don't hold back, but come into the fullness which I have for you to receive.

For this day is the day of My glory being released upon My children who will come into the Holy of Holies, expecting to receive great things. nitehawkdw@earthlink.net

Come Walk With Me

Hollie Moody

At the beginning of this week, I felt the Lord speak to me and say, "Come and walk with Me."

I was excited; wondering what the Lord would be speaking to me, showing to me, or revealing to me. To my surprise and perplexity, nothing further happened. I wondered if I had really heard the Lord say these words to me, and went to Him in prayer.

"What did you just speak to me?" I asked the Lord.

"Come and walk with Me," the Lord repeated once again.

Once again, nothing further seemed to happen. Each morning, and throughout the day for the rest of the week, the Lord spoke the same phrase to me. "Come and walk with Me."

I have learned by now, when the Lord speaks something to me, to wait upon that word. So, I waited. And I waited. And I waited. While I was waiting, I walked. The Lord had asked me to come and take a walk with Him, so I walked with Him through the Word. I walked with Him as I watched my children playing. I walked with Him as I sat outside watching the clouds and listening to the birds calling to each other.

"Come and walk with Me," I heard the Lord ask me once again.

Once again, I was expecting nothing further to develop with these words. To my surprise, though, this time, the Lord and I really took a walk.

I saw the Lord and I as we walked down a small dirt road in what appeared to be the country. The Lord had what appeared to be an old fashioned scale in one hand. He seemed very solemn and serious, and stared straight ahead.

"Where are we going, Lord?" I asked the Lord.

"Visiting," the Lord replied.

"Who are we going to visit?" I asked the Lord.

"My people," the Lord replied. "My churches."

In silence, I walked with the Lord.

We came to the doors of a church. A service was in progress in this church. The Lord and I entered the church and stood quietly in the back. Silently, the Lord and I observed the service and the people.

The service was loud and the music was playing. The people were singing, clapping their hands, worshipping and praising. Everything in this service appeared to be very exciting, and it was obvious from observing the faces of the people that they were joyful.

I looked at the Lord. "This is a good service, isn't it, Lord?" I asked.

"Don't mistake worship for relationship," the Lord replied.

I was puzzled by the Lord's reply.

The Lord walked to the front of the church. I followed Him silently. When the Lord reached the front of the church, He placed the scale on the ground. He then took the Word of God and placed it on one end of the scale. That side of the scale tilted all the way to the ground. Then, the Lord reached out and gathered the congregation into one of His hands. The church became like a cluster of grapes in His hand. The Lord placed this cluster of grapes on the other end of the scale. Nothing happened. The end of the scale with the Word of God on it remained all the way on the ground. The side of the scale with the cluster of grapes upon it, remained all the way up.

Then, the Lord reached out and gathered the cluster of grapes into one of His hands, and began to squeeze the grapes until the juices of the grapes ran freely. Then, the Lord picked the scale back up and silently walked from the church. Just as silently, I followed Him. I was very puzzled about what had just happened in this congregation.

"Could You please explain to me what just happened in that church?" I asked the Lord.

"Many of My people have confused worship with a relationship with Me," the Lord began to explain to me. "There are many marriages that have a good and exciting physical relationship, but when you look closer at that marriage, you will begin to discover many problems that have been hidden and concealed by the excitement of the physical relationship in that marriage. In the same way that many people think a good physical relationship in a marriage means the marriage is good, just so do many of My people also mistakenly feel that if they and their congregation has a good worship relationship with me that must mean all is well with them and their congregation. This is not always true. Don't confuse worship with a relationship with Me," the Lord repeated to me.

I was still somewhat puzzled and perplexed by the Lord's words. We continued to walk.

"Where are we going now?" I asked the Lord.

"Visiting," the Lord replied. "I have spoken to many of a coming judgment. A judgment against sin and unrighteousness. This judgment will begin in My own house, among My own people. It is My Word that will judge them."

The Lord and I then proceeded to go visiting. We visited large churches, small churches, home churches, and churches which consisted at times of only a husband and wife, or a husband and wife and their children or friends and relatives. Each of these churches, was weighed in the balance on the scale the Lord carried under His arm. The churches that didn't measure up to the Word of God, were wrung in the Lord's hand.

Several of the churches the Lord and I visited, when we entered, the people were prostrate on the floor, weeping. In these churches, there was a heaviness in the air. There was no music playing, no loud singing. There was at times much groaning. At other times, there was only the muffled sound of weeping. These churches always appeared to excite the Lord. At the same time, even while appearing excited, the Lord would also appear very gentle and compassionate with the people in these churches who were lying prostrate on the floors. The Lord would go from each of these people to the next, laying a hand gently on their head, uttering small words of comfort to them, soothing and encouraging them. When the Lord would place these churches on the scale to be weighed, each end of the scale would be even with the other end of the scale. After this time of being weighed, the weeping would cease, the people would get to their feet, and they would worship. There was something different, though, in the manner these people worshipped than in the worship of the first church the Lord and I had visited.

These people were always looking up, tears running down their cheeks, their hands raised upwards. Their worship at times also became loud, and there would also be music playing. But there was a totally different spirit in this worship than in the worship of the first church the Lord and I had visited. What I felt was a spirit of brokenness and humility.

At the end of our time of visiting, I sat quietly as I thought and pondered about all that I had seen as I had gone visiting with the Lord. I felt a peace in my heart, yet also a sort of shamed humbleness as I thought about what I had learned that seemed to excite the Lord in a church.

The Lord desires worship that comes from a broken, contrite, humble heart. Before we attempt to worship Him, the Lord desires that we have a relationship with Him that begins on our knees or with us on our faces before Him. I don't think I will ever again worship the same way I used to in church, as I will now as a result of having gone visiting with the Lord. I don't think I will ever again confuse worship with a relationship with the Lord.

In Him,
Hollie L. Moody

Communication

Julia Diana Pickard

On Sunday, April 30th, 2000 at 9:00am, as I awoke, I was recalling a dream I had. There was also an awareness that much of the interpretation of the dream was being given at the time. Whenever this happens I pay much more attention as I believe it is the Holy Spirit speaking. This was the dream.

I was seated at a small table, somewhat like a folding card table, with a former pastor couple and discussing the reasons for a failed ministry. We were in a construction area. It was all dirt and looked like it had been cleared away to begin building. There was a hill- we were about 1/2 way up the hill. At the bottom of the hill, and just off a road that had formed due to the traffic, was a telephone pole.

I was seated facing downhill, they were seated facing up hill. As we were speaking I became aware of a vehicle with three extremely intense men in the front seat. They were totally focused on the road. With sheer determination they revved up the vehicle and began to forge ahead, full speed, on this road that led to the top of the hill. As they did so, they raced by the telephone pole with so much speed and so close to it that they imbedded the car door in the pole as they went.

In astonishment I looked back at the couple I was with. They were looking beyond me and had the same expression so I turned to look. At that point I saw a badly disabled woman in a wheelchair being pushed by another woman only this time they were coming down the hill. The woman pushing the wheelchair had the same intense and focused expression as had the men in the car as she hurled them down the road. As she raced past us she headed right into the telephone pole, shearing the side of it and bouncing right off and continued racing along. The woman seated in the wheelchair was almost catatonic the whole time and therefore did not react in any way.

We sat and watched for a moment and then got up to leave. Suddenly we were in the entranceway (receiving or foyer area) of a traditional cathedral/church building. It was made of old wood and stained glass picture windows. Huge wooden doors behind us and before us so we were enclosed in this area. The former pastor began to speak to my husband and as he did I realized he was actually repenting for being so intent on his goal and call that he became controlling and cynical. He was explaining to us that he realized he had a reputation he had to overcome and now knew it would take time to do so. Instead of being angry at everyone else for not recognizing "his ministry" he was now ready to take responsibility for his own negative contributions and to make changes. A new humility was forming in him. Something we had not seen before. As this happened I watched the stained glass windows shatter.

I began to wake up at this point but as I did I understood a couple of things.

I understood the telephone pole symbolized communication with God. I knew both the vehicle and the wheelchair represented varying ministries. Both "drivers" had been too intent on the destination and had forged ahead without taking time to slow down and maneuver around the communication link. The construction site was the "building of the church" and we were "half way up the hill" but still very much in early construction mode.

I believe there are some who are trying, with all the best intentions and all the focus they can muster, to forge ahead in their ministries and are wondering why it is so difficult. On the road up the hill, and on the road down the hill, we are not stopping at the telephone pole to clear our plans and thus we are running into it. This very action is resulting in a dis-ability to negotiate the terrain and causing damage to the ministry as well communication with God.

The old church represents established traditions but God is going to take the initiative here and bring repentance-by revelation- which will happen "in the gates". The old wooden doors suggest the only way in - which is by the Cross. The two sets of doors is a confirmation. I did not enter further to the church nor did I receive any revelation of what that would be like. However, I believe the shattering of the windows represents the shattering of the man-made adornments of the church.

Submitted in humility;

Compromise

Bob Jones

THE SPIRIT OF COMPROMISE

A Vision and Word to the Church through Bob Jones and Keith Davis

<http://www.bobjones.org/>

FROM THE PROPHETIC MINISTRY OF BOB JONES AND KEITH DAVIS:

Email to the Bob Jones ministry: white_dov@netpathway.com

The following is an allegorical experience continuing to convey important principles essential for our development and training for the soon coming Spiritual releases from Heaven. In it, much prophetic symbolism is utilized to communicate prominent spiritual truths necessary to go to the next level in the Spirit. As is our custom, we do not attempt to define all meaning that can be derived from these experiences. Rather, we hope to accurately share the vision and its scriptural and historical foundation and ask the Holy Spirit to lead each reader to greater depths of understanding unique to their specific circumstances and level of maturity.

THE GRAVEYARD

In this vision Bob and Viola were traveling in an automobile along a beautiful countryside. As the road progressed, Bob found himself ascending a sizeable hill that overlooked the villages surrounding this particular mountain. When he reached the summit and departed his vehicle, he incredibly discovered the top of the mountain was actually a graveyard of murdered women. The scene he observed communicated a violent and brutal scenario resulting in the death of those whose remains were evident in this notable burial ground.

Upon closer observation, he discovered these were Amazon women. Intuitively, he discerned these women were representative of churches. Biblical symbolism often portrays churches as women. (NOTE: In Bob's experiences, prophetic imagery is often used to convey a central theme or truth that the Holy Spirit is desiring to communicate. In no way is this message intended to insinuate that the Church has any relationship with Greek mythology. Rather, its purpose is to personify the churches were endowed with the dominant characteristics of the Amazon women as powerful, mighty warriors, victorious in battle.) The churches portrayed in this revelation had been mightily anointed and had won great victories on behalf of their Bridegroom.

Even though these women were incredible warriors, something tragic had occurred to precipitate their demise. How could such a powerful warlike clan end with such violence and certainty as characterized in the graveyard Bob observed?

WORK IN DAYLIGHT; REST AT NIGHT

"We must work the works of Him who sent Me as long as it is day; night is coming when no one can work. (John 9:4)

The day is the proper time for work -- night is not. This is the general, and universal sentiment. While the day lasts it is proper to labor. Unfortunately, these women did not follow the admonition to do the work during the daylight hours and find rest at night. Instead they had ventured out during the night hours and entered into promiscuity. They had grown weary waiting upon their Bridegroom to fulfill His promises to her. Unwisely, they had joined themselves to men whose initial appearance seemed good and beneficial but whose heart was evil, eventually murdering these women when they least expected it. However, the question remained, What led them to such an inadvisable decision?

With this revelation, Bob began to examine the top of the mountain more closely and noticed many of the skeletons were openly displayed as trophies without being buried. Several skulls and skeletal remains were evident on the surface of the mountain as a token and reminder of the great error made by the Amazon women. After making these few observations, Bob desired to depart this shrine of the enemy as quickly as possible. However, before he could do so, a fast talking man approached him. This fast talking man confronted Bob with the confidence and assurance of a professional salesperson. He explicitly displayed a mastery of the human language and could easily deceive someone with this gift. Immediately, Bob asked this man his identity. The man responded identifying himself as "Compromise." It was compromise that was responsible for the death of these powerful women.

And He (Jesus) said to them, "Rightly did Isaiah prophesy of you hypocrites, as it is written: "THIS PEOPLE HONORS ME WITH THEIR LIPS, BUT THEIR HEART IS FAR AWAY FROM ME. "BUT IN VAIN DO THEY WORSHIP ME, TEACHING AS DOCTRINES THE PRECEPTS OF MEN." "Neglecting the commandment of God, you hold to the tradition of men." (Mark 7:6-8)

But the Spirit explicitly says that in later times some will fall away from the faith, paying attention to deceitful spirits and doctrines of demons; by means of the hypocrisy of liars seared in their own conscience as with a branding iron; (1 Tim 4:1-2)

Despite the powerful attributes of the women and the numerous victories they had achieved, their strength was no match for "compromise." Compromise will always destroy the most powerful of warriors. Sampson was the most anointed man of his day; yet compromise in one small area of his life cost him the anointing and the many victories that could have been achieved had he remained faithful. It was the Lord's great grace that restored Sampson in the end and allowed one final victory with his death. However, it would have been the much greater testimony to remain faithful to the end giving no place to compromise.

Inconceivable as it may seem at first, this was the same bold form in which the enemy embodied the idea of entrapping the Lord by a compromise with evil at the outset of the Lord's earthly ministry. It was an appeal to the holy purpose for which the Lord came into the earth, but upon the ground of doing evil that good might result. Satan offered the kingdoms of this world to the Lord through an unholy alliance and a compromise of the plan of God. The kingdom was to be won, but in the way ordained by God and in the manner foretold in scripture. Compromise will claim to carry us to the goal we are to achieve in a way that seems expedient and convenient, but the end is destruction. There is a way which seems right to a man, but its end is the way of death. (Prov. 14:12)

THE DEATH OF COMPROMISE

When the man realized Bob had seen the graveyard of the Amazon women and intended to carry the warning to the church of this generation, he immediately took Viola, Bob's wife, by the arm and threatened to destroy her if Bob shared what he had seen. (It is important to recognize this is spiritual symbolism and not a literal threat. Bob's wife is representative of the church in this prophetic experience)

With this threat, a Godly jealousy and righteous anger arose in Bob's heart against Compromise for placing his hand upon Viola (the church). The man brazenly responded there was nothing Bob could do about it since he had no weapon. What compromise did not know was that Bob had a knife strategically placed up his sleeve. Bob discovered a trench knife was hidden under the sleeve of his shirt easily accessible in hand to hand combat. This represented the Word of God entrenched in his spirit. Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom... (Col 3 :16)

With this discovery, Bob confidently walked toward compromise and allowed the trench knife to fall into position in his hand and buried it deep into the heart of compromise . It was compromise that had caused the death of the Amazon women (the churches) and the authority from God's Word was placed in Bob's hand to destroy this life threatening spirit. By grace, the Lord is releasing to this generation the wisdom and authority to identify and defeat this great enemy of the church. This victory is assured if we are willing to obediently heed the voice of the Spirit and DO THE WILL OF THE FATHER. Faithful adherence to the Word of God will always bring death to the spirit of compromise.

LEARNING FROM THE PAST

Instead of being at home caring for their family, the Amazon women allowed compromise to deceive them into an unlawful relationship. Rather than being at home devoting themselves to their husband's, they were entering a promiscuous relationship with other men. "Behold, I will throw her on a bed {of sickness} and those who commit adultery with her into great tribulation, unless they repent of her deeds. "And I will kill her children with pestilence, and all the churches will know that I am He who searches the minds and hearts; and I will give to each one of you according to your deeds. (Rev 2:22-23)

The Lord is to be the husband of the church and any relationship with man that usurps the rightful position of the Lord as Bridegroom is considered spiritual adultery. The spirit of compromise will always try to convince the covenant people of God to relinquish their promised heritage for a counterfeit relationship that seems appropriate at the time. That was the teaching of Balaam that eventually led Israel into the judgment of God. Balaam was unable to curse Israel, therefore he convinced her to compromise her covenant with God by intermingling with Balak and the people of Moab. And Moses said to them, "Have you spared all the women?

"Behold, these caused the sons of Israel, through the counsel of Balaam, to trespass against the LORD in the matter of Peor, so the plague was among the congregation of the LORD.

"Now therefore, kill every male among the little ones, and kill every woman who has known man intimately. "But all the girls who have not known man intimately, spare for yourselves.

(Num 31:15-18)

Ours is an admonition of separation and purity, patiently waiting on the promised union with the Lord Jesus. It is the counsel of compromise to lead us away from that position at all costs.

The "way of Balaam" is the covetous conduct of the ones describe in the scriptures as hirelings, whose primary motive is to commercialize their divine gift. Forsaking the right way, they have gone astray, having followed the way of Balaam, the {son} of Beor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness; (2 Pet 2:15) The "teaching of Balaam" is the teaching of the mercenary ministry counseling the church to abandon Godly separation and noble character in favor of worldly conformity. "But I have a few things against you, because you have there some who hold the teaching of Balaam, who kept teaching Balak to put a stumbling block before the sons of Israel, to eat things sacrificed to idols and to commit {acts of} immorality." (Rev 2:14) Very often, following this path will seemingly bring quick results and attract scores of people with much less spiritual resistance. Nonetheless, the conclusion after all has been done is death and fruitlessness.

Balaam taught Balak to corrupt the people who could not be cursed by seducing them to marry Moabite women and commit spiritual adultery. That is the motivation of compromise as outlined in Bob's vision. He could not conquer these Amazon women in battle, therefore the only hope for victory was to corrupt them by seduction with the spirit of the world. "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit who is from God, so that we may know the things freely given to us by God." (1 Cor. 2:12)

If the Amazon women had remained at their appointed abode, as was their initial responsibility, they would have become fruitful and productive, bearing more children to do the work necessary to maintain their way of life. Because they allowed compromise to deceive them, their lives were ended and their children were left to be raised as orphans in an unsupervised manner. The Lord is desiring women (churches) to be loyal to their Husband and abundantly fruitful...producing offspring to the glory of God.

Compromise will always lead us into wrong relationships. Concession leads to death while faithfulness leads to repentance, answered prayer and victory. Even though the night hours seem long and sometimes lonesome, it would be compromise to depart from that place of responsibility and enter relationships unlawfully leading to our demise.

With those conclusions, Bob departed the mountain, realizing the destructive qualities of compromise.

A GLORIOUS FUTURE

The most grievous aspect of the vision was the great future forfeited by the powerful women (churches) here illustrated. Even though they had been victorious and productive, their most rewarding years were ahead of them if they could have overcome the deceptions of compromise. These churches had been powerfully anointed fruitful warriors of the faith. The enemy was unable to destroy them during the day seasons but only during the night. If the women had remained in their post of duty, the enemy would have had no access or opportunity to destroy them.

Compromise begins in the soul of man in what can be described as the thought realm . That is why we are commanded to bring every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ. All of the strongholds of the enemy are designed to obscure our knowledge of God and His thoughts and ways. When our vision has been thus impaired, alternative courses are introduced that will seemingly take us to our desired destination but are not the thoughts and ways of God. We must not be willing to give an inch in our commitment to the Lord and our walk with Him...not even for the most noble of causes.

Through this prophetic analogy, the women lost their first love and compromised their chastity to follow the leadership of men whom they perceived would make them more fruitful and productive. In reality, their decision cost them their lives. Our battlefield is in the souls of men where our mind, will, and emotions reside. The weapon of our warfare is divinely powerful...THE WORD OF GOD RIGHTFULLY APPROPRIATED BY THE SPIRIT OF TRUTH.

"For the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh, but divinely powerful for the destruction of fortresses. We are destroying speculations and every lofty thing raised up against the knowledge of God, and {we are} taking every thought captive to the obedience of Christ,"

(2 Cor. 10:4-5)

COMPROMISING TO BRING UNITY

Compromising the calling and commission of God and the true revelation of His word for a false unity results only in spiritual death. The man named "compromise" that Bob met in the vision was a great orator with a superb command of language with the ability to convince others of his unsanctified agenda. Predominantly, his desire is to compromise the anointed Church into a pseudo-unity around the precepts of man rather than the true revelation of God's word through the Spirit of Truth. Our banner in this situation should be "God's Way or No Way". We must be willing to patiently wait for God's ways to be revealed without yielding to the temptations of "compromise".

"And we desire that each one of you show the same diligence so as to realize the full assurance of hope until the end, so that you will not be sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises." (Heb 6:11-12)

It is through faith AND patience that we inherit the great promises that are rightfully ours. There is coming a true unity of the brethren centered around the word of God and Truth. However, unity simply for the sake of convenience requiring the surrender of even the smallest principle of biblical truth will result only in defeat and spiritual death. There is coming to this generation of the church a strong tendency toward a unity of the faith based on compromise and concession, which we must avoid at all costs. Instead, true oneness and unity will be based on the true knowledge of God and His divine purposes revealed through His empowering Presence dwelling in us.

"And He gave some {as} apostles, and some {as} prophets, and some {as} evangelists, and some {as} pastors and teachers, for the equipping of the saints for the work of service, to the building up of the body of Christ; UNTIL WE ALL ATTAIN TO THE UNITY OF THE FAITH, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to a mature man, to the measure of the stature which belongs to the fullness of Christ." (Eph 4:11-13)

Coming Rains

Todd Bentley

Coming rains of Healing and miracles!!

In the last year throughout many places that myself and the team have been traveling, there have been many confirmed healings and a few miracles. We've seen everything from deafness in the ears, eye problems, cancers, arthritis, back and neck problems. Creative healings such as short limbs growing out to their proper size, crooked spines made straight and God's realignment of the bones, including two people healed of paralysis are just some of what God has been doing.

After coming back recently from healing revival meetings in Whitehorse, Yukon; I was ministering in the Abbotsford Revival Centre and in worship that morning, the Holy Spirit brought me back to a prophetic word that I had given in the Whitehorse meetings. God began to speak to me about the coming healing revival in Canada. In worship that morning I was caught up in the Spirit and I saw many rain clouds individually set up over many churches and ministries across Canada pouring down rain. The rain clouds looked like they do in the cartoons on TV where rain would be pouring down upon one person or one place. Then I saw many ministers and churches that are already flowing in this miracle healing anointing, beginning to go into different cities and towns in Canada. As they were leaving these places of ministry the cloud would remain upon that church and continue to pour down healing rain.

Many places are going to receive such an outpouring of rain that pools of water are going to form like in John 5, the pool of Bethesda. Within my spirit I didn't just see one pool but I saw many pools across Canada. The literal meanings of Bethesda means the house of outpouring and grace. The Holy Spirit spoke to me that these rains were for those churches and ministries that would fervently cry out for the rain, like Elijah upon the mountain in 1Kings 18:41-46. Elijah in verse 41 heard the sound of the abundance of rain and he knew in his spirit that the famine for Israel was over and it was time for the rain to fall, Chapter 18:1. Chapter 17:1 said that the rains would come at the word of Elijah and it would be at the word of the hungry people for healing revival in intercession that the rains will fall.

Though Elijah knew it was time for the rain to fall he still in fervent prayer upon the mountain had to birth and call it forth, 18:41-46.

Though Elijah saw nothing he persisted in fervent prayer calling the rain and if you are to be in the rain and the storm front moving across Canada in healings and miracles you need to preach healing and though you see nothing, preach healing and preach, seven times Elijah persisted and he saw nothing.

I hear the sound of the rain and I know in my spirit IT IS TIME!!! climb up on the mountain and call for the rain, call for the storm. When the rains first began to come the cloud was but the size of a man's fist but it grew to the place where Elijah said to Ahab get your chariot going lest the rain stop you upon the way. God spoke to my heart that first there would be healing but then the rain would become torrential rains and we'd move into miracles. Will your church be a pool of Bethesda for the sick and the lame? Well, then let it pour and the Lord says that truly they'll come from miles around.

That morning in worship after God had given me this word two wonderful Africans walked into the service and God spoke to me that they were a sign that miracles and healings would come forth in Canada like in places in Africa. I called these two men to the front of the church for them to prophesy healing rains within the church in their language. That morning in the service we had many healings including a couple of people healed standing at the altar, one of them was one of the Africans. Praise the Lord! what's been happening in Victoria and with the ministry of Fresh Fire is just the beginning of what God is going to do all over Canada.

Confirmations of God Birthing His Apostles

Paul Jablonowski

Confirmations Update (June 28, 2000) of the article: The Sign of God Birthing His Apostles
<http://www.covenantcenter.org/Rev12-Sign.html> <http://www.covenantcenter.org/Rev12-Update.html> by Paul Jablonowski

Since the publishing of this article over a month ago, several people have e-mailed saying that the Lord had given them understanding years ago on "the birth of the manchild" in Revelation chapter 12. I will reference two different groups below, which were written back in 1997 and 1998. I will also include two other confirmations to The Sign of God Birthing His Apostles. One is a vision given to an elder of the apostles-gathering (Paul Cunningham), and the other is the birth of my second son who was born on the same day that this Sign occurred in heaven (Sept 11, 1999).

1) Daystar Ministry - Prophecy, Dreams and Visions forum - <http://www.uq.net.au/daystar/> Several people in this on-line group were given dreams in regards to what they entitled - God's Baby of the 1990's is of The Seed of The Resurrection of "The Sons of God." - May 6th 1997. To keep this short, I will clip only portions of two dreams below, but you can see the entire listing for this title on their web-site at: <http://www.uq.net.au/daystar/page24.htm>

1) Dream about the baby of a woman who had been dead for 2000 years, received by Lavinia Taylor on 6th March 1997. - We (the Taylor family) were at this place where we were given a hut. There were others there and they too were given a hut per family. We got ours and I started sweeping the floor. The hut had a dirt/sand floor. I just kept sweeping the floor and there under about 4 inches of dirt I saw floor tiles. The people in the other huts didn't worry about all the dirt/sand in their huts. So I continued to sweep all the dirt/sand out of the hut and found that the floor was tiled with a beautifully patterned tile.

Then I saw that there was an outline of a rectangle on the floor. I lifted up this shape. It turned out to be a coffin. Inside was a woman that had been dead for about 2,000 years and just near her legs was a new born baby wrapped in a shawl. The baby was alive. I asked Peter how come the baby was alive after all this time. Peter said because he started from a seed.

Others came to look at what we had uncovered. Then a man picked up the baby and gave him to me and told me I was to breast feed the baby. As I put the baby to my breast he just started drinking straight away. I didn't have any breast milk until he started sucking. Both of my breasts were now full of milk...

2) Spiritual experience to warn about the enemy's plan to kill the child of God's resurrection power, received by Paula M. Cavu on 20th April 1997 ...The meaning of this spiritual experience is obviously related to the revelation and identification, in the new additions to this web site, of the child of God's resurrection power that is being birthed from The Church in the 1990s. This further advanced my perception that "the man child" that is being purged or refined from God's judgment upon Christendom, represents a major and historical intervention of God in the affairs of The Church and humanity.

The Bible records two such major and historical times when God birthed into the world the man child of His intervention into the affairs of men. The first was Moses. Moses was God's man child who was birthed into the world to be the mediator of His Old Testament Covenant. The powers of the kingdom of darkness were aware of this divine purpose of The Creator and they set out to kill every man child or boy child that was born of the children of Israel.

At the birth of Jesus Christ, the powers of darkness were again aware of Heaven's divine purpose. Accordingly they again set out to kill the man child or boy child of God's New Testament Covenant. Concerning killing the two "man child" of God's covenants with humanity, the powers of darkness failed and God's purposes in the lives of Moses and His Son Jesus Christ were fulfilled.

In the same way "the man child of God's resurrection power," which is being birthed from The Church in the 1990s, will overcome the desperate attempts of "the god of this world" to kill it. In agreement with the resurrection purpose of God, the man child of the 1990's will be resurrected "up unto God, and to His throne." May the prophets of the 1990's declare God's purpose in due season and give direction, motivation and purpose for the people of God!

Rev 12:1-5 And there appeared a great wonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars: And she being with child cried, travailing in birth, and pained to be delivered. And there appeared another wonder in heaven; and behold a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his heads. And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born. And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne.

The role in the 1990's of the Internet and E-mail is for global communication between God's called out and chosen people.

Mal 3:16-18 Then they that feared the LORD spake often one to another: and the LORD hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the LORD, and that thought upon his name. And they shall be mine, saith the LORD of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him. Then shall ye return, and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not.

Zech 9:16 And the LORD their God shall save them in that day as the flock of his people: for they shall be as the stones of a crown, lifted up as an ensign upon his land.

2) Godspcak Prophetic online schooling - Prophecy by Carolyn Cook Written September 30, 1998 - emc@telusplanet.net

Isaiah 61-66 is marked almost as much as Rev. 12 in my bible. As I was meditating on Isaiah 66, I feel I was given a revelation on verses : 7-8. The travail You place upon us will come quickly & a man-child will be birthed in a day. At that moment, I sensed a word and saw a picture. The bowls filled from ages before with the prayers of the saints are tipping. They have prepared the road & it is to be even now paved. I saw bowls filled so full they were rounded at the top. They looked like scale bowls (the ones of ages ago, used for measuring). It was as if I could sense the scales were turning. The scales of Justice. They were golden and had a golden, liquid fire in them, like lava.

The road is the road of Righteousness poured by these bowls. All we need to do is walk in it & fulfill His Destiny. Not look to the right or the left, but follow His Train of His Robe. Follow His Train along the path of the Righteous Seed, Whose we are. We are the Righteousness of God in Christ Jesus. The Consummation of all living. Consumed with His Blood, His Power, His Purpose, His Gifts, His Desires, etc. If we could only see how full these bowls are & how little effort it would take to tip them, we would be on our faces to accomplish this. An urgency to get on our faces, now. The prayers of the saints have been sowed into His final work. We will reap the benefits of this reward through the travail & birthing of this Seed He has planted in us. Once the shell of this Seed (our body) dies, then it will be no longer I who lives, but Christ who lives in us. Christ in us the Hope of Glory.

Intercede, travail, birth and tip the scales. See His will accomplished. The Messengers are sharpening their swords and stirring up their wings. They are set and ready to set in order, the Plan that was hidden from the Ages. As the stirring begins, the heavenlies stir in apprehension and expectation, waiting for the Word. I looked up the scripture about the bowls - Revelation 5:8 - Now when He had taken the scroll, the four living creatures and twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb, each having a harp, and golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints.

Today, the day after writing the previous I read this passage. Revelation 8:3-6 : " Then another angel, having a golden censer (bowl), came and stood at the altar. And he was given much incense, that he should offer it (mingle it) with the prayers of all the saints upon the golden altar which was before the Throne. And the smoke of the incense, with the prayers of all the saints, ascended before God from the angel's hand. Then the angel took the censer (bowl), filled it with fire from the altar, and threw it to the earth. And there were noises, thunderings, and an earthquake."

The urgency for intercession. As Moses stood in the gap (one man) for the nation of Israel, God withdrew His Sword. Scriptures KJV. All words are open to judgement, of course. Be Blessed and Touched by His Hand, Humbly submitted in love, Carolyn

3) Transworld Evangelism Ministries - Paul Cunningham - <http://www.transworldevangelism.com/> Dear Brethren, There were two visions given at the 2nd Gathering about the child that was birthed. One was given to Apostle Paul

Cunningham, one of the elders. I asked him to write it out as a witness to us all. Many have asked when and where the next Gathering will be. The date is Sept. 25 thru 28 2000. The 28th marks the 4th anniversary of the date the command was given to me. I am still seeking the Lord about the Location. This is going to be a very special event. We do expect all who say they are Apostles to go through the discernment process. Please contact us as soon as possible with your testimony and why you say you are an Apostle. This is not an Approval process but a discernment process of the calling of an Apostle of the Lord Jesus Christ. We should not spend too much time at the next Apostles Gathering with discernments. There is too much to do. God Bless You Love Cary Goodwin Here is the Vision "A Man-Child " Written by Paul Cunningham (June 2000) an elder of the apostles-gathering

At the Apostles Gathering, in Atlanta, as we worshipped the Lord and gave ourselves to the Spirit, A Vision appeared. I saw the Heavens open, and a great white light appeared, radiating out from the One in the center, as the light from the sun does. As I looked, I saw it was Jesus, and He held in His Hands a Child, who had just been recently born. He extended the Child and asked, "Who will be responsible for this Child?, Who will care for it, nurture it, and see that it is kept safe from those who would harm or destroy it?" (in the background, I could sense some who drew back , and had an attitude "we sure don't want the responsibility,... there could be reproach....people wouldn't understand...etc.")

The Lord reached down into our midst, and said 'will you (Apostles Gathering) be responsible for this Child?' We who were gathered, and even others who are "with us" reached up IN ONE ACCORD, and our voices rang out, "we will accept this Child as our own, we will bear the full responsibility for it, we will nurture and cherish it, and bring it to full maturity...we will see that no harm comes to it." Jesus then, handed the Child into our collective hands, and said, "I will be with you, I will provide ALL THINGS NEEDED to bring this Child to maturity and for it to accomplish the Divine Purpose I have Ordained for it in the earth...My Glory will be seen, and the Harvest will be reaped."

God has "birthed a child" A MAN CHILD, who is to bring about a dramatic change in the entire structure of the CHURCH....The Man Child will bring full Apostolic Order to the Ministry and in turn, to the Church. Apostle Paul Cunningham

4) Paul Jablonowski - Birth of a Manchild Poem Around the same time that I first heard about the apostles-gathering, my second son was conceived on New Years day January 1st 1999. My son was born on the same day (Sept. 11th 1999) that this Revelation 12 Sign appeared in the heavens on the Jewish New Year (Feast of Trumpets). This confirmation was one of many that gave me the courage to deliver this "Revelation 12 sign" as the word of the Lord and not just an interesting coincidence. The poem that I wrote on the day of this birth can be seen at: <http://www.covenantcenter.org/writings/manchild.html>

Consuming Fire

Dave Howe

Behold I Am coming as an consuming fire among you my people - For you will burn with holy fire for me says the lord.

And as you burn for me - My fire will spread among the people much as natural fire spreads through the dry grass driven by the wind - For now is the time - For this is last day before my coming to you in the sky - For now is the time when I will display my Glory among you upon streets says the Lord.

For my word says the greater things shall you do in my name than when I walked the earth.

And greater things shall you do says the Lord - For my word is trustworthy and true.

Be not afraid about what you are to say and do - For my spirit will guide your every step - Will guide your every word - For my Word will come from your mouths as a two edged sharp sword with holy fire - Will come from your mouths and break the chains of those that are lost in darkness so that they will see the glory of my son and be saved - Set free and healed says the Lord.

For my Word will burn within you my people as an all consuming fire - For I AM an all consuming fire says the Lord.

Consumed With Ourselves

Anita Green

So here goes. About a week ago, I was asking the LORD questions about the church/body and was mulling about in my mind how we each have our own relationship with Him with our different gifts. I heard him say, "Come on up here." Immediately, I was sitting beside him on a small bench looking down on the earth. It was beautiful. It was like sitting on a park bench on a bright sunny day. The only difference was that we were looking down at the earth and in particular, Canada and the United States. (As the earth turned, you knew inside of you what the saints were going through in the different nations and how much they loved him.) I asked Jesus, "Is this what you see when you look down on the body?" He simply replied, "Look." I looked down and saw North America and I became keenly aware of how we are different from the rest of the body of Christ, in that of all the nations in the world, we are the ones who are most consumed with ourselves. This is not to say that other brothers and sisters in other countries, don't struggle with this weakness, but it's just that we were the most predominant. Or have the lion's share so to speak of being proud and needy of affirmation.

I can't tell you how I felt inside. In a flash, I could see brothers and sisters running around, promoting ministry, church programs, etc. and that their main motivation was to make them feel good about themselves. Honoring God was a part of it, but it wasn't the main thrust. They thought it was, but they were wrong. It was embarrassing and humbling. Embarrassing because I saw how foolish we are that we don't see the true motivation of why we do our "ministry things." I also saw how proud we are and we don't even know it. Humbled, because his incredible love for us is simply amazing. As I sat quietly by his side, I realized how full of ourselves we can be. With love and compassion in his voice, Jesus said, "Many of them would not serve me if their ministry or affirmation from the Body was removed. They would become bitter." There was no condemnation on his part, just a stating of the facts. I felt pricked inside because of the pain this causes him. I just wanted to worship and praise him forever. To throw my arms around him and tell him how sorry we are, that we don't realize how we have so cheaply sold out to self. I wanted to comfort him because I know that his heart's desire is true fellowship and intimacy with us. He wants us to be passionately in love with the Father, the Holy Spirit and himself - even if it means that we are not recognized by man or the church. And I felt badly that in many cases, we are not offering up true praise, but instead we are giving Jesus what makes us feel good. He is worth so, so much more. Once more as I sat in his presence, I realized how little man is and how we are truly honored that the LORD loves us and cares for us. All our best cannot compare to the glory and the praise that belongs to him.

I then told Jesus that I was sorry that we were doing this to him. I asked him, "How do we break free of this? We don't even know what we're doing. Some of us actually think we're doing God a favour." Jesus said, "The key is intimacy with me. When you spend time with me, all desires that are not of God and are of the flesh, will disappear. There will be times when you will need to spend more time with me than usual. It will depend on the trial or how strong your will is in an area." As he spoke those words, I recalled how true that is. When I am in his presence, I can forgive anything and the things of this world mean nothing to me.

Contaminated

David Clements

You have become contaminated by the spirit of the world. Can you not see that the filth of this world has washed over you ? I Am bringing a cleansing that will wash this filth off of you and make you whiter than snow.

I Am refining you by pulling out of you the spirit of the world and it's effects upon you. You have tried to deal with the manifestations of evil but I Am destroying the root of evil. All will go as I do my work in you. It will not be easy because you are rooted in dirt. I will pull you up and transplant you into me.

Examine yourself in my mirror, my word. Examine yourself in the mirror of praise and prayer. It is only when you look at my son Jesus that you can see what you should look like. Stop tampering with the mirror and adjust your image to fit mine. Stop comparing yourself to others for they are only men. Die to you dreams, aspirations, ambitions, desires, die to your self. Die and loose your life completely that you might find me for I Am your life. You say I have died to myself but I say you have not. Only where it is convenient have you let go. Until you loose all of your life and my life becomes your only source of living you cannot be life to others.

I do not want to touch you or your city I want to burn you and it down. I Am a consuming fire therefore I will consume all flesh and sin as I move. You have not understood what you were calling for when you called for My Glory . When I come all that is not of me must leave. Only when you have allowed me to consume you will I be able to raise in resurrection power a new you and a new city.

I Am going to perform my will in you and this city (Phil. 2:13). I Love you so much that I will not allow things to go on as they have been or are. Either submit and yield to this change by laying down your life or I will bring order through the pressure and heat of my Glory which will conform your life and your city to my will. Many cities and people have resisted my call to repentance and they all fell before me. Look at my testimony, my Word, and see. Come to me now, call to me, even cry to me and before me and recognize that I Am your life for now and for eternity. I Am life and all else is death.

I Am moving and making a way where you think there is no way. Stand and watch as I do mighty things. My arm is outstretched to perform salvation, healing, deliverance, and mighty deeds for I Am.

Corporate Intimacy

Judith Grobelny

Once a week I meet with a very small group of trusted friends and intercessors. In one of our recent meetings the Lord came in a new way to draw us into deeper intimacy with Him and we found that while we were delighted with His presence and desired more of Him we were reluctant to corporately come to a place of intimacy that many of us enjoy in our private prayer times.

He drew my attention to this and said that this is something that will need to be addressed in our fellowship with one another and particularly in His Body. He then began to show me the things that cause us to draw back from intimacy as a Body and I was shocked.

Psalm 105v15 says Do not touch my anointed ones; do my prophets no harm. He then proceeded to show me that this verse has been used much in connection with leadership in the church that no-one would speak against them, when in fact His anointed ones are those who are a holy priesthood and a chosen generation. That means all of His Body and it is why He commanded that we should love our neighbours as ourselves. The verse out of Psalm 105 when taken in part has actually at times been used to silence prophets! He was also showing me that prophets are anointed for a task that requires them to be open and vulnerable to be able to hear the Lord and be obedient to Him - this scripture is His protection for them in their calling.

I then saw that the reason we do not enter corporately into intimacy with our Lord is that in the most part we cannot trust the people either side of us. Some we are holding critical attitudes against. Some we have gossiped about. Some have passed on gossip about us that have injured us. Unkind and unjust words have gone backwards and forwards to people's faces and behind their backs. Many have not honored the prophets He has sent into their midst, or taken heed of or care with, the words they have spoken. Many have not even taken care of the basic human needs of these men and women who walk before God open to the misunderstanding of man. Why then should they receive a prophet's reward?

When we truly do not touch His anointed ones; and do His prophets no harm, we will begin to be in right relationship with one another, trusting and loving one another as ourselves, and willing to be open before each other in a new way.

The Body of Christ is crying out for His Glory and for Him to come near, but is not being obedient to what He asks of us. He tells us that He considers obedience is better than sacrifice. If it took a sacrifice every six paces to bring the ark into Jerusalem, what will it take to bring the Glory of God into His House?

This has left me thinking, praying, and beginning to watch even more carefully the words that come forth from my own mouth.

Shalom, Judith Grobelny

Courage

Deb Cossu

Scripture: Ephesians 4:12, 13. "Prepare God's people for works of service, so that the body of Christ may be built up until we ALL reach unity in the faith and in the knowledge of the Son of God and become mature, attaining to the whole measure of the fullness of Christ."

Vision of the church:

Last night I had an intense time of intercession for the church. I saw a very healthy and strong "womb" of love surrounding us. Just like when we are in the womb, there is a buoyancy that moves us in safety, and holds us in place. There was a peace settling finally after several hours even though there was evidence of some activity going on around us. Realizing that the threat from outside this place of protection could not penetrate in to harm us, caused me to drift into a wonderful and peaceful sleep knowing we were surrounded by His COMFORT.

SUDDENLY.....

I was awakened at 1:10 A. M. with a painful alertness that something was happening. Instead of COMFORT over us, I saw COURAGE. The letters were not placed correctly though because it appeared as:

C OUR AGE.

The spaces were distinct, and as soon as I saw what it said, everyone inside the womb of love began in unison to declare,

"SEE OUR AGE."

This c-our-age now resounding was causing everyone to move and shove and push in time to the chorus now rising. We were not hurting each other with the movement, but rather cheering each other on. Things were getting to tight to move any longer, and then

ALL AT ONCE

THE COMMAND WAS HEARD:

"COME FORTH"

Word to the church:

I am calling you out of the womb of security that has kept you safe for so long. You have grown to much now to remain cramped inside any longer. Overnight I have brought about a change that will result not just in new life, but abundant life will come forth with shouts of liberty and freedom. The buoyancy of My love will continue to surround you, but you must come forth to enjoy it to the full.

IT IS TIME.

The time of preparation has been vital to cause you to develop. It has been important and even necessary to cause you to grow. But today I announce this is the due date set by My hand from the first day.

Come forth, and do not be afraid. I will catch you. I will not let you fall. I know you are ready. You will experience a new buoyancy that will not just hold you for protection, but carry you with purpose. Things have changed, yes even overnight, and so will you. In order to continue to develop and grow you must let go of where you have been.

You must see and know as well, for the growing pains have made you uncomfortable, and you do not want to be constrained any longer. I am here to deliver you Myself. This age of maturity is a result of all that has happened in the womb of My love, but come out to share it with the world I long to embrace....

The world is waiting to see you come forth as much as I am.

What are you waiting for.

This is the day, come forth.....

NOW.

The Sword In My Hand, Is You
Debbie Cossu

Zechariah 9:11, 12, ...13 "As for you, because of the blood of My covenant with you, I will free your prisoners from the waterless pit. Return to your fortress, O prisoners of Hope, for EVEN NOW I announce that I will restore twice as much to you ... and make you like a warrior's sword."

I am the Warrior sent out this day. You are the sword in My hand. You are ready, now. All that has occurred, and all that has not, is by my Hand says the Lord... Because I have claimed you with My own blood, I will see to it that your life is spared.

I want you to have life to the full. I offer life to the vision that you laid to rest and viewed as dead. Without hope you have been faithful, and My faithfulness in your behalf shall be seen today. I silence the fear that has held you in bondage longer than I designated you to be in seclusion.

I never intended for you to go without water. My living waters run free and are available to all. Come and drink deeply. Come and be refreshed. Come and be satisfied. You must have water to live.

I free you now from the waterless pit that has held you captive, when you should have been released long ago. Actually you were released, you just did not move. I did not set the limits that have been imposed. Some the enemy deceived you into, but others were self imposed as if to earn My favor by your sacrifice, even a sacrifice of love.

I paid the price of your ransom, I called forth this love, I purchased your freedom, and I free you to make your own announcement.

I am not just granting freedom from where you have been, but freedom to all I have planned for you, prepared for you, and has been waiting for you!

I brood over you in the night watches and pour out My love upon you. When you awake, and surely this day you will wake up, all your hopes and dreams will be seen clearly.

As you look upon what I have kept safe for you, formed and fashioned for you, even brought to you as you asked, the song in your heart will burst forth for all the world to hear. With tears in your eyes, surely this day you will know I am the Lord as you see your heart request that's been held in My hand, for you.

You have been a prisoner of Hope for too long. Your hope is not deferred as you have believed, it has been delivered to you. Open up your eyes and see what I have done. I took liberty to make the arrangements you were too timid to ask for. Truly, I arrange all things well.

I will restore to you double of what you have missed, given up, and done without. Truly I say unto you, nothing that was taken from you was what I had intended for you to have anyway. Nothing I received from you has been lost. Nothing you have given up will be withheld any longer.

All this time of waiting has really been a time of working. I have been working upon you, and you have been made new. You are now a polished sword in My hand, cleansed by My blood, and washed in the river of life to be used with effectiveness and precision. Much time was required, yes, but the time of waiting is over.

Hear the song of love and your own shall be released. You are ready now. I take you in My hand. Now you must reach out yours so the world will see what I have done for you.

Council of War

Chad Taylor

The term "Council of War" was coined a hundred years ago by William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army. Once a year they would gather in England to strategize and pray how to more effectively impact unreached areas for Jesus Christ. 'People would flood the altars every where they went. "The power of God was wonderfully manifest in the meetings . . . people were frequently, struck down, overwhelmed with a sense of the presence and power of God." '

Their fervency for the gospel knew no bounds. They would then march through the streets beating hand held drums, waving banners, and passing out hand bills for their nightly revival meetings. Sometimes beaten and bruised they would assemble and the fire of God would fall and souls would be saved. 'General Booth's battle cry was "Go for souls and go for the worst." The worst of sinners were saved, saloons were closed and entire cities were shaken. 'At another time, two salvation Army workers set out to found a new work, only to meet with failure and opposition. Frustrated and tired they appealed to William Booth to close the rescue mission. General Booth sent back a telegram with two words on it, "TRY TEARS" They followed his advice and witnessed mighty revival...' When spit on during the Midlands tour, Booth encouraged his fellow soldiers, "Don't rub it off - it's a medal!" '

God is putting the fire of self sacrifice back into our hearts to preach the gospel with passion and fervency. Katherine Booth was once heard saying, "at least let them see the tears in your eyes when you tell them about the Master's love..." God is giving us tears again. Tears of compassion, tears of passion for the lost and perishing that flood our streets and cities. To be a "Salvation Army" once again beating the drum of the Father's heart through the streets of this country.

Revival is only a direct manifestation of the burning love of Jesus displayed in human hands and hearts. It is only an overflow of a church ablaze with the fervent passion of Jesus Christ. A passion that compelled Him past mobs and whips to hang on a tree. Once we are lit with this kind of love we will SEE revival and harvest! LET US BURN THEN! LET US BURN!

Later in William Booths ministry he came to the conclusion that the conference was no longer necessary, the formal gathering that produces nothing but more formality was turning into a dead tradition in itself. It was later recorded him saying, "There have been more than enough conferences, and congresses, and committees and deliberations. It is time to ACT! There is not a moment to lose! There cannot be any question to what we have to do. No more conferences! No more doubt! No more delay! Arise, ye children of the light, and buckle on the armor bright, and now prepare yourselves to fight, against the world and satan. We are called to be saints. We are called to be brothers and sisters of Jesus, to fight with Him, for Him, with every particle of strength we have to the last grasp. That is enough! No more conference!" (end of quote).

Again the Lord is pressing on the hearts of His leaders and ministers to take "conference" to a completely different level. From Conference to confrontation, as the church marches from the upperroom experience into the marketplaces of every city heralding a harvest and reformation. What is being reported in churches as revival and renewal, will be eclipsed by the awesome demonstration of what God is about to do on the streets. Like in the first century church these things will be common occurrences, "So they brought the sick out into the streets and laid them on beds and couches, that at least the shadow of Peter passing by might fall on some of them. Also a multitude gathered from the surrounding cities to Jerusalem, bringing sick people and those tormented by unclean spirits, and they were all healed..." (Acts 5:15-16).

Revival will demand unity. In the normal church pace of program and predictability one does not feel any urgency to reach out and embrace a church across the street or city, the attitude is "we are doing our thing, and they are doing theirs, God bless'em..." But let the lost begin to press into our meeting houses by the thousands, let the sick begin to be lowered through the ceilings, let the beggars and vagabonds abandon thier "will work for food" signs and start to flood our sanctuaries, suddenly we will be like those in Luke 5:7, "They signaled to their partners in the other boat to come and take hold with them. And they came and filled their boats..." When the net we have fashioned begins to break under the strain of harvest, we will surely then call out to one another for help at the cost of our own agendas! GOD GIVE US HARVEST! It is the only thing that will tear down the walls of religion once and for all.

The conferences we attend next year will not have the same format as they do this year. The time to just convene will be turned into a time to invade. We will be busy at more doing than we are hearing. Teams will be mobilized and released into targeted areas of the host cities. Reports will charge each night of the souls that were saved and the bodies healed. Prophetic conferences will become mass baptisms as hundreds receive Christ and water baptism. A week long conference will turn into months of training and equipping as the hundreds even thousands that got saved during that conference hunger and thirst for more. What started out as a week will explode into revival and harvest as the lost fill the auditoriums and church buildings. Until fields and parking lots become the norm for meetings and gatherings.

Get ready saints! The face of Christianity is about to be transfigured! What we saw in the mirror of the "perfect law of liberty" yesterday is not what we are going to see tomorrow! The old dry bones of the wilderness experience will have to lie there, we are crossing over into the Promised Land! We are about to possess the land the Lord has allotted us! The words of Joshua will ring through the camp of God once again, "Sanctify yourselves, for tomorrow the Lord will do wonders among you." (Joshua 3:5).

The church can not survive any longer on the old manna, the old experience. As they did in Joshua 5, we must begin to eat the fruit of Canaan and partake of the Lord's promises of revival and harvest. "Then the manna ceased on the day after they had eaten the produce of the land, and the children of Israel no longer had manna, but they ate the food of the land of Canaan that year..." (Joshua 5:12). We must begin to hunger and desire a greater manifestation of His grace and power to impact our city and streets. A pat prayer will not suffice in this new millennium, God is looking for "DOERS OF THE WORD, NOT HEARERS ONLY." Warriors that will cross the Jordan of tradition and begin to radically possess the land. Leaders that will mobilize the troops and train them for battle and confrontation. Pastors that will dare to partner with other churches of different denominations and races for the gospel sake. That are not ashamed of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

This is the sound that will carry us into the deep, "to take in a great catch..." This is the courage that will sustain the coming move of God. This is the heart attitude that will compel a generation of youth to "offer up their bodies as a living sacrifice..." Instead of on the altars of drugs and sex. Nothing less will move them. Nothing less will impact them. God give us a "Council of war" so that we may "please Him who has enlisted us as soldiers!" (2nd Timothy 2:4)

Causalities of War

Bryan Hupperts

July 7, 2000

I was weaned on classical Western and English literature. Pro and con, I've pondered Tennysons' Charge of the Light Brigade, "The soldiers knew someone had blundered." Anyone who has ever donned a military uniform can give an insiders chuckle to this woeful fact of military life. But this Brigade was slaughtered because of this order. "Theirs was not to reason why, Theirs was but to do and die, and into the valley of death rode the 600." Should these men have obeyed such an outrageous order?

Sure, it makes for great poetry – but a lot of men died that day.

And there was the infamous cable car accident in Italy that plunged a gondola full of tourists 260 feet to their death. A U.S. Marine plane flying low-level missions went some 700 feet below recommended flying – doing in excess of 500 mph - when they accidentally clipped the cable. After these soldiers were acquitted on various charges (including manslaughter), despite outrage from the Italian government, it was discovered these trainer warriors had secretly destroyed a videotape of the incident the day it occurred and were subsequently discharged from the military. The pilot even served a 6- month prison sentence.

In another scenario where the innocent paid with their lives, while on patrol in the Persian Gulf near the end of the Iran-Iraq War, the USS Vincennes shot down a commercial Iranian airbus with 260 civilians aboard. It was claimed the airbus was flying was outside the commercial jet flight corridor, flying at only 7,000 feet, and on a descent (intercept) path toward the Vincennes. Much later the U.S. admitted this intercept story was a cover-up (cover-up means lie in the military lexicon.) The incident was attributed to psychological stress on men who were in battle for the first time.

Military blunders in every army are astonishingly commonplace. Recently, a NATO elite training force of 116 Italian infantrymen landed at Kristianstad, Sweden (not a NATO member and always neutral in matters of war), instead of the assigned Kristiansand, Norway. Whoops! Wrong country. Imagine the surprise of the residents of this peace loving people when they discovered NATO was invading!

One very hard truth of the Christian life is that we are in a war for the souls of men, and in war, there are causalities. Mistakes are made. Good men can do incredibly dumb things in the heat of battle and it is often the innocent who pay for it with their lives.

Incorrectly identifying the enemy is what gets most Christians into trouble. We see our brother's blind spots and weaknesses and brand him as the enemy. A schism develops, a division occurs, and we the army of the Lord begin engaging in Civil War with our brothers and sisters in Christ. Show some grace! Even God remembers that we are only flesh.

We have a common enemy, a real devil who is, according to 1 Peter 5:8, "Seeking whom he may devour." Again, Ephesians 6:12, "For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this age, against spiritual hosts of wickedness in the heavenly places." This hidden enemy may exploit our brother's shortcomings but our brothers and sisters in Christ, however failure-prone they may be, are not the enemy.

People make mistakes, get fearful, and can cause real, irreparable eternal harm. Sometimes usually honest saints panic and try to hide the truth for fear of facing the consequences of their actions. Even the best of us fail.

Beloved, I am not excusing human failures. However, we are called to a higher standard – the standard of Love. And love is not easily offended, does not take an offense into account, and covers a multitude of sins. We may fail, or friends may fail us, but Love never fails! God so loved a world that so hated Him.

If you've been a causality of "friendly fire" from a fellow Christian, or have lost friends because another believer has blundered, take the high road and Love. Sure, it's yours to question why. Still, pick up your Cross and die! Into the valley of death...

Have Mercy On Us, Oh Lord!

A prophetic revelation given through

Lord, have mercy on us as the day of your appearing in your temple (our vessel) draws so ever closer. Lord, help us, as nothing can prepare us for your love, for it will expose the wretched darkness in each of us. Your mere presence judges us righteously. Lord I am ashamed, and want to hide from you, but where can I hide. Lord, take this wretched curse of death that is on us, and breath your resurrection life into us. Lord to see you means to become purified into your image, but the darkness that is in me is terrified of your love. Lord have mercy on me, and take the shame off of us. Lord all has been vanity.

Amos 5:18, 20

18) Woe unto you that desire the day of the Lord! to what end is it for you? the day of the Lord is darkness, and not light.

20) Shall not the day of the Lord be darkness, and not light? even very dark and no brightness in it.

Blessed children of the Father, the day of our precious Lord and Saviors appearing is upon us, which means we're about to be judged (exposed) by fire (love) , judged righteously, and purified into His image. Brothers and sisters the day of the Lord is going to be a very painful day for us. We are going to be emptied and this is going to leave us desolate. It's a day of darkness, because we will see the darkness in us. It's the day we die, so He can live. This is righteous judgment, not wrath. Wrath is to be rejected by our Father.

Joel 2:1-2

1) Blow ye the trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the LORD cometh, for [it is] nigh at hand;

2) A day of darkness and of gloominess, a day of clouds and of thick darkness, as the morning spread upon the mountains: a great people and a strong; there hath not been ever the like, neither shall be any more after it, [even] to the years of many generations.

I Corinthians 3:13-16

13) Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is.

14) If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward.

15) If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as by fire.

16) Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and [that] the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

Elijah is the voice of the day of the Lord. Elijah is a trumpet. A day of repentance and deliverance.

Joel 2:11-14

11) And the LORD shall utter his voice before his army: for his camp [is] very great: for [he is] strong that executeth his word: for the day of the LORD [is] great and very terrible; and who can abide it?

12) Therefore also now, saith the LORD, turn ye [even] to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning:

13) And rend your heart, and not your garments, and turn unto the LORD your God: for he [is] gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil.

14) Who knoweth [if] he will return and repent, and leave a blessing behind him; [even] a meat offering and a drink offering unto the LORD your God?

Joel 2:32 And it shall come to pass, [that] whosoever shall call on the name of the LORD shall be delivered: for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem shall be deliverance, as the LORD hath said, and in the remnant whom the LORD shall call.

Zephaniah 1:14-16

14) The great day of the LORD [is] near, [it is] near, and hasteth greatly, [even] the voice of the day of the LORD: the mighty man shall cry there bitterly.

15) That day [is] a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of wasteness and desolation, a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness,

16) A day of the trumpet and alarm against the fenced cities, and against the high towers.

A day of flesh turned into gold. The manifested sons of God (Bridegroom) are birthed.

Lamentations 4:2 The precious sons of Zion, comparable to fine gold, how are they esteemed as earthen pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter!

A night of sadness, but a morning of joy.

Psalms 30:5 For his anger [endureth but] a moment; in his favour [is] life: weeping may endure for a night, but joy [cometh] in the morning.

A morning that Zion is birthed in us.

Psalms 30:11-12

11) Thou hast turned for me my mourning into dancing: thou hast put off my sackcloth, and girded me with gladness;

12) To the end that [my] glory may sing praise to thee, and not be silent. O LORD my God, I will give thanks unto thee for ever.

A day that the enemy is put underneath our feet. The woman (the bride, daughters of Zion)

Psalms 47:3 He shall subdue the people under us, and the nations under our feet.

Romans 16:20 And the God of peace shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

Genesis 3:15 And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel.

The manifest sons of God (Bridegroom) and the daughters of Zion (Bride) shall begin to judge the world.

Micah 4:13 Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt beat in pieces many people: and I will consecrate their gain unto the LORD, and their substance unto the Lord of the whole earth.

Joel 2:3-10

3) A fire devoureth before them; and behind them a flame burneth: the land [is] as the garden of

Eden before them, and behind them a desolate wilderness; yea, and nothing shall escape them.

4) The appearance of them [is] as the appearance of horses; and as horsemen, so shall they run.

5) Like the noise of chariots on the tops of mountains shall they leap, like the noise of a flame of fire that devoureth the stubble, as a strong people set in battle array.

6) Before their face the people shall be much pained: all faces shall gather blackness.

7) They shall run like mighty men; they shall climb the wall like men of war; and they shall march every one on his ways, and they shall not break their ranks:

8) Neither shall one thrust another; they shall walk every one in his path: and [when] they fall upon the sword, they shall not be wounded.

9) They shall run to and fro in the city; they shall run upon the wall, they shall climb up upon the houses; they shall enter in at the windows like a thief.

10) The earth shall quake before them; the heavens shall tremble: the sun and the moon shall be dark, and the stars shall withdraw their shining:

I Corinthians 6:2-4

2) Do ye not know that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters?

3) Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more things that pertain to this life?

4) If then ye have judgments of things pertaining to this life, set them to judge who are least esteemed in the church.

Malachi 4:1-3

1) For, behold, the day cometh, that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble: and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the LORD of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.

2) But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall.

3) And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I shall do [this], saith the LORD of hosts.

Lord have mercy on us, and turn our wicked hearts back to you. Lord, forgive us for our pride. We know we are about to fall. Lead us into true repentance. Woe to those that are at ease in Zion.

Crippled By False Expectations

Stan Smith

Introduction

I keep meeting people who are exhausted with waiting for God to move. I have tasted that exhaustion myself, as a pastor for seventeen years. Sometimes God was moving in the church and I couldn't enjoy what he was doing because I was expecting him to do something else. Sometimes when God worked, it didn't feel like a move of the Spirit. Sometimes when God spoke, we locked ourselves into an imagination of how the word would come to pass -- and then God did things differently.

God wants to save the lost; he wants to heal the sick; he wants the church to be a prophetic people; he wants to bring revival. But some of us are burnt out on trying to see these things happen. Hope deferred has made our hearts sick. God wants to refresh us in our weariness, to restore our ability to hope, and to take us by the hand and walk us into fulfillment of everything he has spoken.

CRIPPLED BY FALSE EXPECTATIONS

I. THE NAAMAN PRINCIPLE

In II Kings 5, we find the story of a miracle that was almost aborted because of false expectations. You remember the story of Naaman the leper, a successful and accomplished military leader in Aram. Naaman's wife had a Hebrew servant who said Naaman could find healing if he would turn to the God of Israel. Naaman went to the king of Aram, who sent him to the king of Israel for healing. The king of Israel knew he could do nothing for Naaman, but the prophet Elisha sent this message: "Send Naaman to me."

Naaman arrived at Elisha's door with a great retinue of horses and chariots. Elisha sent a servant to say, "Go, wash yourself seven times in the Jordan, and your flesh will be restored and you will be cleansed."

ANGRY AT GOD'S METHODS

Naaman was mad as a hornet. "I thought he would surely come out to me and stand and call on the name of the Lord his God, wave his hand over the spot and cure me of my leprosy. Are not the Abana and Pharpar, the rivers of Damascus, better than any of the waters of Israel? Couldn't I wash in them and be cleansed?" He went away in a rage.

Have you ever felt Naaman's rage? We imagine how God is going to move, and then he does things differently. If he tells us to go here, we'd rather go there. If we expect the man of God to lift his hands over us and speak a great prayer, God sends an unanointed flunky with a word we don't like. If we expect to be received with dignity, God meets us in such a lowdown way that we have to humble ourselves to meet him.

GIVING IN

You know how Naaman's story ends. After he had ripped and snorted for a while, he wore down and someone had the nerve to try to reason with him. If God had required him to do something great, would he have done it? Naaman said yes. Then since God had required him to do a small thing, mightn't it be worthwhile to give it a try? Again, Naaman said yes. He dipped seven times in the Jordan, and came up healed.

FAITH AND EXPECTANCY

Faith and expectancy work together. Naaman expected to be healed. But if he had not overcome a false expectation about how God would heal him, he would have missed his miracle.

False expectations often involve a mental picture, a scene we imagine vividly. Naaman had played an imaginary video of how God would heal him. What mental pictures do you have of how God will move? What will a prophet look like? (Wild eyes, shaggy hair, shabby clothes, angry voice.) What will revival feel like? (Sinners streaming into the church, pastor so overcome with the Holy Spirit that he can't even speak, opposers falling dead like Ananias and Sapphira.) What will it look like when God moves in power outside the church? (Gas station attendant slain in the Spirit, our shadow pulling someone out of a wheelchair on the sidewalk, prophesying over the nations in McDonald's.)

REFUSING TO BIND GOD TO OUR "PICTURES"

These pictures may or may not be realistic. It's not wrong to have mental pictures of what we expect God to do, but it's vital that we not bind God to the pictures. The prophet may be better dressed than you are, with a word of grace and restoration. The revival may occur in a nursing home, not in the church; revival may cause the preaching to be more anointed than ever; revival may cause the opponents not to drop dead but to drop out and go home. The move of God outside the church may occur not with dazzling works of power, but with small acts of obedience saturated with God's peace.

Here is a simple test to help you discern whether your mental pictures are a true or a false expectation. If your mental pictures are helping you find God, they are probably pictures God has given you by revelation. But if your mental pictures are frustrating you and leaving you with the feeling that you never quite seem to meet God, put your mental pictures on the back burner and choose a lower, less dazzling route.

II. THE BEATITUDES

The beatitudes address false expectations. Here Jesus gave a list of traits that characterize the people God blesses. There are two Greek words for "bless," and the word used here is MAKARIOS, which conveys a sense of happiness or fulfillment. Jesus has given us a recipe for fulfillment.

The trouble with the beatitudes is that they don't look fulfilling. Who wants to be poor in spirit? Who wants to mourn? Meekness doesn't look so hot, and the only times I've ever hungered and thirsted for righteousness were when I looked at myself and thought I didn't have any. And on and on the list goes, with each trait seeming negative rather than positive.

THE SETUP

But every negative thing about the beatitudes is a setup for God to do something. Each involves a reversal. The beatitudes show us realistic expectations as we look for God to move. They are pictures of how God works. I'm not going to write an essay on the beatitudes, but I do want to look at three.

Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of God. Naaman had to become poor in spirit before he could receive a healing -- he had to humble himself and act on a command that didn't make sense to him. He had to overrule his preconceived notions about spirituality to meet God.

The poor in spirit have to listen to God, but many of us think we know the answer already. Simple question about what we already know: is it working? If so, we really do know the answer; we've heard from God already. If not, we need to admit it. We need to approach God humbly, asking for direction. If we're in a place of knowing we don't know all the answers, Jesus says we're in a good place where God can move.

WE DIDN'T FEEL ANOINTED AND WE DIDN'T SEE ANYTHING HAPPEN!

People who move in God's power often don't feel powerful. I once went to India for open air crusades with a team of four Americans and an innumerable company of Indians. We prayed for hundreds of people every night. The music drove us crazy; we wished for American music that would help us feel God's presence. There were so many people that we couldn't take time to pray for each one as we would have liked to pray; instead, we had to herd them through the line like cattle. We didn't feel anointed, and we didn't see anything happen.

"I THOUGHT I WAS GOING TO GET TO 'SEE' HEALINGS"

By the end of the week, our prayers for healing felt like an exercise in futility. Then the reports started coming in: cancers healed, deaf mutes who could now hear and speak, a baby healed of a terminal disease, and so on. Many of us were disappointed. "I thought I was going to see healings," someone complained. "What's the point of coming halfway around the world if we don't get to see anything happen?" We were poor in spirit, feeling unanointed and uninspired. Meanwhile, the kingdom of God was breaking forth all around us. We were disappointed at the time -- but it was fun to tell about it when we got home.

FEELING DULL WHILE WALKING IN POWER

And that's the nature of God's power. Often we feel dull and stupid while God is using us. Only later do we learn what God did. Telling about it later is much more exciting than being there when it happens. I'm sure that's how it was for Naaman, dipping seven times in the Jordan.

ANY MOURNING--FOR ANY REASON!

Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted. I used to assume that Jesus was talking about mourning for sin. But now that I've been a Christian for thirty two years, I know otherwise. People go through a lot of trouble over the years. He was talking about any mourning for any reason.

Some of us have prayed for more of God, and instead of getting more of God we've gotten into a mess. The mess may be our own fault, or it may be someone else's. But for those who mourn, Jesus has promised comfort -- and the word he uses here is the same word he used in his promise of the Holy Spirit. The Comforter will visit those who mourn.

"LORD, DON'T LET THIS HAPPEN! AND DON'T LET 'THAT' HAPPEN!"

But he won't necessarily visit us on our own terms. Sometimes we try to dictate how we expect God to comfort us in our suffering. Lord, don't let the church split! Don't let the divorce go through! Don't let my father die of cancer!

There is nothing wrong with praying vigorously about tragic things that are happening in our lives. David prayed and fasted for the life of his dying child. And then the child died -- and David had the grace to get up and go on in God. Why? Because as long as the child was alive, David's prayers may have made the difference and saved the child from death. But once the matter was out of David's hands, he turned to God and allowed God to comfort him in other ways and in other areas.

JOSEPH WANTED FREEDOM --GOD WANTED JOSEPH

Sometimes we become people of a single issue, and the Comforter visits another area of our lives. Joseph's attention was on getting out of prison; the Spirit of God was busy making him into a prophet. We tend to do the same, locking our expectations on one area while God is working in another. When I was a pastor, God gave us some miracles of healing -- and I was upset because the healings didn't make the church grow. An evangelist friend of mine was upset because he wasn't getting invitations to preach in large churches; meanwhile, whenever my friend was willing to do it, God would use him powerfully to win souls on the streets of Detroit.

DO WHAT HE IS DOING

If our expectations are locked on a single issue, we may miss the Comforter. He's likely to show up in what we consider a side issue. We have a choice to make: what are we going to look at? We can mourn for the rest of our lives because God is not doing what we expect, or we can look at what the Comforter is doing and let him give us joy. The Comforter will give us fulfillment and joy if we will repent of our expectations and follow him.

Blessed are those who are persecuted because of righteousness. "Persecution" is the translation of a Greek word which means "being hunted down." Sometimes when we take steps forward in God, we stir up a satanic backlash. As the church has grown more alert to the tactics of the enemy, we are hearing teachings about satanic retaliation.

Probably the most important safeguard against satanic retaliation is for us to be part of a ministry team, and to be accountable in a local church. But even then, we are sure to face a satanic backlash at times. He who will live godly will suffer persecution.

GETTING SICK PRAYING FOR THE SICK

Some of us have heard from God, acted on the word, and stirred up trouble. We pray for the sick, they get healed, and then we get home and come down with something ourselves. "That's the last time I'll ever pray for the sick," we vow.

Jesus gave us hope about these satanic onslaughts elsewhere in the Sermon on the Mount. He closed the sermon by telling us that one house was built on the rock and one was built on the sand. The storm came to both houses, but there's good news: the storm also came to an end. There will be storms in your life, but the storms won't last forever. The question is this: will your house stand? When the storm is over, will you have a testimony of what God has done?

HEARING THE WORD, BUT THEN DOING IT!

Jesus said the house built on a rock is the person who hears his word and does it. Some of us are in a storm right now because we heard and acted on God's word. God wants us to know the storm will eventually come to an end. But it is important that we don't succumb to the temptation to abandon God's word just because of the storm.

What are the areas where you've run into a satanic backlash because you stood for God? It's tempting to vow never to move in God again. We expected God to move. Instead, we found ourselves in a spiritual battle. What do you really believe about God? Do you believe that you asked for bread and he gave you a stone? Or do you believe that God is who he says he is, and that although you don't understand what you're going through, you still believe he is giving you bread?

RENOUNCING PAST VOWS

If you've vowed not to move in God again in one way or another, take a few moments to renounce the vows. Tell God you believe he's faithful and true. Let go of your expectation of how God will bring his word to pass, and let him do it in his way and in his time. Meanwhile, if you've managed to stir up a satanic backlash by pressing into God, be encouraged and dance for joy. Jesus says you're becoming a person of prophetic stature.

III. OVERCOMING FALSE EXPECTATIONS

The Bible is full of stories of people who suffered from false expectations. Joseph never expected his brothers' rejection when he told them his God-given dreams. Moses never imagined God would walk him through forty years of exile when he tried to respond to the call on his life. Naaman was angry when his healing did not come as he had expected. Israel rejected many of the prophets because, although they wanted God to speak, they didn't like what God had to say. The crowd in Pontius Pilate's courtyard shouted "Crucify him!" because their Messiah did not come to free them from Rome as they had expected, but from sin and death.

CHANGING US FIRST

Some of us have suffered rejection, confinement, and ostracism because we have set out to follow God. Some of us have been angry with God's ways and words. Some of us are waiting for God to change the world around us, and we don't want to face the fact that before he changes the world, he wants to change us.

If we want to overcome the crippling power of our false expectations, there are several choices we can make.

WHAT GOD KNOWS THAT YOU DON'T

First, we can choose to turn our attention and affections away from what we want and towards what God is doing. Let God set the agenda. It was natural for Joseph to want to be freed from prison, but God was making him into a prophet. If you're trying to do one thing and God is giving you success in something else that you don't even care about, take another look at the success God is giving you. God knows something you don't know. He's setting you up for a more fulfilling day. Enjoy what God is doing, even if it doesn't get you out of Joseph's prison right away.

YOUR DAY IS COMING

Second, we can make our peace with God's timing. The Bible pattern is that before God uses anyone in a great work, he first does a great work in us. You expected to be in a ministry by now, and nobody recognizes your anointing. It won't hurt to slow down and let God work in you. Stay sweet. Lay your hurts and disappointments before God and let him heal them. Your day is coming, but you don't want to be bitter and angry when it comes. Let God purge you now, before a lot of people are looking at you.

Third, we can choose humility. Naaman wanted the prophet to perform a religious ritual; instead, a servant sent him to dip seven times in the Jordan. God frequently sets the answers to our prayers in a place where we must humble ourselves to receive the answer.

EXPECT WHAT YOU DON'T LIKE

Fourth, we can expect God to show up in ways we don't like. God is good and his ways and words are good, but often something in us finds fault with what God says and does. I Corinthians 2:14 says the carnal minds resists the things of the Spirit. Expect this battle to take place, and plan to let the Holy Spirit win it. Welcome the battle as an opportunity for deeper surrender to God.

Finally, we need to remember that God is for us, not against us. Are you in a mess right now? Or a wilderness? It's not the end. God is walking you through this dark place -- and the key word is "through." It's not your final destination. A day will come when you'll be able to look back and say, "God was faithful to me in my darkest hour." He lives in you; you're more than able to overcome.

Christ's Reflection in Your Mirror

Roseanne Harney

Vision:

I am seeing two roads, which intersect each other they are branching off in different directions. A man is standing in the middle of the intersection and he is panicking and fretting ... he has lost his direction for the ministry that God had called him to and he is turning back and forth trying to make a decision which road to travel. He is neither moving forward or backward and he seems almost frozen with fear that he will take the wrong road. (Matthew 7:13)

As he stands in the middle of the road, he is hearing many voices from people that are deeply concerned about what they have been seeing in his ministry. Other voices are speaking to him not to worry, that his situation would take care of itself.

The Lord would remind you of the vision and the purpose which He has deposited in you to accomplish reaching the Harvest of souls for His Kingdom. (IITimothy 1:14)

In the beginning the reflection which you saw in your mirror was Christ's reflection. You saw yourself serving His church and doing His will. You reflected Christ's love for all mankind and you walked in an abundance of His love. You took the time to sow to His Harvest and you reaped increase and a healthy church using His principles and foundations found in His Word and His Glory was seen. (2 Corinthians 3:18)

As time passed, your reflection began to change in the mirror. It became a reflection of SELF and you began to reason with the world's wisdom. Not seeking His Presence and His future plans for His church. You discarded His vision and replaced it with your own. In it's place was a vision of grandeur and you kept telling yourself that you needed all this to run in His race and to do His will for the Kingdom of God. The farther that you walked down this road the dryer it got and you stopped all together seeking His face. (Phillippians 1:15-18)

Today standing at the crossroads...will you listen and hear God? Will you fear God and do what is right? He is calling you, to go down His Road. Remember, the call that He gave you along with His vision and purpose and ask yourself, who will I see when I look into my mirror tonight?

With humility kneel and pray before the King and thank Him for His love. Thank Him for His grace. That you're repenting and walking in brokenness, changing directions and coming back to your first love and walking down the road that leads to life.

CRUCIFIED

by Roy Richmond treeoflife@icnet.net

Paul said "I was crucified."

I can just hear someone saying to Paul, "Paul, you're going about things a whole lot differently. What has changed in your life?" He would have said, "Well, I'm a new creature in Christ. I am crucified with Christ; nevertheless I live, but the person now living is Christ who lives in me." It's not Paul anymore; it's Christ. And if you are born again, then it is not you either.

We are the body of Christ. That is what he was saying there. It is so important to see this. Most Christians spend much of their time trying to get rid of "old man symptoms" when we must renew our mind to new man realities. Most of Christianity is saying, "Well, we're going to teach you how to stop doing this and how to quit doing that." The key to it is to understand who you are in Christ. We must understand that the crucifixion was God's way of doing away with who we used to be. Your old man was crucified with Christ. You are now a new creature in Christ.

Gal. 6:14 But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom (marginal rendering says whereby) the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world.

The cross was God's way of delivering you, not only from who you used to be, but from the evil of this world.

Gal. 1:3-4a Grace be to you and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ, who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world.

By Him giving himself for our sins, he delivered us from this present evil world. His crucifixion was our crucifixion. Gal. 6:14 says "By whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world." The world became dead to you; the world lost its grip on you. When somebody dies, they lose their grip on the world and the world loses its grip on them.

God knows that we need to be people of the Spirit. How do we do that? It was His crucifixion that provided that. This is so practical because people want to constantly say, "I need to walk in the Spirit." I need to be more separated from the world. I don't need the world to have such a grip on me. That is not something that you do; that's something the cross provided for you. Jesus said in John 17, in that high priestly prayer, Father, don't take them out of the world, but deliver them from the evil that is in the world. How did He do that? He became one with us on the cross, God crucified us in Him and delivered us from the world.

Romans 6:6 Knowing this, that our old man is (was) crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.

This statement may shock you. This is not a promise; it is a statement of fact. You are not trying to get rid of your old man; Jesus did that for you. Now what we're to do is renew our mind to the fact that our old man has been “gotten rid of.” The crucifixion was God’s way of doing away with who I used to be, and the crucifixion happened 2000 years ago. The problem is that we don’t know what happened there 2000 years ago, and God is renewing our mind to that.

That’s enough proclaiming it. We should be able say if we are believers in the Bible, that our old man is crucified.

Now to PROVE it.

Our identification is based upon three facts, and everyone needs to know these. The greatest tragedy among Christians today is to view the cross of Calvary as the death of only one man. It wasn’t just one man. God never saw it as one man. It was one man, but it was all men dying in that one man. God never viewed it as the death of one man. You’ll never see it in Scripture as one man dying alone. Jesus’ death was the death of all men. How could that be? Identification is based upon three facts:

1. Everything Jesus did, He did as our substitute, so that whatever he did was placed in our account.

Romans 5:8 But God commended his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

Christ died for us. Everything he did, he did as our substitute. The word substitute means “one who takes the place of another.” My wife went to the bank and deposited the money for me. It looks on the books as if I went over there and did it. Is says there were X amount of dollars placed in my account; it looks like I did it. It’s on my account. I can write checks on it!

When Jesus died for you, guess what! The Bible says you died. Why? Because He died as you. He was your substitute. Identification is not what we do. Somebody said, we need to identify with the work of Calvary. Well, that is true, but it doesn’t make any difference if you identify; it’s what God identified with when he saw the cross that is important. The question is not how you see the cross, the question is, how God sees the cross. Then when you see it the way He sees it, everything will be all right. How did God see the cross? He did not see the cross as Jesus dying there as one man. Why? Because Jesus was our substitute. Identification means “to consider or treat as the same,” according to Webster. So God was considering and treating the crucifixion of Christ as our crucifixion. He considered Jesus as all man kind.

2. Jesus became just like us. He became so much like us that God could legally view Him as being us. These are basic truths in understanding the New Testament. He was our substitute, so God put everything He did on our account.

II Corinthians 5:14 For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead.

Why were all dead? Because He died for them. It goes further than that though. God sees you the way you really are. We think sometimes that the blood of Jesus makes God see us some way that we really are not. He doesn’t see us funny; we’re the ones who see us funny.

When God says, You are the righteousness of God, you come back and say, “Well, no, I’m not. I kicked the car, lost my temper and spit on the carpet.” You are right because of what Jesus did, not because of what you do. What we do is read where we are the righteousness of God and then we will get our own measuring device and measure ourselves and say, “No, no, no.” Don’t use your measuring device. Let God tell you.

We’ve got it backwards. We say, “Someday I’m going to be able to say, like Paul, I am the righteousness of God.” Paul didn’t say that because he did everything right; he said it because he had a revelation of what the cross produced. You are righteous not because of what you do. The way to change what you do is to believe what God said about you. God sees you exactly the way your are. We don’t see us the way we are. That’s why we come together and study Paul’s revelation, because Paul saw why and how we became righteous.

Identification is based on the fact that Jesus was our substitute; He did it for us so everything He did was placed on our account. God said, if one died for all, then all are dead. But it’s more that. Your identification of substitution must go further. What did God see in Jesus that made him say I was crucified? He saw that Jesus became exactly like I was. He identified with me to the point that He became who I was.

Romans 6:6 Knowing this, that our old man is (was) crucified with him that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.

Our old man was crucified. Jesus became so much like you that God viewed Him as being you. He became so much like who you used to be that God viewed who you used to be dying there when Jesus hung there. God said, that's who you used to be, because the Bible said my old man was crucified. Jesus became whatever my old man was. He had to, because the Bible said my old man was crucified with him. God could legally view him as being you. God can't say, "Well, let's just pretend that's _____." Redemption is based on a legal transaction. He became legally like you, so much like you that God viewed Jesus as being you and all of your old nature. Your old man died there.

3. I am presently in union with Christ, one with Him, so that His history is my history, His present is my present, and His future is my future.

I Corinthians 6:17 But he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit.

If you are in Christ, it doesn't mean that you're over here and Jesus is over there. It means we have a current and present union with Him; we are one with Him. He said, I am the vine and you are the branch. There is a union between the vine and the branch. That means the same life is flowing through us. Jesus is sitting at the right hand of the Father right now. I'm in Him, and that's the reason the Bible says you were crucified with Him. Praise God! The Bible says we are the Body of Christ. All of His children together makes up the Body of Christ.

That doesn't mean we are Jesus; it means we have His life in us. These three facts are the foundation upon which the subject of identification is based. We need to understand these three facts about identification. He was your substitute; everything He did was placed on your account. He became so much like you that God viewed Him as being you; the problems is that you don't view Him as being you. When you view Him as being you, then the old man seems to be something of the past and you quit acting like the old man. You've got to see it like He saw it. I am in union with Him, so His history becomes my history and His future becomes my future. Now lets picture it.

John 12:21-33 Now is the judgment of this world; now shall the prince of this world be cast out. And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me. This said he, signifying what death he should die.

This is Jesus speaking. You are included in that "all men." You will always fear judgment until you realize that you have been judged in Him. Jesus was nailed to the cross, and on the cross He drew all men unto Himself. All a-l-l men-past, present and future.

As soon as He drew me unto Himself on the cross, God could judge me in Him. He could kill me in Him. God didn't fix my old man; He didn't heal my old man; He didn't restore my old man. He killed my old man. My old man got everything he deserved; he was crucified. How could that be? Because Jesus said I'm going to be nailed to a cross and then I will draw all men unto myself. When God was dealing with Jesus, He was actually dealing with all men in Him. That happened 2000 years ago. When you get a revelation of that, you are going to wake up and say, Thank God, that's over! He dealt with your sin two thousand years ago. Many people say, "Oh, thank God, Jesus' death was so that I wouldn't die." That isn't true. Jesus' death was not so that you could live; Jesus' death was so that your old man could die.

How many men were drawn into Him? ALL men. Everybody! The whole world. Even those who do not know Jesus. The price for sins of the world has already been dealt with. Nothing left to do. John 16 says that when the Spirit of Truth comes, he will reprove the world of sin (singular). There is only one sin that sends a man to hell, and this is the sin of not believing on Jesus.

Their sins were drawn into Christ. II Cor. 5:21 says He was made to be sin for us. That is evangelism, just making people believe in the finished work of Christ. But the problem is that we don't even believe that the finished work of Christ was enough.

The judgment of Father fell upon Jesus and you were with Him in that judgment. The Church and the world needs to see the judgment that took place on Calvary.

Daniel 7:21-22 I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them; until the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the most High; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom.

The horn is the anti-christ, who will prevail against the saints until judgment is given to the saints of the Most High. What judgment do you think he is talking about? He's talking about a revelation of the judgment that happened at the cross.

Judgment was given to them. That means a revelation of the judgment of Christ was given to them, and in that they can turn and deliver those people who are still trying to crucify themselves. The anti-christ will prevail against you until you get a revelation that you are not the one doing the crucifixion. Who is the anti-christ? The anti-Christ is everything that is not Christ. It is anti-Christ. If He was crucified for you and you are still trying to crucify yourself, that would be anti-Christ.

Now let's make it PRACTICAL.

Numbers 21:2-7 Therefore the people came to Moses, and said, We have sinned, for we have spoken against the Lord, and against thee; pray unto the Lord, that he take away the serpents from us. And Moses prayed for the people.

The context in which this was written was that the people had begun to murmur against Moses and Aaron. Serpents were sent, and the serpents bit them and they were dying. They said, "Would you pray and tell the Lord we're sorry." Moses did.

Numbers 21:8,9 And the Lord said unto Moses, Make thee a fiery serpent, and set it upon a pole; and it shall come to pass, that every one that is bitten, when he looketh upon it, shall live. And Moses made a serpent of brass, and put it upon a pole, and it came to pass, that if a serpent had bitten any man, when he beheld the serpent of brass, he lived.

How did they live? They beheld the serpent of brass. Now do you get the picture here? Serpents were biting them. God said the answer was to put a brass serpent on a pole. Brass speaks of judgment. Here's a brass serpent on a pole, and they were to look at that brass serpent. They were bitten by serpents, but they were to look at the brass serpent on a pole. If they looked at the brass serpent on a pole, not at a lamb, but a brass serpent, they would live.

What does that have to do with us? Jesus came along in the Gospel of John and said, As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, so must the son of man be lifted up. You see, Jesus became that brazen serpent. This is a picture of Jesus identifying with mankind and becoming sin. He was the lamb. But see, the lamb became judged with our judgment. Whatever is killing you, He died to, so that if you could see the brass serpent, life would come to you. Whatever is killing you, whatever has bitten you, whatever is presently working death in your life, you must observe being on Jesus, so that when you see it on Him, it leaves you. It has already been judged.

Let's say you've got a problem with alcohol. You think, I can't get rid of it. It's killing me. What's the answer? The answer is to see Jesus becoming one with what is killing you. He bore the curse. Is that part of the curse? Yes it is. That's why Jesus didn't want to go to the cross. He wasn't afraid of the nails and the pain. He dreaded the identification; he dreaded to become one with everything that was cursing man. So you have to see Jesus dying with your problem. What is killing you actually killed Jesus. Deliverance comes to you when you see Him dying with what you need to be delivered from. So you must view it and keep looking. How long does it take? Who cares? Just keep looking!

The worst think you can do is stop and look at the snake. Or as many people do, the worst thing you can do is get everybody together and go on a "snake hunt." Forget all the snakes! What people want to do is to cast out the snakes. God said, "This is the answer. I'm going to put a brazen serpent on a pole. You look at him and you live, and you'll be safe." Okay, that's what God said; now let's just gather these snakes up. Let's go on a war against these snakes. No! You don't war against the snakes. Look at Jesus on the cross. "But we've got to do something." The work has already been done.

You'll always be fighting snakes until you see what Jesus did to the snakes. That's the key. You can do this; you can get in a circle and beat snakes all your life. We're snake-beaters. We've beat all the snakes out of our camp. Well, that's good, but there are more coming. We get real tired and then we just keep fighting. We get real good at "snake beating." In other words, there's no snakes in our place, but the problem is, tomorrow you'll have to beat the snakes again. You'll have to cast snakes out every day. You'll be doing it again in the morning, because the snakes are endless.

What you're going to have to do is drop your stick and look at the serpent. That is tough for some people to do. But, "don't you believe that people have problems with serpents"? Yes, we believe that, but we've got better things to do than fight serpents. Our message is to get people to look at Jesus. You can do it either way. The only problem is that if you do it that way, you'll keep doing it; but you can get people totally delivered this way. The hardest thing in the world to do is believe that's the answer. You'll never believe that's the answer until you really find out what happened on Calvary. I would rather die looking at the cross than die of fatigue from beating snakes. Daniel 7:25 And he (the anti-christ) shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High... That's his objective; to wear out the saints of the most High. Think to change times and laws..... They will make them think that the things Jesus did two thousand years ago is something you've got to do today. Change times? No, it's done. The only thing we have to do is nothing. Just look. There is life for a look. That may seem too simple, but that is the real answer.

What we have to do is to get to people before they wear totally out and tell them to rest in the finished work of Christ. Quit fighting devils; start praising God. There are some saints of the Most High God that are being worn out. Hopefully when they get so tired they can't stand, the cross will be so close to them that they will be able to look. Isn't that going to be a great thing? If you've worn yourself totally out fighting snakes, fall down in the midst of them, look at the cross, and they can't bite you. There is life for a look!

DIED

1 King 10:18, 19 Moreover the king made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with the best gold. The throne had six steps, and the top of the throne was round behind; and there were stays on either side on the place of the seat, and two lions stood beside the stays.

Solomon's kingdom is the most perfect type of the kingdom of God that we have in our Old Testament. We believe that the Old Testament contains visual aids of spiritual truths. The kingdom of God is a future thing, but it is also a present thing. Jesus said in Luke's gospel that the kingdom of God does not come with observation, but he said, behold, the kingdom of God is within you. There has first got to be an awareness of the kingdom of God within us before we are ever going to see the kingdom of God manifested in this earth.

We find here that the throne of that king had six steps to it. I guess if there is a statement that would describe what God is doing to us and, we believe, to the world, is that He's leading us to His throne. He's bringing us to His place of ruling and reigning. He's bringing us to the place that we call ascension life. Jesus said in Ephesians 2 that we have been quickened or made alive together with Him, raised and seated together with Him. We know quickening applies to the new birth experience. We can easily link up the resurrection to the Spirit filled life.

But what about the ascension? Resurrection life is not all that is available. We are to sit with Him in the heavenlies; we are to rule and reign from that dimension. Here's the problem: most people have never linked ruling with resting. But the kingdom principles are altogether different, totally opposite, from those of the world. We think of ruling and reigning as physically working our way into a relationship in which we just conquer things. But that's not the way the kingdom of God works. We rest in what has been conquered. We rest in the facts of the conquest of Christ. And so we come here to this throne, and we find there are six steps to that throne. In every step there is a riser and a tread, so we can see that there is something that brings us higher, and there's a walking out of that. That is implied here too.

Let's talk about the throne so we will understand what we are talking about. What is the throne of God? That is very important. There are six steps to it, but what is it? How does it apply to you and me? Where are we going to be when we get there? What are we going to be like when we get there? What is our mind set going to be? There is no use going through this study if we don't know the objective.

Psalms 132:12-14 If thy children will keep my covenant and my testimony that I shall teach them, their children shall also sit upon thy throne for evermore. For the Lord hath chosen Zion: he hath desired it for his habitation. This is my rest for ever; here will I dwell; for I have desired it.

Zion is a people, the church. We find here that God's throne is a resting place in His people. What is God ultimately trying to do? We say we're seeking the rest of God. Really, we're seeking the place that God is comfortable resting in a people. That's really the plan and purpose as it is outlined in scripture. When the tabernacle of Moses was finished, God came and rested in it. When David's tabernacle was finished, God's presence was there in that little tent. All of those things are pictures of the church and what God is doing there. His throne is the place where He rests.

Psalms 99:1 The Lord reigneth; let the people tremble; he sitteth between the cherubims; let the earth be moved.

Where is God's throne? The psalmist says that He sits between the cherubims. Now what are we talking about there? In the tabernacle of Moses, behind the veil can be seen this little box called the ark of the covenant that had a lid. That is called the mercy seat.

Here we find that the mercy seat was two and a half cubits by a cubit and a half, the same size as the ark, speaking of the fact that the mercy is just as wide as Christ and His work. It has no dimension of depth given. There's no way to measure how deep the mercy goes, if you are in Christ.

There were cherubim's that were made out of the same piece of gold as the mercy seat. The Bible says that God sits there. Those people that He rested among were not perfect people. How on earth does a holy God dwell among an unholy people? He has a place to rest, and that resting place is called the mercy seat. We are headed in that direction. What are we doing? When we've learned everything there is to learn about Jesus and His work, where are we going to be? We are going to be on the throne, but what is the throne? It's a mercy seat. Why was God lawfully allowed to come in and dwell among His people? Because there was something on that mercy seat that, to Him, allowed Him to rest among the people.

The only problem is, in the old covenant, it was a rest that kept everybody away except the high priest just once a year because he typified the finished work of Christ. The problem is not with God. The problem is in our thinking. We can't rest with Him because we don't know what those six steps are. We don't know the riser and the tread of those steps. I promise you when we do, we'll rest with Him, and Father knows when that will happen. We are at the verge of that. We are at the veil in the calendar of God, and that is the reason light from the mercy seat is shining toward a people, drawing us back there. Somebody is going to sit down on the mercy seat with Him. The fact is, Ephesians 2 says we've been seated together with Him in the heavenlies for two thousand years. What does that mean? Jesus sat down with the Father. Where's that? On the mercy seat. So God is bringing us, in our mind, to a place where we will come back and know so much about these steps of redemption that we are willing just to rest in the finished work of Christ.

There isn't a more beautiful picture of what God is doing than in Genesis 1 and 2, where God says He is going to make a man who is going to rule and reign and have dominion and subdue. That includes himself and his surroundings. The very next day, the Bible says God rested on the seventh day because he was finished. The first picture of man and God is on the sixth day. Man was finished, completed, and it was God's view there to have him rule and reign with God from the position of rest. Did that plan fail? It didn't fail because that which you see in Genesis 1 and 2 is just a picture of what God is now doing. We are at the end of the sixth day, and guess what's going to happen? God is going to have a man finished, complete, head and body, the new creation man.

The table of shewbread was the next piece of furniture that is described after the mercy seat. God said, I will commune with you there. Then the next thing he describes is the table of shewbread on which are twelve loaves of bread in two stacks of six. There's the six steps again, and the six things that Jesus did, He was crucified, we were crucified with Him; Jesus died, we died with Him, etc. That is why there are two stacks instead of one.

But here's the thing we want you to see; the specific sizes, two tenth deals (means omer). In other words, it was an omer (the bible says in Exodus 16, put an omer's worth of manna in the pot. Omer was one man's portion.) That whole table represents the portion of one new man in all of the things that Jesus did. Jesus the head and Jesus the body, the in Christed ones. God is building a man. That man in Genesis 1, the first Adam, did not enter in; but God wasn't surprised about that because Rev. 13:8 says that Jesus was crucified before the foundation of the world. He was already crucified before Adam fell. Can you see God's plan? His whole plan revolves around crucifixion.

Some might say, "you talk too much about that. We need to go on; I've got real problems." You do not have a problem big enough that crucifixion won't take care of. That is God's plan. The beginning says He was crucified from the foundation of the world, and the end of the book says that the bride of Christ is married to the Lamb. Well, the Lamb speaks of Jesus' crucifixion. That's where our union started. It's a communion table. He said, "I will commune with you there." See how they're linked together? What's this table about? The bread on the table leads you to the mercy seat. You feed on that, and it will lead you to the mercy seat.

II Samuel 6:12a, 13 And it was told king David, saying, the Lord hath blessed the house of Obed-edom, and all that pertaineth unto him, because of the ark of God. And it was so, that when they that bare the ark of the Lord had gone six paces, he sacrificed oxen and fatlings.

Here is the ark of the covenant being brought back to Mt. Zion. The ark of the covenant has the mercy seat on it. Now notice, when they were bringing back the ark into David's tabernacle, they walked six steps and sacrificed. That is not accidental. That tells you how to get the ark, the mercy seat, back into the church.

They took the bread off of the table every Sabbath and got fresh bread. What they did was, they took this hot bread, put it on the table, and they ate it. The priests ate the bread that had cooled off; it had been there seven days. That shows you that this Sabbath is the place of rest. When the day of rest comes, you will have eaten this bread because you are a priest too, a Royal Priesthood.

The ark comes to rest in the tabernacle by going six paces. Some translations indicate that they went six steps, stopped and sacrificed. They went six more steps, stopped and sacrificed. That is what we are doing. What is our message? Six steps. That's what we proclaim. I know that will get the job done. Then we get to Solomon's temple and his kingdom, and there are six steps to the throne. It is pictured all the way through scripture. Every major picture of the church shows where we're going with six steps: crucified, died, buried, quickened, raised and seated.

Deut. 12:9,10 For ye are not as yet come to the rest and to the inheritance, which the Lord your God giveth you. But when you go over Jordan, and dwell in the land which the Lord your God giveth you to inherit, and when he giveth you rest from all your enemies round about, so that ye dwell in safety;

We can see that this fits many in the Body of Christ today; we're not there yet, but we're on our way there. We're following the ark there. Verse 10 gives us the principle. The direction - rest - is found by going over the Jordan. Jordan means "the descender," and it speaks of death. In the last chapter we shared with you that we were crucified with Him. Now we want to share the fact that you died with Him.

You have heard some call themselves "walking dead men." We are not walking dead men. The person you used to be is dead; you are alive unto God. That is so important to understand. Can you see the difference? If you are a walking dead man, then you haven't buried the dead man that Jesus said you are. The old person you used to be has already been buried. You are no longer the dead man that you used to be.

II Cor. 5:17 Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.

If I'm a new creature in Christ then what happened to the person that I used to be? He was crucified, then he died and was buried.

Romans 5:8 But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

Someone says, "Well, if I'm not the old person I used to be, why do I still do some of the things I used to do?" Because the residue, the flesh, is not the real you. It is not unusual to still have some of the old desires you used to have. The flesh has been trained by the person you used to be, to do things, to yield to it. Our flesh is a piece of meat, and the new man must train this piece of flesh. It's desires were brought about by yielding to the old man that used to be in it. That's the key. What we are taught in Christendom from the time we first go to church is that, if you are really godly, you won't ever feel like doing any of those things anymore. That's not the Bible principle. You train the flesh. The new man is training this flesh as we renew our mind to who we are, because we will always act like the persons we believe ourselves to be. We are now creatures in Christ.

Crying Out For The Nations!

Doug Fortune

I am crying out for the NATIONS... My voice is sounding throughout the earth through My prophets, calling the NATIONS to repentance and restoration. The NATIONS are MINE, and I am calling forth for that which is Mine to return to Me. For the consummation of the ages, the fullness of times is at hand wherein I shall bring righteous judgment, that which the blood of martyrdom and prayers of the righteous cry out for. I shall and I AM consummating all things in Christ, for the knowledge of My glory is filling the whole earth.

For the NATION that has rejected Me, loving darkness rather than Light, I shall recompense with certain destruction according to My righteous decree. For the NATION that has turned to Me and sought righteousness, I shall recompense with favor and undeserved blessing according to My righteous decree. I indeed have a remnant in every NATION, and for those who are called by My Name in the NATION that chooses darkness, though the NATION be judged, Mine shall be recompensed in mercy and grace.

Cry out for the NATIONS, speak My prophetic proclamation of destiny over them! Enforce with authority My decree against powers of darkness, that the illumination of the glory of Christ fill the whole earth. Yes, I am sovereign and yes, it is My doing according to My zeal, but I am accomplishing it through My Body - a many membered Man coming into the fullness of Christ. For this has been My purpose and plan from the beginning; to have a many membered Man in My image and likeness to rule over My creation, that I may manifest the essence of Who I AM in the earth... for in Christ, all things were created and in Christ all things are consummated... Alpha and Omega, the Beginning and the End. Have I not decreed that ALL people, NATIONS and languages should serve Me?... then cry out in prophetic proclamation that each NATION fulfill their destiny in ME.

Look to the NATIONS, O Sons, cry out for the NATIONS and command that My purpose be fulfilled in the earth as it is in the heavens.

Cry, Church Cry!

Tara Ferris

In the stillness I will wait in the quiet I will rest
For the touch of the one I long to see
The one that I know best

The strings of my soul are taunt listening for His voice
The eyes of my heart are fixed, searching, straining to see His form

Whether He comes or not this is the position I must take.
For all of my being...All of my life is set in motion for this Holy refrain.

My desire, my longing, the reason I am here is for Him.
I live to know Him, to hear Him, to see Him, to touch Him.
So I wait, in expectation I wait, for I know He will come

But still there is the question. The striving from within.

What do I have to offer? That He would reveal Himself to me.
What do I have to give that He would touch me and set me free?

Nothing ----- I have nothing

All I have to give is me....Just me.

Will He accept this gift I offer
Is it enough so He will come?
I lay it on the altar.

My humanness is before me like a wet cloak it weighs me down.
I struggle and wrestle and strive with myself.
In the end it is useless and I am still losing ground

But still...the motion of my spirit is being drawn to Him.
The hope of my heart does soar.
Would He....Could he....Desire me.
Just me with nothing to offer more.

Am I enough ??

ON THE WINGS OF THE WIND HE RIDES

Am I enough?

ON THE WINGS OF THE EAGLE HE SOARS

Am I enough?
HIS VOICE IS OVER THE WATERS

Oh am I enough?
HIS VOICE FLASHES AND ROARS

Could I please be enough!!

Could I please be enough!!

HIS VOICE THUNDERS FOREVERMORE!!!!

IT SHAKES THE DESERT AND TWISTS THE MIGHTY OAK
IT SPLITS THE CEDAR AND STRIPS THE FOREST BARE
IT'S THE VOICE THAT I LONG FOR THE VOICE THAT I LIVE FOR HIS VOICE

... THAT ESTABLISHES AND RESTORES.

I BELIEVE THIS IS THE HEART CRY OF MANY IN THE CHURCH
TODAY. FOR MANY THE LABOR HAS BEEN LONG AND HARD
BECAUSE THE PROCESS HAS BEEN LONG.

THEY START TO WONDER IF WHAT THEY BRING IS ENOUGH.
There is a cry going forth-- a cry from the heart,

"DO NOT HOLD BACK CHURCH. IT IS THIS VERY CRY FROM OUR HEARTS THAT WILL UNLEASH THE ANSWER AND VOICE OF GOD. MANY HAVE FELT BARREN. MANY HAVE LABORED HARD WITH NOT MUCH VISIBLE FRUIT."

"GOD HAS HEARD YOUR CRY LIKE HANNAH AND RACHEL.
THE SEED THAT IS PLANTED FROM THIS HEART CRY IS MIGHTY AND BIRTHS HIS AUTHORITY."

"CRY CHURCH, CRY!!!

Cry and Response

Joseph Herrin
Olivia Reitz

Dear Bill,

I am submitting these two words together. One is from me and one is from Olivia Reitz. These were both written on the same day (October 6th) and we sent them to each other at the same time. When we read them we realized that they were two parts of the same conversation: the spirit of man crying out to God (what I wrote) and God's Spirit answering (written by Olivia). I have corresponded with Olivia and we both felt that they should be posted together. If you would consider doing so, we would appreciate it.

My Heart Cries to Thee, O Lord!

Joseph Herrin (October 6, 2000)

How long, O Lord, will my days be pain and weariness?
I am despised and rejected by men.
My brothers have cast me out.
My father and mother have rejected me,
But You, O Lord, have adopted me.
I am put outside the congregation.
I am scorned and derided.
All men say to me "You are deluded."
"You have strayed from the path of wisdom."
Fear assails me.
No one regards me.
No one cares for my soul.
Many have arisen as my enemies.
They look to see my foot slip.
They await to see me stumble.
They say, "Where is your God?"
"If God is truly with you, why doesn't He deliver you?"
I am surrounded by violent men.
The nation I was born in has become filled with violence and bloodshed.
There is no more any righteousness.
The heart of the people has grown cold as they seek pleasure and wickedness.
Even those among the house of God will not endure sound speech.
They seek teachers to tickle their ears.
Every week they are told "God wants to prosper and bless you."
"God wants you to grow fat with the things of the earth."
Where is repentance over sin?
Where is remorse over the depravity we have become?
Surely the judgment is near, yet men stop their ears.
They all cry "Peace and safety", while babies are destroyed,

And our children are sold into wickedness.
I spoke to the household of God of His discipline.
They said, "No, our God is a God of love. He would not do that."
I spoke to them of faith.
They said, "You are proud and arrogant!"
They have wounded me.
Their darts have gone deep within me.
They put me outside the camp.
I am as a leper, as a detestable thing.
How long, O God, will I know moaning and distress?
How long will you wait to lift up my head again?
I have walked in the fear of You.
You alone can save and deliver.
You alone are a Rock, a Sure Foundation.
I have trusted in You and I have not been moved.
I have known Your mercies.
In my wilderness I have found springs of living water.
In my desert I have found manna to sustain me.
Yet my way is weary.
A trap has been set for me.
There is no one who cares for my soul.
Must I be like those who go down to the pit?
My strength fails me Lord.
Hasten to me.
My hip has been put out of joint.
My walk has been altered so that I no longer walk as other men.
I have wrestled with You, O Lord, and with man.
I have refused to let go until I received the blessing.
In the struggle I have become confused.
Are You holding onto me, or am I holding onto You?
Do not let me go, O Lord!
My greatest fear is that I would fail You, O Lord.
My dread is that I would fall short of the blessing.
If my soul shrinks back You will take no pleasure in me.
But it is You who have kept me on the path.
You have led me in wilderness places.
You have sustained me when I was faint.
You have told me to stand again when I had fallen.
I know You are with me.
You are cheering me on.
O Lord, strengthen your servant.
Come quickly Lord.
My heart yearns for you.
I am emptied inside.
I am in need of your filling.
I long to see my brothers turned again to You.
They have become too strong for me.
The words of my mouth persuade no one.
Unless You show forth Your strength through this vessel of clay, none will listen.

Unless You clothe me with Your glory,
none will take heed.
I am coming up out of the wilderness.
I am halt and leaning on my Beloved.
I trust no more in the flesh.
I trust no more in the soul.
You alone are able to save.
Come quickly, Lord Jesus!
My heart aches with yearning for You!

Come To My Holy Mountain

Olivia Reitz (October 6, 2000)

This know, My children, that intercessions and prayers are going forth each day in your behalf. My Holy Spirit ever makes intercession for you. Your Great High Priest, Jesus, makes intercession for you. You have nothing to doubt or fear for My hand is upon you and has ever been upon you.

The enemy has been causing "personal battle and warfare" to try to distract My people from the move on the nations and the world. Souls....Souls.... Focus on "ME" and I will take care of the trials that are coming against you.

Those times when you felt alone, I was ever so near and I AM ever so near. So, as you wait on Me, feel My closeness, feel My breath upon your cheek, you will need to feel this closeness in your calling, it is vital!

You have cried out and sought me and I have heard from My Holy Mountain. It is to this mountain that I am calling you. Those who have come to this mountain have come through many tears. Through the tears and heartache they have experienced to get to this mountain, they have said it was worth it all. It IS worth it all. Not one tear was shed in vain, they were stepping stones to this Holy Mountain. Be encouraged, My children, My arms are outstretched to you and I say "Come, My children, enough tears have been shed. Come"!

Cry of the WATCHMAN

Angel Howard

Cry of the WATCHMAN

Heart motives - where is your heart oh Watchmen?

Do you cry out wolf for the sake of kicking out the wolf or for the protection of the sheep?

Constantly your heart motives have got to be checked - this is why others around scream and cry "wounded watchman!"

Before we say anything we Must run to the Lord in prayer 1st - Why Lord have you shown me this?

TO PRAY

Stand in the gap - pray and war for what is shown.

2) When do we release and speak out the warning?

When your heart has proven pure and no carnal motives can be found for your sounding of this warning.

SEARCH MY HEART LORD GOD!

3) What do I do with the frustration I feel when I see nothing being done to protect the sheep from that which was warned?

PRAY, PRAY AND PRAY MORE

Once more get before the Lord and seek the Captain of the Host's of heaven for orders and direction.

Father forgive me for my frustration. For if I am frustrated that Nothing is being done that I can see in the natural, I'm not truly trusting you, am I?

I doubt that I've done my job and wrestle within myself.

Yet you have not convicted me that I've failed, and still my eyes can see no change - but YOU LORD God are Sovereign.

You do Not have to let me know all that you are doing. I simply desire to be obedient.

You Lord God, are sharpening my sword, through the anguish and frustration and constant beating upon the rocks of adversity (the stoning of the prophets). You continually knock the rough edges off me. In spite of the fact I grumble and complain not understanding what it is you do. You are the One who sharpens my sword. You are the one who hones the skill of the trumpeter. For Lord I have felt that my efforts have been for nothing. Grant me clarity and keep me in your paths. Guard me that I continue to remain obedient to YOU alone.

For I dwell in this earthly tent and do not see nor hear as clearly as I desire.

I need to have encouragement in the midst of the sharpening so that I do not fight against YOUR Hand, which is at work.

You constantly pull me back to focus upon YOU. For my eyes have so easily gotten focused out on the range and far seeing. A hazard of the job, but one I must continually remember - that I must readjust my focus always keeping you before me. Lord let what I see be filtered through YOU first -- at All times.

I feel as though my warnings have fallen on deaf ears. I am made to feel that I have no credibility and will never be heard. Lord it is so crucial for the sake of your people that what needs to be heard -- that the warnings come forth clearly.

Sharpen my sword Lord. Train me to sound the shofar with clarity.

Ezek 33:1 The word of the LORD came to me:

2 "Son of man, speak to your countrymen and say to them: 'When I bring the sword against a land, and the people of the land choose one of their men and make him their watchman,

3 and he sees the sword coming against the land and blows the trumpet to warn the people,

4 then if anyone hears the trumpet but does not take warning and the sword comes and takes his life, his blood will be on his own head.

5 Since he heard the sound of the trumpet but did not take warning, his blood will be on his own head. If he had taken warning, he would have saved himself.

6 But if the watchman sees the sword coming and does not blow the trumpet to warn the people and the sword comes and takes the life of one of them, that man will be taken away because of his sin, but I will hold the watchman accountable for his blood.'

7 "Son of man, I have made you a watchman for the house of Israel; so hear the word I speak and give them warning from me.

Counting The Cost

Judy Curmi

Look at the GOAL and never count the cost as being too high. In fact, you are better to never count the cost at all. If you do, it is a sure sign you are walking by your rational, carnal mind and NOT by my SPIRIT!

My Spirit does not count costs, but only looks at the desired results or outcome. Those who belong to me do not count the cost, either, but run their race with fortitude,* under the power of my grace.

Doing my Will is not such a little thing as you may think. If it were easy, everyone would be doing it. But, in fact, very few people are doing it. Instead their speech and all of their thoughts are laced with ME, MY and MINE. These are three deadly words, which are sure to disempower you and keep you firmly enslaved in your flesh.

The walk with my Spirit is very different. It is one of quiet and listening, of watching, of surrendering and obeying. Yes, it is also one of rejoicing.

The road will be much less intimidating if you will only take one step at a time. Even a big canvas can be painted and not be overwhelming, if it is handled bit by bit and step by step until it is completed.

It is a simple process, but difficult for the world, which teaches impatience, instant gratification and demands instantaneous results. There is no time for dwelling or resting in ME, moment by moment, in such a system of thinking or behavior.

It is time to relax and escape from the cacophony of the world. It is time to turn "upside down" thinking right side up! It is time to query of ME, dwell in ME and rest in ME!

Love, Daddy

*1 Cor. 9:24-27 Do you not know that in a race all the runners run, but only one gets the prize. Run in such a way as to get the prize. Everyone who competes in the games goes into strict training. They do it to get a crown that will not last; but we do it to get a crown that will last forever. Therefore I do not run like a man running aimlessly; I do not fight like a man beating the air. No, I beat my body and make it my slave so that after I have preached to others, I myself will not be disqualified for the prize. (NIV)

Heb. 12:1 Therefore, seeing we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight and the sin which does so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us.

Call Them From the Deep

Sharon West

CALL THEM FROM THE DEEP from <mulbooks@infinet.com>
<http://www.themestream.com/authors/30257.html>

As I drove to church a couple of weeks ago, the Lord gave me some direction in regard to writing that I feel he wants me to share with others. This word of direction is applicable to any ministry that God is using to open the gates of his blessing.

At the time, I was thinking about the angel in Revelation 10 with the open book in his hand and the fact that I believe there is an anointing present now that is opening God's word like none other we have seen to date. Scripture itself is being opened in an unprecedented way along with other writings based on the truth of scripture.

I call this anointing "an open word." What happens with this is that our words break open, like that open book in the hands of the angel, and the words become way more in the understanding of the hearer than what the person ministering even had in mind for them.

The words break open and just keep opening until each hearer gets something for their own spiritual perspective, and it even breaks loose and fans out linking scripture to scripture. This quality of "opening" is particularly characteristic of this anointing.

As I contemplated this, I caught the momentary flash of a picture in my mind of a ship, and the men on board were taking soundings of the depth of the water. The Lord suddenly gave me understanding of something very important to keep in mind for the operation of this anointing of "an open word."

Like those men on the ship, God wants to take soundings of our spirits, and in doing so, we'll know as we go along where the depths are and where the shallows are. God's desire is that everything we write or minister under this anointing be connected to one of the deep places in our spirits.

He does not want us to connect anything now to shallow places. Let those places alone for God to do a work of deepening there. If we discern that we are starting to get shallow, go back out into the deep.

This anointing is going to do what God intends for it to do in opening our words, whether they are shallow or deep, but He wants us to choose those deep places to draw people into.

Today, there's really no use in opening the shallow places any more. For too long we have called people to the shallows, the places that dry up first when the rains don't come.

The season of a little touch of Jesus is over. The time for shallowness is past. Therefore, we need to start calling people to the deep places, and we can't call them to the depths from the shallows. Deep calls unto deep.

So every word must be especially connected to those places that God has dug deep within us. This is beyond writing or ministering what we know. It is writing and ministering what we live and breathe in the Lord.

There are two ways the Lord applies the oil of His Spirit. He either pours it on or rubs it in. These deep places are where He has rubbed and dug down and placed His Name. Oh, many are thirsty to get a drink from those wells!

I pray that all of us will undergo soundings of our spirits and write and minister an open word from the depths that will be like the sound of many waters.

Climb the Ramparts!

Debra Westbrook

July 15, 2000

There is a reformation coming to the Church of Jesus Christ. The word reformation means to make straight again that which has become misaligned, and also to put back into correct order and form as a structural adjustment. What we were was in need of alignment. What we are is drastically shifting. What we shall become is still in process.

In Habakkuk 2:4, it says that "the righteous will live by his faith." That revelation to Martin Luther shook the foundations of his life and in turn shifted the Church into a reformation. Today in the year 2000, there is once again needed a revelation from heaven that will bring forth reformation in the Body of Christ. If we look at the verses preceding this verse, we shall see that God has laid down a requirement to bring forth a revelation to birth a reformation.

In Habakkuk 2:1, it says "I will stand at my watch and station myself on the ramparts; I will look to see what he will say to me, and what answer I am to give to this complaint.

Habakkuk is telling us to come up to the ramparts. Ramparts are an elevated line of defense circling a city. We must come apart and go higher to see things from an eternal perspective. We can't stay low but need to go up and station ourselves with expectation for a revelation such as that given to Martin Luther in Habakkuk 2:4. Our eyes must be opened and our ears unplugged to see and hear what God is saying.

John the Baptist said that a man can only receive what is given him from above. Revelation comes from heaven, unveiled to our spirits. We cannot mistake information for revelation. The church in America has enough information in the form of books, tapes, and videos. We go from conference to conference collecting information on how to build a better and bigger church or how to order our personal lives. We live in an information age and are glutted with information on a daily basis. The church has sought information more than it has desired revelation. Excess information will clog the ears and dull the senses. Climb the ramparts!

God is crying out to His people, that if we desire a revelation that will birth a reformation that will bring in a greater manifestation of the Kingdom of God, then we must station ourselves on the ramparts and look to see things from an eternal perspective. Climb the ramparts!

There is a greater place of vision that God is wanting to give to us but it will only be given when we stand on the ramparts. What God wants to unveil will never be found looking at things from an earthly perspective. To get spiritual vision, one must go up higher! His revelation must shake us to the core of our being. Climb the ramparts!

True revelation that will shake this world will not be recycled information given to us in the valley of man's wisdom or in a religious system but will come from heaven to those who are willing to be set apart to hear the voice of God. Revelation can't be gained by observing and studying with eyes that see in the natural. God will not give this revelation to one person as He did to Martin Luther but He is raising up a prophetic people who will come apart and seek Him with all their heart. I keep hearing the Spirit of God say to climb the ramparts.

There on the ramparts far above the voices of man, we shall hear the voice of God. This revelation will be spoken to people from diverse places, different color and gender, various denominations, and all ages. They will have one thing in common. They have climbed the ramparts to see things from God's eternal perspective. When we hear that revelation that will shake our system with present day truth, we won't walk with that revelation. We will run with it and our lives will never be the same.

Catch The Winds!

Deborah Voetberg

A few weeks ago while closing in prayer at our weekly Bible Study the Spirit of the Lord came heavily upon me. We sat in silence for maybe 15-20 minutes...then prophetic intercession filled the room. The following is a vision and instruction that we received.

I was standing with my arms uplifted and started to feel winds coming up behind me...as we called forth the breath of God, the room filled with winds coming from all four directions...north, south, east & west. In the spirit I could see the winds coming with great force upon people, some screaming and hiding, others recognizing it was God and they lifted their arms as eagles and caught the winds. The winds lifted them high above all calamities and propelled them with great force toward their God given destiny! They were laughing with great joy at the ease in which they flew.

Then I saw a great darkness and in front of me a large pillar of fire. I heard the Lord say that He would lead us as a pillar of fire through all the darkness that will fill the land.

The Lord is saying that the day is almost spent. Great darkness is already coming upon us...but to be of peace, He has overcome the darkness! Those who have not loved the truth will run and hide from the coming winds that are already starting to blow upon the land, because they believed the lie and their eyes have been covered and their ears stopped. God says He does nothing without first telling His prophets...those who have ears to hear know of the coming winds and will catch their current. The winds are coming from all four directions as the breath of God that was prophesied by Ezekiel upon the dry bones. Those who have wondered at how they will walk and do all that God has spoken will receive the Wind of His Grace, that will propel them in His power to perform all that He has declared.

There are many winds blowing upon this land, winds of change, worship, grace, peace, repentance.....this is a sovereign move of His Spirit that no man will lay claim to and no flesh will glory in.

Blessings and Great Grace upon you!

Christian Unity

Jim Rinker

This teaching was confirmed and prioritized by a very recent experience I had while running on Monday. Just prior to (1 hour before) I had the experience I just finished reading Acts chapters 1-4. I'll open with some verses from these first four chapters in Acts.

Acts 1:14 These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication, with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.

Acts 2:44 And all that believed were together, and had all things common; 45 And sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all [men], as every man had need. 46 And they, continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart, 47 Praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved.

Acts 4:24a And when they heard that, they lifted up their voice to God with one accord,

Acts 4:32 And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any [of them] that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common. 33 And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all. 34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold, 35 And laid [them] down at the apostles' feet: and distribution was made unto every man according as he had need.

While running on Monday I found an old broken tape. The title of the discarded tape was CHRISTIAN UNITY. It was a tape series on christian unity and the number of the tape was 007. The topic of the tape was WASHING AND RECONCILIATION. The tape was broken and had no tape in it. It was for all intensive purposes useless and devoid of any content. The tape was put out by a group called SERVANT. It was an old tape (1979).

I found the tape at exactly the one mile mark of my run (usual course). This is not without significance. Firstly, the number one itself speaks of unity and accord. Second, the number one speaks of priority and given that I just finished reading Acts 1-4 it put a priority on CHRISTIAN UNITY and the Father's heart concerning this matter. Thirdly, one as in one mile speaks of how unity or ONESS will happen which is via sacrifice.

Matthew 5:41 And whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain.

This sacrifice is on the part of BOTH to bring us into unity which is via humility and servant hood.

Ephesians 4:1 I therefore, the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called, 2 With all lowliness and meekness, with longsuffering, forbearing one another in love; 3 Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

The tape was found right at the entrance to an upper middle class development (houses start at $200,000) called WELSH AYRES. Up until this point the road went downhill. Welsh Ayres is at a CROSSROAD. To enter this development you must turn right and go UPHILL. To continue on my usual running course you must turn left and get onto Dowling Forge road which continues DOWNHILL all the way to the end which is the very bottom of the hill.

The word Welsh means "to swindle a person by not paying a debt" or "to fail to fulfill an obligation".

What obligation?

Romans 12:1 I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, [which is] your reasonable service.

Why are we not in unity? Because we are failing to fulfill our obligation to become a LIVING SACRIFICE. By failing to go the first mile another cannot go the second with us. Our unity is broken as we fail to fulfill our obligation.

The word Ayres means "to go insane". This speaks of God turning many over to a REPROBATE MIND for turning away from the PATHWAY and giving heed to doctrines of demons and seducing spirits.

2 Timothy 4: 3 For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears; 4 And they shall turn away [their] ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables.

The "course" I run daily on goes down. It is Dowling Forge road. The word forge means "to purify a metal". In this allegory it would be gold and silver.

1 Corinthians 3:12 Now if any man build upon this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble; 13 Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is.

Revelation 3:18 I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and [that] the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eyesalve, that thou mayest see.

Forge also means "to hammer out or form".

Romans 12:2 And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what [is] that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God.

It also means to "advance ahead steadily".

Philippians 3:13 Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but [this] one thing [I do], forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, 14 I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

So what do we have so far?

We have a tape on CHRISTIAN UNITY. The tape was broken and void of any contents (tape). These words CHRISTIAN UNITY are merely words that have no CONTENT to them without life backing.

James 1:27 Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, [and] to keep himself unspotted from the world.

It is the type of unity that came from SACRIFICE as we see in the opening scriptures from the book of Acts. Many long to see it happen, few are willing to pay the price. The name of the group that put out the tape was SERVANT. This speaks of what posture we must be in in order to see true CHRISTIAN UNITY come to pass.

Philippians 2: 5 Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: 6 Who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God: 7 But made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men: 8 And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross. 9 Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name:

The tape was old (1979). This year may or may not be significant. What is significant, however, is the concept of old. These are old truths. Basic truths. They have been discarded at a CROSSROADS. A wrong turn leading UPWARDS to the exaltation of self through lust and self gratification. The turn was a RIGHT turn. It seemed right, it seemed to be the pathway but it was not. The crossroads was at PROSPERITY or maybe better said the USAGE OF PROSPERITY. WELSH AYRES speaks of the wrong usage of prosperity. It is prosperity that is given by God but it is not being used SACRIFICIALLY in order to bring about a KOINONIA or CHRISTIAN COMMUNITY but rather it is prosperity that is being used to build a kingdom on earth to gratify and satisfy the lust of the flesh. Those who take this wrong turn are being given over to a reprobate mind and being given over to false doctrines and seducing spirits.

Those who art will willing to continue on COURSE and continue the RACE will find themselves on a continual path DOWNWARD. Downward as in SERVANT HOOD. Downward as in HUMILITY. Downward as in SACRIFICE. Downward as being PROSPEROUS but using it to bring about CHRISTIAN UNITY. Speaking about the church at Smyrna Jesus said:

Revelation 2:9 I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou art rich) and [I know] the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and are not, but [are] the synagogue of Satan.

Outwardly (as in dwellingplace...Welsh Ayres) these seemed POOR but in reality they were PROSPEROUS!

Those who choose to stay on course will find themselves with others who are FORGING ahead, pressing on towards the mark, being formed and shaped into the image of Christ, being refined as gold and silver in the fires and purified seven times. It will be this group that finds true CHRISTIAN UNITY. This is the BRIDE!

The TRUTH of CHRISTIAN UNITY, which is THE BRIDE coming to full maturity was discarded at a crossroads. It was tossed aside in exchange for self gratification and fulfillment and now deception is coming to those who chose to make their habitation in WELSH AYRES. This group will find a FALSE UNITY which is centered in the PHYSICAL REALM or SOULISHNESS and NOT in the Holy Spirit. This will ultimately result in a catastrophe for all those who refuse to repent.

Revelation 3:16 So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth. 17 Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked: 18 I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and [that] the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eyesalve, that thou mayest see. 19 As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent. 20 Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me. 21 To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne.

May this allegory speak volumes to us concerning the heart and intentions of the Father as He seeks to reconcile and restore us fully back to Himself. May we choose to seek and find His perfect will that we will be positioned to enter into the CHRISTIAN UNITY that He has prepared for those who will obey Him by following in His footsteps.

Come Up Here Once Again

Cheri Henderson

When I was young, I used to climb up on my Father's lap.
With my head against his chest, he'd gently pat me on the back.
I'd hear the rhythm of his heart, a safe and loving place.
I'd whisper softly "I love you", and he'd whisper back the same.

Nothing else quite mattered when I sat within that place, for the only thing before me was his strong and loving face.
His arms around me gave me peace, and fears would always leave.
His soothing voice and words of love infused such strength in me.

But days became weeks and weeks became months, and then so many years that after awhile childlike moments were few . . . and soon just disappeared.
The worries of life, the cares and concerns, choked out my childlike faith
-- I forgot what it was like to sit in his lap and look upon his face.

I closed my eyes and turned my head to the place where he always sat, and in the spirit I could almost see him patting at his lap, as if to say, "Come up here, child. Come up here once again.
You'll always be my child. How I long to hold you once again."

So I will run, I will run to my Father. He will lift me; he will lift me once again, to that place where it's just two: my precious Father - me and you.
Holy God, you ARE my Father AND my friend!

I love you, Lord!

PERSONAL REVIVAL

If revival never overtakes this city,
I tell you now, it's overtaken me.
The Holy Ghost has grabbed me and He's turned me inside out.
Jesus saved me, healed me, touched me set me free!

It matters not if everyone around me is satisfied to stay just where they are.
I MUST have more of God!
And I WILL have more of God!
Nothing and NO one can stop me now.

Personal revival, it's a matter of two:
Jesus and me . . . and what He'd have me do.
He's the One who put a fire deep within my bones.
Men can't fan the flame.
It's Christ alone.

I will listen to His voice.
I will keep my eyes on Him.
His praise will be forever in my mouth.
He's the One who put a fire deep within my bones,
and nothing's gonna put that fire out!

If He says dance before me, I will dance with all my might!
If He says shout,
I'll shout with all my voice!
I may offend some people, but I'll surely bless my God, and blessing God is what I'm all about!

You can come along with me. Yes, you can come along.
But even if you don't, I'm pressing on.
I'm going after God,
with everything I've got!
And I pray that you will choose to come along.

Civil War Within The "Church"

Civil War Within The "Church"

Larry Bailey

09/30/00

There is a war raging right between our ears! This warfare is between our intellect, (mind, soul) and our spirit or our spiritual being which involves the heart.

Can we actually see the Body Of Christ? No, The body of Christ is not seen! Christians are in hiding places or caves the same as the Israelite army was in the day of Gideon (so as the army will be according to The Father) when the Midianites had come against the children of Israel. David in his flight from King Sol found himself hiding in caves. These Old Testament events depict where we are today in many ways.

I had a dream that I would like to share. Many of my dreams and visions start with a realization of where I actually was. In this dream I found myself in a field with grasses and small bushes surrounding me. The air was full of fragrances like sulfur and all types of burning wood and other things. There were flashes of light, various sized explosions that filled the night skies. There were sounds of war all around me. I knew that I must be in a battlefield somewhere around the southern part of America. I could hear the thunderous sound of companies of men on horseback. Foot soldiers were surrounding me both friend and foe. I stopped and looked at my clothing and figured out that I was dressed as an officer in the cavalry for the Confederacy. I began to make my way through the undergrowth and avoided any conflict because I had no firearm. I did have the sword with me but it seemed so inadequate. There were soldiers ahead of me that I could hear and they were talking about how General Sherman was on his way. There was a cold chill that filled me as I heard the men enemy discussing their plans of the march on Atlanta. At this point another man approached and shouted over the noise of guns going off around us "Corporal Thomas, First Tennessee Volunteers! Reporting as ordered Sir" The men turned to him and ordered him to the city and don't allow anything to get in your way. The young man said, "We will take the city Sir."

By now I had no idea which way to run. I knew that I had vital information to get back to our troops and already felt a sense of sorrow. I came upon a shot southern officer and he had a small pouch on his hip with the name Gideon crudely written on it. I was able to gain his weapon and the bullets that I may need. I remember stopping and looking up at the stars and asking God where are you in all of this.

The instant that I acknowledged God I felt him invade my surroundings. Isaiah the messenger that appears to me many times in my dreams began to say you are not in this, you are not here! You are just a voice to bring clarity and vision. You will be just a mouthpiece, a voice of one crying forth.

The times of division are coming to changes and choices. The army of the Lord and all the supporting people must begin to change their direction. Just as Sherman came out of desperation so shall it be for us. Sherman knew where and how to bring an end to the battles and war. Even though he was poorly supplied he still remained aggressive to follow the time tables he originally set into action.

I believe that those that are in hiding will be coming out. What they will be required to do is be great teachers, encouragers and disciplers of people. They will truly have a heart change and begin to see the value in the servant's heart. God ordained this heart for us all. This shall be that year of uncovering the precious that have been hidden and the installation of those fallen soldiers The Lord himself has called into action.

The Spirit of Athaliah Larry Bailey

There is a scripture text needed 2 Chronicles 22:10

*"But when Athaliah (the mother of Ahaziah) the daughter of Jezebeel saw that her son was dead, She rose up and set out to destroy all the royal seed (Anointed Children) of the house of Judah. (Note that this is not Israel)

*Jehoshabeath, The daughter of the king, took Joash the son of Ahaziah and stole him from among the king's sons that were (to be) slain and put him and a nurse in a bedchamber. (A place of comfort and protection)

So Jehoshabeath and Jerohorum the wife of the high priest hid him and themselves in the house of the Lord six years. Athaliah reigned during this time.

There has been an important lesson learned through understanding the simplicity of the Old Testament and in finding present day truth from that which is of the old order, in the Lord. Finding Jesus in the Old Testament hidden and even hearing Him speak of himself, as being there is powerful.

What I mean is Jesus spoke about himself all the way through the Old Testament. At this place we find that there is present truth in the patterns of older times applicable to our day as well as the future. We often times miss the understanding of our being or having a call by the Lord, it's only the beginning!

The process of Modern day Christianity says, "Name it claim it" or "Ask and you will receive". Although there is some truth in this partial understanding, this is only true if we are moving as we are required to do, acting upon His will. The whole truth is, The Fathers Will, "To Lift Up The Son". This is the only way that we can find any affirmation in our walk with the Lord. Fulfilling the requirements to apprehend more of His attributes. There is a love that we so many times limit with our thinking that we have a love that is like The Father's Love. This is so hard to comprehend.

This will tend to lead many to reliance in the laziness and limited thinking that makes up Idolatry within the congregational setting. This is seen clearly in the church with those people that are only after manifestations not inhabitations.

Athaliah was and is an anointing killer and after the removal of the Godly seed which the Lord has set among men. We begin to get the real picture of what is alive and well in the carpet of the church today.

We need to understand who Jezebel is. She is often the man or woman that positions herself in a place of authority just under a leader to bring direction (false direction) to cleverly lead and impact long term results in what the Lord is trying to accomplish. We so often see Jezebel as that deacon, elder, board member, or church secretary. Maybe even the pastor's wife. There is often a form of righteousness but a false humility and a hidden agenda. They're often full of religiosity that is sickening to us but due to their position we have little or no approach to them. This is quite often the very reason people leave the church setting and cannot give a reason why. They see something that can only be called witchcraft or manipulation something that they know they only want to disassociate themselves from. Giving the problem victory without even a fight. Yes, the church is full of wimps they are often cowards and weak in faith and many proselytes. Ready to present the problem with not even prayer or any fasting for the answers from the Lord. God himself revealed to them, for a purpose, the very thing that they run from. I am convinced that if He showed it to them then He will show us how and when to bring solutions for this.

This story shows that the Father will place us in a place of comfort, just as Joash was, and often times allow us to stay there for an ordained time. Sometimes we are left in this place just for the maturity development we need. There is also an underlying sin both in this story and in the church. Jealousy!

Athaliah is killing all the children because of hidden jealousy even though they are her relatives! Yes, we hurt the closest ones to us most often. Absolute power is corrupting and corrupting power is absolute!

There are many deep Christians out of the organization (The Church) now. This is evident by the level of corruption that has entered the business system that is called the western church. The church of today is no different from the world in the things (Sins) that we have a clear call to abstain from.

The love of the Lord would be enough reason to leave the former lust and repent (change our Mind and Direction). This will lead us down a path of acceptable social lying and boastful pride with prosperity in the world's view. This will reap a harsh judgment on an unrepentant nation.

California and the destruction that is to come will be a sign of His impending judgments. The Athaliah spirit is powerfully at work in this state. You can see it in Hollywood, Silicon Valley, Wealth, Power, and the overall numbness to sin.

This is the Word of the Lord and in accordance with the word. So when we see America begins to increase in violence and terrorist increase. Destruction will enter the Lands of Israel. The Cloud of His suffering has already begun to dwell over the Land of Israel. We will know that the time is at Hand just as the Kingdom should be at hand (Hand of Mercy). We as Christians should be immobilized into that call that the Father of creation has created us for. I challenge all Christians to ask now what the Father requires of each of us. Then just do what He has called you to do. That is really what The Father is requiring.

Shalom

Civil War In The Hearts Of Warriors

Ray Hughes

For a number of years, we have heard prophets say that civil war is coming to the church. Typically, the picture we get from that is the struggle between the North and South. Though many other interpretations can be made, the two sides have often represented the battle between the mind and the heart or between the flesh and the spirit. The North has represented the intellect of man that is forever opposing the heart or the spirit, while the South, with its heart of Dixie, has stood for the passionate heart. However, I'm coming to realize that there may be more. It's more than just the spiritual conflict we experience daily.

Truly, this has been a nation that has seldom been without conflict since its beginning, whether abroad or between its shores. But no doubt the Civil War stands out as the bloodiest war of our nation's history, as more Americans died in that struggle than in both World Wars combined.

Without giving tremendous attention to the personal issues and political conflicts surrounding the four years that have tormented our nation, let's look at the three basic elements that compose military operations. To do that, let's look at what was called the Atlanta Campaign.

On May 5, 1864, Sherman rode from his headquarters in Chattanooga, Tenn., to Ringgold, Ga. From Ringgold, he felt he could better direct and observe the beginnings of this campaign in Georgia. By September, Atlanta would fall to his army, which ultimately brought an end to the Civil War. European analysts later agreed that the tactics employed by Sherman were the most significant military developments to come out of the Civil War and hailed Sherman as the "first modern general," as Sherman was the first to introduce the concept of total war. The study of Sherman's wartime reports and memoirs clearly indicates that he envisioned the march to the sea not as a brilliant strategic movement, but merely as a practical solution to the horrible dilemma he found himself in with 100,000 hungry men deep in hostile territory and dependant upon supplies being brought in from 300 miles away on a single railroad track. No doubt Sherman was truly a military strategist, but desperation was the foundation for his creativity.

Woven into the information I just supplied are what I see as the three elements of military operations. First, there must be a strategy. Strategy is the art of making war on a map. Strategy goes hand-in-hand with vision. When Sherman rode across the Georgia state line and began meeting with his officers, communicating his vision required maps, diagrams, word pictures and motivational concepts - all of which eventually motivated the officers to mobilize their troops. Though Sherman's strategy was born out of desperation, it was a direct result of his skill in warfare.

The second element employed in warfare is tactics, which is the art of moving bodies of troops on the field of battle in the immediate presence of their enemy. While strategy is the art of making war on a map, tactics is making war on the field. Stated another way, if you see it on the battle field, it's tactics. If you can't see it, it's strategy.

In the Atlanta Campaign, a major issue to Sherman was the logistics of movement, which is the third element. Logistics is the mechanics of simply showing up with the right tools to be effective. Try to imagine the logistics involved with daily moving more than 110,000 men, 35,000 animals and 200 artillery pieces - all of which require 130 10-ton boxcar-loads of food and supplies. We are talking major logistics.

These three elements aren't just a worldly key to warfare, but apply to the spiritual world just as powerfully. I cannot think of a single battle fought in the Bible where the same elements were not used in some form. As an example, look at the story of Gideon starting in Judges 6.

Beginning in verse 12, we see that Gideon's strategy came from the Angel of the Lord's instructions. Like Sherman, Gideon was in a place of desperation, as was all of Israel. In the natural, he was by no means the "mighty man of valor" the angel said he was. In fact, when the angel came he was busy threshing wheat to hide from the Midianites. Basically, he was storing food out of fear and defeat. Likewise, Sherman's life was a long line of disastrous failures. He was certainly not the man history remembers as the courageous general. When the war began, Sherman was dealing with suicidal tendencies and depression.

Conflict will wear you down to a place of desperation when there's not sure victory. But when there's a sure victory ahead, there's an energy that motivates you on. Gideon had worn down to nothing and was feeling like he was lower than sheep dung.

In response to the Angel of the Lord appearing under a tree and declaring, "The Lord is with you, you mighty man of valor," Gideon immediately questioned if God actually was with His people. His question was plain and based from his and the nation's experience: If the Lord is with us, then why has all this happened to us? From that place of desperation, he had no vision. He couldn't even clearly hear the truth - God's Truth - that the angel was declaring in his midst.

The angel responded by stating the clear reason: Because the Lord has sent you. There was the ultimate motivation for mobilization. From that brief meeting of leadership began a transformation of Gideon's character as he walked in agreement with God's plan for his life.

As we all know, however, Gideon did not immediately sail off into the smooth ocean of faith. He requested sign after sign of confirmation. Yet from this human questioning of asking for a sign comes the beauty of this story. Gideon had to have an encounter with God. The Lord's strategy for his life had to become real, specific and personal.

As God continued his magnificent work through this leader, we see the kind of relationship that formed. Gideon had to develop a relationship with God's authority in the same way Sherman had to have relationship with the authorities in Washington. God's authority involves an accountability on our behalf. As this order lines up, the fruit becomes true work - activity of the spirit rather than the flesh. Sherman and Gideon were in a place of both authority and accountability, while remaining in that key place of desperation.

Just as I outlined the three elements of the Atlanta Campaign, let's look at how those factors are seen in Gideon's battle.

The strategy involved for Gideon was not something that could be plotted with a single stroke of the pen. Since the strategy came straight from God, Gideon was required to constantly be in a place of listening while fully relying on God's next word. We see throughout Judges 7 God's strategy of narrowing the number of men involved in the battle. Going from 32,000 men to 10,000 to 300 to fight such a mighty enemy seemed ludicrous, and yet Gideon, by developing a relationship of reverence to God's authority, followed through with God's strategy.

The Midianites had stolen the Israelites' harvest for seven years. In fact, many Israelites were living in caves, hiding in poverty and desperation. Yet from that kind of desperation comes an encounter with God, which in turn gives vision. Through Gideon, the nation had vision.

The tactics involved in the battle with the Midianites were first used without the enemy in sight. God mobilized his troops by making sure every man was "to his place" (v 7). Strangely enough, this meant that 29,700 able-bodied soldiers went home! But by God's plan, this was the way to victory. God set aside all the men who drank by drawing water with their hands, while telling Gideon to "let all the other people go, every man to his place." Note the lesson shown here. It's not a shame to not go to battle. It's a shame, however, to not be in your place. In verse 21, we see that "every man stood in his place all around the camp." The Lord's strategy and tactics included everyone.

The specific tactics implemented, however, were just as strange as God's strategy. Upon Gideon's blowing of the trumpet, the 300 men were to blow their trumpets, say a phrase and then break the clay pitchers they carried. The sounds released, though seemingly strange weapons in warfare, nevertheless sent the enemy's camp into chaos.

Following the strange line of instruction, the logistics of Gideon's battle with the Midianites involved something similar to a "Materials Needed" list. The question was, where was Gideon going to get his supplies? He acquired the exact number of trumpets as a result of Israeli military procedure. In Gideon's time, a trumpet was to be in possession for every 100 soldiers. Gideon rounded up pitchers, wicks, oil, oil lamps and a single sword for his 300 men. With the exception of the sword, these were the bizarre materials used to send an enemy of thousands into pandemonium.

The battle was won by the Lord. It was the sound of the trumpet and the releasing of light from the lamps (which I'll explain later) which, when accompanied by the might of the Spirit, completely drove the Midianites away.

To me, the wonder of this miraculous story is the lesson seen at the end. After all is over, as the people stood in victory as a result of their obedience - people being in their God-ordained place - the first thing Gideon did was invite the 29,700 warriors to come and enjoy the spoil. Nobody missed out on the rewards.

God has His strategy and I think it's safe to say that it doesn't always make sense to the natural mind. In fact, the mind is the very place the most intense civil war occurs. Though we see the external signs of war brewing across the nations, the most brutal kind of war today is internal. The civil war takes place inside of us every day between the mind and the spirit. Spirit-provided balance is always needed. Unfortunately, the Christian army has been occupied with this internal struggle for so long our vision has been lost. It's time we go out there where God can do what He desires to do through us, to release the harvest unto the people of God. The Midianites have robbed us of our harvest too long.

The first thing the people of God did under Gideon, by the Lord's instruction, was come into rank. They put themselves into position so as a people they could move forward. In the natural, this only took 300 selected men. But in the spirit, they were a united army, standing in order and uniform before God. Imagine the bravery it took for those 300 men to go before the thousands of enemies. I can just imagine the warriors saying to themselves as they crept into position, "When we sound these horns and break these jars, it's going to immediately tell the enemy where we are. We're exposing ourselves to the entire enemy camp." Yet these men, walking in obedience, understood who was warring on their behalf.

I once did a fascinating study on what those warriors actually carried as they approached the enemy's camp. What they literally held were clay pots. Inside each one was an oil-soaked wick smoldering. When the vessel was broken, the atmosphere or the wind would hit the wick and the oil would flare up. Inside us is the Holy Spirit ready to ignite like a flame. Once we are broken, the light can come out. With that, the anointing of the oil in our "lamp" can pour out of us as we walk in union with the Spirit.

On the word of authority of Gideon's shout and the blast of his trumpet, from each soldier immediately came a light pervading the entire atmosphere. Some would question what exactly threw the enemy into its frenzy, whether it was the light, sound or combination of the two. But we know exactly what sent the enemy into a frenzy. The weapons they used are the same weapons we have been given today to send to our enemies into chaos and retreat. That weapon is obedience, for our enemies' camp and all his demonic warriors have one thing in common. They are the by-product of the rebellion in their leader. The opposite of rebellion is obedience. Our leader was obedient unto death. So if we will line up with his strategies, his tactics and his logistics, that obedience can hold the power of a hundred thousand swords. If we line ourselves up with our leader, Jesus, then we will have the foundation for the real warfare. The foundation of our warfare must be an obedient heart. From that obedience, God can use the sound of a trumpet, the sound of the marching in the tops of the mulberry trees or whatever sound He wants to. I can assure you that that will send your enemies into a frenzy.

With the miraculous victory of 300 men over an entire Midianite army, we do know this: It was God's doing. By His Spirit, there was a releasing of what He had put in His warriors. Likewise, by His Spirit there is a trumpet being sounded now to call the warriors to be broken and, as a result, let the blinding light of the Spirit shine from each warrior's life.

Realize, however, that this trumpet call puts us in a position of offense and not defense. Defense puts us in the caves, hanging out, just getting by day to day. In the caves, we live in darkness, fear and timidity. But when we heed the call of God, that is the beginning of coming into the offensive position. We're not on offense until the wind of the spirit of our lives has left our lips on the trumpet. Once the sound is heard, there is no backing up. In one immediate instance, we take the offensive and everything is changed. We're not on the offense just because we're in the army. The battle fought on offense - real offense - takes place after the sound has been made. Offense offends our enemies. Unfortunately, most of what we do in the Christian army today is have cheerleader sessions and wind up offending one another. We never even get around to offending our enemies. For 10 to 15 years, we've been learning how to march. Now it's time to engage our enemies from the offensive position.

Offense is coming into order with God's order of the regiment for our lives. May the warriors of God first hear the trumpet sounding, and may the trumpet be heard as a sound that is certain, preparing the army for battle. And as is so crucial to the order of both God and our individual lives, may every man be found "in his place."

Though we've all heard the story of Gideon's army of 300 defeating the enemy, in reality, there was not the sounding of 300 trumpets. There were 301 trumpets. That one trumpet made the difference. Gideon was that one. Even so in this day, civil war is already in the hearts of men. Jesus, the one who has made a difference for eternity, is sounding His trumpet - that one trumpet blast. How many of us are willing to bring our identities, our ambitions - our lives - into full obedience to the Lord and become part of a corporate sound?

Civil War in the Church

Priscilla Van Sutphin

10-13-00

Today, I had an accident with my car, the first one in 15 years It is NOT that I am such a great driver, but God in His mercy has protected me over the years, and I KNOW there are angels watching over this driver. Thus it was a surprise when I had put on my armor, to have this happen. I have mulled over it all day, as I felt the Lord was teaching something or showing me something. I had made a faux-pas with answering the question of my son this morning, I blew it in other words.

Then tonight before sleep, I could not rest, and was praying in tongues still trying to hear what wisdom the Lord would have in all this. Then He showed me, what is happening in Israel, is what is reflected also in the Church. Civil war in Israel, Civil War in the Church. This has been escalating for some time, just as old tensions, old bitterness and hatred has led to an outburst of violence in Israel. Suddenly all the pieces came together, tonight.

Why is it, when we get blessed, financially, spiritually, emotionally, it becomes so easy to forget from whence we came ? It gets easy to get prideful. We forget, that we are not blessed because of how good we are, but because of His goodness and love. He is the ONLY One Who is GOOD. Self has it's way of creeping into even the best of revival churches, when we begin to be judgmental and suspicious of the motivations of others, watch out, as pride is at the door, testing us. And exclusivity is a demonic force, associated with pride and a religious spirit. All of a sudden we need recommendations from someone "Known" to go to a conference. We need credentials or to be known to get love and consideration from a brother in Christ.

I have been blessed of late, so I know what I speak of. It is easy to then forget those that helped you through the rough times, It is easy to forget about all the pain and suffering you went through, A lot like childbirth. And that is the point. God is BIRTHING something, Christ in us, the hope of glory, .and we must remember, He is doing it, we are not attaining it by our frail human efforts and diligence. RELIGION assumes it is thus, but our righteousness is in Christ Jesus, not in our own goodness, SELF begins to rear it's ugly head when self is dethroned, .it tries to come back and lure you away from the purposes of God, The OLD tries to destroy the new, the old nature, tries to come back and gain ground from the new nature God is birthing in us, which is HIS nature. Even in renewal churches, arrogance can set in, .and we can become PROUD, that God chose us, that WE are the epicenter, but if you maintain that attitude, you will not maintain revival for long, it will be extinguished. God is about LOVE, not war.. He is about HUMILITY, not pride. Too much "carefulness" can be about suspicion and control, instead of being led of the Spirit of God. We should be able to "know" each other by the Spirit of God, and not after the flesh. Just like my OLD car (cars represent ministry in dreams) hit the white newer car today, an older, more renown ministry, made a hit on this newer ministry today, and it felt quite painful and sad. When God is about to do a new thing, the enemy will come in like a flood to try to stop the flow, to stop the birthing. But the word of God says, when the enemy comes in like a flood, the Lord will raise up a standard against him.

So in the ensuing Civil War, .be careful HOW you choose sides, be on the side of the Lord. Listen to what HE says, over what your mind may say. God offends the mind to test the heart as John Wimber used to say, An old car, like the old movement, can get in the way of what God wants to do in the youth, if it doesn't listen to GOD. The youth who will come into the church in this next move, .are like no other generation before them. Judgmentalism, and pride will kill this generation being birthed if we don't repent of it. The old wineskins, .must be cast off. The ONLY way to do that is to listen for the VOICE of God, not your own opinions, not your own ways learned from man or tradition, and to maintain humility and love in our relationships.

God will do a new thing, So do not brandish your sword against your brother and sister, be ready to move and act in love, and if you find yourself defensive, run to HIM Who is the resource of all we need. Get HIS OPINION ! Do not make decisions based on what we have always done, that is method and tradition. Make decisions based on HIS opinion. Anything less is flesh.

God grant us the grace to walk in Your love and to maintain loving relationship with You so that we can. Do not allow us Father to discard the basics in our intimate relationship with You, in our busyness. Help us to lay aside the old wineskins Father and to flow with You, in the newness of life You are giving and to walk according to the Spirit, and not according to the flesh.

Keep us Christ-minded. Destroy all worldliness in our thinking and actions Father. Show us when we are out of step with what YOU want. Glorify Your name

Father, Sanctify us with Your glory. Pour out Your love in our hearts, that we may be One as You are One. In Jesus name, .amen

Come With Me

Bill Burns

January 29, 2000:

Can you hear the rain? Can you hear the sound of it falling upon you? For, the rain is the sweet and gentle whispering of My voice unto My beloved, to My chosen, to those that I am calling forth.

Some of you have wandered from place to place; you have looked for your destiny, yet it has escaped you still. I call to you now as I called Abraham. I said, Abraham, come and follow Me.

I call you out of the place that you have been nourished and grown up in, and I call you to a distant place, a distant land. I call you to come away and walk with Me. Indeed the voice of My Spirit is crying; the voice of My Spirit is calling, if you will but come and walk with Me in places that you have not gone before, if you will come and let Me be your exceedingly great reward, I shall be your shield.

I will bring you to the place of promise, the land of promise, the blessings of promise, for it is My desire to do so. But, this you must do: you must arise from your place of comfort and come and sojourn with Me.

Walk with Me across the sands of time. Come and be carried by the breath of My Spirit, for I desire to reveal Myself unto you. If you will come, the wind of My Spirit shall be gathered under your wings, and I shall lift you up into My face, and there you shall find Me, and your soul shall find peace.

Come, children, out from your place of self-made safety. Come aside unto Me. Come and walk with Me. Let us begin this journey, for I have wonderful things to show you and wonderful things to do in your life. I have glorious things to do in My Body, My Church, and in the lives of My Beloved. I intend to do that. Will you come and walk with Me?

Chicago White Sox

Bob Sperlazzo

NOTE by Bob Sperlazzo: You may be aware of how God will often use people and events to prophetically speak to those who have ears to hear. The following is a modern day example of this type of prophetic imagery. As you read it, try to see the parallels to the establishment Church and the young, fresh move of God.

The 2000 Chicago White Sox: Picture of the New Church Bob Sperlazzo

In 1997, the Chicago White Sox baseball team was in contention for first place in their division. They were in second place for most of the season, behind the Cleveland Indians. But sometime late in the season, the management decided to hang it up. As a result, they traded three of their best pitchers for a bevy of young prospects. This is now infamously known as the "White Flag Trade." (A recent article* on the subject referred to it in hindsight as the "sweet surrender.")

At the time, the Sox were only 3 games behind, but the owners actually said "you'd be crazy to believe the Sox could ever catch Cleveland!" To say the least, Sox fans were quite upset. And to show their displeasure, the home games were pretty much boycotted until only this year (and even that took a while into the season).

The owners had decided to go with a youth movement and a new manager. The overpaid veterans weren't cutting it, so they let them go and decided to give the rookies a lot of playing time. The past couple of years have been very trying, filled with a lot of mistakes. Their record hasn't been too bad, but it hasn't been all too great, either.

Most analysts figured it would take at least until 2002, if not longer, for the Sox to become respectable again. But, they figured wrong because this season the White Sox have the best record in all of baseball this year!

Their present manager, Jerry Manuel, prepared for the job interview for the then-open position with one day of homework and two days of fasting and prayers. Management stated that "the room lit up" when Manuel entered the hotel suite for the initial interview. Manuel stated that this first impression was the result of answered prayers. "It is my belief that was spiritual," Manuel said. "When I went in there, I had a plan. God gave me a plan".* (It's truly incredible the amount of press he's getting regarding his faith. Interestingly, Emmanuel means "God with us.")

It's very surprising that a team this good has no major big-name stars trying to steal the national limelight. If you ask the guys how they're doing it, they'll humbly tell you it's a true team effort. No one player on the team stands out, or is having a banner year. It's just a lot of young men working together, and coming through in the clutch. They all have their eyes focused on the game, and not on fame and fortune.

The media is having fits trying to come up with a nickname for this particular team (the recent article* referred to the team as the "Unknown Soldiers"). As of this writing, when the All-Star team members were selected and not one member of the Sox was chosen as a starter...which is all very strange considering the fact that all the other teams are looking up to them in the standings! They're just a bunch of hungry no-names -- a reminder of the "nameless, faceless generation" that will be used in this next move of God.

The baseball world is astounded that one the youngest teams with one of the smallest payrolls can continue to succeed. They're wondering how a team so inexperienced and underpaid by comparison can be going so far. And to top it off, the Sox currently have one of the poorest defenses in the majors (meaning they're still making a lot of errors/mistakes). What's really noteworthy is that these errors are not costing them many games. They just keep winning anyway.

The message here is about the "next wave" in the Church. What's described above is the new Church in baseball terms. Just as the Rams came out of nowhere to win the Super Bowl last year (led by Kurt Warner, their Christian quarterback), it's very possible that the Sox could do the same and win it all! It will turn the baseball world upside down. Old strategies of building winning teams with big names and big money would be thrown out the window.

Many teams will try copying the Sox. But some won't. These teams will continue to pack 'em in regardless of what's out on the field. And the fans will keep coming, many so they can be "seen" and/or to get drunk (in an attempt to "feel good").

Why should the old order change their ways? They're gonad make money regardless. Status quo = big attendance = big bucks. Any of this sound familiar?

There will always be those big churches/denominations that'll just keep chugging along as they always have. For them, it's business as usual. "Why rock the boat? Everything's fine!" -- so they say. They won't care what's going on out there with people coming to the Lord. They just want to be sure they don't lose the crowds they've got, while trying to get more people to come to their churches so they can get even bigger.

But God is raising up a new generation of "unknown soldiers" to take hold of the prize. It won't be because of who they are, but because of Who He is. They won't be perfect and they'll make lots of mistakes, but they're hearts will be pure. And God will give them the victory in spite of it all.

There's a choice to be made, and some will choose to remain behind. Others will take the challenge to lay aside every encumbrance (power, position and prestige), and as they sacrifice their own egos, promotion will come from the Lord.

This is the next move of God, and it's a choice that we each must individually make. Not to decide is to decide.

Cyrus Shepherds

End-Time Financiers of The Gospel

Michael Quinn

"Who says of Cyrus ,'He is My shepherd , and shall perform all My pleasure : even saying to Jerusalem , "You shall be built," and to the Temple , "Your foundations shall be laid.' " ---- Isaiah 44:28 .

A Time of Provision For The Foundations

End-time financiers of the gospel of the kingdom -Cyrus Shepherds- will soon rise up to support the building of the House of God . The release of the resources will be strategically distributed especially to those works involved with apostolic restoration , 24 hour prayer ministries (the priestly ministry), and the reaching of Jewish people with the gospel .

A Time For His People, Israel

A big part of why the Lord will bring forth these Cyrus Shepherds is for the restoration and salvation of the Jewish people , thus showing Himself as the God of Israel !

"For Zion's sake I will not keep silent , for Jerusalem's sake I will not remain quiet , till her righteousness shines out like the dawn , her salvation like a blazing torch ." (Isaiah 62:1)

A Time To Return To His Presence!

They will inspire , provide , and even guide the Lord's people to come out of Babylon(confusion) and go back to the place of the Lord's Dwelling and Presence . They will proclaim it is time to go up to Jerusalem to rebuild the House of God . (Ezra 1:2-4)

These Cyrus Shepherds will include both government officials and anointed business leaders . They will provide the resources or finances for the building of the House of God only because of the anointing and authority given to them by the God of Israel and they will openly acknowledge this .

"And I will give you the treasures of darkness , and hidden riches of secret places , that you may know that I , the Lord , which call you by your name , am the God of Israel . " ---Isaiah 45:3

For many Proverbs 13:22 will no longer be an abstract confession , but will become a reality as huge amounts of wealth will be transferred into the kingdom of God .

Amen! May it be for the Glory of God's Son!

Michael Quinn is the Founder/President of Resurrection Life Ministries currently based in Budapest , Hungary . Michael is ordained by MorningStar Fellowship of Ministries founded by Rick Joyner in Charlotte , NC . Resurrection Life Ministries is dedicated to the restoration of true apostolic foundations , reconciliation , and the salvation of the Jewish people . Dad's Twins - Goodness And Mercy!

Paul N. Gervais

Tuesday, March 14, 2000

"Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever."
Psalm 23:6

Not many years ago, a well known evangelist and personal friend was sorely criticized for declaring, "We serve a good God!"

Unfortunately, many of that gifted man's attackers came from within the Family. Sadly, some still envision our Father in the same inaccurate light, while living way beneath their rights and privileges in the Kingdom.

EMBALMED IN UNBELIEF, SOME SEE GOD AS A CHILD ABUSER

Has it really taken two-thousand long years for some to become so embalmed in unbelief and insensitivity? One of the enemy's most potent desires is for the Church to possess a distorted image of Papa, perceiving Him as an uncaring Child abuser, sitting on the Throne, pondering new ways to make us miserable, or passively observing while hell brutalizes the Apple of His Eye. However, and most realize this, nothing could possibly be more distant from the truth!

In fact, He is a wonderful Dad and has a set of well-used twins in His collection of blessings...goodness and mercy. They might also be called two of Heaven's favorites! And, without question, each is urgently needed in this hurting world.

PREDISPOSED TO SHOW FAVOR

The Lord is consistently predisposed to show favor on our behalf, will suspend the very laws of the universe to benefit humanity. Father has done so, often. We are Papa's very reason for being. Why wouldn't He want to give us His utmost and best?

NO DIRTY TRICKS

Nothing flows from that Special Locale but pure love, compassion, favor, mercy and other associated attributes...every good and perfect gift. There is no negatively in His Presence. It simply cannot survive the Anointing emanating from, and surrounding the Most High. With that being the case, how could God possibly dispatch something He doesn't have? There are no dirty tricks in His bag. For the Lover of all is not like natural man in terms of mindset or behavior. Papa won't extend His hand into the bowels of hell for a trinket of destruction against the Church.

"For thou hast possessed my reins: thou hast covered me in my mother's womb. I will praise thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made..." Psalm 139:13-14.

That just blows me away! The Christian is bone of His bone, flesh of Dad's flesh. How much more united and intimate could we be?

Where sin, sickness, poverty, death and defeat abound, grace gains ascendancy and remains much more in abundance, which is precisely why fulfilling God's marvelous Great Commission should be so easy, like rolling off a log...preaching the Gospel, healing the sick, setting demons to flight and raising the dead! Freely we have received. Give it away in like fashion.

With all that, Papa's thoughts continue to prolifically flow!

GOODNESS AND MERCY

"Precious One, there is no evil that cannot be overcome by good...My Anointing, and the Anointed One residing on the inside of you. This is a new hour and day, a dispensation when the gap has narrowed between the spoken Word and materialization of the revelation.

No sooner will you receive from the Throne Room, then the act will become a fact! There has been a compression of time, mostly due to the season. However, Satan has unleashed a company of forces that, in reality and certainty, stand no chance against the Unction upon those who have chosen to lay down their lives, fulfill destiny, be obedient and responsive concerning nudgings and promptings.

REVERSING THE CURSE

Father is about to widely articulate His heart of goodness and mercy on this planet, vitally reversing the curse before the faces of both saved and sinner.

THE LORD PROCLAIMS,

"I will not be stopped. The Spirit's floodtide is poised to consume with a contagion of Life. Even death will not be able to survive its ordained onslaught. For you, Beloved, the job is simple. Refuse fear! Lean not unto your own understanding. Simply go in and deliver My people!"

STADIUMS WON'T HOLD THEM

Once a comprehension of Dad's love and will is gained through the fruit and gifts of the Spirit, accompanied by a grand outpouring of signs, wonders and miracles, stadiums will not be able to house the multitudes thronging together in praise and worship. Prepare the way! Take that lid off the Most High's box. What I'm about to do is beyond imagination!"

YOUR DAY OF BEAUTIFICATION

"Bride, this is Your day of beautification, an era when Dad's blessings shall come upon and overtake the Beloved, as She goes from one level of Glory to another. Spots, wrinkles, symptoms and circumstances will succumb to the Name that is above all others.

Nothing is too good for My Children. The Grand Designer's creativity and ability will conjointly function in upcoming weeks and months to perform, as well as establish, the unthinkable, unpredictable and unexpected.

GIFTS NOT BASED STRICTLY ON NEED

Gifts are assuredly falling from Heaven in varied forms, not strictly according to need, but based upon Papa's unfathomable love. As promised in the Word...the supernatural has begun intersecting with the natural, ultimately resulting in a Holy Spirit explosion of the miraculous and delivery of those long-sought promises. I have observed the Little One's tears and waited with you, when much appeared dark and hopeless.

A DIVINE SHIFT HAS TAKEN PLACE

Discern that Divine shift, of late, the breeze in the mulberry trees. All creation is poised to rejoice as the Church fulfills Her rich mandate, while taking center stage, regaining visibility and respectability by way of the Anointing.

AN OUTBREAK OF THE MIRACULOUS

Anticipate tremendous activity, spontaneous combustion, an outbreak of the miraculous. With this incoming Tide of Glory will be a wave of unification, restoration and reconciliation. Scores will be brought together, laying down weapons, differences, hurts, grudges and pettiness for the furtherance of the Gospel. The Children's hearts are strangely warming, impacted by a fresh baptism of love. Much Glory will be unveiled as each becomes a reflection of the Sender. All must point to Jesus, the Author and Finisher of destiny. Compassion will strike first, followed by an eruption of the miraculous! Father's pen is positioned. The Lamb's Book of Life has never been more ready for additions! And they will be plenteous!"

Death To Self

Nita Botzenmayer

It's a lot simpler than you think. Now, too many are trying to make some "formula" out of that, which is idolatry, and still takes credit for being part of your redemption and deliverance. Does my word not say that the Spirit works to bring your will to submission?

1 Cor 12:3 Therefore I tell you that no one who is speaking by the Spirit of God says, "Jesus be cursed," and no one can say, "Jesus is Lord," except by the Holy Spirit. (NIV)

Gal 3:3 Are you so foolish? After beginning with the Spirit, are you now trying to attain your goal by human effort? (NIV)

Gal 5:16-18 So I say, live by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the sinful nature. For the sinful nature desires what is contrary to the Spirit, and the Spirit what is contrary to the sinful nature. They are in conflict with each other, so that you do not do what you want. But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under law. (NIV)

Stop trying to write 'how-to's', or formulas and methods. Each individual is different, and I minister to each in a unique way - look at the way I brought healing in the Bible - they all received healing, but each received it in a different way, there was no "method", except to declare that God was sovereign in each situation, and He received the glory. As you notice, even lack of faith wasn't sufficient to stop my healing hand when others stood in the gap.

Flesh does not die of its own accord - it is in business to stay alive. YOU cannot kill it. You can only give ME permission. Recognizing that your flesh is dead already when you were crucified with me is truth. Recognizing that your flesh cannot please me is truth. Your permission is a continual decision to choose life in My Spirit rather than death by living according to the flesh. Read Romans 6.

Romans 6

1 What shall we say, then? Shall we go on sinning so that grace may increase?

2 By no means! We died to sin; how can we live in it any longer?

3 Or don't you know that all of us who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death?

4 We were therefore buried with him through baptism into death in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, we too may live a new life.

5 If we have been united with him like this in his death, we will certainly also be united with him in his resurrection.

6 For we know that our old self was crucified with him so that the body of sin might be done away with, that we should no longer be slaves to sin--

7 because anyone who has died has been freed from sin.

8 Now if we died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him.

9 For we know that since Christ was raised from the dead, he cannot die again; death no longer has mastery over him.

10 The death he died, he died to sin once for all; but the life he lives, he lives to God.

11 In the same way, count yourselves dead to sin but alive to God in Christ Jesus.

12 Therefore do not let sin reign in your mortal body so that you obey its evil desires.

13 Do not offer the parts of your body to sin, as instruments of wickedness, but rather offer yourselves to God, as those who have been brought from death to life; and offer the parts of your body to him as instruments of righteousness.

14 For sin shall not be your master, because you are not under law, but under grace.

15 What then? Shall we sin because we are not under law but under grace? By no means!

16 Don't you know that when you offer yourselves to someone to obey him as slaves, you are slaves to the one whom you obey-- whether you are slaves to sin, which leads to death, or to obedience, which leads to righteousness?

17 But thanks be to God that, though you used to be slaves to sin, you wholeheartedly obeyed the form of teaching to which you were entrusted.

18 You have been set free from sin and have become slaves to righteousness.

19 I put this in human terms because you are weak in your natural selves. Just as you used to offer the parts of your body in slavery to impurity and to ever-increasing wickedness, so now offer them in slavery to righteousness leading to holiness.

20 When you were slaves to sin, you were free from the control of righteousness.

21 What benefit did you reap at that time from the things you are now ashamed of? Those things result in death!

22 But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves to God, the benefit you reap leads to holiness, and the result is eternal life.

23 For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (NIV)

Do you think I don't know where all the wounds are in your soul? Do you think I don't know where your evil strongholds have established themselves? Even the demoniac of the Gadarenes, completely under control of the Legion, could ask for help. Do you think I can't do the same for you? Repent of your unbelief. Ask and it shall be done! As the father of the demon-possessed boy said, "Lord, I believe, help my unbelief". (Mark 9:23-24) I will honor honesty!

All I require is your initial submission. If you desire to conform to My image, I will accomplish it. All your failures have given me glory, for you have recognized you cannot do it yourself. I have started the work, and I will finish it. Even "reckoning yourself dead" won't accomplish it - it is still MY work. And again I say, 'it's simpler than you think'. Isn't my gospel always simple?

All my Christian life, I've struggled with the "performance mode", thinking that something I DO will bring the favor of the Lord - even though I know intellectually it's only the Blood of Jesus and the Power of the Holy Spirit that does the work. That's why I called myself a "slow learner".

I don't know the source, but a pastor once quoted "the trouble with Living Sacrifices is we keep crawling off the altar"...

Blessings,

Nita

Days Ahead for America

Janelle Carroll

July 16, 2000

Last night the Lord gave me a prophetic dream.

It started out as a regular day, it was daylight outside and I was working in a building. I had brought a dress with me to change into after work, since I was planning on attending a wedding after my work.

During the day there was a quiet attack that came upon us, no one else saw them coming since they came in inconspicuously. I believe they were Russians. They came in and gathered us into small groups of 5-6 in each group. They were looking for me, since they found out that I had many of the combinations needed for the locks that were on the doors and safes. The military officers took me to a door that was only waist high and asked me to unlock it. The odd thing about the door is that the upper section of the door was missing. I could just reach my hand to the other side of the door and unlock it with the combination. Standing on the other side of this door was a person I knew years ago and that I did not care to be around. But, I saw how happy he was to see me. (I remember this person's life was a mess. He was a drug addict, a drug dealer and a drunk. He had a problem with sexual desires. I remember that he came into a bit of inheritance and squandered all of it away. Every where he went there was trouble for those that chose to be around him.)

When the Russian soldiers commanded me to unlock the door, my mind went completely blank and I could not remember any of the combinations. I stumbled around with the lock for awhile and they were becoming upset. I then remembered the combination and unlocked it.

Then they took me back with the other ladies of this group into a small room. We sat at a narrow rectangular table. Many had fear gripped on their faces. For our group, there was a Russian military woman that was assigned to us. She was in uniform, with a face that was very cold and you could see her hardened heart. In this room there was also a man overseeing us.

As we sat at the table we began to sing a Bible Hymn. I can't remember for sure which one but I think that it was "Just As I Am." Soon after we sang the song, some soldiers came to tell the woman in charge that it was time to move us. I was allowed to take a small bag. I still had the dress that I was going to change into for the wedding in the bag, along with a few other things. I knew that we were going to escape from their hand.

They were transporting us to a guarded, fenced enclosed facility. As we were walking to the enclosed facility I noticed night approaching. A few of the other ladies and I began to talk, we were talking about friends. The Russian woman that was transporting us said to us sternly that she was never allowed to have a friend. I remember telling her that I would be her friend and the other ladies said the same.

Once we came to the enclosed facility we were immediately taken to the man in charge of this facility. We were in a room in front of his office. The man came out of his office and had a very wicked look in his eyes. I remember his face being round and his body was strong with a stocky build. He did not have a shirt on and his pants were undone. I felt very sick inside because I knew what was on his mind. I was standing right in front of him when he came out but he fancied a girl beside me, very pretty and in her twenties. This girl was very sarcastic and I thought how she was a typical American. I remember feeling relieved that he had not picked me and then I felt such sorrow for her. He took her into the room. I could hear her being sarcastic with him and then he abused her and beat her up very badly. When she came out of the room, her face was all bruised and bloody especially the right side of her face with blood coming out of her mouth. She could barely walk or even move her arms. The man was so mad with this girl that he left the rest of us alone.

The Russian woman in charge of our group then took us to another room where we stayed until they were ready to move us elsewhere. It was very late at night now and they were planning to take us someplace in a truck but the man in charge was still very angry and he commanded that the trucks were not to be used, but tanks. We were then taken by tank to somewhere else but we were supposed to return to the enclosed facility. I remember feeling the heart of the Russian lady that was in charge of us and how her heart was changing. I also saw her face when they informed us that they were now taking us by tank. In my spirit, I just knew that she was planning to escape with us.

I am just now wondering if the pretty girl with the sarcastic mouth is America.

Daniel 9 Intercession Donita Landro

From: "THE ELIJAH LIST" <elijahlist@mindspring.com> Date: Mon, 6 Nov 2000

THE PRE-ELECTION "DANIEL 9 PRAYER" FOR THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA! through Donita Landro

and the call to "STAY HUMBLE--- BEFORE, DURING AND AFTER THIS ELECTION!" FROM STEVE SHULTZ, THE ELIJAH LIST

The Lord has been speaking to me for weeks about our need to humble ourselves at THIS TIME of the election, --that is, before, during and AFTER the election--even if the candidate You or the candidate I voted for is elected---we are to remain in a humble and contrite state.

The Lord is saying to me loudly, "STAY HUMBLE!"

It was my intent to write and post a prayer on behalf of the United States on this night before the election (or day OF the election, depending on when you receive this.) However, about the time I was going to write this prayer, into my email inbox came Donita Landro's Daniel 9 prayer for the United States of America.

After reading it, there was no need to compose my own prayer as this pretty much covers it. There are few Christians in the U.S. who don't know that we deserve some level of judgment for our sin in this nation.

IT IS GOD'S GRACE TO SEEK OUR REPENTANCE SO THAT HE DOES NOT REQUIRE THE MOST SEVERE JUDGMENT FOR US.

Some have written to me stating that it's "all over" for the United States. I must state that the Lord has made it clear in Scripture that we should always repent and seek the Lord's "relenting" of judgment.

WHO KNOWS WHETHER HE WILL TURN?

Even in Joel 2, it says,

Joel 2:13-14 And rend your heart and not your garments. "Now return to the LORD your God, for He is gracious and compassionate, slow to anger, abounding in lovingkindness, and relenting of evil. Who knows whether He will not turn and relent, and leave a blessing behind Him, even a grain offering and a libation for the LORD your God?"

May you be moved with a spirit of humility before God at this time--not only that He will choose that man whom HE has chosen to be the next leader of the United States, but along with His choice, that He would choose the relent from the judgment that we so readily deserve for our sins of compromise and complacency in this Nation.

Please take a quiet moment to slowly read and embrace this prayer by Donita as your own prayer
FOR SUCH A TIME AS THIS!

Many and varied blessings to you!

"GIVEN THE CRUCIAL MOMENTS OF THE ELECTION . . . "

Daniel 9 intercession -- through Donita Landro Donita's email: dlandro@hotmail.com Monday, November 06, 2000

Dear Steve:

The Lord laid Daniel 9 upon my heart. This is a picture of the United States and some of the prayers going up from our Body of Christ. Given the crucial moments of the election as I was driving to work this morning, I was prompted to e-mail this to you:

PRAYER OF REPENTANCE FOR THE UNITED STATES:

"O Lord, the great and awesome God, who keeps his covenant of love with all who love him and obey his commands, we have sinned and done wrong. We have been wicked and have rebelled; we have turned away from your commands and laws. We have not listened to your servants the prophets, who spoke in your name to our kings, our princes and our fathers, and to all the people of the land."

"Lord, you are righteous, but this day we are covered with shame-the men of the United States, both near and far, in all the nations where you have scattered us because of our unfaithfulness to you. O, Lord, we and our kings, our princes and our fathers are covered with shame because we have sinned against you. The Lord our God is merciful and forgiving, even though we have rebelled against him; we have not obeyed the Lord our God or kept the laws he gave us through his servants the prophets. All the United States has transgressed your law and turned away, refusing to obey you."

BECAUSE WE HAVE SINNED

"Therefore the curses and sworn judgments written in the law of Moses, the servant of God, have been poured out on us, because we have sinned against you. You have fulfilled the words spoken against us and against our rulers by bringing upon us great disaster. Under the whole heaven nothing has ever been done like what has been done to the United States. Just as it is written in the Law of Moses, all this disaster has come upon us, yet we have not sought the favor of the Lord our God by turning from our sins and giving attention to your truth. The Lord did not hesitate to bring the disaster upon us, for the Lord our God is righteous in everything he does; yet we have not obeyed him."

"Now, O Lord our God, who brought your people out of Egypt with a mighty hand and who made for yourself a name that endures to this day, we have sinned, we have done wrong. Oh Lord, in keeping with all your righteous acts, turn away your anger and your wrath from the United States, our cities, and your holy hill. Our sins and the iniquities of our fathers have made the United States and your people an object of scorn to all those around us."

"Now, our God, hear the prayers and petitions of your servant. For your sake, Oh Lord, look with favor on your desolate sanctuary. Give ear, O God, and hear; open your eyes and see the desolation of the city that bears your Name. We do not make requests of you because we are righteous, but because of your great mercy. Oh Lord, listen! O Lord, forgive! Oh Lord, hear and act! For your sake, O my God, do not delay because your city and your people bear your Name."

AT THE POTTER'S HOUSE

[The Lord said,] Go down to the potter's house, and there I will give you "my message." So I went down to the potter's house, and I saw him working at the wheel. But the pot he was shaping from the clay was marred in his hands; so the potter formed it into another pot, shaping it as seemed best to him.

"OH HOUSE OF THE UNITED STATES. . . IF THAT NATION REPENTS, I WILL RELENT!"

Then the word of the Lord came to me. "Oh house of the United States, can I not do with you as this potter does?" declared the Lord. "Like clay in the hand of the potter, so are you in my hand, Oh house of the United States. If at any time I announce that a nation or kingdom is to be uprooted, torn down and destroyed, and if that nation I warned repents of its evil, then I will relent and not inflict on it the disaster I had planned. And if at another time I announce that a nation or king to be built up and planted and if it does evil in my sight and does not obey me, then I will reconsider the good I had intended to do for it.

. . . SO TURN FROM YOUR EVIL WAYS!

"Now therefore say to the people living in the United States: "This is what the Lord says: Look! I am preparing a disaster for you and devising a plan against you, so turn from your evil ways, each one of you, and reform your ways and your actions.

--end--

THE LORD PREFERS MERCY

Steve, with all the stirring in people's heart I see God's mercy in these words. If we are obedient, if we seek his face, and turn from our evil ways, the Lord is wanting his mercy released over the United States.

Dancing In This River

Michael Quinn

I was lying down on my couch resting as I was exhausted from an extended ministry trip to Siberia. Suddenly I found myself getting up and being very refreshed. My eyes were then opened in the Spirit to see that I and many others were in a huge River up to our waists. The water was crystal-clear and the Lord began to give us vision to see there were many fish now coming into this river.

I then very clearly heard the Lord say, "Tell my people there will be dancing in this River ". Great joy came into my heart and we all began to dance in this River. This was one of the most thrilling experiences in my life for which mere earthly words are inadequate. It seemed the more we danced in this River, the more fish were coming into the water.

As far as interpretation, my sense from the Lord is that He is releasing joy in a higher level than before which will cause His people to dance, rejoice, and have new strength. For the joy of the Lord is our strength! Also that this New Joy He is now releasing will attract many fish or new believers into the Kingdom.

Praise the Lord!

Danger

Bill Burns

April 30, 2000:

DANGER, danger, says the Lord! This is indeed a perilous time, for many have strayed from the path of righteousness. Have you not heard the voice of My prophets who have declared that this would be a year of My justice?

Zechariah 7:8-13, "Then the word of the LORD came to Zechariah, saying, Thus says the LORD of hosts: 'Execute true justice, Show mercy and compassion Everyone to his brother. Do not oppress the widow or the fatherless, the alien or the poor. Let none of you plan evil in his heart against his brother.' But they refused to heed, shrugged their shoulders, and stopped their ears so that they could not hear. Yes, they made their hearts like flint, refusing to hear the law and the words which the LORD of hosts had sent by His Spirit through the former prophets. Thus great wrath came from the LORD of hosts. Therefore it happened, that just as He proclaimed and they would not hear, so they called out and I would not listen, says the LORD of hosts."

But, to those of you who have heard My warnings, I say fear not. For, I will be your shield and your exceedingly great reward, and I will now use you as a living stone in My temple. Be strong in the Lord and the power of His might.

Zechariah 8:9 "Thus says the LORD of hosts: Let your hands be strong, You who have been hearing in these days These words by the mouth of the prophets, Who spoke in the day the foundation was laid For the house of the LORD of hosts, That the temple might be built."

I will now confirm the word of My servants, for I shall perform the counsel of My messengers. I will now open rivers in desolate heights, and My fountains of living water shall flow forth upon the dry and thirsty lands. The ancient paths shall be restored and shall now become a highway that leads to Zion, the mountain of the Lord.

Sound the alarm, you watchmen. Danger! Danger! Sound the alarm in My holy mountain. Say to My people: Come now and hide yourselves until the indignation passes. Enter now into the secret place of the Most High and hide yourselves in the cleft of the Rock!

April 23, 2000:

The Spirit says, it shall again be according to the patterns of old, for I am again bringing now a thrust of prophecy by the Spirit of prophecy even as it was in the days of Samuel and David and even as it was at their meeting at Ramah. I shall bring an extraordinary outpouring of the word of prophecy that will so super charge your meetings, so super charge your prayer, so bring to life the word of God Almighty by way of revelation that shall cause you to enter and walk through the Valley of Vision where you shall see the patterns and images that I have established from old. I shall now bring them forth in this day, in this hour, even in the end of time. My people shall once again walk in the fullness of the anointing and power as it was on the Day of Pentecost. I shall pour out of My Spirit in greater dimensions than you have yet had the opportunity to drink of. I am speaking this into your spirits that it might be given a place of birth that you might receive it and be refreshed in this the time of refreshing today as I go forth to prepare those events that shall now come. Be prepared, My people, for soon I am coming.

Words from the Lord to Marsha Burns:

April 24, 2000:

This morning, I was reminded of a few times in my Christian walk where I seemed to be in a dry place spiritually, where I couldn't seem to connect with God. I felt isolated and alone, and really had no way of knowing how to get back to a place of peace and fruitfulness in Him. In each case, I could envision myself high up in the tower of a castle with no way out. There was only one small window to look out of, and it seemed that the castle was encircled by a moat filled with alligators, and the drawbridge was up so that no one could get to me either. In each case, after seeking the Lord about how I got there and how to get out, He showed me that I had been hurt or rejected and had isolated myself without really being aware of what I had done, and I had to forgive and release those who had offended me before I could get out of that place of isolation. And, I heard the Lord say, oh My people, let go of your disappointments. Be done with arguments and disagreements. Separate yourselves from those issues that have caused division and strife. Leave behind your petty jealousies, competitions, and comparisons. Refuse to allow your walls of offense to cut you off from Me. For, you are precious to Me and I desire your fellowship.

April 25, 2000:

You have lifted your heart like a massive sail to be moved by the wind of My Spirit. You have sharpened your focus and attuned your ear that you might be an instrument of My leading. You have even accepted the fact that this is a solitary mission, and you have pulled away from the crowd to abandon yourself completely to My purposes. And, indeed, I will be moving you along at a good clip. But now, I say, watch for those around you who would try to anchor you to their soulish desires. They will say you are too radical and will try to reason with you to have some "common" sense. They will label you and even try to bring shame to your mission by casting a shadow of doubt on what I have called you to do. If I was an outcast, shall you not be also, inasmuch as you have taken up your own cross to follow Me? I say to you, cut the anchors and gather the Wind. My purposes have been established and your course has been set.

April 26, 2000:

James 4:8-12, "Draw near to God and He will draw near to you. Cleanse your hands, you sinners; and purify your hearts, you double-minded. Lament and mourn and weep! Let your laughter be turned to mourning and your joy to gloom. Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and He will lift you up. Do not speak evil of one another, brethren. He who speaks evil of a brother and judges his brother, speaks evil of the law and judges the law. But if you judge the law, you are not a doer of the law but a judge. There is one Lawgiver, who is able to save and to destroy. Who are you to judge another?"

I say to you again, purify your hearts, for only the pure in heart shall see Me. When you speak against one another, biting and devouring one another, judging one another, you don't see Me; you see each other! Many of you have risen up in pride and lifted up your heel against a brother. You have magnified yourself in your own sight and justified your motives. I say to you, turn from this evil, for you cannot draw close to Me and be at odds with your brother. You cannot love Me and hate your brother at the same time. You have fallen into prejudice, for you have prejudged and formed an opinion without considering My mercy.

April 28, 2000:

Behold, I will reveal to you the ancient heights and the idolatrous strongholds. I will show you the places in your own heart that need to be brought low. I shall come against everything that is lofty and proud and everything that has been exalted above My kingdom. I will open your eyes that you might see the desolation of your own soul as it has been scarred by lawlessness and pride. I seek to bring cleansing and healing, but I cannot do it without your consent. So, I say, yield quickly to this process. I will show you not only the manifestations of haughtiness, but I will show you the seat of pride. Isaiah 2:12, 17- 18, "For the day of the LORD of hosts shall come upon everything proud and lofty, upon everything lifted up; And it shall be brought low; the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be brought low; the LORD alone will be exalted in that day, but the idols He shall utterly abolish."

April 29, 2000:

Be still, My child. How can you hear My still small voice when you are so noisy inside? Come away to My secret place. Leave the clamor and turmoil of your circumstances behind, for you have need of rest. Life's issues have pulled you down like quick sand. I say to you, stop struggling against these issues; cry out to Me, and I will rescue you. I will establish you in a place of safety, but you must let go of the whirlwind of activity. Release to Me all that has stolen your peace. Come to Me to be refreshed. Come into My sabbath rest.
